

THE POINTER

April 11, 1991 - UWSP - Volume 34, No. 25

"Dedicated to the preservation of the first amendment"

Man falls from fourth floor window

by Chris Stebnitz
News Writer

On Thursday, March 28, between 4:00 a.m. and 4:30 a.m., Dave Bartlett, a sophomore resident of Knutzen Hall, fell through his fourth floor window. Bartlett crashed through the screen of his open window and landed on his head and shoulders. He sustained severe back injuries.

According to neuroradiologist John Bartlett, a spine specialist practicing in Missouri and also Bartlett's father, "Out of 20 cases involving injuries identical to Dave's, one person lives but is always paralyzed. This is the first case I have ever seen where the patient didn't die or wasn't paralyzed."

Bartlett pulverized his fourth vertebra and was not paralyzed but needed surgery to fuse the vertebra back together.

"For the first couple weeks I couldn't remember anything about the incident. Now, after trying to remember, things are coming back to me. I was standing on my platform, like every other night, to get into my bed and I was reaching for my water bottle behind my bed and I tripped over my T.V. wire and fell backwards into the screen," said Bartlett.

UWSP Protective Services began receiving calls at 4:47 a.m. on March 28 from the hall directors of Knutzen, Thompson, and Watson. A man dressed only in boxer shorts was reported banging on doors.

At 4:50 a.m., Officer J.J. Johnson found Bartlett in front of Knutzen screaming and pounding on the doors. Several residents heard his screams.

"I was awoken by a bloodcurdling scream outside my window. He was yelling 'Let me in I'm freezing out here!'" said Nadeen Max, a Knutzen resident.

Max said that nobody would let him in, even though he was hurt and obviously in no shape to assault anyone.

"I can see a girl not wanting to go and open up the door alone. But nobody, including some guys, would open the door for him," said Max.

Protective Services took Bartlett to their office where the Stevens Point Police were called in to assist. The police arrived and immediately administered a breathalyzer test.

Bartlett registered .114 and received a $276 fine with a mandatory court appearance for underage drinking. After formalities were completed, Bartlett was rushed to St. Michael's Hospital. He was examined and sent to Marshfield Hospital.

Bartlett requested to be flown to Missouri to be under the observation of his father. He has had two surgeries to fuse his vertebrae. If recovery continues to go well, Bartlett should be back to school next week.

A male resident of Knutzen Hall fell out of his fourth floor window. The clear spot on the ground shows where he landed on the north side of the building. (Photo by Lisa Stubler)

What will 9,000 people be playing?

Planners of the world's largest trivia contest are expecting a record number of 400 teams with 9,000 players in this year's competition April 19 - 21 at UWSP.

About 1,100 participants are expected from outside Wisconsin for an event which will have the theme "Trivia 22, The Year of the Palindrome."

The United States Trivia Association recognizes the 54-hour long program as the largest contest of its kind in the world.

Student radio station WWSP, the sponsor, will begin broadcasting questions at 6 p.m. Friday, April 19 and will continue through midnight of Sunday, April 21.

Planners said this is the 22nd year of trivia; hence the theme. A palindrome, they explained, is any word or phrase that is the same when it is spelled either forward or backward. Such as "mom" or "22."

Contest registration will be from 3 - 7 p.m. April 15 - 18 and noon to 6 p.m. on the opening day of the event. Team representatives must register in person at the WWSP studios, located in the Communication Arts Center at UWSP.

Jim Oliva, a local computer store operator known as "The Oz," has been writing the questions for the marathon event since 1979. He is assisted by John Eckendorf, an announcer at a local commercial radio station.

A full staff of more than 100 volunteers assumes a variety of assignments, including answering the station's 16 phone lines, asking the questions over the air, reading news, serving food

The volume of calls received at WWSP during the course of the weekend is so great Wisconsin Bell has used Trivia to test many of its new systems, ac-ording to Oliva. He says more than 500,000 calls are received at Trivia headquarters in the 54 hours.

Teams have the length of two songs to call in with their answers. Each question is worth 1,000 points and is divided by the number of teams that correctly answer it, with 500 points the maximum a team can get per question.

Over the decades, additions have been made to the overall event to draw members of the community into the spirit of the games. These include the now annual Trivia Hop at Stevens Point Area Senior High School, and the Trivia Kickoff Dance, held this year on April 11, from 8:30 - 11:30 p.m., at the American Legion Hall.

Admission to the dance is $3, with the musical entertainment provided by Stevens Point's Stellectrics.

The Trivia Parade, at 4 p.m. on the opening day of the contest, starts at the Allen Center at UWSP and ends at P.J. Jacobs Junior High School. Competitors enter floats.

Most of the yearly revenue for WWSP comes from the contest. The event costs the station about $5,000 to put on, but many of the expenses are defrayed by contributions from area businesses. Various memorabilia such as T-shirts, sweatshirts, hats, and tank tops are sold to subsidize station costs for the remainder of the year.

"This is one weekend where the whole city benefits," said Oliva. "Almost all the hotels are filled, and the food stores rake it in."

Packers coming to town

This article contributed by University News and Publications and Amanda Scott, news writer.

National Football League play is coming to Stevens Point this summer.

The Green Bay Packers and New Orleans Saints will compete in a "controlled scrimmage" at Goerke Park on Wednesday, July 24.

Preliminary information about this first-of-a-kind event for Stevens Point was announced this morning at a news conference in Green Bay and at a noon luncheon of the Kiwanis Club at the Stevens Point Country Club.

Mayor Scott Schultz said in a prepared statement at the luncheon that "what has been arranged is one more example of how the university and the city can work together to make exciting things happen in Stevens Point."

He called it a "great public relations and economic boost for the community."

"Stevens Point was our number one choice because it is between the Saints summer training camp in La Crosse and the Packers in Green Bay," said Packer Head Coach Lindy Infante.

"The people were really nice in Stevens Point and have excellent accommodations. With a good stadium atmosphere and good promotion, hopefully, we will have a good crowd out there this summer," said Infante.

UWSP Chancellor Keith Sanders called the scrimmage "an important first step in our efforts to recruit a pro football team to our campus for summer camp."

Last fall, Schultz and Sanders announced they were joining forces to bring an NFL team here for summer practice. The Saints now hold their pre-season

Continued on Page 5

INSIDE

THE POINTER
⇒ This Week ⇒

OUTDOORS

Swans p. 6

FEATURES

Pointer poll p. 8

SPORTS

Globetrotters p. 12

NEWS

Student saves seven strangers from fire

A biology student at UWSP is one of 16 Americans being commended this month by the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission for risking his life to save seven people from a burning motor home.

Christopher J. Meier, a native of Gresham who now lives at 1220 A Second St. here, is the recipient of a certificate, medal and $2,000 prize for his lifesaving effort.

His heroism was recorded at Tilleda the evening of July 2, 1990, when he was working as a delivery person and came upon the burning wreckage of a motor home.

Upon spotting the problem from his delivery truck, Meier stopped his vehicle and ran to the burning motor home, where he led several people to safety and then helped release the driver, who was pinned in his seat. Then he learned that 57-year-old Audrey Holland was trapped in the midpoint of the motor home.

According to the Carnegie Commission's report, flames were building in the front of the motor home as Christopher entered through a broken-out windshield and made his way to her aid. He removed debris from her and pulled her to a window at the rear of the motor home.

Exiting by way of a window, he attempted to pull Mrs. Holland, but she slipped from his grasp and fell back inside. Christopher then re-entered the vehicle through the window and pushed Mrs. Holland out to two other men who had just arrived.

They assisted him by carrying the woman to safety. Christopher then exited the motor home through a window as flames continued to build. The entire vehicle was engulfed less than a minute later.

Mrs. Holland was hospitalized four days for her injuries, and Christopher was treated for smoke inhalation.

In release from the Carnegie Commission, UWSP was informed that Christopher in one of 7,527 people throughout the United States and Canada who have been given the Carnegie Medal since the program was initiated in 1904.

One of this year's awards was given posthumously to an Arkansas woman who died attempting to save her husband from a burning home.

Meier is a freshman at UWSP. At 18, he is married and the father of a one-month-old child. The prize money came at a good time, Meier's mother said.

SGA Calendar Update

At last week's meeting:

The "Secure Campus Resolution" was introduced and discussed.

Under Finance:

✓ The veto of The Pointer was discussed and after consideration the motion of $5343.00 was passed by the Senate.

✓ This week's senate meeting will be held at 7:15 p.m., on Thursday, April 11, 1991, U.C. Wright Lounge.

On the Agenda:

Under Finance:

✓ Association for Fitness is Business will come before Senate for a programming request of $800.00.

Old Business:

✓ The Senate will discuss and vote on the "Secure Campus Resolution." This resolution supports the "Violence Against Women" bill authored by Senator Joseph Biden (D-DE).

New Business:

✓ This week Senate will discuss the Positive Carry-over Revenue Resolution, authored by the SGA Finance Committee. This resolution, if passed by the Senate, would require student organizations that earn more revenue than expected to submit a revised budget to include the excess money earned.

Executive board and senator applications for next year are available in the SGA office lower level U.C. It pays to get involved! Applications are due April 19 at 4 p.m.

THE BIG PICTURE

Gulf/Middle East Update

☞ Iraq has accepted UN resolutions to end the war, although protesting that the measures were "one-sided and unfair," and that the resolution was unduly harsh.

The resolution will make Iraq destroy its chemical and biological warfare capability as well as its ballistic missiles with a range of more than 90 miles. Iraq must also pay Kuwait war reparations out of its future oil revenues, release all prisoners, recognize the Kuwaiti border.

☞ Iraq is in a current state of civil war, with Kurdish rebels attempting to gain hold of northern cities. Control has swayed several times, now leaving the cities in the hands of Hussein-backed troops, while the general rural areas are controlled by the Kurds.

☞ Among some reports of atrocities are accounts of Iraqi troops machine-gunning refugees as they attempt to leave the country. Kurdish rebel leader Masoud Barzani said Iraqi government forces massacred 2,000-3,000 people in a village near Kirkuk. President Bush has continually stated that the U.S. will not intervene to help rebels fight against Hussein's forces.

+ In a related announcement, President Bush is considering laying down a comprehensive

Middle East plan to bring peace to the Israeli-Arab conflict in order to take advantage of the heightened diplomatic atmosphere now in the area.

☞ U.S. airdrops have begun in northern Iraq to get badly needed supplies to the 2 million Kurdish people fleeing north from the Hussein regime. Most have fled to Iran's border. Turkey has also reported taking in 100,000 and believ. there are 200,000-300,000 still waiting to enter the country.

Most have little to no clothing or other protection against elements like cold nights or travel through mountains to get to neutral borders. Turkey has since blocked any further incoming refugees, and has troops along the border to enforce it.

Bush has earmarked as much as $10 million in relief if necessary. He also does not believe the Iraqi government will interfere with the drops.

☞ There are currently still 100,000 U.S. troops still occupying southern Iraq. They will occupy Iraq along the demarcation line until a formal cease-fire is signed. It is unknown at this point exactly how many troops will remain after a formal cease-fire, or for how long.

In Other News

☞ A study done by federal tribal and state biologists has shown that Chippewa spearfishing poses no danger to the resource because it only accounts for two percent of the fish taken in northern Wisconsin.

All parties concerned hoped this study will help diffuse angry protests at boat landings which started this week. The study, entitled "Casting Light Upon the Waters," will be widely distributed.

☞ Frances Huntley-Cooper has become the first black mayor of Wisconsin. The 39-year-old won a narrow decision over Alvin Colvin in the Fitchburg mayoral race.

☞ In the April 2 elections, the housing referendum was rejected, which would've allowed the state to spend money on low and moderate-income housing. Several legislators believed this was a signal that constituents did not want to see new spending or new taxes. Others believed there was a lack of voter awareness of the referendum.

☞ Swiss high-altitude skiers reported that there was a two-inch layer of black snow on the slopes of Himalayan Mts. as a result of the oil fires in Kuwait. The snow slicks reached as high as 16,000 ft. on some slopes near Kashmir, which is 1,700 miles away from Kuwait.

☞ Food prices in the Soviet Union saw increases of 100-1000 percent last week as the Kremlin initiated measures to bring the Soviet economy closer to a market economy by bringing artificially low, state-subsidized prices closer to their actual production costs.

Milk prices doubled, meat tripled, and bread quadrupled in the first food price increases in 30 years for some goods. Although there was much dissatisfaction and grumbling, there were no formal protests.

☞ L.A. Police Chief Daryl Gates had been forced to take a paid 60 day leave of absence while investigations continue into the beating of a black man by L.A. police officers.

Monday, however, he won a court decision reinstating him. Gates' resignation has been demanded by many in Los Angeles, including the mayor.

☞ In two unrelated plane crashes, the U.S. lost former Senator and Defense Secretary nominee John Tower and Senator John Heinz (R-PA). Tower died along with 22 other people in a commuter plane crash enroute to Brunswick, GA. Heinz, heir to the H.J. Heinz food empire, died when a helicopter collided with his plane. Six others, including two children on the ground, were killed in that crash.

College Senior:

In the past UW-SP seniors had the opportunity to have their portraits taken for the "Horizon" Yearbook, due to lack of funding for the yearbook, this will not happen this year.

But, fear not, we do not want you to miss out on the opportunity to have your college senior portraits to use with newspaper announcements, resumes or just gifts for Mom and Dad.

So to help you out, once again we are offering our UW-SP Senior Portrait Special...

...AND HERE IT IS!
For Ten Dollars
You Will Receive

- * A 4-5 pose Portrait Session.
- * One glossy Publicity Portrait.
- * Variety of Backgrounds/ Props.
- * Local Photographer
- * Personal Service/ No Pressure Sales
- * And if you want additional prints, special UW-SP package prices.
- * Guaranteed Graduation Delivery

For more information
call 341-3411

2133 Main St.

(Located directly across from Old Main)
Portraits taken April 12-19 by appointment

EDITORIAL

Spearfishing waters tough to tread

by Ron Wirtz

Editor-in-Chief

It is with great trepidation that I enter waters where too many people have gone before, into waters that have been talked to death.

Indian spearfishing is about to take place again. Both sides are very adamant about their particular views. This is not surprising; both represent sides that have considerable interests in this situation.

Treaties signed by our government gave local tribes certain unalienable rights. The problem with this is they were not consistent with what every other American retains as "unalienable."

Many anti-treaty advocates argue on a resource basis--that Indians are permanently harming fish populations by over-spearfishing lakes. I agree that this must be monitored, but studies have come out within the past week that have concluded that spearfishing is not jeopardizing the health of speared lakes.

Spearers take two percent of all fish caught in northern Wisconsin lakes. For the number of people involved, sure this is proportionately high, particularly in northern lakes. But many act like there are no walleyes to be caught.

Buzz. Maybe they don't jump into your boat anymore, but there are fish to be caught. And yes, I do fish.

Certain tribes have publicly said they will take 60 percent of the safe catch out of certain lakes. They have since said they were just kidding, but it was funny to watch the reaction. People say, "There, look at the mismanagement of resources."

Silly. A) They couldn't catch that many fish if they had seine nets and industrial pumps working for them. B) They were just doing this to get a reaction out of narrow-minded people who believe spearers aren't concerned about the health of the lakes.

Anti-treaty advocates also believe that Indian tribes should have to go back to the days when the treaty (giving spearfishing and other rights) was signed. Birch-bark canoes, teepees, bow and arrow, the whole works.

They say that if Indians want rights granted in the 19th century, then they can do everything by the 1850s book. Moreover, Indians shouldn't receive any American assistance (welfare, food stamps, etc.) if they want to be truly independent and practicing Indians. If they do, then the deal's off.

One problem with this argument is it doesn't consider the source of the Indian's dependence on the American way of life. The U.S. government forced Indian tribes onto reservations, in many instances onto land that was useless. The government then subsidized these reservations to make sure tribes could survive in the AMERICAN society, giving no outlet for the Indian way of life.

Nothing has ever been done to allow the Indian culture to survive within the American culture. It was merely snuffed out. The fact that we outnumbered and out-gunned the Indian does not make its oppression right.

The sophist idea of might-makes-right was used and has hence been forgotten. What astonishes me most is that the very-American belief of first-come-first-served, I-was-here-first does not seem to apply to the society that in every aspect showed up a very distant second.

The Indian culture can never again be genuinely practiced because the American culture has crushed it. In return for this extinction, the US government signed a few legal treaties, gave them a twelfth of Old Milwaukee and told them, "It don't get no better 'n this."

All in all, giving a small group of Indians a few priveledges is a very small, unfortunate and embarrassing retribution for wiping out a way of life. Iraq threatened the American way of life, and we spent $60 billion and tens of thousands of lives to preserve it.

That was different, right?

Who knows, maybe Indian tribes pulled a fast one when signing the treaties. Yeah, they probably knew about speed boats, air conditioned homes, welfare programs, and they decided to take out an early environmental retirement policy. You know--just a little spearing to occupy people who had no remaining culture to fill their days.

But in the larger scope of things, anti-treaty advocates can take heart in the fact that the score still remains firmly in their favor.

Peace

THE FAR SIDE

By GARY LARSON

His rifle poised, Gus burst through the door, stopped, and listened. Nothing but the gentle sound of running water and the rustling of magazines could be heard. The trail, apparently, had been false.

Even hateful speech protected

Opinions represent views of the Milwaukee Journal Editorial Board, and are reprinted with their permission.

Douglas Hahn is an equal-opportunity bigot. If that sounds like a contradiction in terms, consider the Brown University junior got tanked one night last fall and decided to vent a little, shouting obscenities at anyone who would listen. In the process, Hahn maligned blacks, homosexuals and Jews. Not a bad night's work in the prejudice business.

It was not the first time Hahn's intolerance had come to the university's attention, a fact that may help explain why he was expelled. Brown's code of conduct prohibits harassment of a racial, sexual or religious nature, a well-meaning but constitutionally dubious attempt to quash hateful speech. As venomous as Hahn's epithets were, the university erred in punishing him for having muttered them.

Brown isn't alone in trying to muzzle collegiate bigots. With racism and anti-Semitism on the rise at campuses everywhere, more than 100 schools - UW schools included - have enacted rules prohibiting so-called hate speech. They generally prescribe conduct and speech that demean the race, gender, sexual orientation, religion, disability, age, creed, color, national origin or ancestry of any individual.

The universities argue that their codes restrict behavior, not words. Any constraint on the latter would would be constitutionally impermissible. But how to tell the difference? Brown President Vartan Gregorian said it was up to the school's disciplinary council, through a hearing, to decide when abusive speech becomes abusive behavior.

That's a nearly impossible task. At Brown and other schools, it's the content of the speech--what is said--that seems to determine what is allowable. How it's said matters, too, but most schools already have regulations that rule out disorderly conduct and disruptive behavior.

Think about it: Had Douglas Hahn shouted "God Bless America" as he strolled across campus that night, how many people would have been offended? He might have gotten himself in a jam for disturbing the peace, but his words would not have been at issue.

Hahn was expelled though, because what he said violated Brown's code of conduct--a code that appears to be on a collision course with the First Amendment. A court has already thrown out a similar code at the University of Michigan, deeming it overly broad and vague. Other codes are being challenged, and Hahn has hinted that he is considering legal action as well.

It's never pleasant defending the verbal swill of bigots, but the First Amendment protects their expression along with that of more likable people. The hateful speech of Douglas Hahn and others of his ilk is best countered with more speech, the kind that resoundingly condemns intolerance. Let a thousand voices boom.

THE POINTER STAFF

Editor-in-Chief

Ron Wirtz

Business Manager

Eric Simonis

Ad Design, Layout, and Graphics Editor

Brandon Peterson

Advertising Manager

Todd Schantz

Asst. Advertising Manager

Joe Womson

News Editor

Jodi Ott

Features Editor

Barry Radler

Outdoors Editor

Steve Schmidt

Sports Editor

Kris Kasinski

Copy Editor

Eric Meyer

Photo Editor

Lisa Stubler

Photographers

Alan Crouch
Mary Beth Pechiney

Typesetters

Kelly Lackner
Michelle Doberstein
Kristen Noel

Coordinator

Patreece Boons

Senior Advisor

Pete Kelley

Letters to the editor will be accepted only if they are typed, signed, and under 300 words in length. Names will be withheld from publication only if an appropriate reason is given. The Pointer reserves the right to edit letters if necessary and to refuse to print letters not suitable for publication. All correspondence should be addressed to The Editor, Pointer, 104

Communications Arts Center, UWSP, Stevens Point, WI, 54481. Written permission is required for the reprint of all materials presented in the Pointer.

The Pointer (USPS-098240) is a second class publication published 30 times on Thursdays during the school year by the University of Wisconsin - Stevens Point and the UW System Board of Regents. The Pointer is free to all tuition paying students. Non-student subscription price is $10 per academic year. Second Class Postage is paid at Stevens Point, WI.

POSTMASTER: Send change of address to Pointer, 104 CAC, UWSP, Stevens Point, WI, 54481. The Pointer is written and edited by the Pointer Staff which is comprised of UWSP students who are solely responsible for its editorial content and policy.

LETTERS

Transform those opinions into actions

Dear Editor:

This letter is not really a letter to Mr. Wirtz, but rather to the student body of UWSP. This letter is also not a letter defending the Student Senate or The Pointer for previous actions regarding annual budgets. This letter is however, a letter discussing student rights and student responsibility.

I have been internally involved with the annual budget process as a senator, and externally involved as a student leader and organization member who relies on our annual budget for programming purposes for the student body. I have also been a student at UWSP for the past four years.

For those past four years, I do not think a year, no let's say a month, or maybe even a day, has gone by that I have not heard at least one student complain, gripe, or bitch about the red tape/politics of this university; many days the complaining came from my mouth. But I and others have taken the initiative to attempt changes, solutions, or god forbid maybe an understanding of matters concerning students.

We have the right to complain, gripe or bitch, but we also have the responsibility to act on our concerns.

The past two weeks the Pointer has made students aware, and students have made students aware of happenings within their senate. Letters to the editor were abundant in both numbers and information. This is wonderful! Now I ask those students who had enough time and energy to write their feelings and concerns to The Pointer, to take that energy a step further and keep in touch with their senators, their SGA executive board, their respected organizations and its members all year through.

Every year annual budgets come up, and every year students become justifiably disturbed with money allocations to student organizations. However, it is unfortunate that concerns and suggestions are not shown until three-fourths of the way through the semester.

Student Government does much more than allocate student fees, and develop SGA programs for students regarding women, legislative, academic, and cultural diversity affairs, they also communicate with the UWSP administration to be sure the student voice is heard. But your voice needs to be heard all year so they can address issues, and not problems. I invite you to attend an SGA senate meeting; they can be very educational at times, and very humorous at times.

All students have the right to live a comfortable, safe, educational, and memorable life while attending UWSP! But each student must participate to make the most of his or her college career. If you have a complaint or suggestion--AWESOME--but make it even better...voice it to the appropriate people, or better yet get involved. Yes, this is a plea, but please understand, although I may be one of "them," but I am first one of "us!"

Tamie Paquet

Get to know your SGA

Dear Editor:

Congratulations on a fine issue, and if, as I suspect, what you say about the goings on at the budget meeting of the Student Government Associations is true, I would also like to tell you I agree with your analysis of SGA's action.

However, the blame for the actions of SGA cannot lie totally with the senate -- it lies with all of the students on this campus. This includes the five senators who failed to show up at this meeting, and especially the several thousand who didn't take part in the process.

When I went to vote in the recent SGA elections I was shocked to find there was not one candidate from the College of Fine Arts and Communication. Not one person was seeking any of the four available seats? I was so surprised I found myself writing in my own name and asking others to write me in.

Although I agree with your protest, and with those of other student organizations, it seems to me that students who don't like how SGA is run would be well served to run for senate where their vote and voice can be heard. (Four COFAC senators could probably make quite a difference, or at least quite a noise.)

One of your editors quoted a retired professor as saying "SGA has always expected the Pointer to be their personal public relations arm." Let me quote a current professor: "Get involved in politics or get out of business." Now I know some people will say that journalists should keep their noses out of politics, but to this I say (and again I quote a professor) - "Bull Pucky."

I realize this letter may sound as if I'm coming down hard on the Pointer staff -- maybe I am. I don't mean to as much as I mean to agree with them. I especially agree with Brandon Peterson, who said, "Don't be apathetic."

Jim Crandall

Smoking policy an exercise in futility

Dear Editor:

After a restful semester break I returned to the study area in the University Center to find some policy oriented group had placed plastic cones quarantining off a nonsmoking and smoking area. As a nonsmoker myself I can identify with many of the concerns of this self-righteous group, but repealing or ignoring the anti-segregation law is ignorant.

I find this act both degrading and insulting to the intelligence of college students. We are not children and these cones remind me of my old sandbox toys. As adults I would hope that we could respect the rights of each other. This means that if someone's secondhand smoke bothers you, you have the personal integrity to confront that person, and if you don't, then move. Consider also what sort of image this projects to visitors of this fine campus. Imagine if our beloved Regents would have seen these cones. They probably would have inquired why those students were being segregated from the rest of the student body. This area is well known on campus as a place to go and enjoy a tobacco product, and with smoking being prohibited almost everywhere else on campus, I feel this area must be protected.

The effectiveness of this shortsighted solution to an exaggerated problem is also very naive. This doesn't discourage smoking it only makes me want to smoke. Common sense dictates that it will only pack the smokers together creating an even larger cloud of smoke to invade the "fresh" air of the holier-than-thou side.

Perhaps a more realistic approach would be to install air purifiers in this area which would remove the smoke. I would much rather see my tuition money spent on this, than on plastic cones and stickers, which look nothing short of miniature shrines to a few self-professed wellness gods.

I'm sure if there is enough money in the budget to give the Regents the red carpet treatment and build a multi-million dollar playpen for a few athletes, then the administrators could afford a few air purifiers. Until then Mr. Editor, I urge your smoking readers to engage in a campaign of civil disobedience to show the policy board the futility of their actions.

Brian Koller

We like Pointer but...

Dear Editor:

First, we would like to state that we disagree with SGA's cut on the Pointer's budget. We support our only paper and agree that it is the voice of the students and should remain that way.

However, we have our complaints regarding the paper. First, we were offended by Barry Radler's Zeb Myhgha cartoon. We feel his use of the word "poon-tang" is degrading and sexist.

Second, we would like more articles covering campus events, not just sports. There are other organizations that deserve coverage, such as the fine arts. Numerous student directed plays, dance concerts, art shows, and instrumental and vocal recitals, along with Mainstage productions and orchestra and symphony concerts do not receive any coverage at all. We sympathize with your plight and disagree with SGA's cuts, but we hope you consider our complaints also.

Kara Prohaska
Kari Boelore
Beth Papacek
Stacie Thomas
Amy Klauritter
Melissa Volkman
JoEllen Maxymek
Tina M. Hiller
Tara Volk
Amy Ferrara
M. Scott Taulman
Tracie R. Skibo

Rascism : take notice

Dear Editor:

Recently, there has been a great deal of interest created by a reporting of a racial harassment incident on a Malaysian student.

Many people say big deal--so he was harassed over the phone. It doesn't happen often. On the contrary; it is not reported often, but happens all the time.

In the two years he has been in Point, he has been greeted by three other harassment incidents that were as serious as the recent one. The first night that he was in Stevens Point, January 12, 1989, he was harassed on some isolated street in Point.

He has been called a minority piece of shit, a crazy Malaysian, a stinky Malaysian, a minority S.O.B., and an anti-American minority asshole so many times that he has lost count.

So, why haven't these cases been reported?

One reason had been fear. He had always been fearful of the chances of him being physically abused if he reported these incidents.

He has also felt that there was no use crying over spilled milk. After all, nothing much could be done other than cleaning it up.

This time, however, he was angry, he was disappointed, he was treated like a piece of shit. So he reported it. He is aware that not much will be done. The discriminators will get a few slaps on their hands, whereas the victim has to live with the wounds the rest of his life.

Is Student Development and the Foreign Student Office interested? They have been aware of it but what has been done? The student has not received any word of care, feeling or encouragement from either of these areas.

Life's like that, twisted and turned-- and people survive through it. The Malaysian student is a survivor; he will survive but he will not carry a pleasant memory of Stevens Point, especially the university. He will not be proud to be an alumni of UWSP as he leaves at the end of the year. Big deal, right?

Nilesh Timbadia

ATTENTION MAY AND AUGUST GRADUATES
If you have Stafford (GSL) Loans or Perkins/ National Direct Student Loans or BOTH, you need to attend an exit interview on April 15, 1991, at 3pm in the Program Banquet Room, University Center; or 6 pm in the Program Banquet Room, UC, or April 16, 1991, 3 pm in the Program Banquet Room, UC. This is a federal law requirement.

Point's atmosphere attracts Packers

from page 1

camp at UW-La Crosse, the Chicago Bears at UW-Platteville and the Kansas City Chiefs at UW-River Falls.

"I hope this scrimmage can advance our idea of a pro team 'Cheese League' for Wisconsin," the chancellor said.

"We're excited for them to be here. It gives us a chance to show off our university and our community," said John Miech, head pointer football coach.

Athletic Director Mark Mazzoleni said the opportunity to bring two teams to UWSP "is a tremendous way for us to impress them with our facilities and our hospitality. We want them to give us a glowing recommendation," he said. Mazzoleni hopes that other NFL teams will begin considering Stevens Point for a summer camp.

Many of the arrangements for the scrimmage were worked out by head pointer football Coach John Miech. About three weeks ago, he received a phone call from head Packer Coach Lindy Infante, who was seeking a central location between Green Bay and La Crosse, where his team and the Saints could meet.

After details were approved by the mayor and the chancellor, Packer Executive Vice President of Football Operations, Tom Braatz, visited the campus and Goerke Park on Friday and was very impressed with our facilities, according to both Miech and Mazzoleni.

A controlled scrimmage, Mazzoleni explained, is practice competition in which various kinds of game situations are played out.

One of the teams will begin its practice on July 24 at the practice field behind the Health, Physical Education, Recreation and Athletics building while the other works out at Goerke. After a certain amount of time, the teams will be brought together at the park.

Lee Rimmel, the Packer's executive director of public relations, said this morning the scrimmage will begin in the early afternoon and include between 50 and 70 plays lasting an hour and one-half to two hours.

Rimmel also made note that that the pre-season activities of his team would include a pre-season game Aug. 3 in Green Bay with the New England Patriots and a game Aug. 17 in Madison with the Buffalo Bills that will be broadcast by CBS Sports.

The Packers in practice won't be a new sight in Stevens Point. The team spent the summers of 1954-1957 here using UWSP and city facilities. However, it never hosted other pro squads for games or scrimmages here. In recent years, Packer summer camp has been on the St. Norbert college campus in DePere.

Mazzoleni said details about the July 24 scrimmage will be announced as they will become known. He expects to announce by May 1 the process for issuing tickets for the approximately 5,500 seats at Goerke.

BRUISERS

WEDNESDAY ALL NEW COLLEGE NITE!

NON-ALCOHOL

8-12 pm

$3.00 FREE soda all nite!

TUESDAYS & THURSDAYS

35¢ Taps and

65¢ Rail Drinks

$1.00 before 9pm

$2.00 after

FRIDAYS & SATURDAYS

2 For 1-

8-10 pm

No cover before 9 pm

$1.00 between 9-11

$2.00 after 11

DOORS OPEN AT 8:00, 4:00 FRIDAYS
BRUISERS, downtown Stevens Point

UWB
University
Activities Board

PRESENTS

APRIL 19

LAZER VAUDEVILLE

MICHELSON HALL

FINE ARTS

8:00 P.M.

TICKETS AVAILABLE AT THE EVENT

AND AT CAMPUS INFORMATION IN THE UNIVERSITY CENTER

APRIL 15TH THROUGH 19TH

$4.00 — Adults
$2.00 — Children under 12
$3.00 — With U.W.S.P. ID

OUTDOORS

Trumpeter swans head for Crex Meadows

Twenty-two trumpeter swans hatched from eggs collected in Alaska in 1990 will be released at Crex Meadows in northwestern Wisconsin in early May, said Sumner Matteson, Department of Natural Resources nongame biologist who heads the trumpeter swan recovery program in Wisconsin. The swans are being released as part of the ongoing effort to restore a nesting population of trumpeters in the state.

Presently a flock of about 300 trumpeter swans, comprised mainly of birds released by Wisconsin, Minnesota and Michigan recovery efforts, makes up what is called the Interior Population. The swans released at Crex Meadows will join that population.

"The goal of Wisconsin's trumpeter swan recovery program is to have 20 nesting pairs in the state by the year 2000," Matteson said. Currently there are just over 15,000 trumpeters in North America, including the Alaskan population and the Rocky Mountain population.

Money to fund Wisconsin's swan recovery work comes from many sources, including the Endangered Resources Fund checkoff on the state income tax form. The trumpeter swan recovery program began in 1987 in Wisconsin. Since then many organizations and individuals have joined in supporting this work.

The last known breeding trumpeter swans in Wisconsin were here in the late 1800s. Their extirpation in Wisconsin was due mainly to market hunting. Trumpeter swans were harvested for their meat, their feathers (used for the milliner

"The goal of Wisconsin's trumpeter swan recovery program is to have 20 nesting pairs in the state by the year 2000."

Sumner Matteson
DNR nongame biologist

trade), and their quills (for pens).

"Trumpeter swans are a large, low- and slow-flying bird, easy to harvest, Matteson added. "The tundra swans, also known as whistling swans, are smaller, faster and higher-flying birds; they didn't fall to the same hunting pressure as the trumpeters."

Seventy swans have been released to the wild since Wisconsin's recovery work began. In 1898, Wisconsin recorded its first nesting pair in 100 years. The pair were two swans released by Minnesota, Matteson noted. In 1990, there were two pairs that nested in the northwestern part of the state.

Because trumpeter swans don't breed until four years of age, Matteson said it will be 1992 before the first Wisconsin-released birds will nest.

Captive and decoy rearing techniques are being used in the Wisconsin recovery program. In the captive program, the young birds (called cyglets) are kept in-

Continued on page 11

Dolphins in hot water Only one piece of the puzzle

by Alan Crouch
Staff Photographer

Sam LaBudde, a biological researcher for Earth Island Institute, captivated a crowded house Tuesday night in the U.C. PBR room when he spoke on the dolphins' struggle to survive in a world of fishing exploitation. Various environmental topics were also covered.

This environmental "fanatic," as he called himself, exposed the reality of the destructiveness tuna fishing imposes on dolphins, and thousands of sea birds, whales, and sea lions, when he went undercover aboard Japanese and Latin American fishing vessels.

His graphic and heart moving films started a domino effect of awareness and response in the public and corporate world and fueled an otherwise stagnant tuna boycott started in 1972. With little or no help from Washington, he and a small organization called Earth Island Institute publicized not only the plight of the dolphin, but other shocking stories as well. Other problems include pelagic drift net fishing, and the massacre of Alaskan walrus for the illegal use of ivory.

LaBudde expressed a fond interest in dolphins not only because they are warm-blooded air breathing intelligent mammals, but also, because he believes dolphins actually show a "loving respect for human, or mammalian life."

"Although dolphins are federally protected marine mammals, the U.S. government continues to sell slaughter permits to fisherman," said LaBudde. LaBudde pointed out that the dolphin situation won't even become a crisis until nearly 40 percent of the population is gone, and dolphins won't even receive full legal protection until the population is reduced by 60 percent.

Having legal protection is one thing, but since the U.S. government does such a good job of enforcing these laws, they hardly have the effect needed to stop unnecessary killing. Earth Island and other environmental groups are suing the government for its negligence.

As a result of Sam LaBudde's work in film and in conjunction with other groups and major U.S. newspapers, Heinz, the United States' largest tuna packing company, was forced to turn "dolphin safe." Other companies like Bumble Bee and Chicken of the Sea followed suit in order to compete on the market leaving a majority of the U.S. tuna market dolphin safe.

Sam LaBudde presents "Dolphin Wars and the Politics of Extinction." (Photo by Al Crouch)

"What we do within the next twenty years will determine the fate and outcome of our earth. It's going to get a lot worse before it gets any better," said LaBudde.

What can we as everyday Americans do? LaBudde firmly believes that education is very important and that there are better ways to help do your part for the environment rather than just writing a twenty dollar check.

The almighty dollar is the devil behind it all. Direct participation and specification are much more effective. "Don't rely on Washington or corporate America to do the job. Be informed- Be involved," urged LaBudde.

A BIT OF BUCK'S BULL

by Buck Jennings
Carp Specialist

I think it's safe to say that spring break is upon us. Although, Wisconsin's fickle weather has turned decidedly vernal, returning waterfowl and active walleye have proven more reliable mermaids of spring.

Yes, while you were away the walleye started running. (Before you left they were just walking) The pace will continue to increase as this week's rains bring the water temperatures a step closer to the optimum 45 degree range.

The Wisconsin River in the Stevens Point area has already produced some trophy fish. A twenty-eight inch walleye was caught below Black Bridge (The black railroad bridge that crosses the river below the dam in town) mid last week.

The Dubay Dam has also produced some large fish. In the middle of last week a forty-five inch musky was landed. (The fish was released) and on Friday a colleague of mine caught a six-and-a-half pound walleye. He reported that several fish of comparable and larger size were caught that day.

Realizing that a six and a half pound walleye from the Wisconsin River is about as tasty as the soiled insole from a sweaty fat man's old vinyl jogging-shoe, I did my weekend's walleye fishing on the Mississippi River at Genda Wisconsin south of La Crosse.

Walleye fishing in the slack waters, fringe areas and back waters of the Mississippi is very similar to situations in the Wisconsin River. Fishing below the dams or in the main current, however is very different.

The immense volume of water that passes through the Mississippi River is a factor that makes the system different. Most of the fish in the Mississippi are taken in twelve to twenty feet of water and strong current.

Light tackle in these situations consists of 3/8 ounce jigs with twister tails and six-pound line. Jigs of half ounce and three quarter ounce with minnows and stinger hooks are most common. Floater rigs weighted up to one ounce are not uncommon.

Half and three quarter ounce "sonar" baits are popular in the area. Long before I began fishing the Mississippi (about twelve years ago) the "sonar" had been in frequent use, despite its recent popularity in fishing magazines as the "New Wonder Blade-Bait of the '90s." The little known "sonar" has earned its acclaim. I landed a six-pound walleye using one this past weekend.

Heavy lines are recommended in these waters because of the frequent snags and rough fish. The variety of rough fish is incredible. (Carp, quill-back, red-horse, suckers, catfish, lamprey eels, buffalo, sheephead and rarely sturgeon)

Continued on page 7

Thomas on DNR committee

Christine Thomas, a member of the natural resources faculty at UWSP participated for more than a year on the Ethics and Fair Chase Study Committee of the Department of Natural Resources. She was the only woman in the group that evaluated the propriety and the ethics of using newfangled gadgetry in fishing and hunting.

The committee recently completed its work and discussed its report at a meeting in Madison. If you'd like to get her comments on the committee's work, Thomas can be reached during the day at the university at 715-346-4185.

Area waters provide action

by Steve Schmidt
Outdoors Editor

Well, fellow anglers, last weekend's scorcher sparked walleye and panfish feeding frenzies in the area.

Some lunker walleyes have been taken (not by spear, thank God) from Wisconsin River hotspots. And rumor is a 28-inch fish was taken real close to Stevens Point (where exactly, I won't say). Anyway the fish are nailing the usual variety of foodstuffs.

Out of areas with excessive riverbed debris, I've taken a few walleyes on a Lindy Rig with an orange floater. Where snags are less of a nuisance, a bright colored twister tail or feather jig with a shish kebabs minnow has been a productive combination.

And don't forget about The Buck Jennings Neutrally Weighted Floater Natural Bait Presentation (TBJNWFNP) method as was described in issue 18. Because it sounds so stupid, I've yet to try it. Nonetheless, I'm sure it will work.

Soaking a two to three inch dorsally-hooked minnow on the bottom while watching a sensitive graphite rod tip has also been worthwhile. Light line (4-6lbs.) seems to be the ticket. The added benefit of this technique is apparent when getting snagged-up. There's less chance for cursing outbursts as hooks, sinkers and minnows are relatively inexpensive.

You can use this method in varying current strengths, weighting-down your bait proportionately with small split-shots or slip-sinkers. Remember, however, to pinch the leads at least 12- to 14-inches above the hook. In my opinion, this helps hide the evidence of human tampering.

If persistent snags are a problem, try a small bobber. I know it sounds too fundamental for elusive walleyes, but it works. A minnow tangled at the bottom doesn't do you any good.

Crappies, bluegills, and even some smallmouths have been feeding ferociously. Good ol' garden worms, a bobber, hook, line and sinker is all you'll need to tie into some 8- and 9-inch gills. Crappie anglers, of course, favor the same paraphernalia with a small minnow instead of a worm.

Whatever you chose to fish with, the fish are out there and snapping. It's up to you to locate them. My spots already have enough fishing pressure.

Buck's

from page 6

Heavy lines will save a lure when a real bruiser is battled with. Heavy line trades off with extra line drag in the strong current. Thin line diameters are recommended.

Should your quest for edible, palatable fish be coupled with a yearning for eastward movement, the Wolf River is for you. I've never fished the Wolf, but I know it has relinquished some trophies; eight to ten pound fish, I'm told are not uncommon.

The Wolf tends to be crowded, but I would recommend trying it.

If lack of time and funding conspire to leave you immobile, fear not. The fishery in the Stevens Point area is renowned for its large population of big females. While these big pigs are of notoriously bad taste, the opportunity for snagging that big "Hawg" certainly exists in Stevens Point.

Renowned biologist speaks at UWSP

Naturalist, researcher and author Frances Hamerstrom will present "Winter Wanderings of a Wildlife Biologist" at 7 p.m. Thursday, April 18 at UWSP.

The program in Room 112 of the College of Natural Resources is open to the public without charge. It is sponsored by the student chapters of Women in Natural Resources and the Wildlife Society.

Hamerstrom generally spends winters pursuing her interests in international wildlife management. Her talk at UWSP will include slides and discussion of recent activities in Central America, Africa, and the Middle East. She will be available after the presentation to answer questions and autograph copies of her latest book.

The only woman to have received a graduate degree under Aldo Leopold, Hamerstrom is a longtime area resident who became world famous for her research of prairie chickens and birds of prey.

An adjunct professor of wildlife at UWSP she is the author of more than 100 scholarly works, including 10 books about various wildlife-related subjects.

The professor has received many awards during her long career, including the prestigious Josselyn Van Tyne Award in Ornithology, the Chapman Award of the American Museum, the August Derleth Award for adult nonfiction (three times), the Edwards Prize, the National Wildlife Federation Award and a host of others. In addition, she has been elected a fellow and honorary member of numerous scientific societies.

She was married to the late Fred Hamerstrom, also a world-famous naturalist, and their daughter Elva Hamerstrom Paulson is a widely known wildlife artist.

Frances Hamerstrom

Turkey season underway

Wisconsin's 1991 spring wild turkey hunting season opened Wednesday said William Vander Zouwen, turkey program coordinator for the Department of Natural Resources.

The 1991 spring season has six hunting periods: April 10-14, April 17-21, April 24-28, May 1-5, May 8-12 and May 15-19. More than 37,000 permits were issued for 20 turkey hunting zones; the department received 39,864 applications for turkey hunting permits.

Turkey hunting in Wisconsin is allowed by permit only. Hunters who receive a permit are allowed to hunt in one designated zone during one designated time period.

Fifty-nine turkey registration stations are located throughout the 20 hunting zones. Hunters must register their turkey at one of the registration stations.

Only bearded or male turkeys are legal to shoot. They must be registered by 1:30 p.m. on the same day they're bagged.

Vander Zouwen noted two new rules that turkey hunters should be aware of this season. Hunters are NOT allowed to use bait to attract turkeys, and for hunters using firearms, only lead shot sizes #4 and smaller, and steel shot sizes #2 and smaller may be used.

A current 1990-91 Wisconsin Wild Turkey Stamp is also required to hunt turkeys. The stamp must be signed across the face and attached to the hunting license.

In the 1990 spring season, 29,696 permits were issued for 19 hunting zones; hunters bagged 6,523 turkeys.

IF HE'S IN THE BACK OF A POLICE CAR TODAY, WHERE WILL HE BE TOMORROW?

He's not a bad kid, really. But one night, while spraying graffiti on a brick wall, this 12 year-old had his first brush with the law.

Where do you go before things get out of hand? He got help at a local Youth Center. They got help from the United Way. All because the United Way got help from you.

Your single contribution helps provide therapy for a child with a learning disability, rehabilitation for a cocaine abuser, and a program that sends a volunteer to do the shopping for a 79 year-old woman.

Or, in this case, a place where a kid can toss a basketball around after school. A place where a basically good kid can stay that way.

It brings out the best in all of us.

FEATURES

What spring break was meant to be

by Boogie Stu
Just Boogie

Like a horde of lemmings, spring break once again saw a herd of wild students push south in search of fun away from the campus. Being partial to lemmings myself, I also fired up my VW and headed down I-94 toward fun, sun, and suds.

However, my quest for the meaning of life after class took me not to Florida, but Milwaukee. Yes, Florida has its Daytona Beach strip, but Milwaukee has its own brewery strip. When analyzed point by point, Milwaukee offers more for your spring break dollar than Florida.

I know, your first argument is that it's not warm enough in Beertown to get a tan. No problem. You'll save big bucks on gas by not driving down to Florida in a gas-gluttony Trans Am with T-tops. You can then spend the extra cash on the tanning beds. In order to make your tan look more realistic, you may want to even get a little burned so you can fake some type of "I can't believe I forgot my sunscreen" story.

OK, you've got your tan, now what? Get some beers and start checking out the opposite gender scenery, right? Well, for starters, beer prices in Florida make even drug pushers wince. This is where the Milwaukee breweries come in.

After every brewery tour, they take you to a taste testing room and open up the taps. Not only is the beer free, but usually it's all you can drink.

The Miller Brewery tour is a very popular one, but if they start asking you to guide the tour, this is a good indication that you're abusing their hospitality, so go to other breweries as well--Pabst and Blatz.

Sprecher is a very small brewery, but their tour is top-notch. It lasts a maximum of a half hour. The way I see it, you'd have to wait this long at many nightclubs in Florida. But instead of having to milk a $3 beer, the brewery gives you an all night happy hour for merely visiting them for a half hour. Now that's Wisconsin hospitality.

Alright, so two out of the big three are taken care of-- you're getting a tan, and you have all the beer you can drink. There's just one thing missing from this spring break paradise-- dudes or dolls (depending on your preference).

Now the inexperienced partier may believe this to be a grave oversight on my part. Not so. This vacation package comes complete with some of the most gorgeous girls and guys you've ever seen. You see this spring break essential is indirectly embodied in the brewery tours.

After going through the tour, you get all the free beer you can drink, right? Well, by the time they tell you its time to go, you're whispering sweet nothings to the beer taps, and you've got beer goggles so thick you think the mannequins in the Boston Store windows have got bedroom eyes.

Continued on Page 10

Pointer Poll: What was the high point of spring break?

(compiled by Barry Radler and Al Crouch.)

"The U.S. Bar & Grill in South Padre. Oh my God, it was so much fun. They were giving us free drinks and Angi came out in this sombrero, you couldn't see her head. I sang with the band too. Everything was so much fun. We were outa control the whole time."

Names: Jenna Thorz(r) & Angi Baldwin (l)
Ages: 18 & 20
Majors: Int. Des. & Com/Bus.
Years: Freshman & Sophomore

"Sleeping 12 hours a day."

Name: Greg Kirchner
Age: 22
Major: Education
Year: Senior

"I just went up north to Lincoln county. We were collecting sap for maple syrup. There really weren't any high-lights. It was actually kind of a boring one. Usually I go down to South Carolina. This year it didn't work out so I just hung around and enjoyed the weather."

Name: Todd Birchler
Age: 21
Major: Forestry
Year: Senior

"I went home to Monroe and worked in Dick's grocery store. I really didn't do too much."

Name: Diana Lauper
Age: 21
Major: Com.
Year: Junior

"I was in Colorado. I stayed in Steamboat Springs, but I skied in Vail, Breckenridge, Beaver Creek, and Copper Mountain. I telemarked, and one day I snowboarded at Copper Mountain. The high point of my trip was probably when I caught a 360 backy-air off a bowl with my snow board."

Name: Joe "The Kid" Todd
Age: 22
Major: Wildlife/Biology
Year: Senior

POINT OF STYLE

by Alphonse Chung
Contributor

Welcome back! I do hope your Spring Break was an eventful one and that everyone is well rested and ready for the home stretch of the semester.

I was in New York with a study group all week and have fortunately, 'lived' to tell what this city is all about in terms of style with an ATTITUDE.

The trends and designer focus are on what is really 'hot' for the spring/summer season. Next week, I will include useful shopping hints that I have discovered and found helpful on this particular trip. I will also recommend the better buys for the forthcoming season that will work and complement any existing wardrobe.

To begin with, suits and business wear in New York is like beach wear in Florida so there is really not much to comment on except that colorful and unusual printed ties are a must as they break the monotony of the typical white shirt with the grey suit (although I have seen brown and taupe suits making a strong presence too).

I suspect that the men go through a daily challenge of deciding which tie to wear with their suit. I also believe that the tie is a very strong and versatile accessory for men to experiment with.

Just to illustrate this point: I was in an exclusive men's store browsing through, and out of curiosity, I began to count the number of ties that were available for sale. There were approximately 450 choices in different fabrics, textures, colors and designs that were simply overwhelming!

Most of the ladies in New York dress in designer labels yet it is how they pull their outfits together that truly spells the essence of style. The buzz work is 'chic,' yet restrained, 'trendy,' yet classic. Natural makeup and hair is an absolute with color emphasis being only on the lips. The trick, I believe, is to dress 'down' and still be able to go to work and then party all night.

What's 'hot' are still jeans that I have seen worn with such panache and creativity that truly reaffirms their status as a classic item that you just can't go wrong with.

Blazers are a very 'hip' thing especially in Soho which has a reputation of being the "mecca of style." Silver accessories are also very fashionable at this time judging from the number of street vendors selling them all along Fifth and Seventh Avenue.

Straight hair in varying lengths can be seen just about everywhere and men are sporting long hair, sleeked back and tied into a pony tail!

White, semi-opaque panty hose are also the current rage now as more women are using their hosiery for both work and play.

The Far Side sponsored by The Hostel Shoppe

"There he is, Stan! ... On that birch tree, second branch from the top, and chattering away like crazy! ... I tell you — first come the squirrels and then come the squirrel guns."

Calvin & Hobbes
sponsored by Galaxy Hobby

COMICS

calvin and Hobbes

by BILL WATTERSON

FEATURES

What spring break was meant to be

by Boogie Stu
Just Boogie

Like a horde of lemmings, spring break once again saw a herd of wild students push south in search of fun away from the campus. Being partial to lemmings myself, I also fired up my VW and headed down I-94 toward fun, sun, and suds.

However, my quest for the meaning of life after class took me not to Florida, but Milwaukee. Yes, Florida has its Daytona Beach strip, but Milwaukee has its own brewery strip. When analyzed point by point, Milwaukee offers more for your spring break dollar than Florida.

I know, your first argument is that it's not warm enough in Beertown to get a tan. No problem. You'll save big bucks on gas by not driving down to Florida in a gas-gluttony Trans Am with T-tops. You can then spend the extra cash on the tanning beds.

In order to make your tan look more realistic, you may want to even get a little burned so you can fake some type of "I can't believe I forgot my sunscreen" story.

OK, you've got your tan, now what? Get some beers and start checking out the opposite gender scenery, right? Well, for starters, beer prices in Florida make even drug pushers wince. This is where the Milwaukee breweries come in.

After every brewery tour, they take you to a taste testing room and open up the taps. Not only is the beer free, but usually it's all you can drink.

The Miller Brewery tour is a very popular one, but if they start asking you to guide the tour, this is a good indication that you're abusing their hospitality, so go to other breweries as well--Pabst and Blatz.

Sprecher is a very small brewery, but their tour is top-notch. It lasts a maximum of a half hour. The way I see it, you'd have to wait this long at many nightclubs in Florida. But instead of having to milk a $3 beer, the brewery gives you an all night happy hour for merely visiting them for a half hour. Now that's Wisconsin hospitality.

Alright, so two out of the big three are taken care of-- you're getting a tan, and you have all the beer you can drink. There's just one thing missing from this spring break paradise-- duds or dolls (depending on your preference).

Now the inexperienced partier may believe this to be a grave oversight on my part. Not so. This vacation package comes complete with some of the most gorgeous girls and guys you've ever seen. You see this spring break essential is indirectly embodied in the brewery tours.

After going through the tour, you get all the free beer you can drink, right? Well, by the time they tell you its time to go, you're whispering sweet nothings to the beer taps, and you've got beer goggles so thick you think the mannequins in the Boston Store windows have got bedroom eyes.

Continued on Page 10

Florida at Night

Pointer Poll: What was the high point of spring break?

(compiled by Barry Radler and Al Crouch.)

"The U.S. Bar & Grill in South Padre. Oh my God, it was so much fun. They were giving us free drinks and Angi came out in this sombrero, you couldn't see her head. I sang with the band too. Everything was so much fun. We were outa control the whole time."

Names: Jenna Thorz(r) & Angi Baldwin (l)
Ages: 18 & 20
Majors: Int. Des. & Com./Bus.
Years: Freshman & Sophomore

"Sleeping 12 hours a day."

Name: Greg Kirchner
Age: 22
Major: Education
Year: Senior

"I just went up north to Lincoln county. We were collecting sap for maple syrup. There really weren't any high-lights. It was actually kind of a boring one. Usually I go down to South Carolina. This year it didn't work out so I just hung around and enjoyed the weather."

Name: Todd Birchler
Age: 21
Major: Forestry
Year: Senior

"I went home to Monroe and worked in Dick's grocery store. I really didn't do too much."

Name: Diana Lauper
Age: 21
Major: Com.
Year: Junior

"I was in Colorado. I stayed in Steamboat Springs, but I skied in Vail, Breckenridge, Beaver Creek, and Copper Mountain. I telemarked, and one day I snowboarded at Copper Mountain. The high point of my trip was probably when I caught a 360 backy-air off a bowl with my snow board."

Name: Joe "The Kid" Todd
Age: 22
Major: Wildlife/Biology
Year: Senior

POINT OF STYLE

by Alphonsus Chung
Contributor

Welcome back! I do hope your Spring Break was an eventful one and that everyone is well rested and ready for the home stretch of the semester.

I was in New York with a study group all week and have fortunately, 'lived' to tell what this city is all about in terms of style with an ATTITUDE.

The trends and designer focus are on what is really 'hot' for the spring/summer season. Next week, I will include useful shopping hints that I have discovered and found helpful on this particular trip. I will also recommend the better buys for the forthcoming season that will work and complement any existing wardrobe.

To begin with, suits and business wear in New York is like beach wear in Florida so there is really not much to comment on except that colorful and unusual printed ties are a must as they break the monotony of the typical white shirt with the grey suit (although I have seen brown and taupe suits making a strong presence too).

I suspect that the men go through a daily challenge of deciding which tie to wear with their suit. I also believe that the tie is a very strong and versatile accessory for men to experiment with.

Just to illustrate this point: I was in an exclusive men's store browsing through, and out of curiosity, I began to count the number of ties that were available for sale. There were approximately 450 choices in different fabrics, textures, colors and designs that were simply overwhelming!

Most of the ladies in New York dress in designer labels yet it is how they pull their outfits together that truly spells the essence of style. The buzz work is 'chic,' yet restrained, 'trendy,' yet classic. Natural makeup and hair is an absolute with color emphasis being only on the lips. The trick, I believe, is to dress 'down' and still be able to go to work and then party all night.

What's 'hot' are still jeans that I have seen worn with such panache and creativity that truly reaffirms their status as a classic item that you just can't go wrong with.

Blazers are a very 'hip' thing especially down in Soho which has a reputation of being the "mecca of style." Silver accessories are also very fashionable at this time judging from the number of street vendors selling them all along Fifth and Seventh Avenue.

Straight hair in varying lengths can be seen just about everywhere and men are sporting long hair, sleeked back and tied into a pony tail!

White, semi-opaque panty hose are also the current rage now as more women are using their hosiery for both work and play.

The Far Side sponsored by The Hostel Shoppe

"There he is, Stan! ... On that birch tree, second branch from the top, and chattering away like crazy! ... I tell you — first come the squirrels and then come the squirrel guns."

Calvin & Hobbes
sponsored by Galaxy Hobby

COMICS

calvin and Hobbes

by BILL WATSON

22nd annual Rites of Writing a hit

by Julie Apker
Contributor

Stevens Point is included with New York, Milwaukee and Chicago as a performance site for the renowned Leningrad music and dance company "Kampaniya" this spring. The group will perform at SPASH Auditorium, Wednesday, April 17, at 7:00 p.m.

Kampaniya's month-long United States tour marks the American debut for both the company and several of the premier entertainers of the Soviet Union. Kampaniya is known throughout Europe and the USSR for its multi-talented central cast. On its tour the company is joined by several Soviet stage and screen luminaries. Together they present a truly unique and entertaining presentation of what is presently "hot" in the Soviet performing arts.

The Stevens Point appearance of Kampaniya is made possible by the Stevens Point Sister City Project in cooperation with Chanson of Leningrad and Link Friendship House of Madison.

Among the notables in this season's tour are:

- Andrey Anjudinov recently won the Soviet equivalent of an Oscar for his portrayal of a soldier in the movie of the same title. A popular singer-actor, he has starred in 32 movies, and recently made his debut as a producer in "White Nights."

- Arkady Nasirov is Russia's equivalent of Fred Astaire. A star of the screen as well as the stage, he recently played the role of Bistroff in the Italian Film Festival-winning production, "Winter Night in Gagli."

- Oleg Minakov joins the cast from a recently completed independent tour which included Denmark, Sweden and several other European countries. He is rated as the Soviet Union's number one pan flutist. Minakov plays 23 instruments and is prominent in both chamber and classical music throughout Europe. On this U.S. tour he will be accompanied by noted pianist Valery Minkin.

General admission tickets are $7.00 for adults and $4.00 for students. Special $15.00 tickets include a buffet reception with the artists at Bernard's continental Restaurant, following their performance on Wednesday evening, and will help support the work of the Stevens Point-Rostov Sister City Project. Until sold out, tickets may be purchased at Copps, Gene's IGA (Plover), Kindy Optical, Little Professor Book Store, Northside IGA, Park Ridge Pharmacy and SPASH library.

WWSP - 90FM'S TOP 10 FOR 8 APRIL 1991

ARTIST

1. LENNY KRAVITZ
2. BODEANS
3. REM
4. JESUS JONES
5. TOO MUCH JOY
6. THE LA'S
7. CHAGALL, GUERVERA
8. SPACEMEN 3
9. MR. FIDDLER
10. UNCLE GREEN

ALBUM

- Mama Said Black and White
- Out of Time
- Doubt
- Cereal Killers
- The La's Chagall Guervera
- Recurring With Respects
- What an Experiment his Head was

REQUESTS CALL 346-2696

THE FAR SIDE

By GARY LARSON

"Remember this guy, Zelda? Stumbled into the den one day and just plain went nuts! ... Count those fang marks, everyone!"

beach

from page 8

Therefore, hence, as a result, you think anything with a pulse that's thinner than your doorway is the most gorgeous creature you'll see before you pass out. There are plenty which fit that description in the city of suds.

So now you've got all three-women to make memories with, plenty of beer to help forget all these memories, and a tan to remind you of what you don't remember.

And you fools went all the way to Florida for this. Why, we've got a veritable paradise right here in Dairyland. It's just such a well kept secret.

The Week In Point

THURSDAY, APRIL 11 - WEDNESDAY, APRIL 17, 1991

THURSDAY, APRIL 11

WEEK OF THE CHILD

Career Serv. Workshop: Getting Oriented & Organized, 11AM-12N (134 Main)

Week of the Child Entertainment w/TOM PEASE, 6:30-7:30PM (SPASH)

Junior Recital: TONI SHERRY, Soprano & DEIRDRE MUNK, Flute, 8PM (MIL-FAB)

WWSP-90FM Trivia Kick-Off Dance w/STELLELECTRICS, 8:30-11:30PM (American Legion Hall)

FRIDAY, APRIL 12

Baseball, UW-Eau Claire, 1PM (T)

Softball, Oshkosh, 3PM (T)

International Club Presents: INTERNATIONAL OLYMPICS, 6-10PM (QG)

Neale Hall Dance w/PURSUIT BAND, 6-10PM (Sundial)

SATURDAY, APRIL 13

NATIONAL HUNGER CLEANUP DAY

International Club Presents: INTERNATIONAL OLYMPICS, 10AM-10PM (QG)

Softball, Whitewater, 1PM (H)

SUNDAY, APRIL 14

FESTIVAL OF THE ARTS, All Day (FAB)

Basketball, Edgewood College, 1PM (H)

Planetarium Series: GALAXIES, 2PM (Planetarium-Sci. Bldg.)

MONDAY, APRIL 15

Softball, Oshkosh, 3PM (H)

Career Serv. Workshop: Education Interviews: Presenting Yourself Effectively, 4-5:30PM (Nicolet-Marquette Rm.-UC)

UAB Issues & Ideas Mini-Course: Amateur Beer Making, 6:30-8:30PM (B112 Sci. Bldg.)

TUESDAY, APRIL 16

American Red Cross BLOODMOBILE, 11AM-5PM (Wright Lounge-UC)

Baseball, Viterbo College, 1PM (H)

Softball, Eau Claire, 3PM (T)

Career Serv. Workshop: Education Interviews: Presenting Yourself Effectively, 4-5:30PM (Nicolet-Marquette Rm.-UC)

"Women Leaders for the Future" Workshop, 6-8PM (Wis. Rm.-UC)

Rec. Serv. Table Tennis Open Singles, 7PM (Rec. Serv.-UC)

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 17

American Red Cross BLOODMOBILE, 9AM-3PM (Wright Lounge-UC)

Career Serv. Workshop: Resumes (Open to all students/any major), 3:30-4:30PM (134 Main)

Student Recital, 4PM (MIL-FAB)

Studio Theatre Prod.: TALKING WITH, 8PM (Studio Theatre-FAB)

Performing Arts Series: MANHATTAN RHYTHM KINGS, 8PM (Sentry)

UAB Visual Arts Presents: FLOWERS IN THE ATTIC, 8PM (Encore-UC)

For Further Information Please Contact the Campus Activities Office at 346-4343!!!

Spearfishing protesters could face arrest

Along with the threat of felony prosecution under federal law, protesters during this year's spring spearfishing season will, once again, encounter state enforcement personnel should they venture out onto the lakes.

Chief Wisconsin State Conservation Warden Ralph Christensen says a law enacted last year to protect those who lawfully hunt and fish is just one of many tools available for the state's on-water enforcement effort this year.

"It's been a year now since we put protesters on notice about what is and isn't tolerated under the anti-harassment law," Christensen says. "The people who still think they can actively obstruct the Chippewa's right to spear are going to find we've moved beyond the point of issuing warnings."

Christensen says protesters will be arrested for any act that seems intended to obstruct a spearfisher exercising legally acknowledged fishing rights. Specific provisions of the anti-harassment law prohibit persons from:

Harassing or disturbing a wild animal or fish in a way that prevents its harvest; obstructing a person engaged in lawful hunting or fishing; obstructing a person who is engaged in an activity associated with lawful hunting or fishing; disturbing the property of someone engaged in lawful hunting or fishing; or disturbing a lawfully placed hunting blind.

Like last year, Christensen says boaters who approach within 100 yards of spearing boats on the water run the risk of being cited for violation of the harassment law, or for violation of another law prohibiting the creation of hazardous wakes.

Protesters, observers and other unauthorized boaters who find themselves within 100 yards of a spearing boat will be expected to be operating at speeds no greater than "slow--no wake" he adds. Boaters are also advised they should not pass between spearing boats and warden boats acting as spearing boat escorts.

Penalties for violation of the anti-harassment law can include forfeitures of up to $1000.

The law also contains a provision that doubles the penalty for persons who knowingly disobey a state conservation warden's order to stop activities that disrupt the lawful exercise of hunting or fishing rights.

Christensen adds that state and local citations may only mark the beginning of a long and expensive experience with the justice system. State conservation wardens are sworn to uphold both the state and federal constitutions. As they enforce applicable state laws, Christensen warns, wardens will also be gathering evidence to be used by the U.S. Attorney's Office for the possible issuance of federal contempt of court citations.

"The federal authorities tell us they plan to treat violations of Judge Crabb's injunction as felonies," Christensen says, "and of course, those carry some penalties that can last a lifetime."

Swans

from page 6

a caged area until old enough to fly and migrate. There is human contact in the feeding and care of these pen-raised birds.

In the decoy program there is no human contact. The cygnets never see humans and are penned only at night. The birds are tended by a person in float inner tube concealed under a camouflaged dome that looks like a hump of marsh reeds. The birds are tended in this manner for about 14 weeks until they learn to fly.

An audio tape recording of adult swan alarm calls is used to simulate danger situations, to teach the birds predator avoidance.

"The biggest challenge to establishing a large population of trumpeter swans is lead poisoning. That's the achilles heel of the program," Matteson warned. "These birds are very susceptible to lead poisoning. Only one or two pellets can make the birds sick." Other problems the swans face are accidental shootings and powerline collisions.

The major concern is in reestablishing a migrating tradition. The released birds have no adult birds to lead them down the Mississippi River to wintering grounds.

"Some of our released birds have migrated down to Texas, and we have had sightings in Oklahoma and Missouri," Matteson said. "This year was a mystery as to where our Wisconsin birds wintered. Migration now is a fickle thing."

Wisconsin will again be collecting eggs from nests in Alaska. Matteson said the recovery plan calls for gathering up to 40 eggs per year through 1996. By that time he hopes to see an Interior Population flock of several hundred trumpeters.

Yearly costs of the program run some $80,000.

"THE ART OF TRAVEL PHOTOGRAPHY"
SATURDAY, APRIL 27, 1991
THE MEAD INN - WISCONSIN RAPIDS
 9:30 AM TO 3:30 PM
 Traveling from one city to the next, or internationally you'll find this workshop beneficial. CHARLES F. DAVIS will give you a history of travel photography, practical tips and encourages you to bring a sample of your work. Call (715) 421-2429 to register. Registration deadline is April 18th. Course fee is a special Pointer rate of $45 (reg. $55), with lunch included.

"EDITORIAL PERSPECTIVES"
SATURDAY - MAY 4, 1991.
THE CHALET RESTAURANT - WISCONSIN RAPIDS
 9 AM TO 3:30 PM
 with Daily Tribune Photographer, John Hart. Learn photo journalism technique and tips on getting your photos published. Learn creative perspectives. BE SURE TO BRING YOUR CAMERA ALONG! One 12 exposure roll of film will be provided. Call (715) 421-2429 to register. Registration deadline is April 26th. Course fee is special POINTER rate of $45 (reg. $55) which includes lunch and roll of film.

Tan & Tone

15 Park Ridge Drive
341-2778

TAN SPECIALS

10-20 Min Sessions - $30.00
10-30 Min Sessions - $40.00

Take advantage of this special offer! Limited time only!
STUDENT ID REQUIRED, EXPIRES 4/20/91

Great Savings!

Visit us at
3333 Main St.
Next to Len Dudas

Now with over 75 Locations throughout WISCONSIN, MICHIGAN, INDIANA, ILLINOIS, OHIO, NORTH CAROLINA, FLORIDA, KENTUCKY AND VIRGINIA

"Over 70 Million Sold"

the Best Value in Stevens Point

Full Size HAMBURGER
For Only 39¢ Plus Tax

M E N U
*HAMBURGER	1.39
*CHEESEBURGER	.59
*DOUBLE CHEESEBURGER	1.94
<small>Served with onion, mustard, pickle, tomato, lettuce, mayo</small>
DOUBLE OLIVE BURGER	1.23
<small>Served with onion, mustard, pickle plus tomato, lettuce, mayonnaise & cheese</small>
BIG DOUBLE DELUXE	1.19
<small>Served on a triple-decker bun with onion, mustard, pickle, ketchup, mayo and mayonnaise</small>
FRENCH FRIES	.57
Beefies Fries	.72
COKE, DIET COKE, SPRITE	.57
ORANGE ICE TEA (16 oz.)	.72
COFFEE (16 oz.)	.25
<small>Everyday Low Price Not for Alcohol</small>

Open Singles
TABLE TENNIS TOURNAMENT

Tues. April 16th
7:00pm

Cash Prizes!

RECREATIONAL SERVICES

346-3848

COUPON

49¢

DOUBLE CHEESEBURGER

The Double Cheeseburger is served with ketchup, mustard and onion. (Excludes sprouts.) Offer good at the following location: STEVENS POINT ONLY 3333 Main St. (Next to Len Dudas) Cash value of $1.00. Expires 4/30/91

COUPON

59¢

DOUBLE DELUXE

The Double Deluxe is served on a Triple Decker bun with ketchup, mustard, pickle, onion, tomato, lettuce & mayonnaise. Offer good at the following location: STEVENS POINT ONLY 3333 Main St. (Next to Len Dudas) Cash value of $1.00. Expires 4/30/91

COUPON

69¢

DOUBLE OLIVE BURGER

The Double Olive Burger is served with ketchup, pickle, mustard plus tomato, lettuce, mayonnaise & olives. Offer good at the following location: STEVENS POINT ONLY 3333 Main St. (Next to Len Dudas) Cash value of $1.00. Expires 4/30/91

SPORTS

Globetrotters show their stuff in Quandt

Another amazing dunk is displayed by a Globetrotter as an almost capacity crowd looks on. The Globetrotters performed many dunks, dribbling moves, fancy shots and crowd participation drills as they defeated the Washington Generals 106-91 in Quandt Fieldhouse.

A Harlem Globetrotter goes up to show his dunking ability. The Globetrotters entertained people of all ages with their talent and tricks as they made a Stevens Point appearance last night. (Photo by Kris Kasinski)

Baseball returns from spring trip 5-7

By Kris Kasinski
Sports Editor

The UWSP men's baseball team returned from their annual spring trip with a 5-7 record. Their twelve games were played at seven different Universities in Tennessee.

March 30 at Bristol College

The Pointers began the week long roadtrip splitting a double header with Bristol College in Bristol, Tennessee. UWSP lost the first game 4-3 and won the second game 7-3.

In the first game, Matt Kohnk went 1-2 with a 2 run home run. Tim Kohl, Russ Belling and Tim Hale (1 RBI) went 1-1 while Rick Wagner went 1-2. Rob Worff was the losing pitcher.

In the second game, the Pointers came back to capture the 7-3 victory. The Pointers were led by Ken Krug who went 1-2 with a 3 run home run and Rick Wagner who went 1-1 with a 2 run home run. Dean Lamers connected for hits two of his 3 appearances at the plate. The game winning RBI was credited to Wagner. The winning pitcher was Chris Combs, who gave up nine hits.

April 1 at Milligan college

In the first game of the day the Pointers defeated Appalachian State 5-1. They were led by Jeff Gorman who gathered 3 RBI's on the game by going 2-3 with a 2 run double.

Dave Schuett was credited with the game winning RBI. The winning pitcher for UWSP was Scott Eckholm.

In the second game at Johnson City, UWSP fell to host Milligan College 9-2. The Pointers came away with just 2 hits, compared to Milligan's 11 hits. Barry Rose and Ben Smejkal were the lone Pointers with hits, while Dave Schepp scored a run on a sacrifice fly. Joe Kimmeth was the losing pitcher.

April 2 at Tennessee Wesleyan

The Pointers traveled to Athens, TN to take on Tennessee Wesleyan in a double header, and once again recorded a split on the day. The Pointers pounded Wesleyan 11-4 in the first game, and were defeated 2-1 in the second game.

The leading UWSP hitters in game one were Dave Schuett, 3-4 with a 3 run homerun, Bill DuFour, 4-4 with 2 RBI's, and Ken Drug, 2-3. Travis Rosenbaum gave up just four hits to record the victory.

The Pointers had a 1-0 lead in the ninth inning of the second game, but Wesleyan scored twice in the bottom of the ninth to capture the 2-1 victory. Rick Wagner, Dean Lamers and Russ Belling were the only Pointers to reach base. The Pointers only run came on a fifth inning sacrifice fly by Ken Krug. Brian Quinnell suffered the loss in relief.

April 3 at Carson Newman

With just fourteen hits scattered throughout the game, seventeen runs were scored as the Pointers were handed a 10-7 loss. The Pointers trying to make a comeback after a 4 run Carson Newman eighth inning, scored twice in the ninth inning, but couldn't close the deficit. Dave Schuett, 2-4 with 2 RBI's and Bill DuFour, 1-4 with a 2 run homerun led UWSP in hitting. Craig Stubler suffered his first loss on the Pointer mound.

April 4 at Lincoln Memorial

For the fourth time in as many double headers, the Pointers came away with a split on the day.

UWSP won the first game 5-2 and were crushed 13-6 in the second game.

In the 5-2 victory, Bill DuFour, 1-1, knocked in 4 RBIs by smashing a grand slam. The Pointers other run came from Don Radomski, who went 2-3 in the ninth inning. Bob Johnson was the winning pitcher and Brian Quinnell recorded the save.

In the second game, UWSP was held to five hits, while Lincoln smashed twelve hits.

The Pointers were led by Tim Hale, 1-1, with a 2 run double and Dean Lamers, 2-2. The losing pitcher was Pete Clark.

April 5 at Tusculum

The Pointers scattered fifteen hits and scored thirteen runs to pound Tusculum 13-5 in Greenville, TN.

The leading hitters for UWSP were Dean Lamers, 1-3 with a grand slam, Don Radomski, 3-4 and Barry Rose 3-4. Chris Combs recorded his second win of the season on the mound.

April 6 at East Tennessee State

In the last double header of the spring trip, the Pointers scored just four runs in both games, and were swept by ETSU 7-0 and 10-4.

In the 7-0 loss, Rick Wagner, 2-3, and Don Radomski, 1-2, recorded the Pointers only hits. Travis Rosenbaum was the losing UWSP pitcher. ETSU reached base 12 times.

In the second game, the Pointers were led by Bill DuFour, 1-4, with a 2 run homerun and Rick Wagner, 2-3. Rob Wolff was the losing pitcher.

Leading UWSP hitters on the trip were Rick Wagner .333 (9-27), 2 home runs, Dave Schuett .323 (10-31), 1 home run, 3 doubles, jBill DuFour .320 (8-25), 3 home runs and Barry Rose .300 (6-20).

The Pointers were rained out on Tuesday against St. Norbert. A game was scheduled Wednesday at UW-Eau Claire.

Their next home games are Sunday at 1:00 p.m. at Lookout Park against Edgewood college, and Tuesday at 1:00 p.m. at Lookout Park against Viterbo.

Three Pointers named to NCHA All-Academic team

Three members of the UWSP hockey team were named to the Academic All-Northern Collegiate Hockey Association team.

To be named to the team, a player must have a 3.0 cumulative grade point average, have earned at least 50 semester hours or 75 quarter hours, and be recommended by his head coach.

Named to the team from UWSP were junior Monte Conrad, a business Administration major from Madison, junior Scott Krueger, a managerial accounting major from Des Moines, IA, and sophomore Grant McDonald, a managerial accounting major from Cowichan Bay, British Columbia, Canada.

St. Scholastica had five members named to the team, Bemidji State and UW-Superior had three members each, and Mankato State had two players named.

Track teams finish third at Coldman Invite

By Mark Gillette
Sportswriter

The UWSP hosted the "Coldman" Track and Field Invitational at Coleman Field on April 6. The men's team finished third behind UW-Eau Claire in an eight team field.

Men's
The men's team came back early from spring break to enjoy the beautiful weather conditions while competing in the meet. The Pointer men placed second in three events.

Scott Hellmich finished second in the 100 meter race with a time of 11 seconds. Chris Larsen got second for Stevens Point meter race, Matt Hamilton finished with a time of 15 minutes, 37 seconds to gain second for the Pointers.

In the hammer throw, Dan Bammert earned third place by throwing 145 feet, 4 inches. The 1600 meter relay team for Stevens Point placed third behind Eau Claire and Oshkosh with a time of 3:28.9 minutes. Colin Albrecht got third place in the 1500 meter race with a time of 4:17.2 minutes.

Others placing for the Pointer men were in fourth place: Kevin Mahalko in the 1500, Tim Bristol in the 110 meter hurdles, Marty Kershner in the 800 meter, and Blair Larsen in the discus.

In the fifth place for the Pointers were Scott Halverson in the shotput, Russ Lofquist in the pole vault, Larsen in the 100 meter hurdles, John Reimer in the 400 meter race, and the men's 4 x 100 relay team. Placing sixth for the Pointers in the 3000 meter steeplechase was Mark Guenther

Women's

The women's team came back early from spring break and Coach Hill was happy with their performance. He said, "I thought they did an excellent job of getting back into competition." There were five "Coldman" records broken at the meet and the Pointer's were a part of three of them.

One of those was the 1600 meter relay team of Sara Salaj, Julie Greco, Tami Langton, and Amny Voigt, who finished with a record breaking time of 4:02.7 minutes. Another record came from Langton in the 400 meter race. She finished with a time of 58.6 seconds. The last record that was achieved by the Pointers was from Salaj, who finished in 12.5 seconds in the 100 meter race.

Also receiving first place was Sarah Sonnemann in the triple jump at 34 feet, 4.5 inches.

Beth Meas gained second place in two events. In the javelin, Meas threw 12 feet, one inch. She threw 43 feet, 7.75 inches in the shot put. Voigt placed second in the 800 meter race with a time of 2:24.7 minutes for the Pointers.

The women's 4 x 100 relay team finished second with a time of 50.6 seconds. In the 300 meter race, Suzy Jandrin got fourth with a time of 11:03 minutes.

Hill commented, "I was very pleased and impressed with the performance of the team - it was a great day."

This week the Pointers will travel to UW-Eau Claire to participate in the Blue-Gold Metric this Saturday.

Intramural Corner

Womens Basketball Champs:
"Go like hell!"
row #1: Tina Anderson, Michelle Shauer row #2: Kris Loomans, Barb Brunette, Sarah Fischer

Mens Basketball champs:
"Rainmakers 1" "Deathsquad"
row #1: Greg Larson, ?, Mike Lalond, Brian Stock
row #2: John Schmitt, Jeff Jensen, Lance Kamanack

Coed Softball Tourney: Entry deadline: Thursday, April 18. Play is on Saturday, April 20, and Sunday, April 21.

April 21

Men's Softball Tourney: Entry deadline: Thursday, May 2. Play is on Saturday, May 4 and Sunday, May 5.

May 5.

Swim Meet - Men's & Women's: Entry deadline: Friday, April 19. Play is on Monday, April 22.

3 on 3 Beach Volleyball Tourney: Entry Deadline: Thursday, April 18. Play is on

Coed Indoor Volleyball Tourney: Entry Deadline: Thursday, May 2. Play is on Saturday, May 4 and Sunday,

All Tournaments include cash prizes and will have a set entry fee! Sign up at Intramurals.

Saturday, April 20 and Sunday,

RESERVE OFFICERS' TRAINING CORPS

START YOUR CLIMB TO CAREER SUCCESS THIS SUMMER.

Apply now for six weeks of Army ROTC leadership training. With pay, without obligation.

You'll develop the discipline, confidence and decisiveness it takes to succeed in any career. And you'll qualify to earn Army officer credentials while you're completing your college studies.

ARMY ROTC TWO-YEAR PROGRAM

THE SMARTEST COLLEGE COURSE YOU CAN TAKE.

Find out more. Contact: Major Ron Anderson
Room 204, SSB, 346-4016

Caufield named to All-American team

Paul Caufield, a junior forward on the UWSP hockey team, has been named to the Titan All-American Hockey team for the second year in a row. Last year he was named to the second team, and this year he was given first team honors.

Caufield played in 36 games this season, scoring 39 goals and dishing out 31 assists for a total of 70 points. He scored six power play goals, one shorthanded goal and collected nine game winning goals.

Caufield's career totals since starting at UWSP in 1988 are 36 games played, 99 total goals and 93 assists for a total of 192 points. He has scored 33 power play goals, two shorthanded goals, and fifteen game winning goals.

He broke UWSP's all-time scoring record, previously held by Ralph Barahona, when he scored his 97th career goal in the NCAA semifinal match against Babson.

He was the only Pointer to be named to the All-American team. Other NCHA players named to the team were Mankato State's Glen Prodahl, UW-Eau Claire's Alex Hicks, Bemidji State's Scott Johnson and Pat Cullen, and UW-Superior's Dave Esse.

Paul Caufield

Softball defeated by St. Norbert, UW-LaCrosse

UWSP vs. St. Norbert

Last Thursday, the UWSP women's softball team traveled to Deperre to take on the Green Knights of St. Norbert College in a double header. The Pointers fell to St. Norbert 6-2 in both games.

In the first game, the Pointers jumped out to an early two run first inning lead, and held on to this lead until the fifth inning when the Green Knights scored five runs to take the 6-2 lead that they would not lose. St. Norbert's other run came in the fourth inning. Both teams had nine hits and one error.

The leading hitters for UWSP were Michelle Krueger, who went 3-4 with one run scored, Kelly Anklam, 2-4, with one RBI, and Jennifer Struebling, going 1-4 with one RBI. Other hitters for UWSP were Kelly Rosenau, 1-2, Michelle Daane, 1-3, and Amy Schumacher, 1-2.

The losing pitcher for the Pointers was Michelle Krueger, who pitched six innings, allowing six runs, three base on balls, and collecting one strikeout.

In the second game, the Pointers once again were defeated by the score of 6-2. In this game, UWSP collected six hits, while St. Norbert reached base ten times. UWSP had one error and St. Norbert had three.

Leading the way for the Pointers was, once again, Michelle Krueger, going 2-4 with one RBI. The other Pointer run came on an RBI from Kelly Anklam, who went 1-4 in the game, including a double.

Kelly Rosenau, Tina Peters and Suzy Sevick each recorded one hit in the game.

Michelle Krueger was the losing pitcher in the game, pitching six innings, giving up ten hits, six runs, and two base on balls.

A game against UW-Platteville on Monday was rained out.

UWSP vs. UW-LaCrosse

Wednesday the Pointers were on the road facing the Eagles of LaCrosse in a double header. The Pointers lost the first game 4-3 and also lost the second game by a score of 4-3.

In the first game, LaCrosse jumped out to an early lead, scoring one in the first inning and two in the third inning. The Pointers came back scoring one in the sixth inning and two in the top of the ninth, but the Eagles managed to cross the plate in the bottom of the ninth for the victory.

Leading the Pointers were Joy Baerenwald going 2-2 and scoring a run, Tina Peters, 2-4, with one run scored and Michelle Krueger, 1-2 with one

RBI.

The losing pitcher was Ellen Paul, pitching seven innings, giving up four runs, five hits, three walks, and striking out three.

In the second game, the Pointers got on the scoreboard first, but the final result was the same, a 4-3 loss.

Michelle Krueger led the way going 2-2 with two runs scored, while Jennifer Struebling went 2-4 with 2 RBI's.

The losing pitcher in the game was Michelle Krueger, going the distance, giving up four runs and seven hits. She walked two and struck out one.

The Pointers next game will be Friday when they travel to UW-Oshkosh to battle the Titans. They play at home on Saturday when they host UW-Whitewater at 1:00p.m.

Please help.

The Red Cross Bloodmobile is coming to UWSP April 16th-18th and we could use your help. We need volunteers to serve food, help set-up, drive and more! The Red Cross Bloodmobile saves lives and you can be a partner in that. Please sign up to help at the University Information Center. Thank you for your help. You don't know how much we need you.

Need career experience?

Summer Camp Jobs HAVE IT!

The American Camping Association has openings across Wisconsin at

- ★ YMCA Camps
- ★ Boys Camps
- ★ Girls Camps
- ★ Camps for Disabled
- ★ Religious Camps
- ★ Boys Scout Camps
- ★ Girls Scout Camps
- ★ Campfire Camps
- ★ Days Camps
- ★ Specialty Camps

Gain experience on staff as:

- ★ Counselors
- ★ Life Guards
- ★ Craft Leaders
- ★ Camp Leaders
- ★ First Aiders
- ★ Nurses
- ★ Nature Directors
- ★ Cooks
- ★ Coaches

Enjoys activities such as

- ★ Boating
- ★ Fishing
- ★ Horseback Riding
- ★ Canoeing

For a full listing of Wisconsin A.C.A Camps, A contact person and the camp specialties, just call:

Kevin Bukatman
American Camping Association
414-964-4444

CLASSIFIEDS

FOR SALE

For sale: Canon Typewriter 5 electronic typewriter with AC adaptor. Like new. Red firenze precision drive 15 speed bike--hardly used. Leave message at 344-1704.

For sale: Gibson electric, Sigma Acoustic, 2 Peavy amps, DOD effects. Call 341-6528.

For sale: 75 Ford F250 $150 OBO. Call 345-7142 ask for Jared.

For sale: 1987 Honda Elite 50 scooter, Bought new in 1988. Excellent condition. 1,988 miles. $500.00 OBO. Call x-5762 or 884-2580 evenings.

For Sale: small refrigerator, stacked pressure bunks made especially for dorm rooms, and never been used bike helmet. Prices negotiable. Call 344-0121. Ask for Mike.

FOR RENT

House for rent: Available for summer and fall for 5 people. 3 blocks from campus. Call 344-3934 and ask for Mike.

For rent: 1 female to sub-lease single room spring semester of 1992. Only two blocks from

SUMMER HOUSING

Large 3 Bedroom apartment for 3 people. $265/person for entire summer. Call 341-1473

SUMMER HOUSING

Groups of 3-5. Private Bedroom near campus. Attractively furnished. $295 entire summer. We pay utilities. 341-3158 campus. This house is fully furnished and $750/semester. If interested, call Kelly at 341-3869.

Wanted: One or two female roommates for 91-92 school year to live in Village Apts. with two other girls. Preferably non-smokers. Would have own room. Call x2825.

HELP WANTED

WANTED: Student computer programmer. The UWSP Alumni Relations Office is searching for a student computer programmer for the 1991-92 academic year and beyond.

Please call x-3811 for more information. Deadline is April 26.

Defender Industries is now accepting applications for permanent part-time secretary. 12-15 hrs/wk, Mon, Wed & Fri. Typing, math and telephone skills a must! Start wage $4.75, deadline for applications is April 15. Apply at room 233 University Center.

1989 HONDA ELITE SCOOTER

Model SA50K, electric start, 256 original miles, 2-tone bright red/ shiny silver. Absolutely mint! $800 or best offer. 345-4171. Ask for Paul at the First Financial Bank.

Resume Service

Resumes
Cover Letters
Reference Lists
Envelopes

Resume Writing
Consultations

Hours by Appointment

Matthes Publishing
2941 14th Street South
Wisconsin Rapids
715-423-7125

PERSONALS

To the roomies, UAB-STERS, campus activities junkies, and my "buddy," thanks for all your support, help, encouragement, and lastly--the whop, during elections!!! You are all the greatest and I love ya!!! Super-tam!!!

Smooch, you are still the greatest!!! Let's have the time of our lives for the next month! ILY SMOOP!

SUMMER HOUSING

Single rooms, across street from campus. Reasonable rent is for FULL SUMMER and includes furnishings and utilities. 341-2865.

SUMMER CONFERENCE POSITIONS NOW OPEN

until Friday (4/19). Free room and $4.25/hr. Contact Housing office for applications or more information. Call 346-3511

FALL STUDENT HOUSING

Student housing for 5. Call 344-6398.

RESEARCH PAPERS

18,500 to choose from -- all subjects
Order Catalog Today with Visa/MC or CDD
Full Time: 630-351-0222
Hot Lines: In Calif. (213) 477-6228
Or, rush $2.00 to: Research Assistance
11322 Idaho Ave #206-SN, Los Angeles, CA 90025
Custom research also available--all levels

WE NEED SELF-MOTIVATED STUDENTS. EARN UP TO $10/HR.

Market credit cards on campus.
Flexible hours.
Only 10 positions available.

Call Now
1-800-950-8472 Ext. 20

ANCHOR APARTMENTS

Apartments, duplexes and houses close to UWSP. Excellent condition - recent remodeling. High-efficiency heating/weatherization. Professional management. Now leasing for 1991-92 school year and summer. Phone 341-6079/ 341-7287 for information and showings.

KORGER APARTMENTS

Summer vacncies. Single or groups. Nicely furnished. Well maintained and managed. 344-2899, 341-2248 or 345-0153

KLS TYPING PLUS

Resumes, term papers, brochures, newsletters, wedding programs, invitations, etc.
Laser printing. Reasonable rates. 341-2171

YOU CAN FALL IN LOVE WITH A JOB!!

A boys' summer camp in Northern Wisconsin is looking for fun, conscientious, responsible people for the following staff positions:

- * EXPERIENCED LEADERS FOR WILDERNESS CANOE AND BACKPACK TRIPS. Explore the North Country of Wisconsin, Michigan, Lake Superior, Isle Royale, Boundary Waters, Canada and more!
- * MOUNTAINEERING INSTRUCTOR: Climbing wall for belaying and repelling
- * COUNSELORS/ INSTRUCTORS: Teaching skills in one or more of CANOEING, GOLF, PHOTOGRAPHY, POTTERY, TENNIS, SAILING, WATERSKIING.
- * ASSISTANT COOK * MAINTENANCE * DRIVER

Compensation includes salary, room/ board, and transportation allowance. FOR APPLICATION & FURTHER INFORMATION, CONTACT: Camp Timberlane, 2105 W. Marne Ave., Milwaukee, WI. 53209 or call (414) 228-9111 days or evenings. Come join the fun

—Unique RESUME packages
— 4 in all —

Example: PACKAGE #1

- Preparation of One-page master
- 25 copies on your choice of our Specialty Quality papers
- 25 matching blank envelopes
- 25 matching blank cover sheets
- Storage on disk for future alterations or changes (within one year)

$25.00

A package to serve everyone's needs. Large selection of fine laid, linen, parchment, and Executive Class papers.

Impress your potential employer with a professional Resume and Cover Letter from the....

COPY CENTER

101 Division St. N. Phone 344-5135 Hours: Mon.-Fri. 8-7
Stevens Point, WI FAX 344-5441 Sat. 9-5
Located only one block from Campus

"Your Strongest Housing Deal!"

Hurry! Time is Running out!

NAUTILUS Fitness to be completed by August 91!

Keep cool in the pool! Discount Summer Rates!

341-2120

TRIVIA SPECIALS

Act Now - Limited Time Offer

Expires April 21, 1991

SMALL PEPPERONI* PIZZA

$3.⁹⁹

- * We will gladly substitute your favorite topping for pepperoni.
- No coupon needed or accepted just ask for the Trivia Special.

345-0901

• Tax not included

• Expires 4-21-91

MEDIUM
PEPPERONI* PIZZA

$4.⁹⁹

- * We will gladly substitute your favorite topping for pepperoni.
- No coupon needed or accepted just ask for the Trivia Special.

345-0901

• Tax not included

• Expires 4-21-91

LARGE
PEPPERONI* PIZZA

345-0901

$5.⁹⁹

- * We will gladly substitute your favorite topping for pepperoni.
- No coupon needed or accepted just ask for the Trivia Special.

• Tax not included

• Expires 4-21-91