Preserving

Pointer

Bill Golomski — Re-elected Alum Association President.

The IRIS Office is cluttered with files of dusty pictures — stereotyped, outdated, funny. We giggle when we look at them and talk of throwing old junk away — but no one ever will. We laugh at old mushy annuals, yet in '55 Homer Plumb screams the students into a stampede for Eau Claire — the Sig Eps spend weeks with a whale at the Armory — Frisch and Goldsmith launch the CRITIQUE . . . and the auditorium goes wild when May Roach is crowned. If this is not the tradition of the Purple and the Gold carried on with new vigor, then the whole theme of this IRIS is farcical syrup!

The Tower

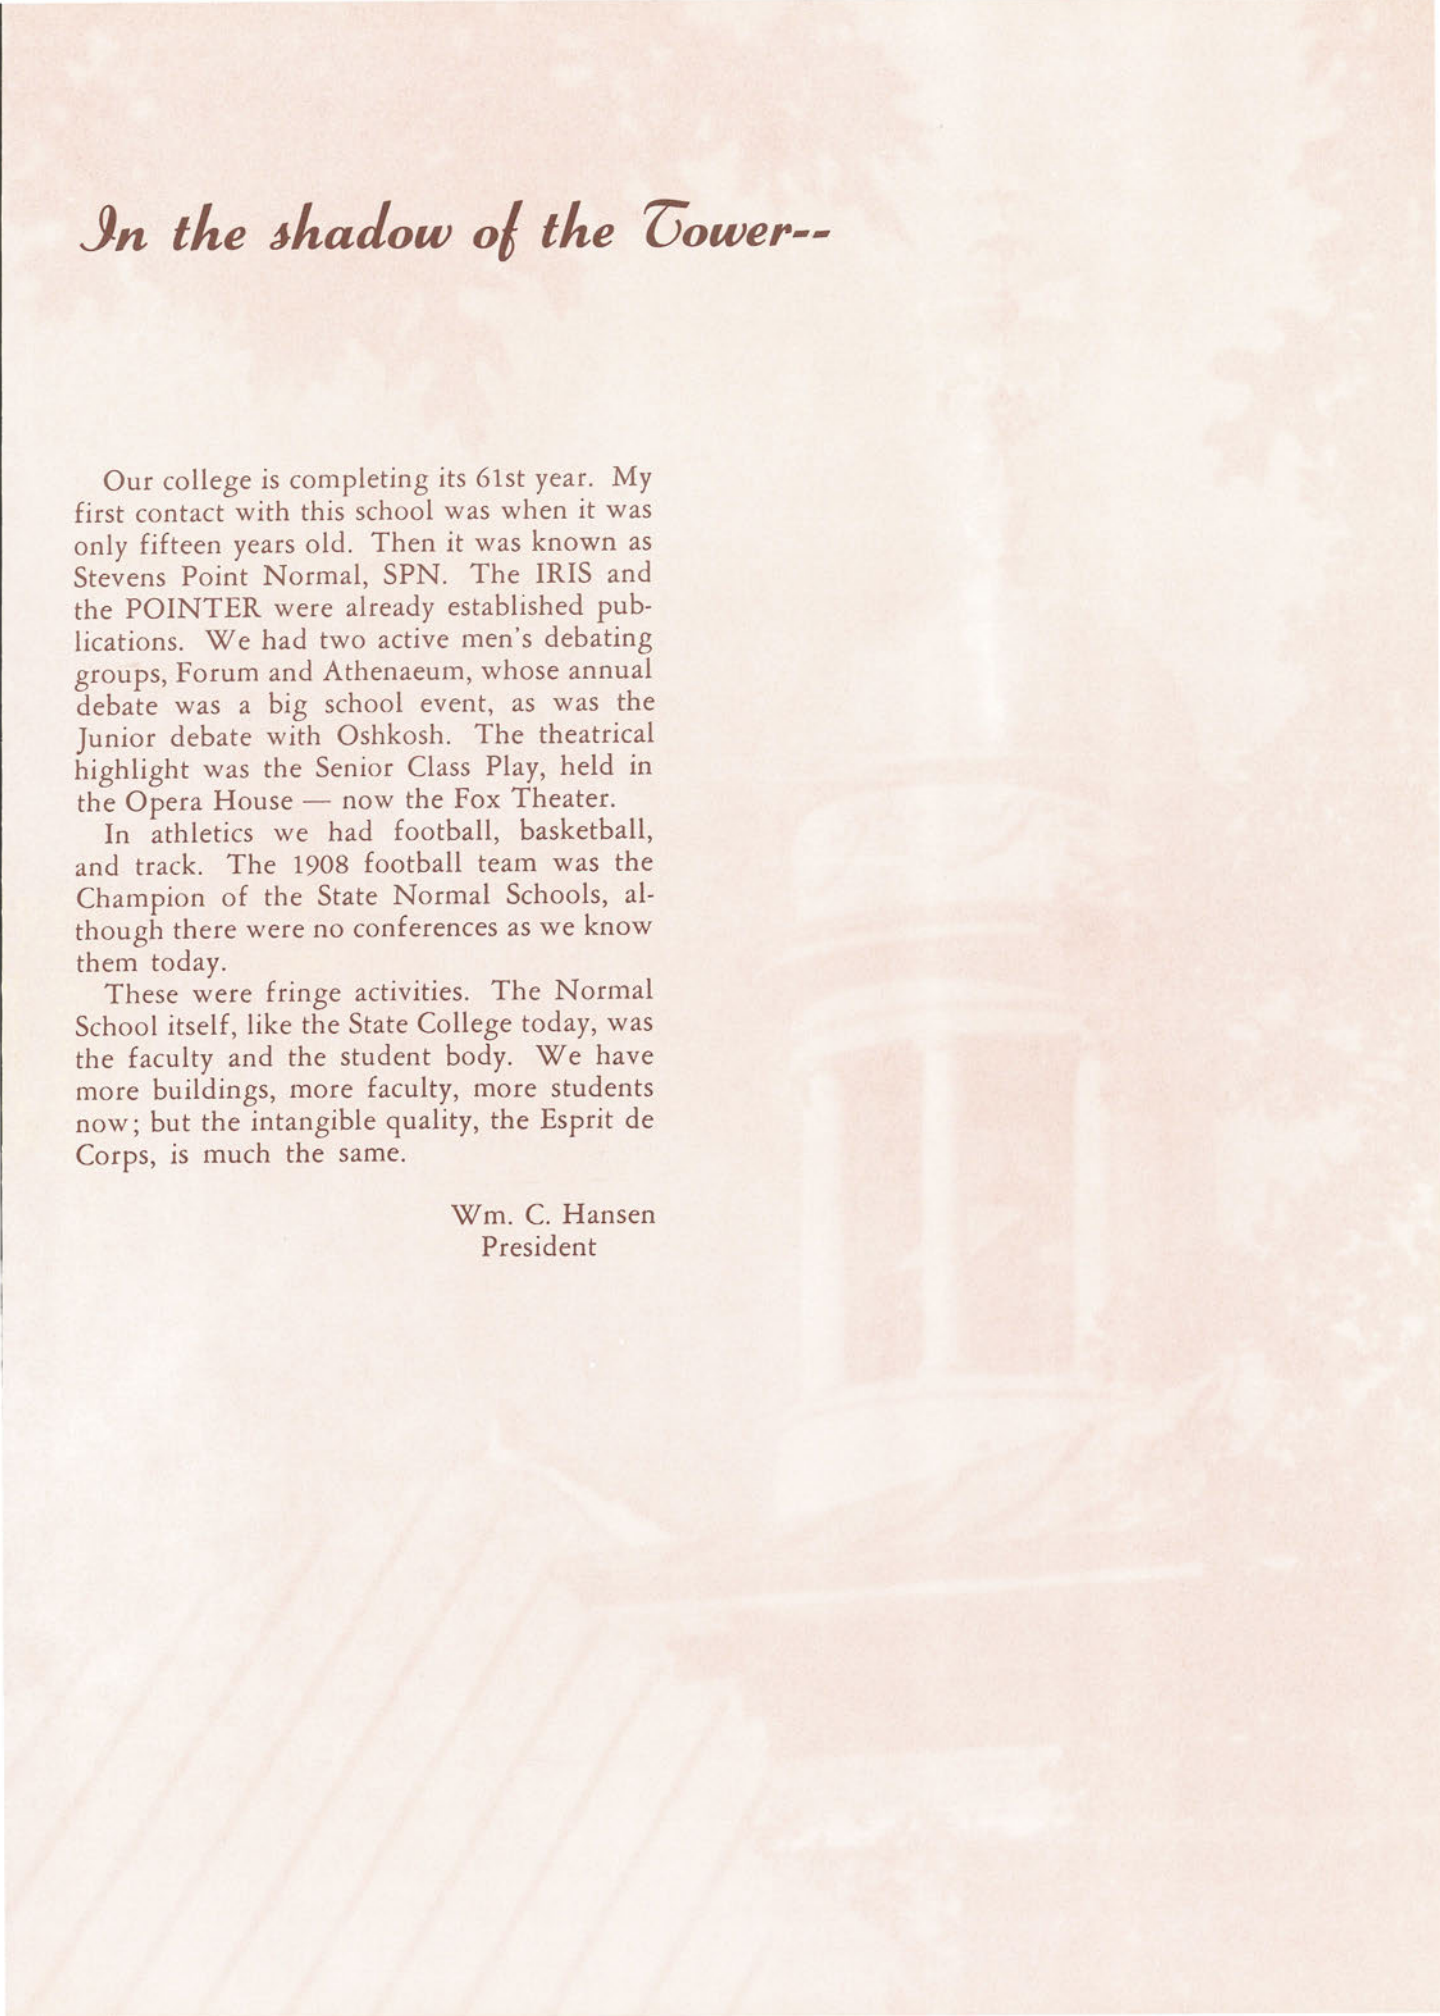

In the shadow of the Tower--

Our college is completing its 61st year. My first contact with this school was when it was only fifteen years old. Then it was known as Stevens Point Normal, SPN. The IRIS and the POINTER were already established publications. We had two active men's debating groups, Forum and Athenaeum, whose annual debate was a big school event, as was the Junior debate with Oshkosh. The theatrical highlight was the Senior Class Play, held in the Opera House — now the Fox Theater.

In athletics we had football, basketball, and track. The 1908 football team was the Champion of the State Normal Schools, although there were no conferences as we know them today.

These were fringe activities. The Normal School itself, like the State College today, was the faculty and the student body. We have more buildings, more faculty, more students now; but the intangible quality, the Esprit de Corps, is much the same.

Wm. C. Hansen

A fabulous woman

-our May Roach

"... and she is by nature rather talkative." Yes, this is May Roach... but she also is so much more than just this. No one can put into copy what her fifty years of teaching have meant — to May, or to her many associates, students, or friends.

A quaint office... determination hard to resist... quick Irish wit... strong convictions. In forty-two years "Ma" Roach has been a pioneer... a leader... a tradition.

A Pontifical medal... a small child's quiet smile... an honorary crown — these are all tributes saying "Thank you, Miss Roach, for these fifty fabulous years." Remember, when you drive that Chevrolet out of Point next spring, there will always be a parking spot... come zooming back to visit... home... CSC.

The uninitiated think dorms are ridiculous, parents are under the illusion that the "open house" atmosphere is typical . . . and all the residents are crushed if there's nothing to gripe about.

As one "ichi bon" Delzell man (that's dorm slang — see Sam) put it: a dorm is where you get enough sleep to get enough umph to get a high enough average to please your folks enough to give you enough money to come back for a second term.

NOT STRANGE

Strange . . .

The same —

The crazy go-win-for-us spirit.

The tournament the crowd plays with the weiner bun, coffee, confetti . . .

The heroic chests of football in the slow sweep of the sun.

The brasses of cold and marches, excitement and wind . . .

unchanged.

The quips and laughter,
the shuffle of voices, the din . . .
the same.

The same —

The crazy go-win-for-us spirit.

Strange . . .

Somehow —

It seems we've just stepped back for the day . . .

not quite the same.

OF QUEENS

The fairest of fair is among us,
Her picture's enshrined in the hall.
She is lovely, enchanting, mysterious,
Say the posters around us this fall.

She has posture, charm, and vitality,
Faithful followers shout to the sky.
That ain't all . . . she's got personality!
Yes, indeed! rebounds the reply.

"Will'st thou vote for our queen?" asks an agent.
A choice of this sort tis not hard.
Bony fingers reach for my wallet . . .
For to punch my activity card.

"I'm sorry, my friend," I must answer,
For I'm sure it can plainly be seen,
This decision demands careful forethought . . .
This Central State Homecoming Queen.

I have pondered . . . considered each aspect,
And I drink to experience supreme . . .
Every lady attending this college . . .
Is to me . . . a Homecoming Queen.

November--

These are the lonely days . . .
Walls, bare of their ivy vests,
alone, drab . . .
Elms, gray and stark, reach towards the sky with almost naked arms . . .
One lone dove coos softly into the silent air . . .

These are the waiting days . . .
September's rush forgotten in October's falling leaves and football . . .
Homecoming a purple and gold ribbon in the wastebasket . . .
And now, the twilight of November . . .
Snow at last . . . the sun smiles briefly, and the blessed covering is gone . . .
Somber skies, expectant earth . . .

January

The new year starts with its promise of a new beginning . . .
 not time for reflections or resolutions . . .
 time is running out.
 The Iris deadline looms in the near-future, and teaching . . .
 tests will soon be taken and forgotten . . .
 time is running out.

Exhausting pressure . . . long days and longer nights . . . coffee and cigarettes.

Required reading . . . reports . . .
 correcting papers . . . worrying and working.

Only the promise of a new beginning is at all restful . . .
 those meetings, projects easily undertaken . . .
 time is running out.

Sharing the rush and the laughter . . . looking forward . . .
 keeping busy and ignoring failure . . .
 time is running out.

Soon will come February . . .
 and a new beginning.

February--

Burton R. Pierce
(C S C Faculty 1923-1956)

Sudden passing of a guiding light — the realization of big shoes left to fill
. . . admiration for his constant strides forward
. . . remembrance
of good advice,
a firm hand-shake, smile . . .
knowledge of a life well lived.

Semester number eight. Here finally is the one this venerable senior has been anticipating with mixed emotions since 'wayback in the dark ages of 1952.

And now it's just another semester. Just one more obstacle between me and that mysterious existence my instructors darkly refer to as the "outside world."

Perhaps deep down inside there's more than just a little relief that now this isn't the last semester, that I still can prolong those decisions that confront every graduate. It's like having the dentist appointment moved up a week. Many questions remain to be answered before that sense of readiness is achieved — if it ever truly is.

So now this semester becomes number seven again — or seven and a half. What does it hold in store? It promises new classes, new acquaintances, new headaches, new deadlines, new demands. It promises the rebirth of old bull sessions, of many foot miles down the halls, and those much publicized and very real thirteenth hour cramming for assignments that have a tendency to be delegated to secondary importance. It's trying to keep up while trying to keep ahead.

It's another opportunity to be aware of the missing faces of those who didn't make the grade, another opportunity to note the perceptible loss of the personal enthusiasm that marked you and your fellow seniors' early years at CSC; it's another 18 weeks, another 90 class days.

March--

In all things, a time of preparation — and of contrasts . . . parties and pledging and late study hours . . . windy days of slush and thaw followed fiercely by a blizzard . . . dark clouds — dark moods . . . a feeling of impending grief . . .

Muddy footprints leading everywhere — to classes, to “her” house, to the Eat Shop, and to church . . . children exalting in the awakening of earth . . . a need for one special person.

Everyone practicing — for a play, a concert, a skit, a recital, a dance, and perhaps, a proposal.

Bulletin boards and radio programs shouting “It’s Spring!” as we, shivering, pull coats tighter against cold . . . a rise of new ideas . . . a sudden lag of energy . . . glistening, dripping icicles . . . returning birds.

Bells clanging . . . bells chiming . . . the stark shadow of a cross . . . bowed heads, waiting . . .

May--

Yes, May is here and there they go. Who? Why, our suitcase students whose ranks increase as the temperature rises. But let us take a look at the students who remain here in Point. What do they find to do on weekends?

First, let's take the night life. There are parties to attend of various natures to suit everyone. For the scholars, they might enjoy a night under the stars with Mr. Rightsell and his telescope, or better still, a quiet evening at Knutzen's cottage reading poetry or just having a good old "bull session" as the moon rises over the lake.

As for the others, the parties might be of a little different nature. You may take your girl to Iverson Park and better the scholars by studying the stars and also reciting poetry. "Ah, what a life!"

If none of the above interest you, how about dancing and listening to some classical music (well, classics at least) at Joe's, Rudy's, or the Palm Gardens?

In the daytime there are softball games, like the Siasefi playing the Phi Sigs for a $\frac{1}{2}$ barrel of Orange Crush, tennis, golf, swimming in the icy Plover River, getting sunburned at Iverson Park and maybe, well maybe, just a little school work.

Yes, this college life is fun — especially if you stick around long enough to find out.

The Footpath of Peace

To be glad of life, because it gives you the chance to love and to work and to play and to look up at the stars, to be satisfied with your possessions, but not contented with yourself until you have made the best of them; to despise nothing in the world except falsehood and meanness, and to fear nothing except cowardice; to be governed by your admirations rather than your disgust, to covet nothing that is your neighbor's except his kindness of heart and gentleness of manners; to think seldom of your enemies, often of your friends, and every day of Christ; and to spend as much time as you can, with body and with spirit, in God's out-of-doors; these are little guide-posts on the footpath to peace.

—Henry Van Dyke

Bill Worzalla
Worzalla Publishing Co.

So many students live on a closely-watched budget and must keep count on their food dollar . . . no wonder they like dairy products from West's Dairy.

While the rest of us sleep, "Mom" starts her busy day at five a.m. preparing traysful of yummy home-made doughnuts for those three hours when we all crowd into our favorite College Eat Shop.

Marilyn Biechler models one of the many lovely dresses from the Quality Store . . . many other coeds like the cute clothes they find there.

What? A Rushing Party tomorrow and your best dress needs cleaning! Use Normington's own daily service here in Nelson Hall. It's the good, quick, way . . . reasonable . . .

The Doudnas, the Lewises, the Jenkinse, the Kersts . . . and now the Runkes become part of "Faculty Row" out there in Park Ridge. Whether they're finishing a beautiful home or just plain puttering . . . more and more pros turn to Vetter Manufacturing Co. for their building needs.

Looking very sharp in his clothes from Penney's, Frank Brocker is on his way to class . . . for these student teachers — nice clothes, low cost . . . fits any budget . . .

Ken Kritz, the weekly alum visitor, gets a helping hand down at the Hotel Whiting . . . and makes plans for his first trip as a rich "college grad." ..

2 a.m. at Nelson Hall . . . a corsage of roses from Sorenson's Floral Shop waits to be pressed into a bulging scrapbook . . . the perfect souvenir of an exotic China Night.

The May Roach Student Fund

To live on forever at her beloved State College in Stevens Point, the May Roach Student Fund is hereby established by grateful people whose life she has influenced.

Let the Fund be started, her thought at the annual dinner of the Chamber of Commerce, every person here having already given through their ticket purchases. Let it grow through the contributions of any who want to give from any walk of life in any amount. Let the businessmen of Stevens Point please let the Fund will always live, year after year.

Let the Fund be administered by an executive committee consisting of the College President, Dean of Women and Dean of Men, with a board of directors of the most interested townspeople.

Let the Fund be used to help the students at the College who are in need, and who merit help. Let there be no interest charge for such help. Let those who benefit realize the fund when they are able to do so. Let those who merit help along.

Just as May Roach has done all her life

October 3rd, 1953 - Stevens Point, Wis.

The May Roach Scholarship Fund is just one of many projects that's backed by Hardware Mutuals . . . this organization is often the "man behind the scenes" in the promotion of the activities . . . programs . . . sports . . . and people here at Central State. A big company . . . a bigger heart.

"66" gas from the Delzell Oil Co. prepares May Roach for a fine zooming start on one of her many trips. Students also get ready . . . home . . . trips . . .

Homecoming is merely the beginning of the events recorded in a school year. Taylor's Drug Store can supply these photo needs that are bound to arise. Busy . . . cooperative . . .

The whole Trytten family makes an expedition when they go to Bill's Shoe Store to be outfitted. Their styles please anyone . . . their prices, too.

Nothing is quite like the pop corn at the Spechts'. The electric popper from Boston's is the useful and enjoyable gift from all the boys at Delzell Hall.

Frantic treasurers must keep the books balanced when the bills pour in after all the banquets and parties which make up the gay agenda of every campus group. The Sig Eps use the checks which are honored by every store . . . checks from the Citizen's National Bank.

Starting the morning with a Krembs kitchen set is a joy to the newly-weds . . . it brightens the moments before heading for classes . . . colorful . . .

Ben and Burga celebrate their first month's anniversary with a dinner and "toast" at the Hot Fish Shop . . . perfect with blue lights, organ music.

Kathy Holicky has time out between classes to powder her nose with a blend especially compounded for her by one of the friendly clerks at Campbell's.

A peek at "Miss B." in the office of the library . . . a dream of efficiency engineered by Emmons Stationery and Office Supply Co.

During winter and wet weather all the girls at 913 Clark ("Dizzy Dozen" abode) scramble for sturdy, warm boots . . . really appreciating the Shippy Shoe Store.

Xmas Cards, Inc., from Mr. Harrer's psych class is just one of the many campus groups who go to the Journal Printing Company for a job expertly done.

Those brand new sons and daughters all need the very best. The Randletts' new little girl has her needs all satisfied at Hannon's Drug Store . . .

Phillip's Studio makes those special portraits for those special times really outstanding . . . a gift . . . graduation . . . contests . . . credentials.

Lucky Bob McLendon joins the hundreds of CSC students who flock to Wau-paca for a summer of fun and relaxation . . . a time to forget finals and deadlines by going all out... frogmen or fishermen, the place to shop is at The Sport Shop.

A busy Central State lad hurries on to another of his errands pleased with the quick service of the First National Bank. The convenient, free checking service they render the organizations on campus really aids all of the busy treasurers of these groups, too . . . personalized checks look so exciting.

Our Homecoming Queen and her court found it thrilling to ride in the parade wearing those gorgeous furs from Nigbor's . . . mmm!

Spring slipped in on padded feet and with a gentle humor played a game of peak-a-boo among the bitter icicles of our winter-weary memories, until, trembling, the tension flowed away and there was left only the haze-rippled image of two friends and a tower to be packed carefully away in suitcases labeled: "Home for the summer vacation."
