Laird Calls Politics Honorable Profession

Congressman Melvin R. Laird defended politics as an honorable profession Wednesday while speaking to 100 students in the Wisconsin State University-Stevens Point laboratory school. He cited disappointment in a recent poll which found nine of every ten parents unfavorable to their children becoming lawmakers.

The Marshfield Republican's appearance was sponsored by the seventh graders currently studying procedures of the federal government.

Laird told his youthful audience that Americans should support President Johnson in a quest for peace in South Vietnam. Those who are in conflict with the President on this issue should "be quiet" so the Communists won't miscalculate our desires in ending the conflict.

He also called for a priority program so money for needs of humans and cities are appropriated first. "We need to finance beds in hospitals before we can commercialize space," he advised.

The powerful House Republican advocated high priority for spending money on defense.

Student John Romy asked for the congressman's opinion on Chicago Mayor Daley's orders to "shoot to kill" looters. Laird said he believes news reports of the mayor's remarks were a bit sensational and stressed only a couple sentences from a policy statement.

Peoples' Choice Play At Variety Review

"The Peoples' Choice," a Stevens Point dance band, falsely advertises that it was mobbed in Chicago by a crowd trying to get a look at Senator Dirksen.

More important to the six members, the level of the group's popularity is "good enough so we can earn our way through school."

Sunday night at 8 p.m. "The Peoples' Choice" will be one of four groups featured in a "Music Variety Review," a program billed to raise funds for the Wisconsin State University-Stevens Point symphonic wind ensemble's 1968 European tour.

Since organizing in Oct. the six WSU students have been playing every weekend, plus many weeknights, in communities throughout the state. Their rate is $1.75 per night.

"You can't find a better playing job than this when you're in school," explains business manager David Huegel of Wauwatosa. "Each of us can make $50 or $60 for two nights of playing," he adds.

The other four members of the band are John Baker, Milwaukee, drummer; Cliff Fellows, Townsend, trumpet, guitar, piano, organ, and bass player; Gary Hulobit, Milwaukee, lead guitar; and Dale Smith, Rhinelander, saxophone, clarinet, bass, organ and piano player.

The survey employs the Likert Technique in responding to 150 statements, and it requires approximately 50 minutes of the student's time.

The survey is approximately 1200, with a 20 per cent sampling for men and women undergraduates by class.

Hall-A-Days

By MARY ROGERS

"Blurb" is the name of the monthly Steiner Hall newspaper. It is composed of news and information pertinent to the interests of Steineremen, comments and opinions on hall activities, local to national politics and events, and, at times, the Blurb will feature the creative writings of hall members."

In this manner, Ted Swank introduced this year's series of Steiner's newspaper.

Ted is a junior from Tomahawk majoring in business and education. He worked on his high school newspaper but until his experience on the Blurb, he had not thought of making journalism a career. Now because he enjoys the work and responsibility, he is thinking about a journalism career some day.

As the Blurb's introduction implies, it is not totally hall news. Ted explains that it is "whatever I feel like doing." M. J. Karg, Steiner Hall director, corroborates this statement. Mr. Karg explained that the Blurb is "the prime produce of Ted Swank." The Blurb is also an outlet for the guys in the hall, a means of circulating their ideas.

The paper comes out once a month, but the schedule is very flexible. For instance, because of a heavy test schedule, the March issue came out April 2.

Ted has a more or less permanent staff of from four to ten reporters. He sights as his most valuable and interesting staff member Vic Redmond. Redmond is the pen name of some mysterious contributor who makes rambling but pointed statements about hall life, campus customs, and national policies. He also doubles as the Steineremen's answer to Ann Landers.

This year's Blurb has also promoted the grip column of M. T. Hed. Hed has received gripes ranging from unsewered hallways to "All-important SA's who alert themselves extra privileges."

M. T. Hed not only publishes gripes, he makes himself responsible for finding out why the situation is as it is and if anything can be done about it. The situations cleared up through M. T. Hed are a credit to the Blurb, its editor, and the hall.

Ted, who is an SA and an active, though unselected, participant in the hall council, describes his attitude as M. T. Hed is a kind of policeman. He is often outspoken.

Though acceptance is not complete, the Blurb is a successful paper. Hall members attribute this to their zealous editor. Their zealous editor attributes it to the physical makeup of the hall. Each floor's two way wings are unselected and thus practical organization is by floor.

Ted explains that information travels more freely among one floor of sixty than in hall would in wings of half that number. All this adds to the fact that Steiner Hall is a close hall with its own identity. The Blurb would probably not be possible in any other hall.

Steiner Hall

Ted Swank of Norridge, Ill., was recently chosen by the Steiner Hall Council as the "Man of the Month." Ted was chosen for his work in the hall throughout the year, but especially for his contributions during the month of February.

Ted, a junior business education major, is the present student assistant for fourth south and the editor of the Blurb, the Steiner Hall paper. However, his editor's job encompasses much more than most because he does most of the writing himself besides editing the articles, typing the copy, and arranging and distributing each issue.

The Blurb was recognized in the Feb. 22 issue of the Pointer as "perhaps the most successful hall paper" on campus. The success of it this year is due to the efforts of its regular staff, headed by Ted Swank.

ABC Matches

The regular season Academic Bowl Competition has ended in a three-way tie for first. Baldwin, Pray-Sims and Smith halls each finished with 10 and 2 records. Baldwin hall received the first-place trophy on the strength of its total point score. They scored a total of 2,265 points, compared to Smith's 1,790 and Pray-Sims' 1,805.

Burrheads and Neale Halls finished with 10 and 2 records. However, Burrheads earned a spot in the post-season playoffs by outscoring Neale in total points, 2,470 to 2,285.

The playoffs will feature Baldwin, Burrheads, Pray-Sims and Smith. The semifinals will be played at 3 and 7 p.m. on Sunday, Apr. 28.

Smith plays Pray-Sims in the afternoon match and Burrheads is in Baldwin for the evening game.

The winners of these games will meet for the final Sunday, May 5 at 7 p.m. in the Orange Room of the DeBot Center.

Pointers Beat Bugolds; Weekend Action Rained Out

Pointer Pitchers Hurl One-Hitter

By Tim Lasch
WSU-Stevens Point's baseball team pounded out 12 hits and pitcher Steve Strong and Mike Zinert hurled a brilliant one-hitter as the Pointers ended a six game losing streak with a 10-0 win on Tuesday, April 16 at Bukolt Park. The win evened the Pointers' overall mark at 6-1.

The Pointers pounded Eau Claire's pitching ace Ron Poquette and three successors while Strong was very sharp, striking out five and walking two. Jim Severson, Bugold's first baseman, got the only hit off of Strong, a looping drive into left field in the seventh inning. Mike Zinert pitched the last two innings for Point, fanning three and walking one. He did not allow a hit in the innings he worked.

Dave Peterson and Zinert provided the long ball for the Pointers as each rapped out a home run. Peterson, a junior from Waupaca, belted a drive that carried about 400 feet into the wind. Zinert capped a five run eighth inning with a two run blast over the center field fence, a distance of 375 feet.

Phil Birkel, senior shortstop from Ellsworth, collected a double and single in three trips and drove in three runs. Catcher Jim "Otto" Hansen, also an all-conference football end, threw out three of Eau Claire's six basemen and also collected a triple.

Second baseman John Harris and third baseman Tom Heimerl added two hits and an RBI each. Heimerl was robbed of a home run in the second when Bugold center fielder Steve Reinke made a spectacular one-handed, leaping catch. The Bugolds, who did not get a runner past second base, now have a record of three wins and two losses.

The Pointers were rained out of a scheduled doubleheader with Superior State last Saturday. They will take to the road this weekend, traveling to St. Norbert on Friday and Whitewater on Saturday. Both days will be doubleheaders.

Lasch's Sports Flashes

By Tim Lasch
The big question in the Major Leagues this year has now become "When will the Chicago White Sox win their first game?" It also appears that the Cubs may just have been lucky last year to finish in second. Leo the Lip Durocher is sprucing a few more gray hairs these days.

Attendance in Atlanta, the city that took away Milwaukee's baseball team, has been great. They had a whopping 20,000 for their home opener and have averaged 6,000 since then. Oliver Kuechler, sports writer for the Milwaukee Journal, received a letter from an Atlanta sportswriter, saying that Wisconsin "would be happy to know that things aren't going too well down here." Yes, indeed Wisconsin is happy.

For those of you who are year-round Packer fans, here is a 1968 Packer schedule:

Sept. 15 - Philadelphia at Green Bay
Sept. 22 - Minnesota at Milwaukee
Sept. 29 - Detroit at Green Bay
Oct. 6 - at Atlanta
Oct. 13 - Los Angeles at Milwaukee
Oct. 20 - at Detroit
Oct. 28 - at Dallas (night)
Nov. 3 - Chicago at Green Bay
Nov. 10 - at Minnesota
Nov. 17 - New Orleans at Milwaukee
Nov. 24 - at Washington
Dec. 1 - at San Francisco
Dec. 7 - Baltimore at Green Bay
Dec. 15 - at Chicago

Just for a few uninformed basketball fans, I shall enumerate the injuries with which the Philadelphia 76ers played in the playoffs just completed. They played the Boston Celtics the last three games, all of which were losses, with only two of nine men completely.

Wilt Chamberlain played the last four games with three separate injuries in his right leg. He had a partially torn muscle in his thigh, a muscle pull in the lower part of his leg, and a bruise on his right knee.

Lucius Jackson had a pulled hamstring in his leg. Chet Walker a groin injury, Wally Jones a twisted knee and sprained ankle, Hal Greer had bursitis in a knee, Johnny Green a back injury and Billy Cunningham a broken wrist.

Playing with those kind of injuries, one can hardly say Boston is the champ. Consider the last three regular season games between the two teams when both were healthy - the 76ers won all three by no less than 12 points.

Bruske Announces He Will Not Run

"I shall not seek and will not accept the office of Student Senate president," C. J. Bruske declared Sunday.

The announcement came as a stunning shock to the crowd who thought they were attending a Polish Freedom Day Celebration in front of the Polish War Memorial here in Stevens Point.

Bruske still voiced strong opposition to the present administration. He accused this year's senate of "acts of trivial banality and super-responsible know-nothing and ineptness."

Leisurely munching a hamburger, Bruske stated in an exclusive Pointer interview that he did not think there was enough time for a sufficient draft movement on his behalf. "I already have enough trouble with a draft of my own," he declared.

Bruske went on to say that he has been thinking of withdrawing from his non-candidacy for a long time. "But," he said, "I was overcome by what is mistakenly called apathy here in Stevens Point. Actually I am taking the path of calculated non-involvement, stemming from a profound disgust over the uselessness of it all."

After joining in a stirring rendition of the Polish National Anthem, Bruske summed-up his withdrawal, "I hope that by my withdrawal, Student Senate will realize that the greatest service it could render would be to abolish itself and rebuild the whole mess from scratch."

At a mid-thundering chorus Bruske was carried out of the park by his still loyal supporters.

Poll Discovers Parents Aren't So Out Of It

NEW YORK - A new survey of American college student opinion on major issues shows them to be far less in rebellion and much closer to adult views than is commonly believed. The poll was conducted by Newsweek magazine and represents a cross-section of 8,700 students from 150 colleges.

Among its highlights:

- On Vietnam only 17 per cent advocate a unilateral halt in bombing and withdrawal of U.S. forces, while 34 per cent would escalate the war effort to seek a military victory.
- On the one person they respect most, a parent or relative is cited by 19 per cent. Far down the line are celebrity choices such as the late John F. Kennedy with 3.4 per cent. Two per cent of the students cited "myself," more than was accorded any other individual other than President Kennedy.
- On politics, no Presidential hopeful received a significant plurality. Highest is New York Sen. Robert F. Kennedy with 15 per cent backing for the Presidency. President Johnson and Richard Nixon each received 11 per cent, Nelson Rockefeller 10, George Romney 9 and Ronald Reagan 8.
- The Newsweek poll was conducted by reply-card questionnaire last fall as a part of the magazine's College News Letter. The 8,700 respondents voted by Jan. 1.
- In addition to the 34 per cent who would escalate in Vietnam and the 17 per cent who would withdraw unconditionally, another 8 per cent would call a cease fire and seek negotiation. (But 6 of this 8 per cent would then escalate if the call for negotiations were refused.) Six per cent would continue present policy, five would appeal to the United Nations or other outside groups, five would recognize the Viet Cong and two would simply negotiate now. The remaining 17 per cent had no opinion or suggested individual plans too diverse to tally.

On the draft, the Newsweek survey showed that 44 per cent of the students disapprove of someone who rejects his military obligation, while 37 per cent accept his position if he is "sincere." Sixteen per cent refused to pass judgement saying it is a personal decision, and the remaining 3 per cent passed over the question.

Only 5 per cent of the respondents say they favor a lottery approach to the draft, while a surprising 17 per cent support Universal Military Training. Thirty-seven per cent prefer a volunteer army and 32 per cent favor the present draft setup.

Seventeen per cent offered their various individual alternatives, and 2 per cent skipped the question.

The poll of presidential choices drew votes for besides the six leaders cited above, John Lindsay, Barry Goldwater and Charles Percy each received 3 per cent, William Fulbright got 2 per cent and George Wallace 1 per cent.

Votes for the "person in the world you most respect," were widely scattered after the 19 per cent choice of a parent or relative. John F. Kennedy was second with 3.4 per cent, Pope Paul with 1.7 per cent, Martin Luther King and Barry Goldwater, each with 1.4 per cent and "a teacher" with 1.5 per cent. "Myself" received 2 per cent of the total.

In selecting today's "Big Man on the Campus," 39 per cent told Newsweek they preferred the "good student or intellectual," while 17 per cent selected the "involved, aware" student. No other grouping drew more than 9 per cent and athletes didn't even figure in the returns.

Most students - some 73 per cent according to the Newsweek survey - are content with their choice of college, and say they would attend the same school given the chance to begin again. Sixty-three per cent say they want to get an advanced degree.

Twenty-eight per cent of the students say they have taken part in a demonstration or march, 27 per cent have sent a protest letter and 65 per cent say they have signed a petition.

The issue of Vietnam they say, has figured very little in these expressions, accounting for a little more than a quarter of demonstration activity and 16 per cent of letter-writing or petitioning. The bulk of all protest activity has been on other world problems or campus issues.
