Herbert R. Steiner Scholarship Given By Steiner Family

A scholarship for a student of history has been established by the Steiner family in memory of the late Herbert R. Steiner.

May Roach, a friend and colleague of Mr. Steiner for many years, made the announcement at the Homecoming banquet.

Mr. Steiner's wife, Myrle, was among the guests at the banquet.

The late Mr. Steiner graduated from Stevens Point Normal School in 1910, and returned to teach history in 1919. He later served as chairman of history and social science, and Dean of Men.

Steiner Hall for men was dedicated in his honor in 1957.

Alumni Director Gets New Duties

Alumni Director Rick Frederick has received a change in title and responsibilities.

University President Dreyfus announced that the alumni director's duties have been expanded to include the area of annual giving, and Rick will now assume the title of Director of Alumni Affairs and Annual Giving.

The announcement was made in conjunction with the establishment of the Annual Fund Drive, which will be administered by the Alumni Association.

Rick joined the WSU Alumni Association in 1968, as its first fulltime director. Under his leadership the Alumni Association has been reorganized, and today the Association maintains a mailing list of over 17,000 alums, and nine off-campus alumni clubs have been organized.

University Kicks Off First Fund Drive

Wisconsin State University - Stevens Point launched its first Annual Fund Drive this September, with longtime teacher and alum May Roach, serving as chairman.

The University is seeking financial support from its alumni and the general public for student loans, scholarships, research, faculty improvement, and innovative programs.

"Because of increasing demands on legislative bodies in Washington and Madison for funds earmarked for important areas other than education, the University now faces the beginning of a budget crisis if it is to continue providing the extra margin of quality it has offered in the past," University President Lee Sherman Dreyfus said in his statement, announcing the Fund Drive.

Financial aids is becoming a real problem area, he said, because of the sharp cutbacks in federal monies which give students opportunities to earn money while providing needed services at the University.

"For that reason, our reserve in scholarship and loan funds must be increased to assure that the good, conscientious students in particular won't quit school just because they can't find employment," said Dreyfus. The Fund Drive is being conducted through the University Alumni Association which is directed by Rick Frederick. Emphasis will be placed on unrestricted funds for the areas which are not or cannot be specifically budgeted in the University budget.

President Dreyfus has emphasized that at no other time in its 77 year history, has the University so greatly needed the support of its alumni.

The first mailing, announcing the Fund Drive, has already gone out to over 17,000 alums, together with a letter from May Roach. A second mailing is being sent to alums this month.

University President Dreyfus and Fund Drive Chairman May Roach discuss Fund Drive plans at May's home in Eau Claire.

May Roach is back on campus again.

One of WSU-SP's most well-known and popular alums, and a former WSU-SP teacher for over 42 years, is back on campus, this time to serve as chairman of the University's first Annual Fund Drive.

To generations of graduates, May Roach is synonymous with Stevens Point State University. She came as a young girl to Stevens Point, and enrolled in the then Stevens Point Normal School. Later, she returned to her alma mater, where she remained as a teacher of rural education for over 42 years.

While a teacher at WSU-SP, she came to be one of the faculty's most sought after speakers, and former President William C. Hansen once noted that she often made more speaking engagements in a year, than all the rest of the faculty put together! Her quick wit and infectious enthusiasm are unflagging, and she still maintains today, at the age of 85, an active speaking schedule throughout the state.

Her personal contributions to her alma mater illustrate the philosophy of a woman who has been a "do-er" all her life, and her dedication to academic and personal growth.

Miss Roach was one of the organizers of the conservation major at WSU (the first in the country), which later became a separate department, and this year, was inaugurated as the new and influential College of Natural Resources, which offers five areas of specialization.

She sponsored what is today the Newman Club, and co-sponsored the Rural Life Club on campus.

She chaired the faculty and served as president of the College for two years, and served as director of Rural Education for a year.

How does she plan to rally people to the University's aid during the Fund Drive?

"The best way I can help is to talk about all the good the money given to the Fund Drive will do for our young people who are students here," she said.

"Besides," admitted May, tongue-in-cheek, "talking is the thing I do best!"

NEW BOARD MEMBERS AND OFFICERS

Robert Konopacky
President

Richard Toser

Warren Lensmire
Pres.-Elect

Charles Hanes

Marjorie Warner

Ronald Nelson

Saturday, Sept. 26, was a historic day for the WSU Alumni Association, which had the distinction of announcing its leadership role in the University's first Annual Fund Drive.

A full year of planning and organizational spadework had preceded the announcement, and we are pleased to announce that a dynamic group of alums are using their talents and energies to enthusiastically support our University's first Fund Drive.

Robert Konopacky, president of Mid-State Photo, Inc., Stevens Point, was elected president of the Alumni Association at the Board meeting, replacing Ken Willett, who remains as a Board member.

Warren Lensmire, pres.-elect, Stevens Point, is an associate professor and currently serves as coordinator of student teaching at WSU-SP.

Mrs. Thomas (Nancy) Vevea, Rhinelander, is secretary-treasurer of the Association. Nancy teaches and tutors parttime at Rhinelander High School.

New members added to the Board include Miss Marjorie Warner, Stevens Point, Director of the Charles M. White Memorial Library; Charles Hanes, Amherst Junction, sales representative for Nekoosa-Edwards Paper Co.; Ronald Nelson, Wausau, an eighth grade science teacher; and Richard Toser, Stevens Point, president of Business Management Associates.

Holdover Board members are: Harvin Abrahamson, Fox Point; Orland Radke, Ken Willett, and Mrs. Norman Wanta, Stevens Point; and Mrs. Sylvia Reinholdt, Madison.

Every member of the Alumni Board has pledged himself as a member of the new Century Club—that group of donors who contribute $100 or more annually to the Fund Drive.

They, and other alums and friends of the University who donate $100 this year in unrestricted funds become charter members of the Century Club.

The "ALUMNUS"— Your Link With Your Alma Mater

Welcome!

Welcome to the first issue of the Pointer ALUMNUS, which is published and sent free to all of our 17,000 alums, as another service of your Alumni Association.

Most of the news is about you — or your classmates or fellow alums.

We touch on several other important items as well — the University's first Fund Drive, and May Roach's role as chairman; the Association's new officers and directors; a pictorial review of Homecoming '70!; and the upcoming alumni Scandinavian tour.

In the last two years, the philosophy of the relationship of the alumni and the University toward one another has undergone a dramatic change.

For many years, the only contact a majority of alums had with their alma mater was the annual reminder for membership dues, and perhaps an occasional trip back for Homecoming.

Not so today.

"Involved" is the word for today's WSU-SP alums — as evidenced by the spontaneous and generous response to the Fund Drive, as seen in their participation and interest in off-campus alumni clubs, and their concerned attitude about the growth of their alma mater, which leads them to assume leadership roles on the Alumni Association's Board of Directors; and their interest in participating in on-campus in-service days.

As the year progresses, we'll keep you informed about plans for on-campus events, the annual Alumni Day in May, and activities of special interest to alums.

So much is happening so fast — we can only touch on the highlights. Of necessity, our budget is limited, so our discourse must be brief. Let us know what you want to hear about and we'll try to oblige.
