Rarely does it happen that an institution can honor a man twice in the capacity that C. S. C. has the privilege of honoring Mr. Frank Sidney Hyper.

In 1917 the senior class dedicated The Iris to Mr. Hyper then principal of the training school.

Now in 1931 with Mr. Hyper's return to us in the capacity of our chief executive the senior class dedicates The Iris to him and thus unites with faculty, alumni, friends, and underclassmen in expressing to Mr. Hyper a fuller appreciation and loyalty and a deeper love and respect!

THE QUEEN

THE KING

Foreword

Hail Central State!

We, the senior class, present herein a record of the activities and achievements of the past year at C. S. T. C.

More than that, we seek to portray the undying spirit of progress which has enabled us to record the successes of old Central State.

This volume is respectfully submitted by us, the class of 1931, as a memoir of our loyalty to our Alma Mater.

Resident Regent

I take this opportunity to congratulate the graduating class upon their completion of the necessary work to entitle them to a diploma. I also wish to express my appreciation of the wonderful cooperation evidenced by you as manifest by the present loyalty and enthusiasm of the student body, which is so evidenced.

In leaving this institution and in the practice of your chosen profession you face a serious responsibility and a wonderful opportunity. There is nothing of greater value, or of more importance, than the youth of America. You, as teachers, have the opportunity to build and mould the character of the coming generation.

I know of no greater or more important task and wish you every success in this undertaking.

W. E. ATWELL,
Resident Regent.

The Class of 1931

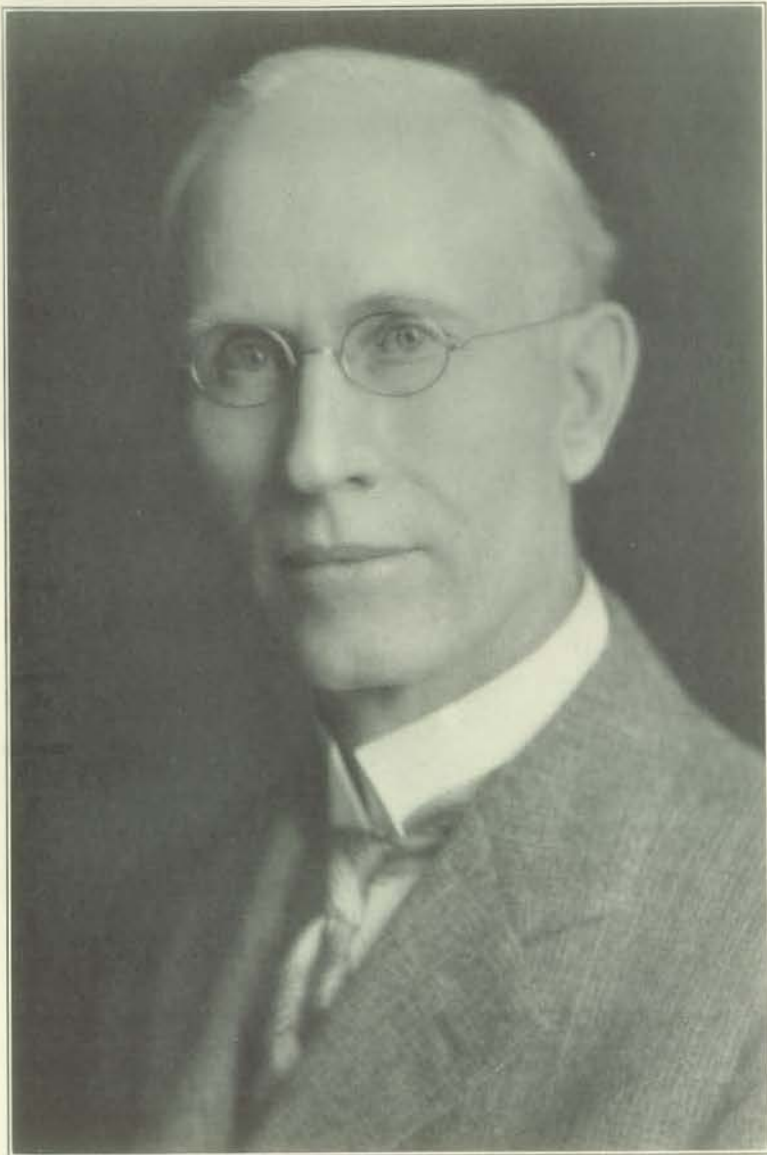

We can choose no better ideal toward which to strive here at Central State Teachers College than that set by Dean Briggs of Harvard when he said:

"All colleges, whether for men or for women or for both, are first and foremost schools of manners and of character; of enlightenment through study, through contact with the best that has been known and thought in the world, through association with the chosen youth from every part of the land and with the men and women who teach them. Colleges are watchtowers with wide horizons—training schools for the appreciation of high aims, for that efficiency of leadership which cannot exist without knowledge and without wisdom that is born to him or to her who uses knowledge well."

The very highest ideals should prevail in a college such as this, having for its purpose the training of teachers. Our college should indeed be a watchtower and each of us is, in a large sense, responsible for its keeping. Every would-be teacher should be inspired with a desire for an efficiency of leadership. It is the aim of the college to help the students to attain both knowledge and wisdom, and to train them to use both to the best ends that both manners and character may be so shaped as to fit the graduates of the colleges to be true teachers of truth and understanding.

Sincerely,

J. S. Hyer

Dean of Women

Success to the graduates and to all the students of C. S. T. C. of 1931!

May it be a success founded on persistent endeavor, on efficient performance of tasks, on sincere interest in our fellowmen, and on self-sacrificing service. In brief, may it be a success inspired by the highest intellectual and spiritual ideals.

Bertha Hussey

Dean of Men

Life today is demanding more of men who count on successful careers. The human element plays an ever increasing part in all important business and social enterprise. Because of this, a person who has entered with unselfish enthusiasm into the varied regular and extra-curricular activities of his college is much the better equipped for any vocation he may choose.

*"A man of sovereign parts he is esteemed
Well fitted in arts, glorious in arms;
Nothing becomes him ill that he would."*

In Memoriam

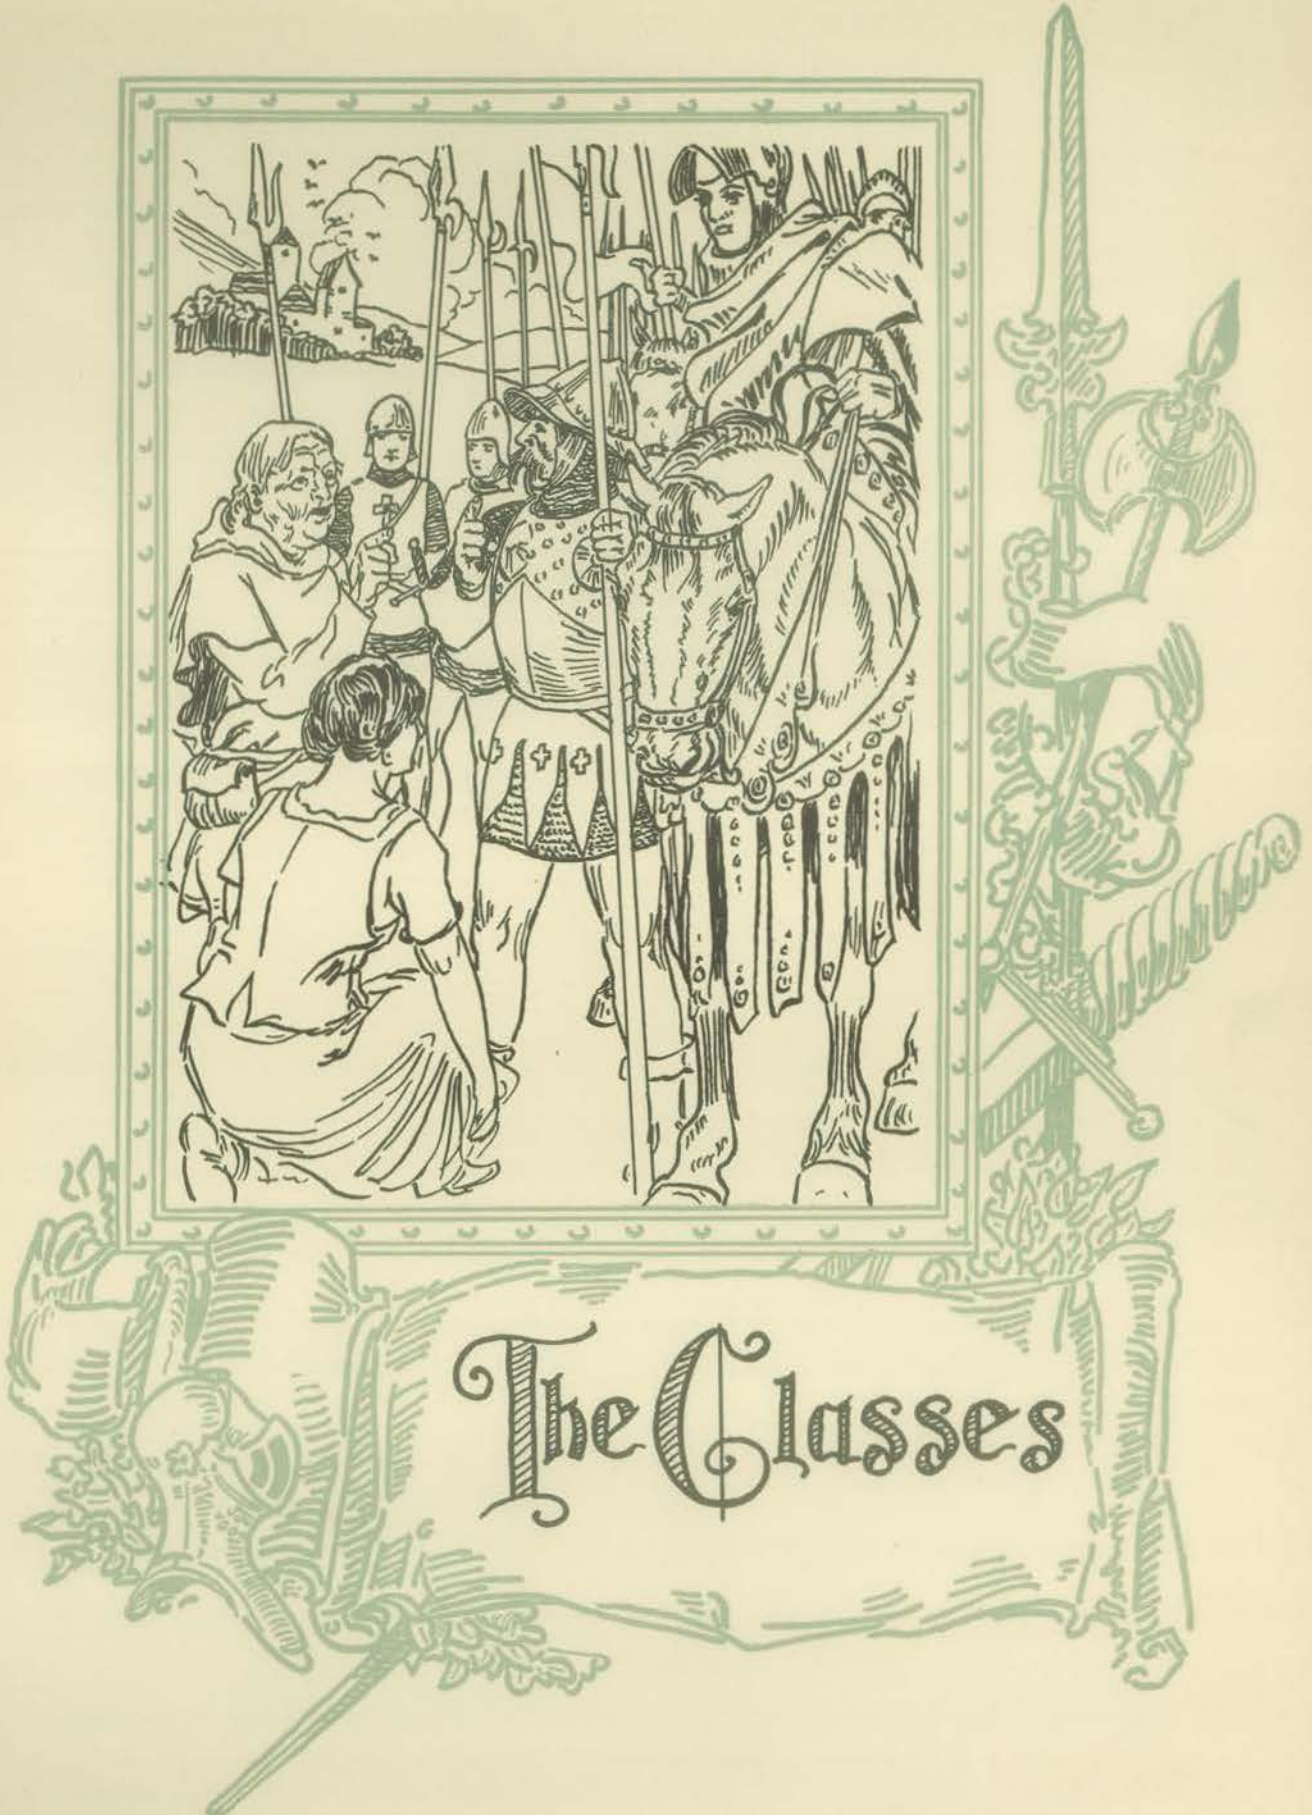

Frank E. Percival

*"God's court is thronged with minstrels rich with song;
Even now a new note swells the immaculate choir;
But thou whose strains have filled our lives so long,
Still from the altar of thy reverent heart
Let golden dreams ascend, and thoughts of fire!"*

OFFICERS

President	FRED HEBAL
Vice-President	VICTOR VROBEL
Secretary-Treasurer	ESTHER HAWKES

We, the members of the senior class, regret that our four years here have terminated; we shall always cherish the memories of our association with classmates and faculty. We have enjoyed the entertainments presented by students and by professionals; and now when our courses are near completion, we can say with sincerity that we have even enjoyed our classes. (Don't tell the faculty but we wish we had studied more.) We daresay that we shall often wish that we were back in old C. S. T. C.

With regret, we bid a fond adieu to our Alma Mater, hoping that we shall be worthy alumni so that we may return with some laurels of distinction.

The Class of 1932

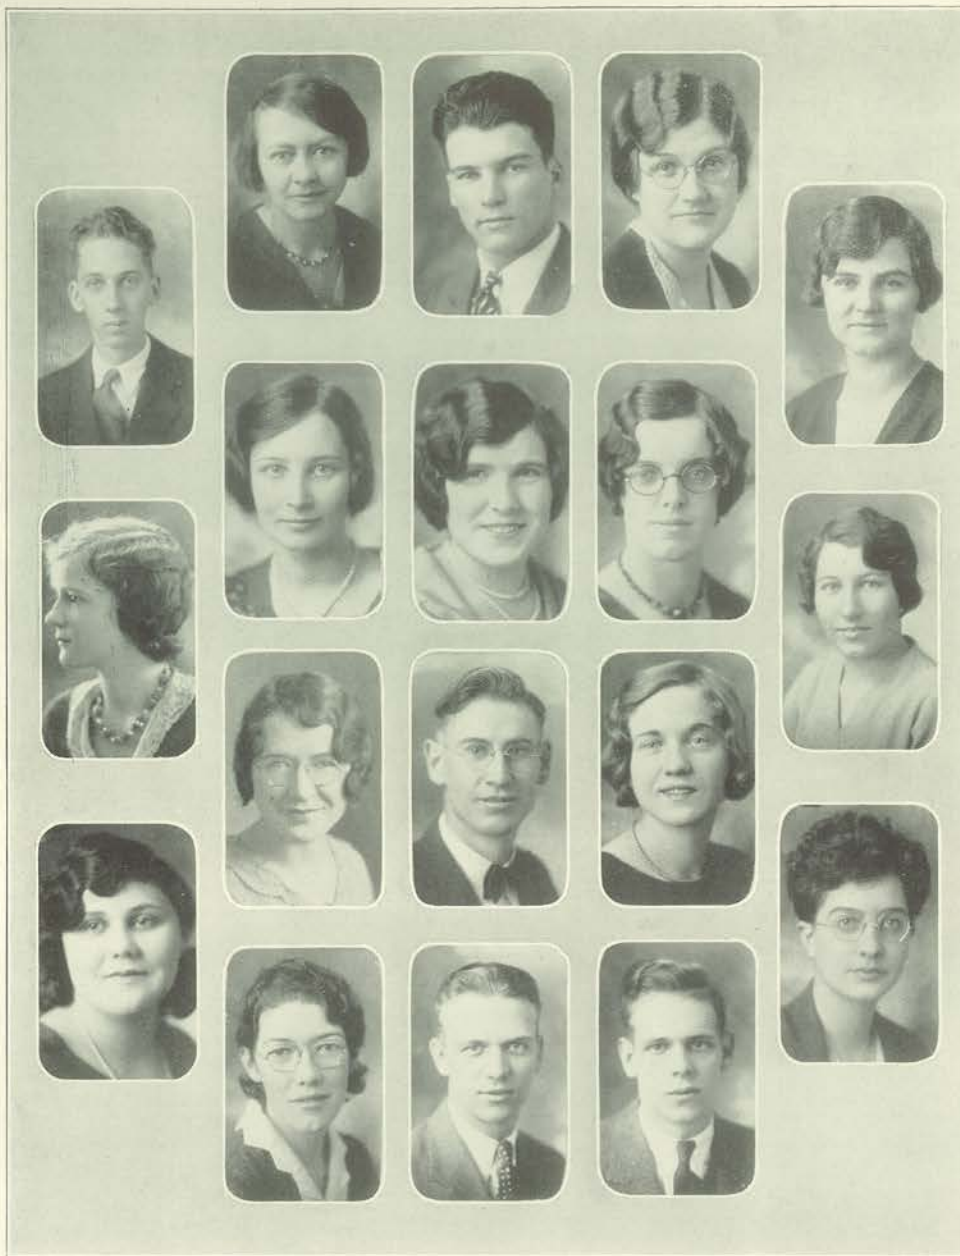

OFFICERS

President	MURILLA ROBERTS
Vice-President	HARRY KLAPPA
Secretary	ALEXANDER PETERSEN
Treasurer	CLIFFORD ALBERTS

The class of '32 with three-fourths of its college days behind it enters upon its last year at Central State realizing to the fullest extent the value of days well spent.

In every organized activity the juniors have been well represented. Their athletes and debaters have brought added fame to our Alma Mater.

A fine spirit of cooperation and good fellowship has been manifested and is in no small measure responsible for the successes that will make junior class days pleasures to be remembered.

The Class of 1933

OFFICERS

President	BURTON HOTVEDT
Vice-President	ORVA STILLER
Secretary	IRENE TWETAN
Treasurer	ANN BAIRD

The sophomore class embodies a group of students who are vitally interested in the welfare of Central State and its campus activities.

Many of the sophomores are important factors in the athletic, forensic, scholastic and social activities of our campus.

The spirit and organization of this class has been outstanding and was exemplified when its year's dues were paid in full by the end of the first semester.

The cooperation in promoting the successful sophomore party and other activities during the year has contributed to a loyalty and friendship that will be invaluable to the class in the years remaining before it at Central State.

OFFICERS

President	DELL KJER
Vice-President	ROBERT BREITENSTEIN
Secretary-Treasurer	PETER PETERSEN

The freshman class is one of the largest group of students enrolled in C. S. T. C. They have shown much interest in school and campus activities.

One of the members, Celestine Nüsse, brought honor and recognition to the class and to the school through his ability to orate and debate.

The class can also boast of its athletes, having over a dozen men on the football squad and ten basketball men, three of whom were on the first squad, Melvin Andre, "Art" Thompson and Harry Hansen.

The annual freshman party, at which all of the students were guests, successfully carried out a perfect St. Valentine's evening.

Program Arrangements	ALTA STAUFFER

Mr. C. F. Watson, director of the grammar department, is the leader of this organization. Deeply interested in the progress of students, he guides the work of the group so as to deve'op them both socially and professionally.

Degrees are granted to those students completing a four-year course in junior high school and intermediate grade work. Diplomas are given on completion of two-year and three-year courses in intermediate and grammar grade and junior high school work.

The Round Table is a valuable means of growth in altruistic qualities which are a great asset to any individual.

Primary Council

OFFICERS

President	ALICE TURRISH
Vice-President	ARMELLA WEYHMILLER
Secretary	THELMA HANSEN
Treasurer	DOROTHY JUSTMAN

The Primary Council is composed of students specializing in primary grade work. Almost all of its members are taking the two-year course but many of them are enrolled in the degree course.

Changes have taken place in the directorship of the primary department since last year. Mr. James E. Delzell, who had been director through a period of many years, resigned to retire from the teaching profession. His leaving is sincerely regretted by students in this department as well as by other students in the school and members of the faculty. Mr. H. R. Steiner acted as primary director during the first semester until the vacancy made by Mr. Delzell's resignation was filled at the beginning of the second semester by the appointment of Miss Susan E. Colman, who came here from the Whitewater State Teachers College. Members of the Primary Council welcomed each new adviser in turn, happy to receive the benefit of contacts with each personality.

Mr. O. W. Neale is director of the Department of Rural Education. His optimism and versatility together with the enthusiasm of his assistants create a happy spirit of comradeship among members of the Rural Life Club.

Students enrolled in the one-year rural course, the two-year and three-year state graded principalship courses and the four-year course for a degree of Bachelor of Education in rural work are eligible for membership in this club. It is the largest organization in the school. Its meetings almost invariably have an attendance of one hundred per cent of members and many visitors. Inspiring programs of educational and social nature are always provided by committees appointed by the president.

Y. W. C. A.

OFFICERS

President	ANN BAIRD
Vice-President	ALICE FALK
Secretary-Treasurer	HELEN JORDAN

The Y. W. C. A. offers an opportunity for the development of its members, religiously and socially. The essential values of Christianity are discussed in relation to campus life and community contacts.

It is the purpose of the Y. W. C. A. to go more deeply into the discovery of how one develops the life of the spirit and how this knowledge may control the exemplification of one's convictions.

Women's Athletic Association

OFFICERS

President	ESTHER HAWKES
Vice-President	CRYSTAL JOSEPH
Secretary	ANN JESELUN
Treasurer	JEAN SKINNER

The Women's Athletic Association had its beginning six years ago as the Girls' Athletic Association. In 1929 it was reorganized under its present constitution.

This year has proved to be one of the most active in the history of the Women's Athletic Association. In the Homecoming Parade, it won second honors for the finest float. The association has been active in sponsoring the girls' athletic program and in arousing interest and enthusiasm among the girls for sports.

Much credit for the interest shown in athletics is due to Miss Seen, the director of Physical Education, for her interest, pep, and enthusiasm in the sports.

The W. A. A. has adopted and very successfully carried out the slogan:

*"Sports for all
 All for sports!"*

Treasurer	MILDRED DAVIS
Historian	BERTHA HUSSEY
Faculty Adviser	LELAND BURROUGHS

The Psi Beta Chapter, the forty-seventh chapter of the Sigma Tau Delta fraternity, a national honorary fraternity for English students, was organized at Central State Teachers College on the evening of April 2, 1930.

The Psi Beta Chapter inaugurated this year's work on October 15 with a banquet; new members were initiated and the election of officers was held. The purpose of this fraternity is to advance the study of the chief literary masterpieces, to encourage worth while readings, to promote the mastery of written expression, and to foster a spirit of fellowship among students specializing in the English language and literature.

The membership of this club includes: faculty, Allez, Burroughs, Davis, Hanna, Hussey, President Hyer; students, Mona Aanrud, Margaret Birr, Dolores Chilsen, Loretta Farrell, Agnes Gaffney, Frances Gallagher, Laurin Gordon, Allan Hodell, Lyman Johnson, Esther Kuehl, Earl Koch, Dorothy Kingsbury, Josephine Terrill Kennedy, John Pralgulski, Theodore Rozelle, Alta Stauffer, and Clarence Teske.

Margaret Ashmun Club

OFFICERS

President	ALLAN HODELL
Vice-President	ESTHER KUEHL
Secretary-Treasurer	CEDRIC VIG

The Margaret Ashmun Club was organized in the spring of 1923 for the purpose of stimulating interest in literature and speech among the students of Central State Teachers College. It was so named in honor of Miss Margaret Ashmun, an alumna of the school and a present day writer of note. Each spring the club sponsors a short story contest; the first prize for this is donated by Miss Ashmun.

A student of the Central State Teachers College who excels in literature, composition, and forensics may become through election an active member of this club.

The membership includes: faculty, Allez, Burroughs, Davis, Hanna, Hussey, Mason, Mott; students, Aanrud, Anderson, Baird, Beaudin, Brock, Cook, Cowan, Darrow, DeBase, Falk, Gaffney, Gallagher, Gordon, Gorski, Hodell, Hotvedt, Jeselun, D. Phi Lambda Phi

OFFICERS

President	RICHARD MARSHALL
Vice-President	ALEX KREMB
Secretary	CEDRIC VIG
Treasurer	GEORGE MAURER

The Phi Lambda Phi was organized in the year of 1917 as a literary society, but was soon changed into a social fraternity. As such its chief aims are the establishment of a spirit of brotherhood among its members, the attainment of a refined social life, the encouragement of excellence in scholarship, the promotion of a democratic spirit throughout Central State, and the attainment of a high moral character upon which this fraternity was built.

Mr. F. J. Schmeackle and Coach Eddie Kotal are the faculty sponsors of this organization.

The active members of Phi Lambda Phi are: William Atwell, Kimbal Bloomquist, Robert Breitenstein, Alvin Buege, Francis Chase, Clarence Chvala, Edward Cook, Harvey Docka, Fred Hebal, Allan Hodell, Burton Hotvedt, Orlando Johnson, Henry Klimowitz, Alex Krembs, Richard Marshall, George Maurer, Edward O'Kray, Peter Petersen, Clarence Rice, Burrduel Robertson, Richard Rothman, Gordon Stein, Arthur Thompson and Cedric Vig.

Omega Mu Chi

OFFICERS

President	LAURA SCHOENINGER
Vice-President	MURILLA ROBERTS
Secretary	ANN JESELUN
Treasurer	MARGARET COCHRANE

Omega Mu Chi sorority is one of the most prominent social organizations on the campus. Founded for the purpose of establishing a code of ideal standards the sorority has succeeded in maintaining the academic and social activities of our college.

A most desirable spirit of co-operation and congeniality has developed through association.

The sorority has contributed largely to the social life of Central State with teas, dancing parties, and other functions. The annual formal was one of the loveliest events of the spring season.

Mrs. Charles H. Cashin is patroness of the sorority. The active members are: Margaret Cochrane, Ann DeBase, Alice Falk, Vera Hillis, Magdalen Knapstein, Ann Jeselun, Crystal Joseph, Dorothy McLain, Dorothy Kuhl, Margaret Levi, Mildred Lonsdorf, Marcella Magin, Jeanette Marshall, Irene Miller, Marjorie Lea Moberg, Genevieve Pulda, Murilla Roberts, Laura Schoeninger, Jean Skinner, Armella Weyhmiller, and Katherine Wiggins.

Tau Gamma Beta

OFFICERS

President	ELIZABETH NEUBERGER
Vice-President	MARGARET RICHARDS
Secretary	MADELINE RICE
Sergeant-at-Arms	DOROTHY JUSTEN

Tau Gamma Beta sorority is now in its twenty-second year, and has grown in these many years to be a very active society. The alumnae members all act in conjunction with the active chapter to maintain the ideals and principles that have been the basis for the growth and prominence of Tau Gamma Beta.

Many social functions are sponsored during the year by the sorority. Each fall a tea is held for all the girls and faculty women of Central State Teachers College. There are several informal dancing parties given each year in addition to the spring formal.

The sorority was founded and has progressed upon the aim of sisterhood among its members, democracy upon the campus, and interest in scholarship and all school activities.

Mrs. Frank S. Hyer and Mrs. Anton Pfiffner are the sorority patronesses, while Mrs. E. H. Rogers is sorority mother.

The active members of Tau Gamma Beta are: Georgiana Atwell, Jean Boyington, Gertrude Conklin, Dorothy Justen, Frances Korbal, Marion Kowitz, Katherine Krembs, Pearl Merrill, Elizabeth Neuberger, Madeline Rice, Lois Richards, Margaret Richards, Elizabeth Rogers, Immogene Smith, Lucille Schmidt, Irene Skutley, Crystal Springer, Virginia Thiele, and Frances Van Hecke.

During the year the Iris Staff has endeavored to make this book, the twenty-fifth volume of The Iris, a success. We sincerely hope that we have achieved our aims.

The Iris is modern in content and in make-up, but, for the sake of its picturesque effect, the highly decorative theme of chivalry is used throughout the volume.

This year, as in the past several years, the editor and the business manager for the following year, were elected to the positions of associate editor and associate business manager; Alta Stauffer and Clifford Alberts to the positions of editor-in-chief and business manager respectively for the 1932 Iris. These two people have worked with the staff, so that they will know how to carry on the work of the annual next year. We wish them the greatest possible success.

Faculty Adviser

Both Mr. T. A. Rogers and Mr. C. C. Evans, our faculty advisers, have given us much valuable advice and assistance. We are especially grateful to them and to the following people: to Mr. Davidson, who took the group pictures; to Miss Hussey, who so willingly helped us to compose and to re-organize our topics; to Mr. Donald T. Sutte, of the Jahn and Ollier Engraving Company, and Mr. E. A. Boettcher, of the Badger Printing Company, for their advice and suggestions; to Burton Hotvedt for his aid in drawing cartoons; to Janice Bounsall, Frances Johnson, Frances Gallagher, and Estelle Buhl for their aid in typing; and to the Pointer Staff for the publicity they have given us.

The Pointer

Students at Central State Teachers College receive weekly news digests in the form of "The Pointer," the school paper. Because of the many and the varied activities at school this year the staff was able to publish many large editions containing very interesting long articles and pictures.

Among the large editions published was one of twelve pages which contained pictures of the campus and typical activities, and writeups of all phases of "Central" life.

"The Pointer" office was moved to better quarters during the Christmas vacation. It now occupies an old class room near the rural assembly.

News for the paper is gathered during the week and the following Monday night the staff members gather to toil until late hours in order to finish articles, type, write headlines, correct copy or listen to the humor of the week.

Much work is entailed in the production of such a publication—but also much joy and satisfaction.

Forensics

Central State Teachers College holds a prominent place in the forensic activities of our Wisconsin State Teachers Colleges.

Since the beginning of the forensic activities in Wisconsin, Central State has not been willing to merely participate. Our contestants have been victorious in a number of cases—in extempore speaking, oratory, and debate. Several extempore speakers and orators who have entered the Inter-State Contests have won honors or tied for first places in them.

The forensic activities of C. S. T. C. are many and varied. Besides general speech work, extempore speaking, oratory, debate and play production is strongly emphasized.

Mr. Leland M. Burroughs, the director of the speech department for the past ten years, has led in bringing honors to Central State.

This year we had the opportunity of entertaining members of the State Oratorical Association for the Oratorical and Extempore Speaking Contests. This honor comes to each Wisconsin Teachers College just once in each nine years. Judging from the reports received from our sister colleges, Stevens Point proved that it can most royally entertain guests at her college.

Celestine Nuesse

Laurin Gordon

Oratory

The Annual State Oratorical Contest was held at Central State Teachers College this year and proved to be one of the finest contests in the history of intercollegiate forensics. The representatives from our sister colleges were enthusiastic in their praise of our college and of their entertainment at Central State College. Various social functions were sponsored for our guests during their stay in Stevens Point.

The C. S. T. C. orator, Celestine Nuesse, a freshman, took fourth place with his oration, which was entitled, "The Mafia of America." It described the evolution of gangs from small beginnings to their present day propensities. We can say with pride that the honor of Central State College was well upheld in a contest where outstanding merit was predominant and where much experience was present in competition. We expect much from Mr. Nuesse in 1932 after this year's work.

Extempore Speaking

The State Extempore Contest was held at Stevens Point in connection with the State Oratorical Contest on Friday afternoon, March 21, 1931.

Laurin Gordon won the honor of representing our college this year in the State Extempore Speaking Contest and made a creditable record with his explanation of the Russian situation. Mr. Gordon's speech was of an optimistic nature, upholding the present government in Russia, and looking forward to a more stable future for that nation.

Mr. Gordon is a junior, and thus will be available for forensic activities next year. He is a member of the Margaret Ashmun Club, President of Sigma Tau Delta, professional English fraternity. He is active in other school activities as well as in forensics.

Debate

More students than the usual number began the debate season in November; through the process of elimination, the squad for the year was chosen.

The question for debate was: "Resolved, that the several states should enact compulsory unemployment insurance, to which the employer must contribute, with the corollaries that all industries employing less than ten men shall be exempt, that all seasonal industries shall be exempt, and that the constitutionality of the question be conceded."

The round of practice debates proved very helpful this year. Lawrence College sent two teams here on February 13, for debates. The negative team journeyed to Milwaukee and Waukesha, February 18, debating with the Milwaukee Teachers College before a group of socialists and bolshevists. Later in the day, our team debated Carroll College. All these practice debates were of the non-decision type. The affirmative team met the University of Wisconsin's negative team on March 2, and our negative team journeyed to Appleton on March 4 to meet again the affirmative squad from Lawrence College. Both teams made several tours into the nearby counties debating against various central state teams.

Committee in charge of Christmas festival: Frank E. Percival, chairman; Leland M. Burroughs, speakers; May M. Roach, tableau of nativity; Edna Carlsten, costumes and decoration; Eva Marie Seen, processional.

Music

Since 1926 Mr. Frank E. Percival was an efficient director of music in the college and supervisor of music in the training school; he was also conductor of the orchestra, the girls' glee club, the girls' quartette, and other musical organizations; and with these groups provided delightful entertainment for many a college program.

Mr. Percival brought nation-wide attention to our college through his connection with the Music Supervisors' Association, which organization he served as treasurer for the past three years.

To add still further glory to our college and distinction to his ability, Mr. Percival published several musical compositions, the last of which was "The Stork She Rose on Christmas Eve." The words of the song were found on the fly-leaf of a sixteenth century English hymn book. The music was published by C. C. Birchard and Company, Boston, Massachusetts; and was sung in the Christmas carol service of the "Old Stone Church" of Cleveland, Ohio, and several times locally at the Christmas season.

Last summer Mr. Percival was invited to teach school music methods in Cornell University, Ithaca, New York; and was invited to return this summer.

First Row: Johnson, Raven, Martens, Hunt, Mr. Percival, Verreux, Fletcher, Aanrud, Gelman
 Second Row: Hougum, Tesmer, Cuff, Sousek, Steinberg, Iverson, Madson, Colrude, Schwantes
 Third Row: Fountaine, Mitchell, Alban, Otto, Doody, Miner, Shaver, Rice, Baird, Shirek, Bounsall, Erickson

Girls' Glee Club

The principal functions of this club are to form the nucleus for the annual Christmas Festival, and to furnish the singing for the graduation services.

The girls this year have been doing splendid work. They were organized to sing publicly and learned how to do part singing. Upon graduation, the girls who were members of this club will be able to take charge of group singing and organize a glee club in high school.

The club this year consists chiefly of freshman girls, nevertheless, they have shown a fine spirit of co-operation and will be able to do very much better next year in their chorus and part singing.

The membership of the club includes the following students from different departments: Mona Aanrud, Janet Alban, Janice Bounsall, Ventura Baird, Loretta Brayback, Myrtle Colrude, Leone Cuff, Josephine Doody, Doris Erickson, Florence Fletcher, Henrietta Fountaine, Mamie Gelman, Lucille Guyant, Evelyn Hougum, Ione Harvey, Mina Hunt, Thyrsa Iverson, Lucille Johnson, Vernice Madson, Margaret Martens, Gwen Miner, Ruth Mitchell, Mary Otto, Virginia Rammer, Miriam Rice, Mary Raven, Elizabeth Shirek, Ludmila Sousek, Ermine Schwantes, Virginia Shaver, Tabea Steinberg, Sylvia Tesmer, and Joyce Verreux.

 Second Row: Grob, Michalski, Rozelle, Mr. Percival, Monastersky, Rundle.
 Third Row: Koyen, Boyer, Frost, Petersen, Roberts, Wisnoski.

Orchestra

The orchestra provides one of the most important activities in C. S. T. C., because of its delight and usefulness. It is a source of continued training for those students who have had some music in high school or in some other school. It also offers a variety of training in string, wind, and other musical instruments. Not only does the organization offer a means of furthering knowledge in music, but it also adds entertainment on various occasions where music is needed.

During the past four years the orchestra has been performing for Mr. Burroughs' class plays, and for the senior plays, where previously music had to be supplied from some other source. At commencement it furnishes the main part of the music. Because of Mr. Percival's illness the orchestra was unable to take part in the State Oratorical Contest as planned.

First Row: Michalski, Horton, Bergsbaken, Kitowski, Grob, Wisnowski
Second Row: Monastersky, Frost, Boyer, Hebal, Roberts, Thompson, Blood, Smith

Band

The band was organized early in the fall for the purpose of introducing more "Pep" into the general assembly meetings and also to put more vim and enthusiasm into the students who partook of the games played at home and away from home.

Here's hoping that we will have a real band next year!

First Row: Wimpe, Shirek, Gladoski, Phillips, F. Anderson, Tetzler, Docka, Pelletier, Wendland, Stoltenberg
Second Row: Radosevich, Mack, Mehne, Law, Staffeil, Bonas, Kautza, Krause, Mathe, Fountaine, Aanrud
Third Row: Kjer, Gladoski, Feathers, Bergsbaken, Trebatowski, Koyen, Petersen

Rural Glee Club

The Rural Glee Club is a feature developed in the Rural Life Club this year which has proved to be a source of pleasure and instruction to those participating in it and one of entertainment to others. Alexander Petersen is the leader of this project and to his untiring efforts and enthusiasm most of its success is due. Besides appearing on programs for the Rural Life Club, the group has sung for organizations in the city and county and at the local radio broadcasting station.

*First Row: Jean Alban, Mary Otto, Janet Alban.

Girls' Quartette

The Girls' Quartette was chosen this year, as usual, from the Girls' Glee Club. The quartette has been active in school programs, and in March supplied the Purple and Gold radio hour with one of the Friday afternoon programs. They also took part in the Christmas festival, and appeared before the Woman's Club on April 4, 1931.

The quartette is composed of freshman girls; their splendid programs, however, lead us to think that by the end of four years these girls will be able to rival the best quartette ever known here.

The singers who have thus distinguished themselves are: Jean Alban, Janet Alban, Elizabeth Otto, Thyrza Iverson, and Dorothy Kuhl, their accompanist.

Raymond Boyer, Jack Frost, Ben Monastersky, Theodore Rozelle

Brass Quartette

The Brass Quartette was composed of members chosen from the Orchestra. It was organized as an extra-curricular activity for the purpose of better acquainting the students with the brass instruments and enabling them to take extra practice so that they might appear in public and in school programs.

Among their appearances in public they have, in behalf of the athletic program, broad-cast several numbers over WLBL; they also played for the Christmas festival; and did much toward creating a Christmas atmosphere.

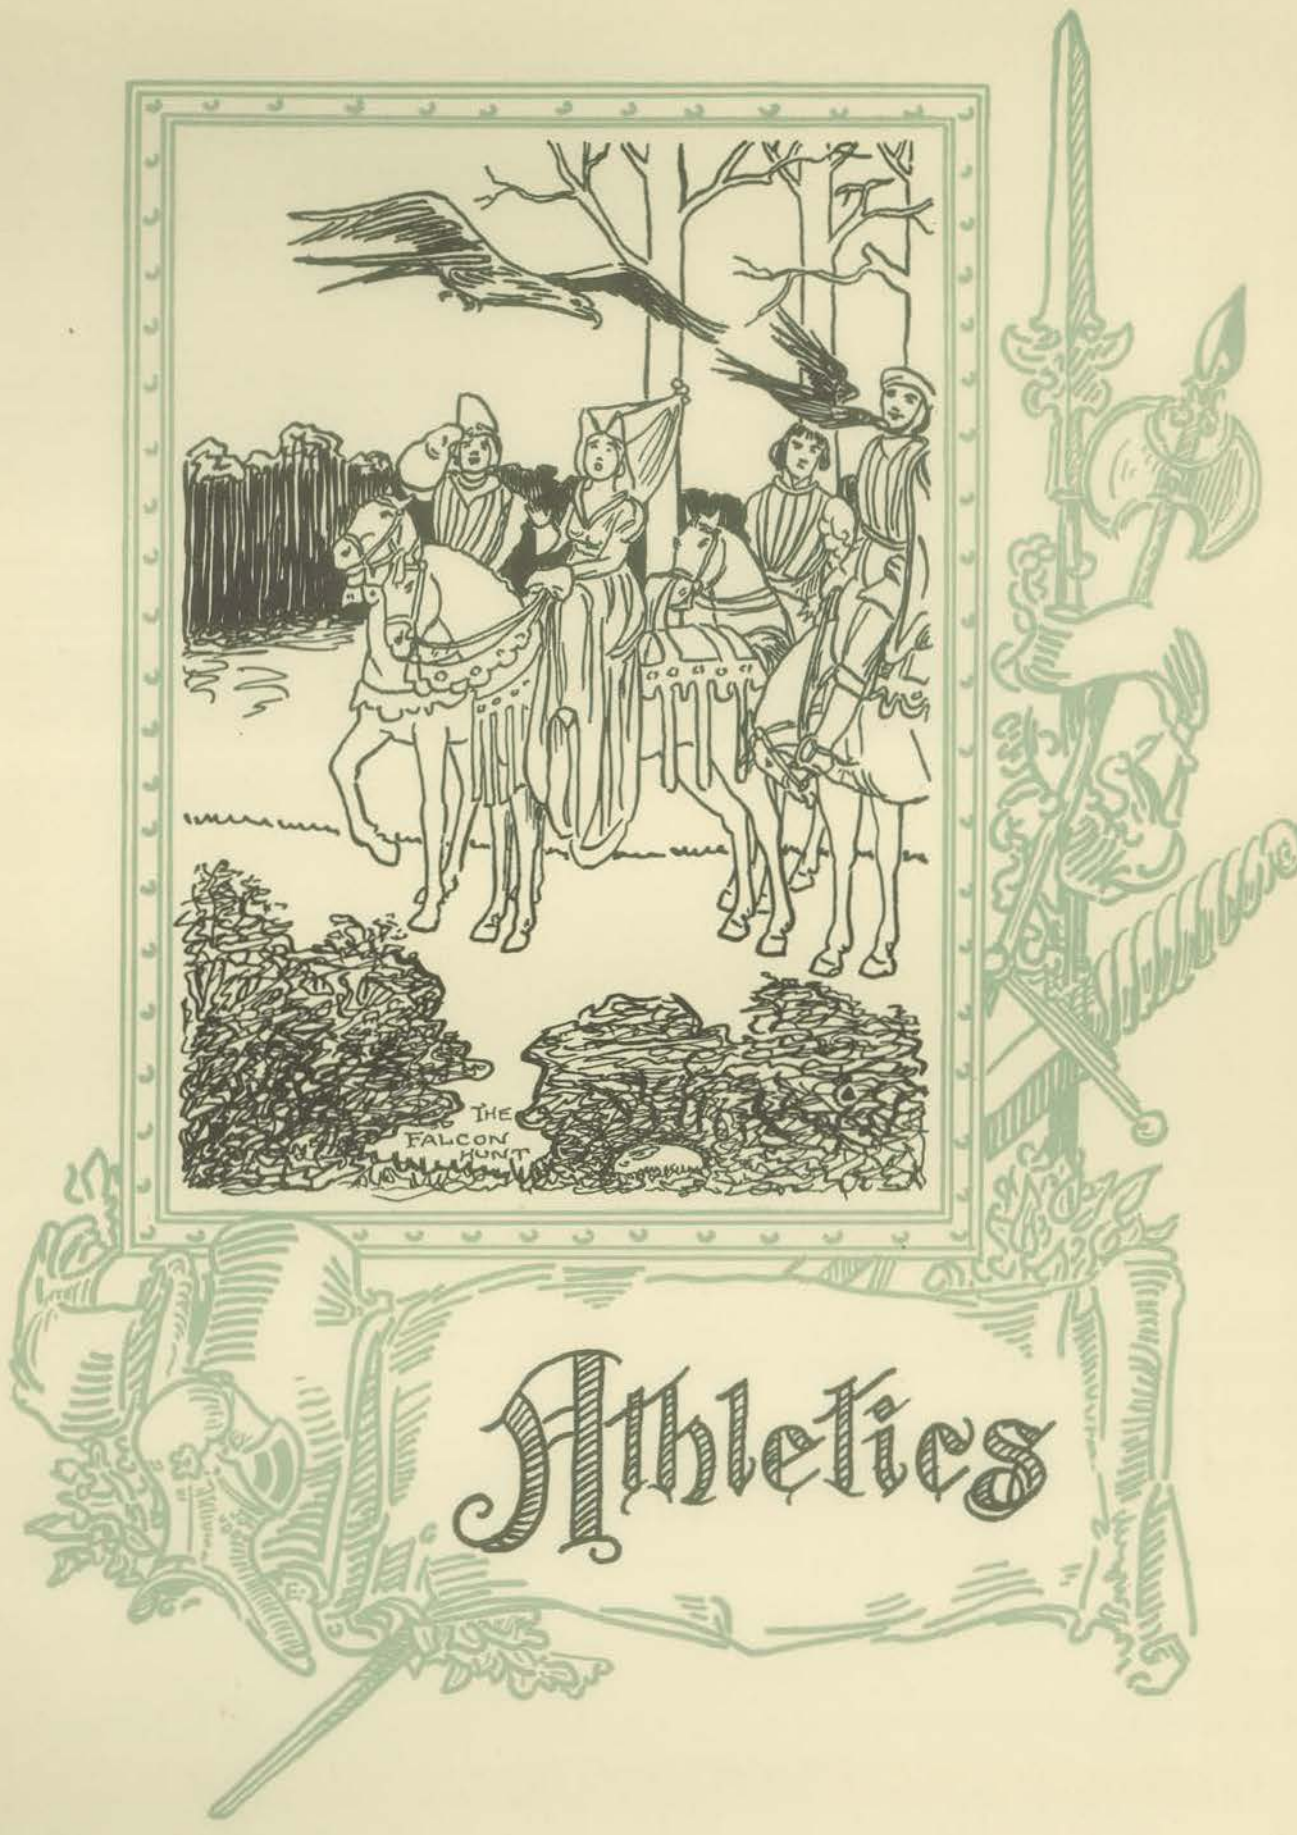

The members of this organization are: Raymond Boyer, Jack Frost, Ben Monastersky, and Theodore Rozelle.

Coach Stockdale

Coach Kotal

Central State's Athletic program was opened by Coach Carl Stockdale. "Stocky" was a hard worker, and was always ready to do his best for the boys. It was "Stocky" who was largely responsible for the "training camp" through which there developed a fine spirit of fellowship among the members of the teams. His friendly approach and cheerful greetings won a place for him in the hearts of those who knew him and their best wishes will go with him wherever he may choose to carry on his future work.

Coach "Eddie" Kotal, successor to Stockdale, came to C. S. T. C. immediately after our football season closed. Eddie's record, both as a coach and as a player, is widely known. He was somewhat handicapped because he had no opportunity to prepare adequately before he took charge of his duties. Nevertheless, the results of his work have been very gratifying. Mr Kotal has already made a host of friends and is admired by all. We are firmly convinced that with the coming of Eddie Kotal there began a new era in the athletic history of this college, and we predict that with him as coach the coming year will be most successful. Good Luck, Eddie!

First Row: Olson, Buege, Neuberger, Foster, McDermott, Baker, Frater, Chvala, Fritsch, Bloomquist, Hansen, J. Smith
 Second Row: Wilson, Maher, Green, Marco, Vrobel, Ramsden, Kennedy, Schroeder, Alberts, Trevalli, Bloch
 Third Row: Charlesworth, Kuhl, Arndt, Kitowski, Petersen, M. Smith, Willecke, Marshall, Clausen, Trebatowski, Klappa, Beaudin, Andre, Coach Stockdale

ROBERT KENNEDY, captain, end. Captain Kennedy, alias "Fighting Bob," the Irishman. Bob, through his loyalty to the team and his ability to promote harmony and team work, proved his worth as captain. "Shoe-string tackles" were his specialty. We shall miss him greatly next year.

HARRY KLAPPA, captain elect, end. Harry also played in the backfield doing much of the punting. Besides his high school football, this student has played two years in college. He knows the game well, and we are confident that he will lead the team to victory next fall. Good Luck, Harry.

MYRON SMITH, tackle. "Mike's" record of being placed on "All-State" teams is ample proof of his ability to play football. "Nuf sed!"

CLARENCE CHVALA, guard. "Ted" was without question one of the best players in the entire conference, a sure tackler at all times. Plays made through him always worked. Ted is at his best on the football field.

RICHARD MARSHALL, center. "Dick" was shifted from fullback to center. His defensive work always worried his opponents.

SAM BLOCH, guard. "Sammy" proved his name by being one of the best blockers on the team. He played football every minute of the game from kick-off to the final gun.

CARL KITOWSKI, tackle. Carl's splendid work as tackle was especially outstanding in the Whitewater game. Whenever ground was needed, Carl paved the way. A real fighter and a real football player.

ALBERT NEUBERGER, end. "Ollie," immediately after the Oshkosh game contracted the name of "Eagle Eye."

He was famous for the spearing of passes. "Ollie" also played on the championship team in 1928.

JAMES MARCO, quarterback. "Jimmy" was a real general and a marvelous passer often pulling the team out of tight places with unexpected plays.

GEORGE RAMSDEN, fullback. "Farmer" was a consistent gainer over center. He constantly backed the line and encouraged the boys at all times. Ramsden played football the way we all enjoy to see it played.

VICTOR VROBEL, halfback. "Vic" made a name for himself in the Milwaukee game. When going was the roughest, "Vic" was at his best. A ball carrier and blocker of Knute Rockne type.

CLIFFORD ALBERTS, halfback. "Cliff," in our opinion and in the opinion of many who saw him play was the best tackler in the conference. A hard plunging back, who always gained at critical moments. "Cliff" scored most of the touchdowns made for Central State this year.

FRANK TREBATOWSKI, tackle. "Treb," shifted from end to tackle, proved that he knew his football. We predict and expect big things from him next fall.

RAYMOND CLAUSEN, guard. "Ray's" first year in college, but he proved to be a worthy player. Your sixty yard punts will be needed next year so keep in trim!

ARTHUR SCHROEDER, quarterback. "Art" was kept from regular service because of a bad shoulder, but when he had the chance to play, he put up a good fight.

LAWRENCE BEAUDIN, center. Beaudin was handicapped by a bad knee. Nevertheless, he was always a hard and willing worker and ready to do more than his share. He filled his place to perfection.

KIMBAL BLOOMQUIST, center. Little but, oh my! "Red" was always ready to fill in and was rarin' to go.

The practice for the 1930 football season began with the opening of a "training camp" with the boys' eating together at Nelson Hall. It was not an easy task which faced coaches Stockdale and Charlesworth to mold a winning team from the new material on hand.

The process of building up a team was slow and tedious. Each man had to be placed where he could do his best work, and the best man had to be chosen for each position. With few letter men back this was a real task.

The Athletic Board

The Athletic Board, consisting of Mr. F. J. Schmeekle, chairman, Mr. C. F. Watson, Mr. R. M. Rightsell, and Mr. H. R. Steiner, is a group working together for the advancement of athletic activities in Central State Teachers College.

In the fall and in the spring representatives of this committee attend state athletic conferences at Madison in order to arrange the schedule for the games which our school plays. This committee also manages the financial apportionments for athletics.

First Row: Baker, Vrobel, Andre, Neuberger, Schroeder, Hansen, Chvala.
Second Row: Coach Kotal, Petersen, Thompson, Johnson, Alberts, Mish.

With only a little practice the prospective members of the basketball team journeyed to St. Norberts to play the first game of the season. Both teams were well matched and although the Pointers led practically all the time the St. Norberts team finally nosed out our boys in the last few minutes. The gun sounded with the score 17-18. Coach Kotal used fifteen men in this game in order to try them all out under game conditions.

The basketball team showed constant improvement and in the next game held the alumni team which was composed of former C. S. T. C. stars to only 5 points. Again Coach Kotal used many men and various sorts of plays which were difficult to stop. Our boys won by a margin of 16 to 5.

The opening game of the conference season was played against last years championship team from River Falls. From the first sounding of the whistle until the final honk of the horn it was a nip and tuck affair. The purple and the gold took the lead right at the start and although only a point or two ahead at times held the lead until the last few seconds when River Falls tied the score. In the overtime period the boys from the Ag school succeeded in three points to our one. Too bad, but it was a great game. The final score being 18-20.

On a two day trip to Menominee and to Eau Claire, the Pointers came out even, winning one and losing one game. Stout determined to avenge themselves for the defeat of last fall took the purple and the gold into camp to the tune of 19-31. Playing Eau Claire on the next night proved rather hard but nevertheless our boys showed their superiority and came home with the bacon: 29-25.

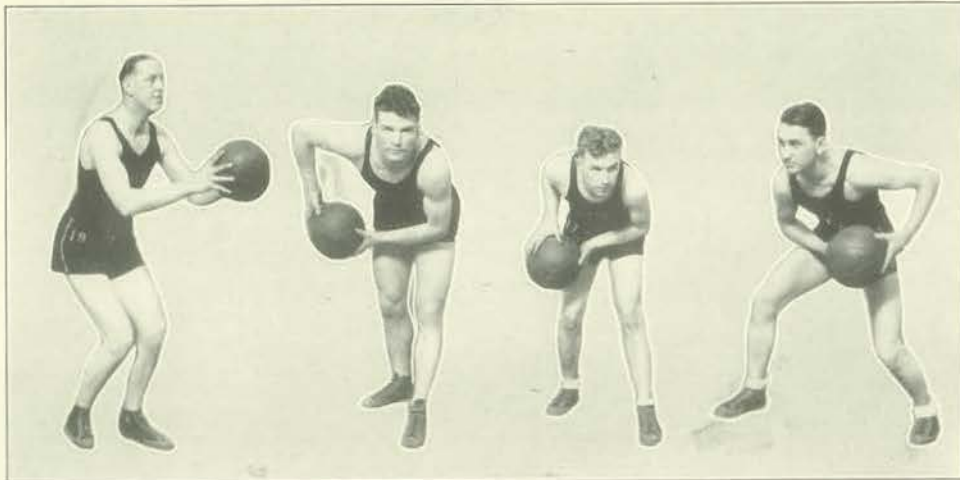

The first non-conference game at home was played against the Northern State Teachers College of Michigan. The superb playing of the Pointers held the state men helpless. The opponents failed to break away from the guards for open shots which made the game rather slow. Long shots were their only hope but alas the Marquette boys must have been short-sighted. Final score 26-35.

The results of this game prove that the boys were decidedly off. A slow game with frequent substitutions being made did not help the purple and gold to find the basket. Final count 11-29.

As usual the Oshkosh game brought the crowd to witness the always interesting match between the two teams. Nor were they disappointed! Oshkosh took the lead and held it safely until the end of the half. Coach Kotal evidently filled the boys with ginger during their rest for they came back and tied the score and were soon in the lead. Oshkosh with several long shots evened the count as the whistle blew. Another overtime game with the jinx against us. We lost 28-32.

A trip into Northern Michigan improved our percentage considerably. The first night Marquette fell before the Pointers with a score of 33-31. Houghton, School of Mines did not do as well for the final count was 21-31.

After our previous defeat by the Whitewater team our boys filled with determination showed that they too could play basketball. After passing the ball over, around and under the Whitewaterites the local boys emerged victorious with a score of 31-23.

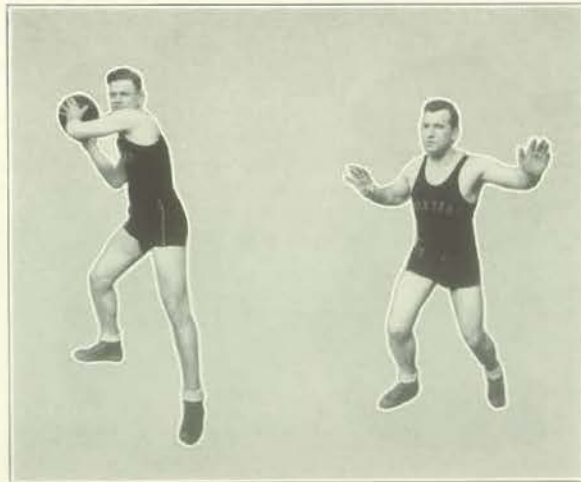

With all the odds against our team in the trip to the "crazy city" our boys gave the Oshkosh team a moral trimming by out-playing the orange and black. With the usual Oshkosh luck against them the Pointers lost by a single point although the purple and the gold consistently ran circles around the opponents. Final count 27-28.

Eau Claire was helped in maintaining the cellar position by the co-operative spirit of the Pointers. The purple and gold took the lead right at the start and at no time were they in any particular danger from the Eau Claire boys. We won 24-14.

The final conference game of the season was quite disastrous to the conference standing of the Pointers. After the fans had done their best to help the boys by yelling, shouting, and screaming the Stout team forged ahead to a safe margin which they held until the final gong. A close game but the jinx worked overtime. Score 20-23. Not so bad Stout!

Revenge is sweet, and sweet it was to the boys to end up the season with a victory over the team which had defeated them in the opening game of the basket-ball year. The Pointers were ahead at all times and were in no danger during the game. The game with St. Norberts ended with a score of 25-27.

First Row: Wilson, Scribner, Neale, Misener, Hoops.
Second Row: Siemers, Walsh, Maas, Collins, Mr. Schmeekle.

The B Team

The second team of basketball usually receives very little credit for the work it does for a college. After all it is this team that is largely responsible for the success of the varsity. This group spends many hours of hard practice, and receives hard knocks and bruises as the reward of being a member of the "B" team squad. But that is what makes good, successful basketball teams.

Central's "B" team played several games at home and a few on foreign floors very successfully.

Women's Athletics

Every year women's athletics play a more prominent part in the college girl's life, and so it is at C. S. T. C. The Women's Athletic Association assumed responsibility for sponsoring the girls' athletic activity program for the year.

The first call to girl athletes was for the fall season of hockey. Every Tuesday and Thursday after school and every Saturday morning girls had the opportunity of testing their ability at sending the hockey ball down the field. Bumped shins did not seem to deter them.

Tennis is always an attraction both in the spring and fall, especially at the four cement courts on the athletic field and the one at Nelson Hall. Many girls have become proficient players during leisure hours of college life.

Archery goes hand in hand with tennis and almost any pleasant day one finds girls improving their posture as well as their aim by the use of the bow and arrow.

Basketball followed as an indoor sport and continued through the college basketball season. This year basketball, the long favored "King of College Sports," has been obliged to share its crown with hockey.

Volleyball, the second big indoor sport, filled the gap between basketball and the out-of-doors games in spring. The number of girls out for volleyball this year was large enough for four teams. This made a very interesting tournament.

Clogging was continuous through the winter months resulting in a discovery by many that this toe-work is something that can be mastered and can give a great deal of enjoyment.

Hiking and skating were indulged in by more than the usual number of girls due to favorable weather conditions. The municipal skating rink at the fair grounds proved to be a very popular place.

Baseball in the late spring and early summer brought much beneficial exercise and competitive sport to those who participated.

The field day program and the hockey players' banquet fittingly closed a very successful year.

Commencement, 1930

The thirty-sixth annual commencement of Central State Teachers College was held Wednesday morning, June 11, 1930, at 10 o'clock. As the processional, lead by the faculty and local regent, entered the auditorium the orchestra played Mendelssohn's "War March of the Priests of Athalia." Then the following program was presented:

Invocation	REVEREND RUFUS HUDTLOFF
Trio: "A May Morning"	Denza
	FERN PUGH, FRANCES ANDERSON, LELA BUTTGEN
Address	DR. H. A. BROWN

Mardi Gras

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 17, 1931

Imagine yourself being jostled in a mad, surging, cheering crowd. "Where shall we go first?" comes a muffled shout out of the midst of the turmoil. "Let's see the 'Blond Blizzard!'" shouts back a tall, handsome basketball player. With more pushing and shoving, you find yourself in a room, tearfully pitying the "Blond," who is involved in a scandalous trial.

From somewhere down the hall, singing and strains of music are heard. "That's the rural quartette," shouts our tall friend. "Let's go!" With a "hip-hip," answered by a "hooray," we dash down to this scene.

"All ready for the main show!" shouts the ticket seller, as the crowd again surges forth. Every seat is taken and all are waiting for the curtains to part to reveal the secret. As they part, the crowd grasps the meaning of the scene and the deafening applause encourages the characters who are taking part. An introduction to Tuball, Snowball, Eyeball and several others, together with the demonstration of their skill in various instruments, is worthy of applause from the entire audience. Not to mention the antics of "Madame Queen" and "Amos and Andy," in person. How "Andy" can jig! Mm—mm!

Downstairs the orchestra can be heard tuning up for the big dance. The crowd immediately catches the invitation and soon the floor is alive with gay gypsy costumes, pierrettes, devils, pirates, clowns, and representatives of foreign countries. Over all a ceiling of red and white crepe paper streamers and balloons is suspended.

Suddenly there is a lull—the music stops—the crowd separates—bright lights flood the room—all eyes are on the open doorway—at last the suspense is broken as a rising cheer greets the majestic entrance of Richard Marshall and Thyrsa Iverson, who are crowned King and Queen of the 1931 Mardi Gras by Fred Hebal, senior class president.

The coronation is followed by the Grand March, led by King Marshall and Queen Iverson. Prizes are awarded to the best-dressed individual, Sylvia Brickson; to the most comical couple, Alice Curtis and Olga Wolfgram.

May our 1932 Mardi Gras be as successful as that of 1931!

Junior Prom

After long weeks of waiting and three weeks of preparation, the new gymnasium was the scene of the annual Junior Promenade which was held Saturday evening April 11, 1931. Striking modernistic decorations carried out the color scheme of silver, black, and green which formed the background, for a hundred or more pretty girls in long, graceful evening gowns and for their escorts in dark suits.

Thousands of silver and black diamonds were suspended from the ceiling, while a large crystal ball in the center revolved slowly catching the different rays of color which played upon the ball from the corners of the room. Large panels of silver and green with black silhouettes were placed at intervals about the walls. Programs of black suede with silver lettering were in keeping with the color scheme.

After the arrival of the guests the very impressive grand march was led by Miss Murilla Roberts, president of the junior class and Mr. Harry Klappa, the class vice-president. They graciously filled the place of host and hostess for the evening.

Green sparkling punch and tiny green frosted cakes were served as refreshments. The scene of revelry subsided at midnight leaving the guests to ponder over the anticipation of another successful prom.

Homecoming

'Twas in the year 1930 that the gallant warriors of the Purple and the Gold went forth in battle against their ancient enemies of the "House of Oshkosh."

A meeting was held in the high council room, where it was agreed that all the fighting soldiers of Stevens Point would be given the greatest of loyal support to meet and defeat the cavaliers of Oshkosh. Then each clan of the Pointers prepared to give their best for the defenders of the faithful.

On the tenth day of October, in the early mists of the evening, the jocose students met in the auditorium all gaily bedecked in purple and gold, to designate the rampant spirits of the time. In joyful song they raised their young and tuneful voices, until the rafters reverberated with echoes. To further encourage this spirit, Mrs. A. T. Olson and Professor Spindler orated on the coming battle. Then the crowd gathered around a huge bonfire on the back campus to arouse a dancing spirit in the heart of the royalty. After this the revellers went their way through the town in a snake dance.

The next day dawned clear and warm, and everybody was up bright and early in order to prepare to rout Oshkosh with great slaughter. At the stroke of ten on the old town clock the paraders formed in line and began to march down the highways and byways of the city. Sigma Zeta, science fraternity, was awarded first place, with the Women's Athletic Association ranking second. The prize for the best stunt was awarded, after due consideration, to the "House of Herrick," with honorable mention to "Execution at 2:30."

At two-thirty the Purple and Gold rooters arrived at an already crowded field. Finally, the white-clad judges called together the armies of both sides and signaled them to begin the battle. The soldiers of Stevens Point began by kicking the oval far into their territory. Then the lords and ladies of Stevens Point howled with delight and encouraged their men with much enthusiasm.

To the sorrow and disappointment of the Purple and Gold supporters, Oshkosh went over the line for seven points in the first quarter. Thus the "Kingdom of Oshkosh" obtained a lead, and finally won the whole battle, despite the brave attempts of the Pointers to profit.

However, the loyal followers of the Point were satisfied inasmuch as our warriors had done their best. That evening to make gayness in the hamlet of Stevens Point, the school sponsored a dance in the new arena to which all the lords and ladies came and enjoyed themselves.

The IRIS 1931

Nelson Hall

Nelson Hall, as the dormitory for the young women of our college, will be fourteen years old next September. Through these fourteen years certain parties and entertainments have been enjoyed year after year, each in its own way, until now Nelson Hall girls speak of traditions.

Last fall, as usual, for the beginning of its festivities, Nelson Hall had a mixer and dance for the new students. Then the "old" girls entertained the "new" girls at an initiation party; and the "new" girls gave a return party at which all the guests were supposed to be movie stars.

After the weekly guest night dances began, snatches of "Three Little Words," "Sing Something Simple," "Cheerful Little Earful," etc., were being whistled in a masculine key on the campus.

At the dinner which the graduates of Nelson Hall give annually for the faculty, the girls confirmed their suspicions as to who could crow the loudest, darn the crookedest, and walk most like an elephant in a circus.

At the family Thanksgiving celebration, the new radio was one of the things for which all were most thankful. Since then Nelson Hall has sponsored two dances in the "old gym" to pay for the aforementioned radio.

Homecoming is the time of many emotions; joy predominating. The Christmas party and the pajama parade are regular frolics in the holiday spirit. The greatest event in Nelson Hall this year, however, was entertaining about eighty girls who came to the State Oratorical Contest. Now the 1929-1930 family are saying, "Let's have another good year in 1931-1932!"

The Training School

Students and teachers in the training school have indeed been able to complete a most successful year of work in the new building.

This structure was completed in January, 1931, and has proved to be one of most value to the school. It is a three story fireproof structure; one of the outstanding features of the building is the excellent heating and ventilating system which was installed at an additional cost of $28,000. The gymnasium which is used by the college and training school pupils is another outstanding feature.

The third floor of the building is devoted to the junior high school with possible plans for a senior high school when it is needed. The first and second floors are used by the primary and intermediate departments, with the training school office, supply rooms, library, and book rooms located on the second floor as well.

Much of the credit for the construction of the building last year and for the fine work that has been done in it this year can be given to Mr. Herrick, the director of the training school.

Central State's Chemistry Laboratory

What is without a doubt one of the most modern, fully equipped chemistry departments anywhere in the state will be found at the Central State Teachers College, where new laboratories have just been completed in the basement section formerly occupied by the old heating plant. The rooms have been transformed with clean white walls, a gray cement floor and splendid lighting facilities and now comprise a department of eight completely modern laboratories and store rooms. An expenditure of $12,000 has been made in the construction, with the equipment and installation of furniture amounting to $5,500 additional.

Included in the department are a general inorganic laboratory, organic laboratory, analytical laboratory, balance room, general storage and stock room for reagents.

The general stock room is a neat, well arranged place that would bring joy to the lover of law and order with its systematic shelving and storage facilities. Tall, all-steel cabinets have shelf upon shelf, with bins underneath for large and heavy articles. Test tubes in graduated sizes are near the door, and flasks and retorts are separated according to types and sizes. All the compartments are plainly labeled. Other cabinets hold chemicals on the upper shelves, arranged alphabetically, with storage bins below. All porcelain ware is in one section, including casseroles, evaporating dishes, mortars and crucibles. The last shelves in the room are a continuation of chemicals, with bins for the storage of copper and iron ware. A work table and sink complete the equipment of the room.

The floors of all the laboratories have been raised over an inner flooring, with a space between for piping. If anything goes wrong, the repairing will be a simple matter as the pipes will be easily accessible. All the tables in the "labs" are raised two and one-half inches from the floor level, and have been built especially for the college. Another interesting example of careful construction is the fact that all the "labs" are fireproof and are separated from the hall by steel doors.

The lecture rooms and office of the department are on the first floor, with two lecture rooms separated by a preparation room between. A lecture table and sliding blackboard are added conveniences for the teachers.

The chemistry instructors are Thomas A. Rogers, who has the students in home economics courses, and Dr. Dell S. Garby, who teaches the courses for the students enrolled in the high school department. They are justly proud of their domain, and take pleasure in showing their fine new rooms to visitors. Under their supervision are more than 60 students, and an even larger enrollment is expected next year, for here one can take four straight years of chemistry, with all the advantages of the best equipment and best instruction.

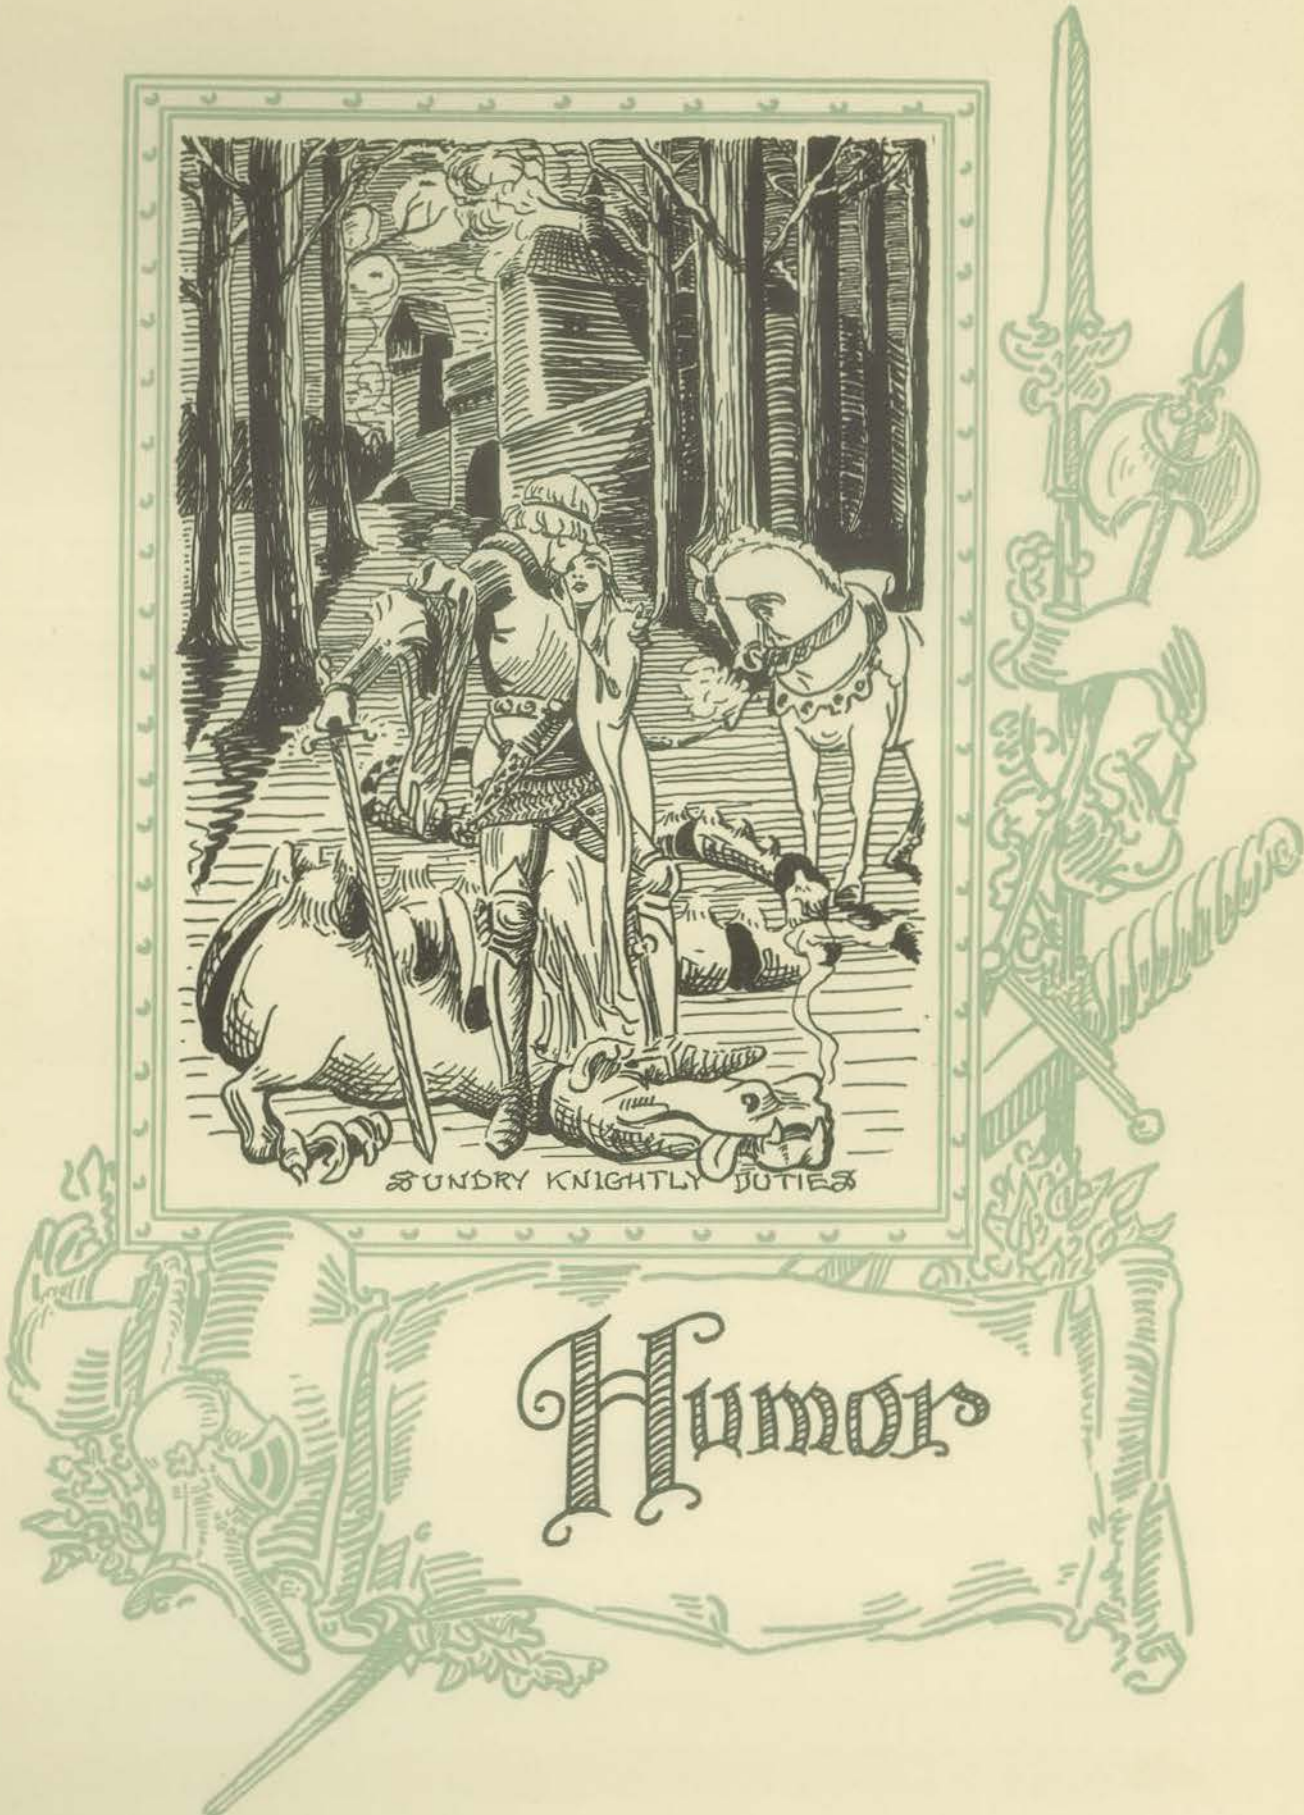

*"To the banks of old Wisconsin
When the years are past and gone
When as schoolmates we have parted
And our lessons all are done,
We'll return and show our comrades,
We're loyal as of old
And cheer them on to victory
'Neath the Purple and the Gold."*

Calendar

SEPTEMBER

15. Welcome to our new Prexy!!! Freshmen enroll. More greenies! Whoopee!
16. Enrollment for old students. Nelson Hall party—where the sophomores show their superior knowledge.
16. Central State frolics at a "Sing." Not even the fire department could squelch our pep.
17. Primary election returns, Philip La Follette wins over Kohler.
18. Old home ec. girls entertain new home ec. girls at tea. We're proud of our "new girls," say the "old home ecs."
19. Home ec. picnic at Red Bridge. More eats! President's reception! Students meet new faculty members—in the well known "pump handle line."
25. We have a band in college and have had some real pep meetings. Rah! Rah! Sis! Boom! Ah!
26. The boys left for Marquette this morning. Nelson Hall girls gave them a merry send off. Citizens of Stevens Point welcome old and new students at special church parties.
27. First conference football game! Tau Gamma Beta tea for students and faculty.

OCTOBER

1. Nelson Hall initiation. New girls get acquainted in a different way.
2. We again enjoyed our band in assembly. The assembly program was in charge of the speech department. Let's support our debaters as well as our athletes!
4. Stout plays here. Pergolders wear laurels of victory—down Stout 6-0.
7. Reception for President Hyer in new gym.
8. Locals attend National Country Life Association at Madison. Become all enthusiastic.

OCTOBER

9. Much preparation for homecoming. It's going to be bigger and better than ever!
10. Wisconsin Teachers Association meeting at Wausau. No school. Hooray! Lots of time to work on floats. Huge bonfire and snake dance in the evening. "C. S. T. C. will shine tonight."
11. Homecoming! Huge success. Gorgeous floats. Sigma Zeta float takes first prize; W. A. A. second. The Pointers meet Oshkosh. Pointers lost first conference game 7-0. Better luck next time, boys. Big dance in new gym, more fun!
12. W. A. A. entertained their alumni members at a waffle breakfast.
16. A lounging room that is just about the last word in comfort and charm ready for the co-eds. Thank you, Mr. Hyer, for your kind gifts. W. A. A.
17. A number of people were locked in the library this morning by a strong lock on each door. Now will you be good and study? And then there's the story about the big jail break—when the practical joker reckoned with the janitor.
18. Milwaukee playing Hallowe'en pranks. Oh, well!
25. Football—Whitewater there, 19-7 in favor of Whitewater. "When ground was needed, Kitowski paved the way" and Whitewater now has an all concrete field.

NOVEMBER

1. Pointers play Northland College. Northland scored over Pointers 7-c.
3. Rural Life Club. Primary Council.
4. Social sororities and fraternities meet.
5. Sigma Tau Deltans "dine." W. A. A.
6. Men have new lounging room—copy cats!

25. Y. W. C. A. tea. Social committee dance.
29. Chi Delta Rho frat. give informal dancing party at home of Douglas Robertson.
26. Home for Thanksgiving. Turkey, pumpkin pie, um-r-m!

DECEMBER

1. Mr. Percival writes Christmas carol, "The Stork She Rose on Christmas Eve." Receives favorable mention in East.
2. Debate team begins preparation for coming season. The big question for 1930-31 deals with unemployment; perhaps these arguers will solve a national problem yet.
3. Sigma Tau Delta. The English fraternity is interested in bringing out all types of authorship for the semester. All material presented at the meetings will be original work. W. A. A. With a celebration which ended the hockey season, the girls are starting the basketball season early. Watch for the tournament! Not to mention the meetings when the girls talk about sports of all kinds in other countries.
4. Kotal, former Packer star, All-American pro arrives as coach for C. S. T. C. Welcome, Eddie! Remember, we expect nothing but a state championship this year, and some excellent lettermen.
5. Tau Gamma Beta sorority dance. Decorations consisting of red and green streamers with silver tinsel and low lights gave the old gym the atmosphere of Christmas.
6. Omega Mu Chi sorority entertains Tau Gamma and faculty at tea in home ec. rooms. Orchid sweet peas, baby chrysanthemums and tall tapers in amber holders carried out the colors of the sorority.
8. Home Ec. Club enjoy Christmas party in old gym. Everything from the traditional Christmas tree to Christmas cookies from Norway tells us that Santa won't be long in coming. Rural Life Club entertains.
9. Carry Corners Club. Program consisted of a play, declamations, and songs.
10. Miss Allen and Mr. Thompson leave to attend the National Vocational Association conference in Milwaukee. Leaders in vocational education from all over the U. S. were present.
11. Front stairway now open, save your feet and use the short cut.
12. Local oratorical contest held in college auditorium. Four students were chosen from eight orators who will enter in contest in further competition.
13. Dorm girls give benefit radio dance. It won't be long until the dorm co-eds will have the debt removed from over their heads.
15. Rural Life Club and Primary Council help in Christmas entertainment by having an operetta. Santa will visit even the poor families of this city this year due to the contributions of the club.
16. Fraternity and sorority meetings. Every Tuesday night is set aside for these meetings.
17. Sigma Zeta meets. Discussion of scientific nature encourages study along these lines. Annual Christmas festival.
20. Christmas vacation begins. Hooray for Santa Claus! See you next year.

JANUARY

1. Vacation ends. Have you made that New Year's resolution to study harder than ever? Rural Life Club and Primary Council. Don't tell us we aren't active.
6. Social fraternity and sorority meetings.
7. Sigma Tau Delta—the English fraternity is accomplishing their purpose.
8. Y. W. C. A. Eats this time—Hooray! The Loyolas also meet and have a good program.
9. Basketball—River Falls vs. Stevens Point. Point defeated in overtime game 16-5. Margaret Ashmun Club dance. You didn't yell loud enough! That's all.
12. Home Economics Club enjoyed a demonstration at the Electric Company by Dorothy Newell Bourn. Their slogan is: "Marriage—not without electricity." All the members are going to marry millionaires.
13. Chemistry lab. is best in state. I think they made a mistake in putting it in the basement. Think of being blown through three floors and a ceiling.
14. Dr. Robert Dodge Baldwin, former Prexy, has accepted a position as professor of education in the University of West Virginia. Here's luck and success.
15. Mr. Roberts resigns to teach in Rome. We wonder if he'll follow that old adage "when in Rome—do as Romans do."
16. One of the prettiest dances of the year scores success. Did you notice how comfortable the atmosphere was. That's what snow does for you—home ecs. Basketball at Stout—Pointers lose 31-19. Coming better boys! Hold your own!
17. We play Eau Claire and win 29-25. Told you so—keep it up!
19. Basketball—Marquette Peds bow to Point 35-26. Who's ahead now! Yeah coach—Yeah team!
20. Klappa is elected captain of '31 grid team. Watch 'em come through on top. No plowing needed on that field.
21. Thirteen graduate—six with degrees. Nothing unlucky about that. A black cap and gown is the only difference with the other seven.
22. Nuesse chosen as school orator. He can't help it. He was born with his mouth open. Laurin Gordon will go as alternate. Cheer up! Maybe Nuesse will get a sore throat.
23. Chi Delta Rho fraternity sponsors a semi-formal dance at Hotel Whiting—huge success. It's not just another frat. Watch them make their own record.
24. Preliminary debate with Lawrence College.
26. Prom committee begins work. Once begun, they'll never let up until their ideas are bigger and better than last year's.

27. Basketball—Oshkosh. Point loses in overtime game 32-28. Now why did you let that happen?
28. W. A. A. Have you seen the girl's playroom? We know the men have.
29. Y. W. C. A. Have you missed any of the discussions on the subjects varying from religion to ethics? Although we don't always agree with the speaker we have something to think about.
30. Basketball — St. Norbert's 26-28. They just wanted to make it exciting. Stag dance sponsored by Tau Gamma Beta sorority. More fun!
31. Semester ends. Once more we breathe for a space of three days. If only someone would stop the second semester from coming on.

FEBRUARY

2. Enrollment for new semester. All ready for work.
3. Sorority and fraternity meetings.
4. Public speaking class play, "A Tailor Made Man." Now I ask you—do clothes make the man?
6. Phi Lambda Phi sponsors dance in honor of graduating brothers.
7. We whitewashed Whitewater. Whoop-ee!
9. T. B. study is conducted. The M. D.'s are after all the bugs.
10. Tau Gamma Beta sorority entertain at a theater party.
12. Formal initiation.
13. Basketball—B team. Freshman Valentine party. They still believe in hearts.
14. Omega Mu Chi sorority entertained rushees at bridge party at Hotel Whiting.
15. Debaters engage in wordy battle with St. Norbert's.

FEBRUARY

17. Mardi Gras with King Richard, the Lionhearted, and Queen Thyrsa reigning. A carnival that was everything a carnival ought to be—with masks, music and a minstrel show.
18. More words! Debate—Carroll and Milwaukee State Teachers College.
19. Roger C. Blackman, gives lectures on astronomy. Now we know what makes the world go 'round.
20. Basketball—Eau Claire, here.
23. Forum.
24. Sorority and fraternity meetings.
25. Sigma Zeta fraternity members visit the Telephone Company to see how the insides work.
26. Plays presented in assembly. "Our Inner Selves" and "Over the Card Table." My! My! How these women talk!
27. Basketball—Stout. Those Stout fellows are not so stout—but they're plenty fast. Speech department has charge of radio hour.

MARCH

2. Rural Life Club. Primary Council Eats!
3. Sorority and fraternity meeting. Hell week begins for the frat pledges.
4. Sigma Tau Delta. W. A. A. entertains faculty women and wives at party. Clever affair—"Good time was had by all."
5. Y. W. C. A. New cabinet discussed.
6. Conference debates.
7. Home Ec. Club—Miss Zimmerli gave interesting talk on Switzerland.
11. Margaret Ashman Club meets.
12. Y. W. C. A. Loyola Club—Musical program enjoyed by all.
14. St. Patrick party given by Rural Life Club. Bigger success than ever before.
16. New dramatic club is organized. Harlequin Club if you please!
19. Central State host to guests of the other state teachers colleges. Dance in the new gym. School colors decorated the gym with streamers, kites, art specimens representing the various colleges' specialties, 'neverything.
20. State oratorical contest. Nuesse takes fourth place. Our guests expressed appreciation for their royal welcome and entertainment.
24. Tau Gamma Beta pledges entertained actives at the home of Georgianna Atwell.
25. Fraternity pledges informally initiated.
25. Formal initiation of Phi Lambda's. Attended the dance in a group. "We want women" pass word of the evening. That's right, girls, get independent; make 'em loosen up.

Between the Theatres

Class Prophecy---A Travelogue, A la Richard Halliburton

It was in 1950. I had taught twenty years and finally decided that I needed a glorious vacation. It was thus that I started my tour of Europe—and what a revelation it turned out to be. Because I was a staid old maid I could not approach the continent so romantically as did Richard Halliburton, but at least I could in a prosaic manner visit the same places.

I landed at Hamburg and on my way from the dock met Fred Hebal (grown much fatter). He owns a chain of butcher shops and anyone who travels in Germany learns of Hebal's Sausages.

One cannot stop in central Europe without acquiring Matterhorn madness. Being rather timid about scaling mountain peaks I thought it necessary to hire two guides, and who do you suppose came? Mike Smith and Dick Marshall. These former football heroes had climbed to fame many times, but never so daringly as they did in the Swiss Alps. Many times had they let people dangle over a 4,000 foot precipice. I heard that upon reaching the summit, Dick felt quite satisfied, for now he could boast of spitting a mile. I received no such exalted satisfaction, but only blistered feet and aching muscles.

While visiting in Paris I decided to attend the Follies Bergere, and could hardly wait to get backstage to see Laura Schoeninger and Alice Wallington, who were dancers there. They could not visit with me very long, because a French count and a Parisian designer were waiting for them. Not meeting any more old school mates in Paris I decided to go to Spain where I stopped at the Barcelona. On waking, the first morning, I was intrigued by the music being played in the court below my window. Immediately after breakfast I went out to the street to watch the gay dancers. How seriously they took their dancing, never smiling or speaking, but dipping and stepping to the right and left. Suddenly I was struck by the appearance of one of the dancers, for he looked like an American. "Didn't you feel silly doing that dance?" I asked, for you see it was another gay member of the class of '31. None other than Jack Johnson! Remember when he went around singing about a little balcony in Spain?—well, I guess he got it. The afternoon of the same day, like all touring Americans, I decided to see a bull fight or rather Senor Victor Vrobel, the renowned bull thrower. Vic seemed to have gone Spanish, but then he was dark, you remember.

Trying to be a true adventuress, I decided to try my luck at Monte Carlo which was more renowned than ever with Kermit Frater running a table.

Hoping that I might be successful I put 1,000 francs on black and watched the little ivory ball spin around. "Come red—red—RED!" I prayed. But it came black! While sitting on a divan to recover from the shock, I heard two American couples renewing acquaintances. Looking up, I was startled to see Mr. and Mrs. Bob Kennedy and Mr. and Mrs. Greg Charlesworth. Both Bob and Joe, and Greg and Lucille explained that they felt quite at home at Monte Carlo having played—and won there many times before.

Tiring of European society I departed for wilder climes in Asia. I remember Halliburton's saying that Calcutta in April is one of the four hottest places in the world; the other three being suburbs of the same city. Every radiator in the city must have been turned on when I got there. At my lodging place I inquired as to what was happening in the city. The proprietress answered that everyone was much enthused over the work of the new missionaries, Ellamae Newberry and Ruth Stiller.

The most beautiful sight in India and one of the finest in the world is the Taj Mahal. Thousands of tourists visit it annually, but wishing to get all possible history concerning it, I went to one of the British officers, Earl Utharogrove, and was graciously taken through the shrine. On one of the balconies we met Lawrence Beaudin, the world's renowned poet. Lawrence was trying to put some of the splendor of the place into real verse.

In Peking, I was rather lucky—perhaps because I so jealously guarded the talisman which a Chinese boatman had given me. After much diplomacy I gained the privilege of seeing the princess. How surprised I was to find that her tutor was Alice Falk. After that I had no difficulty in finding points of interest in the city, for everyone bowed to and aided Alice almost as if she were the princess. I lingered longer in China than I had planned, but I felt that as Japan was the only place left to visit I would soon have to go home.

My last famous visit was at Fujiyama. No picture which you have ever seen can begin to portray that wonderful, sacred mountain. After climbing about half a mile I gazed down on the foothills and could see the Pacific rolling in the distance. At a house farther up the mountain where everyone stopped to rest, I found a register and there was Elizabeth Rogers' name among those who had made up the last party. I felt badly to think I had missed seeing her, but hoped that I might have passage on her ship when returning to America.

I had become one of the so-called "globe trotters" but in acquiring that title I renewed acquaintanceship with many of my old classmates of the class of 1931 of Central State Teachers College.

Last Will and Testament of the Class of 1931

We the class of 1931 of Central State Teachers College, city of Stevens Point, county of Portage, United States of America, being about to leave this institution, do hereby publish this, our last will and testament.

To the freshmen of next year, we give and bequeath our continued success in crowning Mardi Gras Kings and Queens.

To the present freshmen—our public speaking abilities, may they talk louder and longer.

To the sophomores—our best wishes for making next year's junior prom a success.

To the juniors—our assembly seats, and our senior dignity—may they long uphold it and serve as an example to all "runners-up."

To Clifford Alberts, Elizabeth Rogers' success as business manager of the Iris.

To Helene Wimme, Esther Hawkes' methods in debate.

To Elizabeth Neuberger, Marion Kowitz's ability to get by without studying.

To "Mibs" Roberts, Laura Schoeninger's methods of securing order at the business and social meetings.

To Anyone, who may desire the vacancy of Home Ec. president, Irene Skutley will gladly bid you success.

To Blanche Tyler, Velva Carley's quiet manners.

To Mr. Schmeekle, a vote of thanks for so cheerfully guiding our class through its four years of sojourn here.

To some worthy student in need of an honorable position, Dick's job as dishwasher at the dormitory.

To our teachers, our knowledge of art, science and philosophy—may they use it to the best of their ability.

To anyone and everyone, our lost fountain pens and eversharps, the remainder of our property after expenses of our passing on have been paid, our memories of friends and classes and years well spent here, and our blessings to those who follow.

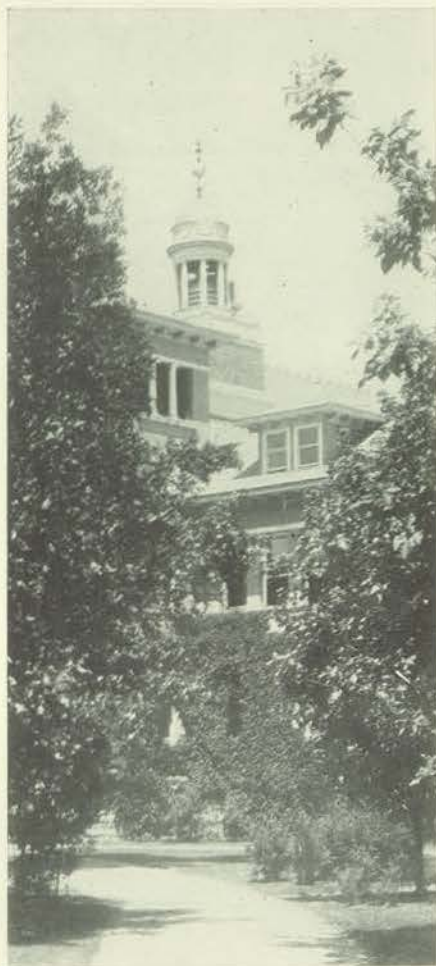

In witness whereof we the testators of the will of the senior class do set our seal this first day of March, One Thousand Nine Hundred and Thirty-one, A. D.

Humor

Mr. Evans (in describing a book): "It'll either set you to thinking or give you an awful headache."

Bill Scribner: "I suppose I'll have to buy a box of aspirin."

CHEER UP

Think of the things that you have done,
That others do not know about,
The things which might be said of you
Would make you look much less devout.

We might reveal the times you've skipped,
When you were caught with your new crush,
The things, my child, we haven't told
In print, would make the teachers blush.

We've heard some awful things of you,
Of which, my child, you're not aware,
Of the times you stood on the dark stairway,
When the hours were sma' and wee and rare.

Cheer up, for we'll not say a word,
We've learned at last to overcome
Our wish to write about you, or
We certainly would make things hum.

"I have shaved my face with your razor for five years. I would use it to cut my hair, but I hate to give up my lawn-mower."

The girls all follow the fashions,
The reason they follow them, son,
Is they never catch up, for the styles change so fast,
The girls are kept on the run.

Lady Customer: "Young man, have you smoked beef?"

Fred Hebal: "N-n-no, ma'am; nothing worse than cigarettes."

It is said that the Grand Canyon was made by a Scotchman who dropped a nickel in a gopher hole.

Nelson Hall

A steam heated, three story, fire-proof building erected especially for the Dormitory for young women. This building affords a comfortable home for 105 women,

Each room is electric lighted, with hot and cold running water and fully furnished except for pillows and bedding.

The girls may wash and iron in rooms equipped for laundry work.

The large dining room provides accommodation for 175 men and women. Meals are ample, well balanced, with fresh fruits and vegetables in season. The price is $5.50 per week with reasonable charge for single meals.

The young women in Nelson Hall are under the friendly influence of wholesome companions in an environment of simple beauty and refinement.

MAY A. ROWE

The judge asked the prisoner if he had anything to offer the court before sentence was passed on him.

"No, judge," he said, "I had $20 but my lawyer took that."

"Dear Florence," wrote the young man, "pardon me, but I am getting so forgetful. I proposed to you last night, but really forgot whether you said yes or no."

"Dear Gordon," she replied by note, "so glad to hear from you. I know I said 'no' to someone last night, but I had forgotten who he was."

The reason King Solomon had so many wives was because he figured at least one of them might be home when he came back from the office.

Art: "Have you lost something?"

Cliff: "I don't know whether I have or not. I'm still looking for it."

"Good morning, sir. I'm a bond salesman."

"That's all right, my good fellow. Here's a quarter; go buy yourself a square meal."

"If we make art accessible to the people, the people will go after art," says Otto H. Kahn.

"No, by golly. If you want the people to go after art, pass a law against it."

A woman overheard her husband talking in his sleep, and she took but little notice of it the first night it happened. But the second night he continued to talk in his sleep, and the third night he continued to talk, so the following morning she said, "Look here, John, I have heard you talking now in your sleep every night for three nights, and I want to know who Irene is."

Her husband said, "Why, my dear, that is my horse, my little horse that I drive. It is foolish for you to think anything about that. I drive her every day and naturally I might speak about her in my sleep." Two or three days later he came home in the evening and said, "Well, dear, anything new?"

She said, "Well, nothing to amount to anything, except that your horse called you up on the telephone three times today."

College Professor: "I don't wish to seem too severe with tardy students; I realize that many of you are forced to park six or eight blocks away."

*A Yearbook Service that inspires a staff
to creative effort*

A SCHOOL annual is at its best when student interest is keyed to a high pitch by the fascinating development of niceties that will make the book distinctive. This is the key idea back of Badger Yearbook Service. Close contacts and personal assistance offer students an insight into the fundamentals of school annual building. The work is accordingly given impetus through a better understanding of the purpose and aim in every move. Thus, a staff knows at all times what it desires to accomplish. When this is achieved, the task becomes a pleasure.

The success of the Badger plan is evidenced each year in the high ratings received by an unusually large percentage of books produced by us, and by the fact that many schools insist on Badger quality year after year.

RACE SUICIDE

The visitors at the packing house had reached the refrigerator rooms. "All these birds you see hangin' here are cold storage hens," explained the guide. "Dear, dear!" sighed an elderly lady. "What'll we do for cold storage eggs when they are all killed off?"

Isaac: "You should pull the curtains down ven you kiss your wife. I saw you last night."

Alex: "The chokes' on you. I vasn't home last night."

Mr. Evans had taken his class for a ramble in the country. "This afternoon, students," he announced, when a shady spot had been selected for the lecture, "I'm going to show you the peculiar anatomical structure of the one-horned toad." Then he took from his pocket a small package neatly wrapped in white paper. He opened it slowly and carefully. A banana and a sandwich fell out. Mr. Evans frowned and looked thoughtful. "Well, well," he said, "I could have sworn I had eaten my lunch."

Miss Seen (talking over the telephone): "Send up a bale of hay."

Merchant: "Who's it for?"

Miss Seen: "The horse."

We wish to commend the bravery of the individuals who have skipped school this year. We feel that their individuality is expressed against adverse criticism.

A freshman wants to know what the difference is between getting kicked out and graduating.

Mike (in church when the collection was passed to him): "Not a cent; I don't believe in missions."

"Then," said the usher, "won't you take something out? It's intended for the heathen."

"So your son got his B.S. and M.A.?"

"Yes, indeed, but PA still supports him."

John: "What's made you so late?"

Dick: "I fell downstairs, sir."

John: "That ought not to have taken you long."

"JAHN & OLLIER AGAIN"

FINE annuals, like brilliant victories, are brought about by the co-ordination of skillful generalship and trained effort. Jack: "I got a cut in the lip last night."

Oscar: "Dull razor?"

Jack: "No, rough road."

"What are you hollering for?" demanded the brutal dentist. "I didn't hurt you."

"Of course not," agreed young Crosby, wiping cold perspiration from his brow. "I've just a silly habit of yelling whenever I visit dentists."

Mr. Mott, in characterizing a former student who is now a rival and competitor, said: "Why, he's a sharper, a thief and a liar, and I taught him all he knows."

Miss Roach (to pupils just before leaving for vacation): "Now people, I want you to behave yourselves during your vacation and have some sense in your head when you get back."

Bright Student: "Same to you, Miss."

C. S. T. C. version: And they lived happier ever after!

Alice S.: "Tom, don't you know you shouldn't fold your napkin in a cafe?"

Tom: "Well, I have to get it in my pocket."

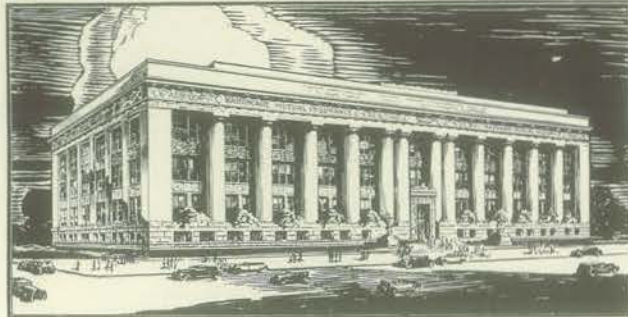

"It's an extended corridor that has no termination," mused the absent-minded professor as he patiently plodded around the revolving doorway.

Mr. Steiner: "Your wife is awfully pathetic isn't she?"

Mr. Schmeackle: "Yes, she touches me quite a bit."

Mr. Watson: "Describe the manners and customs of the people of India."

Red Bloomquist: "They ain't got no manners and they don't wear no costumes."

MISINTERPRETED

"May I have this dance?"

"No, I'm too danced out."

"Why—ah—you're not too damn stout; you're just pleasingly plump."

Miss Davis: "Well, all I have to say is if we do have another war I hope it is with France. The French are so polite."

Mr. Spindler (speaking to Wilbur Stowell after he ran across the room to open the door for a girl): "What do you think you are, a 'Ladies Aid'?"

Mr. Watson: "What is a Turk?"

Harry Hanson: "A scorched white man."

Kotal: "If you had two wishes what would you wish for Oscar?"

Oscar: "I'd wish I had a wife."

Kotal: "Then I'd save the other one and see how things turn out."

Miss Allen (at the head of the stairs): "Girls, haven't I told you to open up the draft when you burn garbage?"

Ruth Stiller: "I'm sorry Miss Allen but we are boiling potatoes with the jackets on."

Dedicated to Donald Duggan's Ford

One Ford car with piston rings
Two hind wheels and one front spring
Has no fenders, seats of plank
Easy on gas, but hard to crank,
Carburetor split half way through
Engine missing, hits on two,
Leaking oil, radius rods bent,
Extra tire ain't worth a cent.
Gasoline tank is leaking gas
Good windshield but has no glass.
Ten spokes twisted, wheels ain't plumb
Three old tires, inner tubes bum.
Top is gone and the body is rude
Radiator busted, should be glued.
Hind axle twisted in the differential gear,
But the horn's got a honk loud and clear,
The transmission gear's got an awful squeak,
But the steering wheel can't be bent
Two spark plugs just bought new
Don't fire any better than the other two
Front lights burn when the weather's hot,
Don't know if the tail light's working or not.
She's full of carbon, brake bands no good
Brand new fan belt, regular Ford hood
Three years old, four in the spring,
It has shock absorbers, darn poor thing
Starts in low, stops in high—has to let other cars go by.
Besides the cylinders should be rebored
Then she'd be as good as a brand new Ford
She's got the speed if you turn her loose,
Burns gas, kerosene, or tobacco juice.
You can bury her right if you've got the tin,
It's a darn good Ford for the shape she's in.

Not How, But Why

Paste this in your scrap book: The man who KNOWS HOW will always find a place in life. But the man who KNOWS WHY will be his BOSS.

Just apply that to your financial affairs. Most anyone knows HOW to deposit money at the bank, but until one realizes WHY he should do so, he will not have much of a bank account. Most people know HOW to save, but many have not learned WHY they should. That's the thing to learn if you want to succeed. We'll help you. 3% on savings.
