FOREWORD

THE best that is found in this book is but a shadow of the ideal we have hoped to make true. The weakness is a challenge for those who follow to do better. If it awakens memories of happy hours, of friends among faculty and students, of well-spent efforts to gain the best development, then will the Iris staff feel its labors have not been in vain.

DEDICATION

Twelve years ago there came to this school a man, who, by his devotion to the school and by his constructive labor, has won the love and esteem of the student body. In recognition of this fact, do we lovingly dedicate this book to

FRANK S. HYER

PRESIDENT JOHN F. SIMS

Forward

The present moment in point of time is the dividing line between the past and the future. Each individual is at this moment the product of all of the influences of his past, heredity and environment, whether of home, church, school, books or companions. All of our yesterdays have shaped us to the mould of our present stature of manhood or womanhood. As we stand upon this dividing line and survey the future, and silently fashion our ideals, the vital question is, how shall those ideals be realized. There is no standing still in this life of ours. It is either advancement or retrogression, forward movement or backward movement. We are given the divine privilege of choice through sovereign will power. Too often we say we can not, because we will not. Let us arm ourselves for the struggle onward and upward. Let us highly resolve now, and strain every nerve to achieve, that our journey henceforth will be advancement, progression, and movement forward. Seniors:—"Forward" is emblazoned on the seal of the Badger State. Take it to heart as your motto. Then with honesty as a foundation, absolute faithfulness to go with it, and loyalty to high ideals as your driving power, you will press steadily forward until you have reached the height of your ambition—the full stature of manhood and womanhood.

JOHN F. SIMS.

Cheer Song

To Stevens Point, the school we love,
 Let's sing a song of praise,
 Tell of her many vict'ries won,
 And high her banners raise.
 We'll glorify our Alma Mater,
 Work for her with zest,
 And show to all the world around
 Old Stevens Point is best.

CHORUS

So let's join in a cheer
 While we're all gathered here,
 Cheer for old Stevens Point.
 We are ready to fight
 For the purple and gold
 Of dear old Stevens Point.
 For her honor and fame,
 And her glorious name,
 We will stand every loyal man,
 So let's cheer, cheer, the gang's all here,
 All out for Stevens Point.

Pictures of Junior Class

Heard by an Iris Reporter

Scene—The Normal Gymnasium.

Occasion—The Junior Reception to the Seniors.

(The Seniors, led by their honored and worthy president, Arthur Held, are bidding a last farewell to the Junior Class, drawn up in a long line near the west entrance.)

Held (grasping the hand of Paulson, president of the Junior Class)—In behalf of the class, I wish to thank you for the pleasant occasion. We have spent a very delightful evening. (To the entire Junior Class.) We all appreciate your efforts. (To the Seniors.) And to you I can only say that I am proud to have been your president this year. (Aside to Paulson.) Paulson, if you ever wish to ascend to this lofty position, I advise you not to neglect the POLITICS.

Paulson (in a stage whisper)—Leave it to me.

Held (still aside)—It has taken me two years to build up this system, but it is worth the effort, Paulson, worth the effort. Well, success to you!

Pope—Red, I suppose they've told you that I willed you a little of my surplus height?

Red—Yes, and while I don't wish to seem ungrateful, may I suggest that you will probably need it all next year. Really, the only part I could use would be your feet to get me to school on time. (Muffled applause.)

Voice—Don't need them either, Red. They'd only keep you away from classes, same as they do Pope.

Murphy—Be it hereby understood by all present that I refuse to yield my option on the most delightful seat in the main room.

Voice—If you will notify us whenever you intend to return to your Alma Mater, we will see that the seat is vacated for your use, Jim, for if there's one thing we hate it's a fight.

(Subdued murmurs and cries of "Be careful, there, he's Irish.")

Neale—Say, Parkhurst, did you know that Miss Kelley intends, in her search for knowledge, to gain such marks as will put even the worthy Miss Cone in the background?

Parkhurst—Yes, and she can do it, too. She has the advantage of having good old Irish blood in her veins, and nothing can stop the Irish, you know.

Fern Willet—I must thank you, Miss Nachtwey, for bequeathing to me the highly desirable seat in the northeast corner of the assembly, together with your attractive whistle.

Charlotte N.—You are very welcome to the seat, Fern. I was very sorry to have to part with my whistle, but I fear it would only be a hindrance to me. I wished some one to have it who would take care of it, and use it discreetly. Not only that, but the seat is so secluded and quiet that you may need the whistle to amuse yourself.

T. Moe—Thanks, Neuwald, for the gift of your enviable position as cheer leader.

Neuwald—You're welcome! Luck to you, and may your newly acquired position win you trips to River Falls and—elsewhere.

Voice—You yield your claims too easily, Neuwald.

Neuwald—Oh, I have many other interests, and I never liked River Falls, anyhow.

The Junior Class

Paulson (to Juniors)—You see, friends, what a noble ideal we must hold before us during the coming year. Our task is not small, but the glory is great, and when June appears the 1917 Seniors will have been put to rout, and our heritage will be a reality.

Just a few words in regard to the Junior class itself. It is one of the most versatile in the history of the school. We have athletes, orators, debaters, artists, and musicians. The class as a whole stands high in scholarship, and if you wish to see how we stand in regard to individual excellency, you have but to examine the Honor Roll. During the first semester a large percentage of Juniors received Honorable Mention, and the names of several appeared among those receiving excellent standing. We are all well represented in all four of the literary societies and in the Dramatic Club, and are taking active part in the work of these organizations. Several of the Pointer staff, including the editor-in-chief and the business manager, are Juniors, and you need but look at the Pointer if you wish to find a testimonial of their ability. Our class president is president of the Oratorical Association, the school orator for 1917, and the business manager of the Pointer. In the various musical organizations of the school the Junior class is well represented.

In athletics, too, members of our class have won glory—glory for themselves and for the school. They have been loyal, faithful, and hard working, but their efforts have not gone unrewarded, for from their number have been chosen all of the team captains for next year.

Just a word about that big annual event in which Juniors are the chief actors—the Junior Debate with Oshkosh Normal School. This subject will be more fully treated in another department of this book. Let it suffice to say here that we expected great things from the Junior Debating Team, and our expectations were realized in full.

The logo for the Sophomore Class features the word "SOPHOMORE" in a large, stylized, outlined font. To the left of the text is a small illustration of a basket containing various items, including what appears to be a flower and some leaves. The entire logo is enclosed in a rectangular border.

The Sophomore Class of 1916-1917 shows a great increase in numbers over the class of last year. This is due to the popularity of the High School Course. The Sophomores met November 20, 1916, and elected the following class officers: President, William Metzger of Grand Rapids; Vice-President, Irene Colvin of Marshfield; Secretary, Bernard Christiansen, Stevens Point; Treasurer, George Strom of White Creek. Later Joe Ritger was elected Sergeant-at-Arms. Upon withdrawal of Irene Colvin from school at the end of the first semester, Marie Mechler of Marshfield was elected Vice-President.

The Sophomores lead all the rest
In work, in fun, in play and jest.
They work to win the best of grades,
Oh, may their glories never fade!

In football eagerly they share,
To win the games they work with care.
In basket ball they work with zest
To help the school they love the best.

Of orators our class can boast,
Of singers there is quite a host.
With smiles and glances gay and bright
The Sophomores work for the right.

Pictures of Sophomores

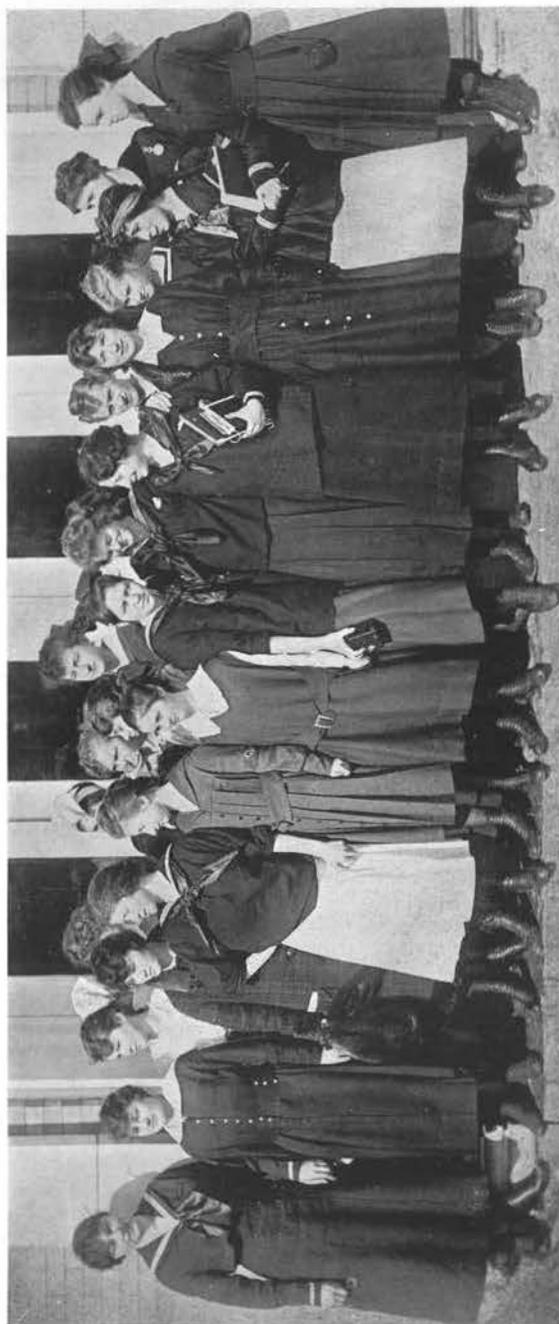

Once upon a time, to the Stevens Point Normal School came some sub-freshmen. Their manners were shy and retiring and they appeared like startled deer not knowing where to go. Everyone stared at them and said, "How pitifully young and childish they seem!" This frightened the poor sub-freshmen more and more.

Pretty soon a tall, beautiful form named Courage passed by and taking them by the hand, said to them, "You poor children! My heart aches for you, for I can see that you know not where to go, or what to do. Come with me and I will help you." The sub-freshmen gladly obeyed him and soon believed themselves to be a part of the school. One day, one of the younger sub-freshmen, attended by her hand maidens, Health and Happiness, saw a tall foreboding spirit approaching her. At first she feared this spirit, Hard Work, very much, but after Health and Happiness had made her acquainted with him, she felt as if she had known him all her life. Before long all of the sub-freshmen came to know Hard Work and to love him. All year, Health, Happiness, and Hard Work clung to them, and soon Good Deeds came to join their number.

The next year these timid sub-freshmen had grown into sturdy freshmen and feared no one. Hard Work was still a good friend and helped them through Geometry, European History, and Physics. Very soon School Spirit seemed to enjoy himself fully as much with them, as with any other class. Finally the year 1916-1917 drew happily to a close. At this time, every one agreed that the chief basket ball stars were Katherine Gibbons, Isabel Polebitske, and Frances Herman. Two of the chief grinds were Alice Higgins and Marjorie Harmon. The champion skater and high school fan was Ruth Brady. The faculty's friend was Janet Van Hecke, while the faculty's chief care was Archie Hubbard. They even had among their number some who were witty and made it their business to amuse their respective classes. These were Anton Schreiner and Isabel Pavlowski. There were industrious students—Blanche Docka, Wanda Kerchewski, Mabel Leary, Dorothy Somers, and Marcella Glennon. There was an all star mathematician, Mayme Cartmill; a class yell leader, Marion Pease; and a geometry shark, Margaret Burke. There were even poets, Tessie De Base and Frances Petatz. Lovers of social life were Anna Patzer and Loraine Morrissey; inseparables, Marie Eichinger and Grace Anderson. The worthy class officers were, President, Mabel Leary; Vice-President, Dorothy Somers; Treasurer, Helen Burns.

RURAL SCHOOL DEPARTMENT

Rural Teachers Training Department

The Rural Teachers Training Department is now the largest department in the Stevens Point Normal School. This department was organized in the fall of 1912, and has had the most rapid growth of any department in the school. The enrollment for 1916-1917 reached the grand total of one hundred and fifty-six students of whom ninety-two will graduate this June.

The purpose of this department is to train for better teaching in the rural schools of the state of Wisconsin. The aim is to interest earnest, capable, energetic young men and women in the opportunity for service and professional progress which the rural schools now offer and to fit them for this service. That the purpose for which the department was organized is being fulfilled is adequately proved by the fact that our graduates are making good. Also various county superintendents have made requests for graduates of our department to fill vacancies in different localities. The demand for qualified teachers is far in excess of the supply.

The courses now offered in this department are, a one-year course for high school graduates, a two-year course for students holding eighth grade diplomas, (this course will probably be made three years in the near future), and a two-year course for high school graduates. The last named course entitles graduates to a life certificate besides a bonus of ten dollars a month for the first year and fifteen dollars a month for each succeeding year.

The record made this year by the members of this department in the various school activities has been an excellent one. Our members have acquitted themselves creditably in literary work and societies, in musical work and dramatic productions, in debating contests and also along the lines of athletic endeavor. We have representatives on the football and track team, and on three of the debating teams representing the Stevens Point Normal School. Students from our department entered the oratorical contest and made a good showing. The girls' basketball team was stronger than ever, and proved a worthy match for the other department teams in the tournament and won second place. Many of the girls are members of the Y. W. C. A., Ohivesa, Arena, Loyola, and Treble Clef societies, and take an active part in affairs of these organizations. Practically all of the boys are members of the Forum Athenaeum Society, and take an active part in the orations, debates, programs and other things which this society conducts.

The loyal, conscientious, co-operative spirit shown throughout the entire department has been one of the most pleasant features of the school year, and the graduating class will take with them many pleasant memories of OLD STEVENS POINT NORMAL.

Second Semester

Of all classes that have graduated from this department none have exceeded this one in numbers. There is not one of our class of ninety-three but that prides himself upon his persistency. This is manifested by the fact that one of our students had a higher average than any other Normal student, for the first semester of this year. Three of our members have gained fame by winning places on the debating team representing S. P. N.

Mr. Neale says: "This is the best looking class I have ever seen." (Probably he says that to all of his classes.) We firmly believed this until we had our pictures taken. Upon asking the photographer why we had to wait so long for our pictures, he informed us that he had had to spend so much of his time repairing the broken plates that it was impossible to get the pictures out any sooner.

When it comes to athletics we're right there. We have a girls' basket ball team that is capable of holding its own with the other teams of the Normal. Even though they have met with some defeats they have put up a good fight and have shown their ability.

The first part of the year we held a class meeting, choosing our class officers, colors, and motto. Our colors are pearl gray and pink; the motto, B square.

Second Semester

The Junior Class of 1917 boasts of an enrollment larger than any previous class has registered, the number being sixty-five. Although large, the class is proud of the unity and spirit shown.

The Juniors were represented on the Girls' Basket Ball Team, which worked its way to the front, winning second place in the tournament. The enthusiasm displayed gave evidence of the spirit which the class as a body put forth in boasting for the department's team.

Among the social events might be mentioned "The Hour Parties," especially the Bird Party, the Indoor Marshmallow Roast, the Word Party, and the March Hare Party. These social gatherings, under the supervision of Miss Rademacher, were held fortnightly, on Tuesday or Thursday evenings, between the hours of four and five. Aside from the enjoyment found, these meetings gave the Juniors who came as strangers to Stevens Point, opportunity to become acquainted with every member of the class at a very early date.

The indications are that the class of 1918 will be a banner class.

Watch them move "Forward."

BOY'S ATHLETICS

RAYMOND FAIRCHILD—"FAIRIE"

Mr. Fairchild is one of our assistant coaches and great credit is due him for the record of our team this year. He is an old football star himself, having played end for Wesleyan College of Illinois. To know of his ability along football lines one need only come to the field after school and watch him handle the pigskin like a plaything.

GEORGE D. CORNEAL

George D., our head coach, is a man of exceedingly clever ability. In athletic circles he is spoken of as the big man of the middle West. Georgie is short but he doesn't believe in short practice. He puts pep into his students and a better man with the boys is not to be found in Wisconsin.

CHARLES F. WATSON—"WATIE"

"Watie" sure is a big man and as our assistant coach he is of great importance to our coaching staff.

"Watie" formerly played tackle on the University of Chicago team. His methods of football have been taught to a great many of the players of old S. P. N.

Captains '16-'17

LESLIE SCHALLBERG—"SHALLIE"

"Shallie," commonly called the big Swede, is a handsome boy with sandy hair. During the past year as captain of our football team, he led the team, as few captains have led their teams, to victory.

He was always ready to take the chances of the game. He has for two years proved his worthiness to the team.

WALTER STEWART—"STEW"

Here's to our basket ball captain, Walter Stewart, who is a captain long to be remembered. He has always been ready to do what he could for the team. He played the position of guard for two years and there are few men in the state that can compete with him for this position.

"Stew" has completed two years with the team and will be back again next year.

SIDNEY EAGLEBURGER—"SID"

We can't tell you much at this time about "Sid," as our track captain, but we all feel safe in saying that Sid's ability in track will help him to make an excellent captain.

There is no man in the school today or has there been a man that is as fleet of foot as our little Sidney.

When the conference meet is held, we know that this plucky little captain will lead our boys to victory.

JAMES MURPHY—"JIM"

"Jim" is built upon the beef type—there is lots of him in a small space. For the past three years he has filled the position of guard and always gets the big men.

At River Falls this year he put his 150 pounds of solid muscle against 260 pounds of fat that his opponent carried and never looked the worse for it. We all are sorry that Jim graduates this year.

JOSEPH POPE—"JOE"

"Joe" has completed three years of football with the school, two years as fullback and one year as left tackle. It will be a loss to the team to have Pope graduate. His services will long be remembered by the school and his team mates.

"Joe" is an old veteran at the game and it will be hard to find a man as cool and steady in a game as he.

ELMER ELLIS—"ELLIE"

"Ellie" is from Illinois. For the past two years he has held down the positions of half back and end.

"Ellie" was badly hurt during the last season but such things as broken ribs can be bound together. A little matter like this could not keep our sister state lad out of the game.

Ellis will be with the team again next year and we know he will pick off pigskins from the aerial route.

LESLIE HOUGAN—"DOC"

"Doc" has been with the team for two years, filling the position of center as very few men have done before him.

It is a pleasure to us all to know that Doc will fill the position of captain, a position and honor which he has well earned. Best wishes, Doc, for a successful season this fall, 1917.

SIDNEY EAGLEBURGER—"SID"

The little quarterback, who has completed two years will be with us again next year.

It takes "Sid" to keep the boys pepped up. Many a time we have seen him catching a punt and scurrying down the field to cross the goal for a touchdown.

WALTER STEWART—"STEW"

Our big guard who mows 'em down as the reaper does the grain.

"Walt" was unable to play in all of the conference games because of injury to his back in one of the early games.

"Stew" has played with the team for two years and will be back again next year.

CHARLES BURNS—"CHAS"

Charlie has been with the team for two years and will be back again next year to fill the position of left end.

There are very few men that go around Charlie and he always can be seen with his arms around a man's ankles.

WINTHROPE REYNOLDS—"RED"

"Red" is not tall or heavy but he sure is solid and when he hits an opponent it sounds like striking a solid piece of steel.

This is Red's first year with the team. It was his never dying spirit that keep the pep among the boys.

Scrap was written on his face through all the season.

EARLE CHALK—"CHALK"

"Caruso" from Rock Island was with us for the first time and played the position of guard. Chalk will be with the team again next year and we expect him to play his opponents right off their feet.

EDGAR CLEMENT—"LITTLE RED"

"Little Red" is the smallest man in school but a big man in football. Red sure did have River Falls guessing when it took six men to down him.

This is Red's first year and next year it will take the whole River Falls team to pull him to the ground.

ERMIN SMITH—"SMITTIE"

This is Smittie's first year with the team. All his opponents will remember the big Dutchman, because "Smittie" is a nice little boy and only cusses his opponents in German so as not to hurt their feelings.

There is no man that "Smittie" has played against this year that cares to relate the game played against our right tackle.

HENRY HERTZ—"WOODEN SHOE"

"Wooden Shoe Hertz" as he is commonly called, is not so wooden when playing football. He played end on our team this year and it was his first year of football. Hertz took to football as a duckling does to water and next year we expect him to be a full grown drake.

CHARLES HORN—"CHARLES"

"Charlie" is long, slim, sleek, and slender with very little avoirdupois covering his many bones. When Charlie goes in at half back position it is like facing pointed spears to the man that tries to stop him.

Charlie will be with the team again next year and should be able to help win the championship.

WILLIAM METZGER—"METZ"

"Metz" is with us for the first time this year and will have two more years in which to battle for the purple and gold. He played center and every game he played he showed that he did not have to take a back seat for any of his opponents.

REX BEECKLER—"BEEK"

"Beek" never played previous to joining our squad. He developed rapidly and next year he will prove a hard foe for any of the conference teams.

ADOLPH NEUWALD—"IKE"

"Ike" never played football but he deserves credit and mention for his work as our yell master. Football and basketball enthusiasm is only obtained when "Ike" is there to draw it from the student body.

The Midnight ride of Paul Revere is nothing compared with "Ike's" dash to mass meeting from Bancroft on the Portage branch, after we had won the game at La Crosse. (Ask Ike to explain.)

Post Mortem

The second day after school opened, football togs were handed out and that same night about 42 boys were out on the field ready for work. For two weeks we kept up this practice and on the following Saturday we met our next door neighbors, Grand Rapids, and defeated them to the tune of 42 to 0. Our next game was with Chippewa Falls who had lots of fight but were easily defeated by a score of 26 to 0.

The following Saturday, however, brought sad events. Our team journeyed to West Depere on the Green Bay and Western, and a hard battle was fought against the St. Norbert's team, but our boys finally lost by a score of 12 to 6. This game was one of the dirtiest games our men ever played. Pope and Ellis were both badly hurt and had to be left behind in the Green Bay hospital.

Games now followed in rapid succession. Our team left for River Falls and were met at Hudson by a number of loyal students who had made the trip the night before in their side door Pullman limited. Arriving at River Falls, the team took a sweeping view of the metropolitan city from the eighty-fifth floor of the Gladstone hotel, a frame building forty-seven hands high.

That afternoon the boys went out upon a field of mire and slush to play. It had snowed the day previous and a brisk wind was blowing when the boys entered this plot of ground.

The game was a hard fought fight from start to finish and should have (as many true sportsmen would have said) ended in a tie 0 to 0. But luck handed them the game on a silver tray to the score of 7 to 0.

Our next game was with La Crosse at La Crosse. The team on this trip was again accompanied by a couple of loyal rooters and at La Crosse were a number of old S. P. N. graduates who loyally rooted as of old. The game was nobody's game until the last three minutes. La Crosse started by getting a safety giving them two points, and toward the end of the quarter Stevens Point scored a touchdown. Then the game was a see-saw, back and forth, till the last few minutes, when Stevens Point again made a touchdown by the aerial route, Shallie to Hertz.

At Lawrence we were again beaten, it being our third hard game in succession. The score was 26 to 0 in favor of Lawrence.

Our last game played was at Stevens Point with Superior. The game ended Superior 0, S. P. N. 73. In this game Red Reynolds scored two drop kicks, and Pope kicked 10 goals out of 10 trails. The Oshkosh game was cancelled because of a snow storm a day before the game.

Hougen played against five different men at La Crosse. (Murder will out—Doc.)

Shallberg makes an eighty-five yard run from the kick off, in the Superior game.

Murphy receives a severe headache at La Crosse. (Peruna and pop.)

Pope makes all goal kicks except one during entire season.

Hertz and Smith were captured by La Crosse girls. (Harry gets the watch.)

Metzger and Chalk find bed tied to the ceiling in La Crosse. (Sweet dreams, boys.)

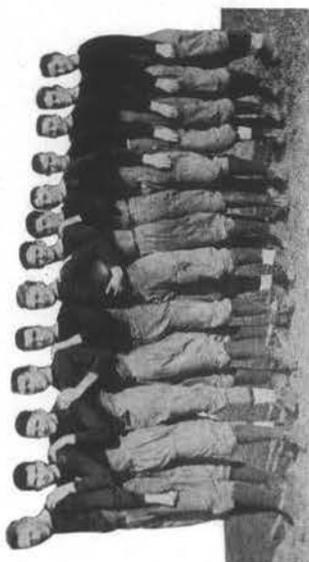

1917

JOSEPH POPE—"JOE"

Joe is the oldest man on our team, this having been his third year at the pivot position. Joe graduates this year and it will be a great loss to the team not to have him back. There were no men that he played against this year or previous years that were able to outjump him and this was a great source of help to the team in winning their games. He is a very dangerous man on the floor and it takes the entire time of his opponent to cover him.

WALTER STEWART—"STEW"

Walter Stewart, this year's captain, is long to be remembered on account of the way he led his team to victory through the games of this season.

"Stew" has played on the team for two years filling the position of guard, and there were very few baskets scored against him.

LESLIE SHALLBURG—"SHALLIE"

"Shallie" has completed two years of successful basket ball with the team, one year as guard and one year as forward. In both positions he has played a stellar game.

There is not a better pair of guards to be found in the state that can play both the offensive and defensive game that "Shallie" and "Stew" played this year.

HENRY HERTZ—"WOODEN SHOE"

"Wooden Shoe," the long rangy southpaw forward, has filled his position well for two years. In many of the games when his man was watching his right, Hertz deceptively let go with his left thereby scoring baskets.

He plays the floor well and is always well up in scoring points for his team.

MAXIMILIAN GIEDLINSKI—"MAX"

"Max" played with the team for the first time this year, having formerly played with Ripon College. Max played forward. He graduates this year and it will be a great loss to the team. He is short and light but nevertheless he was one of the trickiest men in the conference.

WINTHROPE REYNOLDS—"RED"

"Red" hails from Carroll College, having played with them before coming here. Red was alternate man at guard and it is a sorrowful thing that more than five men are not playing on a basket ball team because Red surely deserves a place on the team.

This is his first year with the team. Next year he will be a hard proposition for any man in the state.

ERMIN SMITH—"SMITTIE"

"Smittie" hails from the Grand Rapids H. S. team and last year was chosen all-state center of high schools. Next year he will be seen at the pivot position, a place which he will be able to fill and in which he will play a strong game.

CHARLES BURNS—"CHARLIE"

"Charlie" will be with the team again next year and his playing will be a big help. To show Charlie's endurance we need only to look back to the Medford game. Charlie played on the second team winning the Medford game and then played on the first team against Stout. In both games he played a flashy and consistent game.

With the close of the football season all attention turned toward basket ball. With four men to start with from the team of the year before and a splendid amount of new material to pick from, the team was selected and the men were out for practice every night developing team work which was shown in splendid form throughout the season.

The first team met by our boys was the Lawrence College team. They were given a thorough trouncing by our boys on their own floor. This was a bitter defeat for Lawrence and it was the third defeat in two years. Later in the season we gave them their fourth defeat in two years. (Hard luck, Lawrence.)

Games followed in rapid succession and our boys were always victorious at the long end of the score. We won all of our games and the town people were so enthusiastic over the team that they arranged a game with the strong St. John's Military team who hadn't lost a game. St. John's appeared upon the floor with five tall warriors and they were soon defeated two to one by our quintet.

Later, the team journeyed to River Falls to play the team there. Three weeks previous, our boys easily defeated the River Falls team, but when they met on the River Falls floor it was a different story..

Any one who has ever played there can tell you their attitude. It is win at any cost. We do not blame our boys for the defeats received from River Falls.

The playing throughout the season was splendid and the team was one of the best, if not the best, team in the history of the school. The team was as one family of brothers and Coach Corneal was one of the boys on all the trips. Toward the close of the season our coach was assisted by Mr. Leevis, a recent University of Wisconsin star.

Interscholastic Basketball Tournament

The third annual Central Wisconsin High School Basket Ball Tournament was held at the Stevens Point State Normal School Gym on March eighth, ninth, and tenth.

It was, without a doubt, a record breaker and the best held in the state for some time.

Most of the high schools, having figured in previous tournaments here, were represented and in addition to these, four new teams: Ladysmith, Rib Lake, Medford and Merrill. The others teams were, Iola, Grand Rapids, New London, Wausau, Tomahawk, Stanley, Waupaca, Marshfield and Stevens Point, making a total of thirteen strong, fast, aggressive teams.

Each team consisted of at least seven athletes and was supported by a large number of wide-awake rooters, so that Stevens Point had about two hundred and fifty visitors.

On Thursday afternoon, March 8th, the tournament started and after a series of six games Iola, New London, Tomahawk, and Rib Lake were eliminated by Wausau, Ladysmith, Merrill, Grand Rapids, Stevens Point, and Stanley. Wausau played two games, winning the first from Iola, and losing the second to Stevens Point by a score of 12 to 16.

On Friday, Ladysmith was defeated by Grand Rapids in a close and hard fought game. Ladysmith was a strong contender for the honors but Grand Rapids played a more finished game and won by a score of 29 to 15.

Merrill was defeated by Marshfield in a fast and clean cut game, 23 to 15. This was Merrill's first year at basket ball and they certainly made a good showing. Stevens Point lost to Stanley.

On Saturday morning Grand Rapids lost to Waupaca and Stanley defeated Marshfield. The Grand Rapids team was picked as the winners, as they were the year before, but the Waupaca bunch got the jump on them and won 13 to 11. Stanley easily outclassed Marshfield.

At night Stanley and Waupaca battled for first and second places, Grand Rapids and Marshfield playing for third place.

The game between Waupaca and Stanley was what you would call a whirlwind and ended 12 to 11 in favor of Waupaca. Grand Rapids easily defeated Marshfield, thereby securing third place.

At the close of the tournament, President John F. Sims of the local Normal school, gave a short speech, after which he presented the winning teams with the trophies.

Waupaca received a fine engraved shield, having won first place, and the individual members of the team were given gold watch fobs. Stanley won second place and each of the men was given a silver watch fob. Grand Rapids won third place and they were given bronze fobs.

George Holman of the Stevens Point team was selected by the judges as the man who seemed to be of most value to his team. He received a handsome loving cup.

The Ladysmith team received the cup for appearance and conduct.

Professor Corneal, our coach, officiated at all of the games, and by his efforts the tournament was carried through with great success.

Track

There are probably few who know really what a track team is like, but they will soon see, for we shall have about fourteen high school teams here competing for the large Pasternacki cup given to the team winning first place. When this event is staged the students will be able to understand and appreciate the work done by our boys.

We have several stars with us this year—such as Eagleburger, Chalk, Ellis, Klug, Bacher, Kelsey, Horne, and Paulson. All these men are fast men and out of them, four will be chosen for the relay team which will enter the Pennsylvania meet.

Sid is the captain of this year's team, and together with the rest of the boys is working hard every night out of doors on the fair ground race track.

Never before in the history of the school has the school been able to put forth a team as it will this year.

Coach Corneal is an old weather beaten warrior of the track himself and is instilling into the team all his knowledge of the work. Our expectations for accomplishment this year are high, and we expect to see our team win the state championship of the Normal School Conference.

While speaking of our athletes through these entire pages we have neglected and forgotten one other class of athletes who play and have played a big part in athletics of the past year.

The loyal rooters belong to this class and the student body never was more loyal or enthusiastic than during the past year and may this school spirit be prevalent again next year when our athletes take the field of battle.

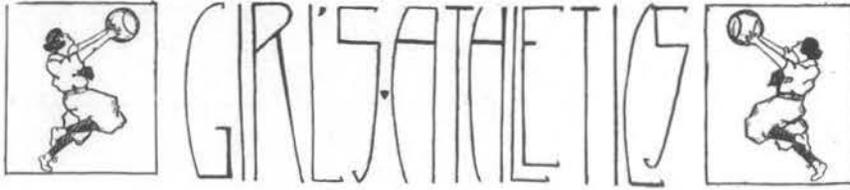

It should be our motto to speak of our school spirit, and we ought to develop such school spirit that other schools will look to us in astonishment.

This year a number of fellows and girls accompanied the team on trips and some of the fellows were so loyal that even though funds were low they managed to go with the team. The team is always glad to see the faces of at least three or four loyal rooters.

Going back to the athletes themselves, we all know that even though River Falls won both football and basket ball championships we still claim the better team.

So we look forward with enthusiasm to our track team to save the year by winning the state championship.

Go to it, track men, "We are all 'witcha'," so clean 'em up!

Physical Training

In offering physical training to our women students our aim is two-fold, namely, for the individual and for the teacher. For the individual we aim:

1. To correct common postural faults, without which work along other lines would be in part wasted.
2. To supply muscular exercise systematically.
3. To encourage proper habits regarding sleep, diet, ventilation, etc.
4. To develop as accurate a muscular control as may be possible in the available time.

For the teacher we aim:

1. To make clear and to impress the relation between health and efficiency.
2. To make clear the hygienic demand for systematic exercise and supervised play in the elementary schools.
3. To supply as thorough an equipment of practical work for the teacher as time permits.

This equipment for teaching consists principally of devices for posture training of school children, games, rhythm work and folk dancing.

For the past two years a demonstration of the work done in the Normal classes has been held and the public invited. This year the demonstration was given on January 25th, two hundred and eighty girls representing the physical training department for the first semester participated.

An attractive feature in the physical training department, and one to which everyone looks forward with pleasure each year is the spring play festival. Last year an outdoor dramatization of the "Pied Piper of Hamelin" was substituted for the regular festival and given under the auspices of the physical training department.

The following teams competed this year: Home Economics, High School, Primary, Grammar, and Academic.

This year we are planning to run a tennis tournament. The need of new courts can not be too strongly emphasized. The two which we have do not begin to accommodate the number of girls who wish systematic practice. We hope next fall for the first time to make hockey an interclass contest. This English game for women is comparatively new in American schools, though it is fast gaining a permanent place in athletics in many of our colleges.

We need never worry in the Stevens Point Normal about girls coming out for athletics. All we need is space and equipment. The girls are enthusiastic. We had one hundred fifty-two girls out for basket ball. The limited number of practice hours due to constant use of the gymnasium for other things made it hard to give every one a chance to play and still to give the teams an opportunity to work together. We need a new gymnasium and we need some means of obtaining money for girls' sports.

The Y. W. C. A.

One Sunday afternoon in November, 1872, six young women sat in a student's room for the purpose of prayer. Other prayer circles followed. These meetings increased in attendance and helpfulness until a permanent organization was thought advisable in order that other girls entering school in years to come might find a group whose influence would strengthen and encourage them in their Christian living. Thus originated the Y. W. C. A. and today we are a world organization scattered over the globe—not a few girls struggling on alone, but a society numbering over 500,000 strong.

The work of the Stevens Point organization is carried on by committees, the chairmen of which with the president, the secretary, and the treasurer make up the cabinet under whose management especially good work has been done this year. The membership committee has worked so effectively that the enrollment has increased to one hundred eighty active student members and eleven honorary members from the faculty and the women of the city interested in the work.

A number of devotional meetings have been led by the Missionary committee. This committee has also given the society much interesting information regarding the work of the various missions.

The Social Service Committee has been more active this year than formerly and has accomplished much in helping young women not only in our school but also in our community.

The Finance Committee has managed its part with signal success. It has conducted a sale of Japanese wares besides sandwich and cake sales which have created much enthusiasm among the students. Under the direction of this committee the Swiss Bell Ringers gave a delightful entertainment.

The Program Committee in the performance of its important and responsible duties has by careful planning and knowledge of the ability of the various members provided interesting and helpful programs. Outside speakers were secured to address several of the meetings.

The Social Committee has demonstrated its ability by making the girls acquainted in September and by encouraging a friendly spirit throughout the year. This was accomplished by spreads, mixers, hikes, and parties.

Good Times

During the year many social functions were given. The first affair was a mixer given in the gymnasium on the first Friday after the opening of school. The purpose of this was to get acquainted and to extend a word of cheer to those who were away from home for the first time.

The membership campaign this year brought the greatest returns in the history of the school. The impressive candle initiation service held in the gymnasium in the fall was an indication of the work that was to follow. Other functions such as hikes, the Hallowe'en party, spreads, and informal receptions given by the faculty members have been enjoyed. Special mention should be made of the early morning hike to the Sanatorium where the Association was entertained by Mrs. Wallbridge. Other hostesses whose hospitality we have enjoyed are Mesdames Hyer, Collins, Culver, Delzell and E. T. Smith.

The Hallowe'en party was attended by nearly every member of the association and proved a very delightful occasion. The initiation of the new cabinet was an event of interest and was followed by a banquet for the entire association. This is to become an annual affair.

The present membership is large. One even greater is anticipated for next year, a membership so interested and enthusiastic that the Association will be a greater help to the girls than ever before.

LOYOLA

Delegate to Kearney,
Neb.

N. C. S. A. of A.

The Loyola Club began this school year with a membership of one hundred forty-five students and four members of the faculty, the Misses Flannagan, Shelton, Rademacher, and Walsh. The officers for the first semester were elected at the first business meeting were:

President .....	William Gilson
Vice-President .....	Bernadotte Donelly
Secretary .....	Gertrude Meagher
Treasurer .....	Dell Curtis

An executive Council was appointed by the president, which attends to the planning of social activities and other work of the club.

The Club's purpose is to promote a religious spirit among its members and to hold social gatherings where the young people may become acquainted.

Business meetings are held every two weeks. At these meetings programs, both musical and literary are carried on. Father Rice, the spiritual advisor, talked at one meeting. Other talks have been given by Miss Flannagan, Miss Shelton, and Mr. Neale.

The Loyola Club is affiliated with the Catholic Students' Association of America and William Gilson was sent as a delegate to the Convention in November, at Kearney, Nebraska. At this place is located a large State Normal School, where Mr. Delzell and Mr. Neale taught for some time. The convention was a very successful one. The principle speaker was Father Burke of Chicago. He is chaplain of the C. S. A., and editor of the Catholic Student, a magazine in circulation among the members of the Loyola Club and of similar clubs throughout America.

The social activities of the year have been successful as well as very entertaining. On October 13th, the nights of Columbus at the K. of C. hall gave the club a reception which was followed by dancing. This affair opened the club's social season and was soon followed by a Hallowe'en dance. Games and Hallowe'en tricks were played and later dancing ended the program.

On Saturday afternoon, January 14th, a matinee dance was given from 2:30 to 6:00. The Club also gave a fancy dress dancing party as a pre-Lenten social event on February 2d. The members dressed in Pierette costumes and dancing was enjoyed by all.

The Club is especially grateful to Miss Flannagan for her interested assistance and co-operation in making the work among students so successful.

Forum-Athenaeum

Previous to the fall of 1911 there were two boys' literary societies in the Stevens Point Normal school, namely, the Forum and the Athenaeum. The membership of these two societies was so small that it was decided to unite them and form one strong organization, which was called the Forum-Athenaeum.

The purpose of this society is to make its members more proficient along the lines of oratory, debate, and other literary work. That this purpose was carried out last year, under the leadership of Professor Delzell, is proven by the fact that all of the young men representing the Stevens Point Normal in oratory and debate, and those on the Iris and the Pointer staffs were members of this organization. The value of this training has again been demonstrated for the reason that all the young men who entered the preliminary contest in the Junior debate this year were members of the society. Two of the contestants succeeded in winning places on the team, namely, Tilden Moe and Henry Beglinger. Several of the members won places on the Triangular debating teams, and our school orator is also one of our number.

School opened last fall with an increase in the membership of the Forum-Athenaeum. Professors Swartz, Delzell, and Walter Smith have kindly taken part in helping to make this society the best in the Normal. President Sims has consented to give a quarter's credit in English to each member attending thirty meetings, and doing a certain amount of work.

Weekly meetings are held on Tuesday evenings at 7:15 o'clock. Programs are given consisting of debates, orations, parliamentary practice, current event reports, readings, and musical numbers.

One of the principal events of the second quarter was a banquet served by the girls of the Home Economics department. Plates were laid for forty-four guests. President John F. Sims was toastmaster of the evening. This is the first entertainment of the kind to be given by the Forum-Athenaeum.

The mock trial, which was given publicly on Tuesday evening, February 27, was well attended and enjoyed by all. We have Attorney Hanna to thank for his assistance in making it a success.

With a membership double that of last year, and with the assistance of our three faculty advisors, we expect to accomplish things hitherto impossible. Members of this society in the years to come will have as a goal, the accomplishments of the members of the Forum-Athenaeum of nineteen hundred sixteen and seventeen.

What the Arena Society is Doing

The fifty new members initiated into the Society last October learned what an enthusiastic crowd of girls partake of Arena activities.

The following officers were elected for the first semester and re-elected for the second half-year.

- President.....Charlotte Nachtway
- Vice-President.....Pearl Heffron
- Secretary.....Clara Wilhelm
- Treasurer.....Ann Roach

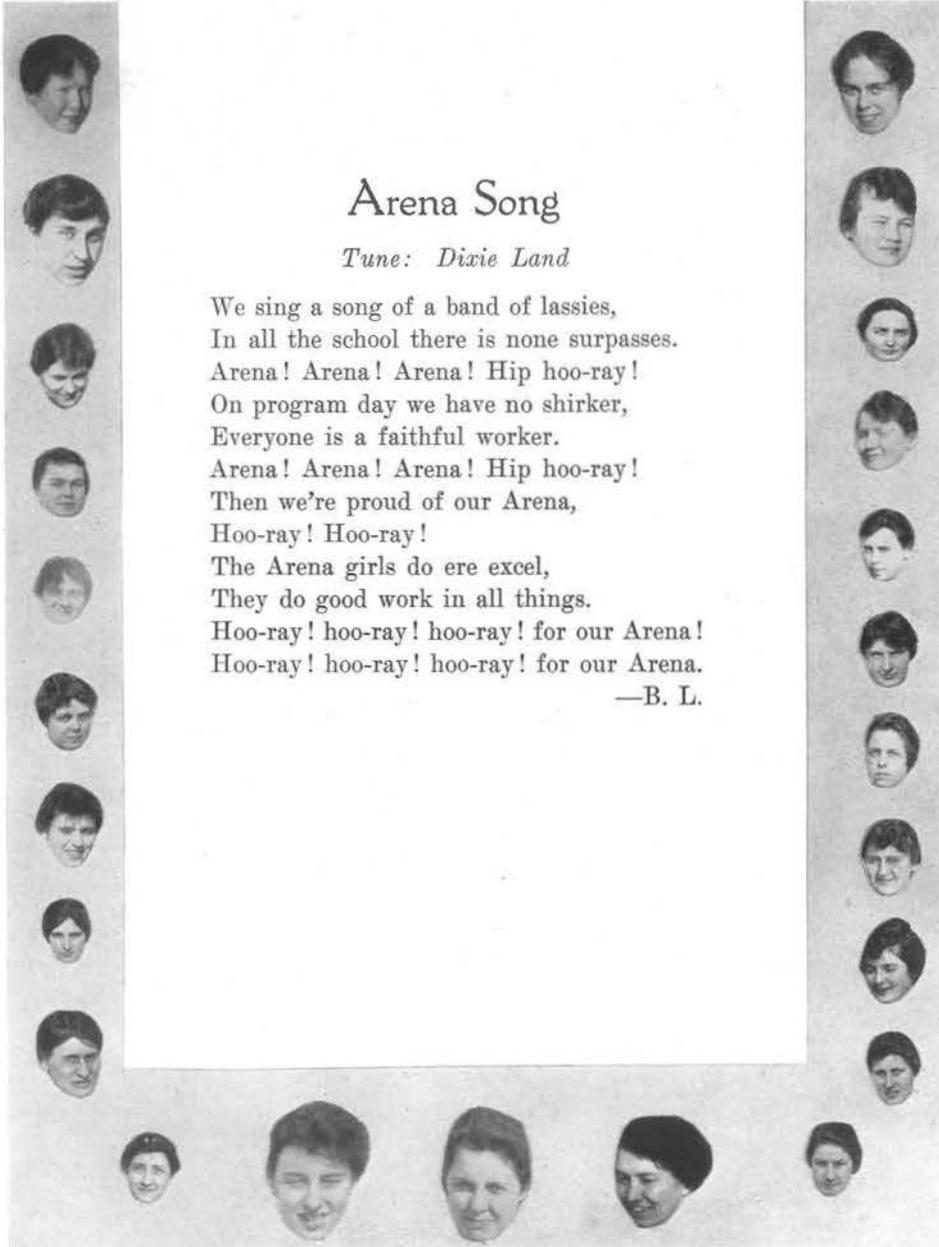

Programs are of an educational and an entertaining nature given at meetings held about every two weeks.

The "Night at the Gem" was very profitable, as the pictures of "Silas Marner" were a special attraction. During the high school tournament, the Arena girls had a "Day at the Pal." There were several "Arena Specials" on the menu, and the society was greatly benefited financially.

The Grecian type costumes, which the society has adopted are of white material, fringed, and bear a large letter "A."

A triangular contest in short stories, declamations, and orations, was held this year between the Ohiyesa, Forum-Athenaeum and Arena Societies.

Arena Song

Tune: Dixie Land

We sing a song of a band of lassies,
 In all the school there is none surpasses.
 Arena! Arena! Arena! Hip hoo-ray!
 On program day we have no shirker,
 Everyone is a faithful worker.
 Arena! Arena! Arena! Hip hoo-ray!
 Then we're proud of our Arena,
 Hoo-ray! Hoo-ray!
 The Arena girls do ere excel,
 They do good work in all things.
 Hoo-ray! hoo-ray! hoo-ray! for our Arena!
 Hoo-ray! hoo-ray! hoo-ray! for our Arena.

Work of the Year

The Ohiyesa Society was organized in 1905 by Lottie Deyoe. Since that time the membership has increased steadily until now it has reached one hundred twenty-five, making this the largest literary society in the school.

The initiation for the first semester was held in the gymnasium at the beginning of the year. This ceremony is very impressive: the girls promise to be loyal to their school, friends, teachers, homes and the society. The initiation for the second semester was held at Plover Hills, May 12th.

Our "Day at the Pal" this year was on May 19, at the time of the High School Track meet. Indian decorations were used and Indian dishes were served.

A series of three contests were held with the Arena and Forum-Athenaeum; first, a short story; second, a declamatory; and third, an oratorical contest. This contest was conducted by the Pointer Staff. The winning society was rewarded by having its picture in the Pointer.

Another successful event of the school year was the Ohiyesa night at the Gem theater. Indian maidens ushered the people to seats; Indian girls danced and a men's quartette sang. The theater was crowded and everyone enjoyed the time spent there.

A week before the close of school a meeting was held, and with a most impressive ceremony five of the Senior members appointed a like number of Junior Ohiyesa girls to carry on the membership work the following fall. This ceremony will be held each year and will be one of the most impressive as well as the most important events of the school year.

We urge the future members to keep our society up to the high standard it has attained, that of the strongest and best in S. P. N.

—MAUD MATHE.

Ohiyesa

Ohiyesa, child of Nature,
 Welcome gives, to all those maidens
 Who will hold her honor sacred;
 Those who ever will be faithful
 To the vows of the great order.
 Those strong bonds with which you bind us
 Founded are, on motives worthy,
 Those of service for each other,
 Those of thinking, high and noble,
 Those of loyalty to others,
 To our friends, our school, our teachers.
 With the passing of the seasons,
 When no longer we shall gather
 Round the embers of our camp-fire,
 Still the name of Ohiyesa
 With its mystic charm, will bind us
 In a union, strong, enduring,
 Founded on undying friendship
 And of love for our great order.

ORATORICAL

Oratory

One of the standards by which the normal schools of the state are judged, is the attitude which they take towards public speaking. The Stevens Point Normal school can feel justly proud of the records it has made in this activity the last two years.

As the time for the local oratorical contest drew near, much interest was aroused and on the evening of January, the eleventh, ten orators contested for the honor of representing their Alma Mater at the state oratorical contest.

The decision of the judges gave third place to William Gilson, second place to James Hull, and first place to Martin Paulson. This was the second time that Mr. Paulson had been chosen as school orator. The school, as a whole, felt satisfied that we were so ably represented at the state contest which was held at River Falls on the sixteenth of March.

Fifteen members of the student body and faculty accompanied our orator over snowbanks, in stalled railway trains to the seat of the contest and testified to our sister normals that we were proud of our city, our school, and our speaker.

The result of the contest at River Falls gave Superior first place, Stevens Point second, La Crosse third, and Platteville fourth. Although we did not win first place we feel that Mr. Paulson has brought honor to his school and placed her in the front rank among her sister normals in oratorical work.

Mr. Paulson will also act as delegate and alternate to the business meeting at the interstate oratorical contest to be held at Emporia, Kansas, May 5th.

Emancipation for Two Million Americans

One of the fundamental principles of the American government is equality. From 1861 to 1865 the nation wrestled in the throes of rebellion and decided that the negro need no longer be the white man's slave. Today we are confronted with a problem of human conservation far greater in importance than the negro problem of '61, one that should not be lost sight of amid the intense excitement and emotion incident to the present war; for the final solution of this paramount problem is certain to determine the destiny of America. It demands the support of every liberty-loving citizen.

While we claim that here no class distinctions prevail, we must admit it is but an idle boast. Everyone who has given the matter serious consideration knows that, even for little children, there are two distinct classes; the one has all that makes life worth living; the other, deprived through economic conditions, of the training of school and home, knows only suffering and privation. To such children as those, the name "America" does not symbolize freedom, liberty and happiness, but rather an eternal round of misery and woe.

It is for these unfortunate toilers who are responsible for neither their birth nor their condition of existence that I beg to be heard today. I do not speak to you as a Republican, a Democrat, or a Socialist; but as a law-abiding citizen of a beneficent democracy whose fundamental aim is justice, I plead in behalf of those thousands of unhappy American children who have been deprived of their God-given rights.

We proudly boast of America as the land of promise. We proclaim it the land of equality. We sing of it as the land of the free and the home of the brave. In our complacency, we look with horror upon oppression in foreign land and ignore the actual state of affairs existing in our own industrial world. To our shame be it said that in this boasted land of equality there are bonded baby slaves; that in this great American Republic, dedicated to freedom and justice, there are children who are denied the common right of breathing pure air.

At the present time, forty of our forty-eight states have child labor laws. But our national child labor committee reports that there is not one state whose endeavors to enforce these laws have been even approximately successful. This committee, however, commends Wisconsin by saying that she has enforced her laws the most efficiently. The majority of the states have merely placed the laws upon their statute books and have made no provision for their enforcement. This alone should prove the need for national regulation. But as soon as we ask to protect further the suffering children of this nation by federal law, many people object upon the ground that such a remedy would be attacking the "doctrine of state rights."

In answer to this objection, I wish to ask how the hog cholera that appeared in the Middle West was checked. Did the advocates of state rights object to having congress attempt to suppress the disease? No! they turned toward Washington and begged Uncle Sam to come to the rescue with all the knowledge and devices he could muster to fight the plague. Without one opposing voice, every one of these states immediately demanded national intervention to stamp out the cholera. Upon the demand, our obliging congress hurried to pass, and our president hastened to sign a bill appropriating five hundred thousand dollars to suppress the contagion, and no one questioned whether it was wholly within the province of the United States to give such protection.

Since such protection is afforded by our Federal Government to the thirty million swine, is it any less reasonable that protection should be afforded to the thirty million children of this nation, the children who have not the foresight to realize that their future is being blighted forever?

Then, too, our Government has already spent more than two million dollars in fighting the hoof and mouth disease of cattle. It has never spent so much in its entire history in fighting the child labor evils, yet every year factories, mines, mills, and quarries sap the very life from more than a hundred thousand children. But we say this cannot be stopped because it would be at variance with that precious doctrine of "state rights."

It is true that our last congress placed a law upon our nation's statute books, for the purpose of protecting American children who have begun the struggle for a livelihood. But many people who have been laboring for the betterment of helpless little children have said that the present child labor law is one in name only. Judge Lindsay, a man well capable of making comment upon the present law, says: "If the United States is to continue her leadership among the nations of the world, it is imperative that she protect her own children, and she can do this in but one way, by passing and enforcing a real child labor law, or constitutional amendment." Judge Lindsay further asserts that our present child labor law is but an empty form, for it does not, and it will not prohibit the evil. It merely prohibits products derived from child labor from interstate commerce for a period of thirty days after manufacture. This thirty-day clause has revealed itself as a joker to all who have given the present law earnest consideration. The law has been re-named the "Warehouse Act," for, instead of prohibiting child labor, it merely requires that goods produced by the children shall be stored for thirty days before they are placed on the interstate market. The ease by which the present law can be evaded makes it obvious that until Congress shall pass a child labor law which shall contain no loop-holes open to the corporations who put gain above the rights of youth, the crime of child slavery will be permitted to continue; Pennsylvania breaker boys will be left sitting over the coal chutes, picking slate from the coal as it rushes down the great troughs in a steady stream; our Wisconsin furnaces will continue to burn the coal stained by the bleeding fingers of the breaker boys.

Imagine, if you can, a boy sitting in a coal mine, imprisoned within the depths of the earth, without a single ray of sunlight, inhaling the air laden with coal dust, anticipating no bright future, and feeling no joy, but experiencing the same grind from day to day. Could you expect him under such circumstances to sing with inspiration and joy, "My Country 'Tis of Thee, Sweet Land of Liberty?"

We speak of the horrors of war; God knows they are real. But we are unaware of the horrors in our American coal mines. Only a few weeks ago one of the Pennsylvania breaker boys fell into the coal chute, over which he was working, and was carried away with the coal. Upon reaching the breakers he was crushed before the eyes of his fellow-workers. There was merely a cry of terror and agony. The great machine went on. This is not an exceptional case. In the annual report of our national child labor committee, I find that there were two hundred boys killed in the coal mines of this country in the year nineteen hundred and fifteen. Of what value are our exports and dividends if they come from these treasons against God?

From the time the doors are closed behind the children of the cotton mills in the morning, those little ones are denied all music, color, fragrance and beauty of flowers, or harmony of landscape. Instead there is the unceasing vibration of the great machinery and the din of its operation. Those children literally sense nothing but vibration. They forget speech and in the roar of the operation can only beckon dumbly one to another like mutes. "This new slavery of the mills is worse than the old slavery of the cotton fields, for the negro of the old days was well fed and sheltered; he did his work under the open skies singing as he toiled, and finding time to weave out of his mystic brain a wild balladry and a poetic folklore. But the mill slavery of the white children of today sucks life dry of all vigor and joy." By a peculiar change of circumstances it is now the white babies who must weave into usable form the cotton which the Civil War declared must not be picked by the black as a slave. It is now the child of our own blood that is in bondage, while the little darkey is out in the cotton fields under the open sky.

It is a recognized fact that child labor is likewise a curse to the adult. The child underbids the man. The father competes with his own child. Thus justice to the children will mean justice to the adult wage-earners. Here, within our own state, whose motto is "Forward," in our cities, little children are permitted to work for a low wage and from ten to fourteen hours per day.

This very evening, while we are comfortably seated here in this room, there are thousands of children who are wandering the streets of our cities, suffering from hunger and cold. There are pale-faced little boys, scantily clad, standing on the streets calling, "Papers! Papers!" There are little night messengers becoming acquainted, in the performance of their duties, with the evil sights of the dramshop and the brothel. There are thousands of children who have no other shelter than the dark damp basements in which they must eat, sleep and work. For a moment let us consider the curse of the sweatshop which prevails in many of our tenement settlements. * * *

Will America, richest of all nations, ignore suffering childhood? Will America, known as the world's treasure-house, say, "We are unable to protect our children," and then immediately turn to her Congress and ask it to appropriate five hundred thousand dollars to dredge some remote creek? The condition of little children in the mines of Pennsylvania, in the canning factories of the Middle West, in the cotton mills of the South, and in the sweatshops and streets of all cities, mutely protests against such appropriations.

Let us urge Congress to strive to realize the true significance of our country's ideal of political and industrial equality; to take measures to develop a sturdy race of Americans comparable to our forefathers. Let us urge our Senators and Representatives to break at once the shackles of this new slavery and to emancipate our two million child slaves. Only thus shall we grant to the thousands of unhappy American children their inherent rights, only thus shall we be able to uphold our standards of democracy; only thus shall we obey the divine decree for mercy and justice.

FINANCIAL STATEMENT OF THE ORATORICAL ASSOCIATION.

With the increasing interest which is manifested from year to year in forensic tance. These activities, representing as they do the entire school, should of course be financed by the entire school.

Up to the present year membership in the association has been purely voluntary, with the result that the association was always hampered by lack of funds. This school year the plan was inaugurated of financing the association by a fee of fifty cents collected from each student at the time of enrollment at the beginning of each semester. This has worked very well. It has not only enabled the association to take care of its financial obligations as they have arisen, but it has made it possible for students to enjoy various entertainments either free or for a nominal sum.

Under this plan students have enjoyed free the following entertainments during the year:

"The Mawson motion pictures, and accompanying lectures, dealing with the Antarctic regions; the plays "What Happened to Jones" and "Disraeli."

In addition the following entertainments were given to which a special admittance price was made to students holding the oratorical association tickets.

Professor Dennis in popular readings; the Theobaldi Concert Company; Gaul's "Holy City"; and others.

The Debates

The four debates in which Stevens Point contested this year with Superior, River Falls, Oshkosh and Eau Claire were of exceptional interest. They were enjoyable not only because of the success of our school, but also because each of our compulsory military training should be established in the United States."

The first preliminary contest was held in the auditorium December 10, 1916, to select a team from the Junior class to debate the Junior team of the Oshkosh Normal School. Twelve capable young men and women participated in this debate. They were: Lucile Hanan, Ethel Jones, Frank Diedrich, Alice Weingarten, Anna Russell, Angie Sheldon, Charles Nelson, Clara Wilhelm, Jennie Anderson, Tilden Moe, Ida Brevad, and Henry Beglinger. Every speaker presented a strong, forceful argument. The judges' decision named Henry Beglinger, Ida Brevad, Tilden Moe, and Jennie Anderson as representatives of our school.

The Junior debate occurred at Oshkosh March 30, 1917. A delegation of about twenty loyal boosters accompanied the team. The decision resulted as we all hoped and expected it would—a unanimous decision in favor of Stevens Point. This makes three successive years that we have received a unanimous decision in the Junior Debate with Oshkosh.

On the evening of February 19th, the Misses Nachtwey, Jones, Weingarten, Gleason, Geimer, and Blood, and the Messrs. King, Paulson, Bacher, Whitmer, Nelson, Peterson, Rybickie, Gilson, and Ambrose appeared in a contest for places on the Eau Claire and the Triangular Teams. Thomas King, Charlotte Nachtwey, Gladys Blood, and John Ambrose (alternate) were selected as members of one of the triangular teams to meet the River Falls team. Otto Bacher, Charlie Nelson, William Gilson and A. P. Peterson (alternate) were chosen to make up the other triangular team to debate Superior. Paul Paulson, Alice Weingarten, Magdaline Geimer, and Ethel Jones (alternate) were chosen as the team to contest with the Eau Claire team. Our able coaches were Messrs. Ames, Smith, Watson and Swartz.

PRACTICE

FRANK S. HYER
Principal of the Training School

The Training School

Twenty-six years ago, when the Stevens Point Normal School first came into existence, the training school consisted of three departments. The grammar department was composed of the seventh and eighth grades, the intermediate department of the fourth, fifth and sixth grades, and the primary department, of the first, second and third grades. Mrs. Mary D. Bradford, present City Superintendent of Racine, Wisconsin, was supervisor of practice, and she had three critic teachers to assist her in the training department. The total enrollment of children at that time, was one hundred sixty-five, and there were fifteen student teachers who made up the first group in practice.

To-day the training school, under the supervision of Mr. Frank S. Hyer, is composed of three departments; the grammar department, the primary department, and the kindergarten. The grammar and primary departments each consist of four grades. Mr. Hyer is at present assisted by seven critic teachers, a supervisor of music and drawing who gives her whole time to the work of the training school, and a kindergartner who has charge of the kindergarten which is located in the Garfield school within two blocks of the Normal School. The training school faculty consists of:

Miss Bertha D. Goodyear.....	8th grade
Miss Winifred Nelson.....	7th grade
Miss Nina Nichols.....	6th grade
Miss Ellen Burk.....	5th grade
Miss Edith Whitney.....	3rd-4th grades
Miss Prudence Cutright.....	1st-2nd grades
Miss Agnes Morrissy.....	1st-2nd grades
Miss Elba Slater.....	Music and Drawing
Miss Etta Bowstead.....	Kindergarten

There are two hundred ninety-five children enrolled in the training school at the present writing, and during this, the third quarter, there are over two hundred practice teachers. It is of interest to note that no city school superintendent in Wisconsin, outside of the city of Milwaukee, has the supervision of as many teachers as Mr. Hyer.

Mr. Hyer came to the training school eight years ago after serving five years as a teacher of professional subjects in our Normal School. He came to the Normal School with a number of years' successful experience in training school, and city school work. During the past eight years, he has made many improvements in the training school, and has made a record not only for the department, but for himself which is far more than state wide, as is made evident by the number of calls that come to him for institute work, and addresses before state teachers associations, both from within Wisconsin and from many places in other states.

Our primary department is noted for the work in phonics and in reading, the development of which has had the interest and active support of the supervisor. The observation room which has become a factor in the training of teachers, is unique. It affords the students of the Normal School an opportunity for observation of class work done by both the supervisor, and the critic teachers. Mr. Hyer attempts, in his own work as a teacher, to exemplify the high ideals which he endeavors to inspire in us as students, and those of us who have seen his work have been inspired to carry into our school his oft repeated injunction, "Lead your children to think."

The Educational Measurement Club

When word reached our school that State Superintendent Cary had added to his force an expert in school measurements in the person of Mr. Theisen, Ph.D., we found our interest in the development of this new field for research greatly stimulated. Profs. Hyer and Spindler spent a week in Madison where they met with representatives from the other normal schools of the state for the purpose of discussing the problem of standardizing measurements.

Later Mr. Hyer extended an invitation to interested students to meet him for an informal discussion of educational measurements. Out of this informal meeting there came into existence an organization known as the Educational Measurement Club composed of twenty-two members who have met on Thursday at 3:15 and have devoted their time to the work without any thought of credit.

These members have considered not only the theoretical side of this work but they have also worked out actual tests. Some of the members were invited to help make a survey of the city schools in company with Supt. Snyder, Dr. Theisen and Mr. Hyer; others have gone out into neighboring schools and given tests. Material written by teachers in institutes conducted by Mr. Hyer and specimens in writing collected from graded schools from this locality under the direction of Prof. Spindler at the request of Dr. Theisen has given opportunity for work in tests of a varied nature. The Club likewise has familiarized itself with practically all the material used in conducting tests by the foremost investigations in this interesting field. Some members have made a study of special tests and have reported for the benefit of the Club; some have written their final theses on the subject of educational measurements.

The Glee Club

The school year of nineteen sixteen saw an added improvement in the Stevens Point Normal Male Glee Club. The Glee Club has had a very successful year and has very good material for the coming year.

During the year the club sang at several churches, at General Assembly, and gave a minstrel show, which was written by the members. It is planned to make the show an annual affair, instead of the usual Glee Club concert.

The club this year has been directed by E. J. Waterman of the Noraml School faculty. Leslie Shalberg was elected student leader of the Glee Club, and Miss Elba Slater of the faculty was pianist.

G. Moxon.....	Vice-President
F. Hirzy.....	Secretary
C. Horn.....	Treasurer
C. Nelson.....	Librarian

The 1916-1917 orchestra of the Stevens Point Normal School, under the able leadership of Professor Potts, is an unusual success. The matinee dance introduced by this organization proved very popular with the student body. The music furnished for the dances of the various school organizations has always been appreciated. A like success has been scored in concert music and in accompaniment.

The members of the orchestra and the students and faculty as a whole appreciate the efforts of Professor Potts in making the orchestra the success it is.

GREAT SCANDAL!!

How Awful! Oh! How Awful!
November Morn.

The hills lie naked in the breeze,
The fields unfrocked,
Bare are the limbs of all the trees,
No wonder the corn was shocked.

BOARDING HOUSE ROMANCE!!!
WELL KNOWN RESIDENT OF THE
STEVENS POINT SCHOOL
STRANGELY AFFECTED BY WEIRD SIGHT.

Ike Neuwald saw a face on the screen
last night

As he sat in the movie show;
And it held him fast in the buried past,
A girl that he used to know.
He saw the light in her shining eyes
As she acted with pep and dash;
She's a movie star where the bright lights
are;

When he knew her she juggled the hash.

Doctor: Well, what's the matter with you?

M. T.: That's what I want to know.

Doctor: Do you eat well?

M. T.: Yes, I eat well, sleep well, and feel well, but—I have no ambition to work.

Doctor: Hobo Malaria. Sixty minutes

HIGHWAY ROBBERY.

The Theft Solved At Last.

Day after day we have seen merry, light-hearted students wandering along the way leading from the assembly door to the music room. They were happy, smiling and—jingling money. Time and time again we have noticed them return with down trodden expressions upon their faces, carrying perhaps a small bunch of paper or a new 3 inch pencil and jingling no money. The faculty have eyed this mystery with suspicion. At last by a donation from the "Pointer" two Scotland Yard Detectives were hired from Junction City. These plaid clothes men were noticed day after day leaning against the bannister but to no avail;
they could not find cause for the disappearance of the jingling money.

On March 27 Tessie Debace laid down
50 cents for a 3 inch pencil. Turning away from the counter she yelled, "Gee Whis!
this darn counter is a highway robber."
Mystery solved at last.

Nov. 7 Senior Class begins pork barrel politics.

Friday, Feb. 2. Johnson comes to class. Class dismissed.

March 6. Spring house cleaning. Neal and Alex missing.

March 16. Ikey finds a girl but—in River Falls.

March 20. Harold Scribner tries to get drunk on four root beers.

March 23-30. Maxie attends civic's. (Behold 'twas the last week of the quarter).

March 26. Lecture on the wild life in the assembly room.

April 2. Midge's Ule enlists in the cavalry.

WHY PRACTICE TEACHERS HAVE GRAY HAIR.

Some Gems from Their Papers.

"The difference between the Savagery and barberism are a Savager is one who lets his hair grow wild, (Mike Rybicke) a barbarian is one who shaves his dome all except one bush so his enemy can lift his roof."

"A prologue is a sort of confusion of the play."

COMPOSITION

"The skin is a layer of meet with holes in for perspiration and hairs which beautifies the complexion the body should have a certain amount of cloths a fellers skin should be washed daily or else dirt will get into the pours of his meet."

ADVICE TO THE LOVELORN.

Dear Miss Helpafellow:—

I have a young man friend who is devoted to me, but he lacks pep. How can I wake him up?

Luniel.

Take a strong pin, with the aid of a vise, bend it to a right angle. Place it in his favorite chair. When he arrives, put a good distance between him and yourself and watch the awakening.

Dear Miss Helpafellow:—

My heart is broken. A girl I thot was true to me winked at Stanley Gliezinski. What can I do to regain the love of this bewitching dame.

Frank Dietrich.

Apply to the H. E. Dept. If they can't help you possibly the Manuel Training Dept. may lend you some glue to mend it.

Dear Miss Helpafellow:—

My gentleman friend who was very dear to me has discontinued his studies in the Stevens Point Normal School. He has taken away all the love which I had. He is now working in the paper mill and I do not see him as often as I used to. My dear Miss Helpafellow isn't there any way in which I could induce him not to work there any more so that he could be with me? Hoping you will try and mend my broken heart, I remain, Hazel W.

Choose a dark moonless night. Find out the route he takes. Hire Mr. Watson and Mr. Fairchild and the Arcade Ford to assist you and then lie in wait for him in a dark place. When he comes along, sandbag him, (the sandbags having been previously prepared in the H. E. Dept.) put him in a dark room for the night, with Mr. Fairchild and Mr. Watson to guard him. Go home and in the morning we guarantee that he will be as meek as a day-old Walrus and you can lead him back to school easily.

Dear Miss Helpafellow:—

I am in deep trouble. Please advise me. I am deeply in love with two young men. They have sensitive natures and since the announcement concerning "Wild life in the general assembly," they refuse to spend more than 6 free periods in there with me. Oh what shall I do????

Mary

I have lain awake two nights pondering over your problem, as it interested me greatly. The only advise I can offer is for you to retire to the assembly room, carefully pin a blanket over each window. You will thus make yourself happy and be rendering others a service. I trust you will have no further trouble.

Dear Miss Helpafellow:—

Because of the prevailing style of millinery, which covers up the most of a girl's face, I am continually worried for fear I shall make a date with the wrong girl. Advise me.

Max.

Before making a date, make a sharp quick noise. She may jump enough to knock the hat off; then you will be able to recognize her.

Heard Here and There

A Junior ran into the office. Mr. Spindler was there. "I want to go to Madison the worst way," he fumed. "Go by the Portage branch then," growled Spin; "that's the worst way I know of."

Miss Hussey in English Lit.: "Sir Walter Raleigh wrote the history of the world, while in prison before he was beheaded."

Prudentia: A motion to adjourn is in order.

Charlotte: Second the motion.

Sid to Mary: Would you like a pet monkey?

Mary: Oh! This is so sudden.

John Martini: Well, I guess I'm the flower of the family.

R---o---: Is that what your brother meant when he called you a blooming idiot?

Lillian McCallum: Do you know you are the first Ripon fellow I've met? I don't believe I know a Single Ripon fellow.

Max: I'm single.

Miss Jennings at Mr. Spindler's door: "Is Howard Abrahamson there?"

Spin.: "Haven't seen him for weeks" (After door closes) "Is he here?"

To Touch the Hearts of our Poets

Two boys set out for S. P. N.
 All on a September day.
 One was thick and one was thin—
 All on a September day.

On the Portage Branch they climbed in glee
 All on a September day.
 They were fresh and green, as you plainly see,
 All on a September day.

They came (o pity them!) up the walk,
 All on a September day.
 With lumps in their throats so they scarcely could talk,
 All on a September day.

In the office, the gruff, bluff voice of Spin.
 All on a September day.
 Made the thin one shrink and thick one grow thin,
 All on a September day.

Well, they weathered the siege and are living today,
 And their faces are glad and their hearts are gay.
 They wouldn't go home, O no, not they!
 For they fell dead in love with the Normal that day.
 And all the king's horses couldn't pull them away.

H. B. C., '17.

Critique

Some students fail to realize
 And not to loaf and hang around,
 And not to loaf and hang around
 Or to hold back and shirk.

You can see them in the corridor,
 You can see them on the stair,
 Neither studying nor talking,
 Just simply standing there.

You can see them in the assembly
 Many and many a pair,
 Neither studying, nor talking,
 Just simply-sitting-there.

Get into the game my friends:
 Play it all the while,
 Put your shoulder to the wheel,
 Then all the world will smile.

—MIKE, '17.

Inseparables

Viola and Pete.
 Bannister and seven or eight men.
 Mr. Ames and Jeff.
 Neuwald and "Have you subscribed for the Iris?"
 Mike and his flower.
 Miss Eimer and "exquisitely, elaborately grand."
 Shally and his smile.
 Spin and his Psy.
 Violet and her giggle.
 Michael and his "Sure" and "Begorra."
 Miss Hussey and her motherly look.
 Miss Jones and her agar-agar.
 Horn and his elevated eyebrows.
 Sid and Mary.
 Mildred M. and her temper.

'Twas Ever Thus

Some time ago a charming Normalite was given charge of the confectionery stall at a church bazaar. Eventually a middle-aged man was led that way.

"They tell me I must buy some chocolates," smiled the victim, picking up a box from the stall. "How much is this?"

"Five dollars," answered Lillian, and never flinched.

"Um," thoughtfully returned the victim, glancing from the chocolates to the girl, "aren't you a little dear?"

"Well," coyly enjoined Lillian, shaking her curls, "that's what all the boys say."

Normalite (writing home): The checks you give me are getting smaller each time. Why is that?

(Extract from letter from father): What can you expect with paper the price it is?

Normalite (also writing home) to room-mate: How do you spell financially?

Room-mate: F-i-n-a-n-c-i-a-l-l-y, and embarrassed is spelled with two r's.

Just a Bit o' Motherly Advice to Class of 1918

Do not drop miscellaneous article down upon the rostrum from elevated heights. Remember the faculty are daily becoming more baldheaded.

If you have a goat in the school do not ride him to death. Remember that the goat can balk. Likewise, a steady ride becomes tiresome.

(Mike was ours.)

Do not go into public speaking just for the gaining of a letter. Remember the counter may sell them.

Consult the faculty, board of regents, city council, governor of the state, and president of the United States before you choose a motto, and by all means before you elect officers.

Practice assembly singing during summer vacation, and for goodness sakes improve over us!

Do not mention fussing in any annual or weekly publication. It is at present worn fringy from constant use.

Laugh if You Can

Charlotte (reporting at Iris meeting): "I have appointed some one in each department to watch for jokes and I've been watching myself." (Shout from Iris staff; blank look from Charlotte.)

Hugh Leonard: "When rain once falls, does it ever get up again?"
Fairy: "Yes, in 'dew' time."

Woman is a creature of mood, generally the imperative mood.—Ex.

Mr. Smith (in European History): "When was Rome built, Mr. Neale?"
Glen: "At night."
Mr. Smith: "Where did you get that idea?"
Glen: "I have often heard my father say that Rome was not built in a day."

Mr. Delzell (meeting Mr. Fairchild wheeling a baby cab): "You have your son out airing, I see."
Mr. Fairchild: "No, I have my heir out sunning."

A loud noise was heard in the back of the room during geometry class.
Mr. Collins: "Smith, what are you doing?"
Ermine Smith: "Oh nothing, Mr. Collins. I simply dropped a perpendicular."

Mr. Sims calling at the cottages found Hazel Wickern playing the victrola. Seating himself he said, "Hawaiian?"
"Fine, thank you," answered Hazel.

Spin: "Men are apples."
Ethelyn Wood: "Gosh! I like apples."

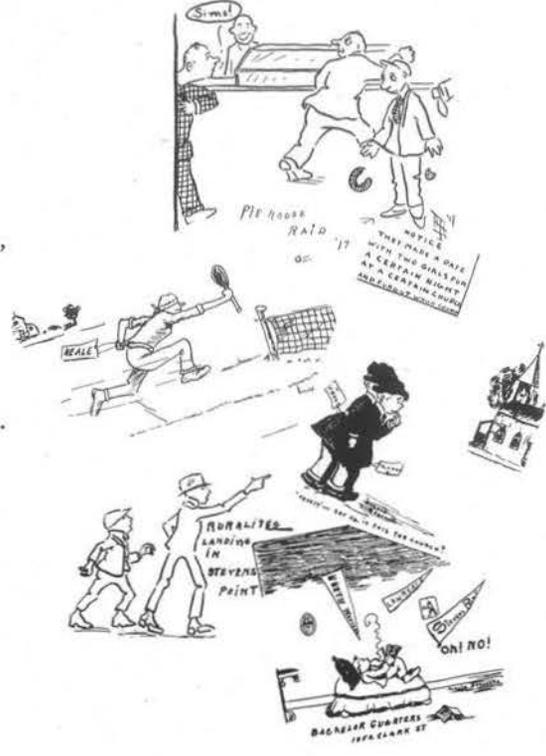

WHEN A FELLOW NEEDS A FRIEND

The girls of this normal school
Are having their tournament.
The boys do not like our rule,
For they can't see the event.

When Van was asked to report
On basket ball news last week.
I thought he could storm a fort.
"Why," he said, "I can't even peep."

But such excuses won't go
Where you find a studious class.
It was up to Van to know,
So he had to go and ask.

—L. M. K.

PICTORIAL REVIEW

SEPTEMBER

Sept. 18—Act I. Scene 1.

The curtain rises on the old time picture; a slow stream of student filing through the office; a crowded corridor; jolly greetings among old students; silent awe and admiration on the part of new ones; with Spin growling viciously over mistakes on enrollment blanks.

Sept. 19—Stragglers from the Portage branch and Velvet Special appear for enrollment. No rush.

Sept. 20—Welcome to our classrooms and corridors. New students face the faculty line-up for the first time.

Sept. 21—Work starts in earnest. The agonized faces of newlies indicate the depth of the impression made by first assignments.

Sept. 22—Concert in the Auditorium by courtesy of Prof. Weber. Faculty reception afterward. Hoffsoos, '16, found time to run down from Rosholt for the occasion. No necessity for any fellow dancing a straight program with one girl!

Sept. 25—Blue Monday No. 1. One or two make the mistake of preparing lessons.

Sept. 29—Football squad introduced in Assembly. All there but Stewart. Modesty is a noble virtue—Stew, but you'll get yours yet.

Sept. 30—Victory No. 1. S. P. N. 44, Grand Rapids 0.

OCTOBER

Oct. 4—Officers of the Oratorical Association chosen. President, Martin Paulson; Vice-President, Otto Bacher; Secretary, Alice Brady. The faculty thought it best to appoint Prof. Swartz Treasurer.

Oct. 6—Denominational receptions held at the various churches.

Oct. 7—St. Norbert's put one over us in return for their last year's defeat. Damages—Pope, concussion of the brain; Ellis, broken rib; Murphy, a few scars.

Oct. 14—Played Chippewa High mostly for practice and incidentally to get back courage to face River Falls.

Oct. 18—Miss Elsie Baker, famous Victrola Contralto, accompanied by the Kaltenborn quartet, gave a delightful concert as the opening number of the entertainment course.

Oct. 19—Suspicious symptoms of school spirit become manifest. Football squad leaves for River Falls, accompanied to Soo depot by the student body.

Oct. 20—We met the enemy and we are theirs; but we didn't give ourselves away. River Falls plus four inches of snow, 7; S. P. N. minus a few more minutes of time, 0.

Oct. 27—The "Pep" symptoms of Oct. 20 developed into the real thing and the goddess of school spirit finds a home in the heart of S. P. N. Team leaves for La Crosse.

Oct. 28—"We have met the enemy and they are ours." S. P. N. 14, La Crosse 2.

Oct. 30—Celebration of La Crosse victory. Adolph makes record cross country run from Plover to "be on the job."

NOVEMBER

- Nov. 3—Faculty privileged to see themselves as we see them.
- Nov. 4—Lawrence 26, S. P. N. 0. The school was well represented.
- Nov. 8—Hughes loses presidency. Mike loses bet. Doomed to go without a hair cut until St. Patrick's Day in the Marnin'.

"Shivering Jimmy."

"The Mills College girls like Jell-O. With fruit inside and whipped cream outside, it is one of their favorite dishes and is affectionately known as 'Shivering Jimmy.'"

Mills College, near San Francisco, is the only woman's college on the Pacific coast, and the student body is drawn from a field of great extent. It was a Mills College girl who told us about "Shivering Jimmy."

As a change from fudge and other common things, nobody can be more appreciative of

than the girls who must provide their own dainties and do it without devoting much time and effort to it.

There are seven pure fruit flavors of Jell-O: Strawberry, Raspberry, Lemon, Orange, Cherry, Peach, Chocolate. Each 10 cents at any grocer's.

Little folders in Jell-O packages contain all the instructions anyone needs in making the "made-in-a-minute" Jell-O dainties.
