Drastic Increase In Parking Costs Outlined

by Bill Paulson

Technicians working lighting at one of a number of concerts given outside.

by Keith Otis

The sudden rise in parking fees for the 73-74 academic year became a topic of concern recently when the $10 parking permit rose to an average of $30.

The reason for the drastic increase in parking fees lies with the State Legislature. They decreed that all parking lot costs for state agencies would become self-amortizing. This meant that UWSP would be responsible for the cost of land acquisition and development, new construction, maintenance, and operation of parking facilities.

This decree was handed down when construction commenced on all campus lots. Administrators expecting a vast student enrollment this year found themselves with declining student enrollment and ample parking space. This could only lead to higher parking fees to absorb construction budget quotas.

Since the money had to be assessed, various campus agencies and organizations were asked to submit parking fee allocation proposals. Two proposals were submitted; one by the Student Senate and one by the Faculty Senate.

These proposals were evaluated by the Administrative Council and parking rates were decided upon based on the following factors: (1) the ability of parking lot users to generate the $53,000 required to meet fiscal requirements, (2) a base assessment of $35 permit cost for faculty and staff, and $25 permit cost for students, (3) deviations from the base assessment permit costs in consideration of the type of parking facility; i.e. paved vs. gravel lots, lighted vs. unlighted lots, and distance of lot from respective facility.

As a result, the following lot prices are in effect: Faculty and staff lots A, B, C, D, E, F, G, H and U are $40. Faculty and staff lots K, D1, M, R, V, X and Y are $35. Faculty and staff lots S and W are $30. Student lots N, P, and Q are $25. Student lot W is $23. Student J is $20. For the commuting students, lot O is $25 and lot T is $23. Lot L is a faculty, staff and student lot and is $20. Lot Z will be metered.

Graduate Programs May Be Eliminated

Some graduate programs in the UW System may be terminated within the next three years due to budget cuts.

The UW Central Administration at Madison has proposed that graduate instruction be permitted only at Madison, Milwaukee, Eau Claire and Oshkosh. Gordon Haferbecker, UWSP vice chancellor for academic affairs, said he didn't anticipate a "meat-ax" proposal like this, and expressed optimism for some graduate programs to remain at Stevens Point. The fields of education, home economics, natural resources and communicative disorders have been developed extensively and Haferbecker states there are some valid reasons why graduate education should continue.

Throughout the state an average of 23 percent of all the teachers hold a masters degree as compared to only 18 percent in the 19 county Stevens Point area. Thus the need for graduate work to advance the educational-preparation level of public school teachers is greatest in the north central district.

The School of Home Economics at Stevens Point is one of nine schools (of 373 in the nation) to be accredited by the American Home Economics Association. Fifty percent of the full-time faculty have their doctorates, which is a higher percentage than at either UW-Madison or UW-Stout. The school also has an enviable placement record: 100 percent of all graduates for the past 16 years.

Likewise, the Communicative Disorders Program is one of the 45 to be nationally certified in both speech pathology and audiology. Claiming the largest on-campus enrollment of any UWSP graduate program during the academic year, their placement rate is virtually 100 percent. The facilities and equipment are the finest in the state and are programmed for graduate education. Haferbecker said that by 1975 a masters degree will be required in this area, making it essential that students be able to take this graduate program.

An enrollment of 1400 majors in Natural Resources ranks it among the largest natural resources departments in the nation. Stevens Point's unique location provides a great variety of vegetation types, habitats, and land-use projects. The new 4.5 million dollar building was designed for strong research and teaching programs for both graduates and undergraduates.

Haferbecker notes that "facilities were built and planned for masters programs." He reasons that if some graduate programs were cut, "we might lose some good faculty" and enrollment could go down.

A memo from Senior Vice-President Donald K. Smith to the Education Committee of the Board of Regents, August 24, 1973, listed these criteria to be used in evaluating the graduate program: (1) Output: Is the program responsive to an identified need as measured by student credit hours and degrees granted over last three years? (2) Cost: Is cost reasonable in relation to other university costs in the system? (3) Relationship to other programs: Is program unique? How many similar programs exist in the geographic area? (4) Identified need: Are there identified student populations that require service not now being provided? (5) Estimated relationship to long-term institutional and system mission.

On the basis of review, programs will be sorted into three categories: (1) Those appearing to merit continuation. (2) Those possibly meriting continuation, but which should be further explained on an institutional, regional or system basis in terms of a long-range plan. (3) Those which should be considered for phase-out.

Nuclear Critic Blasts Atomic Power Plants

by Mary Budde

Larry Bogart, a nuclear power plant critic, spoke to the Stevens Point community Friday, September 7, at the American Legion Hall. Bogart, currently head of a 12-state coalition of anti-nuclear power plant organizations, spoke of many disadvantages of nuclear power, stressing its detrimental effects on living organisms.

Nuclear power plants, once thought to be a limitless source of energy for man, have now become one of the greatest perils to man, said Bogart. The 167 reactors throughout the United States are giving off radioactive particles that are endangering the lives of all people, particularly those living near the plants, he continued. There is a direct correlation between nuclear power and lung cancer, leukemia and genetic damage, as proven by experimentation with rats, he explained. One particle of radioactive plutonium, which is given off abundantly in nuclear reactions, causes cancer when taken into the lung, and approximately 150,000 fatalities result yearly, said Bogart. Genetically, it causes the breakdown of chromosomes, he said, and cited several oceanic locations where radiation is so high that there are drastic genetic changes in oceanic life.

Another disadvantage inherent in nuclear power plants, is the possibility of an accident causing the loss of thousands of lives, and unrepairable property damage, said Bogart. At the present time, there is no safety system that could stop a nuclear accident from becoming a major catastrophe, he stated. Emergency precautions have never been tested, he added.

Other unpleasant side-effects of nuclear power, cited by Bogart are their cost in relation to productivity, the problem of ultimate disposal of contaminating wastes, the resulting monopoly on the coal and uranium industries and the fear of unauthorized uses of nuclear power or sabotage in a plant.

The solution to the problem in part is to find new ways of producing energy, said Bogart. He explained that there is great potential in developing energy sources from Nassau's solar research and from steady coastal winds. Until these natural sources of energy can be employed, it is essential to use the ones we have more wisely, he concluded.

Theft Prevention Initiated

by Terry Witt

Campus Security will pilot a new theft prevention program this fall. It will use Social Security numbers permanently marked on valuables as an identification system.

Social Security numbers of the student owners will either be engraved or marked on the valuable in an effort to discourage stealing.

Aufdermauer said that bicycles, for example, will be engraved with the city and Social Security number on both wheels and the frame. Tape decks and stereos would be marked on the bottom.

Originally the program was an idea to stop "rip-off's" at this campus; hence its nickname (PRO) Prevent Rip-Off's.

Last year 49 bicycles were stolen from this campus and of those 49, eight were returned. Aufdermauer noted that five of those eight had some type of identification, and this helped in their eventual recovery.

"What this identification system does is make it difficult for the "fence" to get rid of the stolen item," said Aufdermauer. "The risk of being caught with a marked item is greater and so the thief is less likely to walk off with that valuable."

"It requires no registration, no cost and no extra man power to administer," said Aufdermauer. "We think the idea is a good one."

Aufdermauer hopes to mark a good deal of the equipment while instructing dorm residents in the new fire prevention program designed to acquaint students in the dormitory with the use of fire extinguishers and prevention procedures.

Editorial SEEN AND NOT HEARD?

by Dave Gneiser

It is often said that student opinion is not listened to by those decision-makers up in the bureaucracy. Debating whether or not this was true in the past is pointless. The best time to start being heard is right now!

The many who say that a letter to the editor doesn't do any good are wrong. That letter is your opportunity to tell all concerned how you feel on an issue, whether it be praise for someone or contempt for an action. The chance to be heard exists.

So what's stopping you? The fact that letters must be signed is not an excuse. Your name will be withheld upon request. If you fear reprisal could result from a letter such as the loss of your job, we invite you to come and talk with one of the editors about your situation. We will hold everything in strictest confidence.

One letter certainly won't impeach a president or stop the destruction of a campus landmark, but it will start others thinking and talking the idea over. If enough concern is raised, the decision-maker will have to take the appropriate action.

Jim Hamilton, student government president, asked last week, "how much should the student take before he refuses to take it any longer?"

chancellor explains fee increase

Dear Editor Kerkusick:

In the last issue of the Pointer you directed a question to me referring to the fact that you had an 18 per cent increase in your tuition and fees and wanted an explanation. The following is the information relative to the reasons for the increase and the source of the increase.

Last year you paid a tuition and fee of $259.00. This year you have paid a tuition and fee combination of $306.50, or a $47.50 increase. The total increase is 18 per cent, but there are five subdivisions which I think will explain to you where the increase comes from.

The first increase is one of $35.00 in your tuition. It has gone from $200.00 to $235.00. This is up 17 1/2 per cent, and reflects two things; one, the increase in cost for operating the system, and the share which the state legislature expects you as a student to pay. There is, however, an additional increase involved here because a new concept is being implemented relative to the differential approach in fee structure for upperclassmen and lowerclassmen. It is true that the total cost of instruction is cheaper at the freshman-sophomore level than it is at the junior-senior level.

There has been an agreement both in the legislature and the regents that freshmen and sophomores are underwriting juniors and seniors because of this. Therefore, this year they implemented an increase of $13.00 in the basic cost of tuition for freshmen and sophomores, but $35.00 for juniors and seniors. That accounts for the most substantial part of the $47.50 increase.

The activities and health fees in combination were increased from $30.50 to $34.00, a $3.50 increase. This increase is based on the budget proposal forwarded by the student government to my office, which was, in fact, approved in toto. Throughout the student senate hearings, the various activities and the health center were required to present justification for their costs and their financial needs. It was then that the student government acted and prepared a budget proposal in concert with the administration, which resulted in a $3.50 increase to cover the cost of student activities and an increased health service.

There was a University Center fee of $15.00 last year and that has been increased to $22.50 this year. On a percentage basis, this is clearly the largest increase and I think the reason for the increase is physically obvious, as you walk about the center. This is the dollar figure necessary to pay for the addition to the University Center. Over the next twenty years this additional $7.50 should provide the basic dollars necessary to pay off the loan which the state took to build the Center. While the Center fee has increased 50 per cent, the operating space of the Center ought to increase approximately 100 per cent. It was the opinion of the faculty, the student government and the administration that the University Center was inadequate for the needs of an 8000 size campus.

A fourth category is related to text rental. In this category there was a reduction from $13.50 last year to $12.00 this year. We have been able to reduce this text rental cost this semester based on budgetary surpluses last year and new data processing system which has been introduced by our systems analyst. All indications are from student response that the injection of the data processing approach into the text rental has vastly improved the service and at the same time it enables us to operate at a much cheaper rate. When looking at this figure, Bob, please keep in mind that the purchase cost of the major texts on a campus where there is no rental system quite often runs close to $100.00 per semester. It has been my contention that this rental approach is a very substantial saving to students in terms of financial outlay. At the same time, any student may purchase any of those texts if he so wishes, so that one can keep the texts by paying the appropriate fee.

There is a fifth and new category this year which did not exist last year and this is called the Facilities Reserve Fund. It is a fund imposed upon us by the legislature and is intended to develop a reserve of dollars to pay for the future building maintenance of the University Center and remodeling, etc. Because our facilities have been so new and all built within the last decade, there has not been much need by way of substantial maintenance and modification, but we will now enter an era when that is clearly going to be the case and it will be necessary to build up the reserve dollars to do this as opposed to the philosophy where the funds would come from operating expenses and charged to the students who are on campus at that time. The basic rationale is that the building will need maintenance because of the use which you and other students on the campus today are giving it, and therefore you should participate to some extent in providing the dollars for keeping it in good shape.

One last point has to do with a philosophy which my administration has relative to student charges. I would refer to the fact that there is a substantial increase (50 percent) in the University Center fee, from $15.00 to $22.50, and as I'm sure you are aware, within the food contracts in the dorms there was a substantial increase this year. The reason is that our auxiliary services administrative people and myself feel that we should hold prices wherever possible and increase them when it becomes absolutely necessary. On the basis of that philosophy, the University Center fee of $15.00 has been at that point since the end of my first year here, which would be five years ago. While other institutions in the system were raising that fee to students, we did not. It was our feeling that the students in the past five years would get no benefit whatsoever from the new facility and that it was not therefore proper to charge them ahead of time. This is not the same position as the deferred payments or the Facilities Reserve concept. This is clearly a matter of the amount of facilities available to the student. With the new addition coming on line this next month, we then began to make the charge necessary to begin paying for that space. The same thing, by the way, was true with the food contracts. We held the food contracts at the exact same price for three years despite what has been happening in terms of food costs. Last year food costs really pushed the food contract to the limit and we are, of course, faced with a further inflation on food costs this year of real magnitude. Consequently, we made a major adjustment in the food contract beginning this year. It would be my hope to hold to this next year, but with what is happening in the economy, that may not be possible. We will look at the matter when the time comes due and it will be done within a public context so that all information will be available to your newspaper and to the students.

I hope this gives you an explanation as to why students have had the increases they have had and particularly why you as an upperclassman have had an even greater increase.

Sincerely yours,
Lee Sherman Dreyfus
Chancellor

FEE INCREASE KNOCKED

Board of Regents
care of Dr. L.S. Dreyfus
Chancellor UW-Stevens Point

Dear Gentlemen:

In view of the recent three-level tuition plan which has been proposed (I emphasize the word proposed in that it has not yet been passed by the board of regents but has been put into effect!) I feel that some questions as to reasoning behind such a plan should be raised.

I am a senior at the University Wisconsin-Stevens Point with a tentative mathematics-physics (education) major, psychology minor. I have three semesters of school left. My financial status going into this year was poor and is now even worse. Originally I had planned on spending $100.00 less per year. Therefore, I was married in May.

Needless to say my financial condition has been fiercely undercut. Between the cost of living and the scarcity of jobs, (particularly for my wife) I will soon be forced to work. This means becoming a part-time student or may even mean dropping out of school altogether.

My story is only one of many hardship stories that have evolved from the tuition hike. Others are much worse off especially those married students with children and graduate students, some of which have children also. The seriousness of this action should be the concern of the board of regents.

I feel that the policy is a great injustice to all students. The present freshmen and sophomores will soon feel the effects of the increase in tuition. In fact, I feel that in the long run they may even suffer more. Freshmen are a resource to the university. Without them there are no upperclassmen. By lowering their tuition (which is also $54.00 higher per year) more of them are able to come to school, for at least a short time. All of a sudden they become juniors. Their tuition is increased by 9 1/2 per cent. Many of them are on their own financially. They also feel the cutbacks of financial aids which are scarce enough already.

What is the end result? A financially secure university. Yet ten years from now enrollment will probably be back to near normal. Income will be good for the university and students and faculty will be happy-affluence at my expense! The university has the ability to accept a loss with hope of a long term gain. Yet they call upon the student today to carry a very great load. Should not the student ten years from now also help to pay for the facilities he is using?

I feel that the university is no longer an educational institution. It has become big business. It is an institution of the faculty, by the faculty, for the faculty. (This refers to tenure, wages, and policies such as starting school on a Thursday, reading day in the middle of finals.) The university uses deceitful politics to tempt students to come to school, and once they get here it could care less whether they become educated. It just worries about the income. Cut-backs have ruined many departments and more cutbacks will ruin more. Yet I am paying more for this deficient education!

I am sending copies of this letter to several newspapers. I feel that incoming students should be warned as well as the policy makers be informed. I am suffering financially as many upperclassmen are suffering financially. I am receiving no increased educational benefits for the extra money I am paying. I question any of the reasons for what you are doing. I appeal to your dignities not to stoop so low as to exploit today's students. Put faith into the institutions you represent. If you cannot do this they are not worth representing.

I question the forethought which has gone into this plan. It is my belief that juniors, seniors, and graduate students are less able to carry an extra financial load, and that the extra load itself is unjust. Please give the policy more thought in this light.

Sincerely,
John W. Sanders

Student Knocks Parking for Concert

Dear Dr. Dreyfus,
I am writing in relation to the recent Tony Bennett-Lena Horne concert held on campus and to complain of the exploitation of the students rights by the Sentry Insurance Company. The complaint does not center around the concert itself but rather the parking restrictions placed on the students, particularly of Hyer Hall, on that afternoon and evening. I would like to cite what exactly happened and ask you if you would tolerate this sort of exploitation without some sort of protest. As you probably well know, Reserve Street was blocked to all incoming traffic except those people holding Sentry "guest" passes. Any student, myself included, could get out past the road blocks but could not get back in. On top of that, those Sentry "guests" were permitted to park in our lot. Now for you this may seem insignificant and not even worth reading on, but for us students in Lot N that is a direct violation of our right to park in a lot that we the students are paying for. With the 150 per cent increase in parking fees to take up the slack for what the state used to pay for, we are actually, whether directly or indirectly, paying for parking lot N. I knew that it would do no good complaining to the officer stationed at the roadblock because he did not have the discretion of who and who not to let in; he just had orders.

This violation of rights along with the Sentry people parking in our lot and the inconvenience it caused aroused my anger enough to write to some of the "higher ups" and make not only my feelings but the feelings of many heard. To add a little wood to the fire of anger. I know a student who was not permitted to come back into Lot N so he parked his car in Lot Q, and had his fuel line cut which is an indirect effect of this inadequate handling of the parking situation.

All I would like to say in conclusion is that if another concert or outdoor event ever comes to this campus I wouldn't like to see this problem occur again.

Sincerely,
Tim Bate

Impeachment Point Made

To the Editor:

I feel I must point out an error made in your editorial entitled, "Sam Ervin for President?" that appeared in the Sept. 6 issue of The Pointer.

Impeachment is defined as the act of the House of Representatives formally presenting charges of Treason, Bribery, or other high crimes and misdemeanors against a public official such as a President or Supreme Court Justice. After the charges are presented, the Senate sits as a court.

The first and only time that a

President was impeached was on February 24, 1867, when the House of Representatives brought charges against President Andrew Johnson. Therefore, if President Nixon were to be impeached it would NOT be "the first time in our country's history" as your editorial states.

You may feel that this is a minor point to bring to your attention, but I think that if you are going to write editorials you should have your facts correct.

Sincerely,
Robert F. Oleson

Students Urged To Vote

One week from today elections for Student Senate will be held. This is a chance for all students to become involved in Student Government, either as candidates or as voters. Last April we had about 2000 students turn out to vote, the largest turnout in the history of this school's Student Government. That can happen again. Most of the issues are the same: User fees, academic bankruptcy, the UW-WSU merger, Financial Aids, counseling, and also the proposed cuts in the graduate programs, to name a few.

and Schmeackle; District 4: Hyer, Roach, Smith, Pray-Sims, Baldwin; and Neale. Off-campus districts are: District 1: The center of the city and points north and west; District 2: The area immediately surrounding the campus; and District 5: All points south and east of campus.

As many people as possible are encouraged to run for office. All students are encouraged to vote. It is possible to have a larger turnout than last year. Student Government needs your help. The officers cannot do it alone. This is a very important year for students. The issues that were earlier mentioned are just a few of the more important and pressing ones that are to be taken up. We need 20 Senators to help the officers in the decision-making that will take place this year. You can help. Prove that you are behind Student Government. Run for office. Vote for the candidates of your choice next Thursday, September 20.

Signed
Mike Van Ryzin

In order for a student to get elected, he or she must pick up a petition at either the Student Government Office, the Student Activities Office, or the Student Managers' Offices at either DeBot or Allen Center. He should then have it signed by 50 people from his district and return it to the Student Government Office by Monday, September 17. The candidates name will then be placed on the ballot. If a student wishes to run as a write-in candidate, he must notify the Senate Office prior the opening of the polls. His name will not be placed on the ballot. Elections will be held next Thursday. Polling places will be the Classroom Center and the Union for Off-campus students. Polls will be open from 8:00 a.m. til 6:00 p.m. students; and each dorm will have a polling place for On-campus students. Polls will be open from 8:00 a.m. till 6:p.m.

There are 20 spots open on the Senate, four from each district. On-campus districts will be: District 3: Watson, Thompson, Burroughs, Knutzen, Hansen.

Football Team Expresses Thanks

Dear Students, Faculty and Administration:

We would like to take this opportunity to thank you, the university, for your attendance and enthusiasm at the last home football game. Your vocal encouragement and support were heard and appreciated. Your fervor and sustenance not only provided us with a valuable psychological advantage, but proved to be a definite detriment to our opponents. We extend an invitation to attend the remainder of our games and your patronage can only add to the success of the school and the team.

Once again, thank you very much!

Yours truly,
UWSP FOOTBALL TEAM

Graduate Programs Justified

Editor
The Pointer
University of Wisconsin
Stevens Point, Wis.
Sept. 6, 1973

Dear Sir:

There are many justifications for Stevens Point retaining its graduate programs and most of these arguments have been advanced with intelligent reasoning and considerable vigor. However, there is one point which has received relatively little attention and, because I feel so strongly about it, I should like to articulate it. I feel that there is far too little emphasis on the very important contribution made by graduate students in causes made up primarily of undergraduate students. Again and again I have found in the various communication classes I teach that it is the handful of graduate students present who act as catalysts. Their observations, their experiences, and their insights engender and fuel discussions and sometimes controversy which have resulted in the most stimulating classroom hours I have known.

Now, how do we evaluate these contributions? How do we translate them into dollars and cents for the administration to consider? How do we communicate this to those who have decided to denude most of the campuses in this state of graduate students? How do we make them understand that it will be not only programs that we lose, but people?

I don't know. What we are speaking of is intangible. But when it is no longer there, it will be a profound loss for those of us who experienced it.

Sincerely yours,
Toby Goldberg, Ph.D.

Happy Drunks Criticized

To the Editor:
The performance of the football team last Saturday (September 8) was outstanding. The performance of some of the students in the stands was considerably less. To say the least their actions were boorish, immature, and inept. I am, of course, referring to the happy drunks.

There is a curious psychology at work. The happy drunk seems to think that because he is inebriated he is allowed to do anything; his actions being excused by his inebriation. He fails to realize that his actions are not only not excused but made worse by the inebriation.

It is even more a discredit to those students, and perhaps to a wider audience, to have cheered the antics of a buffoon. I am referring to the person who went on to the field and marred the performance of the Eau Claire Shrine Band. I hope it is clear to everyone the magnitude of the insult perpetrated upon the shrine band. John R. Billings

From The President

With declining enrollment what else will deteriorate?

This is the question which I applied to the preservation of the quality of education. First of all, you have to make the assumption that the education which you receive is a quality

Jim Hamilton

These are all areas where students have a great deal of interest but have virtually no input.

Exactly who are these people anyway? Well, they are the faculty members who oppose any evaluation because it may have an effect on their future (What about the student's future?). It's the administrator who conducts public business behind private office doors. It's the staffer who is more concerned with his superior's memo than the students' complaints. It is the admissions officer who is told to paint an emerald city rather than telling it like it is. It is the financial aids officer who assigns more funds than he is allocated. It is, in the final analysis anyone who prostitutes the educational system so that the basic reason for education, which is, as I see it, to advance the student to a level where he can make intelligent reasonable decisions.

To eliminate these people from the university is only a small first step. It is a step, however, that we as a student body must be willing to take. A position we must maintain.

Jim Hamilton

one. I have made that assumption for the sake of argument.

The first step, as I see it, is to immediately fire all administrators, faculty and staff personnel who believe that the most important aspect of their job is to get bodies to come to this school. These people totally ignore the reason for education. They believe all of the problems of the university can be solved by maintaining a large body count. They totally ignore such factors as the students ability to attend, both emotionally and financially. They disregard students' desires and needs, simply because they don't ever bother to ask him why he came or what he hopes to accomplish. These administrators, faculty members and staff personnel are the ones who constantly try to prevent students for having input into areas where the students have a great deal of concern and ideas. Such areas are tenure, course structure, curriculum, program retention and expansion, and faculty retention, to name just a few.

Safety Training Program Offered

by Terry Witt

Campus Security will offer a safety training program in first aid this fall for anyone who is interested.

The course offers first aid certification upon completion of the six mandatory sessions ending in November. It will also offer medical self-help certification after eight mandatory sessions have been completed.

Claude Aufdermauer will instruct classes on Wednesdays from 9:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. in 032 Main; and Tuesday afternoons at the Maintenance Building Conference Room from 12:30 to 2:30.

The first class session begins on Tuesday, September 11 and the course will end officially December 18 with examinations.

Mannis Runs In District Four

To the Editor,

In a matter of a few days UWSP students will be voting for their district representatives for Student Senate. I am a candidate for that office, hoping to represent the Fourth District. In this district are six residence halls, Baldwin, Hyer, Neale, Pray-Sims, May Roach, and Smith.

I became interested in student government in high school, attending Madison West. There I headed a committee to investigate violence in school, which was for a time a serious problem there. That was one problem dealt with by a student government. Here I see several problems that stick out.

Did you ever notice the black smoke that belches out of all the residence halls? That is trash burning in an open fire. The state fines corporations for doing the same thing, yet it sees fit to spew soot all over its UWSP students.

This is only one thing I feel should be dealt with. But it cannot be dealt with unless we have representatives who will do it for us, and that is what I intend to do. As Hall Council Representative of First East Hyer I have told students to stop in and express their ideas to me.

Now the same goes for the residents of the Fourth District. My address is 113B Hyer Hall.

Please get to know all of your candidates. Not only for their sake, but for your own.

Irresponsible government is as bad as no government.

Sincerely,

Tom Mannis
4th District
Senate Candidate

Pollution: it's a crying shame

But does it have to be? Not if you do something about it. So the next time you see pollution point it out to someone who can do something about it.

People start pollution.
People can stop it.

Council Seeks Own Department

by Kris Moun, Kathy O'Connell and Shirley Spittlemeister

The Great Lakes Inter-Tribal Council is making plans to establish its own department of education. The UWSP campus being considered as headquarters.

This campus has been proposed because of its central location. If UWSP is chosen, it would have larger Indian participation and enrollment than the other state university campuses.

"Voting for the department of education will be conducted in Wisconsin's Indian communities to determine the level of support," said George Amour, a member of the tribal council's education committee. He is the administrator of a $38,000 planning grant from the Bureau of Indian Affairs (BIA) to study a proposal for the new department. If the bill is passed, it may be possible to get funds from the state of Wisconsin.

Involved with Amour in the planning are representatives from Indian communities throughout the state.

Besides determining how grant monies are put to use for young Indians of the state, Amour said the new department would keep Indian educational interests alive through contacting legislators and maintaining an active "listing post".

Emphasis would be given to workshops and seminars to involve Indian parents more deeply into the educational services their children receive. Indian cultural studies would be available to students interested in learning more about their culture.

At the present time Indian educational programs in the state are mainly on reservations where they are administered either by the BIA or the State Department of Public Instruction.

The bulk of Indian education monies come from the Johnson-O'Malley Act for children in kindergarten through high school. In order to be eligible for federal funding three percent of the total number of students must be Indians living on tax exempt lands, said Angelo LeMere, vice-chairman of the project. Also involved is an Indian Scholarship Grant Program funded by the U.S. Department of Interior for Indian youth pursuing higher education.

UAB Plans Outlined

by Shelley Hosen
The University Activities Board (UAB) is a group of students which programs with aims for the whole campus.

UAB consists of an executive board and 14 committee chairman. The committee areas are: Fall Fest, Winter Carnival, Public Relations, Publicity and Promotion, Coffeehouse, Fine Arts, Performing Arts, Audio Visual, Properties, Tours, Films, Trippers Special Events, and Games. Committee members work in association with each chairman. The duties of the committee members include selecting events and helping run them.

This year's plans so far, include "Lester Flatt & Nashville Grass" and "Mac Wiseman" Movies including "French Connection", Coffeehouses, Fall Fest, Winter Carnival, and that's just the beginning.

Some of last year's programs included: UAB Cin Theatre, "Nitty Gritty Dirt Band", mini concerts with "Ryan" and "Raven Strait", coffeehouses with "Roger, Wendy and Sam", Winter Carnival and many more.

To get involved with UAB, complain, or question, come to the UAB office, second floor of the U.C. and talk with the members.

by Tony Charles, Mary Lemberger and Mary Anne Moore
Campus construction is fairly close to schedule, according to Director of Facilities Management Harlan Hoffbeck.

The completion date for the University Center is tentatively set at January first. A November first completion date was delayed because of an electrical problem. Hoffbeck said he is satisfied with this date. This will allow time to prepare the center during semester break.

Slightly behind schedule are the Science Building Addition and the Environmental Science Building. The new completion date for these facilities is at September 30.

Features of the new University Center include a banquet-program hall, a waitress-service dining area, a new lounge with a large fireplace, new meeting rooms and offices.

Special features in the Science Building Addition will be an animal surgery room, experimental laboratories, an observatory, and a grassed-in courtyard. The bulk of the addition will be filled with small classrooms, teaching laboratories, offices, demonstration rooms, a faculty lounge and a duplicating area.

The Environmental Science Building, is comprised mainly of laboratories for use by biology, wildlife, forestry, resource management, soils, and water science majors. The only formal classroom is a 250-seat lecture hall. Interesting facilities are the green house, aquariums, and a large electron microscope.

A need for strict temperature and light control prohibits windows in the laboratories. However, crawling vines have been planted to improve the outside appearance. Mrs. Mary Ann Baird of the University Planning Staff and Home Economics Department has designed a color scheme for the interiors.

Women's Sports to Begin

by Diane Pleuss

Womens Intercollegiate Sports are almost ready to begin another season according to Miss Marilyn Schwartz, womens athletic director.

Freshmen through senior women, physical education majors and many others have all begun practicing for a variety of sports. Around 90 girls are participating in either field hockey, tennis, volleyball, swimming or gymnastics. Miss Schwartz said that she was pleased with the number of girls that turned out to play. She was also enthusiastic about the strength of all the teams.

Last year the tennis team placed third in the state and the girls are again "real strong".

"Three singles teams and two doubles teams compete, but others get a chance to play and there is an opportunity for all," explained Miss Schwartz. The girls practice 3:30-5:30 p.m. Monday, Tuesday and Thursday with Miss Judy Tate as their coach.

The field hockey team will travel to Oshkosh for their first game of the season on Sunday, September 16. The team will need a year of rebuilding after losing excellent girls because of graduation. There are about 15 girls on the squad who practice 3:30-5:30 p.m., Monday through Thursday, with Coach Mrs. Nancy Page. All games are held on the area inside the track in Colman Field.

"Volleyball," Miss Schwartz enthusiastically said, "is strong with lots of girls returning", and on the whole, the team "shows good potential". Their first game is Saturday, September 22 at Oshkosh. There are about 40 girls practicing now and two teams will be formed. Team A plays in all the meets while Team B plays at only some of them. Miss Kathy Stormer is the coach and practices are held in the Berg gym from 4:15-5:45 Monday, Tuesday and Thursday.

The swimming team is characterized as having "good strength in the numbers we have, but we would like more girls," Miss Schwartz said. They swim in all the competitive strokes plus diving. Their abilities will be tested at La Crosse on Saturday, September 22.

The gymnastics team will hold their first meet at Stevens Point with Superior and Platteville on October 12 at 6:00 p.m. The WWIAC State Meet will also be held at Stevens Point in December and should give the team more incentive. Mrs. Rosalind Taylor is the coach.

Miss Schwartz encouraged any interested girls to participate in these sports and stressed that you don't have to be a physical education major. Girls can contact Miss Marilyn Schwartz in her office, room 128 in the physical education building, or call her at 346-2889 for further information.

"A TOUR OF CAMPUS SHRINES" Okay everybody, line up and follow me. As we move along, notice how the sidewalks are carefully designed so that you can't get anywhere on time without walking on the grass.

You now see the Main Building, opened in 1894. This is the original structure folks-impressive, ancient-filled with remnants of the past.

Moving right along, we have before us the Stevens Point Elephant Graveyard. Every year, 200 elephants from darkest Africa begin an awesome journey to come to Stevens Point and die. Unfortunately, most of them get lost trying to cross the Atlantic.

And here, where we now see Baldwin Hall is the historic site of the secret atomic bomb test that took place some seven years ago. This little-known historical fact probably explains why all Thomson residents go bald shortly after leaving the University.

Well, it looks as if we'd better cut this tour short--the monsoons will be coming in shortly. It's a shame you'll miss seeing the dungeon massage parlor. Maybe another day.

The Pointer defense-Vengance personified

"Aerial Circus" Shoots Down Eastern Illinois

by Jerry Long

It wasn't supposed to happen. The UWSP Aerial Circus shot down the Eastern Illinois Panthers, 21-20. This was in spite of All American running back Nate Anderson, in spite of record setting flankerback Willie White, and in spite of a Panther defensive line that averages 241 pounds. No, it wasn't supposed to happen. Trouble was, no one told the Pointers.

No one told the Pointer offense that they were supposed to fold before the monstrous Panther defensive line, and they didn't. No one told Pointer quarterback Mark Olejniczak that he was supposed to spend the afternoon with the Panther line sitting on his back, and he didn't. And, in retrospect, it seems that no one told the Eastern Illinois Panthers to take the Pointers seriously.

As was expected, Eastern Illinois placed their emphasis on the running abilities of Nate Anderson. The Pointer defense was, however, able to restrict Anderson to 99 yards on the ground, a skeletal figure when compared to his last year's average of 125.5 yards per game, with 259 yards in one game alone. Indeed, the Pointers so successfully contained the Panther ground game that they were soon forced into the air.

In the air the Panthers fared much better, gaining 236 yards on 10 completions, with two interceptions, out of 20 attempts.

Although sparingly used, the Pointer's running game was an unheralded shock to the Panthers. Ben Breese averaged 3.2 yards on four carries while Don Sager averaged 4.2 yards on nine carries. Breese and Sager put together back-to-back runs of 12 and 11 yards respectively to set up the Pointer's only first half touchdown. The Pointer's overall rushing game gained 41 yards.

The Pointer Aerial Circus, led by Olejniczak, flew 56 times with 24 completions, with three interceptions, for a total passing gain of 228 yards. "Ole's" workhorse receivers were senior Bruce Weinkauf of Wausau, and freshman, Joe Pilecky of Antigo. Weinkauf caught seven passes for 78 yards while Pilecky snagged seven for 34 yards. Split-end Denny Eskritt and fullback Don Sager added 58 yards on four catches, and 53 yards on three catches respectively, and a touchdown each. Split-end Steve Denison supplied the Pointer's third TD on a three yard toss from Olejniczak.

Defensively, the Pointers came out smoking, intercepting two passes and recovering two of three fumbles. Defensiveback Gary Starzinski grabbed one of the interceptions, stopping a Panther drive at the Pointer ten yard line. Roger Volovsch made the second crucial interception in the fourth quarter. Volovsch's catch of the Steve Hagenbruch pass set up the Pointer's last touchdown and go ahead extra point. Pete Thompson and Pat Sexton recovered one of Eastern Illinois' fumbles each, stopping concerted Panther efforts.

The Pointers had difficulty, however, in containing the Panther's Roger Drach, Willie White, and Greg Browne. Drach caught five new rules for duck hunters

Wisconsin duck hunters are in for a season different from past years.

The significant changes announced by the DNR include a split season, and the adoption of a point system for determining daily bag limits.

The point system is, potentially, the most confusing change. Point values differ for ducks according to species and sex. The DNR has set its point values at 100 for canvasback and red head ducks. Hen mallards, wood ducks and hooded mergansers count as 90 points. Ducks worth 15 points include the blue wing and green wing teals, along with scaup, widgeon, shoveler, and gadwalls. All other ducks carry a value of 25 points. Geese and coots will carry no point value, and will be regulated by regular possession limits.

The daily bag limit is reached when the point value of the last bird shot, added to the total points of the birds already shot during that day, reaches or exceeds 100 points.

The split duck season this year will start on Monday, Oct. 1 and will close the afternoon of Sunday, Oct. 7. After a six day halt, the second half will reopen on Oct. 13 and will conclude on Oct. 19.

Hunters should check the hunting regulations for certain restricted hunting regions. They should also check shooting hours in the zones they plan to hunt. These regulations are available at most sporting good stores or from the DNR in Madison.

passes from Hagenbruch for 107 yards. White captured four passes for 69 yards. Browne chimed in with a 70 yard touchdown reception.

Eastern Illinois drew first blood with 5:24 to go in the first quarter when quarterback Steve Hagenbruch kept the ball on the option play and executed an end around sweep from the two-yard line for the touchdown. Rick Tsupros added the extra point and the Panthers went in front, 7-0. The TD capped a 13 play, 73 yard drive that consumed six minutes and twenty-four seconds.

Point went on the board with 1:49 to go in the second quarter. Olejniczak threw a three yard pass to split-end Steve Denison to cap a 75 yard drive that took only 3:49 off the clock. Pat Robbins added the extra point to tie the Panthers, 7-7.

It appeared that the Pointers would go into the locker room at the half in a 7-7 tie when, on fourth down and three yards to go, Hagenbruch drilled a pass to Wille White that resulted in a 35 yard touchdown play. The entire Panther drive took only 32 seconds. Tsupros added the extra point as the half ended with the Panthers in the lead, 14-7.

The Aerial Circus tied the Panthers with 2:42 to go in the third period. Olejniczak connected with Don Sager for a 32 yard touchdown pass play. Pete Thompson's recovery of a Panther fumble on the Panther 39 yard-line, set up the 51 second, 39 yard drive. Robbins added the extra point to tie the score at 14-14.

Slightly more than a minute into the fourth quarter, Hagenbruch picked himself up off the ground after being sacked by the Pointer's Tim Sweeney for a 10 yard loss, and completed a 70 yard pass to Greg Browne that gained the Panthers a touchdown. The Pointer's big break came on the attempted conversion which was wide and no good. The score, with 13:47 left in the game, was 20-14.

Late in the fourth quarter, Roger Volovsch, Pointer right safety, intercepted a Hagenbruch pass and raced to the Panther 21-yard line. After an illegal procedure penalty, Olejniczak completed a second and fifteen pass to Denny Eskritt that was good for 26 yards and the tying touchdown. Pat Robbins added the go-ahead extra point as pandemonium broke out among the 6000 Pointer fans. The score was then 21-20.

Eastern Illinois tried desperately to regain the lead in the closing minutes of the game. At one point, the Panthers marched to mid-field, but were stalled when Hagenbruch was thrown for another 10 yard loss by Tim Sweeney and John Nevins. Faced with a fourth and seventeen situation, Tsupros attempted a fake punt. The pass was complete, but was called back because of an illegal receiver down field. This time Tsupros returned the ball to the Pointers. Olejniczak wisely decided to keep the ball on the ground and run out the clock. Handing the ball alternately to Sager, then to Breese, Olejniczak ran the time down to 1:10, before the Pointers were forced to punt. Then, the most controversial penalty of the game turned out to be the straw that broke the Panther's back. The Pointer's Denny Eskritt punted to the Panther's Willie White who signaled for a fair catch. A new rule this year states that the punt receiver must signal a fair catch by waving his hand over his head. White raised his hand, but did not wave, and the Panthers were called for an illegal fair catch. The resulting penalty gave the Pointers the ball and a first down. Again, Olejniczak and Sager combined to run the clock down to six seconds, before being forced to punt. The Panther's last ditch attempt to save the game fell short, and the Pointers won it, 21-20.

Offensive right guard Mark Anderson received outstanding offensive player honors and defensive end Tim Sweeney received defensive player honors at the weekly Quarterback club on Tuesday.

The Pointer's next action takes place at La Crosse on Saturday, against the always tough Indians.

cross country team looks good says Coach Amiot

by Al Pavlik

Comedian Bill Cosby once joked: "It takes a lot of guts to run cross country. I mean, to run two and a half miles just to make yourself throw up!"

That humorous outlook possibly overlooks the worthiness of the sport but does effectively point out some of the difficulty it involves.

The UWSP cross country team opened its season this Saturday with this obvious physical challenge but surprisingly with a very enthusiastic outlook.

A young group of 1973 Pointers intend to run regularly over five mile layouts suffering the consequences described above. But also and more importantly, with the intention of making their efforts result in a distinction near the top of the Wisconsin State University Conference.

"Our goal is definitely higher than the fourth place finish we ended in last year," said Don Amiot who is starting his third year as head coach.

"We think we can finish higher. But the thing is those three teams ahead of us last year (LaCrosse, Platteville and River Falls) have the same people back. Take a look at the top 25 individuals in the conference meet. Only two of the top 25 are not back again," he sighed.

"We have the best freshmen team we've ever had here this year," Amiot continued. "Last year we didn't have enough depth to score. This year we have the people to push our runners and I expect a lot of different runners to do our scoring. Depth is definitely going to be our strong point this year."

Leading the Pointers will be three time senior letterman Don Trzebiatowski. "I think Trzebiatowski is going to have a good year," related Amiot. The slender standout paced himself to the third best time in the WSUC meet, the 14th best clocking in the NAIA District 14 meet and the 113th rated effort in NAIA National competition a year ago.

The Pointers remaining three lettermen also provide top potential. "I also expect Behnke, Elger, and Duwell to have exceptional years," predicted the hopeful wavy haired mentor. All three are juniors and have lettered twice previously.

runners win

by Dennis Cox

A "much improved" Pointer cross country team triumphed over UW-Oshkosh here last Saturday 24-31. Coach Don Amiot feels it may be an indication of things to come.

The meet, which originally was meant to be triangular (including UW-Milwaukee) was held at the Wisconsin River Country Club south of town.

Top honors going to UWSP's Don Trzebiatowski who finished first with a time of 26:28. Dave Merrit of Oshkosh took second with a time of 26:38 and Dan Behnke of Point who placed third, turning in a time of 26:39.

Though understandably guarded in making predictions this early in the season, Coach Amiot remains optimistic of his team's ability and believes that with any degree of luck at all his runners should have a good shot at the championship.

Intramurals

by Jim Habeck

Plans for a Friday afternoon tea party, minus the British crumpets, were recently released by the Intramurals Office. The games, a version of touch football, will begin Friday, September 21.

The games differ from regular football in that the first receiver, upon catching the ball, has the option of running or passing. Only the first eight teams, entering as of Wednesday, September 19, will be allowed to compete.

The sole intramural football score available found previously unbeaten 1 South Burroughs upset by onrushing 4 South Burroughs, 20-0.

To encourage competition, the deadline for the all-campus tennis tournament has been postponed to Friday, September 14. The matches, scheduled for September 14-16 and 21-23, will be played Friday night, Saturday and Sunday.

September 20, Thursday, has been set for the organizational meeting of all interested in karate and judo. Room 119 of the Fieldhouse has been designated for the 7:30 p.m. meeting.

Also meeting on September 20 at 7:30 will be the fencing club. Those interested should report to room 118.

The Phy Ed Building will feature a moonlight swim Friday nights from 10-11:30. This swim, designed primarily for couples, is conducted with the use of underwater lights alone. The field house will remain open Fridays until midnight.
