For Study On Asia

Arthur Herman, assistant professor of philosophy, WSU-SP has received a grant of $3,150 from the National Endowment for the Humanities for a study on contemporary Asia as seen in recent developments and changing trends.

The purpose of the Institute is to focus attention on contemporary Asia, its traditions and its problems in connection with the under-graduate instruction "by augmenting the background through lectures and papers of the world of vital importance but frequently neglected in the undergraduate curriculum and to provide "actual enrichment in an atmosphere conducive to concentration."

Nine south and Southeast Asian area specialists plus the education director of the Asia Society will be the institute lecturers. Education director Dr. Seymour Fersh will speak on Asian Studies in American education.

The institutes are made possible by a $53,150 grant from the Louis W. and Maud Hill Foundation of St. Paul, Minn.

A member of the WSU-Stevens Point faculty since 1965, Herman has both B.A. and M.A. degrees from the University of Minnesota, and is a doctoral candidate at Harvard University. He taught at the University of Florida and at Hamilton College, Clinton, N.Y. He was a member of the Southern Fellowship, he studied at Stanford University, and later at Harvard during 1961-63 under a Danforth Teacher Grant. The Hyer Hall team is the champion of the inter-hall Academic Bowl Competition. Hyer's team defeated Baldwin, 6 to 0, to win the championship on May 8, 220-85, coupled with Smith Hall's loss to Steiner, 150-115, gave Hyer a three game lead with only two games to go. Hyer has a 15 win and 1 loss record. Smith dropped to tie for second place (12 wins and 4 losses) along with Neale who defeated Nelson. Baldwin is in fourth with a 10-4 record and Steiner in fifth, 8-8.

The Hyer team of Rich Harj, captain, John Christensen, Bob Fleweng, and Bill McMillen built up a quick 85 to 5 lead against Baldwin. Good defense against Steiner marked Hyer's effort. Hyer hit five on top-ups, had a hitting well on third, and a 15 to 5 lead at the end of the game. Hyer's second half for the 230 to 85 win.

Hyer now has an eleven game winning streak. The biggest win in their drive to the championship was 300 to 210 victory over Steiner, May 12. This win put Hyer two games ahead of Smith. A loss would have tied the two teams.

New Pointer Editor Chosen

Liz Fish To Succeed Tim Craig

At the final meeting of the Publications Board, May 2, Elizabeth Fish, a sophomore from Milwaukee, was named editor of the 1966-67 Pointer. She will succeed Tim Craig who will graduate in August.

Miss Fish was selected on the basis of her experience, her ability to write, her knowledge of journalism and her leadership qualities. She was also chosen on the basis of a personal interview in which she answered questions concerning the paper, the staff, and plans for improvement of the Pointer.

UW Editor Addresses Pointer, Iris

The first annual Publications Banquet was held May 6 at the Mead Inn in Wisconsin Rapids, about 50 Pointer and Iris staff members, the advisors Mr. Houlihan and Mr. Chang with their wives, and several guests attended. Mr. Cliff Benke, editor of the Iris at the University of Wisconsin's Daily Cardinal, was the guest speaker.

Following a delicious meal, Mr. Houlihan announced the names of the 1966-67 editors: Liz Fish, a sophomore from Milwaukee, is the new Pointer editor. The editor of the Iris is Tom Kujawski, a freshman from Stevens Point.

The guest speaker, Cliff Benke, indicated an interesting and informative speech on several aspects of publication work. He stated that a newspaper must always be aware of its reading public. For WSU-SP this would include the student body, administration and the people of Wisconsin. Responsible coverage of news will enable the paper to respect and to criticize without creating antagonism.

Mr. Benke also suggested that a newspaper strive for independence. He pointed out that the Daily Cardinal is completely independent and self-sufficient.

Pulitzer Prize Winner To Lecture On Poetry

William D. Snodgrass, Wayne University Professor, who was awarded a "Pulitzer" prize for poetry in 1960, will speak on Wednesday, May 18, at the WSU-Stevens Point University Center.

Sponsored by the University Center Board Cultural Committee, the lecture will be presented at 8 p.m. in the Wisconsin Room. The program is open to the public. No admission charge.

The poet completed undergraduate work as well as a Master's of Fine Arts degree at Cornell University, and was taught at the University of Rochester until 1959 when he joined the faculty at Wayne University in 1960.

He was elected a Phi Beta Kappa post at Columbia University in 1961 when he also was selected an honorary Fellow in American Literature at the University of New Hampshire.

Snodgrass has directed poetry workshops at both the Morehead Writer's Conference (Kentucky) and the Antioch Writer's Conference.

United Council Delegates Meet At La Crosse

Ten WSU-SP students attended the two-day convention of the United Council of Wisconsin State University Student Governments held at La Crosse, Apr. 29-30. The Stevens Point delegation headed by Warren Kostroski included Robert Goss, Scott Schutte, Jerry Hopewell, Jerry Glocke, Cliff Hesse, Mike Meyer, Barb Hutchinson, Joe Lightfoot and Carrie Spoo.

The American Delegation presented our Point Bowl Competition program to the other universities and it was received very enthusiastically. A resolution stated that the United Council recommend that all the state universities set up an ABC system was passed unanimously. There is hope that inter-university competition may develop in the future.

In legislative action the Council officially recommended that extensive research be conducted on the problems of drugs on campus. Each of the nine universities will soon be setting up educational programs on the dangers of proliferation of drugs. It was further pointed out that though this is not now a major problem, this project may prevent it from becoming one.

The newly elected officers of the 1966-67 United Council are: Tom Schaffer, (River Falls), president; Geri Ruel, (La Crosse), vice-president for public relations; J. J. Alexander, (Eau Claire), vice-president for legislative affairs; Phil McMahon, (Whitewater), vice-president for Research and Interservice; Peg Lapacinski, (Stout), secretary.

Once again WSU students have provided the key factor that makes the Red Cross Bloodmobile a success. The bloodmobile made its quota with a total of 215 pints of blood donated. WSU students made an outstanding show by contributing 176 pints, over 50 percent of the needed quota. The Red Cross Bloodmobile wishes to thank you all a sincere thank you to all students and faculty who participated in this life-saving program.

The Red Cross Bloodmobile would also like to thank Alpha Phi Omega and their pledges for making this program a success.

Cliff mentioned that the editor is paid $100 a month and the other editors are paid according to a graded scale.

Cliff also discussed some of the problems of the WSU-SP campus and the staff he would take on them. In regard to women's hours, he commented, "They are the most ridiculous thing I've ever heard of."

The problems encountered by a yearbook staff are similar in many respects to that of a newspaper, according to Mr. Behnke. He said the chief goal should be to capture and record the "true spirit" of the campus.

Following Mr. Behnke's speech a question and answer period encouraged an interesting exchange of ideas.

Pointers Represented At Student Press Conference

Robert Gosz, and Scott Schutte from WSU-Stevens Point attended the Governor's Student Press Conference in Madison on May 6 and 7.

Approximately thirty student body presidents, newspaper editors and officers of the United Council of Wisconsin State University Student Governments attended.

The conference was highlighted by the press conference with Governor Warren P. Knowles. The Governor told the group that he viewed the water pollution legislation as "the single most important and most significant legislation to be considered in the May session of the legislature. Wisconsin has made progress in the area of water pollution, and I am confident that with the passage of the legislation that Wisconsin will once again gain national prominence in the vital important field."

On Friday, four representatives of private and public schools answered questions regarding higher education in Wisconsin. Representing the private schools were Dr. Ed Weigener, assistant to the president at Marquette University, and Dr. Richard Bailey, president of Northland College. Mr. Angus Rothwell, Executive Director of the Coordinating Committee on Higher Education, and Dr. James Albertson, President of Wisconsin State University - Stevens Point, represented the public schools.

The Coordinating Committee on Higher Education is designed to coordinate all public post-high school educational programs and to strengthen the educational utilization of resources. Mr. Robert Draper, president of the John Oester Manufacturing Company, addressed the students at a banquet at the Madison Club Friday evening. He urged students to stay in Wisconsin. "Wisconsin needs its young people to take the responsibilities of state government," he stated, "and Wisconsin can provide the job opportunities to keep its youth in Wisconsin."

Arvid Sather, Legal and Pardon Council to Governor Knowles, Joseph Fagan, Chairman of the Industrial Commission of Wisconsin; and Thomas Dale, Director of the Housing Section of the Equal Opportunities Division of Wisconsin Industrial Commission opened Saturday's sessions by explaining the Fair Housing Law of Wisconsin which was enacted in December, 1965.

Angelo Greco (Dem-A), Chairman of the Assembly Education Committee, and Thomas Moran, Executive Secretary of the Commission for Higher Educational Aids, briefed the group on scholarships which are available to students. Dale LaFolter, Director of Public Service at the University of Wisconsin, and Chief Justice of the Wisconsin Supreme Court George Currie, concluded the program with a discussion on the topic of student rights.

Currie said, "Although there has been very little direct case law in the area of student rights in the last fifteen years, there has been some discussion on the application of the "equal protection" clause of the fourteenth amendment.

Teke

On Sunday, May 8, the Tekes and Alpha Sig held a chicken feed at Fil's Bar. The food and the beer tasted very good.

One of our fraters, John Keefe, has been chosen as the 1966 Homecoming chairman.

Bill Liberty and Bill Ooski received the Prynian (President's) Award for their outstanding service to the fraternity. They were chosen by Blake Herlick, our past president. Dale Wallers received the scholarship award as the top student in the fraternity. Congratulations are extended to all of these men.

On Saturday and Sunday, the 14 and 15 of May, the Tekes will be celebrating their tenth anniversary on the WSU Stevens Point campus. Bruce Mettcher, executive secretary of the Teke's will be attending, and also representatives from each Teke chapter throughout the state.

WSU Wins First, Errors Lose Second

The WSU Pointers, after rapping out 13 runs and 24 hits including four home runs, had to settle for a split with the Stout Blue Devils on Tuesday, May 2.

In the opener Jetty Chuck Ritzenthaler hurried a sparkling three-batter to raise his record to 2 wins and 1 loss for the year. In fact, the Blue Devils didn't get their first hit until the sixth inning and that came on an infield pop to deep short. They came up with two singles and a walk in the seventh inning to load the bases with nobody out. After the next batter struck out, an error by the third baseman allowed the Blue Devils to score all three of their runs with two of them being unearned.

The Pointers opened the scoring in the first inning when Jim Fitzgerald drove a long home run to the left-center field fence scoring Jerry DeBruin who had been safe on a fielder's choice.

AL RICKER of the Pointers swung and missed on this pitch from Gene Schultz (not shown) of Platteville. The catcher is Joe Provenzano. The action took place in the opening game of Saturday's doubleheader.

The fourth inning found four more runs crossing the plate for the Pointers. The big blow was a three run homer by Tom Heimert. The Pointers closed their scoring in the sixth inning on a single tally driven in by DeBruin with a single after Eddie Leonard had doubled.

Ritzenthaler, in going the distance, walked three and struck out DeBruin paced the Pointers with three singles in four trips while Fitzgerald had a double to go along with his homer.

A total defensive collapse caused the Pointers to drop the nightcap after taking a 10-6 lead into the final inning. The Blue Devils came up with five runs in their half of the inning.

After two straight singles, starter Al Larsen was replaced by Al Reichert for the Pointers. Reichert promptly walked the next batter and hit the following one with a pitch to bring in one run. A throwing error by the catcher along with three singles and a sacrifice fly netted the final four runs for the Blue Devils.

Trackmen Bury Green Knights

The Pointers' track team traveled to DePere, Tuesday, May 3, and buried the St. Norbert's team 85-16. Larry Whiffen of Point and Tim Singleton of Norbert's each placed first in three events.

Dick Leslie, a Sheboygan freshman, won the 880 as usual, and placed second behind Singleton in the 440 yard dash. His time in the 880 was 2:05.7. Freshman George Cheek won the high jump with a leap of 6'. Bill Barber placed second in the event. Mike Richmond, a top runner in the 880, was unable to make the trip due to illness.

Pointers, Platteville Split 3-0, 5-4

By Wally Trutenko
Saturday, May 9, the Pointers split their third straight SUC doubleheader by winning the first game 3-0 and dropping the nightcap 5-4. With this split the Pointers are 3-1 in the conference, and 6-3 overall.

The first game featured a strong pitching performance turned in by lefty Chuck Ritzenthaler and a perfect day by Jerry DeBruin at bat with four hits and a single in three trips. Ritzenthaler in winning his third game against one loss yielded only five hits and three walks while striking out six and hitting one batter.

The Pointers began the scoring in the first inning when Phil Birkel advanced on a two base throwing error by the shortstop and advanced to third on DeBruin's hit. He scored on an error by the left fielder.

In the fourth inning the Pointers scored their second run when Jim Fitzgerald led off with a walk. Jim Hansen then hit a grounder to the third baseman who threw the ball away, leaving runners at first and third. Fitzgerald scored on an outfield hit by Tom Walker.

The Pointers' final run came in the fifth when DeBruin dou-

The Pointer baseball team has turned out to be something of a disappointment. After losing only one game previous to last week's play, the Pointers split doubleheaders with Stout and Platteville, winning the first game and dropping the nightcap in each. The loss against Stout was all the more disappointing as the Pointers held a 10-6 lead in the last inning when Stout pushed across five runs for the victory. Nine Pointer errors in the game did not help the Pointer cause either. Against Platteville, numerous mistakes led to the Pointer's downfall. It seems that the team is just careless. Poor fielding, baserunning, and relief pitching have at one time or another hurt the team's chances. Poor fielding seems to be the major cause for the defeats. The opposition has managed to score only 16 earned runs off Pointer pitchers in 66 innings for a 1.69 ERA. Thirteen runs have been unearned, however. The Pointers have pushed 50 runs across the plate which should have been more than adequate. Jerry DeBruin paces the team with a fat .485 batting average. Two other regulars are hitting above .300 with Tom Walker at .321 and Tom Heimert at .313. A concerted effort and victories in the remaining games could bring the Pointers within grasp of a conference championship in baseball.

bled to center and later scored on a single by Tom Heimert. Each team committed three errors.

In the nightcap the Pointers suffered a severe blow when the pitcher, Al Larson, was hit on his pitching hand by a hard smash from the plate. Larson left the game after hurling shut-out ball for three innings and with a lead of 3-0. The Pointers' score resulted from a run batted in by Kent Larson in the second.

Al Reichert took over the mound for the Pointers in the fourth inning and Al Larson moved to first base. The Pointers then came up with three runs to tie the score. In the fifth inning the Pointers added another run, making it 4-1 by getting a run off Steve Strout.

The Pointers came right back in their half of the fifth by scoring three runs. Phil Birkel led off with a single, went to second when the ball got away and went to third on a wild pitch. DeBruin followed with a long double which allowed one run to score. Heimert then led off with a long drive over the fence which tied the score 4-4. The Pointers then brought in Gene Schultz to replace the rearing Pat Lacke, and he succeeded in blanketing the Pointers in the final three innings.
