Plan For Composition Of Senate Proposed

Students To Be Heard Directly

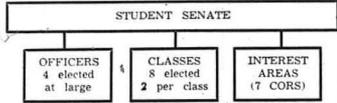

New Editor Introduced

Craig Succeeds Saucier

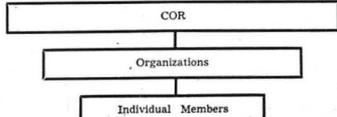

The Student Senate Representation Committee met for a final time on May 12 and presented the following plan for composition of the Student Senate:

The Student Senate Representation Committee has for its purpose the development of a more efficient means of representation for the Student Senate. This involves providing a system whereby a student not only is democratically represented but also has a direct, convenient means of being heard.

The following diagram shows the proposed structure of the Student Senate with organizational representation:

The following diagram shows the composition of a Committee for Organizational Representation (COR) that has been proposed to provide for organizational representation:

On the organization level, a member will be elected from each organization to be on the COR. The COR will elect a representative to be elected to serve on the Student Senate and represent his interest group in the Senate.

Specific procedures for each COR will be decided by the various interest areas, except for basic concepts which will be required by the Student Senate.

The following areas of interest have been outlined by which organizations to be classified: halls, social, professional, departmental, religious, interest, and service.

The time involved in setting up such a structure necessitates the postponement of this plan until next year.

The Committee recommended

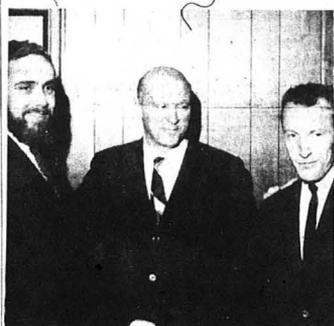

Dr. Burgess of the WSU-SP English Dept. was the guest speaker at the annual Pointer banquet held at the Hot Fish Shop, Friday night, May 21. Present at the banquet were Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Specht, Mr. and Mrs. Houlihan, and Mr. and Mrs. Burgess and the entire POINTER staff and their guests.

The guest speaker, Dr. Burgess, began his speech by alluding to Milton's "Areopagitica" and its important application with today's growing trend of censorship. Dr. Burgess cited incidents where only one or two complaints caused certain books to be removed from libraries throughout the nation. He spoke of one incident where a professor stole a book from the library because he thought it was immoral and he didn't want students to read the book. The librarian replaced the book once he discovered it had been stolen. The professor stole it once more. Eventually the librarian gave up. In this case, Dr. Burgess pointed out that the person who was so concerned with the morality of others failed to examine his own moral values.

Throughout his speech, Dr. Burgess emphasized the importance of intellectual freedom and expressed his disapproval of the growing trend of censorship because it hampers intellectual freedom.

Mr. Dan Houlihan, POINTER advisor, Le Roy Saucier, Editor, and Timothy Craig, future editor, also made speeches. Mr. Houlihan congratulated the staff on its past performance and introduced Timothy Craig as the new POINTER editor for next year. Le Roy Saucier said, the banquet seemed like a going away party for him,

Alpha Beta Rho Is Officially Sigma Tau Gamma

Alpha Beta Rho, affiliate of Sigma Tau Gamma, officially became the Gamma chapter of Sigma Tau Gamma on Saturday, May 15.

After initiating ceremonies in the morning, the brothers went to the Stevens Point Country Club for a reception from 3:30 p.m. Among the officials in the reception were Robert Radke and President Albertson from the University and Mr. E. Kennedy Whitesitt, executive secretary of Sigma Tau Gamma, and Mr. Jerry McNew, the president and field secretary of Sigma Tau Gamma, respectively.

Following the reception, there was a banquet at which President Robert Rosing received the charter from Mr. Whitesitt. There were about 140 people in attendance at the banquet including the parents of many of the brothers. Mr. Whitesitt was exceedingly pleased at the number of parents present and said that this was the first time he had seen such a turnout at this type of event. Among the charter members of Gamma Beta chapter are: Robert Rosing, Bruce Kress, Mike McGill, Larry Cutliffers, Ron Snow, Don Savoy, Robert Hamilton, Lloyd Wright, Brian Anbel, James Fowle, Jim Shilline, William Schenk, Roger Stein, Roland Stein, Dave Emerich, John Schaefer.

Tom Zitzloff, Steve Meyer, Ken Gammone, Ken Jaeger, Ron Snow, Pete Bratz, Jerry Bratz, Pete Tolkason, Jerry

that it be organized again in the fall to formally organize a system of representation that would be acceptable to the student body. The proposed system is not necessarily the one that will be used.

As the representation is now, any student who fulfills the grade point requirement of a particular area, may run for a position on the Student Senate. There are no direct lines to organizations, but rather many lines by which any student or organization may be heard if they choose. It is up to the individuals, however, to make use of their representatives and their right to attend all Student Senate meetings.

The structure of Student Senate now is as follows: four representatives from each class plus four officers elected by the entire student body.

Fourth Pray Strikes Again

Last December's feed at which 65 pounds of game was devoured, appeared as just an appetizer when compared to the "Make a Hog of Yourself" party at Iveson Park last Thursday.

Dr. Lloyd Beck of the Psychology Department, who chaperoned the spring cookout, looked on wistfully at the river appetizer when compared to the "Make a Hog of Yourself" party at Iveson Park last Thursday.

The entertainment that evening consisted of group singing of camp songs, intellectual discussions, informal exchange of ideas between Dr. Beck and the students, and pitching everyone into the river. Unfortunately, the soda pop ran out about 8 o'clock so the group left for greener pastures.

The men of fourth prays have participated in, and sponsored many activities both on and off campus this past year. They are noted mainly for their perfect attendance record at the Mead Refuge last duck season. Unfortunately the ducks were not refuted for the same.

WSU Initiates Study of Plan A Four Week Project To Help Menominees

A four-week pilot project has been initiated by WSU-Stevens Point with the cooperation of the "Friends of the Menominee" and the Shawano and Menominee school authorities to help high school Menominee Indian students with their school work.

More and more young people are coming for help with their math problems, history questions and other school work. Some just came because it is a good place to study.

Attempting to define the spirit of the project, Dr. Yambert said, "The idea of us who are working with this project get the same feeling you get in the Peace Corps. When we came here about a year and saw the kids coming toward the school with their books, we were very touched."

When the experimental period is over, Dr. Yambert and the others intend to meet with the Menominee County Board and the officers of the Shawano public schools to evaluate the effort and have a critical look at the program.

"If successful," says Dr. Yambert, "we intend to go to the Menominee County Board and ask them to submit this plan as a supplement to their county-wide plan under the Economic Opportunity Act."

We plan to set up two study centers at Keshena and at Neopit, for about 20 students throughout the school year.

Our purpose, in addition to helping the students with their school work, is to reduce the number of dropouts and increase the number who want to go on for a higher education."

Sigma Pi Initiates First Honorary Member

The first honorary member of Sigma Pi at Stevens Point was formally initiated Saturday, May 19, 1965. Terrence Thurmer, a freshman of 1963-64 last year, had a fatal automobile accident in August of 1964. The brothers of the fraternity unanimously accepted Terry to their brotherhood. Terry was in his last few weeks of pledging when the tragedy occurred.

Memorial services were held for Terry at St. Stanislaus Catholic Church. A High Requiem Mass was said by Rev. Sashak. After the Requiem Mass, a breakfast was held for those attending. At the breakfast, Mr. and Mrs. Max Thurmer were presented with the badge of the fraternity during the formal honorary initiation of their son Terry. A bouquet of flowers was presented to Mrs. Thurmer.

The Clintonville youth's name was inscribed on the plaque of "Honorary Members" which has been placed in the Sigma Pi house at Stevens Point.

Those attending the service and breakfast were Mr. and Mrs. Max Thurmer, friends and relatives of Terry, and the brothers of Sigma Pi.

Lang, Moran, Navratil Signed For Summer Theater

Midge Lange, who is currently appearing in Theater St. Paul's production of Rhinoceros, is the latest addition to the resident professional acting company of the University Summer Theater at Stevens Point, which opens on June 16 with one of Broadway's biggest comedy hits, Come Blow Your Horn. The sale of the '65 season tickets has surpassed the number sold last year at this time, reports resident director, Wm. C. Kramer.

MIDGE LANGE

Miss Lange will be featured in Another Part of the Forest, Lillian Hellman's great post-Civil War thriller. Grumpy, a comedy by Thornton Wilder, and Wood Travesty by Mervyn Frumkin, the saga of the amorous cowboy Boys Stop and Thieves Carry On, and in the elegant Gallic romp Thieves Carry On, since graduation from the College of St. Catherine four years ago.

Native to St. Paul, Miss Lange has been a member of several professional summer theaters including the Custer Drama at Mandan, North Dakota, the Cape Playhouse at Dennis, Massachusetts, and the Old Log Theater at Excelsior, Minnesota.

St. Paul audiences remember Miss Lange in the leading roles of Anna in the King and I, Rosalind in As You Like It, Bacchus in Euripides' The Trojan Women and Judith Anderson in John Brown's Body.

This spring, Miss Lange returned from year in Europe where she was in charge of all theater production for Army Special Services at the U.S. base near Bonn, Baden in southern Germany.

Miss Lange arrives in Stevens Point on June 12 to begin rehearsals for Another Part of the Forest, the sequel to The Little Foxes in which Tallulah Bankhead starred in on Broadway.

JACK MORAN

Television actor Jack Moran, who looks like a teenager but is actually 27 years old, will be featured in the lead juvenile role in Come Blow Your Horn opening on June 16 at the University Summer Theater in Stevens Point, reports producer Al Peet. Central Wisconsin audiences will see Jack Moran in madcap comic roles in Another Part of the Forest, Boys Stop and Thieves Carry On, and the rollicking Thieves Carry On. According to resident director Wm. C. Kramer, "Jack Moran solves the problem of finding a 'teen-age' actor who has a great deal of acting experience behind him."

For the last two years, Mr. Moran has been kept busy as a television performer in Boston playing title roles in Tom Sawyer, Peter Pan, Hans Brinker, Pinocchio, and Hansel in Pinocchio and Gretel and as the Scarecrow in The Wizard of Oz.

The noted Boston drama critic, Elliot Norton, has singled out Jack Moran for outstanding performance in the role of Billy in Herman Melville's Billy Budd, as the young Thomas Wolfe in Look Home- ward Angel, and as Richard in A Midwinter.

Recently Mr. Moran appeared in summer stock with Betty Palmer, Diana Barrymore, Bill Kastner and others in the Lakes Region Playhouse in New Hampshire.

A graduate of Catholic University's famed Theater Department, Mr. Moran has been cited for praise by drama critics Coe and others of the Washington, D. C., newspapers for outstanding performances as Puck in A Midsummer Night's Dream, Ariel in The Tempest and as the leading juvenile actor in The Matchmaker, The Corn is Green and The Boy Friends.

Jack Moran begins rehearsals in Stevens Point on June 6 for the season's opening comedy hit, Come Blow Your Horn.

CAROL NAVRATIL

Carol Navratil is a graduate of Catholic University's Theater Dept. and is 27 years old. She will play a teenage role, that of the vivacious beauty in Come Blow Your Horn opening on June 16. Miss Navratil will also be prominently featured as the Southern belle in Another Part of the Forest, as the Hollywood well-known actress in Boys Stop and Thieves Carry On, and in the comedy Grumpy.

For the past two years Miss Navratil has been working professionally, by pursuing two careers: television actress in Washington, D. C., and faculty member at the University of Maryland.

Miss Navratil revealed her skill to Washington audiences in recent years by playing a variety of roles, from that of Eliza in Pygmalion, Juliet in Romeo and Juliet, and Anna Sabrina Fair, Rain in Arms and the Man, the Steadfast girl in How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying, and Mississippian in The Lady's Not for Burning and in the Aschlyshy play Order of the Mississippi she appeared as both Cassandra and Electra in the memorable Washington production.

After graduation in 1960, she is also a sponsor of Nelson Residence Hall and vice-president of the Alpha Sigma Alpha Sorority.

Keats Exhibits In Memphis

Norman E. Keats, assistant professor of art at WSU-Stevens Point, is represented in the Mississippi River Craft Show at the Brooks Memorial Gallery, Memphis, Tennessee, sponsored by the Memphis Branch of the American Association of University Women. This exhibition presents a wide variety of craftsmen from north to south through the heart of America. Craftsmen from the ten states that border the Mississippi River are eligible to compete.

Mr. Keats is showing a sculptured bronze vessel. It is a three sided, seed-shaped form, three feet in height. Each side is deeply patterned by a curved motif and the finish is a dark black black patina.

Elizabeth S. Merrick, Director of the Mountain School of Crafts, served as juror. The basis for his selections were the high quality of design and execution. The exhibition is scheduled through May 30.

was invited to tour the U. S. and Germany for six months with Catholic University Play-ers Company in productions of The Merchant of Venice and The Steps to Conquer. Following that engagement Miss Navratil was actress - in - residence at the Washington Theater Club and at the Olney Summer Theater.

The '65 season ticket is now on sale by mail at the University Book Office. Individual admissions will be $150 and $175.

Student Wins Grant

James Z. Egger, '23, a senior at WSU-Stevens Point, has won a United States Public Health Grant of $3,000 per year plus tuition and fees. Mr. Egger, who majors in Physics a 'd' General Science and a 'd' minors in Mathematics, plans to use the graduate fellowship to study at North Dakota State, Fargo, beginning in September, 1965.

He will take studies relating to a Master of Science degree in radiological health physics with a minor in nuclear engineering.

James received the grant by application and recommendation of the Physics and Mathematics department at WSU. He is a pastresident of Dodel Residence Hall, a member of Inter-Hall Council, Sigma Phi Epsilon and Inter-Fraternity Council.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur A. Egger of Shawano, Wis.

TKE'S Have Initiation

On May 16, Tau Kappa Epsilon initiated 12 new actives and pledge officers. They included: Dick Schaal as president, Paul Kane as vice-president, Tom Hunt as secretary, Ray Jurgens as social chairman, Paul Grosswald, Tom Mosgaller, Dan Lovald, James Lagerholm, Mike Hirsch, Ed Neubaer, George Dallman and Gary Krnieck.

Paula Allen—TKE Sweetheart

Paula Allen has recently been chosen as the 1965 Sweetheart of the Epsilon Nu chapter of Tau Kappa Epsilon International Fraternity.

Paula, a sophomore at WSU, is majoring in sociology. She is also a sponsor of Nelson Residence Hall and vice-president of the Alpha Sigma Alpha Sorority.

As sweetheart of the local chapter, Paula is automatically the Sweetheart of the International TKE Sweetheart competition.

The men of Epsilon-Nu felt that Paula possessed all the attributes of a true sweetheart — beauty, charm, personality and poise.

Art Faculty Exhibits Here

The annual faculty art show which opened here at WSU-Stevens Point on May 8, in the University Center Lounge, will run through June 5.

Works on display will be by Dr. Robert Rosing, Professor Norman Keats, Professor Henry Runke, Instructor Robert Russell, Professor Henry Runke, Professor Richard Schneider, all members of the WSU-Stevens Point Art Department.

The show includes a variety of media—painting, sculpture, pottery and jewelry.

SORC Postponed

The STUDENT SENATE is convinced that more administration of student affairs and activities should be placed in the hands of the students themselves. The establishment of the Student Organization Recognition Committee (SORC) is predicted on this idea; it involves the transfer of the responsibility of recognizing student organizations from the Administration to the students themselves.

Although the students have endorsed this concept of "self-control," there has been some lack of agreement as to the specific criteria which should be utilized in recognition by SORC. Therefore, the STUDENT SENATE, in order to allow organization to have a more direct voice in the formulation of the criteria, has postponed the action of SORC until the fall semester of the 1965-1966 school year.

What About That Cartoon?

The cartoon that appeared in the May 13 edition was "WSSUP designs a hotbed of student discontent." That's the funniest thing I ever heard! I was at a breeding ground of complacency you would have been closer to the truth.

So next time you plagiarize a cartoon from the front page of the Chicago Tribune (May 8, 1965), you could at least not take credit for it at our college, and give some acknowledgement to the man who really drew it.

LESTER WILLETT

Mr. Willett: Boy, did I goof! I'm sure glad that you thought it was funny. I was afraid that someone might have taken it seriously. I guess I tend to overreact to large snowball fights and marches on courthouses. Sorry.

Who drew the cartoon? One of our large staff artists too shy to admit professional indiscretion. Anyone want to hire an unemployed artist with journalistic experience?

Glad To See SORC Canceled

I am glad to see that the Student Senate President has come to his senses and decided to cancel SORC until next year. It would be even better if SORC would be eliminated altogether for it is clear that the students and organizations do not want this organization and that they are satisfied with the present system of having organizations recognized by the Director of Student Activities.

The rules of SORC were so ambiguous that it was impossible to tell what powers it had. It might eventually evolve into a sort of a board of censors dictating to organizations what they may and may not do and coercing them into obedience through the threat of removing recognition.

The true test of whether or not the students want SORC is to put the question before the student body in a referendum. Then it will be realized that SORC should be canceled.

Would SORC Help Pointers? The last issue of the POINTER contained an editorial by LeRoy Saucier which was either the result of misinformation, narrow-mindedness, or both. The editor listed several reasons for the POINTER's not joining SORC.

tion. The picture page, if that is what it was meant to be, depicting the school bus drivers, was novel and should be retained.

The general consensus of the paper was favorable. One suggestion that most people had though was to change the name of the paper. They all felt this would have been an ideal time to make the change. I understand that due to technicalities, this change could not be made yet. Let us see the first edition of next year's paper have a new name. Congratulations to the newspaper staff for an enjoyable paper.

Lock Of Communication

The lack of communication between the students and their governing body, the Student Senate, has been recently demonstrated. It seems to me that the body regulating students and student organizations MUST take it upon themselves to keep those they represent in constant awareness of their decisions, policies, etc. One may ask if it is not the student's obligation to keep himself informed in an arbitrary manner, the obligation lies with the Student Senate. It is a credit to the Senate that their meetings, public or private, however, it is impossible as well as impractical to expect all students to attend.

Fraternities in Dog House

(ACAP) — Living as a mascot in a fraternity house would be enough to drive any dog to law-breaking, says the Delta Tau Delta chapter.

Such is the case of Brandy, one of six mascots living in fraternities at K-State.

Brandy is on 530 bond. He got into a doghouse for violating the city leash law and now is sticking a doghouse in his home, the Delta Tau Delta house.

Brandy is a 19-pound St. Bernard and is reportedly still growing. The Delta has had him for two years.

A contest was held in the house to name the pup. The St. Bernard then became Brandy, Duke of Delta Tau.

"I take care of him and appoint two pledges to feed him each week," said Steve James, Delta Tau dogkeeper.

Brandy eats 50 pounds of dogfood a month and has the run of the Delta house. He has a doghouse in the backyard, but Herbert says, "It's just a fixture. He sleeps inside."

Change Next Year's Hours

Dr. Yulhas of Student Affairs has announced a few changes in hours regulations for next year.

There will be a new category housing for students who are seniors or are over 21. This will be approved, but not supervised by the University. There will be no restrictions imposed by the University on people living in this type of housing. The procedure will be set up to assure that people requesting this type of housing will be handled rapidly.

The latter system has been abolished. Essentially, the system was abandoned because it was too hard to place on a staff — if one person in the dorm is a lone — per, the whole dorm remains open, and the other dorms are closed until that one person is in. There will be late-fee for special hours.

An 11:30-1:00 a.m. is being considered for one other night in the week, probably Wednesday.

PODIUM POLICY
The Podium is dedicated to the expression of opinions in the form of editorials and letters to the Editor. Letters may not be longer than 300 words. The editor reserves the right to edit all letters if they exceed 300 words. Letters will be written in poor taste. Opinions expressed will not be shared in any way. The editor will not be held responsible for letters not published upon request. Send all letters to the Editor, "Dear Editor."

A Study In Depth

by Don Hammes, Feature Editor

It has now been two weeks since the last issue of the Pointer and since that time I have found many subjects I would like to have my readers look into more deeply. Unfortunately this is the last issue of the Pointer this year so I was forced into choosing the subject which I feel most needs "A STUDY IN DEPTH".

On Friday, May 21, something was done here at Stevens Point University that has never been allowed before. I am referring to the recent Sophomore Class Party. The party was held at Bukolt Park and began around 4 o'clock in the afternoon and lasted for a total of 8 and one-half hours of uninterrupted student participation.

On Sunday, May 16, the University Center Board had its fourth annual banquet (see story page 1) at which the guest speaker, Professor Gordon L. Starr from the University of Minnesota, made clear the point that the amount of time spent studying curriculum is greater than is the time spent on extra-curriculum activities. Since the UCB has had difficulty this year with such events as the Hawaiian Luau and Spring Formal, I think it would be to their advantage and to the advantage of all to "Study in Depth" a most successful extra-curriculum activity — the sophomore class party 1965.

This party was the most successful one I have attended in my two years here at Stevens Point. If this is true for all, the questions to be answered are WHY and HOW this important goal was reached?

THE PROPER MIXTURE OF INGREDIENTS
Ingredients in a successful party usually include the following: 1) Food, 2) People, 3) Beverage, and 4) Cost. It is the proper mixture of these ingredients that turn out the successful party. Let us compare this party and its mixture of ingredients with other typical University parties.

MUSIC
At Bukolt Park the music was furnished "live" by The Dances I have attended here, the music was furnished by the record player, sometimes with a professional DJ Jockey from WSPY. This change of music was one major contributing factor to the success of the Sophomore Party.

BEVERAGES
A combination of beer and pop was offered and enjoyed by all who attended the Sophomore Class Party. This is contrasted to the usual punch or "cokeslets" offered at other various University functions. Possibly, this change in beverage aided in the success of the Sophomore Party.

PEOPLE
Attendance at the party was greater not only in student participation but also faculty participation. Mr. Cates, Mr. Dixon, Mr. and Mrs. Houllihan, Dr. and Mrs. Phillips, Dr. Knowlton, Mr. Stevens and Miss Gidwani are just some of those faculty members who attended. The student body responded by representing itself with over 500 students. Student participation at other parties rarely exceeds 200 and I haven't been to a party yet where more than four faculty members were present. I might add that at the Sophomore Party there was no fighting, no damage done, and no complaining. The crowd at Bukolt did not dwindle as the evening wore on like it does at other University parties I have attended.

COST
Cost to the students was very evenly covered in their fees or at 75¢ minimum plus to other University parties where upwards to $3.50 per couple is asked. This low expense attracted many students, adding to the success of the party. I want to point out that although it rained most of the afternoon and evening, and the food and beverages ran out, the party was none the less a success.

FOOD
The food was selectively chosen. The fresh perch came from the American Legion. The bar-b-que, coleslaw, and 10 pounds of butter came from Red's, and the French bread from the Bake-Rite Bakery. Past University parties have had popcorn, home-made cookies, and sometimes nothing. I think this change in food was another major contribution to the success of the Sophomore Party.

As previously mentioned, it is the proper mixture of "party ingredients" that make a party successful. In this case the head-cher or "mixer" was the sophomore class president, Jon LeRoy Due, along with his friends. Jon devoted a great deal of time, not only in the preparation of this party, but also in the actual carrying out of the evening's events. For this work the students who attended the Sophomore Class Party of 1965 should be truly appreciative.

Klobkowsky Announces Latest Film

Larry Klobkowsky, from West Allis, producer-director of "Elkay" Productions, has announced that the filming of his latest eight-millimeter cinematic effort has been completed. Larry is "boss by virtue" of the non-professional movie — making organization which began in 1960. "Elkay" has made thirty story films and captured twenty local, national, or international awards.

A sophomore majoring in Speech, Larry said that the film was made in black and white and is a fictional tale taking place during the Civil War. It has been entitled "Jamie." The film tells of a boy's kindness toward his enemy in war.

Cast members include thirteen year-old Craig Marple as Jamie, a lugger for the Union troops. Sophomore Paul Bentzen portrays a wounded Confederate soldier and freshman Dave Jurgella acts as a Union officer. John Primm, a freshman from Villa Park, Illinois, and Larry are cast as Confederates.

Costing was supervised by Dave Jurgella, a Civil War enthusiast and member of the 2nd Wisconsin Volunteer Infantry, Company K. John Primm handled the technical direction. Much of the filming was done near Curtis.

Handled with delicate sensitivity, the film runs approximately six minutes. It will be available for programs in the fall.

State U's See Need For Self-Study

Because they are growing so rapidly, the nine Wisconsin State Universities are seeking better ways to study themselves, the Board of Regents office in Madison reports.

At a recent meeting in Stevens Point, presidents and other administrators got advice on the subject from three experts on university self-analysis — men serving as directors of "institutional research." They are Charles E. Howell of Northern Illinois University, L. Joseph Line of the University of Wisconsin and John E. Stecklein of the University of Minnesota.

"We must study our own institutions in some systematic way," said Lins.

Eugene R. McPhee, Madison, Director of State Universities, agreed. He said: "The adage 'know thyself' takes on deeper meaning for our system of State Universities in this period of maximum growth and increasing complexity. We need to know more about ourselves and what we can project into the future more realistically."

McPhee pointed out that many agencies and organizations now are studying the State Universities. They include: the Coordinating Committee for Higher Education, taxpayer groups; the state department of administration; legislative committees; the Wisconsin State Planning Division; the Legislative Council and task forces advising the governor.

To illustrate difficulties in estimating future enrollments, McPhee cited a study of the State Colleges made in 1962 by the state planning division and a college administrators. Even though the present college youths are more enumerable at that time, the study badly underestimated present enrollments.

The report predicted 1,300 students at Oshkosh and 1,300 at Whitewater by 1972. Both universities this year have more than 5,000 students. The total for the system by 1972 was forecast at about 12,000. The enrollment last September was over 30,000 and is expected to exceed 37,000 next fall.

FOCUS

by Sue Stanke

This year, reports the Whamdoode column of the Milwaukee Journal, the word "Dedication" is running way ahead of other commencement cliches. Undoubtedly, it will be used many times at WSU's own commencement exercises. In earnest speeches by earnest speakers who will ask, may demand that the Class of 1965 move onward and upward to meet the challenge of The Great Society.

But as a graduate of the Class of 1965, this writer would like to mention some of the more minor challenges already undergone by the graduating seniors.

The classes at WSU are notable, if only for the variety offered. One can become a biologist, history teacher, conservationist, artist, driver education, business or music teacher. That's if you can outguess the instructor on class cutting, anticipate exam questions, absorb several hundred pages of outside reading per course and make it to a seven forty-five class three times a week. Nevertheless, WSU is fortunate to employ teachers who insist on student-teacher exchange, probe material in-depth, refuse to inflit their personal views on students, truly upholding this institution's well-deserved reputation for genuine academic freedom.

Thanks to WSU for the finer things in life: the versatile offerings of the Art and Lecture Series, the operas, the plays. Also to be commended are the many athletic offerings. What can compare to the glorious dryness of a hoarse sore throat after a basketball game, or compare to the thrill of smogging in beer or a bottle of Christian Brothers brandy at Homecoming, or catching and sportingly throwing out again gaily colored rolls of tissue during exciting moments in football games, or standing solemnly at the beginning of seven games while the school anthem is played, and wishing fervently you had learned the words somewhere along the way.

Thanks to Joe's, Fill's and Rudy's for providing a haven from the tension of college life, where in true democratic spirit, anyone who's eighteen or over can raise moderate hell, get raucously or disgustingly drunk with little administrative, parental or fellow student horror or stigma. Not infrequently, this is where students get their REAL education, learning all sorts of new words like "chugging," playing Indian," master the fine art of hustling, and discover one can get drunk on a dollar.

What senior, indeed, could possibly forget the memories of the last four years — try as they often may!

A personal note from this writer goes to Mr. Timothy Craig, solo vanguard of the peerless Siasati protestation uprising, whom destiny, Mr. Houllihan and Mr. Craig's own reckless sense of adventure have merged to select Mr. Craig as the incoming 1966 editor of the Pointer. Good luck Mr. Craig, from one who has witnessed the howls of fury and criticism and enjoyed the bold distinction of surviving in the thick of the other graduating seniors — it's been a helluva four years. And I wouldn't trade a moment of it. Thanks. Wisconsin State University.

In this writer's considered judgment, undoubtedly linked with that of the other graduating seniors — it's been a helluva four years. And I wouldn't trade a moment of it. Thanks. Wisconsin State University.

Nickelodeon Review

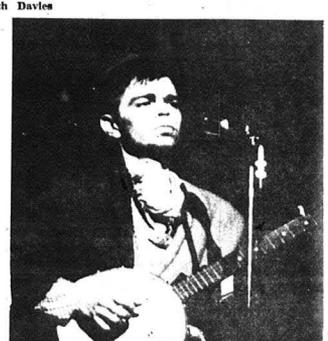

By Kenneth Davies

On May 19 at 8 p.m. when Schellkopf began his first big success. As the people paid their five cents to see their programs telling about the show, and proceeded to fill the auditorium of Old Main, final preparations were being made for the climax program.

The show began with a short comedy entitled "Fishty Tanks" featuring the kids from the Nickelodeon. Schellkopf provided exciting and appropriate music at the piano. It was a very hilarious comedy. Like the December program, an entertaining stage show preceded the main feature. Folk songs were sung by Don Werdnig and Ted Johnson, guitar. They were followed by Paul Bentzen who accompanied himself on the banjo, displayed a touch of red folk song artistry in his rendition of an old Civil War song "Two Brothers". This was followed by Miss Jan Nichols who very beautifully sang two songs from the turn of the century. "In A Gilded Cage" and "In The Shade Of The Old Apple Tree". She was dressed in her long pink and white dress with a matching bonnet on a pink parasol as she sang a song from the Nickelodeon at the organ while appropriate slides were shown in the background.

Finally, the moment that all had awaited had arrived, as the symbols of the extra which had originally accompanied the feature picture in 1914 were shown. "The Birth Of A Nation" and "The Birth Of A Nation" was an experience to see and is as controversial a film today as it was when first seen over fifty years ago.

The evening's program was a great success and I hope that you can look forward to a similar series next year.

University Grows

On Thursday, May 6th around 4:30 in the afternoon, Wisconsin State University's new classroom building at the southeast corner of 4th Avenue and Isador Street was officially put under construction.

Mr. Robert Lewis, chairman of the faculty, was first to break the virgin ground with Dean Jenkins, chairman of the faculty committee who worked on the design, handling the second spadeful. Following them were several other members of the faculty committee and then two of the student leaders. President Albertson then took the spade and finished off the job thus ending the ground breaking ceremony.

During the ceremony President Albertson expressed his thanks to the Legislature and the people of the state for making the money available for the new building. He further stated that the new building would meet the needs of not only the present student population but also the students coming for the next 75 years. This he said was to be a brick and reinforced concrete and will have over 125 different rooms available for students and faculty.

Fred Lawson, Architect from the State Bureau of Engineering, stressed the importance of the flexibility of the new building. The rooms can be changed into larger or smaller areas easily if necessary in the future. He also informed those present that the entire building would be air conditioned, thus explaining the small number of windows.

An elevator will be available for those handicapped and for the faculty to use when necessary. Because of the low ground no basement was built and thus no Air Raid Shelter facilities. The building is scheduled to be completed by Oct. 15th. Total cost is estimated to be 1.9 million.

So You Need A Janitor...

(ACP) — The most frightening day in any man's life must be the day he is interviewed for his first job, says John Marshall, columnist for the University of Cincinnati News Record.

There he is, the all-American boy — tall, thin, handsome, somewhat intelligent and unemployed — out on his first step in becoming another J. Paul Getty. Your interview might have been something like mine.

There I was sitting in the personnel office, feeling very adult and confident that I would get a fabulous job. As I leaned back in full contentment, it finally hit me — I had just mustered on my knee a big blob of fat.

Knowing that neatness counts, I decided that if I crossed my legs, perhaps the fact that I was a sloppy eater would not show. But as I crossed my legs I all of a sudden saw rather large feet, each wearing a different color shoe. Quickly I tried to get up, but my chair and covered the mustard spot on my left knee with my hand.

As I sat nearly doubled over, my left hand on my left knee and my right hand on my left cheek, I heard a voice

Mike Bowers One Of Thirty To Study In Hawaii

Michael Bowers, a sophomore in the School of Letters and Science at WSU-Stevens Point, has won a $4,800 scholarship to study in Hawaii campus in Honolulu. Only 30 students in the United States win this scholarship each year.

East-West Center was established by the U. S. Government in 1950 with the cooperation of the University of Hawaii. It is a unique educational institution dedicated to the premise that men and nations can achieve mutual understanding, respect and cooperation through their customs, beliefs and traditions differ.

Mike, a Wisconsin Rapids resident, is 19 and has a "two point 14" for his two years at WSU. He won the scholarship on the basis of his academic work, recommendations of his decision and other faculty. The decision was also based on an essay "Mike wrote on his past life and his interest in international affairs. This is considerable as he is majoring in International Relations and plans to do international news work or enter foreign service.

The scholarship program runs from June 1965 to June 1966 so Mike will be jetting out of Chicago soon. He will study Chinese for an intensive six hours a week (plus laboratory work) for six weeks this summer. He will continue study of Chinese in the fall semester.

The year in Hawaii will count as a full year in college and he will compete with the other 29 students selected for a chance to continue study. Ten will be selected to go to Tokyo or Taipei to do further language study next summer.

All the expenses of travel, tuition, fees, room and board and health insurance are paid by the scholarship. Mike, whose dad is a Wisconsin resident, is a member of the Phi Kappa Phi Honor Society. He is currently Director of Educational Administration at the University of West Virginia.

Neale Hall was named after Professor Oscar W. Neale who was a faculty member here for 11 years. He has since passed away and in dedication to the many contributions he made to the university the new building is named after him.

NEW ATHLETIC FACILITIES By September of next fall the university plans to have the following new outdoor athletic facilities: (1) 4 professional level tennis courts (2) 13 regulation softball diamonds and (4) a large field to be used for track and football purposes.

Other buildings, planned to be built in the near future include another residence hall, a new food service center and a new Arts Building. Also for next year several of the parking lots will be paved as well as the street in front of the residence halls on the north campus.

I quickly wrote down Lyndon B. Johnson and Ringo Starr as references and handed him the questionnaire.

conson Rapids area farmer, believes this scholarship will be the "turning point of my life" and "looks forward to meeting people of all races and cultural backgrounds, and to studying in the international atmosphere of Hawaii."

An interesting aside—Mike's older brother who recently graduated from Annapolis will be stationed in Hawaii while Mike is there.

Operation Papa

(ACP) — Three Sigma Alpha Epsilon men became part-time "fathers" recently through a program called "Operation Papa," says The Spectrum.

The fraternity began the program by contacting the grade schools in Fargo and getting a list of boys 6 through 12 who have no fathers. Each of the SAE brothers was assigned to a boy and began his fatherly duties by taking his "son" to an SAE Christmas party. Next on the agenda were basketball games, skating, movies, or any other occasion that might arise.

The boys can also come to the fraternity house at any time and watch television, play records and stay for supper if their mothers agree.

Cafeteria Special

(ACP) — A University of Minnesota dormitory resident with a sense of humor about institutional food recently returned his tray to the cleaner up area with a satisfied note: "What the heck is this? It's not even cooked."

Gach At "The Untouchables And The Unkept"

On Thursday, May 13, Mr. John Gach, head of the Department of Student-Teaching, gave an informal talk at Steiner Hall on "It Bothers Me."

This discussion covered the likes and dislikes of the residents of Steiner and those of Mr. Gach himself.

Mr. Gach opened the discussion by giving those present a brief history of his past experiences not only at the University but as a high school teacher, coach, and administrator. Mr. Gach then told the audience that he felt a lot should be done for incoming freshmen. He pointed out that the shift from high school to college is a traumatic experience and that over 23 percent of the freshman that come to Stevens Point end up either with poor grades or out of college entirely.

The freshman must adjust to new people, his classmates, his teachers, and the varied culture they all come from. For the first time in the average freshman's life, he has almost complete independence and he academically but also socially. The indicated unsuccess in coming to Stevens Point and the University's fault but the high schools fault as well, Mr. Gach pointed out.

A possible solution to this problem was offered in the form of a progress report of freshman so they adjust where they stand before its too late and they have to leave the institution. This can be done through some extra-curricular selling service. Mr. Gach also explained how entrance exams for incoming freshmen sometimes are not reliable because of the difficult vocabulary used and the low vocabulary of the freshman class. Thus, he is often not being tested on the knowledge he has acquired, but on the vocabulary.

The faculty here at Stevens Point has done a job about which there cannot be many complaints. Mr. Gach did point out that the faculty possibly has fallen down recognizing the progress the students make in the course of year. Secondly, he thought that with the many committees the faculty has to participate in make it difficult for them to do other equally important work.

The last "gripe" Mr. Gach had was directed to the student population that realized just how much they were getting through their activity level. He said that even though the student population has increased here at Stevens Point, the attendance at basketball games and other University events has sometimes decreased. This he has noticed in the five years he has been here.

President Al Bahler then presented awards to Board members who would be leaving the Board (see adjoining picture), Winter Carnival chairman Carl Langlois was also included in this list. By voting majority of all board members, Miss Barb Jakubowski was chosen outstanding Board member for the year 1965.

Mr. Mallick then turned the podium over to Dorothy Igel who presented outgoing-president Al Bahler with a special award to indicate the outstanding job he has done for the University Board in the past two years.

Professor Gordon L. Starr was then introduced to the audience. Professor Starr comes from the University of Minnesota where he is Director of three separate university units. This, along with his teaching and other activities, established his credentials for being the night's speaker. The content of his speech and its acceptance by those present indicated his excellent knowledge of his subject.

Professor Starr stated three important trends that should be watched — the high school dropout, the high admission requirements for high school graduates, and the ever-increasing cost of education. He called attention to the freshman student and what he must adjust to his first semester here. A roommate, new friends, liquor, sex, athletics, fraternities and sororities, different teachers, customs and different values are all included in this list. The curricular and the extra-curricular programs together make up a great deal of this new environment. The curriculum, Mr. Starr felt, has been, is and always will be under intense study; but, he questioned as to how much time has been spent studying co-curricular student programs. In a recent survey it was found that 25 percent of the students who come to college are seeking a general education, 35 percent to obtain vocational training, 19 percent to develop abilities to get along with people, 10 percent for moral reasons, and 3 percent for community and world purpose. Looking at the last percentage, Mr. Starr pointed out how demonstrations have broken out on college campuses showing the unrest of the students in this area. He questioned whether the students are accepting all the responsibilities that come with the freedoms they are seeking.

Under another study over a period of five years, researchers found that students joined extra-curricular programs because of the past experience of friends and relatives (93.5 percent). Of these students, 75 percent enjoyed the experience because they had a desire to gain knowledge through activities, a desire to serve others and a desire to meet new friends. When asked what they learned being a part of these extra-curricular programs, 75 percent answered, "a better understanding of the university; secondly, better methods of working with people, an understanding of the university; and, a better understanding of the community." Professor Starr then presented the 1965-66 University Cup Board with a challenge to "reach and teach" the future students of the University at Stevens Point. First, this could be done through a program to supplement the classroom; second, to teach responsibilities as a part of freedom; third, to reach for new experiences that would broaden social, cultural, and personal relationships; fourth, to teach the concept of service to the community and university; and fifth, to reach out to the non-participating student.

To end his fine speech, Mr. Starr quoted Dag Hammarskjöld: "Do not seek death, death will find you, but seek the road which makes death a fulfillment." He changed this to "Do seek life, life will not find you, you must find life in such a way as to make life itself a fulfillment."

Music Awards Presented

On May 12, in the Library Theatre, the annual music awards were presented. To Jan Nichols, the junior who has made the greatest progress in applied music after six semesters of study on this campus, went the Alpha Kappa Psi Award, Dan Nordell, a freshman, received the Piano Award No. 1 for his unusual aptitude shown for the instrument this year. Fay Salzman received Piano Award No. 2 for her outstanding progress and contributions in piano this year. The Aeolian Award went to Mary Sanchez who was judged the student who made the most outstanding progress in music literature, music theory, or both. Charles Emerson received the Wind Instrument Award for the student in brass or woodwind who has achieved the most outstanding performance this year. To the student who, in the eyes of the faculty, has done outstanding work in music this last year went the Faulhaber Award, to Mary Rindt. The Barbershoppers Award, an award established by local barbershoppers, went to a student in music, went to a vocal student this semester, Robert Holquist. Chris Drezinski received the Twilight Music Award for showing outstanding progress in the field of music education.

Newmanites Give Awards

Each year the Newman Student Association gives awards to outstanding members. This year Jane Laufenberg received the "Outstanding Member of the Year" Award and Richard Detloff was given the award best exemplifying "Newman Spirit." Both of these members were instrumental in doing work on the new study room at Newman Hall.

NEWMANITES

Extensive plans are being made for next year at Newman. These include additional purchasing of books for the library, creation of a building fund for a new center which will materialize in the near future and work on next year's program. During Freshmen Orientation Week, there will be a picnic for freshmen and transfer students.

NOTICE!

Applications for the Student Government Recognition Committee (SOGC) are now available in the SENATE office. Most of the members of this committee will be chosen this spring.

JASON NYARIKI heading the field in the 3-mile run at the conference track meet at La Crosse Saturday. He set a record breaking pace only to be passed up on the last lap.

AL SCHROEDER of Stevens Point, seems to be shooting for the sky. He did not hit the sky, however, but tied for fourth in the meet.

JIM EHLER, of La Crosse, closes the gap on Nyariki at the start of the last lap.

NYARIKI finishes close behind Ehler. Both runners topped the conference record. It had stood at 15:59.7 and Ehler's established record is now 15:17.6.

AS THE TRACK TEAM arrived safely to the comfort of the Fieldhouse they struck this lively pose.

Dick McGinley is the only member missing. It's up to you to decide who is there.

WITH A MIGHTY heave-ho, Dave Dehlinger, earns himself a third place finish.

FRESHMAN LARRY WHIFFEN, breaks the javelin record with this throw. The throw earned a second place finish.

PADDLING DOWN the Wisconsin River, this couple seems to have everything well in hand during the first tripper outing of the year.

A Day With The Trippers

Bob McKeand, Photographer

The "Trippers" of WSU-SP left the Center on Saturday to try their luck on a bike canoe trip down the Wisconsin River. The uniting "Trippers" biked all the way to Lake DuBay through 15 miles of beautiful Wisconsin countryside.

THE GROUP spreads out and gives the canoers more paddling room than they could hope to handle.

tippled over which was surprising since they were 25 canoes of nationally famous groups. An enjoyable time was had by all. It even provided a new experience for the Police Department, who were surprised to learn, or I should say discover, that no alcoholic beverages were served. Since "Old Milwaukee" wasn't present, the Sargent was good enough to let the gang stay at the shelter despite the fact it was reserved for the Wisconsin Ornithology Society (otherwise known as Bird-watchers). Just as the hootenanny ended, a bus pulled up in front of the shelter to take the tired but content students back to the halls.

State U's To Open 45 New Buildings

Fifty-five new buildings will be opened in the next 16 months at the nine Wisconsin State University camps. The Board of Regents office in Madison reports.

Included are nine academic buildings, 29 residence halls and seven food service buildings, said Eugene R. McPhee, Director of State Universities. Construction and operating costs of the 36 residence and food service buildings will be paid from receipts rather than state tax funds, McPhee said.

Many of the buildings now are under construction. Work on the others will start soon to make room for the estimated 14,000 additional students in the next two years. Academic building projects scheduled for completion before classes begin next September are a science building at La Crosse and a classroom-library addition and a science building basement at Whitewater. Other new buildings ready for students next fall will be: food service buildings at Eau Claire and Whitewater, three residence halls at Oshkosh, two residence halls each at Eau Claire, Stevens Point and Whitewater and one residence hall at Platteville, River Falls and Stout. At Oshkosh, a food service building is scheduled for completion by January 1966 and the new classroom building by April 1966.

Academic buildings to be completed during the summer of 1966 include: classroom and physical education buildings at Whitewater, a physical education building at Superior, classroom building at Stevens Point, agriculture-science building at River Falls and engineering-science building at Platteville. Scheduled for completion by September 1966 are: food service buildings at La Crosse, Oshkosh, Platteville and Stevens Point, five more residence halls at Whitewater, three more at La Crosse, two each at Platteville, River Falls and Stout, one at Eau Claire and Stevens Point and the first high rise residence hall in the system, at Oshkosh. A residence hall addition will also be built at Superior.

Capacity of residence halls will increase from 11,854 this year to 15,243 in September, 1965 and to 21,143 in September, 1966.

How Important Are Grades?

(ACP) — A recent survey of 1,072 leaders in business, education and government listed in Who's Who showed that the majority of these men graduated from college with only a "C plus" to "B" average.

This lack of correspondence between people at the top of their classes and those who are leaders 20 years later makes us wonder just how much grades will indicate, says the Oklahoma Daily, University of Oklahoma.

Naturally, some will earn poor grades from the lack of application and laziness and some will earn top grades only through narrow interests and exclusion of all other activity. These are poor reasons for both extremes.

But equally, one may earn less than top grades because he is learning and gaining in other fields, in other abilities not totally academic. Another editor remarked last week, "Life and human nature are too complex and varied to be caught by grades and pinned for all time, like dead butterflies in an exhibit case." These 1,072 and others, like them are those who are not pinned in a "grades for grades' sake" cage while in college and who were able to go on growing and learning after leaving colleges and their "only average" grades behind.

DeBruin And Ternouth Bat Pointers Past Winona

Juniors Jerry DeBruin and Ron Ternouth used their bats to lead Stevens Point past Winona on Tuesday, May 27, at Winona. The Pointers shut out the Warriors in the first game, 6-0, and powered their way to a 7-4 decision in the nightcap.

DeBruin hit the first of his two homers in the first inning and Chuck Ritzenthaler shut out the Warriors in the first game allowing only five hits and striking out a total of nine Warriors. Jack Benedict was the loser, going four innings and allowing three runs and four hits.

In the nightcap, the Pointers dialed out seven runs and nine hits with home runs by DeBruin and Ternouth. DeBruin added a single and scored another run and Phil Birkel had a double and a single. Warren Houghton, Larry Anderson hit a two run homer trying to save the game for Roger Fitzgerald on the scoreboard as the first inning after giving up four runs and four hits. He also walked one. Davis Usgard also added a home run to the Warriors vain effort.

Steve Strong, a freshman pitcher from Winona, was the winner. He pitched three innings allowing one run on two hits and he struck out six.

Whitewater Wins Track Meet

Whitewater used its depth to edge out La Crosse for first place at WSU-La Crosse in the state conference track meet Saturday, May 22. The Pointers managed a fifth place, being edged out by Platteville late in the meet. Nine conference records were shattered and four Pointers broke school records.

The Pointers got almost 1/2 of their points in three field events; the shot put, the discus and the javelin. Al Schroeder, a freshman from Stevens Point, raised the school discus mark to 148'1 1/2". He placed second in that event; Larry Whiffen, another freshman, set a record in the javelin throw at 187'11 1/2". He also earned a second place in that event. Sophomore Dave Dehlinger placed third in the shot put and Schroeder placed a tie for fourth.

Jason Nyariki, running in what was probably his last meet, placed third in the 400, 8 of a second behind first placed Jim Housers of Oshkosh. Housers set a new record in that event with a time of 50.1. Jason then set a record for a mile with a time of 16:47.7, but stopped due to rain. Phil Nordgren broke the mile record and set it at 4:24.7.

The results:
Track Events

Pointers Win Michigan Tech Invitational

The Pointers traveled to Houghton, Michigan on Friday, May 14, to compete in the Michigan Tech Invitational there and walked off with the first place trophy. St. Norbert's College placed second, 22½ points out of first.

Jason Nyarki placed first in the 40 yard dash. Dan Brown placed first in the 100 and 200 yard dashes with times of 10.2 and 23.1 seconds respectively.

In the weights division, the Pointers stamped all other competition. In the shot put, Dave Dehlinger, Larry Whiffen and Al Schroeder placed one, two and three respectively. Dehlinger went 48' 1". In the discus, Schroeder and Dehlinger placed one and Whiffen took fourth. In the javelin, it was Whiffen's turn to take first with a toss of 172' 10". Schroeder took sec-

Pointers Drop Two To Stout

The Pointers were dropped out of reach of the W.S.U.C. baseball championship on Tuesday, May 17, as the Stout State Blue Devils dropped them by identical 2-1 scores, the second game lasting eight innings.

The losses made it three out of the last four games and closed the season with a still highly respectable 5-4 conference record and a 10-6 overall record.

In the first game, a squeeze-play ended in disaster as the winning run scored in the bottom half of the seventh inning: Stevens Point hitters collected only three hits behind Chuck Ritzenhaller, who finished the season with a 4-2 record.

In the second game, the Pointers out-hit the Blue-Devils, 5-3, but Gary Glock allowed the winning run to score in the eighth inning. The loss was Glock's second in one week.

Opportunity For Scholarships

The Educational Director of Parents' Magazine's Cultural Institute announces that applications from students for participation in the Summer Student Scholarship Contest are now being accepted. The many scholarship awards available range up to $1,000 in each category. Besides the Scholarship Awards, summer earnings are high—students have earned as much as $1,000 in 8 weeks.

Last summer's 1st Prize Winner—recipient of a $1,000 Scholarship—was Miss Ann Fontana, a Junior at Rider College, Trenton, New Jersey. Two $500 Scholarship Awards were earned by Penny Malfront (University of Idaho) and Mary Sha (Barat College). Some Student Representatives are invited to work part-time throughout the remainder of the year. Career opportunities with the Company are open to eligible students upon graduation.

Parents' Magazine's Cultural Institute is a division of Parents' Magazine Enterprises, Inc. which includes: Parents' Magazine, Your New Baby Manual, and Baby Care Manual; The Baker and Taylor Company (the country's largest and oldest book wholesaler); F.A.O. Schwarz (the world's greatest toy store); Parents' Magazine Press (publishers of quality books for children).

Students participating in the Scholarship Contest receive thorough training and are closely supervised and encouraged in their work by experienced and qualified managers who are devoted to this work with young people. The work is dignified and stimulating—enabling students to earn much of their school costs. This valuable work contributes to the all around development of the personality and may lead to a successful business career.
