GREETINGS TO ALUMNI!

On behalf of our college I am happy to be able to extend greetings to all of you at the beginning of another year for you and for us.

We opened with an enrollment of about the same as we had the first semester last year, about 1,380. A number of new faculty members have been added to the staff so we are somewhat better able to carry the teaching load. These faculty changes and additions are likely mentioned elsewhere in this newsletter. We have also been able to remodel the old main building so as to make available three more good classrooms, which has been helpful in scheduling classes.

Our new men's dormitory is moving along rapidly and will be ready for September 1958. Our student union building plans are about ready for bidding. We should be started on it by next spring or late in the winter. We are also starting our plans for our new physical education building. Construction should be on the way on that in the summer of '58.

We hope to see you at some of the events planned for alumni during the year, Homecoming in October, the luncheon and the reception in connection with the W. E. A. meeting in Milwaukee in November, or we may have an area meeting near you sometime during the year. We also hope that all is going well with you in your work and that you are happily located.

Our best wishes to you for 1957-58.

WM. C. HANSEN
President

ALUMNI GREETINGS!

It is a privilege and a pleasure to greet the alumni of Central Wisconsin State College. It is my hope that all of you are well started on a new year that will bring health, happiness and the satisfaction arising from fruitful efforts applied to the present task.

Among all of the activities coming during this busy but beautiful time of the year, it will be most rewarding and refreshing for you to plan on attending the Homecoming at Stevens Point on October 19, and the Open House at the Schroeder Hotel, which will be held at the time of the Annual Teachers' Meeting at Milwaukee.

The work of the alumni has been most commendable in the past. By working cooperatively together and with the college faculty, I am sure the future will see the same fine relationships and the ultimate benefits and satisfactions arising from our utmost wholesome and sincere efforts dedicated to providing better educational opportunities to our young people

WORK STARTS ON COLLEGE'S NEW DORM

Another major milestone in Central State College's expansion program was reached on July 8th when ground was broken for a new men's dormitory.

Site preparation began for the building, which is being erected in the 100 block of S. Fremont Street on part of the Garfield School property near the campus cafeteria.

The four-story dorm will cost about $435,000 and will house 206 men. The building is scheduled to be completed by September 1958, and at that time Delzell Hall, present men's dorm, will be turned over to women students. Delzell and Nelson Halls together will house 275 women.

In a statement prepared for the ground-breaking, President Hansen said, "As recently as 10 years ago, I would have stated that our college had adequate student housing on the campus. However, within that time we have constructed Delzell Hall and added a third floor to it so that it now houses 132 men, and we have increased the facilities at Nelson Hall for women by double-decking some of the larger rooms so as to accommodate three occupants instead of two. The capacity of that dormitory is now 145 instead of about 115 as it was formerly.

"In spite of this, we have had continued increase in demand for student housing. I anticipate that we will have no difficulty in keeping all three dormitories filled during the regular sessions."

"This new building is being constructed without the use of any funds supplied by the taxpayers of the state. The money is being borrowed and the project is self-liquidating. The revenues from housing will eventually retire the indebtedness."

The new dorm, said Hansen, "is of somewhat different construction than Delzell Hall and the total cost per room will be somewhat below the total cost per occupant in Delzell Hall."

All dormitories now being built at the state colleges are financed with funds borrowed by the state Building Corporation.

"Even Nelson Hall," said Hansen, "which was constructed with state funds almost 40 years ago, is contributing out of its revenues to help liquidate the cost of the new student housing which has been acquired during the past seven or eight years."

DEAN HAFERBECKER SAYS

Our enrollment for 1957-58 fell short of expectations. As of September 24, we had 1,386 students which was the same as in September, 1956. Freshman enrollment was about as predicted (522), but fewer upper classmen returned than were expected. Since the faculty was increased by six new positions, somewhat smaller classes will be possible and more help can be given to individual students.

Freshmen legislative scholarships were awarded to 110 new students. All of these students were in the upper half of their high school class, most of them in the top 20 per cent. We appreciate the cooperation of the alumni in recommending the Central State to good prospective students.

Our evening extension and Saturday morning program of classes is bigger than ever. About 518 students enrolled in such courses, an increase over last year of about 35. Classes are being offered in Adams, Antigo, Marshfield, Medford, Portage, Rhinelander, Shawano, Waupaca, Wausau, Wautoma and Wisconsin Rapids. Eight classes are being offered on Saturday mornings at the college.

The legislature and the Board of Regents increased fees at the state colleges from the former $70 to $86 per semester. Summer school fees will be $53 in 1958. There were also increases in room and board costs at the dormitories. The cost of a college education, like everything else, seems to be going up.

We again have a considerable number of foreign students in attendance. For the first time we have students from Hong Kong, Eddie Tao and Irene Chen. We also have two new students from Korea, Sae Jin Hwang and Won Choi. Our new German exchange student is Ursula Blanke. One of our students, Mary Braatz, is studying in Germany this year under a fellowship from the German government. Jamshid Soulati of Iran, who had been attending River Falls State College, enrolled here this year. Foreign students enrolling again were Syng Ai Lee, Young Soon Lee, Yong Joo Kim, Chyun Sung Chwae, and Hack Woo of Korea and Siwarn Pochanayon of Thailand.

I have now completed my first year on the Central State faculty. I have been pleased by the cooperative spirit of faculty and students and by the good reputation which Central State enjoys in Stevens Point & Central Wisconsin. The college is continuing to improve its faculty, curriculum, and facilities in preparation for the rising enrollments which are sure to come.

I hope to see many of the alumni at our homecoming and at the Milwaukee Convention.

PLACEMENT AND PROMOTION OPPORTUNITIES

R. E. Gotham — Director of Placement

As the new school year begins with its many challenges and responsibilities, there is little time to consider new opportunities for next year. However, it is this time of the year which your Placement Office devotes to the services of our capable alumni in bringing placement folders up-to-date and renewing the file with an adequate supply of credentials. Preparing the credentials for our seniors in education, as well as for our Letters and Science graduates, is scheduled from February to April.

If you have not arranged recently to renew your credentials with appraisals of your recent teaching and other professional activities, and included graduate preparation, we urge you to do so now. A request to this office for the necessary forms to provide this information will be sent you promptly. There is no cost for this service to our alumni. May we urge that you remind other CSC alums of this service and the importance of them making use of it.

We are pleased to extend this and other services to our loyal alumni who have been so helpful to us in the encouragement of capable high school graduates in attending CSC. The record of many in this effort is most commendable. Your college is maintaining a splendid reputation for its strengthened program and wide expansion of offerings to serve the needs and interests of the many who are attending CSC. We are sure that you share our pride and satisfaction in these achievements.

DEANS PFIFFNER AND EAGON SAY

A new class is under way at CSC. Our freshman class is large and from all indications seems to be overflowing with potential leadership. Homecoming plans are being made and upper classmen are already involved in various pre-Homecoming activities. The plans for the weekend of October 19 and 20 sound exciting. Better mark this date on your calendars!

With the addition of new faculty members and equipment, CSC is looking forward to an interesting year in many fields of endeavor. Much interest has been shown in the archaeological research Dr. Dixon and Bradley Blake are developing; in the tryouts for the first semester 3-Act Play, Sabrina Fair; the construction of our new men's dormitory and the possibilities of our new Field House and Student Union.

Your continued interest and support of campus activities is always appreciated. We hope to see you at Homecoming.

WHAT IS HAPPENING AT CSC?

Construction is unlikely to begin this fall on Central State College's new Student Union, CSC President William C. Hansen said. Bids were originally scheduled to be opened late this summer, but now it appears that construction won't start until spring.

The Student Union, about 100 x 120 ft. in dimensions, will be built between the college library and Delzell Hall. It will be two stories high, plus a basement which will be partly above ground.

The building will be financed with federal housing funds and will be paid out of student fees -- currently $9.00 a semester.

When the new building is erected, CSC's old Rural Demonstration School will have to be removed. The school isn't being used at all this year, and last year was used only for a short time as a dormitory while the third floor of Delzell Hall was being furnished.

There were two rural demonstration units at the college last year, both housed in the Campus School, and this year there is only one. Next year, said Hansen, there will be none at all. Eventually, Mr. Hansen says, the two-year rural teacher training program at the college will probably be eliminated. The Board of Regents has not authorized the ending of the program, but it is "eliminating itself", said the president, with only seven freshmen enrolled in the course this year.

The rapid decline in the number of small rural schools, plus the fact that most of the two-year graduates don't teach in country schools, is responsible for the college's desire to end this program, Hansen said.

CSC is gradually stiffening the requirements for the two-year course. Students who are now sophomores must complete an extra summer school session before the college will recommend them for teaching positions, Freshmen will have to finish two summer school courses.

Mr. Hansen has pointed out that two and three-year rural graduates "can't teach indefinitely". A two-year graduate must complete a third year of school within seven yrs. A three-year graduate must add a year of school within another seven years.

NEW MEMBERS ADDED TO CSC FACULTY

Nearly 20 new faces are on the faculty of Central State College for the 1957-1958 school year.

In the Geography Department, Raymond Specht is returning to resume his position after a year's leave of absence for graduate work at Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill. Mr. and Mrs. Specht will again serve as resident directors at Delzell Hall as they did before they left here.

Social Science

In the Social Science Department, Dr. Richard Taylor, who had a leave of absence for the past year as a visiting professor at Northwestern University, will not return. His position will be filled by Garland Fothergill who taught in Taylor's place last year. Fothergill is in the process of completing his Ph.D. degree in political science at the University of Minnesota.

Dr. Jack Cross of the Social Science Dept. resigned at the end of the summer session to accept a position at West Texas State College and Dr. Guy Gibson has been secured to replace him. Dr. Gibson completed his bachelor of arts degree at the U. of Wis. and his master of arts and Ph. D. degree at the U. of Illinois in the field of history.

One new member is being added to the Social Science Dept., Dr. Gladys Ishida of Chicago, whose background in political science and sociology. Miss Ishida completed her junior college work at Modesto, Calif., her bachelor of science and bachelor of arts degree at the U. of Chicago, and her Ph. D. degree at the University of Michigan.

Music Department

In the Music Dept. there are a number of changes. Robert Moore, who completed his master's degree in music at Northwestern University and who came here last year to finish out the year in voice work, is returning in that position for the current year.

Joseph Henry, who has taught the instrumental program during the past two years, has resigned to study music, and his place will be taken by Paul Wallace. Wallace has been teaching music at the University of Kansas, during the past two years and doing graduate work toward his Ph.D. in that field. He earned both his bachelor of music education and master of music education at the University of Michigan.

Biology

Three of the seven members of the biology faculty will be new in September. Dr. A. S. Lyness, who retired at the end of June after 23 years on the staff, will be replaced by George Becker, whose most recent teaching experience has been at West High School, Madison. He has earned three degrees at the U. of Wis. and is completing his work for his Ph. D. with a major in zoology, which will be his principal responsibility on this staff.

Dr. Howard Weinstein, who served in the Biology Dept. the second semester last year resigned at the end of the year. His position will be taken by Dr. Robert S. Whitmire of Ann Arbor, Michigan. Dr. Whitmire earned his bachelor of arts degree at the University of Kansas City and the Master of Science at the University of Arkansas. His subsequent graduate work was done at the U. of Oklahoma at Norman, at Stanford University, and at the U. of Michigan from which he received his Ph. D. degree this year.

A new member of the Biology Department will be Robert F. Wilde of Milwaukee. Wilde has earned his bachelor of arts degree at the U. of Wis., his master of science degree at Marquette University in Milwaukee, and has completed a year and a half of further graduate work at the University of Edinburgh, Scotland.

Chemistry

In the Chemistry Department, Rodney Sung of Milton, has been obtained to replace James Hicks who resigned during the summer to accept a teaching position in a junior college in California. Sung has his bachelor of science and master of science degrees from the University of Wisconsin in the field of chemistry and subsequently did graduate work and teaching in the University of Arkansas.

A fourth person is also being added to the Chemistry Dept. because of the increased load in this work. Doyme Parmelee completed most of his college work at this college but got his bachelor's degree at the University of Wisconsin in the field of chemistry and has done one year of graduate work in that institution.

Paul Yambert, who came here last May to take over the work of the late Dr. Walter Sylvester, will continue in that position for the coming year. Yambert's graduate work has been completed at the University of Michigan and he is currently working toward his Ph.D. in that institution.

An additional staff member is also being added to the Conservation Department. Val Solyom of Elgin, Ill., is coming here to fill that spot. Solyom earned his bachelor of science and master of science at Northwestern University and has done his graduate work in forestry and conservation at the University of Michigan.

Other new members

In the Mathematics Department, Mrs. Alice Daniel resigned because she and her family have moved to Iowa. Her place will be taken by Miss Edith Treuenfels who recently received her Ph. D. degree at the U. of Wisconsin in the field of education. Much of her graduate work, however, has been in mathematics, which will be her teaching assignment here.

In the Physical Education and Athletic Department, Duane Counsell, a graduate of CSC, is returning to serve as head football coach and instructor in physical education. Counsell has completed graduate work for a master's degree at the University of Wisconsin. He is replacing John Roberts whose place as football coach was not filled when he left here last January.

Miss Elvira Thomson, who has been connected with the St. Olaf College at Northfield, Minnesota, for a number of years, will replace Miss Ethel Hill in the home management work and in the home management cottage. Miss Thomson completed her graduate work in the U. of Minnesota.

Miss Hill will take over the clothing work formerly taught by Miss Emily Wilson in the Home Economics Dept. Miss Wilson's assignment will be in the English Department where she has previously taught part time. In that work she will replace Mrs. Helen Elizabeth Jones, who was here last year and left to return to graduate work.

Dr. Alf Harrer's place in the Psychology-Philosophy Department is being filled by Miss E. Viola Bloom of Cleveland, Ohio. Miss Bloom earned her Bachelor of Arts degree in the University of Akron and has done all of her graduate work for her Ph. D. at Western Reserve U. at Cleveland.

A new staff member is being added to the Psychology-Philosophy Department in the person of Joseph Schuler. His assignment will be philosophy. Schuler is a graduate of Texas Christian University, Fort Worth, and has done his graduate work at the University of Wisconsin, having completed most of his course work for his Ph. D. degree with a major in philosophy and a minor in psychology.

A number of changes are being made in the Campus Laboratory School staff. Miss Gladys Van Arsdale left recently to accept an assignment in education work in Paraguay. Her position will be filled by Miss Hildegard Kuse of Medford. Miss Kuse completed her undergraduate work at CSC and did her graduate work for her master's degree at the University of Iowa. Her most recent teaching position has been at the Whitewater State College in work similar to the assignment she will have here -- supervisor of student teaching in the Primary Division.

For a number of years the Campus Laboratory School has carried on student teaching activities in two rural school units. One of these units has been closed. Mrs. Virginia Punke, who had charge of this unit, left the staff at the end of the last college year.

Two half time teachers have been assigned to carry on the work that Burdette Eagon did in the Laboratory School prior to his transfer to the office of dean of men.

Mrs. Lila Hibbs and Mrs. Marjorie Pfiffner have accepted this assignment for the year. Dr. Eagon will continue to serve in the capacity of dean of men and will have some teaching assignments on the college staff in the field of education.

DOUDNA TO BE INAUGURATED AT EASTERN ILLINOIS STATE UNIVERSITY

Invitations have been received by many of the friends of the Dr. Quincy Doudna family inviting them to attend the inauguration of Dr. Doudna as the university's president. Dr. Doudna, former dean of administration at CSC, resigned his position which became effective a year ago this October, when he took over his duties on the Illinois campus.

The Spindlers are engaged in extended research in the various Indian reservations of the west and northwest in the interests of the Department of Anthropology at Stanford.

CSC ENROLLMENT STOPS AT 1,377

When registration ended at Central State College, the school had a net enrollment of 1,377 students -- exactly the same as the net in the fall of 1956.

Although the enrollment total practically stood still in the last year, it has almost doubled since 1951, when the student population was only 699.

The registration had been higher in the immediate postwar years, reaching 886 in 1947, but it dipped after the influx of veterans slackened, only to begin rising sharply again in 1952.

NECROLOGY

Services for Mrs. Hans Larsen, 26, the former Karol Karner of Stevens Point, were held in Rawlins, Wyoming. A victim of leukemia, she was hospitalized only a week.

Elaine Wysocki, 21, Mosinee, died of injuries received in a traffic accident. She attended Alverno College for two years after which she enrolled at Central State College.

The many friends among the faculty and students of Central State College were saddened by the untimely death of Lawrence Davis. He had served on the Service Staff of the college for many years and during this time had made many friends. He was buried at Granton on Saturday, Oct. 5.

IMPORTANT

When you have read your copy of the Alumni News, won't you pass it along to another CSC graduate who may not as yet have renewed his membership. This may encourage his doing so!

TO ALL ALUMNI WHAT YOU CAN DO

There are things we feel our alumni can do to assist Central State in finding the right kinds of young people. The opinions of our alumni have a great influence upon the thinking of high school young people when they begin to think about going to a college.
