Juniors Select Chuck Howard Band for Prom

Chuck Howard and his orchestra will be the dance attraction for the 1964 Junior Prom to be held April 26.

The sixteen piece band has appeared at many colleges throughout the U. S. and was voted one of the top new bands in 1963. They have appeared at Michigan State, Northwestern, U.S. Air Force Academy, University of Minnesota, and the University of Wisconsin this year.

The band leader, Chuck Howard, has played with June Christy, Nat "King" Cole, Gene Krupa and Tommy Dorsey.

The band has also been appearing on a regular basis at the Eagles Ballroom in Milwaukee and the Edgewater Beach Hotel in Chicago.

of Public Welfare will speak at a general meeting at 2 p.m. in room 24, discussing the roles of private and public agencies. A coffee hour will follow at 3 p.m.

Representatives from both public and private agencies will be on campus before and after the general meeting to interview students interested in career opportunities. Included in the discussions and interviews will be opportunities for summer employment for college students.

Students interested in individual interviews with representatives from the various agencies can sign up for these interviews at the sociology offices, room 144 of the main building, on Monday or Tuesday, March 9-10.

Sociology majors arranging the conference are Barbara Boehmer, Karen Bub, Mary Burg, Karen Daniels, Shirley Frost, Shirley Hanson, Kenneth Kovac, Lorrie Klukas, Christopher Marcell, Kay Stien and Barbara Schmidt. Mr. Robert Oleson of the Sociology Department is serving as advisor for the student committee.

Geographers To Organize New Group

Students interested in geography are invited to attend a meeting sponsored by the geography department at 7:30 p.m., Thursday, March 12, in rooms 21-22 of the college union.

The purpose of this gathering is the creation of a club open to all students interested in geography. Several other departments have already their own groups and the need for one devoted to geography has been perceived.

This geography club initiated by the faculty will be organized by the students and will have students as officers. The assembly may elect executive officers (president, vice president, and secretary-treasurer) who will be responsible for future programs and activities.

As part of this initial program there will be a lecture with color slides, entitled, "Geographic Traverse Through the Intermontane West" by Dr. William M. McKinney of the WSC geography staff.

Student Council Sponsors Student Government Week

To stimulate student interest in student government, the Student Council is sponsoring a Student Government Week in conjunction with election week.

The Council holds that only by educating the students as to the role they can, and do play in the administration of student affairs, can the student government become an integral part of school activities.

"In participation of individual students lies the strength of the organization of student government," the Council stated.

Therefore, during the Student Government Week, March 9-12, the Student Council will attempt to inform the students of the purposes, composition and responsibilities of the college student government by speaking to various student organizations and providing opportunities for the students to meet their representatives and the candidates for class offices and Student Council.

A schedule of events during the week of March 9 includes:

March 9 — Petitions due for candidates.

March 9-12 — Campaign to inform students of the purpose, and responsibilities of candidates by Student Council representatives speaking at organization meetings.

March 11 — Free coffee in Union Lounge served by candidates for the various offices.

March 12 — Election in Snack Bar and announcement of winners.

Nature Film Spotlights Outstanding Lens-work

"The Living Wilderness," an all-color nature film spotlighting extraordinary close-up photography of wild mammals, will be shown at 8 p.m., Saturday, March 7, in the auditorium at Wisconsin State College here.

Walter R. Berlet, inventor of the Berco lens attachment and one of the nations outstanding naturalist-photographers, will narrate the cinematic story of life in the heart of the Rockies. More than eight years in production, the film covers the state of Wyoming, Montana and Idaho. It includes film footage, now treasured, of trips afield into real wilderness with one of the greatest naturalists and conservationists, Olaus Murie, who died recently.

Viewers are given new vision into the life histories of many different mammals — all of which are threatened with extinction for various ecological causes. The motion picture includes such depictions as a buck pronghorn forming, driving and protecting his harem, the struggle for existence of huge bison in their original habitat; the belligerent breeding season antics of bull elk and the stalking of a mountain lion as Berlet explains the important role this majestic feline plays in wild-life management. One of the pictures shows bull elk charge into the camera.

Tickets will be sold at the door, announces William M. Dawson, director of the Arts and Lecture Series.

Pointers Close Season, Gain 2nd Place Standing

Stevens Point, a team not even considered for a first division finish in pre-season estimates, closed a highly successful basketball campaign Monday night by defeating Oshkosh to gain a share of second place in the State College Conference race.

A solid team effort which saw five cagers score in double figures produced the 79-72 upset over the favored defending champions in the SCC.

The result left Coach Bob Krueger's young squad with a final 8-4 conference record — the same mark posted by Superior — and an excellent 14-8 mark in all games.

Coach Russ Young's Titans wound up 7-5 in league play and 9-12 over-all.

Krueger started an all-sophomore quintet last night and the starting five, plus freshman forward Mike Fortune, turned in one of their top performances of the season.

After trailing by as much as 10 points late in the first half, the Pointers battled back to gain a two-point halftime lead.

Oshkosh again pulled away to a five-point edge in the first four minutes of the second half but the Pointers, shooting with deadly accuracy from the outside and showing alert reactions on defense, poured in 14 straight points to take a nine-point advantage.

The Titans finally recovered to tighten things up again and actually took a one-point lead on two separate occasions, only to have the Pointers come storming back.

Clutch play in the final five minutes of the contest enabled WSC to complete the upset and hand the Titans one of their rare defeats at Albee Hall.

The Pointers didn't take a lot of shots but the ones they did take were good ones most of the time and the final shooting chart reflects this. WSC fired away at an excellent 48 per cent clip, hitting 30 of 62 attempts. In the 44-point second half effort, the Pointers canned 16 of 31 for 52 per cent.

Former Schoolmaster Explores Religion As Ultimate Science

A one-hour lecture exploring religion as an ultimate science will be given on Thursday, March 12 by Geith R. Plimmer of the Christian Science Board of Lectureship.

The lecture, beginning at 8 p.m. in the Union Lounge, is sponsored by the Christian Science Organization.

Mr. Plimmer was formerly a schoolmaster in New Zealand and his native Australia, and a joint headmaster in England. He left the teaching profession some years ago to devote his full time to the practice of Christian Science. He served as an officiating minister to the Allied Forces in Italy during World War II, and has also represented Christian Science in radio and television appearance over the British Broadcasting Company network.

Union Board, Art League Sponsor Exhibit Jointly

Four senior art majors at WSC here are presenting the second in a series of Senior Art Exhibits, sponsored by the Student Art League and the Union Board Cultural Committee.

The four seniors, William Landwehr, Ruth Lewis, Dorothy Megal and Gordon Olson, were honored at a reception Tuesday evening in the Union lounge, where the art is being shown.

The exhibit which includes paintings, sculpture, ceramics, jewelry and prints will be exhibited through March 20.

Anonymous Author . . .

Last Saturday evening, members of this campus — and some non-members — were introduced to a new campus publication, "Rimshots."

It's first article dealt with the handling of "Write Me a Murder," and while everyone is entitled to their own opinion in this country, the rest of us would like to know just who this publisher — obviously a hard worker — is.

Perhaps this mysterious author doesn't want to stand the brunt of questions and criticisms. On the other hand, perhaps he feels his works doesn't merit a name. While such modesty is laudable, we still would like to know the author, so interested parties may take up the chase.

Teacher Pay Higher For WSC Graduates

Teacher salaries reported by Wisconsin State College graduates now in their first teaching positions in elementary schools average $411 higher for men and $184 higher for women than those reported a year ago by 1962 graduates.

Reports to the central office in Madison from the nine state colleges show first year salaries for elementary school teachers average $4,939 for men and $4,887 for women.

Reports from 1963 state college graduates who began teaching in high schools fall full show average salaries of $4,933 for men and $4,815 for women.

The average this year is $173 higher than last year for men and $166 higher for women in their first year of high school teaching.

Teachers of special subjects reported salaries about $200 higher for men and $100 higher for women than teachers of standard high school subjects.

Teacher salaries are reported for nine months. On a monthly basis, the teacher salaries generally are higher than salaries reported by graduates taking 12 month jobs in other fields.

An exception is found in salaries reported by 39 engineer graduates from Wisconsin State College and Institute of Technology at Platteville. Their 12 month salaries for the first year average $6,792 or $566 a month, compared with approximately $545 a month earned by teachers hired on a nine month basis last fall for their first teaching jobs.

The nine state colleges reported 1,556 men and 1,546 women were graduated in 1963 after completing four year courses. They include 1,208 certified as elementary school teachers, 1,199 prepared as high school teachers and 695 liberal arts and special course graduates not certified for teaching.

Letters To The Students

The weather may not have cooperated with WSC's fourth annual Winter Carnival but the students, faculty, business establishments and parents certainly must be congratulated for the wonderful job they did.

The committee under the chairmanship of Marv Hughes had an additional task, overcoming obstacles such as lack of snow and worked hard to make the event a "Frosted Fantasy."

The college Union Board would like to extend a sincere thank you to Marv and the chairmen.

The work and cooperation on the part of the student body, faculty and college food service was also greatly appreciated. We would like to thank the business establishments of Stevens Point who also helped promote publicity and enthusiasm throughout the city.

Without the efforts of each of you this event, which is one of our best attended functions of the year, would not be the success it is annually.

College Union Board

All letters to the editor must adhere to the following regulations:

1. They must not exceed 300 words in length.
2. They must be typed and double-spaced.
3. They must be signed, although the name will be withheld if the writer so desires.

Focus On "Focus"

Many students feel that the POINTER staff has been unfairly criticized. It's time someone sang the long overdue praises this sincere group deserves.

The POINTER engages in many beneficial services, but in particular merits special attention. The ingenuity and self-sacrifice this program requires makes me proud to be a fellow student to those who've supposedly fostered it.

What program? — well, for obvious reasons the secret has been closely guarded, but reliable rumors have it that the article, FOCUS, is written by students from P. J. Jacobs! Ha — don't you feel foolish — being fooled like that? Rumors say that each week the freshman English classes write on any subject they choose, and the POINTER selects the manuscript with the most literary promise.

Your response will probably be one of anger — no one likes to be fooled. But be sensible — think of the good being done.

All must admit that the genius of literary ability blossoms more brilliantly when the sunshine of high intellectual approval is abundantly given; therefore, is it not of utmost importance that these aspirants to literary greatness, regardless of their immaturity, be given opportunity to perfect themselves? And picture the heart-warming scene when these future Tasha Tudors and Robert McCloskeys come skipping into the house, gleefully shouting, "Look mommy look! My article's in the POINTER!"

Some will selfishly say that a college newspaper should allow only college students to contribute. For shame! — if the POINTER large-heartedly shares their success limelight, how can anyone so narrow-mindedly criticize them. Others will rightfully declare the unfairness of pirating talent from P. J., because their paper must also be filled. Again 'For shame!' — when writers attain the ultimate of ability, as authors of FOCUS obviously have, how can we surpress their talents to the confined circulation of a measly high school paper. Let's be realistic and not make other silly disapprovals.

POINTER staff, especially the enthusiastic young authors of FOCUS, we appreciative readers extend to you a heart-felt salute for your untiring literary efforts!

Phy-Ed Minors Enter In Sports Day At The U

Last week twelve women physical education minors traveled to the University of Wisconsin, Madison, for a Basketball-Bowling Sports Day.

WSC's basketball team, Katie Curran, Myrna Grittner, Pat O'Neil, Mary Ellen Nolan, Judy Davis and Captain Nan Opperman were pitted against the state WRA champions, Oshkosh, but in spite of the good teamwork, Oshkosh edged the Point team, 33-29.

In the afternoon game, substitutes Jean Bolster, Esme Patterson and Rose Knutson teamed with the regulars to beat La Crosse, 33-30. Coach was Linda Smith, and advisers to the group were Misses EvaLou Dillin and Vera Z. Rinnack, physical education instructors.

Four college home economic seniors will present the fourth lesson in the series of adult home-making lessons, "It's All in Your Day," from 7-9 p.m., Monday, March 9 in room A-121 of the science building.

Pointer Grapplers Emerge In Second

Stevens Point failed to win an individual title in the State College Conference wrestling meet here over the weekend but Coach Bill Burns' grapplers came through with a fine second place standing in the team results.

Host Superior, with four individual titles, dethroned River Falls as SCC champion. The Yellowjackets rolled up 74 points to far outdistance the field.

The Pointers were second with 45 points while La Crosse and Oshkosh tied for third with 40 each. Trailing were Platteville with 36, Stout, 34, River Falls, 31, UW-Milwaukee, 29, White-water, 19, and Eau Claire, 9.

The Pointers took two second places. Losing out in title matches were Larry Ironside at 157 to Glen Getgen of Superior, 7-6, and Pete Seiler at 177 to old nemesis Glen Hardy of Stout, 3-2.

Two WSC matmen copped third places. Tod Wise at 123 won on default over Roger Hunsberger of La Crosse and Jim Kornowski at 191 pinned Roger Michelone of Platteville in 8:32.

Gelwicks Shatters Records, Steals Conference Spotlight

Bill Gelwicks took three first places in a record-shattering performance which stole the spotlight in the State College Conference swimming meet at River Falls over the weekend.

La Crosse walked off with team honors by piling up 56 points. Favored UW-Milwaukee was edged out of second place by Oshkosh, 48½ to 48. Stevens Point was a strong fourth with 38, followed by Platteville with 10½ and River Falls with seven.

Coach Bob Jones was highly pleased with his team's showing. WSC took five first places in the meet, two more than champion La Crosse.

"Many of the boys swam faster in this meet than they have at any time this season. The La Crosse coach came up and thanked us after the meet because our strength lay in the same events as UW-M which was favored to take first place. However, our boys did a better job than UW-M's entries in those events," Jones commented.

The Pointers took valuable points away from UW-M, enabling La Crosse to take top honors.

Gelwicks, who has done an outstanding job all season, set conference, school and River Falls pool records in winning three events.

The young star won the 500-yard free style in 5:56.6, the 50-yard free style in :23.5 and the 100-yard free style in :52.4. The old SCC records were 6:01.5, :23.0 and :55.4, respectively.

Also taking first places for the Pointers were Dick Larsen in the 200-yard backstroke and Aubrey Fish in diving.

Larsen won in an excellent 2:26.4, setting a new WSC record in the process. Fish outdistanced the field in his diving specialty.

Alpha Gamma Sponsors English Speaker Sunday

The Rev. John F. Maxwell, priest director of the Catholic Social Guild of the Roman Catholic Diocese of Southwark, England, will be on the Wisconsin State College campus here Sunday, March 8.

Father Maxwell will give a public address in the College Union lounge Sunday evening at 8 p.m. His appearance here is being sponsored by Alpha Gamma, WSC's history and social science honorary society. His United States tour is being sponsored by the Gugenheim Foundation.

The speaker participated in a conference, "Channeling Corporate Power in the Public Interest: The Analysis and Proposals of John F. Maxwell," which was held in Washington, D. C., last week. It was a national social policy seminar conducted by the Religion and Labor Council of America, Matthew K. Clarke, program director.

The speaker is a frequent contributor of journals of opinion and scholarship in the British Commonwealth. His basic thesis is contained in his testimony before the Jenkins Committee on company law revision of parliament in 1958-60. It was published as a 165-page monograph in the United States in the October 1962 issue of the University of Detroit Law Journal and titled "Should Christians Press for Revision of Company Law?" An April 1963 issue contains a symposium on Father Maxwell's work with contributions from a wide ranging group of American authorities.

As presented in the Law Journal article, he considers three serious moral evils in the present capitalistic system to be maldistribution of the benefits of property holding, underconsumption and unlimited dividends.
