DeBot Talkback Features Dreyfus, Regent Williams

By Paul Janty

"Each university should be independent in regards to deciding women's hours," said Regent Mrs. Mary Williams at the Talkback held last Wednesday in DeBot Center with more than fifty students attending. She complimented the women for their own attitude towards women recognizing that some women do need hours.

Mrs. Williams was part of a group which was comprised of President Dreyfus, Morris Wilhelm of Political Science and Stephen Haines of History. President Dreyfus noted in regards to women's hours that women do not academically well the men without hours do poorly academically. He said maybe hours for men would be necessary in view of their academic performance.

Haines queried that there should be no hours for women but hours for men if this is the case.

One of the questions asked was why there are not more books in the library. Dreyfus said that the library's budget of $110,000 is not enough to expand our library into a major one. Regent Williams stated that the Board of Regents are "wrestling" with this problem as to whether there should be nine major libraries or one major library. Haines noted that this problem is up to students and that they should push for better libraries.

Another question was whether if President Dreyfus was not placing too much emphasis on obtaining teachers with their doctorate degrees. Dreyfus replied that he would like to have six hundred faculty members by 1977 and have accreditation by Phi Eta Kappa, the national academic honor organization. Dreyfus stated he would like to see this university to be the UW at Madison on the undergraduate level.

Teacher evaluation was another topic of interest which was discussed. Regent Williams voiced her support for our teacher evaluation and hoped it would continue. Dreyfus questioned whether students are capable of judging whether a faculty member is a good teacher.

Some of the people present stated that a majority of their classes felt that the instructor was not teaching the students and that should be informed. One student pointed out that the instructor may know the material but cannot communicate it effectively.

They asked who they should do to improve the teaching of the instructor. President Dreyfus stated that the students should consult with the instructor and the department chairman. Some students felt that the instructor who fails to teach effectively should be "fired."

Mr. Haines retorted, "It is not necessary to fire a teacher unless nothing is done to make him applying business practices to the academic community." Dreyfus stated that he supports the present tenure system.

"THE FIREBUGS," the last theatre presentation of the semester, is now playing in the auditorium. The play will continue through Saturday with curtain time at 8 p.m. Tickets are available at the University Center information desk. Final Play of Season, 'Firebugs,' Now Showing

"People will leave hating it or really thinking it's great, but nobody will be apathetic," says Robert Baruch, director of "The Firebugs" play to be presented May 1-4 at Wisconsin State University-Stevens Point.

"I want to be very, very certain my audience gets the message of problems in involvement," he adds. Baruch is using films, slides and all types of music recordings to enforce the plot.

The play will be at 8 p.m. tonight through Saturday in Main Building auditorium. The play opened Wednesday.

Students in the 400 high schools in Wisconsin have been invited to a special matinee Saturday at 1:30 p.m., planned solely to acquaint prospective students with drama offerings at Stevens Point.

In this last play of the season, Baruch is introducing the multi-media approach to drama. About 125 slides will be projected onto walls of the stage to clarify and emphasize actor's remarks.

For example, when mention is made of Nazi atrocities, a picture will flash on the wall-screen showing some disaster caused by Hitler's henchmen.

Starring Paul Bentzen, John Gillesby and John Butterbrodt, "The Firebugs" involves black humor and provokes an uneasy type laughter.

It was written by Max Frisch and based on the political problems in Germany during the 1940's. Both political and social satire, it involves wit and irony to show how hypocrisy, self-delusions and complacency can ruin a "righteous pillar of society."

A theme: nothing frees man from his human responsibility. Baruch is in his first year at WSU, as an assistant professor of drama. He had experience producing "The Firebugs" while a graduate student at the University of Minnesota. He handled the lighting design there.

The director explains he has made this production much different than the one staged in Minneapolis.

His faculty colleague, Frieda Bridgeman, designed the set.

Dr. Dreyfus' Inauguration Climaxes Eventful Week

Dr. Lee Sherman Dreyfus will be inaugurated the ninth president of Wisconsin State University-Stevens Point on Saturday, May 11, following a week of special events staged in his honor.

The formal ceremony will be at 2 p.m. in the Fieldhouse of the physical education building. Representatives from university, from colleges across the country, state officials, faculty members, and local students will be represented at the rites.

A president's reception, from 3:30 p.m. to 5 p.m. in the Wisconsin Room of the University Center and an 8:30 to 12:30 a.m. ball in the Fieldhouse will climax the affair.

Officially, members of the Board of Regents of State Universities, WSU faculty members and students are the inauguration hosts.

America's renowned Eastman Brass Quintet, a chamber music organization, will open the week with a performance Sunday at 8 p.m. in the Main Building auditorium.

Student art work will be spotlighted Monday and Tuesday in the University Center, however, the show by two seniors artists will continue through Saturday.

"A Curie Festival" commemorating the 100th birthday of Polish-born Curie, is scheduled for Wednesday in the science building.

High school students from central Wisconsin have been invited to participate in chemistry department-sponsored program, featuring an address by Dr. John Williams Madison.

The University of Wisconsin professor will speak on "X-rays, Radium, and Atomic Energy" in a public forum at 7:30 p.m. in Room A-121.

Two WSU bands, the symphony and concert band, directed by Donald Greene, and concert band directed by James Dugg, will dedicate a concert to President Dreyfus at 8 p.m. Thursday in Main Building auditorium.

Finally, four hundred persons will honor the president's family Friday at a 6:45 p.m. pre-inauguration dinner in the Wisconsin Room of the University Center.

Planning chairman John H. Gach has encouraged persons from the community as well as the university to attend the dinner, for which tickets may be purchased at the Information Desk of the University Center and at Graham-Lane Music Store.

An address will be given by Regent Mary Williams of Stevens Point.

Gach emphasized that all of the inaugural events are open to the public without charge, excepting the Friday night dinner and Saturday night ball.

A reception line will form in that hallway shortly from 8:30 to 9:30 p.m. A limousine will bring President and Mrs. Dreyfus and distinguished guests representing the student body, community and distant colleges and universities.

The planners promise a red carpet affair — literally. This type of tribute will be "rolled out" for the ninth WSU president and his wife when they step out of their limousine.

Serving with the men in the planning are coeds Jean Klein, Luc du Plambeau; Nina Anderson, Waukesha; Shirley McElroy, Parkville; Kathy Skalski, Stevens Point; Janet Henning, Shawano; Laura Newhouse, Montello, and Lola Rae Denow, Granton.

RHC Concludes Week With Games, Grubfest

There will be no charge for the meal, but lunch tickets are required. Serving starts at 4:30 p.m. The resident halls will also partake in the games to provide a carnival type of atmosphere. The halls will receive 10 points for participation and points for the best booths.

This will be determined by the amount of money they collect. The maximum amount will be 10 cents. Fifty pts. will be awarded to the best booth, 40 pts. for second and 30 pts. for third.

The People's Choice will provide entertainment from 6 to 11 p.m., also without charge. Other events at Iverson that evening will be the Canoe-Pole Race, on the Plover River and a bicycle race. Why aren't there any change machines for doing laundry in the residence halls? Will there be any in the future?

Ed Marks, West Allis Sophomore

The cost of one 25c change machine ranges from $1,000 to $4,000. A machine, such as this, would be a maximum security vault having about $5,000 in cash, steel shell holding $200 to $450 in change. A dollar changer would cost several thousand dollars more.

The installation of a 25c changer in the dorms by the university or by a vendor would be costly. The cost and operation of the machine, and the fact that it does not bring in any income to pay itself off, make it a bad investment. However, Eugene Steiner, of the University Center, stated that he would install a machine at each of the university centers if they were requested.

Will lights be installed on the tennis courts?

Linda White, Watervorn Freshman

Plans for lighting the tennis courts are under consideration. The plans will be turned in to the board office as a minor project for the next biennium. The cost of lighting the tennis courts would be about $5,000.

Raymond Specht, director of campus planning, stated that 8 new tennis courts were being designed for location east of Hyer and Roach residential halls. The plans include electrical lighting of tennis courts.

How many legal cuts can a student have?

Mike Eye, Milwaukee Junior

According to the Faculty Handbook and the W.S.U. Catalogue, under Attendance, the university does not have any system of permitted "cuts." Regular attendance is expected and the implementing of this policy is the joint responsibility of the student and instructor.

Each student has the responsibility to confer with his instructors regarding all absences. Failure to do this may be cause for the student's dismissal, may carry a grade of "F" in the course from which the student is dismissed, or in all courses if he is dismissed from the university.

Senate Increases Fees; Passes Appellate Court

By Paul Janty

Student Senate voted in its last meeting to raise student activity fees from the present $17 per semester to $20.50. This represents an increase from $34 a year to $41.

The proposed increase, if accepted by the administration, will go into effect with the coming semester. The reasons given for the increase is better programming by UAB, expansion of present programs and adding new programs by intramurals, purchasing of sound equipment by UAB for all-campus use, allocations for new clubs and increased expenses for other organizations.

After a discussion, 16 senators voted in favor, 2 against, and 2 abstained.

A more detailed article will appear in next week's Pointer regarding the increase in activity fees and the student activity budget.

Applications are now being accepted for positions on the Student Appellate Court, passed by unanimous vote by Student Senate. The resolution went through the various faculty-student committees with few reservations. One minor change was the addition of 2 students, to make a total of 5 students on the board.

In other business, the Senate passed a proposal 18-3 asking for the creation of a judicial board of review to rule on disputes regarding all campus activities.

The proposal states the Senate President appoint 3 students and the UAB President appoint 2 students. Each member will have one vote while the event chairman, with no vote, will act as tie-breaker of the board of review.

The board's ruling on particular cases involving rules regarding an event are final.

A letter from President Dreyfus stating his positions on the Dan Berman case was distributed to the senators present.

A special meeting has been called for Monday, May 6, at which time President Dreyfus will discuss with the Berman his position on the Berman case.

Whitewater Censured; Tenure Is Reviewed

Whitewater State university and the state University Board of Regents were censured Friday, April 26, by the American Association of University Professors at their 54th annual meeting in Washington, D.C.

The censure resulted from the firing of Prof. Stephen V. Fulkeron from Whitewater in May of 1965, two weeks before he automatically gained tenure.

The AAUP considers censure as a warning that conditions which led to a major violation of academic freedom and tenure have not been corrected. In order to be taken off censure the institution must demonstrate that it has adopted regulations and procedures that are in conformity with the principles of the AAUP.

Meanwhile, at the dedication of the new Richard Center, Branch Campus, Eugene McPhee, director of the state universities system recommended to the Board of Regents that they adopt a fair procedure practice for dismissing nontenured teachers.

He recommended that Atty. E.L. Wingert, a retired supreme court justice, draw up a "due process" proposal for faculty. "We are having quite a lot of trouble with nontenured people," McPhee said.

The current tenure policy is a state law that states that state university faculty members automatically gain tenure after completing four years of teaching. There is no legal right of appeal currently opened to dismissed teachers.

Paul Schilling, incumbent, received 542 votes and was reelected to the post of student body president. John Klensch, incumbent, received 523 votes. Mary Ustick, running without opposition, received 524 votes for the position of secretary. Len Sippel ran unopposed for treasurer and tallied 527 votes.

Highest vote-getter in the race for sophomore was Mark Dahl with 155 votes. In second place with 83 votes was Ruth Ann Gutcheon while Anita Matter received 46 votes. Dahl and Gutcheon will represent the sophomore class.

Berman Letter

Copies of President Dreyfus' letter concerning the Dan Berman case are available in the Pointer Office.

In his letter, Dreyfus stated that "once a faculty has decided not to retain a colleague, it would be improper, in my opinion, for a university officer to insist that they (English department) must accept the colleague."

Brass Quintet Will Perform In Auditorium

Chamber music by the nationally renowned Eastman Brass Quintet will be performed Sunday at 8 p.m. in a public concert at Wisconsin State University-Stevens Point.

The event in Main Building auditorium will be the last of the Arts and Lectures Series program this academic school year. Tickets are available at the University Center Information Desk.

Organized seven years ago, the quintet won its name from the New York music academy where the five members were associated almost immediately after its inception, the quintet went on the road for national tours.

Its visit to Stevens Point will be part of a coast to coast tour of 35 cities.

A Rochester, N.Y. newspaper critic recently described the quintet this way: "There is nothing in music quite so expressive of power and confidence as a good brass choir, and when it is in the superior class, as is the Eastman Brass Quintet, the effect is quite thrilling."

The tour program includes music written in the 16th and 17th centuries.

Sunday's concert will mark the beginning of inauguration week at WSU, honoring the ninth president, Dr. Lee S. Dreyfus.

Dr. Clements Will Attend Conferences

Dr. William Clements, director of institutional research at Wisconsin State University-Stevens Point will attend two conventions within the next week.

About 120 Stevens Point students will be polled within the next few days on their opinions of local objectives, practices, facilities, faculty, interests and programs.

At San Francisco, Calif., on May 6, 7, and 8, he will attend the annual forum of Association for Institutional Research. He will report on a WSU research project involving consistency of evaluation. Results showed that professors tend to get tougher with their grading after the first year of teaching.

Poems Published By WSU Students

Two WSU students have recently had poems published by the National Poetry Press. Eugene Ziebell, a senior majoring in mathematics and psychology from Wausau, wrote "In the Beginning," and Bill Meissner, a sophomore majoring in psychology from Baraboo, wrote "Rory."

The program is part of the Acts and Lectures Series and will mark the beginning of inauguration week.

Technical Aspects Fire Up 'Firebugs'

By Sally Trojanoski. With a blaze of fire and a cloud of fire alarms, "The Firebugs" is currently being performed in the University auditorium.

Much diligent and creative effort went into making this last play of the season a "red-hot" success. The technical work requires a crew of 28, which is more people than the cast, including no easy task for the "techs."

Six screens (two of which are part of the set) provide the audience with dramatic supplements to the action on stage. Tri-levels and transparencies are but two of the set's features. Uniqueness is the projected point of the second-level dining room scene. This type of construction is important, as a spectator can discover.

Both lighting and sound are especially significant, each providing the proper atmosphere and building audience "awareness."

Trippers Climb At Devil's Lake

Did you ever want to conquer a mountain? That's exactly what ten trippers tried the weekend of Apr. 26.

The outing began Friday afternoon when the group left the University with trailer and a car-top carrier packed full of tents and sleeping bags. Camp was pitched at sunset, and after dinner in the fresh air, there was a long sing-along session around the campfire. Saturday evening around the campfire, after a climb in the cliffs the trippers were joined by several members of the Sierra Club, John Muir (Wisconsin) chapter. This club is a nationwide organization which goes on outings all year such as canoeing, skiing and mountaineering.

The trippers accompanied them, as well as the canoe club from WSU - Whitewater, and are planning future trips with both these groups. Participating in the trip were Robert Basch, advisor; Bunny Hoelt, chairman, Mike Jones, Chuck Konkell, Sami Last, Wayne Quade, John Richards, Mary Simmons, Len Sippel and Alan Sepp.

We Phillips Praises Groppi, Non-Violence

By Bill Meissner. Mrs. Vel Phillips, an elder woman from Milwaukee's sixth district, was featured as the guest speaker for student government week in the Milwaukee Room last Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Phillips, who was elected as the first woman to serve on the Milwaukee Common Council in 1956, spoke on the topic of civil rights in our country today.

She began her speech by stating that what the Negroes are doing in Milwaukee is no different than what they are doing in the rest of the United States in regard to civil rights. She pointed out that there are a great many Negroes who are caught in the ghettos, unable to get out. She stated that it is her desire to help those people while at the same time helping herself.

After she was just elected to the Common Council, she explained that at first she wanted to learn about the office she was entering, then after learning about the work it was run, she wanted to do something significant and meaningful for the Negro in Milwaukee.

Consequently, Mrs. Phillips worked for a fair housing law, which she didn't think would be difficult to get through. However, she found it to be the contrary, and after it was defeated by a large margin she resolved that "It was then that I knew I must continue." After more defeats of the bill, Mrs. Phillips found out that "Milwaukee was not facing up to the needs of Black Americans." Thus, the open housing marches in Milwaukee began in the summer of 1967. And on the second night of the marches, Mrs. Phillips was arrested.

She explained that this was not a pleasant experience, but on the other hand it was not demoralizing because she knew it was for the sake of a cause.

Mrs. Phillips said that Father Groppi, with whom she has worked, is a "dynamic, wonderful, dedicated" human being. She elaborated that he is trying to put "Church into the Church."

She also expressed her view that Mayor Henry Maier of Milwaukee "has not been what he should be." He put a ban on all marching last summer, and has not supported the open housing proposals.

She spoke of Martin Luther King and said that she had been with him just 10 days before his assassination. She said that the fight for freedom affects all Americans, and every time she reaches a dangerous situation, she will think of the revered King and his quest for equality.

Finally, she stated that "we must keep on keeping on" until she reaches a dangerous situation, she will think of the revered King and his quest for equality.

JOE BURKE tried out one of the canoes entered by the Siasis in Sunday's canoe race from Jordan Park to Iverson Park. The early-American vintage craft failed to complete the six-mile course on the winding Plover River. It swamped and had to be abandoned by its crew. (Jim Pierson Photo)

Sig Eps Win Canoe Race

The First Annual Sig Ep Canoe Race was won by the Sig Eps in a combined time of 4 hours, 21 minutes and 22 seconds. Times for the winners were: 1 hour, 24 minutes and 39 seconds by Jim Floriano and Dan Lieder; 1 hour, 27 minutes and 21 seconds by Mike Bowers and Jim Tipple, and 1 hour, 29 minutes and 32 seconds by Steve Laettkie and Bob Manning.

Second place was awarded to Delta Sigma with a time of 4 hours, 31 minutes and 6 seconds with third place going to Sigma Pi with a time of 4 hours, 41 minutes and 10 seconds. The fastest time of the day was turned in by the Floriano-Lieder canoe representing Sigma Phi Epsilon with a time of 1 hour, 24 minutes and 39 seconds.

The girls division was won by Alpha Sigma Alpha with Betty Morrison and Val Hintzman canoeing.

The Siasis, although far off the race, provided most of the excitement plus a great deal of canoeing skill by attempting to shoot the rapids just below Jordan Park.

The race from Jordan Park to Iverson on the Plover River will be an annual event sponsored by Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity.

JIM FLORIANO (REAR) AND DAN LIEDEK (front) were the first ones to cross the finish line at Iverson Park. They paddled the course in 1 hour, 24 minutes and 39 seconds, fastest time of the day, in leading Sigma Phi Epsilon to victory in the first annual canoe race. (Jim Pierson Photo)

At the regular meeting of Panhell on Monday it was decided that a car wash will be held on May 18. Proceeds from the car wash will be used for booklets to be sent to all incoming freshmen women concerning Greek life on this campus. Panhell voted to send Sharon Nesea as a delegate to the Leadership Conference to be held at Greenlake this summer.

Last Tuesday the Alpha Phi Omegas held a grayball session making the eighth week of a ten week pledge period. Unanimous voting awarded Tom Ausstad the Best Active for this semester. This week end the brothers will be opening Camp Kickagami on Sunset Lake. A beach party will follow completion of the project.

Hall-A-Days

By Mary Rodgers

In the midst of psychedelic posters, campaign pictures and all kinds of "whicheamacalls," I met Scott Schutte, literally ankle deep in RHC week plans. Scott, a junior who plans to teach history and English, has found his work on the Residence Hall Council beneficial for his future. He has come to know a great deal of people and has gained experience in feeling the pulse of the school and helping them to achieve to their fullest.

Scott has served the campus through RHC since he was a freshman during his first year; he worked on a committee. Last year, as chairman of the Cultural Committee, he led the ABC matches going and initiated the Creative Arts Contest. This year he is president.

He has come to believe that RHC has definite place on campus as a means of "judging the holes" in cultural, social and educational experiences.

As president, Scott has compiled a new constitution for the Residence Hall Council. He explained that the new constitution is really solid. It has served primarily as a referendum. It now provides for the election of next year's council.

Also provided for are informal meetings. Where possible, action was taken by consensus of opinion.

Surprisingly enough, this informal type of meetings do not hinder the pace of business. Scott explained that this was accomplished by the discussion leader who is firm about keeping the discussion on the topic.

Another major accomplishment this year was acceptance into the National and Midwestern Association of College and University Residence Halls. Membership in this group has opened a file system of new ideas for RHC activities.

Some of these ideas are being tried out in the form of RHC week games. Scott observed that Stevens Point ranks high on the national scale of residence hall centers and, as a new Great Lakes region is formed, he hopes Stevens Point will be the leading member.

Scott admitted that being president of the RHC called for a great deal of work. In fact, the two presidents preceding years quit school at the end of their terms.

He explained the statement

Baldwin Hall

Baldwin has chosen its officers for the 1968-69 year. John Breeman, a sophomore history major from Fardville, is the new president. The vice-president is Al Seep, a sophomore sociology major from Kenosha.

Mike Walling, the treasurer, is a sophomore business major from Delevan, and the new secretary is Earl Aldridge, a freshman business major from Greendale.

Baldwin Hall is currently engaged in RHC week activities, including softball and the trivia bowl. Chuck Lucas is Games Chairman.

Baldwin won its semi-final ABC match against Burlington Hall on Sunday evening to advance to the championship. They will play defending champion Smith for the title on Sunday evening at 7 p.m. in the DeDot Center.

Baldwin and Neale Hall held a combined slave auction on Friday evening. On Saturday the girls worked in the morning and the men during the afternoon. The profits were used for a bowling party at Point Bowl that evening.

Four residents from Baldwin have recently elected to serve on Student Senate next year. They are John Wallenfing, senior representative from Niagara; Ray Martens, junior representative from Paradiseville; Mark Dahl, sophomore representative from Janesville; and Al Seep, Presidents Hall Council Representative from Kenosha.

Baseball Team Splits Pair Of Doubleheaders

By Tim Lasch

WSU-Stevens Point's baseball team split a pair of doubleheaders last weekend at St. Norbert and Whitewater on Friday and Saturday, respectively. The splits left the Pointers with an 8-8 record overall.

At DePere on Friday, the Pointers topped the Green Knights in the first game and lost the nightcap, 12-3.

The Pointers rallied for two runs in the seventh inning of the opener and relied on the strong relief pitching of Mike Ziernert and Jim Setzer.

St. Norbert had knocked out starter Steve Holsby with three runs in the first two innings but was shut out on the only hits the rest of the way.

Sam Bentley walked to start the winning rally and was sacrificed to second by John Harris. He moved to third on an error by Jim Holsby and scored on Tom Walker's single. Jim Hansen then drove Holsby in with a hit.

Harris scored the Pointers' first run on a single and a two base error.

The Pointers tied the score with single runs in the fifth and sixth. Al Larsen walked in the fifth and came around on hits by Setzer and Harris and in the sixth Dave Peterson doubled and was singled in by shortstop Phil Birkel.

Setzer picked up the win in relief by working four scoreless innings.

Lineaner and Dick Kiefer hit home runs for the Green Knights in the opener.

A nine-run third inning for St. Norbert was the difference in the second game.

Freshman Tom Ritzenhaler started on the hill for the Pointers and retired 20 batters in the first two frames but injured a knee while batting in the third and had to retire. Ziernert then came in and control problems led to his downfall.

Ziernert walked four and hit a batter in the disastrous third. The only hits of the inning were a bases-loaded triple by Art Sullivan and a two-run single by Tom Versteegen.

St. Norbert padded their lead with two runs in the fourth and in the fifth, while the Pointer scoring was limited to a three-run outburst in the fourth.

Dave Peterson walked and came around on singles by Tom Heimerl and Bentley. Second baseman John Harris then concluded the Pointers' scoring with a two-run triple.

Whitewater games
On Saturday, Apr. 27, the Pointers split a pair of WSU conference games with the Whitewater Warhawks at Whitewater. The Pointers captured the opener, 1-0, in eight innings and the Warhawks gained a lead with a 4-3 win in twelve innings.

Greg Wendorf, a junior from Schiefel, pitched the first game for the Pointers, and was locked in a tight pitching duel with the Warhawks' Bob Dorn, who was also the quarterback of the Warhawk championship football team. Wendorf hurled a brilliant four hitter and Dorn singled only five hits to the Pointers.

The Pointers had numerous scoring chances but could not score until only five hits to the Pointers.

fielder Mike Damrow dropped his fly ball for a two-base error. Tom Walker fled out, but Jim Hansen was safe on an error by shortstop P. A. Palouse. Then with two out, third baseman Tom Heimerl lined a clean hit into right center to score Holsby.

Whitewater took an early lead in the second game with a pair of unearned runs in the first inning off starter Ron Grundev.

The Pointers got a run back in the second on a double by Hansen and Dave Peterson's single.

Stevens Point took the lead with a pair of runs in the third. Harris was safe on an error with one out and took second.

Tom Walker doubled to drive in Harris and scored moments later on another hit by Hansen. After the Warhawks tied the score at 2-2 with a run in the third, Pointer reliever Jim Setzer and Warhawk Dick Stephens, who went all the way, locked up in a sharp pitching duel. Stephens hurled yipped only two harmless singles in the same period.

The Warhawks finally tallied the winning run in the twelfth on an error by Birkel, a walk by firstman and a single by Damrow.

The Pointers will host Northland College of Ashland this Saturday at Washburn Park in a twin bill starting at 1 p.m.

Eau Claire won the meet with a five man total of 389 strokes while the Pointers and Superior each took 401. In the new scoring system for meets this year, the Blugolds got three points for the win and the Pointers and Yellowjackets 1 1/2 each.

Lasch's Sports Flashes

By Tim Lasch

Now that the Montreal Canadiens have given the Chicago Blackhawks a lesson in hockey, otherwise known as "football on ice," they can prepare to demolish one of the new teams in pro hockey. Hockey is still a Canadian sport — what else can you do with all that snow and ice?

Don't be deceived by the Pointer baseball team's mediocre record. They have a fine bunch of players and I am confident they will come around this weekend by sweeping a pair of games from Northland.

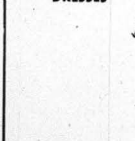

Pro boxing is joining the list of those professional sports that are on their way downhill. After losing the only Black Muslim they ever had (Muhammad Ali), who was also a great actor in and out of the ring, what other way could there be?

The addition of a pro golf meet to Wisconsin's growing list of pro attractions is sure to help. With a purse of $200,000, it's going to be a hard meet for the big name pros to pass up.
