

IRIS

We present to you this IRIS of 1939 with the hope that it is something you can enjoy and cherish as a souvenir of your happy days spent here at C. S. T. C.

Our theme is that of an airplane view, with the idea of giving to you a "flying sight" of a year in our school, its happiness, its work, its trials and disappointments and its personal success.

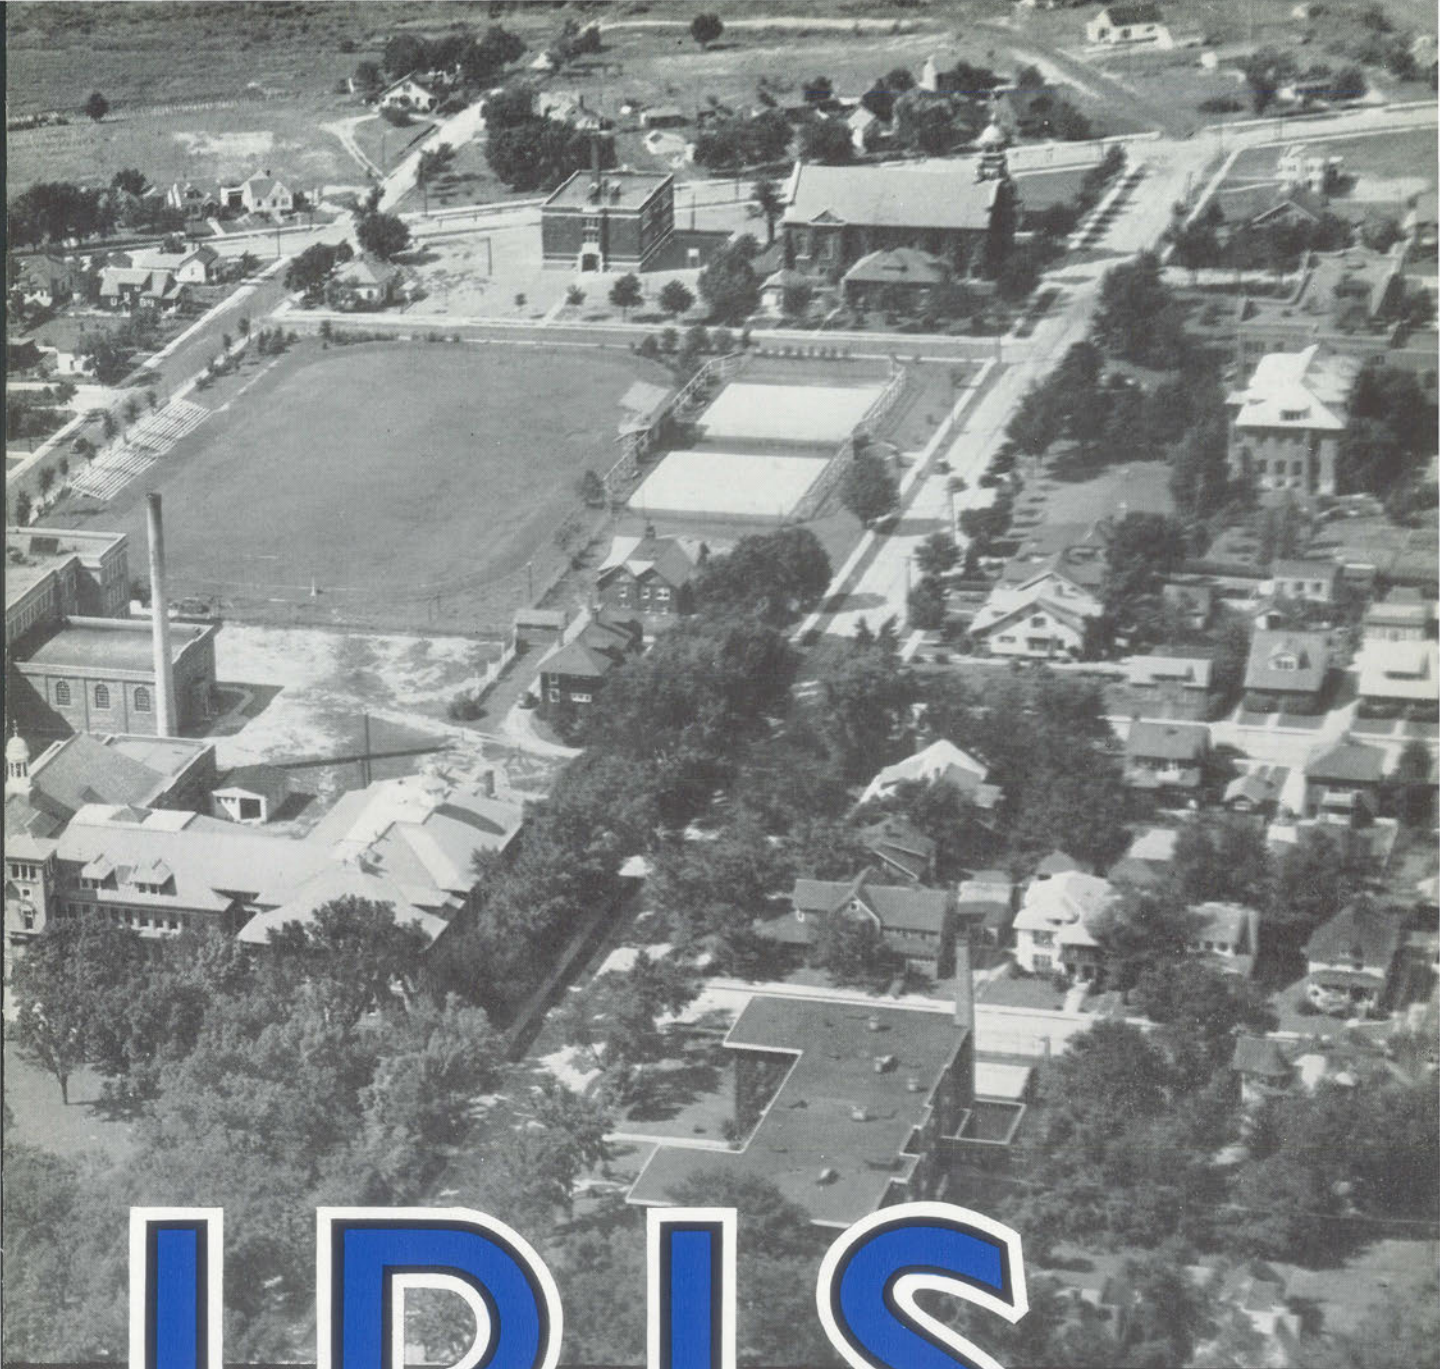

We hope you like it! Because it was made for you, by you and because of you!

FRANK S. HYER

With the retirement of President Hyer last year the school lost a truly capable man and a kind leader. It also lost one of the "old guard", for President Hyer has spent fifty years in educational service, many of which he has given to this school.

We say goodbye to President Hyer, after the first year without him, and wish him success and happiness in all his doings.

Few satisfactions in life are greater than the realization that one is privileged to participate in and is necessary to the vital affairs of his fellow men. It is not the kind of work so much as it is the appreciation of the social significance of the work that renders satisfaction. It is a great privilege and responsibility to be a teacher in our generation.

I regret that I shall no longer be able to share with you the life at Central State. However, the semester I spent at this delightful place shall always remain one of the most interesting, and pleasant experiences in my life.

In Memoriam

Whereas, Our Heavenly Father in His divine wisdom and infinite love has summoned to his reward our highly respected and efficient regent, George H. Martens; and

Whereas, in the death of Regent Martens Central State Teachers College has lost an able administrator and a sincere friend; and

Whereas, we fully realize the loss which has come to our entire community and to this state in the passing of a man who in his daily living most truly exemplified the ideal American; and

Whereas, we shall ever remember him as a man of strong convictions, unselfish in all relationships with his fellow men and as conscientious in the performance of every act as though it were his last; therefore be it

Resolved, that we as a faculty express our deep admiration for and our sincere appreciation of Mr. Martens; and be it further

Resolved, that we express our heartfelt sympathy to his bereaved wife and children, to his sorrowing father and other relatives, with a prayer to the Divine One that fortitude may be granted them in this, their time of grief; and be it finally

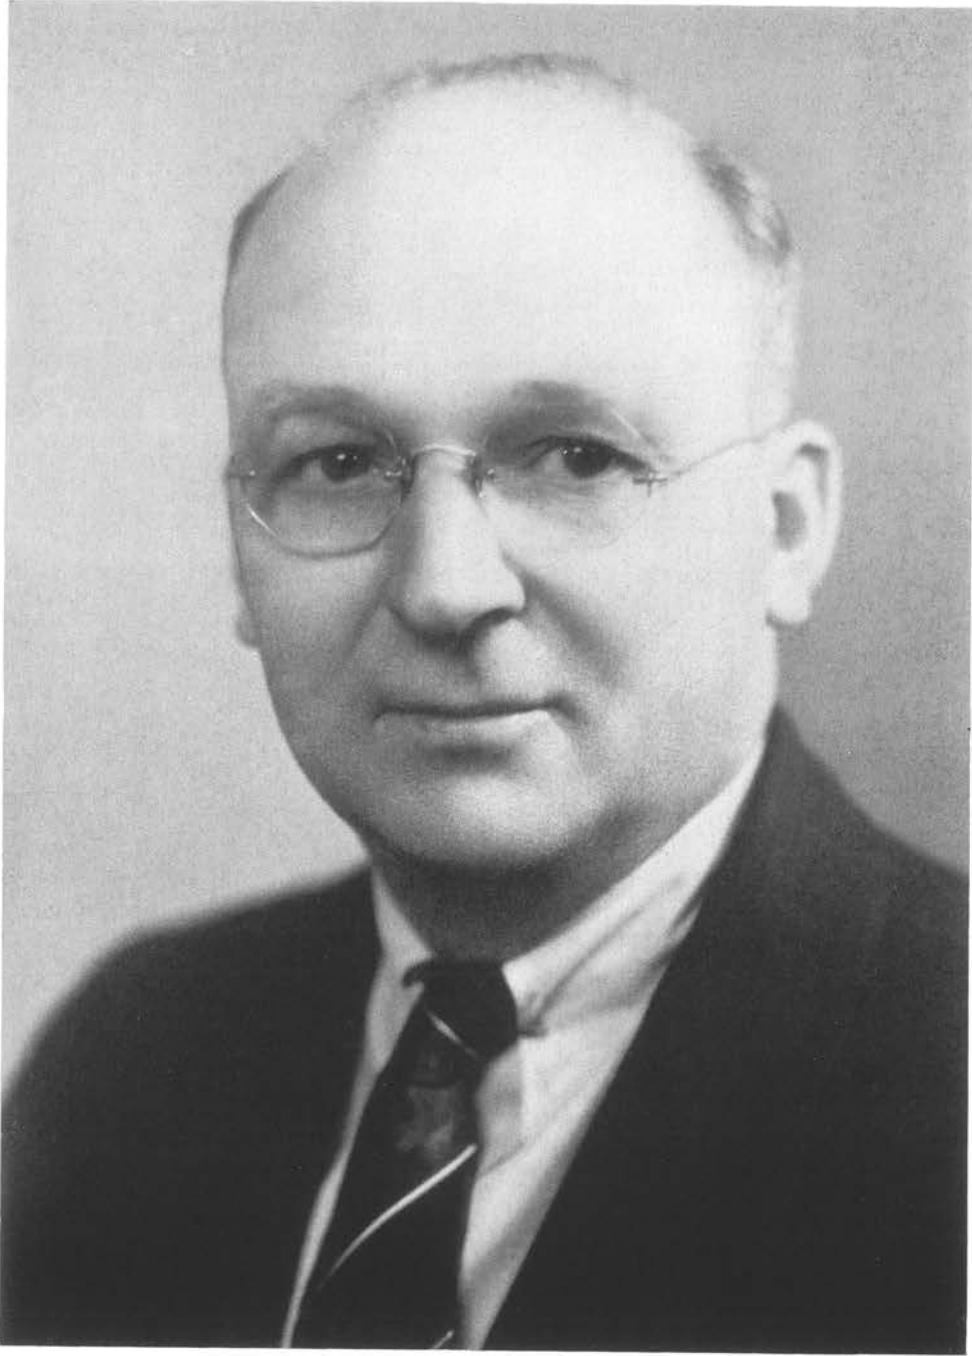

Resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be sent to his family, to the Board of Normal School Regents, to the Portage County Bar Association and to the Stevens Point Daily Journal, and that they be included in the records of our faculty organization.

ADMINISTRATION

E. T. SMITH

It is a pleasure to have this opportunity to greet the college: in this respect the members of the Iris staff have been most considerate. Of course, we all regret the loss of President Falk. His leadership gave every promise of being most productive. But the school must go on and it will be my constant care to make it go forward in every constructive path. It is my hope to hand the institution over to its new head, soon to be chosen, in better shape than I received it.

This is a high ambition and I wish to seek the active cooperation of all, students and faculty alike, in its realization.

E. T. Smith
Acting President.

DEAN STEINER

We do not live in a static civilization. The world changes and to be efficient, we must change with it. Perhaps one of the greatest challenges today is: "Can you keep pace with an ever changing world?"

Nor is it sufficient to conform. Never before has there been greater need for leadership. It has ever been the aim of Central State Teachers College to keep abreast of the times in its field of endeavor to provide educational leadership.

H. R. Steiner

W. S. DELZELL

Central State Teachers College is an institution which fills a dual role in the field of education. It not only is an institution of higher learning, where young men and women may achieve education in the arts and sciences, but, as a training school for teachers, is a vital force in the entire educational structure of the state. To maintain the progress that has marked the history of Central State is the challenge to all of us, and it is a privilege and a pleasure for me to be associated, in this exalted service, with a faculty so loyal and a student body so spirited as those at Central State.

Sincerely,

W. S. Delzell
Regent.

FACULTY PERSONALITIES

NESTOR FLODIN

One of the newcomers to C.S.T.C., Mr. Flodin has already been marked as a man who will go far in his profession. His scholarly attitude and his deep knowledge of the intricacies of chemistry set him off as a man who knows what he is talking about, and why! No older than many students in our college, Mr. Flodin is already far in his study of chemistry and has received the status of Ph.D. from Chicago University.

CHARLES EVANS

In Mr. Evans our school has indeed been fortunate, for besides being an interesting and instructive teacher, he possesses an extraordinary sense of humor which he illustrates by a collection of "par-excellence" jokes. Well-known and liked by all, Mr. Evans fills a prominent place in the student heart, for he is right in there as organizer of the Homecoming Parade and numerous other pep functions.

His hobbies are hunting, fishing, amateur carpentry and a bird-dog named "Jerry." It would be hard to say which one occupies the most important place in his scope of activities, for all take a great share of his interest and time.

ERNEST SMITH

The veteran faculty member from the point of years of service in this school, Mr. Smith truly represents the spirit of devotion to service and work which has made this college rise from a comparatively small Normal school to one of the largest and best Teachers colleges in Wisconsin. His scholarship and keen observation of world affairs make him an interesting, popular instructor and speaker.

His knowledge of the background of this school and his own personal ability make him a happy choice for the position of acting president, which he has filled for the past semester.

FACULTY PERSONALITIES

ARTHUR LYNNESS

As instructor in the Department of Biological Science, Dr. Lynness is an integral part of our school system. His kind, efficient and systematic teaching has left its good mark on many of our students.

Truly a man of strong spirit and will, Dr. Lynness is one whom the students feel to be a true friend of all, and the kindly helper of many.

HERBERT STEINER

As an alumnus of this school, by his marriage to a C.S.T.C. graduate, by the graduation of two sons from this college and with a daughter who is a student here at the present time, plus his very active association with the school as Dean of Men and History instructor, Mr. Steiner may truly be said to be rather definitely attached to Central State Teachers College.

Humorous, jovial, he is one of the most popular of the school's professors. Teacher, friend and sportsman, his interests are varied and fascinating.

His main avocational interests are fishing, hunting and his Waupaca Lakes cottage.

HELEN GORMLEY

As the new physical education instructor, Miss "Pat" Gormley has brought to this institution a very interesting personality and outstanding ability. Popular with the students, her gay smile and cheery "Hi" have made her well-known about the campus. Active socially as well as in a curricular way, she attends many of the social functions during the school year.

Each year we take in above fifty new girls at Nelson Hall to fill the places left vacant by graduates of the college. We strive to make these strangers feel at home and realize at once that they are a part of our household. Organized effort is employed and committees chosen to plan ways for the new girls to become acquainted. Our Freshmen initiation is one of our pleasantest and most carefully planned social affairs of the year. By being so cordially received these girls are made to feel that they truly belong and so feel at home, among friends and that any rules for conduct are fair and just and cheerfully obeyed.

VISUAL EDUCATION

C.S.T.C. is the first teachers college in the state to put visual education in its curriculum. The work this year, under Mr. Jayne, has consisted of booking and showing films in college and training school classes. One hundred fifty reels of motion pictures were shown during the year, and several film strips and lantern slides were made by a number of interested students. About one hundred teachers in central Wisconsin have been given training through this course.

Mr. Copes Teaching
Fourth Grade Reading Project

The Training School is one of the outstanding units of our college. Children from this city come here and receive instruction in accordance with many of the newer trends in education and child development. The pupils on the playground and members of the Junior Safety Patrol on nearby road crossings serve to remind underclassmen that this is truly an institution for teacher training.

Seniors at C.S.T.C. receive their first teaching experience in typical classroom situations at the Training School under the guidance of critics. The prospective teacher spends a specified number of hours in "practice teaching" before he is qualified for graduation or a teaching position.

This year there are three new members on the faculty of nine: Miss Stull, social studies and geography critic; Miss Loomer, critic of seventh, eighth, and ninth grade English; and Miss Dearborn, second grade critic. The school is divided into the three regular units—primary, intermediate and junior high.

During the year each grade carries out several projects, has holiday parties, and stresses outside activities through various clubs and student publications under the direction of the critics and student teachers.

The Rural-State Graded Department, under the leadership of Oscar W. Neale, is probably the most interesting department in C.S.T.C. Its aim is not only to prepare its students to teach, but to make them into community leaders when they go out to teach. Two distinct curricula are offered—a two year course and a four year course. The most active organization on the campus, Rural Life Club, has a membership of nearly one hundred and fifty students.

The Rural Department has had an excellent placement record in recent years and its graduates have been doing fine work, reflecting credit upon their department.

B.S. and B.E. degrees are offered in this department. Many of the outstanding students are enrolled here. A standard has been set by the director, which has not been surpassed by any other department in the college.

For many years, Mr. E. T. Smith has been the director of the department of secondary education. At the end of the first semester this year, Mr. Smith was appointed acting president of the college; however, he continued in his capacity as administrator of the department.

The high school department has come a long way since its founding in 1914. At that time two and three year courses were offered in the field. These courses were eliminated when the demand for more thoroughly trained teachers became apparent and in 1926, the four year degree curriculum was instituted. During 1938, the B.S. degree was first offered to students having taken the required number of hours in science. The standards are being raised to more nearly meet those of the university because so many of the students continue in graduate work.

The Forum Club includes all students who are taking the four year high school course. This organization without question has the greatest number of members. The course of study provides for liberal arts training in the Freshman and Sophomore years with specialized study in majors and minors during the Junior and Senior years. Many students preparing for a professional career, such as medicine, law, and engineering, enroll in this division for their first two years of academic work. The home economics students, too, are members of the Forum. Because of the large enrollment, the Forum is strictly a professional club.

Students trained in this department, in addition to the required course of study, usually take part in some extra-curricular activity such as debate, dramatics, sports or music, which will be of special value to them in the teaching field.

The grammar department includes all the students who wish to teach in the intermediate or junior high school. This year there were about forty-four students enrolled, with a steady increase in the number of young men. Enrollment in this department is encouraged because of the scarcity of teachers who annually join that field. The department is turning out a record of almost one hundred per cent placement. Meetings of the Grammar Round Table, the professional club of the department, were held monthly with lectures, discussions, and other entertainment selected by a committee appointed especially for that purpose. The grammar department program accommodates students who have special talent or ability in music, art, or dramatics.

Mr. Charles F. Watson is director of this department. He has designed a new program which calls for four years of study which entitles a graduate to either a B.E. or B.S. degree. During the last several years, graduates under Mr. Watson's supervision have planned their courses to have a well defined major and minor. Mr. Watson has made his office on first floor a pleasant place where students enjoy coming to discuss their programs and activities.

The primary department has a strictly four year curriculum offering a Bachelor of Education degree. Each student enrolled in the department automatically becomes a member of the Primary Council, the professional club of the group. Beside the regular officers, a committee is appointed to represent the Association of Childhood Education which includes three members—Grace Melchior, Irene Dix, and Grace Hoffman.

Vast changes have been effected in the primary department within the past few years. Miss Susan E. Colman, the administrator of the department, is striving toward higher efficiency and more outstanding attainment from her primary teachers. Last year, the department became affiliated with the Association for Childhood Education, a national primary organization. Practice teachers began last year to take ten hours of practice in one semester rather than two semesters of five hours practice each. This system has proven to be very successful and was continued this year. Gradually, beginning with minor changes, Miss Colman has attempted to introduce young women in training for the primary course into the training school soon after their enrollment in the department. Last year Juniors were required to participate. This year found Sophomores in participation. The purpose of these changes has been to provide more adequate training for the teaching of children, to develop a professional attitude in the young teacher, and to enable her to come in closer contact with the children and adjust herself to responsibilities.

Miss Colman, who is a favorite in every department of the college as well as her primary group, has been very conscientious in these improvements and has cinched a reputation for almost one hundred per cent placement. Her office is always open and her time always available to those among the students seeking counsel.

Plans were made for the first time this year for a Primary Homecoming. Invitations were extended to all primary graduates since 1932, Miss Colman's first year here. The scheme was of special interest and value to the group.

Marjorie Judd and Charlotte Reichel are singers of remarkable talent. Tony Klein, also, is showing up well, with the Men's Glee Club. Betty Gustin and Ingeborg Enderlein are only two among the many instrumentalists who have helped to uphold the fine reputation of Band and Orchestra. "Rushing" season of the second semester proved that the kids were not scholastic drudges. Social popularity made its claim in a big way. Every social function of the year was heartily patronized by the youngsters. Everywhere there were Freshmen—the Menzel twins, happy-go-lucky Gene Stenz, and numerous others constantly rising to places of merit.

Finally, these college up-starts may claim laurels for bravery; for it certainly takes courage to live the life of a Freshman for a whole year.

One of the feminine satellites of the class was Sara Anderson—debater, actress, dancer, and cheerleader. By popular vote she was acclaimed Homecoming Queen. Her teammate in cheer-leading throughout the year was Meta Mogenson. Stars of basketball were Pete Terzynski and the junior Nimz, Hank. Pigskinners of superior ability were Frankie Koehn, Jim Hanig, Jim Cashin, Ken Parr, Nimz, Ted Fritsch, Bob Dana, "Hatch" Berard, Harold Menzel, and not to be forgotten, "Jitterbug" Johnson, on the dance floor as well as the football field and under the spotlight. Other spotlights of the college theater were Madeline Lee, Tony Klein, Jim Unger, Dorothy Sieck, Janet Poggemiller, and Lillian Boe. Of debate reknown were Marian Smith and Frank Splitek. Musical organizations also make their claims in the group.

There is always fresh promise in a new group of Freshies from which may be gleaned many a fascinating "candid shot" story. From this year's reapings we found many outstanding individuals represented in every field of activity. The percentage of active frosh seemed to be much higher than in past years. There were a typical group of college Freshies, with all the enthusiasm and pep that is traditional, beginning with the initiation of the girls of Nelson Hall and the Homecoming bonfire (genuine stooges and "all round" good scouts), all the way through the term. Although led by a group of fine young officials, the Freshman class was not politically intrigued; they kept their peace and dignity.

The Band and Orchestra, too, have obtained pronounced talent from the ranks of the "Sophs." Can you imagine anyone sticking out his chin and trying to convince debater Becker that "even so . . . I'm agin' it"? Besides activity in such clubs as Photo Club, Social Science Club, Art Student's League, etc., those persistent go-getters have crashed the honorary societies too—Sigma Zeta pledged Abrahamson, D. Larson, M. Becker, B. Gerdes, Meverden, Nixon, Rozelle and Hoyt; Alpha Kappa Rho honored Eyleene Atkins and Marguerite Adams. Glove pusher Baker, and basket slingers like Olk and Bandow, keep the class up there in athletics. All in all the "Sophs" have a good start—watch them go from now on!

Those confident "freshies" who broke into popularity and prominence right off the bat last year, have grown into "right good" Sophomores with talent and ambition to burn. You can find them in almost every activity in school—they're right in there with the best of them! The Pointer Staff proudly boasts of the Taylor-Larson circulation partnership, and certainly no less gratitude goes to proof-reader Smith (yes, we know her) and society news-hunter Rose. A score of footlight fanatics strut their "stuff" on C.S.T.C stage for College Theater, while equal numbers lift their voices in melodious song in the Women's and Men's Glee Clubs.

First Row—Ethel Stoltenberg, Kathleen Stone, Eleanor Breeden, Jane Johnson, Verna Lueck, Madlyn Davel, Florence Morency, Helen Moore.
Third Row—Wm. McDonald, Rodger Bernstein, Edith Einfeldt, Elida Torkelson, Ethel Hill, Sophie Palukas, Benjamin Kordus, Hank Warner.

Never was a busier body found than La Rue Smith who may be said to have dabbled successfully in everything—pledged four fraternities, honorary and social, during one semester! Spindler, Haferbecker and Johnson led the staff for the Iris. Haferbecker was also active in debate. Ophoven, Kordus, Quandt, Anderson, Murat and Jane Johnson were also noteworthy debaters. Peggy Glennon had the distinction of being Queen of the Senior Ball. College Theater found active participants in Smith, Ophoven, Haferbecker and Van Natta. The music departments were not neglected for in these the class could boast such fine musicians as Ula Mae Knutson, Evelyn Schwingel, Anderson, Brown, Dakin, Scheel, and singers of talent, such as Ethel Hill and Jerry O'Doherty. Art was represented with members of the art league, Sonnenberg and Hamel. Nothing missed by these Juniors. Hope they do as well when they practice teach.

The most important factors that make a class outstanding are the girls and boys in it. The Junior class of '38-'39 was widely represented in every field of activity—they had a progressive and aggressive year. Class election was, as per annum, a memorable day with Marv Olson, Pointer editor, winning out to be Prom king and leader of his class. Other officers were Hank Warner, Dearborn Spindler and Jane Johnson. Hank Warner may also be remembered for his fine participation in sports—with Bernstein, Duecker, Bohan and Slotwinski in football, and again Warner and Bohan plus Reuben Belongia in basketball. Other figure heads in sports during the year were Dunn and Quandt in hockey, Ruppel and Quandt in tennis, Young and Drobnick in boxing and Bloom in everything via the Pointer.

CENTRAL STATE BROADCASTING SERVICE

The new studio of W.L.B.L. located in the training school is a source of much pride to the college. This year initiated a series of college produced broadcasts under the direction of Mr. Jayne. Mr. Colby was in charge of production and programs and Mr. Faust, musical programs and publicity. Various college organizations sponsored regular programs; announcing, arrangement, direction and presentation were handled by students. This was part of a plan to introduce radio in education.

The C.S.T.C. Concert Band was organized in 1931. It is directed by Mr. Michelsen, recognized as one of the state's best bandmasters. The band's equipment includes an excellent instrumentation, a good music library, and a movable raised stage. The itinerary for the trip this year was: Thorp, Bloomer, Neillsville, West Salem, Viroqua, Richland Center, Prairie du Sac, Baraboo, Port Edwards, and Nekoosa. The band broadcasts every week, receiving favorable comment from listening band men. This year two music clinics were sponsored. These offer much valuable assistance to the band masters of central Wisconsin. The band has always been in evidence at our athletic contests and has contributed much to the audience's enjoyment.

This organization has completed its sixth year of successful work. A new policy was inaugurated this year, that of taking trips. When dressed formally for concerts, the group presents a very striking appearance. Among the girls featured in solo, duet, and trio numbers are: Eyleene Atkins, Doris Soderberg, Charlotte Reichel, Ethel Hill, Ruth Behnke, and Leota Brandt. The organization and its soloists are much in demand for local functions. The repertoire is excellently well chosen and includes many difficult numbers. The school can well be proud of this organization.

SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA

This popular musical organization is of very high caliber. One of the reasons is that membership and placing is decided by tryouts, and that only the capable musicians are allowed to play.

The orchestra boasts a very fine library, ranging from light and novel selections to heavy classical music.

Calls are often put in for the orchestra to furnish music at school functions such as dramatics, College Theater, and so forth.

A very good program was presented at the Girls' Glee Club concert this year.

At the annual Alpha Kappa Rho concert, the orchestra always is the center of attention, and being dressed formally, makes a very good impression.

The group as a whole is highly commended for its part in charity entertainments such as the Lions' Club annual Christmas Concert. Occasionally the organization makes a short trip to some nearby town to give a concert.

Always well received and furnishing good music, the symphony orchestra has become a popular group to the school at large.

OFFICERS

President	Arthur Stapel
Librarian	Bob Larson
Business Manager	Ted Meyer

This organization has enjoyed increasing popularity in its six years in the hands of Norman E. Knutzen, who is its well-liked director. It is a member in good standing of the Associated Glee Clubs of America.

Several fine soloists have been developed. Also in the limelight are some of the student directors. Soloists deserving special mention are: Gerald Torkelson, Gerald O'Doherty, Russell Frederick, Warren LeRoux, and Tony Klein. No less deserving of special mention are student directors: Ted Meyer, Warren LeRoux, Arthur Stapel, William Clements, Delos Kobs, John Steiner, and Gordon Cowles.

The organization is frequently called on for out of town concerts, and always meets with high approval. The Glee Club is definitely an organization with extensive cooperation, capable leadership, and good representation from the school.

Shortage of members is unforeseen, as the number of freshmen coming into the ranks every year keeps the membership high enough. This is one of the best-liked groups in the school, and is certainly one of which to be proud.

ATHLETICS

Eddie Kotal

In spite of the fact that Coach Kotal failed to add to his string of championships, the 1938 season was successful. It was successful not only in the percentage column, but also in the discovery of an exceptionally large number of outstanding underclassmen, all of which is proof of the increasing popularity of our school. Football men who rated service mention are: Bernstein, Bohan, Burch, Cashin, Copes, Duecker, Fritsch, Hanig, Co-captain Hitzke, Hoffman, Hcuck, Johnson, Kickland, Koehn, Co-captain Loewecke, McGuire, H. Nimz, F. Nimz, Olingy, Parr, Ruppel, Slotwinski, Stimart, VanDyke, Warner, Winker. Of these men, only eight will graduate. Student manager awards went to Atwood and Wiersig.

JIM CASHIN — QB

One of the group of outstanding Freshman backs, Jim displayed unusual ability as a field general and as a blocking back. He should be headed for a successful career at C. S. T. C. Cashin is another serious-minded student who is popular on the campus as well as on the football field.

ERNIE RUPPEL — FB

Ruppel is one of those rare combinations of an athlete and a scholar. In spite of his small size, Ernie has been capably handling the fullback duties whenever called upon to do so. Besides football and school work, Ernie also finds time for most of the social functions and in spite of his quiet manner, he gets around quite well.

CHARLIE BURCH — G

One of the most conscientious and hard-working members of the team, Burch was also given a place on the All-Conference. Carefree and genial off the field, Charlie was just as serious as they come during the game. After the football season Charlie spends most of his time entertaining the ladies or practicing tap dancing.

CHARLIE HOUCK — FB

A hard driving fullback who lives and eats football for about three months every year. That's Charlie Houck, All-Conference for two years and a four year veteran. Incidentally, Charlie also applies some of his nifty foot-work on the dance floor. We'll miss him next year, but it's a cinch Point's opponents will breathe easier.

RODGER BERNSTEIN — G

Rodge spent many a good Saturday afternoon in the enemy backfield. A ladies' man if there ever was one, but the opposition on the football field certainly never found it out. Few plays went by in the game without Bernstein being discovered on the bottom of the pile. A hard driver who will be welcome, indeed, next fall by team-mates and la femmes alike.

ED SLOTWINSKI — T

Slot is another one of those "work-horse" type of players who is good for sixty minutes a game whenever called on. Ed is one of those quiet fellows whose actions speak louder than words. Besides his ability on the gridiron, Slot is also a good student and an all-around good man.

JIM MCGUIRE — HB

Mickey, playing his last season for Point, ended his career in a blaze of glory in spite of injuries which kept him on the sidelines much of the time. Highlights of his play this year were his 82 yard touchdown run against Stout, and his placement kicks which won the Platteville game and tied Dubuque U. McGuire was selected as All-Conference for the third year.

FRANK HITZKE — HB

Co captain and veteran of three seasons, "Hitz" was all set for a big year when injuries forced him to spend most of the time on the sidelines. A good passer and runner and a competent leader, Frank was outstanding while he was in there and his loss will be keenly felt.

OSCAR COPES — T

Returning to school after a two years absence, Oscar solved the tackle problem and stopped many ambitious ball carriers short of their destination. Even though his good nature was taken advantage of often, he still played enough football to be selected on the coach's All-Conference team for the second time.

LAVERNE VAN DYKE — HB

Van is another of our backs whose play was hampered by injuries. Nevertheless he still played enough to serve notice that he will be right up in there next year. Van has the distinction of being the only member of the sophomore class among the letter men this year.

FE BOHAN — E

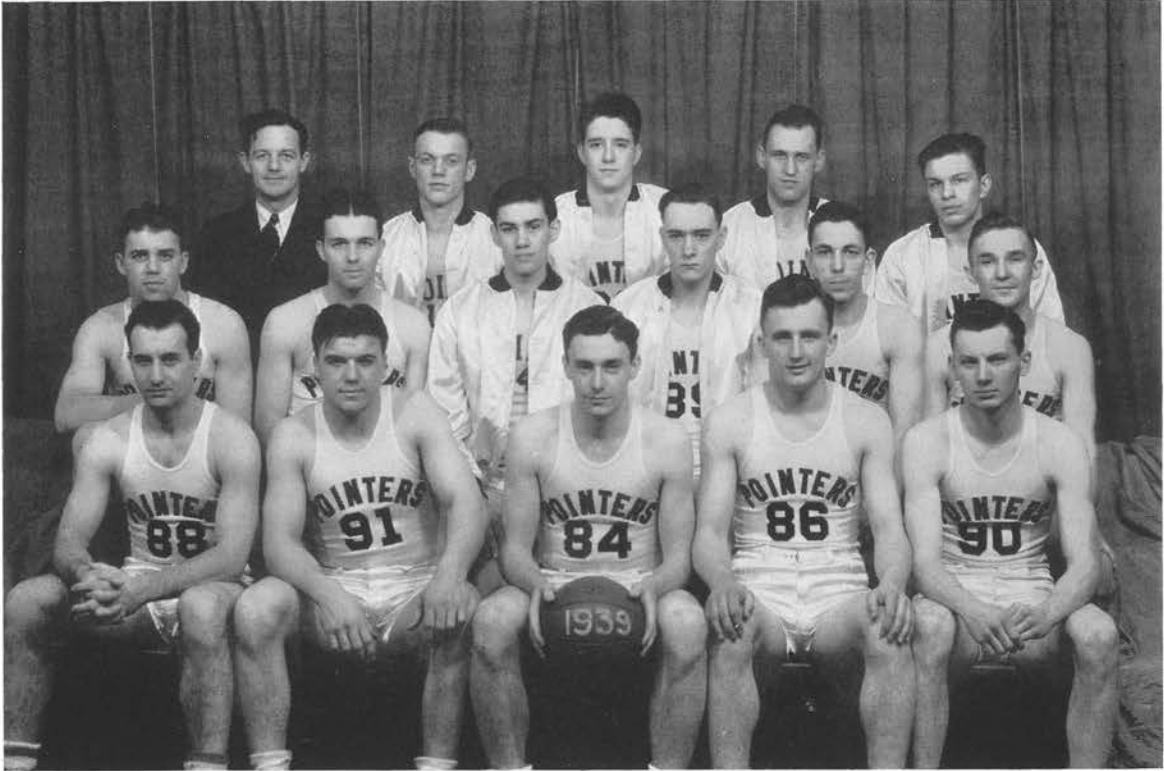

Playing his third year for C.S.T.C., Fe continued his fine brand of ball. The rest of the team never had a chance to lose their fight while Fe was in there. His continuous chatter and happy-go-lucky attitude got under the skin of more than one opponent. Bohan will be back next year to wind up his career and should really go to town.

BILL LOEWECKE — G

Co-captain Loewecke wound up four years of brilliant football with his best season. In addition to his steady play, both defensively and offensively, Bill also stood out as an outstanding leader. A hard worker and an inspiration to his teammate, Bill was placed at guard on the All-Conference team.

The 1938-39 season presented one of the most promising basketball squads C.S.T.C. had seen for some time. The Pointers seemed to be headed for another championship and no doubt would have reached that goal had they not been stopped midway in the season by a technicality which broke up one of the most powerful teams this college has had. In spite of this obstacle Point finished the season with a record of thirteen wins and five losses, a good record for any team. Another bright spot is the fact that not one man on the squad that finished the season will be lost by graduation. Men who rated service mention are: Bandow, Belongia, Bohan, Fritsch, Meier, H. Nimz, F. Nimz, Olk, Schneider, Seffern, Smith, Stein, Terzynski, Van Dyke, and Captain Hank Warner.

PETE TERZYNSKI — G

Playing his first year with Point, Terzynski gained the reputation of being the fightingest player on the squad. Some statisticians have estimated that Pete spends approximately one-half of his playing time on the floor. At any rate, he seemed to be wherever the ball was. Off the court Pete loses all his seriousness and provides most of the humor wherever he goes.

RUEBEN BELONGIA — C

A third year man, Rube was called upon to handle the center position regularly, when Nimz was lost to the team, and he certainly did it in good style. If there was a man on the squad who gave all he had every minute of the time he was in the game, it was Rube. A more conscientious player has never donned a C.S.T.C. uniform.

HANK WARNER — F

The opposing teams certainly must have got tired of watching Warner drop in one long shot after another just when the going was the toughest. Hank certainly proved himself a capable leader as well as an outstanding player. A veteran of three seasons, "Cap" was one of the best floor men on the squad and often steadied the team when the game got too fast.

ART BANDOW — G

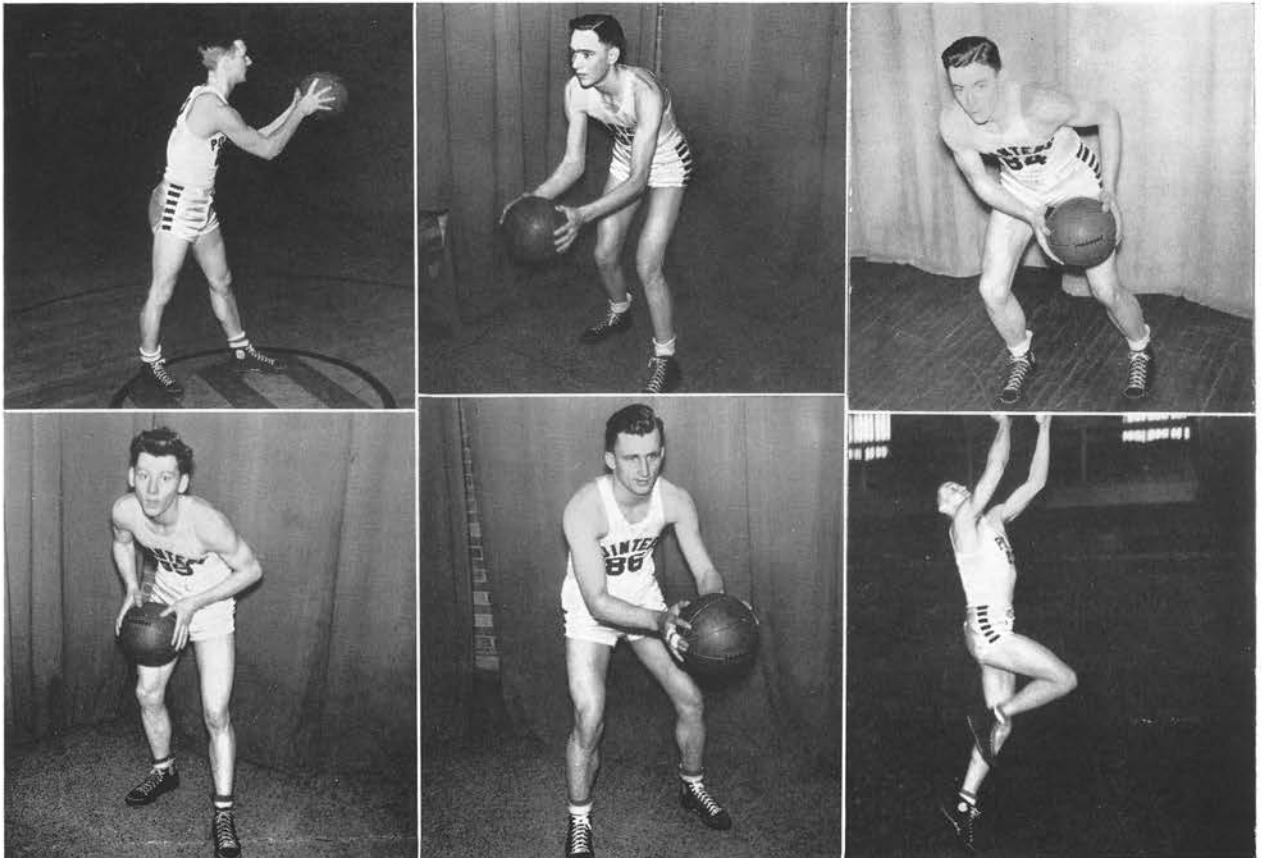

Bandow was probably one of the steadiest men on this year's basketball team. Although he didn't stand out as a scoring star, Art was one of the most important players on the squad. When it came to handling the ball there were very few who could surpass him. He was also an outstanding defensive man. Art has two more years of competition.

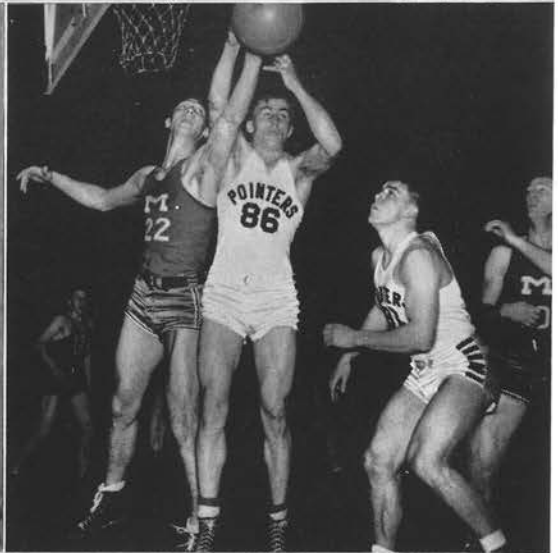

HANK NIMZ — F

After playing a season with Freddie, Hank seems destined to follow in his brother's footsteps. A standout in this his first year, he should be one of the best before he is done here. Besides being one of the leading scorers, Hank was also one of the best on defensive.

FRED NIMZ — C

Freddie was all set to have his biggest year in this his fourth season when, due to a technicality, he was ruled ineligible. However he played in eleven games and proved a big reason why Point was undefeated in those games. Quiet and unassuming, Fritz Nimz is not only one of the best, but also one of the most popular players ever to wear a C.S.T.C. uniform.

BOXING

Interest in boxing has been high at C.S.T.C. this year. A large group of beginners as well as a few of last year's lettermen have been working out under the supervision of Coach McGuire. One of the highlights of the season was the Golden Gloves tournament held at Wisconsin Rapids. Point fighters who took part in this tourney were: Young, Felix, Kranski, Drobnick, and Lang. Drobnick snared the 155 pound championship in the novice division. Several matches have been scheduled with state colleges. Other candidates include Baker, Metcalf, Michaels, Nimz, Taylor and Williams.

The W.A.A. sponsors all activities related to Women's Athletics. This year the group sponsored a successful dance which was given after the Milwaukee game, an annual "Play Day" at which the "Dance Program" was presented by the Training School girls and college women, and the sale of Homecoming "Mums" and "hot-dogs."

Various new ideas were used in carrying out activities this year. Hockey was replaced by speedball in the fall and "mass" basketball by intramural basketball during the winter. Four teams made up the league with the "Trojans" receiving championship gold medals. Badminton proved to be a popular sport. After each sport season a party was given for the participants.

Miss Gormley and Miss Davidoff, advisors, were a great help to the girls with their good advice and assistance.

This year the forensic department under the direction of Mr. Burroughs developed one of the most extensive programs in several years. A forensic society was organized with the following officers: President, Ben Laschkewitsch; Vice-President, Joe Ophoven; Secretary-Treasurer, Ben Kordus; Business Manager, Gordon Haferbecker. The society sponsored two college tournaments, two high school tournaments, several assembly debates, and a series of radio programs.

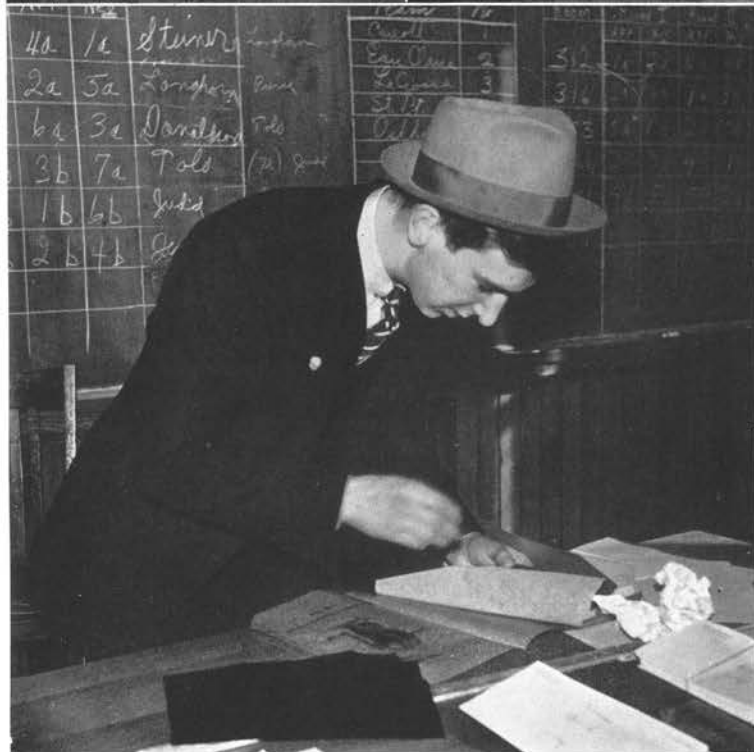

After a series of intra-team eliminations, Jayne Akins, Jane Johnson, Margaret Becher, Marian Smith, Ben Laschkewitsch, Gordon Haferbecker, Joe Ophoven, and Jim Murat were chosen as members of the regular varsity teams, with Sara Anderson, Laurel LaValle, Ben Kordus, and Frank Splitek as alternates.

Leland M. Burroughs

The teams participated in tournaments at Eau Claire, Normal, Illinois; Fargo, N. D.; St. Paul, Minnesota; and Stevens Point. Among the Class A teams beaten by Stevens Point were the University of Illinois, Carleton, St. Thomas, St. Catherine, St. Olaf, and Hastings. At the Eau Claire tournament Stevens Point won second place in the A division and third place in the B division. At the Stevens Point tournament the local school came out victorious over nine Minnesota and Wisconsin teams and won the tournament for the second consecutive year. This gave the school permanent possession of the trophy donated by the Civic Club.

For the second consecutive year Gordon Haferbecker and Ben Laschkewitsch won the Lions Club Trophy which is given each year to the Stevens Point team which makes the best record in inter-collegiate debate. Each of these men have served as debate captain during one of the past two years and both have taken a prominent part in the organization of the new forensic society. The debate squad will keenly feel the loss of these two men who graduate this year, but under the able guidance of Coach Burroughs and with good material in the forensic society, we may hope for another successful season next year.

The Iris Staff this year selected the theme "An Airplane View of the School", and it has attempted to give you just that. The book was divided into three divisions: The People, Their Diversions, and Their Activities. Each department, each organization, each person, (we hope) in this school, has his place in our book. We think we covered just about everything, with the idea of giving you a photographic souvenir, and the public outside of C.S.T.C. an idea of our school and its institutions.

Every person on the staff contributed a large share to the success (we again hope) of this book, and without any one of the group, the book would not be what it is. However, a few people, in especially responsible positions, did remarkably fine work in their departments. First of all, Clifford Sprague, our head photographer, did a splendid piece of work, and believe us, this is one of the hardest, if not the hardest job on the staff. Layout artists Truman Johnston and Evelyn Sonnenberg also did the fine, careful type of work which contributes so largely to the appearance of an annual. Assistant Editor Gordon Haferbecker proved to be a mainstay of the copy work in his handling and checking of all written material.

The staff of this year's Iris has sincerely tried to give you the best book it could put out. We do hope you like it!

The Pointer is the college newspaper, which is published weekly on Wednesdays. The primary aim of the Pointer is to bring timely, interesting, unprejudiced news of college life to the students of C.S.T.C.

A number of changes and improvements should be credited to our paper for this year, with due respect to our editor, Marvin Olson, who is chiefly responsible for them. The size of our paper has been increased fifty per cent. The money which has been collected by the business manager, Jeanette Winarski, is the largest amount in the history of the Pointer.

The title of the paper was redesigned this year by our art editor. The style of letter is more streamlined than before and it is symbolized with a dog—a Pointer—which is a familiar emblem to all in C.S.T.C.

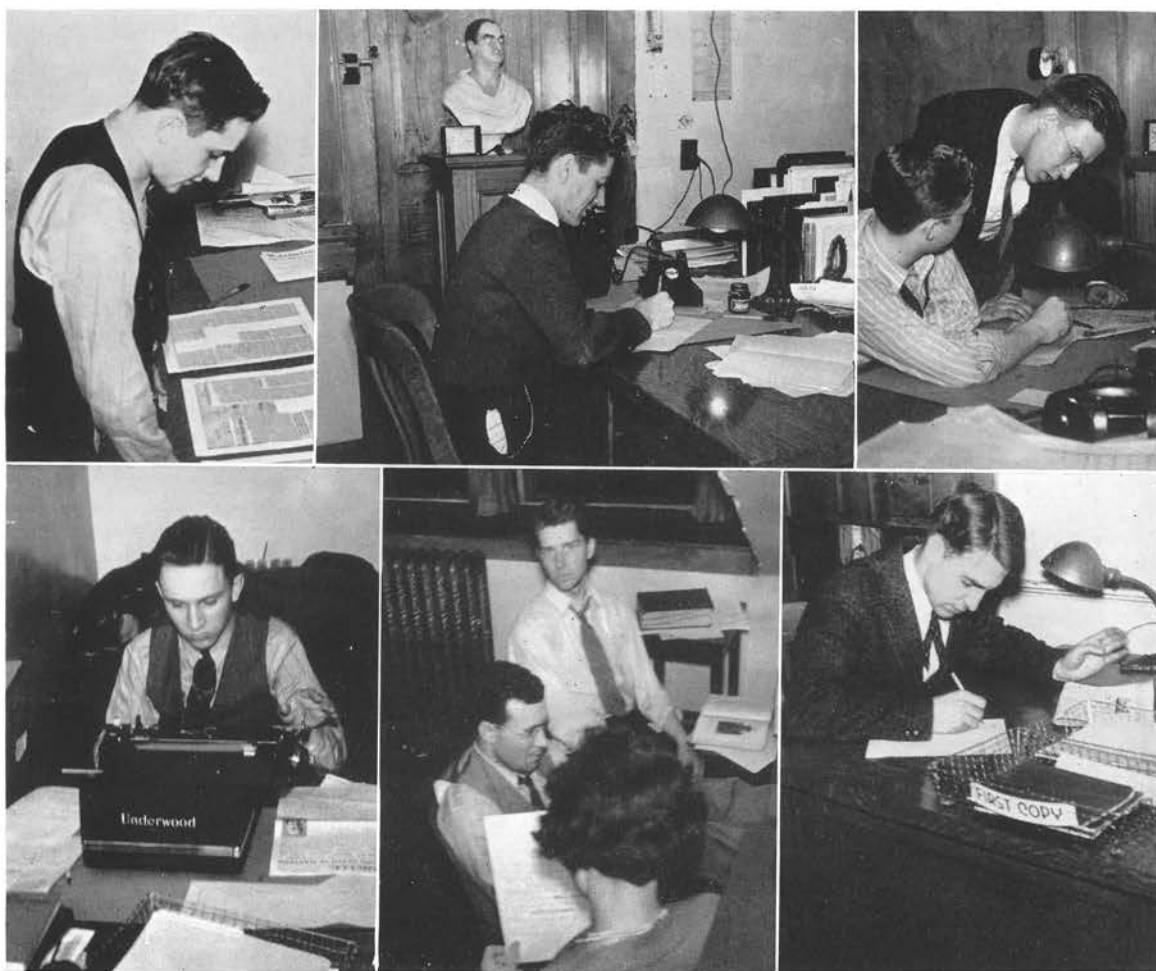

A "morgue" has also been established which contains filed clippings, references, newspapers, and post Pointer issues. This is not only valuable at the present, but will serve a definite purpose for future staff workers.

The Psi Beta chapter, the forty-seventh chapter of Sigma Tau Delta, National Honorary Fraternity for English students, was organized at Central State Teachers College in 1930. The purpose of the organization is to advance the study of the chief literary masterpieces, to encourage worthwhile reading, to promote the mastery of written expression, and to foster the spirit of fellowship among students specializing in English. Group meetings have been held throughout the school year.

In 1937 the organization initiated an original student publication, the "Flight". This was published and sold to students and anyone interested, for a small sum. Eleanor Ruchti was the editor for "Flight" this year.

The Zeta chapter of Sigma Zeta national honorary science fraternity was established at C.S.T.C. in 1939. Its purpose is two-fold in nature: to encourage and foster the attainment of a knowledge of the sciences, and to recognize the attainment of high scholarship among those fitted for membership in this society. Students majoring or minoring in science and who have, as well, a favorable academic class average are eligible for membership.

Illustrated lectures have been given by Dr. Pierson, Dr. Wesiol and Roland Cady. Sigma Zeta has also sponsored a weekly radio program entitled "Test Tubes and Telescopes", a "Science in the News" feature.

The Home Economics Club has been organized each school year for the purpose of bringing the girls in the Home Economics Department closer together in their common interests, both professional and social. The local club is affiliated with both state and national Home Economics associations.

A number of interesting meetings have been held throughout the year. Mr. Burroughs gave a worthwhile talk on "Parliamentary Law", and Miss Davis gave an interesting chat on her hobby "Dress Designing". She illustrated her talk with original pen sketches of her own. All the meetings this year were held at North Sims Cottage. The homey atmosphere made it a pleasant place for meetings.

At Christmas time the club posted a fund which was used for charity work.

Y.W.C.A. is an international organization whose main purpose is to promote a full and creative life through a growing knowledge of God. It is a determination of the group to have a part in making this life possible for all people.

Under the able direction of President Ledah Van Gilder, the Y.W.C.A. has thrived and carried on a number of worthwhile activities during the year. The program of the year consisted of a series of alternating social and world affairs. At Christmas time the group did charity work for three needy families. This was very successful and compensating in spiritual satisfaction. On the first day of spring, Y.W.C.A. sponsored a "Silver Tea" for the public, in the Home Economics parlors. The Annual Formal Spring banquet was again held at Hotel Whiting.

The purpose of the club as stated in its constitution is—"The Newman Club is a club of Catholic culture and Catholic fellowship that shall foster the spiritual, intellectual, and social interests of the Catholic students of the Central State Teachers College and its students whenever possible; and aid, by Catholic Action through the Bishop of the diocese, the work of the Church."

The Photo Club was founded in 1935 by a group of students interested in the various phases of photography. The members are permitted the use of the dark room and its equipment and facilities provided for photographic work. Individuals and the Iris Staff aid by contributions and active services.

This year the club sponsored a series of lectures on photography at the meetings which are held on every second Wednesday. Helpful photo-knowledge was gained from these lectures. Most of them were illustrated.

A highlight of the season was the photo party sponsored by the club in January. Candid shots were a "specialty".

The club sponsored a contest in the spring for original pictures. Prizes were given to the various groups.

College Theater is one of the most active organizations on the campus since its revived reorganization in 1936. It has served much in the way of practical participation in play production. Any student may try out for the organization; interest, work, and quality are membership qualifications sought for.

Some of the outstanding productions during the first semester were: "Thirst", a drama of impressionism, directed by Phil Runkel; "Cloudburst", an experiment in silhouette, directed by Barbara Gerdes; "There's Always Tomorrow", a comedy, directed by Earle Siebert; "Swamp Spirit", directed by Wayne Johnson, and "Murder by Morning", a mystery directed by Betty Hannon and Margaret Becher.

"Verdict by Tradition", written by Lawrence Jozwiak of College Theater, was presented second semester under the direction of Betty Hannon.

In the year 1936 the College Theater was organized at Central State Teachers College after several years of inactivity. Necessity and sincere interest were the assets. It is a very active organization on the campus. It has served practical theater and play experience. As a result, a stimulated Eta Delta Chapter of Alpha Psi Omega was established March 3, 1938. There were twelve charter members. This honorary fraternity perhaps is the smallest group on the campus, but it is the only international fraternity present here.

As an outstanding feature of Alpha Psi Omega's program, the stage, the auditorium, and the lighting system were improved, making our equipment rate among those schools with the finest equipment in Wisconsin. A switchboard was designed and built by Phil Runkel, of Alpha Psi Omega, and Don Colby.

Alpha Kappa Rho, local musical honorary fraternity, was organized on the campus in 1937. It has had a short but active life thus far. The primary purpose of the organization is to stimulate interest in music and to develop personalities and leaders among musical students. No Freshmen are allowed to join. Only Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors with a 1.5 rating, plus one or more years in directing and participation in two or more music organizations is required.

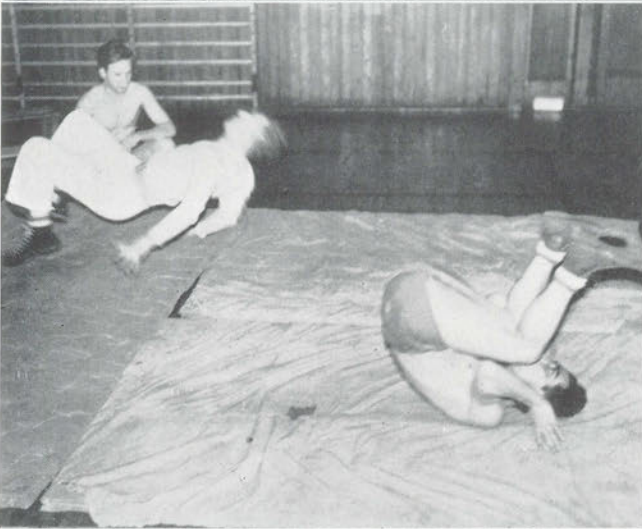

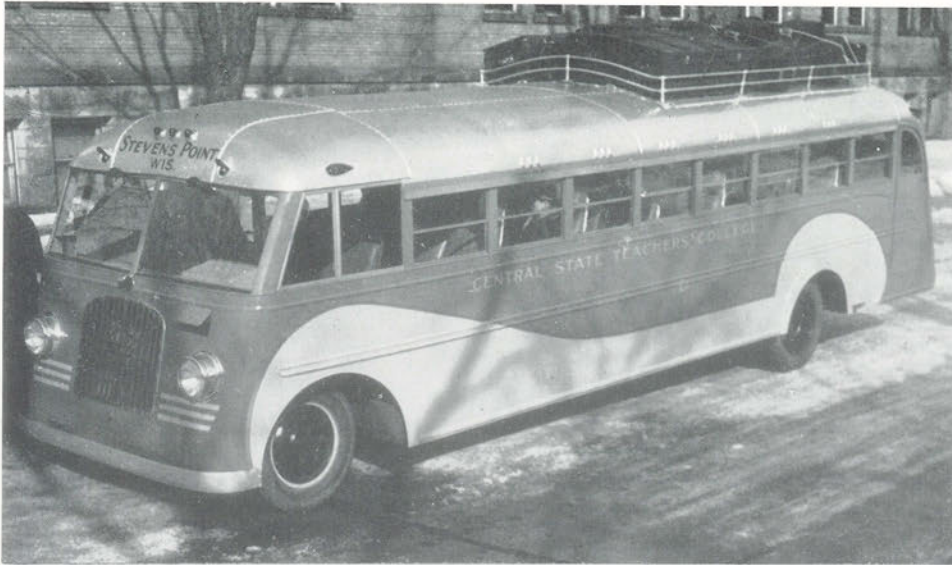

The fraternity is very active in manipulating musical affairs, such as clinics, concerts, and festivals. The formal banquet was held in March at Nelson Hall. Alpha Kappa Rho sponsors an Annual Musical Concert.

Comprised of all of the Greek organization presidents and one other representative from each sorority and fraternity, the Pan-Hellenic council is a cooperative "Greek" governing board empowered to settle all questions of common interest to the member organizations.

Although several years ago it forsook the more common title, Greek council, for the high powered name it now goes by, that of Pan-Hellenic council, the duties remain as limited as ever. In fact, besides meeting twice annually to set the dates for pledging, rushing, etc., this honorable body finds little in the way of business to upset the normal course of activity for the representative members, which all goes to show that the Greeks do have a word for it!

However, no one can deny that the semi-annual "Greek Council" dances are the most popular by far with the "chosen few" in the Greek societies—especially those members with the anemic bank rolls, or we might just say, with all of the members.

For the records, however, it should be said that the Pan-Hellenic council inaugurated a popular action the second semester of this year when they decided to forsake the former site of Greek council dances, the cavernous training school gym, and moved the dance to the Hotel Whiting ball room.

Even though the duties of the Pan-Hellenic council have not proven burdensome, it cannot go without saying that this body does serve a valuable function as a "situation" preventer, if not a trouble settler.

Since 1931, Chi Delta Rho fraternity has enjoyed the most rapid growth of any social organization on the Central State campus. Although parvenu's in Central State's fraternal spotlight from the standpoint of years of existence, the Alpha Chapter this year has again been prominent in the school's curricular and extracurricular activities, as shown by its leadership on the varsity football and basketball teams, the band, glee club, Iris and numerous other school activities.

Among other things, Frank Hitzke and Bill Loewecke captained the varsity football team, Hank Warner led the varsity cagers, Dearborn Spindler edited the Iris, Jim Murat was prominent in debate, and Hitzke was elected prexy of the Senior class.

Anticipating the graduation of an outstanding senior membership, including Hitzke, Steiner, (the younger), Maestro Norman Hinkley, Brunner, LeRoux et al, the Chi Delt organization paves the way for continued activity and leadership by pledging, this year, the largest group in the history of the organization.

Enjoying its twelfth year as a pace-setting Greek organization on the Central State campus, Omega Mu Chi sorority this year has again continued to maintain its prominence with diversified social participation and scholastic leadership.

Besides the usual round of teas, dinners, rushing pledging and informal parties, the "Omegas" "gave out" on Saturday, February 4, with a formal which not only attracted numerous alums and others but climaxed the first semester social whirl as well.

Savants Jean Dopp and Virginia Johnson sported the Omeg scholarship pin for pledges during the first and second semesters respectively and pulchrtudinous Peggy Glennon, with King Franklin Hitzke, reigned over the Senior Ball.

A definitely progressive step was made by local alumni members this year when this group set up a permanent alumni organization which has materially strengthened the sorority. One of the early activities of the alumni group was to fete the actives at a desert bridge at the Hotel Whiting.

Although certain to miss such outstanding Greeks as Betty Schwahn, Jayne Akins, "Zip" Webster and the other seniors, Omega Mu Chi sorority appears well enough fortified through the addition of an excellent group of pledges to continue next year the splendid progress of this year.

The Kappa chapter of Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity, an outgrowth of the old local, Phi Lambda Phi, has maintained its place of leadership among Central State's social organizations by virtue of the active participation of its members in nearly all the phases of the school's activities.

It is the first organization on the campus to maintain a chapter house, which is located on Main street, which has continued to be one of the leading social meeting places for Central State's men.

Among the more prominently mentioned names included on the Phi Sig roster during the past year were the Lasky-Haferbecker debate combination, Junior class prexy and Pointer editor, Marvin Olson, and Assistant band director Fred Parfrey.

Highspots in the Phi Sig social register entry for the past year, besides the annual formal, held January 14 at the Whiting hotel, were the Valentine and Christmas parties.

Graduation and Transference are expected to deplete the Phi Sig roster of many such oldtimers as Jerry Krembs, Ken Storandt, Don Olson, Charlie Burch and others, but large classes of pledges, both semesters of this year, will keep the chapter at its full strength.

Continued prominence in Central State's social life since 1909 is the story of Tau Gamma Beta sorority, oldest and best established Greek organization on the campus. Only in Tau Gamma Beta sorority do you find the tradition that goes with having two generations of the same family in a Greek letter society.

During the long existence of the Tau Gam organization, it has consistently been a leader in the ever-growing social life at Central State.

Besides the active social program of teas, dinners, and dances, the organization sponsored a Christmas charity program this year and delivered baskets to needy families. This was looked upon as probably the outstanding non-social activity of any of the Greek organizations this year.

The Tau Gam formal annually attracts the largest crowd of any of the Greek formals, and this year was no exception.

Especially prominent in social activities this year were Prom Queen Carmelita Wirkus, Dorothy Mullarkey, debater Jane Johnson, Jean Mailer, and others. Among the Tau Gam pledges were cheer leader and general entertainer Sara Anderson, and popular Lila Wilkins and Margaret Kujawa. An unusually large group of freshmen and sophomore pledges were taken into the sorority this year to replace the strong graduating senior group.

You have heard people say that. Perhaps you have said it yourself. Yes, if you had a mere penny for the hundreds, perhaps thousands of times you have performed some duty— You would have a growing bank account!
