

Winter 1987

Pointer Alumnus

Nonprofit Organization
U. S. POSTAGE PAID
STEVENS POINT, WIS.
PERMIT NO. 19

Campus News

Study completed on UW System's future

By Chancellor Philip Marshall

Members of the Board of Regents have recently completed a yearlong study on The Future of The University of Wisconsin System. After much study and open hearings they approved 25 resolutions which will require a number of evaluations, changes and improvements in the operation of all of our institutions. These range from a mandate that all institutions require freshmen to take the ACT test to a determination that the System must have more money or fewer students in order to maintain minimum standards of quality.

This action will require much activity on this campus over the next few months. We will need to re-evaluate our mission to see if there are certain things we should or should not be doing. Questions repeatedly raised about duplication clearly imply that the University of Wisconsin is wasting money by offering too many programs on too many campuses. Certainly there is a lot of duplication. We all offer math and English. The question is, do we have unnecessary duplication? If so, how do we eliminate it?

The greatest debate will be on the question of the "quality deficit." The Regents have concluded that, with the number of students now enrolled in the UW System (139,000 full-time equivalent students in the fall of 1986), we are underfunded by $88,000,000 for the 1986-87 academic year. How does one arrive at that figure? How valid is it?

The Regents were relying on figures compiled by the U.S. Department of Education in their Higher Education General Information Survey. The $88,000,000 figure was obtained by determining how much Wisconsin was behind the national average in support (general purpose revenue taxes and tuition) per student in 1983-84 (the latest year for which national figures were available) and bringing that figure forward to 1986-87.

The Legislative Audit Bureau looked at the same

Chancellor Marshall conferred with UW System President Kenneth Shaw at a luncheon at UW-SP last spring

figures and concluded that the shortage was actually $33,000,000. The bureau reasoned that some expenditures of UW Extension had been omitted and should have been included and that the UW System has a smaller percentage of graduate students than the national average and a correction should be made for that fact.

President Shaw responded that, if the auditors are going to start fooling with the Department of Education figures, then they should be consistent. Some other states have a part of their extension budgets omitted (by the Department of Education) as well. These should be added. Many systems do not include the cost of system offices whereas Wisconsin does. These should be included for those other states (such as Illinois where $20,000,000 in tax support and $15,000,000 in other funds is missing from the University of Illinois alone). There are other differences but the biggest is probably in debt retirement. In 1983-84 the UW System operational budget showed more than $55,000,000 in debt retirement. In Washington, where I came from and in Minnesota, where Greg Diemer, our new assistant chancellor for business affairs was located for many years, this debt is carried by the state. Hence, it does not show up in university operating budgets. This is true in most states, but not in Wisconsin.

But the biggest difference would be found if we looked at the expenditures for educational purposes rather than tax and tuition support. Much of the tax support received by the UW system goes for noneducational purposes such as extension, research, farms, UW hospital, the Department of Hygiene, etc. If we look at the expenditures for instruction, academic support, student services and administration per student we would find that the UW System would need about $180,000,000 more each year in order to match the national average in this measure of comparison.

The one thing sure in this debate is that we will not receive an additional $180,000,000 in our annual operating budget. Yet most residents of Wisconsin want their university to be outstanding. Apparently it is believed that the faculty and staff of the University of Wisconsin can work miracles. Then the question really is, with how much less than an average level of expenditures can we maintain a truly outstanding university? ■

New radio outlet

Managers of the Wisconsin Public Radio Network opened a new bureau at UW-SP in September which originates local news and public affairs programming.

Erin Davisson, most recently a reporter and news show anchorperson for WSAW-TV, Channel 7 in Wausau, was introduced as the new bureau chief and local announcer/reporter.

The bureau is headquartered in the Communication Arts Building on Reserve Street. Ms. Davisson has a studio within the UW-SP student radio station.

Ms. Davisson is heard about 15 minutes each hour during "Morning Editions" on WLBL 93-AM which is a transmitting outlet in Auburndale as well as WHRM 90.9-FM transmitting from Wausau.

A change in the network's programming has resulted in separate programming on those stations, with WLBL focusing primarily on talk shows and WHRM specializing in music. "Morning Edition" with Ms. Davisson will be heard on WLBL from 5:30 a.m. to 9 a.m. and on WHRM from 5:30 a.m. to 7:40 a.m.

WHRM and WLBL reach into about 30 counties throughout central and northern Wisconsin.

Ms. Davisson, a native of Beloit, is a 1981 graduate of UW-Stevens Point in English and communication. She had been a radio reporter/announcer for WSPT-WXYQ, a commercial station in Stevens Point for a year and one-half before joining the staff of the television station in Wausau in 1984. ■

'Olympics' headquartered at UW-SP

Two state programs, the Wisconsin Olympics of the Mind and the Wisconsin Institute for the Study of War, Peace and Global Cooperation, are now headquartered at UW-SP.

Olympics of the Mind, a problem solving project for elementary and secondary students is directed by Pat Schoonover of Clintonville. She started the state program, which is part of an international association, at UW-Green Bay more than four years ago.

The olympics competition begins at the local level and culminates in an annual World Finals contest. In Wisconsin in 1982, about 80 teams competed. According to Ms. Schoonover, that number has doubled annually to include more than 400 state teams last year.

Sharon Roberts of Stevens Point is the executive director of the Institute for the Study of War, Peace and Global Cooperation, a consortium of 21 public and private universities and colleges in Wisconsin devoted to research and teaching about the roots of organized violence, security issues and the factors necessary for a just global peace.

The institute, which sponsors an annual conference and public speakers, recently featured a specialist in the field of particle physics who discussed the Star Wars issue on the Stevens Point campus. ■

Tighter admissions standards

UW-SP is enacting tighter admissions standards for new freshmen who will enter the school beginning in the fall of 1987.

Irving Buchen, vice chancellor for academic affairs, announced that the change is being made in response to UW-SP's dilemma of having a higher enrollment than the campus budget can sustain. This fall, there was an all-time high count of about 9,600, but the university is to be funded in the future for about 9,300 students.

Consequently, admission will be granted to those applicants who rank above the 50th percentile of their high school graduating class or who earn a composite score of 21 or higher on the ACT examination, a standard test taken nationally by college-bound students.

The third option which, according to Buchen, "gives important flexibility" to the university in adopting the new policy, will make it possible for students to use a combination of their ACT scores and class ranks. Those students with test scores and percentile class ranks totalling 55, also will gain automatic admission. The 55 number may be reduced one or more points if it appears the university is not receiving enough applications to sustain a final count of at least 1,700 new freshmen next fall, the vice chancellor explained.

Those who are denied admission for the fall semester, may establish eligibility for admission on probation by achieving an ACT score of at least 17 and earning at least a C (2.0) average for at least six hours of academic work during a summer session at UW-SP or any other accredited institution.

Probationary entrance will be permitted for those with the 17 ACT score who will wait until the spring semester of 1988 to begin their freshman year.

For several years, the university automatically admitted new freshmen who ranked in the top 70 percent of their high school graduating classes.

The policy will be administered by John Larsen, director of admissions, who also is handling inquiries. ■

Johnson new Senate chair

Eugene C. Johnson is the new chair of the UW-SP Faculty Senate and is serving a one-year appointment as associate dean of the College of Letters and Science.

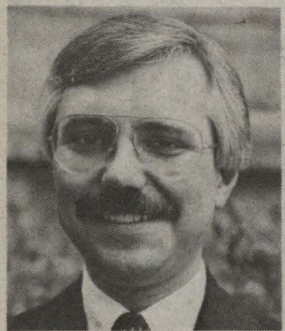

In addition to chairing the senate's bi-monthly meetings, Johnson is a member of the body's executive committee which meets regularly with Chancellor Philip Marshall.

In the college, he is responsible for curricular matters and further developing a six-year-plan while Justus Paul serves an appointment of the same duration as acting dean. ■

The popularity of bikes among UW-SP students is on the rise.

Promotions and Appointments

Gary Keller

UW-SP hires Milwaukee fund-raiser

Gary F. Keller, Milwaukee, who has 10 years of experience in financial solicitation and organization, is the new executive director of the UW-SP Foundation and head of university advancement/development.

He succeeds Leonard Gibb who left this spring to take a fund-raising position for a large hospital complex in Sun City, Ariz.

Keller, 36, who most recently served as director of development for Sacred Heart Rehabilitation Hospital in Milwaukee, assumed his new duties in November.

Helen Godfrey, UW-SP's assistant chancellor for university relations, said Keller "has accepted willingly the future goals of the alumni and development areas which include attracting major gifts, additional contributions to the annual fund drive and planning and directing a major fund drive several years from now."

Public funds are insufficient to support the desired advancement of UW-SP, Miss Godfrey continued, and "while the foundation has enjoyed fund-raising successes in the past and has developed a fine base of loyal contributors," there will be increased reliance on private financial support, she explained.

Keller said he will seek to further expand the base of the university's support. "After all, the taxpayers are unable to provide unlimited resources to the universities, so we need to attract additional funds and friends to maintain a certain standard of excellence."

He said he will emphasize to prospective donors that by supporting further development of the university, they will be contributing to the growth and betterment of the Stevens Point area as well as the entire state.

In seeking private funds to further assist students and to help faculty members do their jobs, one of his primary strategies will be calling donors' attention to UW-SP's "success stories."

A native of Milwaukee, Keller has B.A. and M.A. degrees in history from UW-Milwaukee and an M.S. in management from Cardinal Stritch College, also in Milwaukee. His mother, the former Helen Jaworski, is a native of Stevens Point.

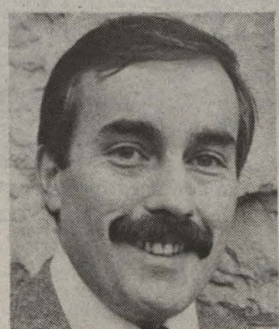

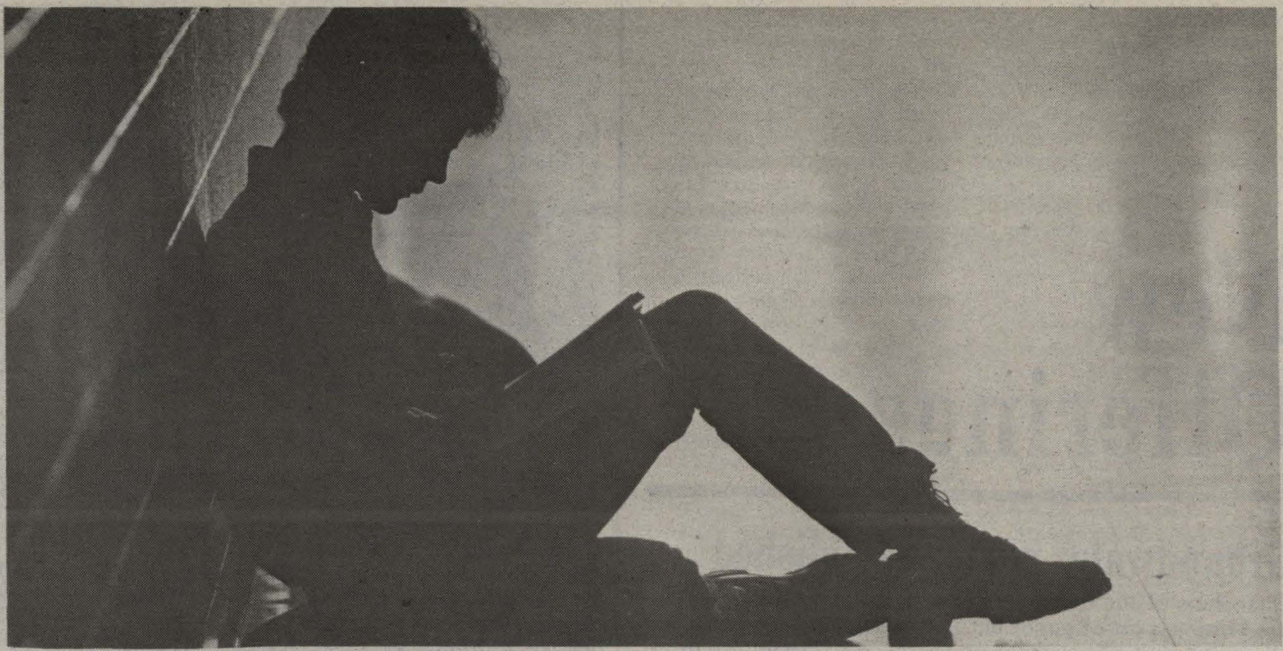

Prior to serving on the administrative staff of the rehabilitation hospital, he served as director of development for Dominican High School in Milwaukee and as director of the Lake County Museum in Wauconda, Ill., director of the Barrington Historical Society in Barrington, Ill., and Milwaukee coordinator of that county's observance of the U. S. Bicentennial.

At Lake County Museum, he negotiated the acquisition of the world's largest post card collection (containing more than one million items) and a $390,000 grant to sponsor museum expansion and a national traveling exhibit. He exceeded the rehabilitation hospital's funding goal by nearly 60 percent and acquired Dominican High's largest planned gift.

Organizations he served won several awards in recognition of successful development and management projects.

Keller is a former officer of the Whitefish Bay Business and Professional Association and past president of the Congress of Illinois Historical Societies and Museums.

Keller is married, and he and his wife have one daughter. ■

Michael Offerman

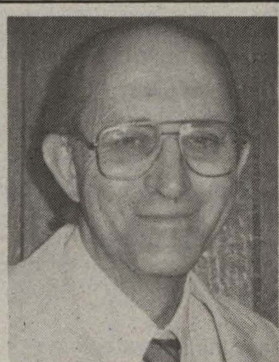

Offerman new leader of outreach

Michael J. Offerman, an Iowa native who most recently headed continuing education credit programs at the University of Arizona in Tucson, is the new director of continuing education and outreach and of the summer session at UW-SP.

He succeeds Orland Radke who retired in February. Nancy Newell Moore of the English department was acting director of the office in the interim.

Offerman is charged with the administration of the Native American Center, Nontraditional Student Office, the state headquarters of the Olympics of the Mind, course offerings at the federal prison in Oxford, noncredit courses/programs/workshops in addition to the summer session and all of the off-campus credit courses taught primarily in nine northcentral Wisconsin counties. Between 40 and 50 credit courses are taught by UW-SP professors in communities between Portage and the Michigan border each semester.

Offerman holds a bachelor's degree in history from the University of Iowa, master's and education specialist degrees in adult continuing education from UW-Milwaukee, and a doctorate in adult continuing education from Northern Illinois University. ■

Eugene Clark

Sociologists choose Clark as leader

Eugene E. Clark has assumed duties as head of UW-SP's department of Sociology and Anthropology. He succeeded John Moffatt who decided to return to full-time teaching.

A native of Manville, N.J., Clark earned a bachelor's degree from the University of Montana, a master's degree from Montana State in Bozeman and a Ph.D. in medical sociology from Louisiana State University.

As the department chair, Clark is involved in the implementation of a proposed new minor in gerontology and continues to teach a course on the social problems of aging. He also will continue teaching a class taken by students in the new wellness program on the sociology of medicine. ■

Robert Knowlton

Knowlton new chair of history

Robert J. Knowlton began his 25th year on the faculty at UW-SP by assuming the chairmanship of the 17-member history department.

The three-year appointment was one of the last official acts by Howard Thoyre before he stepped down as dean of the College of Letters and Science. Knowlton succeeds Justus Paul, chairman since the late 1960s, who is serving a one-year term as acting dean in Thoyre's former office.

Knowlton's colleagues in the history department recommended him for the leadership position.

A specialist in Latin American history, Knowlton is also the longtime coordinator of UW-SP's Latin American Studies Program.

A native of Akron, Ohio, he earned a bachelor's degree from Miami University of Ohio, a master's from Case Western Reserve University and a doctorate from the University of Iowa. ■

Larry Graham

Graham succeeds Kocurek

For the first time since it was founded about 16 years ago, UW-SP's paper science and engineering department has undergone a change of leadership.

Larry L. Graham has succeeded Michael Kocurek as chair of the department. Kocurek has assumed new duties as executive director of the Herty Foundation in Savannah, Ga.

"Mike has certainly done an outstanding job which has resulted in this university having the largest and certainly one of the best paper science programs in the entire nation...I am confident that under Larry's leadership the same high quality will continue," said Daniel Trainer, dean of the College of Natural Resources in announcing the changes.

Graham, a native of Nebraska, who grew up in the Pacific Northwest, holds degrees in chemical engineering from Northwestern University and the University of Toledo. He also has master's and Ph.D. degrees from the Institute of Paper Chemistry in Appleton. He has served 12 years on the faculty at UW-SP and has been granted the rank of professor. ■

Suited up for a recent graduation party.

New Offerings

Groundwater center established

Guardians of the drinking water in this part of the state are "doing a lot of good, but not enough people know about it," says Chris Mechenich who has a new job to reverse that problem.

She's one of the staff members of the new Central Wisconsin Groundwater Center which was officially opened June 22 at UW-SP.

The facility, established by the State Legislature provides groundwater information and education to area residents. The staff is developing projects based on its own research plus information that is being collected by other local, state and federal agencies.

State Rep. Stan Gruszynski and State Sen. David Helbach, both of Stevens Point, are credited with securing an appropriation of about $135,000 per year to finance the center's operations.

The center is the Legislature's response to outcries by people living in areas where the application of fertilizers and weed/pest control materials by growers are believed to be contaminating the source of the groundwater that eventually makes its way to dinner tables.

Anton Anday, 927 Forest Lake Drive, Plover, head of the Citizens Advisory Committee of the Portage County Groundwater Council, said members of the body he represents "are extremely pleased by having the center here in Stevens Point because the problems are here and not in Madison. We're also pleased that Representative Gruszynski and Senator Helbach were able to get it into the state budget process for us."

The center's mission is to:

- Develop, conduct and promote activities related to groundwater protection and management.
- Assist with the identification of the best management practices for groundwater protection in Wisconsin, and develop educational materials and programs on these practices.
- Collect, organize and make available existing data on groundwater and related resources.
- Provide assistance to local units of government in interpreting basic resource information.
- Maintain an inventory of ongoing research projects and identify areas needing further study by university departments and state and federal agencies.
- Assist local units of government in developing and implementing policies and programs that protect groundwater.

In addition to Osborne as director, the center has a groundwater education specialist position filled by Ms. Mechenich, and a half-time secretary position held by Linda Amrhein. An information management specialist with offices in Madison at the Wisconsin Geological and Natural History Survey headquarters is developing a computerized data base to allow retrieval of past and current water quality information.

A coordinator and clerk who staff the Golden Sands Resources Conservation and Development Council have moved their operations to the center because their mission also is related to groundwater protection. That operation is funded by the U. S. Department of Agriculture to assist 10 area counties.

Osborne, a Germantown native who is a 1970 graduate of UW-SP and holder of a master's degree from UW-Madison, has spent the past 10 years in Montana, working most recently as a hydrogeologist and research assistant professor for the Montana Bureau of Mines and Geology in Butte. ■

For years, a glassed area in the stairway of the University Center has been a popular lounge.

Tom Osborne demonstrates how man can negatively affect the quality of groundwater.

New programs approved

UW-SP has received approval to implement three new academic programs.

Staff officers for the UW System Board of Regents have approved a new minor in gerontology to be offered by the department of sociology/ anthropology, two new options in the music degree in jazz studies and theory/composition, and a master of science in education-general degree to replace a master of education in professional development degree.

The programs will be fully operational when fall semester classes begin.

Currently under consideration are four additional proposals that have been approved at UW-SP but require acceptance by the regents' staff: a new bachelor of fine arts degree program in arts administration, a revision of the physical education major title to health promotion/physical education with a revised curriculum integrating wellness concepts; a new bachelor of arts degree in music in addition to the existing bachelor of music degree; and a bachelor of fine arts degree in theatre arts with submajors in drama, dance and musical theatre. ■

MSE replaces MEPD

A new master of science in education (general) degree has been established at UW-SP.

The MSE will replace the existing master of education in professional development degree which is now in a phase-out process.

No new candidates for the MEPD degree are being accepted, but all present candidates in the program will be allowed to complete it.

Russell Oliver, head of the School of Education, said the change was made as a result of a review of the MEPD and proposals for change resulting from that review. "The MEPD is nine years old, and like all degree programs it is subject to revision and change," Oliver explained.

The new degree, he continued, incorporates many features of the current MEPD and gives candidates an improved opportunity to pursue their professional goals. ■

Art program accredited

Offerings in the visual arts and design at UW-SP have become the only programs of their kind in the UW System with accreditation from the National Association of Schools of Art and Design.

Rex Dorethy, chairman of the UW-SP Department of Art, said the accreditation serves "as recognition of progressive development as one of the outstanding resources in art and design" in this part of the country.

He said students who graduate from the accredited programs will be better equipped to enter an "increasingly competitive and lucrative market, matriculate to important graduate schools with confidence in their background and preparation, and serve as significant contributors to the visual arts field in the future."

The recognition was for the quality and direction of the university's bachelor of fine arts degree offerings in studio art (drawing, painting, printmaking, sculpture, metals, ceramics); in visual communications (graphic design, environmental design and photography); and in bachelor of science degree offerings in art education.

Dorethy, who has chaired the department since joining the university faculty in 1984, said the association provided a special commendation for the department's development of a 76-credit bachelor of fine arts professional art/design program track; for its efforts to reduce teaching loads for faculty to comply with the association standards; for its increased effort in equipment and library acquisitions; and for its prompt attention to health—safety—space matters.

The association is the only accrediting agency covering the entire field of art and design recognized by the Council on Postsecondary Accreditation and the U.S. Department of Education. Nationally, about 100 institutions are accredited members of the association.

The department is undergoing a dramatic increase in enrollment, up from 140 to 250 in the past two years. ■

Student nurses attend UW-SP

Students planning to become nurses may now take the first two years of their course work in a new satellite program at UW-SP.

The local offerings are extensions of a recently completed merger of the UW-Eau Claire and St. Joseph Hospital of Marshfield nursing programs.

The satellite was arranged after the university had, over the course of many years, received a steady flow of requests to broaden its curriculum for people planning careers in the health care professions, according to Professor David Chitharanjan, chairman of UW-SP's medical technology department.

He said Vice Chancellor Irving Buchen was largely responsible for arranging for UW-SP to be part of the merged program.

Dean of Professional Studies Joan North has appointed Chitharanjan to serve as adviser of UW-SP's component of the program as well as retain his chairman position. A native of India who holds a Ph. D. from Wayne State University in Detroit, his academic background is in the field of chemistry. He has been on the university faculty since 1968.

With institutions in both Marshfield and Stevens Point included in the new arrangement, area residents, who are commuting students out of necessity or preference, may now complete three years of the four-year nursing program within reasonable driving distance of their homes, Chitharanjan explained.

UW-Eau Claire, which will award bachelor's degrees to the graduates, has established a limited residency requirement involving only an eight-week period of study between the sophomore and junior years and the senior year.

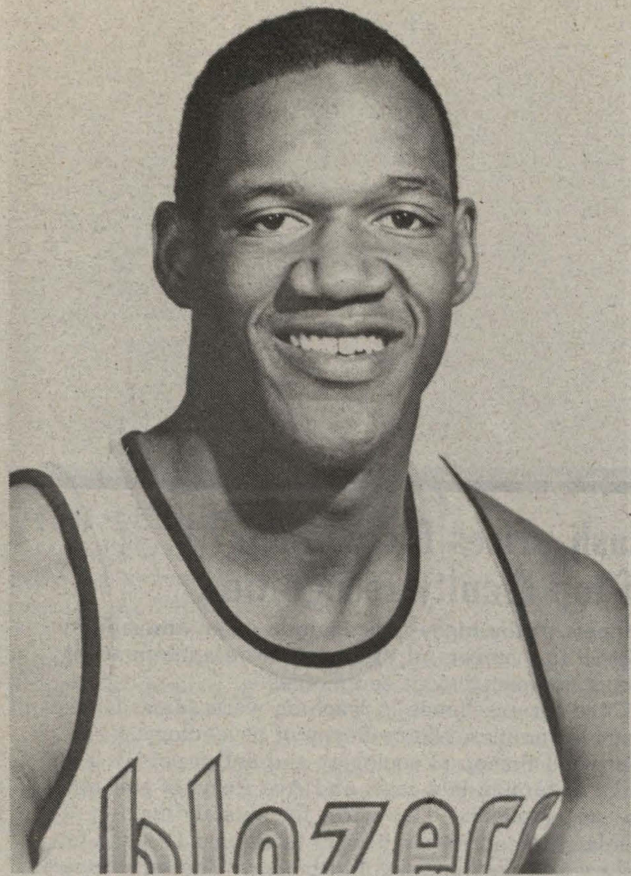

Five students are already signed up for the satellite program at UW-SP.

Timing of the new arrangement is appropriate, Chitharanjan said, because of predictions that a developing shortage of nurses is expected to get worse.

As a result, there are increased employment opportunities as well as significant increases in salaries anticipated for people in the profession. ■

An artist at work in front of the world's largest mosaic mural which adorns the Natural Resources Building.

Terry Porter

Plaudits for Porter

Terry Porter, who brought fame to UW-SP through his wizardry on its basketball court will be honored Feb. 7 at his alma mater.

His No. 30 uniform, which he wore between 1981 and 1985, will be retired in ceremonies during the halftime of a 7:30 p.m. tilt in Quandt Gym between the Pointers and Superior Yellowjackets.

Porter, now a starting point guard for the Portland Trail Blazers, also will be honored after the game at a public reception in the program banquet room of the University Center.

Advanced ticket purchases are suggested. Sales may be arranged by phone to 346-3888 or in person in room 122 of the Fieldhouse.

UW-SP Athletic Director Don Amiot says, "Terry was quite possibly the best athlete we have ever had the pleasure to watch at UW-SP. He gave us many special moments as fans, and it will be very special for the university and community to honor him."

Porter led the Pointers to four consecutive State University Conference championships and three NAIA District 14 titles. He was chosen as the most valuable player at the 1984 NAIA National Tournament in Kansas City as he led the Pointers to a runner-up finish there.

In his four years as a Pointer, his teams compiled a 101-19 record and he personally became the school's all-time leading scorer with 1,585 points. He ranks in second place in the team's history with 440 assists and in 12th place with 450 rebounds.

Porter was recently selected as a member of the NAIA Golden Anniversary Team, was twice named to the NAIA All-American first team, was twice selected as WSUC Player of the Year and as a member of the WSUC first team, an NABC All-American first team member and Street and Smith All-American first team member.

During his final season at the university, he was featured in Sports Illustrated as the finest small college player in the country and on ESPN as a top pro prospect. The Sporting News named him as one of the top 13 guard prospects in the country.

In addition to the tribute to Porter on Feb. 7, the university also will host its annual alumni basketball games for men and women. They will precede the 7:30 p.m. contest. ■

Activities for '87

Here is a list of dates for events scheduled at UW-SP during 1987 that are expected to be of special interest to alumni:

—Salute to Alumni Basketball Players, Feb. 7. Terry Porter and the outstanding Pointer basketball players who preceded him will be honored during the UW-SP and UW-Superior game in Quandt Gym.

—Reunion for UW-SP Alumni in the Fox River Valley, Feb. 25. A cocktail reception at 4:30 p.m. and dinner at 6 p.m. are planned at Robbins Restaurant in Oshkosh. People in attendance will have the option of attending the UW-SP and UW-Oshkosh basketball game at 7:30 p.m.

—UW-SP Open House, March 29. This 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. annual event will include displays and demonstrations in buildings throughout campus plus the ever popular reptile show, a petting zoo and a "free show," Walt Disney's "101 Dalmations."

—Benefit Ball, April 25. This Saturday evening event in the University Center is an annual fund-raiser for student scholarship funds.

—Laird Day, May 7. Outstanding high school students from throughout much of north central Wisconsin will be participating in this leadership program sponsored by Melvin R. Laird, former member of Congress and former secretary of the U.S. Department of Defense. Several national leaders are expected to be program leaders.

—50th Anniversary Class Reunion, May 31. Members of the class of 1937 will return for a series of activities including an evening dinner party at the University Center.

—Homecoming, Oct. 10. A parade, football game, reunions of organizations, luncheons and an evening dinner plus induction of new members of the Pointer Athletic Hall of Fame are planned on campus. ■

Student Achievements

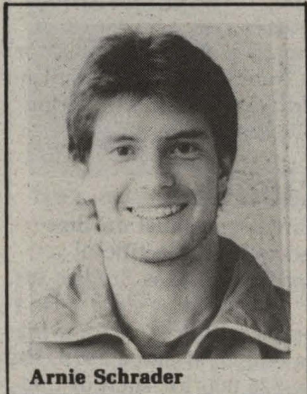

Pointers down Iowa State

The team from UW-SP first whipped the Boilermakers of Purdue, then overpowered the University of Minnesota and finally gained a regional championship by downing Iowa State University.

No, it wasn't a series of athletic events but a contest of mindpower.

The Pointers competed in the college bowl at the 16th annual Midwest Student Wildlife Conclave this spring and took top honors for the fifth time since 1974.

College bowl contestants put their knowledge of wildlife subjects on the line, attempting to answer more questions than members of their opposing teams. ■

Arnie Schraeder

Runner, grid team lead athletes

Arnie Schraeder of Nekoosa captured the NCAA Division III championship in cross country and the football team earned a national berth to highlight the fall sports season at UW-SP.

The men's cross country team placed third at the WSUC meet and was led by Schraeder and Tom Moris — both all-conference performers. The Pointers then finished third at the NCAA III regional meet to qualify for nationals.

Schraeder dominated the meet, covering the 8,000 meters in 26:47.6 to win the title and lead the Pointers to a sixth place finish. Two days later, he competed in the NCAA Division I meet and finished 11th.

The gridders completed their season 8-4 overall and 7-1 in the Wisconsin State University Conference, earning an NCAA III playoff berth. UW-SP shared the WSUC title with River Falls and La Crosse, the first title for the Pointers since 1977.

In the playoffs, the Pointers dropped a hard-fought 24-15 decision to Concordia College of Minnesota. At the season's conclusion, five Pointers were named to the all-conference first team.

The women's cross country team captured a fourth place finish in the Wisconsin Women's Intercollegiate Athletic Conference and then proceeded to finish fourth at the NCAA III regionals. Amy Cyr, a sophomore from Thiensville, was the lone Pointer to qualify for the national meet. Her 11th place finish at regionals allowed her to run at the national meet where she placed 82nd.

Recording a respectable amount of upsets, the women's tennis team placed fourth at the WWIAC meet. The Lady Pointers also finished sixth at the NAIA District 14 meet. Dolores Much of Appleton played at No. 1 singles.

A fourth place finish at the WSUC meet and a sixth place at the Pointer Open combined to give the Pointer golf team a final standing of fifth in the WSUC. UW-SP capped off its season with a third place at the NAIA District 14 meet.

The women's volleyball team had a respectable season, concluding with a 13-8 WWIAC record, 18-16 in the NCAA Division III and a 27-26 overall mark. At the conference meet, the Lady Pointers finished with a 3-2 record.

The winter season has already begun and UW-SP is off to an impressive start. The men's and women's basketball, and the hockey teams are all at the top of their conferences, and the men's and women's swimming teams are national powers again. The wrestling team is expected to be vastly improved over last season. ■

PR group cited

A student organization at UW-SP has been cited by a national organization for promotional projects it has conducted on behalf of groups working for campus and community betterment.

The five-state Midwest district of the Public Relations Student Society of America (PRSSA) gave the Chapter Development Award to its UW-SP affiliate.

The award recognizes achievement made by relatively new chapters in the first two years of their affiliation with PRSSA. Activities considered in the judging are membership drives, community and university service fund raising and special events. ■

Students and recent graduates participated in a walk from Stevens Point to rural Prairie du Chien last spring to raise money for protection of eagle habitat.

Nation's best chapter

A student organization at the university has been recognized as the best chapter in the United States of an honorary biological society.

"This is the second time in a row that we've won this," says faculty adviser Kent Hall, "and that has been unheard of in the 25 years the award has been given."

Officers of Beta Beta Beta Biological Society evaluated the achievements and activities of members in about 330 chapters across the country and in Puerto Rico while determining the winner of its top annual recognition, the Lloyd M. Bertholf Award for Chapter Excellence.

The judges made their selection on the basis of scholarly work and research of individual members in chapters plus the successes logged by the groups in dissemination of biological knowledge. ■

Regina Part

Headed for pageant

Regina M. Part, 19, of Stevens Point is the new Miss Wisconsin-USA 1987. The UW-SP sophomore fashion merchandising major was crowned Nov. 16 at a pageant held at the Sheraton Milwaukee-North.

Miss Part, the daughter of Magdalena and Joseph Part, 2409 Stanley St., will compete in the Miss USA pageant to be held in Dallas in February.

Twenty-one young women competed in swimsuit, evening gown, personal interview and stage interview.

Along with the crown, Miss Part receives an expense-paid trip to the national pageant, a $500 wardrobe allowance and gift certificates for gowns. ■

Dancers in U.S. concert

For the first time, representatives of the university were chosen to perform in the National College Dance Festival this spring in Washington, D.C.

"Fantasy for a Few Good Men," a work choreographed by faculty member Linda Caldwell, was performed by five UW-SP student dancers at the gala concert on Saturday, May 24.

The event culminated the three-day National College Dance Festival at the University of the District of Columbia.

Being chosen for the gala concert is the top national honor—nine works, including Caldwell's, were staged at the gala. Caldwell says the judges have been especially impressed with the UW-SP performers' strong combination of drama and dance. ■

Psych students honored

Four psychology students from UW-SP who have developed a personality adjustment test for children were invited to give a presentation about their project during a national conference in Washington, D.C., in August.

The student researchers were Derek Carlson of Stevens Point, Kelly Evans of Sheboygan, Jeffrey Kaphengst of Fond du Lac and Tina Tullberg of Wittenberg.

They were accompanied by their faculty adviser, Professor Douglas Henderson, and five other students at the annual meeting of the American Psychological Association's honorary society, Psi Chi. Henderson says it is "highly unusual" for undergraduate research results to be presented at the national rather than the regional level.

The UW-SP students were involved in the development of a personality adjustment test for children which is a modification of a testing procedure, using incomplete sentences, originally designed for use with adults. ■

Faculty Achievements

Librarians honor Burress

Lee Burress, a member of the English faculty at UW-SP for 28 years, received a Special Service Award from the Wisconsin Library Association at its annual fall conference in Green Bay.

Referred to by the Madison Capital Times as "a national treasure," Burress has been a strong defender of First Amendment rights for more than 25 years.

He is respected nationwide for his scholarly approach to intellectual freedom and his dignified manner during debates, according to the awards committee.

Since 1983, Burress has published numerous articles on First Amendment rights and is the author of three national surveys of censorship in schools. His book on literary censorship since 1950 will be published soon. ■

Reproduction study funded

Biologist Sol Sepsonwol also has received a large grant from the National Science Foundation to research reproductive processes of an intestinal parasite.

He received $55,000 in 1984, $64,000 in 1985 and $65,000 in 1986 to isolate and analyze a sperm activation substance in the nematode Ascaris, an intestinal parasite of pigs.

Sepsonwol says his studies are of immediate interest to those involved in the control of parasitic infestations. The research also will provide basic information about the general phenomenon of sperm activation in many animals including man.

The professor came to UW-SP in 1978. ■

Cited by resource agents

Lowell Klessig, a faculty member in UW-SP's College of Natural Resources has received the 1986 distinguished service award given by the State Community Development Association.

The professional organization is comprised of county resource agents, and for about 12 years Klessig has been providing support services to the members.

Earlier in the year, the North American Lake Management Society gave him one of its first distinguished service awards in appreciation for his efforts in getting the society organized about nine years ago and serving as a charter director. Today, it is headquartered in Washington, D.C., serving about 1,000 members across the United States.

Klessig has been a resource management specialist for the UW System since 1974. He transferred from Madison to Stevens Point in 1980 to hold a joint appointment on the UW-SP faculty and with UW Extension. ■

Named center scientist

Stanley Szczytko, a water resources specialist on the UW-SP faculty, has been invited to hold the title of center scientist at the Center for Great Lakes Studies at UW-Milwaukee.

Szczytko will share his expertise with the center while continuing to serve UW-SP, his employer since 1979. He recently received a grant worth $25,000 for each of the next three years to evaluate water quality and effects of pollution in state lakes and streams. ■

Cash prizes for winners of top faculty recognition

Winners of the highest recognition given annually by UW-SP to members of its faculty were announced at spring commencement ceremonies.

Cited for excellence in teaching were: James Gingles of home economics; Nancy Bayne of psychology; E. Sherwood Bishop of sociology and anthropology; Keith Palka of foreign language; and Aga Razvi of soil science and water science. The prizes for outstanding scholarship and research went to Donald Dietrich of history and Sol Sepsonwol of biology. The service award was given to Richard Wilke, environmental education.

They received $200 prizes and plaques and were guests of honor at the annual UW-SP Academic Convocation which officially marks the beginning of a new year of study. ■

Heads language teachers

Mark Seiler, chairman of the Department of Foreign Languages at UW-SP, is the president-elect of the state chapter of the American Association of Teachers of German.

He will begin his two-year term as president in 1987.

The chapter has about 300 members who teach at all levels of education in public and parochial systems.

As chapter president, Seiler will conduct several executive meetings each year plus two annual gatherings of the full membership. And, he will represent it at meetings of the national organization in Washington, D.C. ■

Hale Quandt remembered

Hale Quandt, longtime basketball coach and athletic director at UW-SP, was inducted posthumously into the Wisconsin High School Basketball Coaches Association Hall of Fame during ceremonies in Madison in June.

Quandt, after whom the fieldhouse at UW-SP is named, became basketball coach and athletic director at (then) Central State College in 1947 and remained in that post until his death on June 30, 1968. His overall basketball coaching record was 459 wins and 230 losses.

In addition to basketball, Quandt at various times also coached football, track, baseball, golf and boxing. An innovator, his influence over the years has been carried on by many of his former players who went into the coaching ranks. ■

Promoted to professorships

The UW System Board of Regents has elevated 10 UW-SP faculty members from the rank of associate professor to professor, the highest position for members of the teaching staff.

Receiving those advancements were: Frank Bowers of biology; William L. Clark, David G. Holborn and Robert K. Miller of English; Gilbert Mages of mathematics and computing; and Richard L. Geesey, Christy T. Hauge, Hans G. Schabel, Earl Spangenberg and Richard J. Wilke of natural resources.

The regents approved emeritus designation, an honorary title reserved for long-serving and outstanding members of the faculty and academic staff who are retired for: John Barnes of biology; Mary Croft of English and the Writing Lab; Alice Faust of theatre arts; Arthur Fish, Zofia Soroka and Keith Lea of the Learning Resources Center; Guy Gibson and Frederick Krempel of history; William Hanford of art (who has since died); Alan Lehman of English; Orland Radke of Continuing Education and Outreach; Robert Simpson of biology and Adolph J. Torzewski of the Division of Business Affairs. ■

Money-saving communication system cited nationally

The university has won a national award for its successes in reducing costs and at the same time improving telephone and data communication systems throughout campus.

John Sundstrom, one of the chief planners of the system that was put into use one year ago, accepted the citation from the National Association of College and University Business Officers (NACUBO).

The UW-SP entry in the NACUBO Cost Reduction Incentive Awards Program was given a fifth place rating among 61 projects across the United States that were recognized.

UW-SP's entry was for the installation of a communication system that links computers throughout campus and also provides new and extended telephone service. The system resulted in annual savings for the institution of about $367,000.

The Stevens Point equipment, purchased from AT&T Information Systems for $1.3 has received considerable attention from representatives of other institutions, including UW-Madison, who are interested in pursuing a similar set up. ■

Chemistry professors Don Showalter and C. Marvin Lang are active in the national speaking circuit giving entertaining lecture demonstrations which they hope will stimulate more public interest in the study of chemistry.

Sullivan earns certification

A longtime member of the business faculty at UW-SP has been certified as a manager in the field of production and inventory control.

Michael Sullivan, who has taught at UW-SP since 1965, has received the designation from the American Production and Inventory Control Society (APICS), a national educational organization. Originally a specialist in labor economics, he describes his newly developed area of expertise as the management of resources—the control of commodities and scheduling of machines and people. ■

Larsen in Canadian project

John Larsen, director of admissions at UW-SP, has been chosen by two national organizations to be on a study team that will make recommendations how higher educational institutions in this country can better serve students from Canada.

He will spend about a week in September of 1987 touring colleges and universities in Canada, and on his return is directed to develop a report and then assist in drafting policies to be enacted by the National Board on Evaluation of Foreign Educational Credentials.

Larsen, who has held his present position during most of the 22 years he has served UW-SP, was appointed to the study team by the American Association of Collegiate Registrars and Admissions Officers and the National Association of Foreign Student Affairs. ■

Job location efforts become national model

The method of using computers to administer a program of locating jobs for students at the university has been singled out as a model for other institutions of higher learning.

It was featured at the 25th annual meeting of the Midwest Association of Student Employment Administrators held earlier this year at the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign.

Program coordinator Helen Van Prooyen and a student were invited to give a presentation and demonstration of their system entitled "Job Location and Development—Computerization for the Future."

They were cited for having devised one of the most comprehensive computerized job matching, accounting/office recordkeeping, marketing and promotion programs at any campus in this part of the country.

The office processes applications from about 2,000 students each year. Beyond the placement of students in the federally funded Work Study Program, the state-funded Regular Work Program and in privately-operated food service jobs, all on campus, several hundred other collegians earned $300,000 in salaries last year in positions they found off campus with assistance from Mrs. Van Prooyen's staff.

The office is linked by computer with the UW-SP Total Involvement Educational System which records all recognition, volunteer and work experience of students who wish to have their activities put into a special campus transcript. ■

Fish research funded

A biologist at UW-SP is the recipient of a National Science Foundation grant for $75,000 to conduct research on fish chromosomes.

William LeGrande was awarded the two-year grant through the Research Undergraduate Institutions Program sponsored by NSF to increase funding for research at primarily undergraduate institutions.

The study will involve extensive fieldwork doing samplings, according to geographical location, of fish specimens in the Ozarks of southern Missouri and Arkansas.

LeGrande, who came to UW-SP in 1977, is a former recipient of an NSF grant to utilize a computer in his fish research. ■

Service award for Crandall

Veteran UW-SP athletic trainer Charlie Crandall is the first recipient of the annual Wisconsin Athletic Trainers Association (WATA) Service Award. He was recognized for outstanding contributions to the organization and to the profession of athletic training.

Crandall served as WATA president from 1982-85. He is currently in his 17th year as trainer at UW-SP. ■

Eck in Hall of Fame

Jay Eck, basketball coach at UW-SP, was honored at the Madison Sports Hall of Fame banquet in June.

A standout athlete at Madison Edgewood High School, Eck was selected as recipient of the hall's "Favorite Son" award in recognition of his many contributions to student-athletes and for coaching the Pointers to the Wisconsin State University Conference basketball championship last season. ■

The greenhouse on the upper level of the Science Building.

Justice, peace leader

Ray Stroik, a UW-SP alumnus and assistant archivist at UW-SP, has been appointed by Bishop John Paul as chairman of the La Crosse Catholic Diocese's Justice and Peace Commission.

The commission, with about 20 members, meets five times per year to plan ways of advancing the church's teachings on social justice among lay people. He was one of its founding members in 1980. ■

Accolades for Johnson

John E. Johnson, a staff member in the residence life department at UW-SP, has received the "Outstanding New Professional Award" from the American College Personnel Association.

He received a plaque at the organization's national meeting last spring in New Orleans.

Johnson was the first person to be a winner of a major award at two successive conventions. In 1985 he and Dean Bresciani were given the Residence Hall Program Award for their work at the University of Bowling Green in Ohio. Both men were appointed to UW-SP positions in the summer of 1985. ■

Environmentalists elect Wilke

Rick Wilke, assistant to the dean of the College of Natural Resources, is one of six new members of the board of directors of the North American Association for Environmental Education.

He has served the association as chairman of the publications committee. At its recent annual meeting in Eugene, Ore., where he was elected to the national board, he also was installed as president of the NAAEE Elementary and Secondary Education Section.

The association, based in Troy, Ohio has a sister organization, the Conservation Education Association with headquarters in Green Bay. Wilke has been active in that group, too, and has been assigned by NAAEE to plan a joint conference in 1989. ■

Two profs in Malaysia

Two professors from UW-SP are spending a year as faculty members in Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia, in a new educational program for members of that country's ethnic groups.

They are Ronald Lokken, professor of physics and astronomy and Robert Steinpreis, associate professor of chemistry.

They were appointed by Indiana University, lead institution in the Midwest Universities' Consortium for International Activities which has been contracted by the Malaysian government to operate a special school for Chinese and Indian residents of Malaysia.

The school has an enrollment of 2,400 students and a faculty numbering 150. Opened last year on a limited basis, the facility had Robert S. Beeken, associate professor of physics and astronomy at UW-SP, as one of its first faculty members. ■

She creates a 'real twinkle'

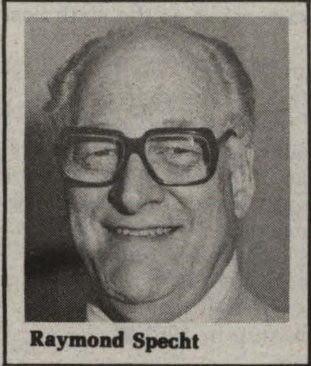

A national organization has cited a longtime Stevens Point musician for "putting a real twinkle in America's string scene."

Margery V. Aber received the award in recognition of "exceptional leadership and merit" from the American String Teachers Association during a convention in Anaheim, Calif.

The organization chose Miss Aber for honors because of her successes in promoting interest in stringed instruments as a pioneer in this country in the Suzuki Talent Education Method. She was in the first group of American music educators that went to Japan in 1967 to study with Dr. Shinichi Suzuki. The program she subsequently established at UW-SP now sponsors the largest summer Suzuki institute on this continent.

Miss Aber retired from the faculty in 1984 and has since been active on a part-time basis as a violin teacher in UW-SP's Conservatory for Creative Expression and in the American Suzuki Talent Education center on campus. ■

Two campus facilities named

Memorial Forum dedicated to Ray Specht

A plaza at UW-SP was dedicated Sept. 17 in honor of Emeritus Professor Raymond Specht.

Chancellor Philip R. Marshall said Specht was chosen for the recognition "because of the important role he had in planning most of the campus, as it exists today, and in the sharing of his talents with the community in a long and admirable tenure of public service."

Since it was constructed in 1971 between the Fine Arts Center and Albertson Learning Resources Center, people have used several different names to identify the facility. University officials have referred to it as the Memorial Forum but others have called it the Sundial and Bullseye.

Specht was on the UW-SP faculty from 1947 to 1982 for a total of 35 years. He taught geography and developed new programs in cartography, photography and driver education.

"As a geographer, I was trained to study spacial patterns on the earth. As a planner, I applied these concepts to our campus in a process to accommodate change," he says. After 1966, he devoted much of his time to planning as the university was undergoing rapid enrollment growth which required extensive expansion of the physical plant.

His other service to the university included being an assistant coach in football and basketball, director of Delzell and Steiner Residence Halls and photo adviser of student publications.

His public service has included nearly 20 years as a member of the Stevens Point Plan Commission. He declined reappointment this spring because of ill health. He has been a commissioner of the Stevens Point Redevelopment Authority and Stevens Point Zoning Board of Appeals, member of the Downtown Action Committee and chairman of its Historic Preservation Committee, board member of the Stevens Point Chamber of Commerce and officer of the Kiwanis Club.

He is widely known as a railroad historian via his publication of three books on the Wisconsin Valley Line, Green Bay & Western and Milwaukee & Northern. He collected large amounts of railroad memorabilia, much of which has been donated to UW-SP and preservation organizations. In addition, he has been active through the years as a photographer and exhibitor of his works. ■

New gallery opened in honor of Agnes Jones

It's now the Agnes A. Jones Gallery.

A dedication program was held last May at UW-SP to name a display area in the Professional Studies Building in honor of a professor who has served the institution 30 years.

Agnes A. Jones was honored for her contributions as head of the UW-SP School of Home Economics from 1956 to 1981 and as a counselor in the Career Services Office and Academic Advising Center since 1981.

The gallery is about 34 by 17 feet with a display window facing the first floor corridor of the building. A plaque at the door includes a color portrait of Mrs. Jones, her title and dates of her service to the School of Home Economics.

The gallery has been equipped with special lighting, a carpet-like wall treatment, movable display platforms and Plexiglass cases.

The gallery is used for displays by home economics students and faculty members, particularly in the areas of fashion merchandising and interior design. It also is a showplace for garments dating from the early 1800s to the present that are part of the UW-SP Historic Costume Collection. And, each spring, the gallery is transformed into a boutique in which students gain practical experience merchandising items consigned by proprietors of area specialty shops and local residents who work in arts and crafts.

During a response, Mrs. Jones cited teaching colleagues who were involved with her in developing a diversified home economics curriculum and in shepherding the program through a period of considerable growth.

This fall, Mrs. Jones began her 50th year of public education work.

Mrs. Jones, who is the former Agnes Andersen of Owen, began her teaching career in 1937 after graduating from UW-Madison. She later earned M.S. and Ph.D. degrees there. She has been on high school faculties in Mauston, Rice Lake, Waterloo and Oregon before serving at UW-Madison as a librarian, instructor and supervisor of student teachers. She also headed the home economics program at Northern Illinois University in De Kalb for one year. ■

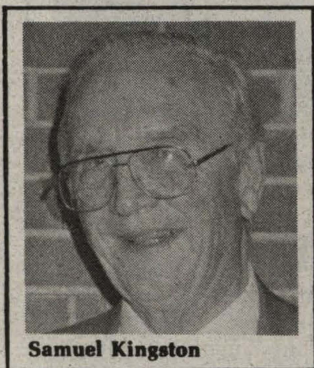

University Awards

Willett on Fast Track

Stevens Point businessman Kenneth B. Willett was named Oct. 10 as the first honorary member of Fast Track, an organization of outstanding students in the UW-SP Division of Business and Economics.

Willett, who attended the Stevens Point Normal School from 1920 to 1922, was recognized for assisting the group in planning special activities including a trip to Minneapolis to meet informally with company executives. He also has been a speaker and consultant for the organization.

A lifelong Stevens Point resident, he has been a booster of UW-SP for many years and has headed the university's foundation and served on the boards of several other organizations related to the institution. ■

Samuel Kingston

Kingston Wins top alumni commendation

Samuel G. Kingston has become the 37th recipient of the UW-SP Distinguished Alumnus Award.

A Stevens Point banker for nearly half a century, Kingston was honored in June at the university's annual Alumni Day.

Kingston was one of the charter directors of the UW-SP foundation in 1965 and served 18 years on the board including two years as president.

He is a past recipient of the Distinguished Citizen Award given by the Stevens Point Jaycees, a former president of the Chamber of Commerce and one of the organizers of the Stevens Point Industrial Development Foundation in 1952.

He was given the title of chairman emeritus of Citizens Marine National Bank in April as he culminated an active role in the firm's management. He had jobs there from the time he was a schoolboy and became a full-time employee after he was graduated from UW-Madison in 1936. One of the highlights of his career was service on the executive committee of the Wisconsin Bankers Association.

Kingston enrolled at UW-Stevens Point in 1932 when it was a teachers college, serving as president of his freshman class. He transferred to UW-Madison after completing a two-year course here in 1934. ■

UW-SP thanks Dreyfuses

The university sponsored a community tribute July 7 in honor of Lee and Joyce Dreyfus as the former UW-SP chancellor and first lady prepared to move from Stevens Point to Waukesha. More than 200 townspeople attended.

Both of the Dreyfuses received Albertson Medallions from Chancellor Philip Marshall in recognition of their public service, particularly in behalf of the university.

Dreyfus was the university's ninth chief executive, serving from 1967 until he went on leave in the spring of 1978 for his successful campaign to be governor.

After deciding not to seek a second term as governor, Dreyfus became president of Sentry Insurance. He and Mrs. Dreyfus returned to Stevens Point in 1983 and continued living here after he resigned from the insurance position and started his own public speaking business.

He said he decided to move to Waukesha because it is closer to a large airport with more choice of flight times. ■

Lombardo given award

James Lombardo, Wausau, received this year's Outstanding Alumnus Award given by the UW-SP school of communicative disorders.

Lombardo, who earned a bachelor's degree in 1970 and a master's degree in 1971, was cited for exemplifying the qualities of graduate potential, service, scholarship, personality and leadership.

He provides audiology services for patients at the Wausau Medical Center and serves on the institution's physician recruitment and market/public relations committees. He also has held leadership positions in the Wisconsin Speech-Language-Hearing Association. ■

Hall of Fame inductees from left: Greg Charlesworth, Jeff Gosa, Fran Roman, Marge Spring, Sue Brogaard and Fred Kestly.

First women in 'Hall of Fame'

Five star athletes from the past and a faculty member who was instrumental in the development of sports programs for women were inducted into the Athletic Hall of Fame at the Oct. 11. homecoming celebration.

They are Sue Brogaard, Professor Emeritus Marge Spring and Fran Roman, all of Stevens Point; Fred Kestly, Pulaski, Jeff Gosa, Coleman; and Greg Charlesworth, New London.

Brogaard, who taught at Wild Rose High School before returning to UW-SP as a graduate student, was a standout college athlete in both basketball and field hockey. As a four-year starter in basketball, she led her team in scoring each year and was a first-team All-WWIAC selection in 1975-77. She was twice named the team's Most Valuable Player and currently is the third all-time scorer in the school's history with 988 points.

Spring, a retired physical education professor and present holder of the honorary title of professor emeritus, taught and coached women's teams and promoted the upgrading of women's athletics from 1965 until her retirement in 1983. In 1968-69, she was one of several women to take part in discussions regarding the formation of the Wisconsin Women's Intercollegiate Athletic Conference (WWIAC).

Charlesworth, a retired administrator and coach for the New London School System, played football from 1926-29 and basketball from 1927-30. He was an all-conference honoree as an offensive tackle in football in 1928. In 1930, he coached the team for its final game against Eau Claire, a scoreless tie. After college he went on to play semi-pro football with the New London Bulldogs and in Wisconsin Dells. He was a member of the All-Point football team selected for a 10-year period between 1924 and 1934.

Gosa, an elementary teacher at Coleman, is the all-time leading pass receiver in Pointer football history. His best season came in 1976 when he was an honorable mention All-American choice of the NAIA. He caught 85 passes for 1,074 yards and 12 touchdowns and was honored as a first-team pick in both the WSUC and NAIA District 14. His 69 conference receptions are still a WSUC standard, and his career marks of 228 passes caught, 2,851 yards gained and 27 touchdowns are all conference records. His 276 career receptions are an NAIA all-time mark and his 210 points stand as the school record.

Kestly, athletic director at Pulaski High School, was a three-sport standout at UW-SP. As a three-year football starter in 1955-57, he played tight end and defensive end. His career average of 16.4 yards/catch ranks fourth all-time and his four blocked punts in a season are a school record. His 1955 squad won the WSUC championship. In basketball, he was also a three-year starter and his 1956-57 team won the conference championship and participated in the NAIA National Tournament in Kansas City. He scored a total of 569 points during his career and shares the all-time school mark for shooting 100 percent from the free throw line in one game, 9-9 versus UW-Milwaukee in 1956-57.

As a coach at Pulaski High School, Kestly's basketball teams have finished in the top half of the conference 21 of 27 years and have captured two Bay Conference Championships. His teams have compiled a record of 347 wins and 210 losses. His 1975 team went to the State Tournament. He received an "Excellence in Coaching" award from UW-SP in 1984.

Fran Roman, a Stevens Point insurance agent, was a two-sport athlete at UW-SP from 1954-58. Remembered best for his play on the baseball field, Roman, a catcher, was a four-year letterman who had a season best .429 average in 1958. That average ranks as the sixth best compiled by a Pointer.

Also a member of the undefeated 1955 football team, he played halfback both ways for the Pointers. The team finished 8-0 and on top of the State University Conference standings. In sum, he was a part of three Pointer grid squads (he was injured in 1956, his junior year, and missed the season) which compiled a 16-6-1 record. As a coach at Pardeeville High School from 1959-64, his football teams compiled a remarkable 23-0-1 record before he moved on to the Stevens Point High School (1964-67) where his baseball team won the Wisconsin Valley Championship in 1967. ■

English profs cite Meissner

William Meissner, member of UW-SP's class of 1970, received the first Distinguished Graduate Award given by the English Department. He was honored at a dinner at the Stevens Point Holiday Inn this spring.

Meissner, recently promoted to professor of English at St. Cloud State University in Minnesota, is director of the school's creative writing program.

While at UW-SP, Meissner was active in literary groups and later earned a master of fine arts degree from the University of Massachusetts in Amherst. He has been teaching at St. Cloud since 1972. Among the awards he has received are a National Endowment of the Arts Fellowship for Writing, a Loft-McKnight Fellowship in Poetry and a Minnesota State Arts Board Fellowship. He has received five P.E.N.-NEA Syndicate Fiction Awards, one of which was received based on judging by Kurt Vonnegut.

Meissner's books of poetry are, "Learning to Breathe Under Water" and "The Sleepwalker's Son." ■

Coaching awards presented

Graeme O. Williams of Sparta and Mary Schultz Bachus of Wausau received the UW-SP Coaching Excellence Awards given annually by the athletic director and staff.

They received plaques at the homecoming dinner Oct. 11.

Mrs. Bachus, girl's basketball coach at Wausau East High School since 1975, has compiled a 109-95 win-loss record and has taken her squad to two state tournaments. She coaches other sports and teaches physical education.

Williams is head basketball coach and social studies teacher at Sparta Senior High School. Before taking his present position, he was a teacher and coach at Melrose-Mindoro High for eight years and logged a 115-57 win-loss record with his boy's basketball teams. His 1979 squad was the runner-up in the Wisconsin Class C Boy's Basketball Tournament. He was the Coulee Region Coach of the Year in 1978.

Williams graduated from UW-SP in 1975 and returned for a master's degree which he received in 1983, and Ms. Bachus, earned her bachelor's degree in 1974. ■

Tributes for DeBaker, Siebert

The university has honored two boosters of the Pointer athletic programs.

Leonard De Baker received the UW-SP Athletic Director's Award, and Joe Siebert was cited for giving the school's teams 60 years of loyal fan support.

De Baker, president of the Marshall and Ilsley First National Bank, has long been active in community organizations including the UW-SP Foundation. His support of athletics on campus has included involvement in the formation of the Backcourt Club and Quarterback Club.

De Baker's financial support has made it possible for the university to purchase the indoor and outdoor message centers at Quandt Gymnasium.

Siebert has been identified with sports programs in Stevens Point all of his adult life. He has been giving enthusiastic fan support to Stevens Point high school and university teams alike.

A lifelong city resident who served as a mail carrier here for 37 years, Siebert's other sports affiliations are with the Stevens Point American Legion baseball program for which he has been a coach and officer more than 50 years.

As a youth, he played on the 1926 Stevens Point High School basketball team which won the school's first state championship.

De Baker and Siebert received plaques during halftime of the UW-SP Tip Off Tournament and were honored later that night at a reception at the Holiday Inn. ■

Historians honor Dahm

Fred Dahm, a member of the Lincoln High School social studies faculty in Wisconsin Rapids, was selected in March to receive the first Outstanding High School Teacher Award given by the UW-SP history department.

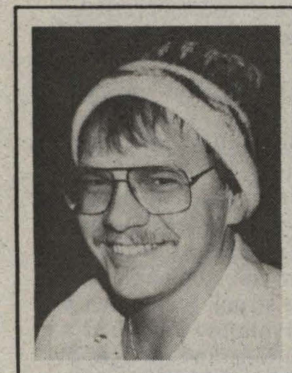

Dahm, a 1969 graduate of the university, was presented the citation in recognition of outstanding teaching. ■

Obituaries of Graduates

Patricia J. Weaseman, '80, of Racine, died of cancer Feb. 24 at St. Francis Hospital, Evanston, Ill. She was 27. From July, 1984, she was director of design at Henricken Office Interiors of Itasca, Ill., until she left due to illness in June, 1985. Prior to that she was employed by Burgess, Anderson & Tate in Zion, Ill. She was an associate member of the American Society of Interior Designers. Services were held at the Draeger-Langendorf Funeral Home and burial was in West Lawn Memorial Park. Survivors include her parents, two sisters and one brother. In a letter to the editor of the Pointer Alumnus shortly before her death, Patricia wrote that she was eager to hear from friends of the "ol' Roach Hall gang," adding, "I would not have missed all the fun times and wonderful memories I have of UW-SP."

Gerald Burr, '80, died May 13 at age 29 in a hospital in Champaign, Ill. Surviving are his widow, the former Barbara Joop, to whom he was married in 1983, his parents, one brother, three sisters, and his grandmothers. Services were at St. John's Catholic Church, Menasha, and burial was in the parish cemetery. He was employed as a medical technologist at Burnham Hospital, Champaign.

Randy A. Pekala, '79, died April 2 in a car accident in Gaithersburg, Md. He was 30. Services were held at the United Methodist Church, with burial in the Mauston City Cemetery. Survivors include his parents, five sisters and two brothers. He was director of food service at Saga Foods in Gaithersburg.

Ernest Albert Gluesing, '74, died July 21 at his home in Starkville, Miss. He was 46. After earning his master's degree from UW-SP, he had studied at Utah State University for a doctorate in wildlife ecology. For the past five years, he had taught in the wildlife and fisheries department of Mississippi State University. Services were at First United Methodist Church in Starkville. Survivors include his wife, the former Jean Spence, a daughter, his mother, a sister and a brother. Memorials may be made to the wildlife and fisheries department of MSU, in care of Dale Arner.

John Burger, '72, died March 22 in an industrial accident on an offshore oil rig. His family provided a contribution to the UW-SP Foundation in his name as a memorial.

Jim Arntsen, '67, a member of the Lakeland Union High School staff at Minocqua, died

May 27. He also had a master's degree in guidance and counseling from UW-Superior. Arntsen had taught American history, geography and world culture at Lakeland High for nearly 20 years. He also served as assistant football coach for many years. A scholarship fund was established at the high school in his name.

Frieda (Melvin) Fraedrich, '61, of Wausau, died May 9 at age 79. She had been an elementary teacher at the Pershing School in the Town of Hewitt, at Hill Grove School in Wausau, at Stettin School and at Rib Mountain School until 1968 when she retired. In 1941, she was married to Leo H. Fraedrich, who died in 1973. Survivors include a daughter, a sister and two grandchildren. Services were at the Helke West Chapel, Wausau, and burial was in Westlawn Memorial Park.

Mary (Coridon) Wendlick, '60, died May 23 at Divine Savior Hospital in Portage. She was 67. A teacher in the rural schools of Columbia County for a total of 42 years, she attended summer sessions at UW-SP to earn a degree in special education, which she then taught in the Portage School System until her retirement in 1980. Services were at St. Mary's Catholic Church, Portage, and burial was in the parish cemetery. She is survived by her twin brother, two sisters, several nieces and nephews. Her husband, Henry J. Wendlick, died in 1984.

Evelyn (Smyth) Lientz, '60, died Jan. 17, 1985 in Orofino, Idaho. She was a seventh grade mathematics teacher at Orofino Junior High School.

Duane R. Riedel, '59, Neillsville, died March 31 at St. Joseph's Hospital Hospice Care Unit, Marshfield. He was 54. Services were at United Church of Christ, Colby, and burial was in Colby Memorial Cemetery. After receiving a master's degree in school administration from UW-Superior, he taught in Westboro, Greenwood, Eaton Center and at Pleasant Hills in Abbotsford. He went to Neillsville as teacher-principal from 1955 to 1959, then moved to Marshfield to serve as elementary supervisor until 1973. He then returned to Neillsville, where he was elementary school principal until his death. Surviving are his wife, the former Marlys M. Mandel, to whom he was married in 1962, one son, his parents, and a brother.

Agnes (Smudde) Kesler, '59, died May 14 at St. Joseph's Hospital Hospice Care Unit, Marshfield. She enrolled in the Stevens Point Normal school in 1925 and later returned to receive a bachelor's degree. She had taught in Colby before her marriage to Harry M. Kesler in 1926. The couple moved to Marshfield, where they founded Kesler Kirby Sales, which they operated until his death in 1971. A volunteer at Columbus High School, she assisted in founding the Sacred Heart Girl Scouts. She is survived by two sons, six daughters, 27 grandchildren and 15 great-grandchildren. Services were at Sacred Heart Catholic Church and burial was in Gate of Heaven Cemetery, both in Marshfield. Memorials may be given in her name to St. Joseph's Hospital Hospice Care Unit.

Fae (Ellinger) Butler, '57, died Feb. 15 at St. John's Lutheran Home in Billings, Mont. She was 50. She had served as a home agent for Richland County before moving to Montana after her marriage to the late George Butler in 1957.

Edward Fromm, '09, died June 19 at his home in Hamburg at age 96. He was among the recipients of the first Distinguished Alumnus awards presented at UW-SP in 1969. With his three brothers, he had pioneered the fur breeding and ginseng farming enterprises in Marathon County. The story of the rise of the four young farm boys, whose dream changed the trends of world fashion and brought a new farm industry to the state was the subject of a book, "Bright Silver," written by Kathrene Pinkerton in 1947. When they began their venture, Edward was 11 years old and his brothers were 7, 9 and 13. To finance their silver fox breeding plans, the boys dug wild ginseng which then sold for $400 an ounce. Their business was very successful until 1924 when disease caused major losses at the farms. Fromm Laboratories in Thiensville was established and for the next 20 years Dr. Robert C. Green, a bacteriologist, conducted research in viral diseases, which led to cures for encephalitis and distemper. Edward was as the president of the Fromm brothers' subsidiary companies until 1964 and retired as chairman of the board and president of Fromm Brothers, Inc. in 1980 at age 90. He was also active in civic affairs, serving as chairman of the Merrill School Board, president of the Marathon County Library Board, member of the Board of Curators of the State Historical Society and co-founder of the Marathon County Historical Society. His wife, Alice Frederick, to whom he was married in 1919, preceded him in death.

Mrs. Butler was employed as a nutritionist for St. John's. Survivors include a son, two daughters and two grandchildren. Memorial services were held at Roseberry's Funeral Home in Friendship. Burial was in the Ennis Cemetery in Ennis, Mont.

Beverly (Ruegg) Wagner, '55, Ephraim, died Jan. 26, 1985 at St. Vincent Hospital, Green Bay, at age 52. Memorial services were at Calvary United Methodist Church. In addition to her husband, Russell L. Wagner, to whom she was married in 1953, survivors are two daughters, a sister, two foster sisters, and a foster brother. For the past 16 years, she and her husband operated the Bread Box Bakery in Ephraim. Before moving to Ephraim, she was employed as a home economist for 11 years at the Wisconsin Electric Power Co., Whitewater.

Marie (Cartmill) Hencik, '54, died July 27 at the Portage County Home. She was 71. After receiving a master's degree in remedial reading from UW-Madison, she taught in rural schools and at McDill for 36 years. Services were held at St. Bronislava's Catholic Church, Stevens Point, with burial in the parish cemetery. She is survived by her second husband, Anton Hencik, to whom she was married in 1967.

Oscar M. Censky, '51, died of cancer at his Thiensville residence Jan. 16 at age 66. Services were held at St. Cecelia Catholic Church, Thiensville, and burial was in Resurrection Cemetery, Mequon. He was married to the former Marybeth Hornig of Stevens Point. A veterans' coordinator at Marquette University, he also served as superintendent of Ozaukee County and Fredonia schools. In addition to his wife, other survivors include four daughters and two sons.

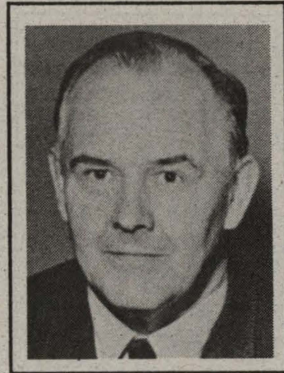

James E. Formella, '50, Burlington, Iowa, died Aug. 4 while vacationing in New Hampshire. A former Stevens Point resident, he was 63. Services were held at St. Paul's Catholic Church in Burlington. Burial was in Sacred Heart Cemetery. A Federal Aviation Administration employee, he formerly served in the U.S. Army Air Corps. He was married in 1946 to Bernice Zinda, who survives. Other survivors include five daughters, three sons and 11 grandchildren.

Loretta (Fenelon) Richardson, '49, died Feb. 9 at Hillside Hospital in Beaver Dam at age 57. An educator in Racine, Fond du Lac and South Milwaukee schools, she was married in 1954 to Martin Richardson who survives. Other survivors include two daughters and a son. Services were at the Murray Funeral Home and burial was in St. Peter's Cemetery, Beaver Dam.

Esther M. (Kushman) Bessert, '38, died March 29 at age 67. She taught in the Appleton School System for many years and was a member of the Retired Teachers' Association. Survivors include a brother and a sister. She was preceded in death by her husband, Norman, in 1976. Services were at the First English Lutheran Church and burial was in Highland Memorial Park.

C. Irene Floeter, '38, Fond du Lac, died May 26 in St. Agnes Hospital, Oshkosh, at age 74. Services were held at Our Savior Lutheran Church, Fond du Lac. Burial was in Westfield East Cemetery, Westfield. She earned her master's degree in education at UW-Madison and became a reading specialist in the model classrooms of the County Normal School in Phillips and in Kaukauna. She also taught in Cudahy, Kenosha and Monroe and in several other states. Before retiring, Miss Floeter served as county superintendent of the Green County Schools. Three brothers and a sister are among her closest relatives.

Chester A. Rinka, '38, Shorewood, died June 22 at age 69. A member of the championship basketball team in 1935-36 and captain of the 1937-38 team, he was inducted into the UW-SP Athletic Hall of Fame in 1970. After service in World War II as a captain in the Marine Corps, he received his master's degree from UW-Milwaukee and joined the staff of Shorewood High School where he taught history for 32 years until his retirement in 1977. He also coached the baseball team and assisted with coaching the basketball and football teams. Services were held at Holy Family Church, Whitefish Bay, and burial was in Holy Cross Cemetery. His wife Almira Helke, to whom he was married in 1944, survives. Others survivors include three daughters, two sons and seven grandsons.

Ellen (Olson) Johnson, '37, died Jan. 5 at Memorial Hospital in Neillsville. Services were at Calvary Lutheran Church and burial was in Neillsville Cemetery. Her teaching career spanned 49 years, during which she earned a master's degree from UW-Eau Claire. She was married in 1928 to Maynard Johnson who died in 1930. Survivors include four sisters and three brothers.

Ida (Evanson) Blacketer, '34, Kenosha, died June 23 at her home. She was 71. She was a teacher in schools in Michigan, Colorado and Kansas before moving to Kenosha, where she taught at the Jane Vernon School until her retirement in 1979. She was preceded in death by her husband, Charles W. Blacketer, to whom she was married in 1948. A nephew is her closest relative.

Gerald Olson, '33, died May 6 at his home in Oshkosh. He was 77. Services were at the First United Methodist Church of Oshkosh and burial was in Lakeview Memorial Park. He was married in 1934 to the former Dorothy Kuhl who survives. Other survivors include two daughters, seven grandchildren and six great-grandchildren. He had earned his master's degree at UW-Madison and had taught in several northern Wisconsin schools before becoming the principal of Lincoln County Normal School in 1947. From 1952 until 1957 he was director of Trees for Tomorrow at Eagle River. Then he joined the faculty of UW-Oshkosh as director of registration and assistant professor of education and psychology.

Louise (Nelson) Wood, '33, died Dec. 27, 1985 at her home in Waupaca at age 70. A teacher in rural Waupaca schools for a number of years, she also was a caseworker for the Waupaca County Department of Social Services. She is survived by her husband, George Wood, to whom she was married in 1940, a daughter, two sons and five grandchildren. Services were held at the Holly Funeral Home, Waupaca.

Dorothy (Georgas) Sersch, '29, died April 1 at St. Joseph's Hospital in Marshfield at age 75. She had taught in Draper, Brighton and Drake and at Cameron and McMillan schools in the Marshfield area. In 1932, she was married to Arnold Sersch who died in 1963. From 1955 to 1975, Mrs. Sersch worked at St. Joseph's Hospital and Marshfield Convalescent Center. Services were at St. Peter's Lutheran Church, Town of McMillan, and burial was in the church cemetery. Survivors include six daughters, four sons, one sister, one brother, 29 grandchildren, six step-grandchildren, and seven great-grandchildren.

Marjorie (Foote) Lewis, '28, died Jan. 27 at age 79. Services were held at Krause Funeral Home in Milwaukee. Burial was in Pinelawn Cemetery. Survivors include a daughter, two grandchildren, and two sisters.

Helen Frank, '25, died Jan. 3 at St. Michael's Hospital, Stevens Point. She was 82. After teaching in elementary schools in Almond and Lena, she became principal of the old Jackson School in Stevens Point and later taught first grade at the former Lincoln School until retiring. Services were at St. Joseph's Catholic Church, Stevens Point, with burial in the parish cemetery. She is survived by three sisters and two brothers.

Edith Anderson, '25, died March 17 at St. Mary's Hospital, Rhinelander, at age 82. She had taught school for four years, then worked at Daniels Manufacturing as a department head until her retirement. She is survived by one brother and several cousins. Services were at Carlson Funeral Home and burial was in Forest Home Cemetery, Rhinelander.

Smith C. Davis, '25, died May 13, 1985, in the Marshfield hospital at age 81. (His name was inadvertently transposed in the last issue of the Alumni Newspaper.) He is survived by his second wife, the former Norma Stoiber, and two daughters. Services were held at the Rembs/Kundinger Funeral Chapel in Marshfield and burial was in Forest Hill Cemetery, Glen Ellyn, Ill.

Esther (Gavin) Hegg, '23, died March 31 in Fair Oaks, Calif., at age 82. Services were at St. Stephen's Catholic Church in Stevens Point, with burial in the parish cemetery. She had taught primary education in Marshfield, Fond du Lac and Milwaukee. Her husband, Erling Hegg, '23, to whom she was married in 1927, survives. Other survivors include two sons, one daughter, six grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. A memorial scholarship fund has been established in her name with the UW-SP Foundation. It will support awards to primary education majors in the College of Professional Studies.

Lucile Daley Chady, '20, Canoga Park, Calif., died June 1, 1985, at the age of 91. She remained active in church and community affairs until the fall before her death. Survivors include a brother and sister, five children, 22 grandchildren and 26 great-grandchildren. Burial was at Elba, Wis.

George W. Carlson, '18, West Allis, died March 16 at the Medford Nursing Home. He was 86. Receiving a master's degree from Northwestern University, he taught at schools in Butternut, Milwaukee and West Allis. Later he joined the staff of Nathan Hale High School, serving as principal until his retirement in 1959. His closest survivors are two brothers and five sisters. Services were at the Rux Funeral Home, Spencer, and burial was in Trinity Lutheran Cemetery, Crivitz.

Margaret (Rowe) Jackson, '14, died Feb. 9 at Beverly Terrace Nursing Home in Watertown at age 93. She was buried in Jacksonville, Fla., beside her late husband, Erle J. Jackson. A grade school teacher in Columbus for two years, she moved to Portage in 1929 with her husband, who was affiliated with the City Bank. Survivors include three daughters, three granddaughters, three grandsons, and one great-granddaughter.

Belva (Foxen) Lloyd, '13, died July 14 at the Homme Home in Wittenberg. She was 95. Services were held at the Trinity Lutheran Church, Stevens Point. She had taught school in Hancock, Two Rivers, Oak Park, Ill., and Thief River Falls, Minn. In 1929 she was married to Eli B. Lloyd, who died in 1938. She then moved to Stevens Point, where she worked at the public library for 21 years. She is survived by one sister.

Stella (Murat) Copps, '10, died Feb. 17 in Dallas, Texas, at age 97. The daughter of the late John Murat, a longtime Portage County judge, she taught elementary school in Menomonie and Stevens Point after earning her degree from Stevens Point Normal School. She was married to Dr. Lyman A. Copps during World War II. After the war, the couple settled in Marshfield, where Dr. Copps practiced ophthalmology and served as president of the Marshfield Clinic until his death in 1950. Services were held at Boston Funeral Home and burial was in Forest Cemetery in Stevens Point. Survivors include two sons and seven grandchildren.

Faculty Obituaries

Eugene Brodhagen
1917-1986

Professor Emeritus Eugene Brodhagen, longtime athletic coach and chair of the physical education department at UW-SP, died unexpectedly June 13 at his cottage at Seven Island Lake near Tomahawk. He was 68.

His funeral was held at St. Paul Lutheran Church in Stevens Point and burial was in Rose Lawn Memorial Park in Madison. Memorials for the Brodhagen Scholarship Fund are handled by the UW-SP Foundation in Old Main.

Brodhagen retired from the university in 1983 after serving 27 years as a faculty member.

His contributions to UW-SP included service as department chair for 16 years during which time the physical education teaching staff grew from 3 to 33 members.

He was instrumental in the development of one of the former State College System's first majors in men's and women's physical education; helped establish Pointer programs in competitive gymnastics, swimming and ice hockey; and coached track, wrestling and defensive football.

Based on achievements in his youth, he was a natural to become one of the state's leaders in the advancement of physical education. As a farm boy attending Shawano High School, he played in the first football game he ever witnessed.

Born Oct. 28, 1917, in Bonduel, he was graduated from Shawano High School in 1935 and went on to the UW-Madison where he was one of the powerhouses in some of the finest Badger teams that ever competed in the Big 10.

During World War II, he was commissioned as an ensign in the U. S. Navy and served on the USS West Virginia and on the lead ship during the surrender of Tokyo Bay. He remained in the Naval Reserve, retiring in 1976 as a lieutenant naval commander.

He began his teaching career in 1939 at Grinnell College in Iowa as an assistant football coach, then was away from the classroom while doing graduate study at UW-Madison and while in the military. He later taught and coached football at Phillips High School and was a faculty member, football coach and founder of the wrestling program at Winona State University in Minnesota from 1946 until 1956 when he came to UW-SP.

Brodhagen was a member of St. Paul Lutheran Church, Kiwanis Club, director and past chairman of the Portage County Red Cross, Little League baseball coach and a high school athletic official more than 50 years. He was inducted into the UW-SP Athletic Hall of Fame.

His survivors are his wife, the former Jennie Dahle whom he married in Madison in 1941, one son, Dr. Mark, Green Bay; two grandchildren; two sisters, Doris Brodhagen, Bonduel, and Mrs. Elvira Russler, Shorewood; and one brother, William, Stoughton. ■

James Jensen
1920-1986

James E. Jensen, 65, an economics professor and former department chair at UW-SP, was dead on arrival April 12 at St. Michael's Hospital after being stricken while walking near his home.

A memorial service was held April 18 in the Michelsen Concert Hall of the UW-SP Fine Arts Center. The body was cremated. A memorial was established with the UW-SP Foundation to support library purchases and campus activities related to his scholarly interests.

Jensen was the senior faculty member in the Division of Business and Economics, having served the past 28 years. He headed the unit from 1960 to 1975, when it was known as the Department of Economics.

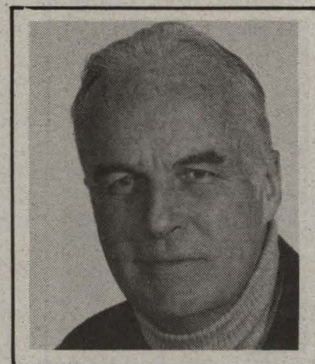

He was a specialist in petroleum economics, taxation, money and banking and had written articles for the Economic Review, Journal of Political Economy and National Tax Journal.

Jensen began his career as an economist in 1952 after earning three degrees including the doctorate from UW-Madison. He served on the faculty of Pacific Lutheran University in Tacoma, Wash., and of Drake University in Des Moines, Iowa, before having a two-year stint as an oil economist for the Federal Reserve Bank in Dallas. He then joined to the faculty at Stevens Point, in 1958.

Jensen was born June 1, 1920, in Racine, son of Martin and Amanda Jensen. He moved with his family to Kenosha when he was a small child and grew up there. He married Irma Roman at Madison on Sept. 2, 1950.

In addition to his wife, he is survived by one daughter, Mrs. David (Irene) DeGrave of Green Bay; two sisters, Mrs. George (Lois) Koscak, Kenosha, and Mrs. Clyde (Marjorie) Keeley, Muncie, Ind. One sister has died. ■

William Hanford
1920-1986

William J. Hanford, retired dean of UW-SP's College of Fine Arts, died Aug. 31 at St. Michael's Hospital after suffering a heart attack at his home at 3708 Heffron St. He was 66.

The funeral was Sept. 4 at St. Stephen Catholic Church in Stevens Point and burial followed in Guardian Angel Cemetery. Memorials were established for the UW-SP Foundation's student scholarship program and the American Heart Association.

Hanford served UW-SP for 18 years, teaching communication and art history courses on a part-time basis from 1984 until early in 1986 when he became too ill to continue his classroom assignments.

He joined the faculty in 1968 as a dean and served in that capacity for 14 years. He helped arrange the groundbreaking ceremony for the Fine Arts Center, having dynamite used to turn over the first parcel of soil as a symbol of the cultural explosion that was expected to take place as the result of the construction.

He worked to develop new liaisons between the university and its constituencies in the fields of theater, music, art and dance. He also served as an appointee of Governor Lucey on the Wisconsin Arts Board.

Before coming to Stevens Point in 1968, he spent three years directing the establishment of the Delaware State Educational TV Network in Dover.

His career in education began in 1948 as a faculty member at St. Gabriel's College in Des Moines, and he later served at Our Lady of Sorrows College in Sierra Madre, Calif., Cranbrook School for Boys in Bloomfield Hills, Mich., Oakland University in Rochester, Mich., and at Wayne State University in Detroit.

During the 1950s, he held several different sales and public relations positions in the Detroit and Los Angeles areas.

Hanford was born March 5, 1920 in Chicago and received his higher education at the University of Notre Dame in Indiana, Immaculate Conception House of Studies in Chicago, Sacred Heart House of Studies in Louisville, Ky., and Wayne State where he was awarded a Ph. D. in radio and television. His doctoral dissertation was on a rhetorical study of the radio and TV speaking of Bishop Fulton John Sheen.

He married Vera Perry in Buffalo, N. Y., in 1957. After her death in 1982, he married Tracy Spoerl in Stevens Point. She survives in addition to 12 stepchildren and 10 grandchildren. ■

Doris Eppe
1902-1986

Mrs. Arol (Doris) Eppe, 83, a retired teacher, died Sept. 4 at her home at 606B Tamarack St., Stevens Point after having been ill for six months.

A memorial service was held Sept. 7 at St. Paul United Methodist Church. Following cremation, the ashes were buried in Elmwood Cemetery in Antigo.

Memorials were established for the Methodist Church and the PEO Sisterhood Scholarship Fund.

The former Doris Maxson was born Nov. 7, 1902, in Stratford, daughter of Edward and Hattie Maxson. She moved with her family to Antigo when she was 13 years old. As a young woman, she worked for her father there in his automobile dealership.

A graduate of Lawrence University in Appleton, she logged nearly 20 years in the teaching profession beginning in about 1925. She served at Wausau High School three years and Antigo High School seven years. She spent nine years teaching math at P.J. Jacobs High School and the University of Wisconsin-Stevens Point.

She and her teaching colleague, Arol Eppe, were married at Antigo on Aug. 12, 1936. They observed their golden wedding anniversary three weeks before her death. The couple lived in Antigo until 1941 when he took a position at Beloit High School, then moved to Stevens Point in 1945 when he joined the UW-SP faculty. He served 27 years as a biology professor at the university.

After his retirement in 1972, the Epples spent summers at a cottage overlooking Spring Lake near Minocqua and winters in Rockport, Texas. They returned to Stevens Point in 1980.

Mrs. Eppe was a member of St. Paul's United Methodist Church and the PEO Sisterhood. She was a former member of the UW-SP Faculty Wives, American Association of University Women and of the Wisconsin Society for Ornithology. She and her husband served a time as faculty advisers for the UW-SP Wesley Foundation, an organization for Methodist students.

Survivors in addition to her husband are two daughters, Mrs. Burton (Margaret) Erickson, suburban Dayton, Ohio, and Mrs. Gary (Barbara) Ertl, Janesville; four grandchildren and one brother, Lester Maxson, San Jose, Calif. One brother has died. ■

Bud Steiner
1938-1986

Oliver (Bud) Steiner, 47, was killed June 22 in Canada while on a bicycle trip to raise money for student scholarships at UW-SP.

Steiner had held management and administrative posts for the university for 21 years.

A memorial service was held in Michelsen Concert Hall of the Fine Arts Center on June 25. The body was cremated.

A memorial was established with the UW-SP Foundation for student scholarships.

Steiner and a student companion had left in early June to begin a transcontinental Canadian bike trip intended to raise $50,000 for the UW-SP scholarship fund. They had completed about 1,500-miles of the 5,000-mile itinerary when an 18-year-old man struck Steiner with his car near Portage La Prairie, Manitoba. They had received about $13,000 in contributions and pledges by the time of the accident.

Steiner enrolled for classes at UW-SP in 1963 and shortly thereafter also became a part-time manager in what was then known as the Student Union.

After graduation in 1965, he was appointed to the faculty to serve as recreation manager. He later served as assistant director of University Centers, then in several different administrative positions in the Student Life Division. During the past four years, he held the title of executive director of student life administration and assistant to the assistant chancellor for business affairs.

He had been active as a faculty adviser to several present and past organizations including Sigma Tau Gamma social fraternity with which he had an involvement throughout his career here, the Off-Campus Student Association, Russian Club, Freewheelers Bicycle Club and the Student Government Association.

He was the incumbent director of the North Central Region for Sigma Tau Gamma and in 1984 was cited as the recipient of the national award to the outstanding adviser of the year.

He also was a two-time winner of the UW-SP Campus Leaders Award as an advocate for student organizations.

Steiner participated in national organizations for college union, housing, auxiliary service and business personnel and held offices in several of them.

Born in Park Falls on July 12, 1938, he was graduated from high school there with the class of 1956. He attended St. Norbert College in West De Pere for two years and then served as the assistant to the purchasing director of a Chicago firm until he entered the U.S. Army. After a two-year stint in uniform, he enrolled at UW-SP and received his degree in mathematics. He did graduate study at the University of Iowa.

His survivors include his mother, Mrs. Emma Turney of Park Falls; his father, Oliver Steiner of Easton, Ill.; and a sister, Mrs. Ron (Cookie) Gilbertson of Park Falls. ■

Gifts

Firm donates $4,000

Officers of the DuBay Cranberry Co. near Dancy have announced plans to provide about $4,000 in scholarships each year to incoming freshmen at UW-SP.

The awards will be given in memory of the four Wisconsin Rapids men who established the firm about 40 years ago: Alfred E. Bark, Ralph Cole, Theodore W. Olson and Roy Potter.

President Melvin O. Potter said his company's founders had high regard for UW-SP and the officers of today are "impressed with the influence the institution has in the betterment of our entire region. The scholarships will serve as our endorsements of the positive impacts the university is having on the lives of area people."

Annual recipients will be chosen from the pool of students who apply to UW-SP as freshmen ranking in the top 10 percent of their high school graduating classes. ■

Lodge establishes scholarship

The Green Bay Moose Lodge Rod and Gun Club has pledged a $500 scholarship each year for an outstanding graduate student majoring in wildlife management at UW-SP.

The first award will be given in the spring at the annual recognition dinner sponsored by the UW-SP College of Natural Resources.

Dale Isaacson, club president, said the Jack Massopust Memorial Scholarship was established in honor of a UW-SP alumnus with whom members of the organization were not acquainted.

After Massopust died December 1985 of a brain tumor, the UW-SP News Service released a feature story about the work the 35-year-old graduate had done researching the reproductive biology and denning behavior of the state's black bears.

"We read a story about him and were impressed that Jack had dedicated so much of his life to the out-of-doors," said Isaacson. It didn't matter, he added, that club members had not known Massopust. ■

Glodoskis memorialize son

Albin and Lucille Glodoski of Stevens Point have established a $5,000 endowment fund in the UW-SP Foundation to provide financial support for music students.

The Charles Glodoski Memorial Music fund will honor the memory of their son, who died of cancer Aug. 10, 1985 at age 37. At rates currently received by the foundation for its investments, the fund will generate between $400 and $500 annually for distribution.

Recipients may be either new freshmen or continuing students with a "love of music."

Charles attended UW-SP in the mid 1960s and later graduated from UW-Madison. He had a lifelong interest in music and as a young man played the organ at St. Joseph's Church in Stevens Point. ■

Plis award created

A $200 scholarship will be given annually to a natural resources student at UW-SP in memory of a state conservation warden and manager who died last winter in his late 80s.

The first recipient of the Stanley J. Plis Memorial Award will be announced next year. Mr. Plis' widow, Ione, of Spring Hill, Fla., has endowed $2,000 in the UW-SP Foundation to finance the scholarships. She also has purchased a plaque that will be permanently displayed in the College of Natural Resources Building on campus to list the names of all future winners.

Mr. Plis retired in 1963 after a long career as a trapper, coast-guardsmen, game warden and finally manager of the game management station at Meadow Valley near Babcock. ■

Specht donates collections

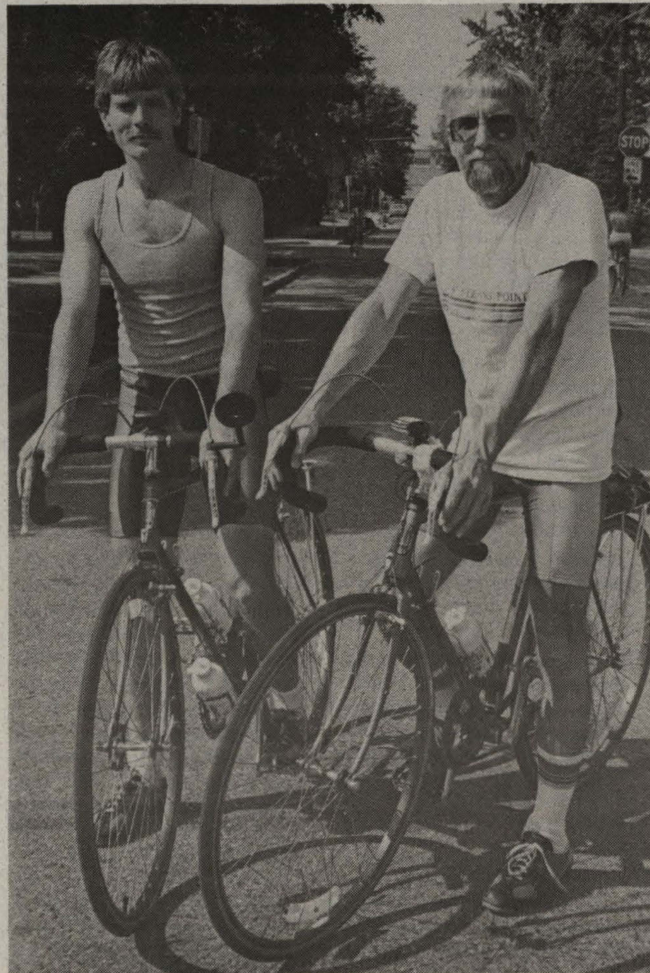

Professor Emeritus Raymond Specht has donated rare railroad materials, photographs and brass rubbings from England for display and scholarly research at UW-SP.

Specht, a faculty member and administrator on campus from 1947 until his retirement in 1981, has made numerous donations of old documents to the university, particularly railroad materials he collected while gathering information about the state's transportation history for his own publications.

A rare set of Wisconsin Railroad Commission proceedings and old railroad photographs are part of his recent gift. So are five framed brass rubbings that were made from memorials in old churches in London about 15 years ago when he and his wife, Ellen, were there as leaders of a UW-SP semester abroad program.

Photographs that Specht took of city and campus development are included. ■

Steiner's mother pledges $25,000

Bud Steiner and student Bob Booth posed for a picture a few days before they left on their bike trip. Booth was not hurt in the accident that killed Steiner.

The mother of a UW-SP administrator who was killed June 22 while on a transcontinental bike trip to raise scholarship funds for his school has pledged nearly $25,000 to her son's cause.

Oliver (Bud) Steiner had hoped to raise $50,000 on his trip and had received about $13,000 by the time he was struck by a car near Portage La Prairie, Manitoba.

American Food Management (AFM), the company which has the contract to operate UW-SP's food service, had donated $10,000 to the fund and another $2,500 was added to it by friends after his death.

His mother, Mrs. Emma Turney of Park Falls, has informed the UW-SP Foundation that she would like her son's goal reached and has said she would match what already has been contributed and would match another $9,700. That would bring the total value of the endowment to $50,000.

An announcement was made at Steiner's memorial service that the scholarships given from the fund will be named in his memory. Since the service, it has been determined how the endowment will be administered.

—Half of the earnings will go to support one or two scholarships for members of Sigma Tau Gamma social fraternity of which Steiner was a longtime adviser.

—The other half of the earnings will support one or two scholarships to students in the area of health promotion/wellness.

All candidates for the scholarships must have sophomore, junior or senior class status with cumulative grade point averages of 3.0.

If the $50,000 goal can be reached, there will be about $4,000 per year, at current rates, for distribution. Contributions may be made to the Bud Steiner Scholarship Fund in care of the UW-SP Foundation in Old Main Building. ■

Hanford art award set

A $1,500 fund has been established at UW-SP to support an annual scholarship for a junior or senior art student.

The award will be made in the name of the late William J. Hanford, who served the university from 1968 until his retirement earlier this year. He was dean of the College of Fine Arts during most of his career at UW-SP.

Members of his family and friends contributed to the fund, and additional donations will be accepted at the foundation office in Main Building. ■

Polish rector to give prize

The rector of Jagiellonian University in Krakow, Poland, has established a scholarship that will cover costs of room, board and fees for a student who is enrolled there each fall representing UW-SP.

Helen Corneli, director of International Programs at UW-SP who assisted the Jagiellonian's chief administrator in setting up the award and monetary prize while visiting Poland last spring, said the scholarship will be worth nearly $700.

The recipient will be chosen by a vote of various academicians who are involved with the contingent of UW-SP students who spend each fall semester in Krakow. The vote will be taken at the conclusion of the semester. The criteria will be "excellence of academic performance while in Poland, and evidence of interest and motivation in learning about Poland and its culture and history." ■

Wildlife display started

About 100 birds, fish and mammals that were collected and mounted since the 1920s by the late Marion Skibicki have been donated to UW-SP for display and instructional purposes.

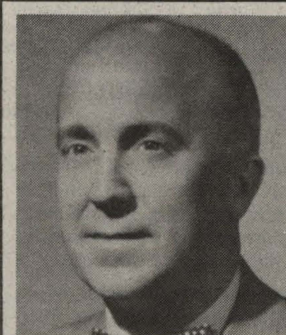

Some of the mammals are invaluable to UW-SP because the likes of them previously were not included in the collection maintained by the College of Natural Resources, according to wildlife professor Kirk Beattie. They include beaver, mink, badger, groundhog, coyote, red fox and gray squirrel.

Most of the specimens will be displayed at Treehaven, UW-SP's natural resources summer camp and field station near Tomahawk. They will be used there for decorative and teaching purposes.

However, part of the collection will be placed in one of the lodges at the Boston School Forest in Plover. Beattie said about 30 pelts of fur bearing animals were included in the gift, and are prized by wildlife professors because they are rare and useful for teaching purposes.

Ronald Skibicki, Stevens Point, and his brother, Norbert, Milwaukee, donated the collection to the university after their father died in September at age 86.

Marion Skibicki, a retired Soo Line Railroad employee, who lived at 232 Union St., Stevens Point, had been planning for some time to give his collection to UW-SP. ■

Raymond Gotham

Minority students will receive Gotham awards

UW-SP has received a $10,000 gift to use in supporting scholarships for minority students.

Hazel Bleck Gotham, Park Ridge, an alumna of UW-SP and widow of a longtime campus administrator, established an endowment in the UW-SP Foundation as a memorial to her late husband.

Interest from the Raymond Gotham Minority Student Scholarship Fund will finance awards for two students each year.

She said her husband counseled minority students and helped some of them advance to higher education while he served during the 1930s and early 1940s as assistant superintendent of schools at Beloit. The community has a large black population.

After coming to UW-SP in 1946, Gotham had broad administrative responsibilities. In addition to holding the rank of professor, he was the director of teacher education, placement of graduates, alumni services, extended services and recruitment. He also headed the Campus Laboratory School. Some of the university's first minority students enrolled on campus at his invitation.

He retired in 1971, and after his death in December of 1974, Mrs. Gotham and his fellow members of Stevens Point's Masonic Lodge established a scholarship fund in his name for college-bound students from this area.

She said she had been preparing for a long time to also do something in his name for underprivileged collegians. She was prompted to proceed with the project after reading about recent recognition given to the UW-SP Educational Opportunity Program by professional organizations and state education leaders. ■

UW-SP receives souvenirs

Mrs. Carolyn Rolfson Sargis, who collected souvenir items related to UW-SP during her 44-year career on campus, has donated the items to the school's historical collection.

In addition to photographs, her gifts included a sterling silver spoon with the likeness of Old Main in the shell; a dish in the form of a cap with a painting of the building on the inside of the crown; and a leaf-shaped dish also having a picture of the building in the center section.

A painting of a scene in the Cascade Mountains by the late Professor Norman Knutzen also was part of the donation.

Mrs. Sargis retired in 1962 as the school's business manager. ■

Marriages

Robert A. Penn, '86, to Amy I. Milanowski. She worked as a commercial lines technician at Neale Insurance Agency prior to their marriage. He is an actuary at Nationwide Insurance, Columbus, Ohio. They live in Dublin, Ohio.

Fran Mesa, '85, to John Triebe, '82. They live at 830 Westmoreland, Apt. 8, Vernon Hills, Ill. Glossy

Mary C. Kelley, '85, to Daniel K. Tyler, III, '83. He is employed at Northwest Orient Airlines in Minneapolis. They live in Eagan, Minn.

Carrie L. Claus, '85, to Robert J. Brown, '83. They are employed as managers at General Nutrition Center and live in New Orleans.

Lynn M. Goldberg, '85, to Mark Crass, '84. They reside at 1712 Meadow Brook, Apt. 202, Manitowoc.

Mary A. Sierra, '85, to John C. Spicuzza. He is employed by Baxter-Travenol, Morton Grove, Ill.

Patrick Hennes, '85, to Beth A. Tiets. She works at Bellin Memorial Hospital, Green Bay, and he is employed at Wagner Construction in Neenah.

Thomas Graff, '85, to Cheryl Meyer. She is a business major at Lakeland College. He is a specification controller in the engine division of Kohler Co. They live at 628 End Court, Sheboygan.

Patricia L. Gillis, '85, to Kristopher W. Henning, '82. She is a first and second grade teacher at St. Mary's School, Greenwood. He is a territory manager for Kimberly Clark Corp.

Diane Kluz, '85, to Gregg Henning, '84. She is a delicatessen manager at SuperAmerica and he is a mortgage loan account representative at First Financial Savings and Loan in Stevens Point.

Jane L. Stark, '85, to Brian R. Schumaker. She works at the Kinder Care Learning Center, Green Bay, and he is employed at Measurex Systems, Inc.

Denis Burgess, '85, to Lisa Seim. He is teaching at Merrill High School. They live at N2772 Pine Grove Road, Merrill.

Tanya A. Salvin, '85, to James M. Piotrowski. She works at the East Side IGA Foodliner and he is employed at Consolidated Papers, Stevens Point Division.

First Lt. Barton G. Smith, '85, to Karen L. Stepaniak. He is with the engineering corps of the U.S. Army. She earned an associate degree in dental hygiene from North Central Technical Institute. They live in Alexandria, Va.

Thomas J. Beyer, '85, to Joan M. Pliska. He is employed at Keck Furniture Store as a salesperson and purchasing agent. She was formerly employed as a bookkeeper at Emmons-Napp Office Products, Inc. They reside at 1016 S. Eighth St., Watertown.

Debra M. Jackson, '85, to Michael R. Lowney. She is a secretary at Point Sporting Goods. He will graduate in mid-year from UW-SP, where he is employed as manager of the Student Employment Office on campus. They live in Stevens Point.

Paul C. Landowski, '85, to Jan A. Netzel. He is employed by Radian Corp., Austin, Texas, where they reside. She was employed by Gross Common Carriers, Stevens Point.

Robert J. Stubbe, '85, to Norma J. Wolf. She attended UW-SP. He is an actuary at Time Insurance Co., Milwaukee, where their address is 6666 N. 77th St.

Margie A. Miller, '85, (master's degree), to Randal S. Dorshorst. She is a speech-language pathologist in the Wisconsin Rapids School District. He is an automotive technician for Gleue Ford. They reside at 8286 County Trunk HH, Arpin.

Dan Lekie, '85, to Colleen Underwood. She had been employed with Phillips Plastics, Medford. He is a wildlife biologist. They live in Virginia.

Georgia C. Cabelka, '84, to Lyle Grimm. She is an administrative assistant in alumni relations at North Central Technical Institute, Wausau. He is employed as a major accounts representative at Emmons-Napp Office Supply Co., Inc., Stevens Point. They live at 805 Sturgeon Eddy Road, Wausau.

Brenda A. Schoenberger, '84, to Michael J. Gabb, '83. He is a salesman for Tombstone Pizza, Inc. They live at 2946 Cimarron Trail, Madison.

Lezlie M. Vander Loop, '84, to David Meehl. She is employed as a group manager for Gimbels Midwest, Appleton. He is engaged in farming.

David L. Stedman, '84, to Cheryl Bragg, '83. She is an elementary school teacher and he is the band instructor for the School District of Port Edwards. They live at 910 Park Court Lane, Port Edwards.

Janet Mettlach, '84, to Gary Pavloski. She is a teacher at Shawano High School. He is a student at UW-Green Bay. They reside in Shawano.

Marsha Romatowski, '84, to Michael Kowalski. She is a teacher at St. Paul's Catholic School, Mosinee. He is employed at Kolby & Kolby, Wausau. They live in Mosinee.

Penny L. Falk, '84, to Terry L. Fleischman. He is an electronic technician at Fox Valley Technical School in Appleton, where they reside.

Valorie J. Allen, '84, to Allen C. Gebel, '83. He is employed by Eron Co., Appleton.

George E. Yatso, Jr., '84, to Anita K. Bidwell. He is employed as an assistant manager at Spurgeon's Department Store, Effingham, Ill.

Kathleen A. Day, '84 (master's degree), to John D. Leaver. He is a teacher in Northampton, England.

Mary J. Jacobus, '84, to James P. Young. She is a coach at Antigo High School and works at Warehouse Sales. He is employed at Merit Gear. They live at 722 Lincoln St., Antigo.

Lauren M. Kaufman, '84, to Howard A. Knodle, '81. She is a speech pathologist at Cleveland General Hospital and he is self-employed in landscaping/consulting. Their address is 3603 Cypress, Cleveland, Ohio.

Ann M. Waldherr, '84, to Thomas J. Kiefer, '84. She is pursuing a master's degree in speech pathology at James Madison University in Harrisonburg, Va. He is an engineer at Westvaco Corp. in Covington, Va., where they reside.

Victoria A. Cyrak, '84, to Ronald R. Mezich, '84. She was assistant manager of Amlings Flowerland, Bloomingdale, Ill., prior to their marriage. He is a naturalist at The Conservatory, Inc., Naples, Fla., where their address is 401 Shell Island Road.

Brian Thiel, '84, to Debra TerMaat. He is employed in the maintenance department at Larson Canning Co., Waldo. She is a secretary for Dave's Standard Service in Sheboygan and Sheboygan Falls. They live at 221 Buffalo, Apt. 105, Sheboygan Falls.

Denise L. Kwiatkowski, '84, to Thomas J. Junk. She is employed by the State Laboratory of Hygiene. He is employed by Telephone and Data Systems Computer Services in Madison, where they reside.

Theresa L. Moder, '84, to Mark A. Johnson, '81. She is a dietitian and he is an arborist in Milwaukee.

Joan Slowinski, '84, to Robert Fieber. She teaches first grade at St. Rita's Catholic School, Milwaukee. He is department manager at Spheeris Sporting Goods. They reside at 8854 W. Fairmount, Apt. 104, Milwaukee.

Jay S. Anderson, '84, to Lori A. Kluck. She is a claims processor for Sentry Insurance. He is marketing manager for Steel King Industries. They live at 2818 Lindbergh Ave., Stevens Point.

Jody J. Voight, '84, to Julie M. Ziemke, '83. She was a cancer research technician at Abbott Laboratories in North Chicago. He is a supervisor at Dairyman's Co-op, Tulare, Calif.

Janet Wolf, '84, to Christopher Fendos. She is a teacher for Central City Catholic School System. He is a graduate student at UW-Milwaukee and is employed at Milwaukee County Zoo. They live at 7500 N. Northridge Lakes Blvd., Milwaukee.

Stephen D. Hoffman, '83, to Carol Gustavson, '83. They live at 10185 W. Coldspring, Greenfield.

Joan F. Mountin, '83, to Tom Heinrich. She recently received a master's degree in biology. He is employed by the New York Department of Environmental Conservation as a fish and wildlife technician. They reside at 726 Grant Ave., Dunkirk, N. Y.

Sharon Aiken, '83, to David B. Bruha, '82. She is an art teacher and junior high school cheerleading and yearbook adviser for the Wisconsin Rapids Public Schools. He is employed at Sentry Insurance. They live at 341 1/2 12th Ave. N, Wisconsin Rapids.

Tamara J. Peterson, '83, to David Morton. She is a fire claims representative for State Farm Insurance and he is a sales supervisor. They reside at 121 Parkside Court, Apt. B, Green Bay.

Janet M. Moebius, '83, to Thomas A. Markus. She is employed by Reliance Universal, Inc., Zion, Ill. He is attending Dr. William M. Scholl College of Podiatric Medicine, Chicago. They reside in Zion.

Dina L. Koenigs, '83, to George B. Fox. He is employed with Milwaukee Wire Products. She is a former music teacher for the Catholic Elementary Schools of Fond du Lac. They live in Menomonee Falls.

Darla S. Ott, '83, to Scott A. Dickow. She is employed as manager of Elaine Powers Figure Salon and he is employed by Dickow-Cyzak Tile Co. They reside in Kenosha.

Ann M. Fermanich, '83, to Steven J. Van Handel. She is employed at Prange's in Appleton. He works at Oshkosh Truck Corp., Oshkosh.

Professional Studies Building houses programs in communicative disorders, home economics, education and history.

Christine M. Harter, '83, to Donald R. Matthews. He is a carpenter in Marshfield. They reside in Wisconsin Rapids.

Dorene K. Adamski, '83, to Brad A. Zaugg. She is a pharmaceutical sales representative for Winthrop-Breon Laboratories of New York. He is an advertising sales representative for A.B.P., Inc., Madison. They live in Madison.

Michael W. Buettner, '83, to Lisa M. Capodice. He is a crew leader for the Lincoln County Conservation Corps. She is a casualty correspondent for Wausau Insurance Cos. They live in Wausau.

Michele C. Bacik, '83, to John M. Budzinski, '83. She is employed at Allis-Chalmers Credit Corp. He is working at Chem-Bio Corp. They live in Brookfield.

Charles O. Volm, '83, to Lori A. Johnson. She is employed at Consolidated Papers, Inc., and he is employed at ShopKo, Stevens Point. They reside in Wisconsin Rapids.

Karen A. Krueger, '83, to Captain Karel H. Sigtenhorst. She is employed as a fitness dancing instructor. He is stationed with the U.S. Army at Fort Hood, Texas, where they live.

William E. Breese, II, '83, to Nathalie A. Thomas, '82. He is employed by Gimbels, Hilldale Shopping Mall, Madison. She is employed at Woods Veterans Administration Hospital. They live in Jefferson.

Marianna O'Connor, '83, to Joe Menkol, '81. He is a ranger for the Department of Natural Resources at the Minong Station. Their address is Route 1, Box 1148, Trego.

Debbie L. Schmidt, '83, to Christopher J. Snow, '83. She is teaching elementary art for Milwaukee Public Schools and he is attending graduate school at UW-Milwaukee, majoring in urban planning and public administration.

Mary E. Zeller, '83, to Bryan K. Lueth, '83.

Colleen Kane, '83, to Tom Dworak. The couple lives at 2388 Sycamore Drive, Green Bay.

Susan J. Bartolutti, '83, to Jon D. Hohenstein. She is a residence hall director at Augsburg College. He is an administrative assistant for the City of Eagan, Minn. They live in Minneapolis.

Pamela K. Thompson, '83, to Michael J. Spaid, '81. She is a teacher at UW-SP's Child Learning and Care Center and he is a process engineer at Consolidated Papers. They live at 2201 Jackson Ave., Plover.

Robert J. Suehring, '83, to Susan J. Gawlik. She plans to graduate from UW-SP this December. He is director of sales at Best Western Elizabeth Inn and Convention Center, Plover. They reside at 2903-A Evergreen Drive, Plover.

Kandace J. Koch, '83, to Peter J. Waldmann, '83. He is a sales manager for Accurate Map Co., Battle Lake, Minn.

Denise K. Szews, '83, to Gary A. Severson, '80. She is employed by Necedah Public Schools as a fourth grade teacher. He is a junior high school English teacher, football and basketball coach at Necedah. Their address is Star Route East, Necedah.

LeeAnn Michalski, '83, to Michael S. Spoon. She is a secretary at First Financial Savings and Loan. He is a sophomore at UW-SP and works at United Parcel Service and Stevens Point Tents. They live at 1817 Jefferson St.

Trudy B. Rydberg, '83, to Ronald D. Anderson. He is currently enrolled in the paid-on-call firefighting program in Marshfield and is warehouse supervisor at D&R Furniture. She is the interior designer at D&R Furniture. They reside at 813 W. Fourth St., Marshfield.

Renee J. LaBelle, '82, to Robert J. Rewitzer. She is a data entry clerk for the Anoka County Library System, Blaine, Minn. He is supervisor of the Community Service Division for the City of Anoka Police Department. Their address is 11732 Winnetka Ave., North Champlin, Minn.

Scott E. Torrisson, '82, to Marylu Trautlein. He has been transferred to the Champion Technology Center in West Nyack, N. Y. They reside at 79 Whispering Hills, Chester, N.Y.

Jane M. Sternweis, '82, to Steve Koziol. She is a teacher and he is an FAA air traffic controller at the Minnesota Air Route Traffic Control Center in Farmington, Minn.

Barbara C. Bielinski, '82, to Jay Tomcheck, '82. She works for Northeast Wisconsin Technical Institute doing marketing and public relations. He is an accountant for Cruiser's Inc., Oconto Falls. They live at 2093 Hilltop Drive, Green Bay.

Scott A. Banke, '82, to Renee M. Pelowski. They reside in Alaska where both are employed by the North Slope Borough School District.

Jean S. Koch, '82, to Robert J. Flood. She is employed at Care Center East and he is employed at Mills Fleet Farm. They live in Eden.

Holly Hutchinson, '82, to Ken Sina, '77. Holly has been singing at several theatres since her graduation, most recently at the Skylight Theatre and Pabst Theatre in Milwaukee for the Skylight Comic Opera Company. Ken also has appeared with the opera company. Currently, he is choral director at Northfield Public Schools in Northfield, Minn. They recently appeared together in concert, using a vocal theme, "Celebrating New Life." They reside at 110 1/2 E. Ninth St., Northfield, Minn.

Kay M. Christiansen, '82, to Daniel E. Mlsna. She is employed at Pacific International, Nekoosa. He is working at Vulcan Materials, Inc., Port Edwards. They live in Nekoosa.

Ann M. Reichert, '82, to Michael J. Shershin, III. He is employed as a computer programmer for Delta Airlines. She is a research assistant for Kimberly Clark Corp. They live at 28 Anchor Landing, Roswell, Ga.

Mark H. Hobson, '82, to Michelle Mitchell. She is employed at Osco Drug, Inc. He is a juvenile counselor for the Bernard E. Hulse delinquent facility. They live at 132 Core, Apt. 8, Fox Lake.

JoAnn M. Tritz, '82, to Frank W. Sondelski. She is a teacher at St. John's Parochial School, Edgar. He farms and drives truck for Mullins Cheese of Knowlton.

Lori J. Hetze, '82, to Randy A. Meyer. She is a volunteer coordinator for Family Center, Inc., and relief house manager for Marshfield Medical Foundation. He works for Weinbrenner Shoe Co. and also is a relief house manager. They live in Auburndale.

Marcia Frost, '82, to Haig Vahradian, '78. Both are foresters employed by the State of Wisconsin. They live at 2115' 31st St., Kenosha.

Ann T. Sullivan, '82, to Daniel K. Schroeder, '82. She is an executive secretary for Security State Bank in Albert Lea, Minn., and he is a divisional manager for Herbergers. They live in Albert Lea.

Steve J. Knutson, '82, to Kathleen M. McMahon. She is employed by Wright Line, Inc., Minneapolis. He is employed by Bethesda Medical Center and attends graduate school at the University of Minnesota. They reside at 785 Cedar St., Apt. 1, St. Paul.

Melody A. Schroeder, '82, to Jeffrey P. Ryan, '82. They are elementary school teachers and live in Schofield.

Terry S. Gunderson, '82, to Kenneth E. Haines, Jr. She is a constituent aide for Congressman David R. Obey in his Wausau office. He is employed at Prange's of Wausau. They live at 616 1/2 Elm St., Wausau.

Judith K. Sengstock, '82, to Daniel L. Schwartz. He is manager of the Clintonville Elevator. They reside at 94 1/2 Dodge St., Clintonville.

Donald J. Zoromski, '82, to Carrie L. Norrbom. She is self-employed in life insurance sales. He is a customer service representative for American Can Co., Neenah.

Claire G. Evansen, '82, to Timothy R. Herron. She is a teacher at Antigo Head Start. He works at The Country Printer, a division of Volm Bag. They live at 206 1/2 10th Ave., Antigo.

John W. Rolefson, '82, to Claudia J. Mey. She is enrolled in the educational interpreter technician program at North Central Technical Institute. He is a self-employed forestry consultant. They reside at 631 Nina Ave., Wausau.

James F. Cooley, '82, to Kim M. Berendsen. She is employed as a secretary by Acme Tree Surgery Co. They reside at 1803 Badger St., Green Bay.

Deborah A. Steiner, '82, to Daniel A. Zieher, '82. She is a music teacher at Elroy-Kendall-Wilton School. He is a cook at Doc and Eddy's, Wisconsin Rapids. They live in Adams.

Brian B. Hallgren, '82, to Elaine S. Deml. He is employed as manager of the Medford Athletic & Raquet Club. She works for The Star News as a production supervisor. The couple lives in Stetsonville.

Eileen Steinfeldt, '82, (master's), to John Burns. She is a graphic technician for Moraine Park Technical Institute. He is an administrative assistant for a restaurant in Plymouth. Their address is Route 1, Box 231B, Mount Calvary.

Linda S. Ugent, '81, to Benjamin Ber. She is a dietitian at Northwestern Memorial Hospital. He is attending Illinois Institute of Technology, Chicago, and is a computer engineer at Wang Laboratories. They live in Wheeling, Ill.

Kelly P. Zillmer, '81, to Patty J. Schmidt. She is a receptionist at Marion Dental Clinic. He is a loan officer at the Marion State Bank. They live at 709 N.E. First St., Marion.

Steven J. Rapp, '81, to Deborah A. Straus. She is a registered nurse at Wausau Hospital Center. He is employed as a supervisor of stock preparation at Wausau Paper Mill. They live at 1310 S. Ninth Ave., Wausau.

Jean M. Zaske, '81, to Christopher E. Malloy. She is working on her master's degree at Case Western Reserve University, Cleveland. He is attending Case Western Reserve Dental School after receiving his master's degree in counseling and human development from Arizona State University. They live in University Heights, Ohio.

Kim M. Bettinger, '81, to Loyd C. Mitchell. They are both wildlife biologists. She is employed by Coastal Environments, Inc. He is an employee of the Louisiana Department of Wildlife and Fisheries. They live in Baton Rouge, La.

Cynthia A. Baetke, '81, to James A. Forst. She is a substitute teacher. He is a chemist with Tec Systems of DePere. They reside at 1422 Crooks St., Green Bay.

Patricia Roble, '81, to Michael Bagley. She is a professional photographer. He attended UW-SP and is employed by a bicycle company.

Allen D. Wegner, '81, to Karla Schmidt. He is an arborist-consultant for Mountain High Tree Service. She is a student at the University of Colorado, Denver, studying mineral lands management. They reside at 3100 S. Federal Blvd., Apt. 322, Denver.

Kevin R. Kaczmarek, '81, to Bonnie J. Piotrowski, a UW-SP junior, who works at First Financial Savings and Loan Association. He is employed at Sentry Insurance. They reside at 148 Georgia St., Stevens Point.

Martin J. Heindel, '81, to Kelli K. Kellbach. She is a teaching assistant for the department of physiology at UW-Madison and is a student at the medical school. He is a student at the UW-Madison School of Veterinary Medicine. They reside in Madison.

Russell J. Hessler, '81, to Lori (Goldie) A. Mancheski, a student at UW-SP. He is an applications programmer at Sentry Insurance. They live at 1905 N. Second Drive, Stevens Point.

Sara Jo Reek, '81 (master's degree), to Joseph V. DiCecco. She is a clinical dietitian at Rochester Methodist Hospital, Mayo Medical Center, Rochester, Minn. He is a human factor engineer at IBM. Cynthia A. St. Louis, '81, to James M. Durand. She is the program director at the Wisconsin Dairy Council's Madison office. He is an engineer for Woodward Governor Company, Rockford. They reside in Janesville.

Judy L. Sommers, '81, to Michael J. Ring, '79. She is a senior programmer for CUNA Mutual Insurance, Madison. He is a pilot for Four Lakes Aviation, Madison. They live in Middleton.

Mark Zaroni, '81, to Ellen Ryan. He works for Lakeland Temperature Design. She attended UW-SP and is employed by Walgreen Drug Stores. They reside in Madison.

Dion Peterson, '81, to Kristin Heineck. He is self-employed at Peterson Custom Rod and Lure. She is the training facility supervisor at an Arabian farm. They live in La Grange, Ky.

Dorothy H. Dowden, '81, to Griffith K. Williams. She is a teacher at Pine River School, Merrill. He is a supervisor at Wausau Metal Corp. They live at 710 Werle Ave., Wausau.

Mike Martin, '80, to Janie M. Thibodeau. He is a process engineer for Scott Paper Co. They live at Route 2, Box 278, Marinette.

Senior Airman Thomas W. Jung, '80, to Christine A. Lovell. He is stationed with the United States Air Force. She was formerly a manager at Fior of Knightsbridge in London, where they were married. They reside at 7 Clayton St., Montgomery, Ala.

Robert Baade, '80, to Colleen Dwyer. She is employed with Drs. Moser and Mykleby in Wauwatosa and he is working at Wright Tree Service. They live in Milwaukee.

Connie D. Norton, '80, to Keith B. Resler. She is employed in the mortgage servicing department at West Allis Savings and Loan. He is a route supervisor and sales person for ARA Services, New Berlin. They reside at 1236 N. 71st St., Apt. 7, Wauwatosa.

Sharon Henke, '80, to Marlo Groskreutz. She teaches kindergarten at John Muir Elementary School. He is employed by the Marquette County Highway Department. They live in Westfield.

Kathryn A. Seidl, '80, to Michael R. Albrecht. He is working at Petroleum Helicopters, Inc., Lafayette, La., where they live.

Jettrey J. Timm, '80, to Kathryn A. Ludwig. She is employed as a parts coordinator in the customer relations service department of Stoeltings, Inc., Kiel. He is self-employed in farming. They reside at County Trunk M, Menasha.

Joan M. Rulseh, '80, to Jonathan P. Krohn, '80. He is employed by Rockwell International, Allegan, Mich.

Julianne T. Hill, '80, to Phillip F. Janssen. She is a teacher in New London and he is a professional umpire.

Judith A. Campion, '80, to Keith W. Storck. He works for General Motors.

Susie Sprouse, director of the Child and Learning Center, and her staff serve children of students and university employees in facilities in the lower level of Nelson Hall.

Jane C. Ellefson, '80, to Peter Malsichke, '80. She works for the Department of Natural Resources and he is a self-employed musician. They live in Spooner.

Robert J. Walther, '80, to Donna S. Behnke, who attended UW-SP. He is employed as a supervisor by Cray Research, Chippewa Falls. She is practice teaching in Mondovi.

Jack H. Kolb, '80, to Marie Orszulak. He recently received his master's degree in public administration from the University of Illinois-Chicago. She is employed as administration coordinator for Cuneo Hospital. They live at 4428 S. Albany, Chicago, Ill.

Richard A. Dow, Jr., '80, (teaching certificate '85), to Nancy J. Andrews, (teaching certificate '85). She is a high school teacher in Wautoma, where they reside.

John K. Dawson, '80, to Debra R. Yndestad. She is a research pharmacist at 3M/Riker Laboratories, St. Paul. He is manager of software testing at Cray Research, Mendota Heights. They live in Apple Valley, Minn.

Mary K. Check, '80, to Charles K. Smith, Jr. She works for Portage View Hospital, Hancock, Mich. He is serving with the U.S. Air Force stationed at Torrejon Air Base, Spain.

Tom Moss, '80, to Melanie Brown. He is a senior systems analyst for Confidential Data Services, Denver, Colo., and she is an insurance claims supervisor.

Paul A. Westcott, '80, to Susan M. Ostrowski. She is an administrative assistant for Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Co. He is manager of operations for the Aquatic Service Division of Marine Biochemists. They live in Milwaukee.

Karen K. Konieczki, '80, to Mark A. Pasano. They are both employed by TRW, Redondo Beach, Calif. They live in Granada Hills.

Carla D. Seefeldt, '80, to David W. Sullins. She is an elementary teacher in Boulder City. He is employed at Timet Industries, Henderson, Nev., where they reside.

Susan M. Ruswick, '79, to Dr. Gregory A. Derfus. She received her master's degree from UW-Madison. They live in St. Paul, Minn.

Rose M. Perrizo, '79, to Richard M. Goldstein. She is employed as a real estate appraiser and consultant for the Weitzman Group, New York. He is an attorney for a federal judge in New York. They reside in Port Washington, N. Y.

Liesel M. Vezina, '79, to Jeffrey Virchow, '78. She is a student at VTAE District 1 in Eau Claire. He is employed by the USDA, Federal Crop Insurance. Their address is Route 2, Box 292, Augusta.

Melanie M. Becker, '79, to David R. Patterson, '79. She is a sales assistant for The Cheney Co. He is self-employed. They live at 16930 W. Beloit Road, New Berlin.

Jeffrey Scott, '79, to Kathleen Neumann. He works for NERCON Engineering and Manufacturing as a purchasing agent. She is a graduate nurse at Mercy Medical Center in Oshkosh, where they reside.

Mark Pearce, '79, to Catherine White. He is employed by the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources. She is employed as an optician at Duling Optical, Hudson. They live at 660 Clark St., Hammond.

Christine J. Slowinski, '79, to Richard W. Schwartz. She is director of audience development at Michigan Opera Theater, Detroit. He is a senior development engineer at National Branch and Machine, Mt. Clemens. They reside in Utica, Mich.

Lisa Lubeley, '79, to Donald J. Schneider. She is presently working as nutritional care coordinator at Oshkosh Care Center and her husband is a machinist at Modern Materials. They live at 741 Bismark, Oshkosh.

Mary B. Calawerts, '79, to Lee N. Bouche, '76. They live at 609 S. Clay St., Green Bay.

Sharon L. Hansen, '79, to Douglas Potter, '79. She has a stepson, Corey, and is owner and operator of Hunters Bay Farm, an Arabian and dressage training facility for horses and riders. Currently she is busy teaching and showing on the "Class A" circuit. He is employed by Cook Plumbing and Heating. They reside at Route 4, Box 59, Waupaca.

Pamela J. Houle, '79, to Jeffrey L. Horn. She is a teacher at Highlands Elementary School. He is manager of Wichmann's Waterbed Showroom. They live in Appleton.

Nancy A. Kumlien, '79, to David G. Garry. She is a teacher at Victor High School. He is attending the University of Montana, Missoula. They reside in Victor, Mont.

Cyann Dambroski, '78, to Donald B. Schubert. They live in Marshfield where she is a clinical dietitian at St. Joseph's Hospital and he is a custodian for the Marshfield School District.

David Swansby, '78, to Sheila J. Anderson. He is a wildlife technician. They live in Berlin, Wis.

Peter Schuster, '78, to Jan M. Waite. They are both employed by UW-Madison. They reside at 5295 Lincoln Road, Oregon, Wis.

Sandra L. Kichefski, '78, to James F. Edens. She is employed by the Wisconsin Higher Education Corp. and he works for the Higher Educational Aids Board. They live in Madison.

Katherine M. Matsch, '79, to Richard H. Beilke. She is a reading teacher in the Marshfield School District and he is a fieldman for Lynn Dairy. They live at 1506 S. Adams St., Marshfield.

Jante Newell, '78, to Denny Thomas. She is employed with Broadway Office Interiors and he is a wood worker. Their address is Route 1, Box 102, Fults, Ill.

Cheryl L. Thomas, '78, to Weldon Kuhn. She is a speech pathologist in the early childhood area for Sheboygan County. He is a mechanical engineer. They have traveled in Australia and now reside at 261 Main St., Sheboygan Falls.

William F. Wilkinson, '78, to Ann E. Hutchinson. He is director of human resources at Jockey International, Kenosha. She is a nurse in the neurosurgical and orthopedic department at St. Luke's Hospital, Milwaukee. The couple lives in Kenosha.

Tim Grunewald, '78, to Renee LaViolette, '78. She is employed by the U.S. Department of Agriculture and he is employed by the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources. They live in Two Rivers.

R. Brian Bennett, '77, to Karen B. Anderson. The couple lives in Homer, Alaska. She is a dispersements accounting technician in the City of Homer's finance department and he is a clerk in the public works department and manager of the Homer Youth Hostel.

Debra S. Bowton, '77, to Jeffrey L. Hughes. She is employed as a habitation technician for the State of Arizona in Tucson. He is a respiratory therapist with Tucson Medical Center.

Ronald Teclaw, '77, to Sue Klingforth. They live in Rhinelander where he is a biological research technician at North Central Experimental Station. She is a free-lance court stenographer.

Kim H. Kafura, '77, to Connie J. Mielke. He is a machinist for Custom Machinery Design and she is employed at Work Adjustment Services. They live at 1065 Gillingham Road, Apt. 1, Neenah.

Patti Gora, '77, to Jeffrey Krautkraemer. He is an assistant professor of economics at Washington State University in Pullman, Wash., where they reside.

Patrick H. O'Brien, '77, to Nancy L. Andelt. She is employed by IBM and he works for Coldwell Banker. They live in Minneapolis.

Steven G. Simons, '77, to Jody M. Lindsley. They live at 1339 Lawe St., Green Bay.

Catherine J. Staples, '75, to Thomas E. Retzack. She is in the design and exhibit department of the Kohler Company. A graduate student at UW-Stout, he is employed at Schultz-Savo. They reside at 1423 Castle Ave., Sheboygan.

Judy A. Reiber, '75, to Randy Loring. She is a second grade teacher and volleyball coach and he teaches physical education/health and coaches basketball at Adams-Friendship Area Schools. Their address is Box 118, Route 1, Adams.

Richard B. Bares, '76, to JoAnn Kief. He is a soccer coach for UW-Oshkosh and Residence Life Fitness Center director. She is a residence hall director at UW-Oshkosh. Their address is Box 291, Dempsey Hall, UW-Oshkosh.

Joseph Adams, '75, to Jerra Singleton. He received a master's degree in conducting from Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill., and is a teacher at Stevens Point Area Senior High School.

Lt. Daniel S. Bradford, '74, to Kathy Baptista. She is a nursing student at North Central Technical Institute, Wausau. He is a second lieutenant in the U.S. Marine Corps stationed at Quantico, Va. Their mailing address is 2300 Sturdevant St., Merrill.

John Bingham, '74, to Karen S. Kongslien. They are both employed by Mid-State Technical Institute. They live in Wisconsin Rapids.

Christine S. Kroll, '74, to William A. Chantry. She is employed as a media relations specialist at the UW-Center for Health Sciences and the UW-Hospital and Clinics and is pursuing a master's degree in journalism and mass communication. He is a UW-Madison research assistant and is completing a Ph.D. in environmental engineering. They live at 2309 Fish Hatchery Road, Madison.

Michael T. Nunes, '74, to Linda Munn Heine. He is a claims representative for Fireman's Fund Insurance Co. She is employed by Pied Piper. They reside at 995 Wren Drive, Apt. 1, San Jose, Calif.

Douglas Riske, '73, to Patricia M. Withbroe. She is employed by Athens Public Schools and he is employed by Wimmer Construction, Wausau. They live at 5138 Coarn Road, Athens.

Laura C. Walck, '72, to Stephen V. Voda. They are partners in L.C.W. Horsemanship Center, AV1747 Hwy. 51, Woodruff.

Terrence D. Fellenz, '72, to LorRaee Douty. He received a master's degree from UW-Eau Claire in 1981. They live at 230 W. Garfield, Box 374, Fall Creek.

Conrad D. Helbach, '71, to Susan M. Stroik. She is a program assistant in student life business operations at UW-SP, where she also is a student. He is vice president and plant manager at Filter Materials Inc., Waupaca. They live in Waupaca.

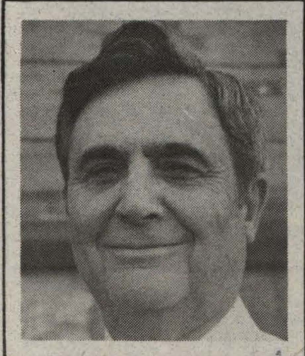

Paul A. Von Ferek, '70, to Kathleen J. Woyak. She is employed at Presto Products. He is employed at Manitowoc Industrial Equipment Co., Manitowoc.

Paul C. Claussen, '67, to Janice C. Wrobel. She is employed at St. Luke's Hospital. He works at Milwaukee County Medical Complex. They live in Germantown.

Irene Ellingson, '53, to Sanford Morse, Sr. She is a retired teacher from Merrill and part-time librarian at Marathon County Public Library, Wausau. He is the retired president of Sanford Morse and Sons Farm, Athens.

Parr B. Eves, '53, to Mary Kay Parker. He is self-employed in the printing business and she is director of the YMCA Drop-In-Center. They live at 1208 Freedom Blvd., Watsonville, Calif.

Faculty Retirements

John Barnes
entomologist

John Barnes, "a desperate optimist" about the world's environment and the only entomologist who has ever served on the faculty of UW-SP, retired this past spring.

Barnes was a member of the biology faculty at UW-SP for more than 30 years.

While he is the local expert on insects, he has other claims to fame. He had a pioneering role in developing and teaching some of the first outdoor education and ecology courses on campus.

Barnes is encouraged by advances that have been made in the war against pollution, especially in Wisconsin in the area of water quality. But he also is troubled by agricultural practices which trade short-term gains for unknown consequences in the future.

"We may see some of the same problems in agriculture that we do in Chernobyl," he charges.

Today's consumers want "apples without blemishes, cabbages without worms and flush toilets" which lead to a blemished environment, he warns.

Barnes, who was born nearly 68 years ago in Lancaster, Ohio, saw military duty in World War II.

As a veteran, Barnes pursued his collegiate education at Ohio University in Athens. He later did graduate study at the University of Minnesota where he also was a teaching assistant and curator of insects.

He says he is proud of numerous successful teachers, including some who have gone on to earn Ph.D.s and university faculty positions, who received part of their preparation from him. And, he has been pleased that some of his former students have also followed his lead in active participation in the Nature Conservancy, a group involved in the preservation of wild lands. Barnes served as a state officer of the Conservancy about 15 years.

In retirement he intends to return to the role of a student, and among the topics he will pursue is theology/religions of the world. ■

Bob Simpson
bacteriologist

Robert Simpson has retired as a professor specializing in bacteriology after serving 30 years in the biology department at UW-SP.

He leaves the campus with the distinction of being one of few UW-SP faculty members ever to earn the excellence in teaching award on the eve of a retirement. He received that recognition in 1985. In addition, he received the top award, Laboratorian of the Year designation in 1980, from the Wisconsin Laboratory Association for his work in preparing hundreds of men and women for careers in laboratories.

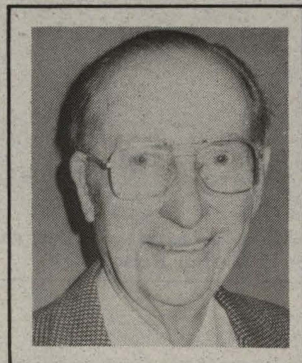

When Simpson arrived on campus in 1956, he was the sixth member of the biology faculty, and that count stood at 26 this year. Much of the growth in students and faculty took place throughout the 1960s when he was chairman of his department.

A native of Minneapolis who grew up in Oklahoma and Iowa, he served nearly four years in the Army, much of the time in a mobile hospital unit in Europe where he earned five battle stars including one for the Invasion of Normandy.

He earned a bachelor's degree from Northern Iowa University in Cedar Falls and his master's degree from the University of Iowa. After joining the UW-SP faculty in 1956, he received National Science Foundation grants to complete his Ph.D. degrees at the University of Iowa and to do specialized study in marine biology at the University of California and virology at Indiana University.

Simpson is a former president of the local chapter of The Association of University of Wisconsin Faculties and was chair of that organization's state salary committee that successfully lobbied in the Wisconsin Legislature for a sabbatical leave program for professors.

In retirement, he looks forward to "no longer being slave to a clock." ■

'Pat' Crow
historian

Frank "Pat" Crow, twice honored as UW-SP's outstanding faculty member, has ended a 40-year career of college-level history teaching in the state.

He has served UW-SP since 1947—on a part-time basis the past four years. He may teach a class now and then in the future.

In 1972 and 1978 Crow won the "Excellence in Teaching Award" when only one person was singled out for the annual recognition. Nowadays, several professors are similarly honored each spring.

He has taught nearly every course offered in his department's curriculum, and despite his lack of roots in the state became a specialist, among other things, in the history of Wisconsin.

Crow is a native of Maryville, Mo., and was graduated from Northwest Missouri State University there in 1936. He later attended the University of Chicago and UW-Madison where he earned his master's and Ph.D. degrees.

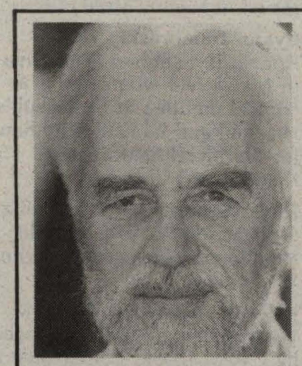

He began teaching in 1939 for UW Extension. After two years, he entered the army and served as a combat infantryman in Europe, earning three battle stars and two campaign ribbons. After his discharge, he did graduate study at Madison before coming to Stevens Point.

Crow served nearly a decade as chair of the history department and was head of the faculty governance organization at the time it was restructured to be the UW-SP Faculty Senate. He was the first chair of that body.

He also was local president and state vice president of The Association of University of Wisconsin Faculty (TAUWF). For many years he and his wife, Louella, a public school teacher in this state about 35 years, were active in support of foreign students here. When the government of South Vietnam fell to the communists a decade ago, they sponsored seven refugees from that country. He did a faculty exchange in 1966-67 with a professor from the University of St. Andrews in Scotland. His wife and son and he exchanged jobs and home with the Scottish professor and his family. A decade earlier Crow exchanged jobs for a summer with a black professor from an all-black college in Missouri.

In recognition of his humanitarian work, the local Masonic Lodge gave him its annual Brotherhood Award in 1982.

His colleagues in the history department nominated him for the honorary title of Professor Emeritus which was granted, and they established a scholarship fund in his name and are encouraging his former students to make contributions to it in care of the UW-SP Foundation in Old Main. ■

Art Fish
librarian

Arthur Fish retired as UW-SP's documents librarian in October after serving on the faculty for 18 years.

Fish has been credited by colleagues for making the documents collection in the Albertson Learning Resources Center the most comprehensive resource of its kind in Wisconsin outside of Madison and Milwaukee. Most of the items he assembled came to campus because UW-SP is a depository for federal publications and a regional research center for the State Historical Society of Wisconsin.

The documents collection is now housed on the fifth and sixth floor of the Albertson Learning Resources Center which recently underwent major remodeling and expansion. The sixth story is one of the additions.

Fish, a native of Waldron, Mich., was graduated from Western Michigan University and the University of Michigan. He came to Stevens Point in 1967. He recalls that one of the lures to UW-SP was the well developed foundation for a documents collection that had been started years before by Nelis Kampenga. ■

Mary Croft
Writing Lab
founder

UW-SP's newly created Academic Achievement Center has been named in honor of Mary K. Croft who has had an on-again, off-again retirement the past year.

The Writing Lab, which she founded nearly 14 years ago, plus the Reading Lab, Study Skills Lab and Resource Center for Area Educators have been combined to form the center in the lower level of the Learning Resources Center.

Mrs. Croft left the writing lab in 1984 to be acting dean of academic support programs which included administration of the LRC and served in the capacity until shortly before her retirement at the end of 1985. But this summer, she was pressed back into duty to serve a one-year assignment as head of the School of Home Economics during a reorganization of that unit.

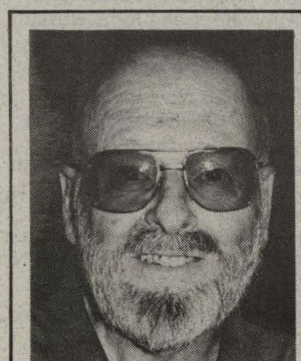

Once she's in the on-again phase of her retirement, a major project will be completion of a manuscript for a book she is co-authoring with Joyce Steward, emeritus professor at UW-Madison on "elderwriters." The book is intended to be a source of encouragement, stimulation and ideas for senior citizens interest in pursuing writing projects.

About five years ago, the women co-authored "The Writing Laboratory," which was published by Scott, Foresman and Co. as one of the first texts of its kind.

A native of Hammond, Ind., Mrs. Croft earned bachelor's and master's degrees in English from the University of Chicago and began teaching in 1940. She and her late husband, Albert, a communication professor, taught on several American campuses and in an educational program in South Vietnam before coming to UW-SP.

Her career at UW-SP was centered on helping people improve their writing skills, and her work gained national attention. In 1976, she was selected by Change Magazine as one of the 29 "most effective teachers in the fields of biology, English and political science in American higher education." In 1985, she received the Frank Chisholm Award, highest recognition for meritorious service given by the Wisconsin Council of Teachers of English.

In an accompanying letter with the Chisholm Award, it was stated that the writing lab Mrs. Croft developed at UW-SP became a national model, both in operational procedures and principles, in the total university concept. ■

Bob Rossmiller
education prof

Robert Rossmiller, a state leader in the movement to create new opportunities in public schools for children labeled gifted and talented, retired this past spring from the faculty.

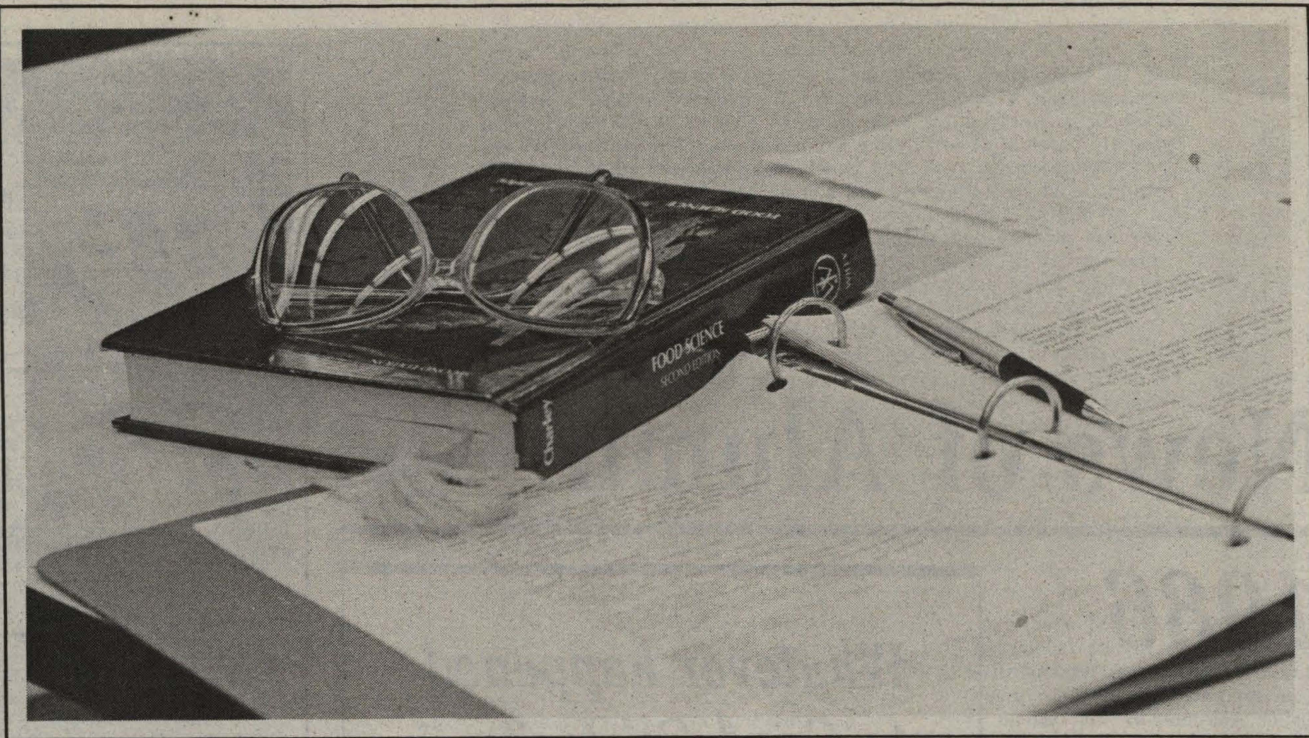

He has spent 40 years in the field of education, 21 of them at UW-SP.

Rossmiller intends to work in the immediate future as a consultant to school districts which have been required by state law to have special offerings for gifted and talented students in operation by 1988.

He has been honored numerous times by professional groups including the Wisconsin Council for Gifted and Talented for untiring and continuing efforts in 1981 and as its educator of the year in 1977. The Wisconsin Secondary School Administrators' Association gave him its award for distinguished service.

A native of East Troy, Rossmiller received bachelor's and master's degrees from UW-Madison in 1943 and 1944, attended Marquette University and Purdue University to earn certification in guidance and counseling and received a Ph.D. in that specialty area from UW-Madison.

Rossmiller and his wife, Elaine, a learning disabilities teacher at the Plover-Whiting School, have five children, four of whom are UW-SP graduates and two of whom have followed them in teaching careers. ■

Orland Radke outreach chief

Orland Radke retired in January of 1986 from a career in education that has ranged from teaching kindergartners to pioneering one of the nation's few bachelor's degree programs for inmates of a federal prison.

Radke logged a total of 40 years in his profession, the last 30 years as an administrator at the UW-SP.

Radke has stepped down as the director of continuing education and outreach, having been the first person appointed to that post when it was established nearly 19 years ago. Since 1978, he also has directed the summer session.

The work has been rewarding, he says, because of opportunities to develop new extension offerings and services throughout Central Wisconsin for people who previously weren't served in their home communities. And at the federal correctional institution in Oxford, he has spent the past six years developing and directing a degree program for inmates which is financed primarily by grants from the federal government. So far, 15 men have received B.S. degrees.

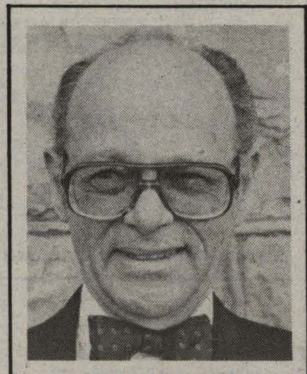

The program is paying dividends to society, Radke contends, because several of the graduates have completed their sentences and are working in professional positions in large cities. One of them, for example, is a successful stockbroker.

Radke also was involved with the formation of the UW-SP Native American Center which provides services to people on reservations throughout the state. An outgrowth of that offering has been the UW-SP Weekend College which now is popular among nontraditional students from all backgrounds, including Indians.

Radke's associations with UW-SP began in 1940 when he came here as a farm boy from Montello with plans of becoming a teacher. He completed nearly all of his degree requirements by the time he was inducted into military service in 1943. Radke served in the Navy in the Pacific and received a Silver Star for his underwater demolition work. After his discharge, he spent a summer at UW-SP completing his degree before taking his first job.

Radke was called upon at the university for a variety of extra leadership assignments including helping establish the now defunct branch campus at Medford, serving as acting dean of the school of education and administering a semester abroad program in London.

Radke and his wife, Marge, who have five children and two grandchildren, will continue living in Park Ridge. ■

Alan Lehman English prof

Alan Lehman, who has introduced hundreds of students to the writings of William Shakespeare, has retired after 38 years as an English professor.

Throughout his career, he served on faculties of four institutions, the past 23 years at the UW-SP.

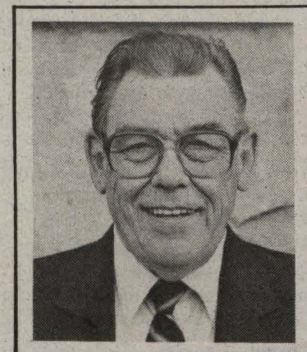

The highlight of teaching, he says, was having the opportunity to serve "so many nice, intelligent students" and being able to introduce them to the works of the world's "greatest writer."

The professor is a native of Coldspring, N. Y. After graduating from the City College of New York with majors in mathematics and English, he headed for the University of Iowa Writer's Workshop with the goal of penning "The Great Novel." But after his plans were interrupted by a four-year stint in the U.S. Army Air Corps, he pursued a teaching career instead, earning master's and Ph.D. degrees from the University of Iowa. He came to UW-SP in 1963.

Lehman and David Coker were the faculty leaders of UW-SP's first semester abroad program, in 1969 in London. Because of his interest in Oriental literature, he was one of about 25 UW System professors chosen for a special summer program at a Japanese university in 1972. He also was one of the founders and served about 20 years as director of the UW-SP Lecture Forum which often focused on international issues.

Lehman, author of the 1960 textbook, "Readable Rhetoric," says the emphasis that is placed on writing in all disciplines at UW-SP "is one of the better things we do at this university."

In retirement, he and his wife, Katheryn, a retired teacher at Washington Elementary School, have travel plans which will include trips to Shakespeare festivals. ■

Keith Lea librarian

Keith Lea, who organized most of the elementary libraries in the local public school system and later purchased half of the books now in the university's collection, retired in June.

He has been on the faculty of the Albertson Learning Resources Center at UW-SP the past 18 years, most of that time overseeing the acquisitions, cataloging and bibliographic search operations as director of technical services.

Lea, a native of the Town of Lanark, had completed three years of study at UW-SP by the time he entered naval duty during World War II.

When he joined his wife, Evie, in the teaching profession here, he served first as an elementary teacher and later as the first elementary librarian for the Stevens Point School System. He planned and/or put into operation nearly all of the elementary school libraries in the system.

He joined the university faculty in time to participate in the groundbreaking of the present library and was one of the principal planners of the recently completed addition which doubled the size of that building. In charge of acquisitions, he saw the library collection holdings double to include about 300,000 book volumes or their equivalent and a like number of government publications.

Lea's career as a school librarian will stay in the family. One of his two children, son Mark, has such a position in Osseo. ■

Bob Van Nuys musician

Robert Van Nuys, 3100 Ellis St., has retired after serving 23 years on the university's music faculty.

A native of Franklin, Ind., he studied at Indiana University and the University of Illinois-Urbana and Champaign. He is the holder of a doctorate in musical arts.

At UW-SP, he specialized in teaching students of the trumpet, founded and was the longtime director of the UW-SP Brass Choir, and directed the University Band. He also directed the Stevens Point City Band for 11 years.

Van Nuys has joined the Debonaires, a Port Edwards-based variety band, as a trumpeter. ■

Zeke Torzewski assistant chancellor

Adolph (Zeke) Torzewski, a graduate of UW-SP who rose through its ranks to hold one of the top positions on campus, retired in April as assistant chancellor for business affairs.

Torzewski had been on the UW-SP staff for 18 years and had worked continuously for the state for 28 years.

In 1980, Torzewski was promoted to one of the three assistant chancellor positions on campus. Many of the university employees who provide support services to faculty and maintain the facilities were under his supervision in the the Division of Business Affairs.

Torzewski, who lives at Custer, grew up in Portage County and served four years in the Air Force during the Korean War. He was graduated from UW-SP in 1957 and did graduate study at the University of South Dakota. ■

Herb Wenger reading specialist

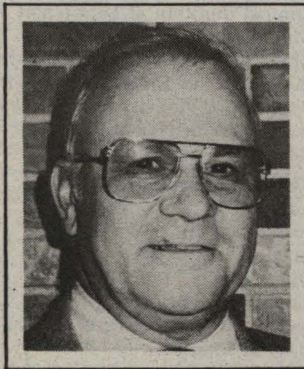

Herbert G. Wenger, a reading specialist in the School of Education, retired this past spring after 19 years on the faculty and a total of 43 years in the field of education.

He says his has been a controversial specialty area because "there is no one best method for teaching children how to read, yet from time to time people think they have found one."

His advice to teachers is to use the "eclectic approach" which embraces the most effective parts of the various methods "because children have different learning modes." Something that works well for one child may not for another, he explains.

Wenger is a native of Monroe. He grew up in Milwaukee and received bachelor's and master's degrees from UW-Milwaukee and later earned a doctorate at UW-Madison.

He and his wife, June, live at 3625 Lorraine St. ■

Bob Schmatz reading specialist

Robert Schmatz, a reading and elementary education specialist on the UW-SP faculty, has retired after serving the institution for 16 years.

To stay involved in his field, he plans to conduct occasional programs on the new Hunter method which reorganizes approaches to teaching techniques that have been successful throughout history.

He served as a department chair at UW-SP in the early 1970s, heading the elementary education program when it was a separate unit from the secondary education offerings. He also established new laboratory experiences for future elementary teachers in "real" classrooms.

With his wife, Schmatz served as a regular columnist several years for "Instructor," one of the nation's leading magazines for teachers. They wrote under the title of, "Q & A—Bob and Ruth Schmatz Help You with Your Classroom Problems." He also co-authored the textbooks, "Elementary School Curriculum" and "Elementary School Curriculum—Teaching and Learning," both for McMillan Publishing Co.

Schmatz holds a bachelor's degree from State University of New York in Fredonia, a master's from Southern Illinois University in Carbondale and a doctorate from Michigan State. ■

News of Alumni

1986

David A. Schumann, '86, has been appointed law clerk to Justice Steinmetz for the 1986-87 term. Each of the Wisconsin Supreme Court Justices has one law clerk, responsible for assistance in researching the law, drafting opinions, and studying the records. Schumann is an attorney and member of the Wisconsin Bar. He lives at 5002 Sheboygan Ave., Apt. 357, Madison.

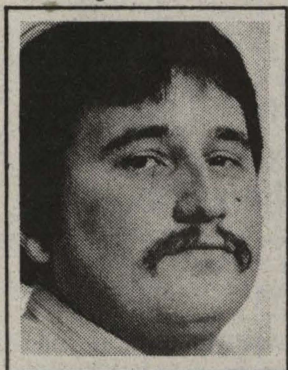

Michael Reuteman, '86, has joined West Bend Savings and Loan Association as a mortgage banker.

Timothy Marzofka, '86, has joined Consolidated Papers, Inc., Wisconsin Rapids Division, as a process engineer.

Ronald Stelpflug, '86, is the recipient of a $350 national prize from the Society of Xi Sigma Pi, an honorary fraternity in forest resources.

Tony Doth, '86, is in Cameroon, Africa, as a Peace Corps volunteer. He trained at Norman, Okla., and is now in Cameroon learning the culture and the language of the country before starting work. He will help families construct and maintain fish ponds for food and profit. This is possible, he says, because Cameroon consists mostly of tropical rain forest.

Alan E. Bardole, '86, is an accountant in the Wisconsin Rapids office of Wipfli, Ullrich & Co., a certified public accounting and management consulting firm.

Brian McCombie, '86, recently had an essay published in the MY TURN section of Newsweek magazine. In the essay, Brian makes use of the satire from Joseph Heller's novel, "Catch-22," to take a sardonic look at liability insurance. Currently he is teaching freshman English at Wichita State University.

Richard M. Carlson, '86, recently completed an eight-week Navy Reserve course at Recruit Training Command, Great Lakes, Ill. His home address is Route 3, Chetek.

1985

David A. Ross, '85, recently joined the Wisconsin River Power Co., Wisconsin Rapids, as a wildlife ecologist. He will implement wildlife management and public recreation plans on company lands. He lives at 1975 Church St., Stevens Point.

Army Reserve 2nd Lt. Craig S. Zundi, '85, graduated from the U.S. Army engineer officer basic course at Fort Belvoir, Va.

First Lt. David J. Wild, '85, is assigned to the 4th Infantry Division, Fort Carson, Colo.

Gwen R. Gajewski, '85, was commissioned a second lieutenant upon graduating from the Army Officer Candidate School, Fort Benning, Ga. Her home address is 1407 Cleveland Ave., Wausau.

Whatever happened to Good Ol' Joe?

Beth Ratledge, '85, is assistant stage manager aboard the SS Liberte, a cruise ship sailing to Tahiti and Bora Bora.

Rick Surita, '85, was named assistant to the executive vice president of the Central Wisconsin Chamber of Commerce. His address is 1131B Main St., Stevens Point.

John Buss, '85, is a conservation warden for the state Department of Natural Resources. His wife, Vicki, designs computer programs for Wick Building Systems in Mazomanie. They live at 333 S. Elm St., Oconomowoc.

Susie Hartzell, '85, is a kindergarten teacher in Menomonee Falls. Her husband, Louis, is employed at Allis-Chalmers. They live at N113 W15479 Francese Drive, Apt. 5, Germantown.

1984

Julie Denker, '84, is a staff writer with the Family Ministry in Little Rock, Ark. She also is on the staff of Campus Crusade for Christ International. Her mailing address is 421 Madison St., Sauk City.

Ronald S. Gibb, '84, has accepted a position with the New York office of the Northwest Bank of Minneapolis. He is engaged to Lisa Christenson, who will graduate from UW-SP in December. His address is 530 Park Ave., Apt. 202, Scotch Plains, N.J.

Timothy J. Duening, '84, was commissioned an ensign upon completion of Aviation Officer Candidate School at the Naval Air Station, Pensacola, Fla. He is a native of Eagle River.

James C. Holzwart, '84, is living at 2333 S. 7th St., Sheboygan.

Mark Polebitski, '84, is teaching computer science at Waupaca High School. He and his wife, Mary, and their four children, live in Waupaca.

Rory Braenne, '84, is the student employment coordinator at Northland College.

Gary Urmanski, '84, is a field department management trainee for Lakeside Packing Co. He and his wife, Betty, live in Manitowoc.

Steven Fischer, '84, is a graduate assistant in fisheries at Louisiana State University. His address is 1330 Jim Taylor Drive, Apt. 16, Baton Rouge, La.

Second Lt. Kevin Hyneman, '84, a platoon leader with the 2nd Armored Division, is stationed at Fort Hood, Texas.

Private Nick J. Martinez, '84, completed an Army food service specialist course at Fort Dix, N.J.

Army Reserve 2nd Lt. David Milan, '84, completed an armor officer basic course at the U.S. Army Armor School, Fort Knox, Ky.

Anthony Tooley, '84, received his army aviator wings at Fort Rucker, Ala. He is stationed at Fort Wainwright, Alaska. He and his wife, Denise Tooley, '83, live at 1015-1 Chestnut, Fort Wainwright.

Lynn Ross, '84, is a teacher and FHA adviser at Granton High School.

William J. Brooks, '84, is attending the University of Colorado School of Law, studying wildlife law and public lands law. He lives at 360 Willard Hall, Boulder, Colo.

Thomas Ballinger, '84, works for the agriculture division of I.C.I. Americas. He covers 25 counties in Iowa. He and his wife, Mary, have a daughter, Emily. They report that Iowa has very few trees and they miss the foliage of Wisconsin. They live at 2709 Jasmine Drive, Waterloo, Iowa.

Melanie J. Zuge, '84, is teaching at the Manawa Elementary School. She was married in June.

Mary P. Forlenza, '84, is a graduate student majoring in urban affairs at UW-Milwaukee and is employed by the Godfrey Co. She lives at 1928 N. Oakland, Milwaukee.

William J. Crabb, '84, was promoted to 1st lieutenant in the U.S. Army. He is a company executive officer with the 2nd Training Brigade at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo.

Milan Hecimovich, '84, and his wife, Derylee A. (Sly), '81, have a daughter, Amber, and a son, Quinton. Both parents are furthering their education in Arizona, where they live at 6544 W. Peck Drive, Glendale. They say they are taking in the sights and missing the northland and UW-SP.

Lynn M. Vandenhoy, '84, worked at Everglades National Park as a park technician and as a biological technician in fisheries. She now resides at Route 3, Box 272, Elkton, Va.

First Lt. Mark R. Greenwood, '84, is an aviator in the U.S. Army, stationed at Fort Carson. He says "Hi, to all the old Nelsonites." His address is 4115 Lacy Lane, Apt. 21, Colorado Springs, Colo..

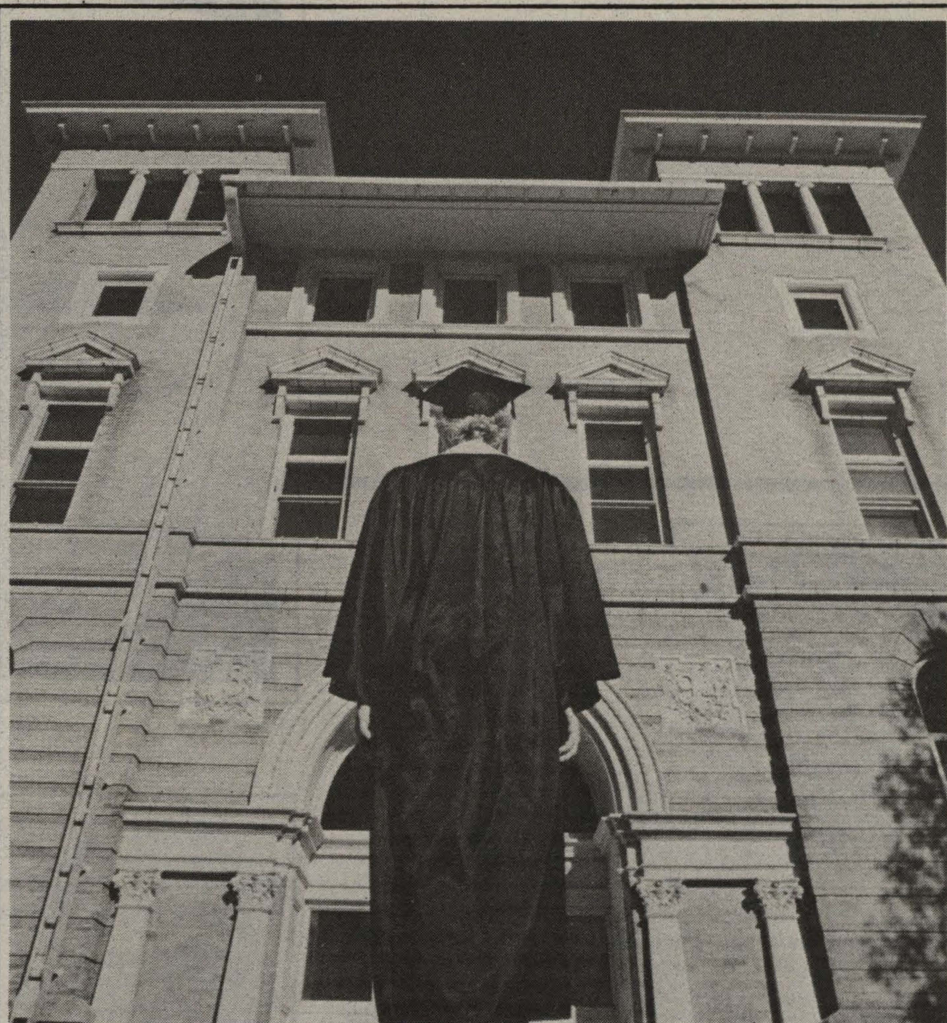

Michael A. Schmitt, '84, is a full-time junior high school physical education teacher and coach. He lives at 450 W. Harrison St., Columbus.

Diane L. Roundy, '84, has been selected as the 1986 "Young Career Woman" representative for the Green Bay-De Pere Business and Professional Women's Club. She is assistant vice-president marketing director at De Pere Federal Savings. She lives at 2203 Gilson Court, Ashwaubenon.

Mary J. (Scholzen) Sculley, '84, and her husband, Scott, have a son, Benjamin Scott. Mary is a substitute teacher for Wisconsin Rapids Public Schools and Scott is employed at Ocean Spray Cranberries Inc., Babcock. Their address is 411 1/2 Seventh St. S., Wisconsin Rapids.

Mary (Nepper) Glodoski, '84, is northwest district coordinator for the UW-Extension expanded food and nutrition education program. She also is a private consultant for parent education in Sawyer County. Her husband, Larry, '83, is a forester/ranger for the Department of Natural Resources in Hayward. They live at Route 3, Box 3195, Hayward.

John R. Knowlton, '84, is a first grade teacher at St. Joseph's Primary School in Stevens Point, where he lives at 1921 Michigan.

A graduate paid a final visit to 'Old Main' on graduation day.

Tim Byers, '84, and his wife, Cindy (Minnick) Byers, '84, have moved to Bailey's Harbor where they will develop interpretive programs for the Ecology Sport Shop. In addition, they will be working as naturalists and free-lance writers in Door County. Their address is 3821 County Hwy. E, where they are caretakers of the Birch Creek Music Center.

1983

Christopher Eigenberger, '83, is a sales manager for WSAW-TV, Wausau.

Michael K. Nelson, '83, and his wife, Kitty (Peterson), '81, are houseparents for Nova Services, working with juvenile delinquents aged 12 to 18. They are living at 2030 Fish Hatchery Road, Apt. 4, Madison, where he is pursuing a master's degree in family therapy. They want to know: "Rick Ripley, where are you?"

Gerald Zanotelli, '83, teaches accounting, consumer education and recordkeeping for Somerset School.

Jeff Krauklis, '83, is the band director at Menominee Area High School in Menominee, Mich. He also teaches high school choir, jazz and marching bands, seventh grade band, and the overflow of fifth grade beginning band students. He plays in two area musical groups. His address is 717 1/2 Elizabeth Ave., Marinette.

Brenda Berray, '83, is teaching K-12 music in the Mercer schools. Her address is Box 15, Mercer.

Ken Kluz, '83, is a county environmental officer for Price County.

Rhonda Crozier, '83, is a financial aid adviser at Tacoma Community College, Tacoma, Wash.

Cyndee (Bottoni) Lewis, '83, and her husband are the parents of a baby girl, Nicole Renee. Cyndee is a fourth grade teacher for Milwaukee Public Schools. Her husband is a sales representative for Creed Co. The family lives at 2661 N. 60th St., Milwaukee.

Steven Shimek, '83, has joined the staff at Vande Hey's Landscape Center as a manager in the landscape maintenance division.

Susan K. Swanson, '83, has been promoted to tree farm forester in west central Wisconsin, for Nekoosa Papers, Inc. She will be working with private woodland owners in the Chippewa Falls - Eau Claire area as part of the firm's Landowner Assistance Program.

Mark D. Pecher, '83, is an assistant manager for Pizza Hut, Inc. He lives at 1503 S. Locust, Apt. 9, Marshfield.

Paul Breidenbach, '83, is attending Northern Illinois University pursuing a master's degree in counseling for the hearing impaired. His address is 1325 W. Lincoln Hwy, Apt. 404A, DeKalb, Ill.

Susan (Grygny) Zuern, '83, and her husband, Erich, reside at 118 Third St., Apt. 2, Jupiter, Fla. She is a costumer for Burt Reynolds' Jupiter Theatre and designed the costumes for Reynolds' production of "I'm getting my act together and taking it on the road." Erich is a scenic artist for the Adirondack Scenic Studios.

Julianne M. (Waldron) Welnetz, '83, is a national accounts representative for Continental Minnesota, Inc. Her husband, Curtis J. Welnetz, who attended UW-SP, is a student at Northwestern College of Chiropractic. They live at 9215 Nicolet Ave. S, Apt. 22, Bloomington, Minn.

Christopher C. Cleveland, '83, is in the Air Force and is a volunteer at Hiawatha National Forest. His address is Box 111, Independence, Iowa.

John E. Lubbers, '83, has been hired by the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources. He is stationed at Montello Ranger Station, where he is responsible for fire control protection of Marquette and Green Lake counties and forest management of state lands in Marquette County. His address is Box 430, Montello.

Molly K. Higgins, '83, is an admissions counselor at Lakeland College. She lives at 130 Broadway, Apt. 4, Sheboygan Falls.

Alice K. Tank, '83, graduated from Dickinson School of Law this May. She was the casenote editor of the International Law Review at Dickinson. Her address is 214 N. Union St., % Ron Tank, Appleton.

Barbara L. Ladwig, '83, teaches for the Mukwanago School District and also coaches freshman volleyball. She lives at 1229 Hwy 24, East Troy.

Kathleen J. Crabb, '83, is employed by ARA Services working at Norfolk General Hospital. She is responsible for the Eating Disorders Unit which involves anorexic/bulimic patients. She is chairman of Tidewater's Clinical Dietetics & Research Practice Group. She resides at 809 Stockley Gardens 2A, Norfolk, Va.

Melanie R. Bennett, '83, completed six months of work experience at Rochester Methodist Hospital. She is a registered dietitian for Theda Clark Regional Medical Center. She lives in Neenah.

Ken G. Krumal, '83, is employed with Hawaii Cooperative Fishery Research Unit. After spending time in Alaska in pursuit of fish, crabs, bear and gold, he says he decided to thaw out in the tropical Pacific and now travels throughout the islands doing scuba diving research. He says he spends his spare time surfing Sunset Beach and the Bonzi Pipeline. He resides at 2591 Dole St., G-311, Hen, Hawaii.

Mary S. Sangrey, '83, a research assistant at the Smithsonian Institution, recently presented a paper at the International Bamboo Conference in Mayaguez, Puerto Rico. She lives at 1318 A St. SE, Washington, D.C.

Dale M. Peters, '83, is a permanent seasonal employee with a private timber company in the Pacific Northwest. He is "having fair success," he says, in becoming a "fun hog." He is a forestry aide for Plum Creek Timber Co., Inc.

David W. Ellison, '83, is enrolled in the master's program at the American University, Washington, D.C. His internship assignments have included the European Community Information Service and the Association to Unite the Democracies. He lives at 3024 Wisconsin Ave. NW, Apt. 811, Washington, D.C.

Trina J. Papenfus, '83, is a clinical dietitian at Dickenson Memorial Hospital, Iron Mountain. She recently passed the American Dietetics Association Registration Examination. Her address is Box 831, Stambaugh, Mich.

Sharon A. Groshek, '83, was honored as a national rookie systems engineer for IBM Corp. She provides technical support and consulting to customers who have IBM hardware and software. Sharon lives in Madison.

Steven A. Huart, '83, lives at 2202A Madison St., Stevens Point.

Kari (Eaton) Flenz, '83, is a customer service representative for Akrosil. Her husband, Tom, is an accountant for Fox River Tool Co., Inc. They reside at 810 Fifth St., Menasha.

Patricia (Baird) Wimme, '83, and Kristopher Wimme, '83, live in Blacksburg, Va. He is a graduate research assistant at Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University, where she also is employed. Their address is 110 Northview Drive, Apt. 43.

Steve Grant, '83, is a forester for the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources on the Sandhill-Meadow Valley Wildlife areas in central Wisconsin. He and his wife live at 620 Airport Ave., Wisconsin Rapids.

Lt. Michael Cashmann, '83, says he is still alive and has not done anything stupid yet. He is currently an infantry officer at Camp Lejeune, N. C. He also reports he is still single and sends his best wishes to everybody back at Point. His address is Co. K Third Battalion 4th MARS, Second Marine Division, Camp Lejeune, N. C.

Barry C. Poulton, '83, is a graduate student at North Texas State University in Denton, Texas. He is working toward a Ph.D. in aquatic biology. He also is teaching aquatic entomology, zoology and invertebrate biology. He lives at 1500 W. Oak St, Apt. 23, Denton.

1982

Julie A. Theis, '82, is currently working on her master's degree in special education at UW-Whitewater. She is employed by the Menominee Indian School District, coaching girl's varsity volleyball, basketball and softball. She resides at 1350 Lieg Ave., Apt. 9, Shawano.

Judith L. Henry, '82, is a forester with the Mark Twain National Forest Poplar Bluff district. She is involved with compartment examinations, timber sales, reforestation, special use permits and fire. Her address is Route 9, Box 439, No. 11, Poplar Bluff, Mo.

Kimberly Herring, '82, has been named 1986 Young Career Woman by the Sheboygan and Lakeside Business and Professional Women's Clubs. Employed as a business development coordinator by Miller Consulting Engineers, she has been active in the Sheboygan Area School District's Future Fun Fair and Business Briefing, and serves on the Sheboygan Area Chamber of Commerce Economic Development Committee. She lives at 2123 Bollman Drive, Sheboygan.

Susan S. Hartman, '82, has been employed at Nova House, a group home in Wautoma since 1983. She works as a youth counselor with troubled teenagers. Her address is Route 3, Box 201, Wautoma.

Mary Jo A. Wamser, '82, received her Doctor of Medicine degree from the Medical College of Wisconsin in May. She is serving a pediatrics residency at Ohio State University Hospitals in Columbus.

James Svoboda, '82, is working on a general soil survey of Gallia County where he is employed by the Ohio Department of Natural Resources as a soil scientist. His wife, Carol (Gilbert) Svoboda, '82, is the bookkeeper for two women's retail clothing stores in Gallipolis, Ohio, where they live at 15 Vine St.

Debbie (Merock) Sipola, '82, is a children's librarian for Hales Corners Public Library. Her husband, Jeff Sipola, '81, is a driver/salesman for Miller Brands, Inc. They have a daughter, Amanda, and live at 10524 W. Parnell Ave., Hales Corners.

Cheryl Wildman, '82, was recognized for outstanding performance in establishing a county-wide job service in Green County last year.

Lynn Voellings, '82, is an aquatic technician with Marine Biochemists, Inc. Her address is Box 2255 Hwy. J, Mukwonago. She and her fiancé, Dick Carlson, '84, who is manager of Lurvey Sod Farms, plan to marry in June of 1987.

Patricia A. Koser, '82, director of communications for Tyton Corp., is responsible for corporate communications, including all collateral literature, advertising, sales lead programming and trade show activity. She resides at W18D 8918 Leona Lane, Menomonée Falls.

Mary A. Blasczyk, '82, is managing the first community-based residential facility (group home) for Alzheimer's Disease patients and other related dementia in Wisconsin, called Alternative Living Services. She lives at 5720 W. Wisconsin Ave., Milwaukee.

Anthony G. Fraundorf, '82, has been named the first Dr. Alton Lindsey Teaching Fellow for the Merry Lea Environmental Learning Center of Goshen College, Wolf Lake, Ind. He is responsible for environmental science instruction for visiting classes, site planning, developing public programming and communications. He lives at the center, a 900-acre nature preserve, in Noble County, Ind.

Kathleen Repinski, '82, was awarded the Doctor of Optometry degree at Illinois College of Optometry.

Marsha (Kostechka) Herman, '82, and Larry Herman, '82, are the parents of a baby girl. She works in McFarland as a learning disabilities teacher and he is parks supervisor for the city of Sun Prairie. Their address is 220 Walmar Drive, Sun Prairie.

Margaret (Gannon) Brady, '82, is a personnel representative at St. Luke's Samaritan Health Care, Inc. Her husband, Patrick, works at Bucyrus-Erie Co. as an international subcontracts product supervisor. The couple resides at 3022 S. 39th, Milwaukee.

Susan (Busse) Betcher, '82, is executive director of the Sparta Area Chamber of Commerce. Her husband, Allan, is attending graduate school in La Crosse. They live at 1313 W. Main St., Sparta.

Michael A. Shervey, '82, is finishing a second undergraduate degree in management information systems. He recently was hired by the Wisconsin Gas Co. in Milwaukee as a computer programmer.

Brian E. Jones, '82, is transportation planner for the Tri-County Regional Planning Commission. His address is 4013 N. Brookdale, Apt. A3, Peoria, Ill.

James Kretzschmar, '82, is a liability adjuster for State Farm Insurance. He lives with his wife, Shirley, and their child at 1620 Roe Crest Drive, Apt. 2, North Mankato, Minn.

Daniel T. Zekor, '82, and his wife, Linda McLean-Zekor, '84, are residing at 400 Gillespie, TH123, Starkville, Miss. She is pursuing a master's degree in public policy and administration. He is a research assistant with the Department of Wildlife and Fisheries at Mississippi State University.

Gail E. (McLaughlin) Ray, '82, and her husband, Keith N. Ray, '77, are back in Wisconsin after being in Idaho for three years with the Forest Service. They invite people to "stop by our dairy farm just north of Dodgeville and say 'hello' sometime!" Their address is Route 2, Box 129, Dodgeville.

Lloyd Carter, '82, earned his law degree from the Marquette University Law School this spring. He is now an associate with the Roth and Binn law firm in Brookfield.

The 1961 championship football team held a 25th reunion during homecoming. Among those taking part: top row from left: Dan Herbst, Duaine Counsell (coach), Bob McAloon, Dennis Arthur, Bob Schultz, Bob Fischer, Glenn Seering, Bill Burns (former faculty member). Bottom row from left: Jim Sutliff, Mike Liebenstein, Bill Kuse, Don Tucek, Don Friday (Stevens Point Journal sports editor), Bill Nuck.

Carol A. Olsen, '82, is a personal lines underwriter at Sentry Insurance. She began her college education at UW-SP in 1963, but took time out to be co-director of Meals on Wheels and a mealsite coordinator for the Commission on Aging. She lives at 608 Illinois Ave., Stevens Point.

Louise (Dybro) Kelly, '82, is a speech pathologist for Prince William County Schools. Her husband, Christopher, is an electronic technician for Micrographic Services. They live at 4811 Manitoba Drive, Apt. 104, Alexandria, Va.

Scott Roberts, '82, is a maintenance accounts manager for Martin Associates in Vernon Hills, Ill. His wife, Vicki (McGinnis), '81, is a claims adjuster for Uniguard Insurance in Arlington Heights. They reside at 214 Circler Road, Fox River Grove, Ill.

1981

Wayne M. Klomstad, '81, was promoted to operations officer and assistant cashier for the First Wisconsin Trust Company.

Janet (Dombrowski) Malone, '81, is assistant manager for SuperAmerica, Stevens Point.

Judy (Volkening) Alekna, '81, has been manager of The Closet in Stevens Point for two years. Her husband, John Alekna, '79, recently became manger of SuperAmerica, Stevens Point.

Julie (Meier) Colburn, '81, and her husband, Mike Colburn, '80, are now living in Augsburg, Germany. Mike is a captain in the U.S. Army and works as a logistics officer in a Military Intelligence Brigade. Julie also works for the U.S. government as a counselor in the drug and alcohol abuse field. She is a licensed private pilot. Their address is UAS FS Augsburg, Box 383, APO New York.

Thomas Beitzel, '81, was promoted to Leon County Forester with the Florida Division of Forestry in Tallahassee, where he resides at 1319 Linda Ann Drive, Apt. 3.

David L. Gohman, '81, has been working for Chemlawn as a lawn specialist for two years. His address is 3215 Harbor Lane N, Apt. 3-202, Plymouth, Minn.

David Terre, '81, received his master's degree in wildlife sciences from Texas Technological University and is employed with the Texas Parks and Wildlife department as a fish and wildlife technician. His wife, Kathy, is employed with the Abilene School District. They live at 1450 Burger St., Abilene, and wish friends would get in touch.

Julie K. (Berg) Stumpf, '81, and Richard Stumpf, '80, are both working at Heller Nature Center in Highland Park, Ill. Rick is working as a land steward, in charge of a variety of natural areas including prairie restoration. Julie is teaching appreciation and discoveries of nature to 4 to 6 year-olds. They had their first child this spring. They live at Six Aldine, Lake Zurich, Ill.

Linda A. Catterson, '81, has a job with the Michigan Senate Republicans as a job training specialist, researching job training programs and attempting to come up with new plans. She and her husband, Harry Carswell, live at 1570 Valley Ridge Drive, Brookfield.

Joanne (Marish) Lumsden, '81, is a receptionist at Olympia Village. Her husband, James, works at Lied's Nursery in Sussex as a foreman. They reside at 309 Golden Lake Road, Oconomowoc.

Carl R. Moesche, '81, lives in Portland, Ore., where he is administrative assistant to the general manager of the Portland Beavers baseball team, a farm team of the Philadelphia Phillies.

Theresa L. (Bocik) Wegener, '81, and her husband, James A. Wegener (associate degree), have a son, Christopher. She is a store designer for ShopKo Stores, Inc., Green Bay. They live at 1907 Strawberry Lane, Green Bay.

Susan (Brink) Nuernberger, '81, is working as program coordinator at Black River Falls Industries for developmentally disabled adults. She and her husband, Bruce, expect their first child in November. They live at 313 E. Taylor St., Medford.

Toni Frostman, '81, is the new director of CAP Services' Family Crisis Center in Stevens Point.

Rochelle L. (Schmidt) Collins, '81, is employed as a securities operations manager with Dean Witter Reynolds, Inc. Her husband owns Bob Collins Plumbing and Pool. They reside at 6944 Bee Ridge, Sarasota, Fla.

Douglas R. Van Buskirk, '81, has been logging on South Fox Island, Lake Michigan, for Jim Wickstrom, Frederic, with the timber going to Martin Veneer Co. in Canada. His address is 227 S. Adams St., St. Croix Falls.

Annemarie Tiffe, '81, is currently ranked number one in the state for female triathletes. This is her second year competing in the swimming, biking and running endurance events. She teaches physical education at Holy Assumption in West Allis and at St. Luke's in Brookfield. During the summers, she teaches swimming for the Milwaukee Public Schools. Her address is 2116 N. 89th St., Wauwatosa.

Barbara L. Fox, '81, performed the lead in the Nicolet College performances of Gilbert & Sullivan's "The Mikado" and "The Pirates of Penzance." She also sings with the Bel Canto Chorale. Barbara lives at 1105 Superior St., Antigo.

Brenda Byron, '81, has taken a one-year's leave of absence from her duties as extension home economist in Langlade County to return to UW-SP to earn her master's degree in home economics.

Daniel M. Mills, '81, received his law degree from Ohio Northern University in May. He lives in Canton, Ohio.

Jay W. Peterson, '81, moved to Colorado last year. He hopes to open an outdoor specialties shop soon, selling items such as sailboards, mountain bikes, and hiking and climbing equipment. Currently he is manager of Happy Trails Mountaineering, Leadville. He says he is single and loving it. He lives at 906 E. Sixth, Box 681, Leadville, Colo.

Nancy Miles, '81, and her husband, Steve Schneider, have a son, Rory. Nancy is a speech-language therapist for Sun Prairie Schools. They live at 5014 Ironwood Drive, Madison.

Gary Van Rixel, '81, owns and operates a business with co-founder Thom Hayes, called "Pro Sports Relocation, Inc." Their service is designed to help professional athletes and coaches sell their homes in one city and buy a new one in another. Less than a year old, they have already relocated Dave Archer, backup quarterback for the Atlanta Falcons, as well as a couple of assistant NFL coaches, and recently worked with 13 draft choices from the NFL, including Darryl Sims. He and his wife, Katherin (Faust), '81, live at 4611 Crescent Road, Apt. 2, Madison. She is employed with Mid Plains Communication, Inc.

Michael Jacobsen, '81, was featured in a one-person show at UW-SP's Edna Carlsten Gallery. Now living in San Diego, Calif., the painter also has shown his work at the Milwaukee Art Museum, the Wustum Museum in Racine and the Tadashi Suezumi Gallery in Kobe, Japan.

Sam Smith, '81, and his wife, Margie Lang, '81, reside at 4229 Cherbourg Drive, St. Louis, Mo., with their two children. He is employed at the Defense Mapping Agency at the Aerospace Center. They say that they would love to hear from old Nelson Hall roommates.

Patricia D. Rodgers, '81, (master's degree) is the first full-time general manager of the Fox Valley Symphony Association. After graduation, she taught in Stevens Point area schools and worked as manager of the Central Wisconsin Symphony Orchestra. She resides at 4006 First St.

Bill Zuiker, '81, is the new assistant basketball coach at Illinois State University. A member of the Pointer basketball team for four years, he was assistant basketball coach at Abbotsford High School for two years, then went on to earn a master's degree at UW-Madison where he was a graduate assistant on the Badgers' basketball staff.

Mary (Jaworski) Wick, '81, is an occupation services supervisor for Work Adjustment Services in Neenah and also is doing graduate work at UW-Oshkosh. Her husband, David Wick, '84, is a senior computer programmer for Aid Association for Lutherans in Appleton. The couple lives at 818 Hawthorne Drive, Appleton.

Stephanie A. (Sautner) Hilgemann, '81, teaches private piano after spending two years as a fourth grade teacher. Her husband, Chris, is an electrical engineer for Mayo Clinic, Rochester. They have two sons. The family resides at 4116 Second St., NW, Rochester, Minn.

Earl Vanderwielen, '81, and his wife, Barbara (Sadowski), '80, have a daughter, Lindsey. He is assistant mall manager for Jacobs Vision's Jamestown Mall, Florissant, Mo. She is a full-time mother. The family resides at 11027 Mollerus Drive, Apt. 305, St. Louis, Mo.

Thomas Duening, '81, and his wife, Charlene (Boettcher) Duening, '80, reside at 1209 Gibbs Ave., St. Paul, Minn. He recently received a master's degree in philosophy from the University of Minnesota and is pursuing a Ph.D. in higher education. He is employed as managing editor of the monthly Transmission/Distribution Health and Safety Report. She is a full-time mother, caring for their two daughters.

Kelly (Heffernon) Simkowski, '81, is an advertising assistant with the Catholic Herald Newspaper. Her husband, Jeff, is a geotechnical engineer at Warzyn Engineering. They live at 122100 W. Janesville Road, Hales Corners, with their new son.

1980

Robert J. Walther, '80, has received an award of high distinction from The American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. He is living in Eau Claire and is employed as an accounting supervisor for Cray Research, Chippewa Falls.

K. Patrick Weinmann, '80, is employed at Methodist Hospital in Indianapolis as a human resources associate. His responsibilities include employee/employer relations and handling grievances for more than 900 staff members. He says he loves his job! His address is 5403 Fallwood Drive, Indianapolis, Ind.

Members of the class of 1936 held a 50th reunion on campus in June.

Debra (Leuman) Gagnon, '80, is finishing work toward a master's degree in administration and supervision from UW-Milwaukee and is employed as a fifth grade teacher for Oconto Falls School District. Her husband, John, is employed by Drews Trucking. They live at 128 Oakwood Court, Oconto Falls.

Michael Serchen, '80, is midwest regional manager with National Development and Investment, Inc. His responsibilities include overseeing eight midwestern states, training of investment brokers, investors seminars, and financial planning techniques. He also is a certified financial planner candidate. He resides at 2975 S. 128th St., New Berlin.

Dale Aumann, '80, has been named manager of Bank-A-Count Corporation's newly-created coupon book division. He will direct promotional and manufacturing aspects of a new line of products designed for savings account applications at banks and savings and loans.

Mark Brzeskiewicz, '80, has joined Park Falls State Bank. He and his wife, Marjory, have two sons, Jacob and Peter, and expect their third child this summer.

Jill L. (Ewald) Bolin, '80, is head of the science department at Tenaha High School. She and her husband, Joel D. Bolin, '80, live in Carthage, Texas. Their address is Box 1144.

Sara G. LaBorde, '80, who is employed by the Oklahoma Wildlife Department, conducted a workshop for Oklahoma teachers last summer. Called Project Wild, the program's emphasis was on teaching subjects through activities that focus on wildlife. The instruction is effective in both environmental camps and in the classroom. Sara's address is Dept. of Wildlife Conservation, 1801 N. Lincoln, Box 53465, Oklahoma City, Okla.

Donna Doll-Yogerst, '80, completed her master's degree at UW-Madison in consumer science last year. She was promoted to associate professor with tenure at the Cooperative Extension Service, University of Wisconsin-Oconto County Family Living Unit. Her husband, Gerry, is a capacity planning specialist for Wisconsin Public Service. They live at 5021 Oak Orchard Road, Abrams.

Kay (Saltzman) Gilbertson, '80, is in her sixth year as a speech/language clinician for Pecatonica Area Schools. Her husband, Robin, is a dairy farmer. Their address is Route 1, Box 162, Barneveld.

Warren C. Jacob, '80, is a real estate attorney representing institutional lenders and investors for Adams, Duque and Hazeltine. He and his wife, Karen, had their first child, Katie. They live at 3861 Filion Drive, Los Angeles.

Connie L. (Foye) Jonett, '80, is employed as an English teacher at Stratford High School. She also is cheerleader adviser and swing choir choreographer. She and her husband, Alan, have two sons. They live on an 80-acre hobby farm. Their address is Route 1, Box 133A, Chili.

Anne E. Okonek, '80, completed her master's degree in resource economics at Michigan State University. She is now working on the Hiawatha National Forest out of the Rapid River Ranger District office. She says she just became a homeowner and plans on calling the Upper Peninsula home for a while. She resides at 3918 E. River Lane, Cornell.

Scott A. Reinhard, '80, received his master's degree from UW-Green Bay in environmental science. He is completing his final year at Hamline Law School and is employed as legal assistant to the Minnesota State Senate's Agriculture and Natural Resources Committee. He lives at 981 N. St. Albans, Apt. 108, St. Paul, Minn.

Daniel A. Nedrelo, '80, a freelance outdoor photographer, artist, writer and lecturer, spent several years studying reptiles and amphibians. He worked for the Milwaukee Public Museum doing research in Missouri and the Dominican Republic and for the Army at Fort McCoy. His address is Railroad Ave., Viroqua.

Ronald L. Allen, '80, completed his internship at Mount Sinai Medical Center, Milwaukee. Currently he is in the ophthalmology residency program at Milwaukee's Eye Institute. He lives at 2159 N. 60th St., Milwaukee.

Beverly Y. Yelczyn, '80, is a faculty member at Oregon State University working as a forest research assistant. Married to Fred Culpepper, a surveyor, she says she loves the Pacific northwest, the virgin Douglas firs, skiing, backpacking and the Oregon coast, but she misses the electricity of Wisconsin autumn foliage.

Allen J. Pauli, '80, is a kindergarten teacher for West Bend (Wis.) Joint School District No. 1. He received his master's degree from the National College of Education, Evanston. He and his wife, Ann M. (Hurtgen), '77, have five children. They live at 5210 Hwy. 45 South, West Bend.

Glenn Stoddard, '80, is executive director of the Wisconsin Land Conservation Association, a statewide organization representing county land conservation committees.

Jon A. Stika, '80, is a district conservationist with the USDA Soil Conservation Service for Griggs and Steele counties. He and his wife, Evalea, have two children, Virginia and Tanner. The family's address is Box 503, Cooperstown, N. D.

Leo Pieri, '80, has recently been promoted to advertising director of the St. Cloud Daily Times. His wife, Sue (Lamb) Pieri, '82, is a medical technologist. Their address is 1205 13th St. N., St. Cloud, Minn.

Kristen (Duerr) Neustadter, '80, and Gary Neustadter, '82, live at 4310 Knuell St., Manitowoc, with their new son. She teaches instrumental music in the Manitowoc Public Schools and he is music supervisor for the Two Rivers Public Schools.

Jeffrey Timm, '80, is self-employed in the dairy farming industry. He and his wife, Kathryn, recently became parents of a son. They reside at N8704 County M, Menasha.

Carl Rausch, '80, is an industrial engineer with Wisconsin Tissue Mills, Inc. His address is 996 3rd St., Apt. D2, Menasha. He says that he would like to know what some of his former classmates are doing.

Eric J. Hahrel, '80, finished his internship at the Milwaukee County Mental Health Complex in August. This assignment and completing his dissertation are the last requirements to earn his Ph.D. in clinical psychology from St. Louis University. His address is Box 231, Genoa City.

1979

James Knuteson, '79, is currently working on research for mined land reclamation at North Dakota State University where he is employed as a soil scientist. He and his wife, Jean Knuteson, '76, live at 3601 E. Regent, Bismark, N. D.

Beth Ahorner, '79, has relocated to Lima, Ohio, where she is an interior designer for Health Care and Retirement Corp. of America. Her address is 639 Columbia Drive, Apt. 10.

Lori (Kohn) DeLoaf, '79, and her husband, Jim, have built their second home. She has been teaching at Lake Forest Country Day Care for eight years. He owns an auto care business. They and their daughter reside at 302 Seafarer Drive, Grayslake, Ill.

Tracy Feldman, '79, has finished a master's degree and has returned to St. Louis to continue teaching and to develop environmental education programs. She is a science teacher at Maplewood-Richmond High School. Her address is 2115 Russell, St. Louis, Mo.

Mark Kryshak, '79, and Jodi Engum Kryshak, '79, live at 158 Pond, Amherst, with their two sons. He is a band teacher at Waupaca High School. She is business manager for the Central Wisconsin Symphony Orchestra, current president of the Tomorrow River Fine Arts Council and a member of the steering committee of the Tomorrow River Festival of the Arts.

Dawn (Kaufman) Foster, '79, and her husband, Matt Foster, '79, live at 1052 W. Wisconsin St., Portage, with their two daughters. Dawn reports that after seven years of traveling they have settled in Portage and bought their first home. Matt is an assistant manager at K-Mart.

Betsy (Bowen) LeClair, '79, and her husband, Joe, recently purchased the Cool City Motel in Two Rivers where they reside with their son and daughter. Their address is 3009 Lincoln Ave., Two Rivers.

David Ladick, '79, is a charter member of the Heart of Wisconsin Chapter of the National Association of Accountants. He was appointed director of employment and special activities. He also is pursuing his MBA degree at UW-Oshkosh. David is accounting manager for Basic American Foods, Plover. He and his wife, Mary, live at 205 S. Roberts, Vesper.

Karna (Peterson) Cowles, '79, received her master's degree in vocational education from UW-Stout. She is a home economics teacher for the Appleton Public Schools. She and her husband, Rick, are expecting their first child. They reside at 1119 W. Commercial St., Appleton.

John E. Steuber, '79, is employed as a wildlife biologist for Clive Runnells Enterprises, a ranch complex of 50,000 acres in south Texas. His wife, Leanna, is a department store supervisor. Their address is Route 1, Box 207, Bay City, Texas.

Cheryl A. Zocher, '79, owns and operates a 360-acre dairy farm with her husband, Dennis. They have three children, Jason, Samantha Jo, and Christina. Cheryl also has been a substitute teacher at Athens Grade School and has taught aerobic dance during the spring months. Their address is 7444 County Hwy A, Athens.

1978

Mary Lou Koch, '78, was named assistant director of admissions at Milwaukee School of Engineering. In addition, she has served on the executive board of the State Association of College Admissions Counselors and was named newsletter editor for the association. She also was selected as an Outstanding Young Woman of America for 1985, an honors organization which recognizes the talents, abilities and successes of exceptional young women.

Paul Schlecht, '78, was promoted to field development supervisor for Milwaukee Metro Sewerage. His wife, Mary, received a master's degree in accounting from UW-Milwaukee and passed her CPA exam last year. They live at 7400 Devonshire, Greendale.

Jeffrey E. Thiel, '78, is a personnel manager for Kraft, Inc. His wife, Grace, also employed by Kraft, is a senior bacteriologist. They live at 2065 S. Hillcrest, Springfield, Mo.

Frank D. Carlson, '78, has been employed for the past six years by the Rhinelander Paper Co. as a process technician. He owns 91 acres of woodlands near Rhinelander that he manages for wildlife habitat and timber production. He also is a member of the American Tree Farm, Wisconsin Woodland Owners. He would appreciate hearing from other UW-SP graduates. Frank says he is still single after all these years. His address is 3198 Cottage Road, Rhinelander.

Ronald R. Dudley, '78, is a quality controller for Martin Marietta Denver Aerospace. He was married last summer and several UW-SP alumni attended. He and his wife live at 2903 W. Bryant, Littleton, Colo.

Anne Wendt, '78, has been named director of training for Budgetel Inns, Inc. She and her husband, Ray, had been co-managers of the Campus Inn in Baraboo when they entered the manager training program with Budgetel. On completion of training, they were assigned as co-managers of the Budgetel Inn in Manitowoc and early this year were reassigned to the new Milwaukee West unit.(PIX)

Maureen Whelan, '78, was awarded the Doctor of Optometry degree at Illinois College of Optometry in Chicago.

William R. Newhouse, '78, has been appointed sales representative to the Cincinnati sales district by Thilmany Pulp and Paper Company of Kaukauna. He has been with the company since 1978, most recently in Marinette.

Denny B. Strong, '78, is a baker's helper at Cirilli's Super Valu. He says he has overcome eating disorders similar to anorexia nervosa and bulimia. He lives at 740 Lake Shore Drive, Rhinelander.

Judy C. Zimmerman, '78, is teaching early childhood exceptional education in the Antigo School District. Her husband, Garth Zimmerman, '77, is teaching sixth grade in the Wittenberg-Birnamwood School District. They have moved to 325 Lincoln St., Antigo.

Charles M. Woodley, '78, is Chesapeake Bay Fisheries coordinator for the Department of the Interior, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, Annapolis. He is a service representative for fisheries restoration and research. He and his wife, Julie, live at 1606 Pincay Court, Annapolis, Md.

John E. Fralick, '78, is a police officer in Iowa County. His address is 306 E. Walnut, Dodgeville.

Arthur M. Hokanson, '78, has been promoted to district property loss manager by American Family Insurance, Milwaukee. He and his wife, Carol, have one child. They live at 4122 S. Pine Ave., Milwaukee.

1977

Monica (Juds) Russell, '77, is director of the U.S. Army Administration School located at Fort Jackson, S. C., with a yearly training load of 7,000 soldiers. Her husband, Mike, is employed at Fort Jackson as attorney for contracts and labor relations. They and their daughter, Heather, live at 209 Windwood Drive, Elgin, S. C.

Todd Dillmann, '77, a corporate attorney for Snap-On Tools Corp., and his wife, Mary, have a son, Martin Roger, born last September. They live at 5108 Park Place, Wind Point, Racine.

Christy A. (Bubolz) Viltz, '77, received her master's degree in resource management from the University of Minnesota. Her husband, Robert, is an associate professor with UW-Extension, Burnett County. Their address is Box 282, Webster.

Sheri A. Nystrom, '77, is account manager for a contract furniture and interior design company in Minneapolis. Her address is 10721 Smetana Road, Apt. 217, Minnetonka, Minn.

Gary L. Speckmann, '77, is executive director for the Jackson County Conservation Board, managing 24 county recreation areas along the Mississippi River. He and his wife, Kathleen, have two boys. Their address is Route 3, Box 161, Bellevue, Iowa.

Dale Mierow, '77, is building homes and working on other construction in the Milwaukee area after spending seven years working with Campus Crusade for Christ at UW-SP. He and his wife, Brenda, have one son, Austin. They reside at 18910 North Hillid.

Rita (Ziegelbauer) Heidbrink, '77, graduated with a master of social work degree with mental health specialization from the University of Minnesota. She is a child protection assessment social worker for Washington County Social Services. Her husband, Chuck, is an administrator for Maple Manor Health Care Center. They reside at 1234 Third Ave. S, Stillwater, Minn.

Lorie J. Shulstad, '77, is president of the Minnesota Speech Language Hearing Association. She is a special education administrator, employed by Meeker And Wright Special Education Cooperative. She lives at 265 Candlestick Creek, Annandale, Minn.

William J. Zielinski, '77, is a Ph.D. student and instructor in the zoology department at North Carolina State University. His research topic is the predatory behavior of carnivores. He and his wife, Melissa, can be reached at the Zoology Department, North Carolina University, Raleigh, N. C.

Kit Harrison, '77, is currently in private practice as a clinical psychologist in Houston, Texas, where his address is 2915 Linkwood.

Karen Snyder, '77, has been an air traffic controller for three years at Orange County Airport. Her new hobby is scuba diving, including a recent trip to Cozumel, Mexico for diving. She says she is still active in all sports and is working toward completing a triathlon soon. She lives at 27272 Eastridge, El Toro, Calif.

Walt Halverson, '77, has been on the Tomahawk Public School staff since February, 1967. He and his wife, Carol, have three children.

Richard MacNerlan, '77, is a correctional treatment specialist with the Federal Bureau of Prisons. He resides with his wife, Tia, and their two sons at 1 Lakeview Terrace, Saranac Lake, N. Y.

Patrick Durst, '77, has been named special projects coordinator for the Forestry Support Program of the USDA Forest Service. Since 1985 he has been with the Forest Service at the Southeastern Forest Experiment Station in Research Triangle Park, N. C., where he conducted research. Formerly he did two years of agroforestry extension work with the Peace Corps in the Philippines, as well as a year spent as a Fulbright Grantee in that country. He can be contacted through Ronn Marcelais Fearrington, Box 29, Pittsboro, N.C.

Steven F. Kingsbury, '77, and his wife, Gail, who attended UW-SP, have celebrated their ninth wedding anniversary. They have two children, David and Emilie. The family lives at 3915 Oliver Ave., Indianapolis, Ind.

Cynthia Boeckman, '77, received her master's degree in textile and apparel marketing from the University of Illinois. She presented a paper excerpted from her thesis at the American Marketing Association's International Conference, "Emerging Frontiers," held in Singapore in June. She resides at 1904 S. Vine, Champaign, Ill.

Gwen (Nesvold) Gilles, '77, is a teacher. Her husband, James, is manager of Gilles Frozen Custard. Their daughter, Molly Anne, was born in 1984. The family lives at 97 E. Seventh St., Fond du Lac.

Carol A. (Lorrig) Korth, '77, is a homemaker. She lives with her husband, Curtis, and their two children, Jessica and Jimmy, on a dairy and beef farm at Route 3, Box 518, Clintonville.

Jeanne (Niquette) Mease, '77, is an art teacher for Denmark Community Schools. She and her husband, Brian, who is a manager at Kentucky Fried Chicken, recently became the parents of a daughter. They live at Route 2, Box 231E, Denmark.

Janice (Trachte) Zettler, '77, is a medical technologist at the Marshfield Medical Center. Her husband, Jay, works at Bauman Auto. They reside at 2312 Anton Court, Marshfield, with their two sons.

Kim Koch, '77, designer and goldsmith, had a neck piece included in a show entitled "All That Glitters: Personal Ornaments" in connection with "Objects of Adornment," a jewelry exhibition at the Milwaukee Art Museum.

1976

Jean (McMahon) Bettenhavsinn, '76, is a publications production manager for the American Oil Chemists' Society in Champaign. She was appointed to the board of the Executive Club of Champaign County and is active in the Ad Club. She and her husband, Ken, recently had their second child. They live at 1309 S. Western, Champaign, Ill.

Peter Stortz, '76, is director of the state 4-H center, Upham Woods, located on Juneau County Hwy. N. The facility is operated by the UW-Extension.

Jeff Wedeward, '76, was named vice president and group supervisor of the Industrial Products Group at Bader Rutter & Associates.

Thomas W. Johnson, '76, graduated first in his class from the UW-Madison law school last May. He is now employed as an attorney at Foley and Lardner, Milwaukee. His address is 777 E. Wisconsin Ave., Milwaukee.

Georgett (Hurst) Hensley, '76, is a securities specialist for Valley National Mortgage. She and her husband, David, a civil engineer, have a son, Adam. They reside at 1225 N. 41st St., Phoenix, Ariz.

Christin M. Perszyk, '76, is an auditor/trainer with Aetna Insurance. She has been a Girl Scout leader for eight years and is working with her fourth troop this year, a senior group in West Allis. Her other main interests include camping, motorcycling, listening to "the blues" and animals—she has a dog, two cats and a rabbit. She lives at 962 N. 26th St., Milwaukee.

Ronald Lange, '76, and his wife, Patricia, and sons Steven and Christopher, have settled in Eau Claire where Ron is in private practice as an ophthalmologist with Chippewa Valley Eye Clinic, Ltd. He completed his M.D. at the Medical College of Wisconsin, Milwaukee. He also did subspecialty training through a medical retina fellowship at UW-Madison, emphasizing laser treatment of diseases of the retina. Patricia is an R.N. - adult nurse practitioner. The family lives at 1023 Cumming Ave., Eau Claire.

Inese Christman, '76, has been named assistant librarian by the International Foundation of Employee Benefit Plans. She is a member of the Special Libraries Association, currently serving as president of the Wisconsin Chapter. She lives at 6260 S. Lake Drive, Apt. 707, Cudahy.

Barbara (Broeren) Schneider, '76, and her husband, Charles, are the parents of a son. She is a secretary for the family's business, Schneider Construction. The family lives at 6079 Hwy. Y, Hazelhurst.

Robert Tegeler, '76, was selected for the survey leader position with Jo Davies Co. in northwestern Illinois. He and his wife, Gayle, reside at 411 W. Main, Morrison.

Bruce J. Blohowiak, '76, is general counsel (attorney) for Metropolitan Mortgage and Securities Co., Inc. His wife, Theresa, works for The Bon Marche. They have one son, Ben, and another child born in June. Bruce says he would like to hear from college friends. They live at N. 10011 Arrowhead Drive, Spokane, Wash.

Ross D. Rohde, '76, and his wife, Sara, are in Alaska. He is program director of Straight, a national treatment program for adolescent drug and alcohol abusers.

Bruce Wulff, '76, was selected by his peers to receive the "Highest Achievement Award," when he finished the Dale Carnegie course in Chicago. He is an accountant for AT&T Communications. He lives at 310 S. Edgewood, La Grange, Ill.

An artist on the porch of the Fine Arts Center with the Albertson Learning Resources Center (library) in the background.

Lee Bouche, '76, is employed in the employee assistance program for Bellin Memorial Hospital. His wife, Mary (Calawerts) Bouche, '79, is a field representative for the Lake Michigan-Winnebago Area Agency on Aging. Their address is 609 S. Clay St., Green Bay.

Mark Huempfer, '76, is logging operations manager for Schroeder Logging. His wife, Melanie, is an administrative assistant at UW-Marinette. They reside at Route 2, Box 164 DD, Wausaukee, with their new son.

Sandra (Hollander) Andersen, '76, is an art teacher in the Onalaska Public Schools. Her husband, Garry, is a mechanical engineer with American Standard Corp. Parents of a daughter, they reside at 2734 Longview Court, La Crosse.

James J. Buchholz, '76, is the new park superintendent at Kohler/Andrae State Parks. He has worked for the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources for the past 10 years. He and his wife, Kathy, live at Route 3, Beach Park Lane, Sheboygan.

Thomas A. Jacobs, '76, is a forester at Badger Paper Mills, Inc. He and his wife, Leslyn, and their son, Ben, live in Peshtigo.

Christopher Davis, '76, has been named director of telecommunication services for Rexnord, Brookfield. He is a director of the Wisconsin Telecommunications Association and the Wisconsin Rolm Users Group. He lives at 3621 E. Van Norman, Cudahy.

Frank Ruswick, Jr., '76, is executive director of West Michigan Environmental Action Council, Grand Rapids, Mich.

Curtis L. Brouwer, '76, has been promoted to tax specialist in the Charlotte office of Peat, Marwick, Mitchell & Co., an international professional accounting firm.

Scott Zoellick, '76, and Gerald Gadamus, '74, friends and colleagues, are among the top 10 best-selling new artists in the state. Gadamus is a pioneer among wildlife artists in the use of freehand airbrush, using no hand brushes or stencils. He lives at 321 Victoria St., Green Bay. Zoellick won the 1987 design competition for the Wisconsin trout stamp and Great Lakes salmon and trout stamp. He and his wife, Sally (Warren) Zoellick, '77, live at 2230 N. 69th St., Wauwatosa. She is a physical education teacher at Greenfield Middle School.

1975

Ronald Tomczyk, '75, is an accountant at Nekoosa Papers, Inc. He recently received his master's degree in business administration from East Texas State University.

Patrick T. Ruesch, '75, who lives in the town of Vesper, is a painter during the winter and a dairy farmer year round. His acrylic painting of a large, antlered deer was selected by Whitetails Unlimited as the 1986 Commemorative Print of the Year. There are 950 of the prints available.

Kathleen A. Ley, '75, has become a data communications specialist and currently serves as a senior consultant for Wang Laboratories, Inc., at its Green Bay offices. Kathleen's work has taken her 2,000 feet underground to set up a data processing system for a new copper mining operation in the Upper Peninsula of Michigan to the Experimental Aircraft Association Show in Oshkosh to create a data communication network for the world's largest gathering of people interested in experimental aircraft. She has previously been director of marketing for a software firm with offices in Green Bay and Cincinnati and was in technical consulting for AT&T, Control Data and Burroughs Corp. Her address is Box 251, De Pere, (PIX)

Jim Mathers, '75, is a family physician for Medical Associates in Baraboo. His wife, Rita, is a junior at UW-Madison studying elementary education and psychology. Their address is Route 2 Neuman Road, Box 260-A, Baraboo.

Carol Emmons, June Leary and Christina Rupsch, '75, were reunited for their third art show at UW-SP this fall. They previously exhibited on campus in 1975 and 1976. The theme was "Passage of Time," with each dealing with the element of time in their mixed media works. Emmons is a visiting instructor in the UW-SP art department this year. Leary lives in Minneapolis and works as the assistant director of the Minnesota Motion Picture and Television Board. Rupsch is involved in vocational rehabilitation and special education in Portsmouth, Va.

Jeffrey L. Van Dien, '75, is working towards an MBA in marketing/sales at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor. He is employed by The Hanes Corp. as midwest area sales and operations manager. He says he and his family love Michigan, but it's always great to come back to the "Point." They reside at 32005 Nottingwood, Farmington Hill.

John Glennon, '75, received the Haskell Noyes Award for outstanding work in the field of natural resource law enforcement, the highest honor that a field warden can receive. He is stationed at Bong Recreation Area. John, his wife, June, and their children live in New Munster.

Birgit (Sawatzki) Fries, '75, is employed as a rehabilitation specialist with Intracorp in Rockford. Her husband, John, is employed with Car-X Service Systems as a franchise manager in Chicago. They have two daughters, Erin and Renee. The family lives at 1112 Harvard Lane, Buffalo Grove, Ill.

Ken Letko, '75, is a lecturer at Bowling Green University in Ohio. He spent a year in China teaching writing in the English Department of the Xian Foreign Language Institute.

Dennis Kugle, '75, was promoted to the position of hydrologist with the Department of Natural Resources, hazardous waste section. He works with the Federal Superfund Program and the Wisconsin Environmental Repair Fund which deals with the clean-up of abandoned solid waste sites. He also is attending classes at UW-Madison in geology and hydrology. His wife, Nancy, is head teacher for Monona Grove Nursery School. They live at 205 W. Dean Ave., Monona.

Karen (Ansary) McCulloch, '75, is a home economics teacher at Coon Rapids High School. Her husband, Michael, is a computer systems manager at Medtronic. They reside at 1454 Creek Park Lane, Fridley, Minn., with their son.

Evelyn J. Bruegel, '75, received her master's degree from UW-River Falls. Her husband, Robert, is employed by Wisconsin Indianhead Technical Institute. Their address is Route 1, Box 192C, Prescott.

James S. Jensen, '75, and his wife, Ruth, are teachers at Calvary Baptist Church. They have two daughters. They live at 317 E. Columbus, Bellefontaine, Ohio.

Mary (Vandertie) Hauke, '75, was selected department head of K-12 physical education and health for Kettle Moraine Schools. She and her husband, John, have a son, Matthew. John is employed by Continental Insurance. They live at 625 Hartridge Drive, Hartland.

1974

Kathryn (Potthoff) Hoover, '74, and her husband, Greg Hoover, '74, have moved to Nassau, the Bahamas, where Greg is general manager of the South Ocean Beach Hotel and Golf Club. They have a son, Jesse. Their address is South Ocean Beach Hotel, Box N 8191, Nassau, Bahamas. (Airmail only.)

William Pelke, '74, was the recipient of the International Award of Excellence from General Electric, where he is employed as a sales manager. His prize was a trip to Belgium, the Netherlands, Britain and Germany. His sales territory includes Alaska, Hawaii and the Northwest. He says he enjoys the lack of snow and the abundance of seafood and good times. His address is 331 Andover Park E, Seattle, Wash.

Russell S. Taira, '74, left a 10-year career in banking to pursue a career in insurance sales and is employed as an insurance agent for First Insurance Co. of Hawaii. His wife, Wanda, is a secretary for Kapalua Land Company. They have two daughters, Jamie and Nicole. They live at 374 Maalo St., Kahului, Hawaii.

Tom Harelson, '74, was promoted to district law enforcement staff specialist by the Department of Natural Resources. He and his wife, Patricia, and their three daughters, Melissa, Angela and Kelly, live in Oregon, Wis.

Peter G. Kohnen, '74, was promoted to district director for the Central Wisconsin District Office of the Farmers Home Administration. He and his wife, Sue, have a daughter, Tracy, and two sons, Ben and Shane. They live in Stevens Point and own and operate a small farm outside Wisconsin Rapids.

Kathy (Kern) Baumann, '74, is a teacher of the deaf at Louisville Deaf Oral School. Her husband, Hal, is a physician at the University of Louisville Department of Internal Medicine. They have two children, Dave and Sara. The family lives at 1831 Edgeland Ave., Louisville, Ky.

Kerry S. Bartelt, '74, has been named supervisor of recreational activities at Dana Harbor Aquatics Center. She is a park ranger for Orange County and lives at 33841 Street of the Silver Lantern, Dana Point, Calif.

Sharon L. (Schindler) Holland, '74, finished her master's degree this summer. She and her husband, Thomas, who owns CarWorld Automotive, have a son, also named Thomas. The family lives at 3210 Linwood Springs, Stevens Point.

Robert J. Roessler, '74, is a sales representative for Wang Laboratories. His wife, Christine (Murphy) Roessler, '74, is a secretary for the U.S. Government - Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms. They expect their first child in October. They live at 8041 N. Cedarburg Road, Brown Deer.

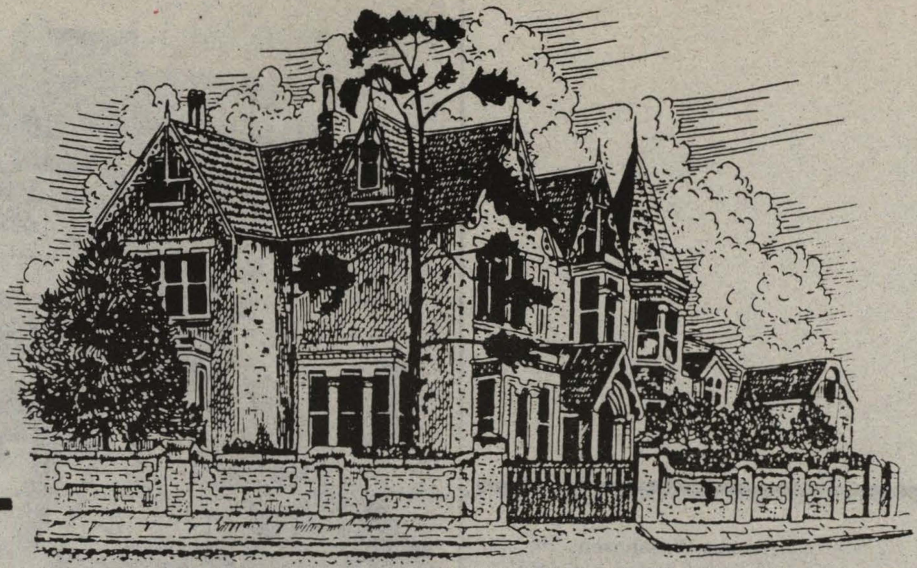

Phyllis Blazkowski, '74, has received the John Steuart Curry Medal, the most prestigious award given by the Wisconsin Regional Artists' Association. She was the founder and driving force behind the Lakeland Art League since its beginning in 1965. She and her husband, Ted, live in Woodruff, where their address is Box 22.

Cheryl (Kristoff) Dondlinger, '74, and her husband, David, are avid runners. She is a homemaker and salesperson. He is an independent insurance agent for Security Insurance, Brookfield. They live with their three children at 5802 W. Wisconsin Ave., Milwaukee.

Kevin Hampton, '74, has been appointed capital equipment buyer for Miller High Life Genuine Draft. He joined Miller in 1979 as corporate materials control coordinator in the operations division.

Diane (Pleuss) Wadzinski, '74, is sales manager at WIXX Radio in Green Bay. She is currently listed in "Who's Who Among American Women." Her address is 2922 Waubenoer Drive, Green Bay.

Barbara (Rackow) Findley, '74, recently received a master's degree in curriculum and instruction from UW-Milwaukee. She is a German teacher in the Waukesha School District. Her husband, John, works at Findley Adhesives, Inc. They reside at 9618 Ridge Blvd., Wauwatosa.

LONDON FRIENDSHIP CENTRE, (IFL), 3 CRESWICK ROAD, ACTON, LONDON W3 9HE.

Semester in England alums reunite

UW-SP graduates who participated in the Semester Abroad Program in England 15 years ago had a reunion this summer. The event was held Sat., July 12, at Iverson Park in Stevens Point. Those who attended include: Professor Emeritus Pauline Isaacson, professor of communication and director of international programs at the time of the trip; and Professor Emeritus David B. Stafford, former chair of the sociology-anthropology department at UW-SP, his wife, Maude, and their son, Paul. Stafford served as teacher-administrator for the group and Mrs. Stafford was assistant counselor. The couple took their son, who was 15 at the time, with them on the trip;

Michael Kruger, '72, and Sandra (Schiedermayer) Kruger, '72, one of two couples who met on the trip and were later married. He is the forest administrator for Sawyer County and she is an executive secretary. They live with their two children at Route 8, Box 8400, Hayward;

Fran (Wagner) Vollrath, '72, a fourth grade teacher at Mosinee Middle School. Her husband, Marc, works for the Stevens Point Parks and Recreation Department. They reside with their two children at 1308 Fourth Ave., Stevens Point;

Rick Nettesheim, '72, who lives with his wife, Nancy, and their two children at 601 E. 5th Ave., Brodhead. He works for Sears;

Jean (Baumgarten) Kostuchowski, '72, who describes herself as a rummage sale junkie. She is the mother of two children, with a third baby due in November. Her husband, Paul, works at Sentry Insurance. They live at 806 Easlan Drive, Plover;

Rick Pendergast, '72, the financial administrator at Pius XI High School. His wife, Marykay, is a chef at Le Picnic. They are expecting their first child in November. The couple resides at 824 Eula Court, Glendale;

Jeanne (Rorge) Dibble, '72, who received a master's degree in 1974 from Western Kentucky University. Her husband, John, is a microbiologist. They have three children and live at 2804 Memphis Ave., Nederland, Texas;

Joan (Meyer) Kellogg, '72, who received a master's degree in 1974 from the University of Iowa. She is a copy editor and her husband, Charlie, is a salesman. They live at 22 Apollo Place, 1700 Scott Blvd., Iowa City, Iowa, with their three children;

April Kain-Breese, '72, who received a master's degree from UW-Madison in 1973. She and her husband, John, are both librarians. They reside at 2425 Cortland Drive, Appleton, with their daughter;

Todd Anderson, '72, who taught eighth grade English and history for three years in Oregon, Wis., before attending UW-Madison Medical School. After receiving his medical degree in 1983, he served a residency in internal medicine in Phoenix. He is now working for the Indian Health Service on the Pima Indian Reservation in Sacaton, Ariz. His address is 2020 N. 32nd St., Apt. 312, Phoenix, Ariz.;

Joan (Bauhs) Rudolph, '72, who lives in Davenport, Wash., a small town west of Spokane. Her husband, Robin, is a general contractor. She works part time and enjoys her hobbies of drawing, painting and gardening. Her address is Box 888;

Mary A. Mastaglio, '73, a bilingual teacher. She lives at 614 Fordem Ave., Apt. 217, Madison.

Mary Jo (Patton) Lehman, '72, an English teacher at Stevens Point Area Senior High School. Her husband, John, is director of instruction in New London. They have two children and reside at 8924 Edgewater Drive, Amherst Junction;

Judy (Brux) Boyle, '72, who is pursuing a master's degree in religious education. She and her husband, Larry, reside at N5459 Homestead Drive, Deerbrook, with their two children;

Tim Nickels, '71, an insurance agent for Insurance Service, Inc. He lives with his wife, Gale, and their child at 1409 W. Homestead Drive, Appleton;

David Frisch, '72, a milk farmer. His wife, Katie, is a natural resource and agriculture agent at the UW-Extension. They live at N5209 Rosedale Road, Deerbrook;

Pat (Hummel) Middleton, '72, who lives with her husband, Richard, and their two children at Route 1, Proksch Coulee, Stoddard. He is an insurance salesman;

Ken Jenquin, '72, an assistant service manager with TEC Systems. He and his wife, Judy, live at in Kellnersville with their two children;

Debi (Miller) Williams, '72, a homemaker and mother of two. Her husband, Jim, is a sales representative and general manager for a chemical company. They reside at Route 1, Shady Acre Drive, New London;

Gloria (Schroeder) Marske, '72, who resides with her husband, David, and their three children at 1416 W. Cloverdale Drive, Appleton. He is a claims representative;

Bill Slowik, '72, and Betty (Trowbridge) Slowik, '72, the second pair who met on the trip and were married. The owners of a retail store, they live at 926 North Main St., Oshkosh;

Barbara (Wenzel) Blawat, '74, and William Blawat, '74, reside at 336 Evelyn Ave., Delafield, with their two children and their 13-year-old dog, Reuben, a past friend of many UW-SP alumni. Barbara has been the nutrition program coordinator for the Waukesha Department of Aging for more than seven years. Bill is supervisor at Waukesha County Children's Center, a juvenile facility housing males and females.

Frank J. Koshere, '74, is a water quality biologist for the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources. He and his wife, Roseanne, have a new daughter, Lauren, their third child. Their address is Route 2, Box 2492, Spooner.

Charles A. Krueger, '74, is an assistant professor of management at the Management Institute, School of Business, UW-Madison. His address is 6763 Peaceful Court, Sun Prairie.

Dee R. Dyer, '74, practices law in Appleton. He recently resigned as district attorney in that city, but plans to run for circuit court judge in Outagamie County. He lives with his wife, Lynn, and their two sons at 1401 Homestead Road, Appleton.

1973

Joseph C. Ryder, '73, is a Department of Natural Resources conservation warden for Lincoln County.

Gary Kadlecsek, '73, and his wife, Debra, had their first child, Jessica Ann. He is teaching at Park Falls High School and she is employed by Price County Achievement Center. Their address is Route 2, Box 427, Phillips.

Janet I. (Bartels) Schultz, '73 received her master's degree from Oklahoma State University in rehabilitation counseling last December. She is a consultant with Rehabilitation and Occupational Services. She lives at 807 Janes Court, Stillwater, Okla.

Patricia (Sullivan) Wehrley, '73, and her husband, Steven Wehrley, '71, are teaching in New Glarus and Verona Schools. They have two children, Katie and Mike. They live at 315 Lincoln, Verona.

Harry Colcord, '73, returned to campus recently to present a Young President's Organization seminar for business students. He is the chief operating officer for the Window Fabrication Division of Apogee Enterprises in Wausau.(PIX)

Linda Karen Bliss, '73, is living at 5642 E. Voltaire in Scottsdale, Ariz., where she is the owner of Bliss Insurance.

Michael Tucker, '73, works in the medical records department of Sacred Heart Hospital, Eau Claire. From 1973-76, he taught English in a boys' school in Liverpool, England. His address is 822 11/2 Chippewa St., Eau Claire.

Greg Wescott, '73, is the new principal at Delavan-Darien High School. He lives at 426 Rushmore Lane, Apt. 2, Madison.

1972

Capt. James Miller, '72, has earned a master's degree from the University of Southern California, Los Angeles. He is a navigator instructor with the 4017th combat crew training squadron at Castle Air Force Base, Calif.

Michael C. Blue, '72, has been a hospital controller and is a C.P.A. He has written legislation for nursing homes in Minnesota and Idaho and is currently a teacher at Boise State University, planning to begin studies for a Ph.D. this year. He also is the area missionary of AWANA. He is married to Becky L. (Silbernagel) Blue, '72. They live at 2021 E. Louisiana Ave., Nampa, Idaho.

Gregory J. Koepfel, '72, is self-employed as a potter. After teaching at St. Joseph School in Phlox for nine years, he is now an artist at Evergreen Pottery. He has been exhibiting work at numerous shows around the state. His wife, Vicki, is employed at St. Joseph School. They have two sons and live at W7429 Hwy 47, Antigo.

Mary M. Liedtke, '72, and her husband, Peter J. Thompson, have had their first child, Margrette Kathryn. Mary is a district attorney for Price County. Their address is Box 10, Phillips.

Michael J. Bennett, '72, employed by Appleton Papers, Inc., has been named to the newly created post of group product manager, responsible for noncarbonless paper products. He oversees product management for graphic arts products, nonimpact printing paper and converter grades.

Blane Reichelt, '72, has just concluded his sixth year as one of the 29 National Basketball Association's referees.

Tim Kubiak, '72, has been named Conservationist of the Year by the Wisconsin Wildlife Federation for his work on toxic chemicals and wildlife. He is a field biologist with the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service of Green Bay, and serves on a number of state and federal study groups seeking to regulate hazardous substances. He was instrumental in protecting the Bay Beach Wildlife Sanctuary from consideration as a disposal site for toxic dredge materials. He lives at 3332 Nautical Ave., Milwaukee.

Bruce Lippart, '72, has been a contractor for AERO-Mayflower Transit Co., Indianapolis, Ind., for the past 10 years. He and his wife, Cheryl, live at Route 1, Box 416-0, Adams, with their new son.

Jill Menzel, '72, is a research chemist for Reeves Brothers, Inc., developing new vinyl/vinyl technology. Her address is 131 Singingwoods Lane, Spartanburg, S. C.

Pat (Schaefer) Loewe, '72, is a data processing supervisor. She and her husband, Michael, an electrician, reside at 4013 South Kirkwood, St. Francis.

Bill (Sarge) Schondelmaier, '72, is employed by the Racine Motor Vehicle Department. His wife, Barbara, works in the Social Security office. They live at 801 Apollo Drive, Racine, with their two children.

Diane (Jens) Oswald, '72, has been a full-time homemaker for the past six years and says she enjoys every minute of it. She resides at 1916 Markham, Manitowoc, with her husband, Alan, an office manager, and their two daughters.

Donna (Kaltenberg) Tooley, '72, is an accountant with Kaltenberg Seeds. Her husband, Jim, is a printer. They live at Route 3, Box 229, Lodi.

Sheri (Kutchenriter) Meyer, '72, works for the Kewaunee Nuclear Plant. Her husband, Keith, is employed in the sales department of Ameritech-Bell Advertising. They reside at 5019 Thunder Road, Whitelaw.

Tony Soroko, '72, works for the Army in a civilian capacity. His address is 169 Sig Co. AMIC, Box 96, APO San Francisco, 96218-0184.

Tom Wolf, '72, works in corporate purchasing. He and his wife, Martha, have three children. The family recently moved from Mississippi to 633 Ave. D, Fort Madison, Iowa.

John Wozniak, '72, has received a master's degree in paper science and engineering from the Appleton Institute of Paper Chemistry and is now working toward a Ph.D. During the summers, he has gained industrial experience by working as a research scientist for Kimberly-Clark in Neenah, as a process engineer for a company in Baton Rouge, La., and at the Solar Energy Research Institute in Golden, Colo. His address is 423 S. John St., Kimberly.

Henry M. Runke, '72, has earned a Ph.D. degree from Utah State University in Logan, Utah. He is the son of Professor Henry Runke of the art department at UW-SP.

Larry (Wahleithner) Wahleithner, '72, and Kayle (Roeser) Wahleithner, '74 (master's '81), live on a dairy farm at Star Route, White Lake. They both teach in the White Lake School District. She participated in an exchange teacher program this spring in Marshall, Va., which was sponsored by the Fauquier County, Va., Committee for Excellence in Education.

Lois Buchholz, '72, has been named pastor of the Merrillan-Alma Center-Hixton United Methodist Church. After teaching and working in metallurgy in the Milwaukee area for a number of years, she entered the United Theological Seminary in Dayton, Ohio, graduating in May, 1986.

Arvid Anderson, '72, teaches art at Southern Door High School and in the summer does antique auto body restoration. He and his wife, Kathy, reside at Route 6, 2715 County S, Sturgeon Bay, with their two children.

Sarah (Anderson) Doolittle, '72, is employed by Dean Witter. Her address is 16712 Saybrook Lane, Apt. 320, Huntington Beach, Calif.

John L. Haynes, '72, was recently promoted as assistant to the principal for an Australian school district, a job that requires extensive travel within the district. He lives at Lot 6 Bridgewater, East Seville Road 3139, Victoria, Australia.

1971

Douglas Martin, '71, completed his Ph.D. in fisheries biology at the University of Washington-Seattle, where he received his master's degree. He is employed as a senior biologist by Envirosphere Co., a division of Ebasco Services, Inc. He and his wife, Judy, have five sons and live at 6038 Sycamore Ave. NW, Seattle.

Gary D. Seiler, '71, is an area procurement manager for Lake to Lake, supervising dairy representatives and contract milk haulers. He also has assumed the duties of coordinator of the Young Cooperator organization. He and his wife, Janet, live at Route 2, Box 44, Elkhart Lake.

J. Michael Purpero, '71, is a detective commander of Milwaukee's homicide squad. He also is an adviser to the underwater rescue squad. He and his wife, Christine, have three children. They reside at 3131 S. 41st St., Milwaukee.

Richard J. Disher, '71, is the director of special education for the four school districts of Bristol, Trevor, Riverview and Wheatland in Kenosha County. He also serves as school psychologist for Bristol and Trevor districts. He is working on his doctorate at UW-Madison.

Michael J. Flitter, '71, spent seven years with the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources, then worked for the University of Nevada Extension Service while completing his Ph.D. in environmental education, youth development and land use planning. He lives at 604 2nd Ave., West Bend.

Richard Luebke, '71, is regional director for fisheries research of the Inland Fisheries Branch of the Texas Park and Wildlife Department.

Responsible for supervision of all field staff, he is stationed at the Heart of the Hills Research Station. He and his wife, Karen, live at 1510 Nixon Lane, Kerrville, Texas.

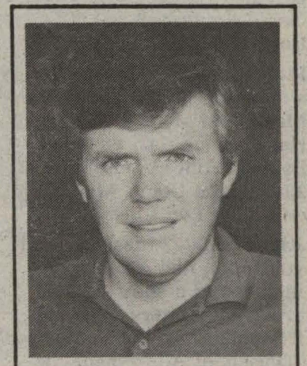

Marlene (Pawl) Learman, '71, and her husband, Robert, have a daughter, Megan Amanda. Marlene is a teacher and department chair at Lakeland High School. Their address is Box 254, Minocqua.

Carl Becker, '71, was recently promoted to chief of the newly reorganized Natural Heritage Division of the Illinois Department of Conservation. After graduation from UW-SP, he earned a master's degree in zoology at Eastern Michigan University. He resides with his wife, Peggy, and their two children in Petersburg, Ill.

David J. Garber, '71, has joined Market Square Communications, a local advertising and marketing firm, as a principal. He and his wife, Ann, live at 5893 Clark St., Stevens Point.

1970

John W. Zoellner, '70, and his wife, Renell M. (Huebner) Zoellner, '68, are residing in Cincinnati, Ohio. She is an attorney at Kohnen and Kohnen. He is senior vice president of the Central Trust Bank.

Jerry McGinley, '70 (master's '77), has published a book of regional poetry entitled "Waupaca County: 7 A.M." The title poem earned the Joyce Webb Award for poetry in 1983 and several of his other works have been featured in area publications. He is currently chair of the English department at DeForest High School. He lives with his wife, the former Gail Hefty, and their two daughters at 101 Seminole, DeForest.

Wayne Olson, '70, recently graduated from Concordia Seminary and was ordained a Lutheran minister. He resides at Box 207, La Ronge, Saskatchewan, where he is pastor of the La Ronge Lutheran Fellowship.

Paul M. Johnson, '70, recently married Leslie Johns. He is employed by National Guardian Life in Madison and resides in Milton.

Frank Haeni, '70, was named Marinette County Conservation Teacher of the Year in 1982 and Wisconsin Environmental Conservation Teacher of the Year in 1983. He is a teacher of high school sciences for the School District of Crivitz. His wife, Kathleen, is employed by Kargard Industries, Marinette. Their address is Route 4, Box 271, Crivitz.

James H. Folz, '70, accepted a call to become the first pastor of Oak Ridge Lutheran Brethren Church in Menomonie last year. He and his wife, Cheryl, live at 505 Sunset Drive, Menomonie.

Judy (Jashinsky) Finfer, '70, had a one-person show at Gallery K in Washington, D.C., last winter, and also was awarded a fellowship at the Virginia Center for the Creative Arts. She is a teacher/artist at Trinity College. She and her husband, Lawrence, live at 1219 C St. SE, Washington, D.C.

Nancy E. (Wisniewski) Matancsi, '70, began a career in sales after having three children. She now has her own business and is an independent agent for an optical company, selling eyeglass frames throughout the state. Her husband, Michael, is employed by Digital Equipment Corp. They live at W276 S3346 Burnell Drive, Waukesha.

Jeff Pagels, '70, severed his spinal cord while cutting a tree in 1984, one week after Homecoming at which he entered every swim event in the Alumni meet. He says being in a wheelchair does not slow him down too much and he still fishes, plays basketball, competes in canoe races and has completed his master's thesis in public administration at UW-Green Bay. He is employed as a community service specialist for the Department of Natural Resources. He and his wife, Jane, live at 1400 Carole Lane, Green Bay.

Charles F. Clow, Jr., '70, is an insurance broker at Davis-Clow Agency. His wife, Karen, is employed at Continental Insurance. They live at 608 West St., Libertyville, Ill.

Marlene (Foreman) Hodgdon, '70, (master's degree, '86) is a kindergarten teacher for Wausau Public schools. She has taught elementary grades for 15 years and has published articles for the magazine "Elementary Economist." She and her husband, Steven, who is a superintendent of printing at James River, live at 4306 Cedar Ave., Schofield.

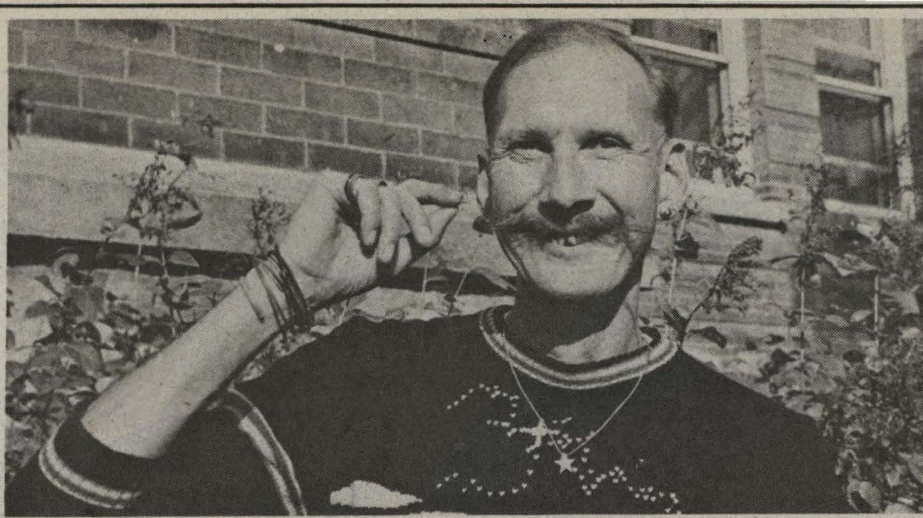

Dan Nordall, '70, has directed the band at Merrill High School since 1979. In 1986 the band won five first-place honors at an international band competition in Winnipeg, Canada. He was selected by Lawrence University for an outstanding teaching award this summer.

1960s

Kent Dale Wilson, '69, is a financial planner associated with New York Life. He and his wife, Ellen, and their two children reside at 2190 Tamarack, Apt. 105, Boulder, Colo.

Richard Laddusire, '69, operates WI-DO-TO campground with his wife, Suzanne, and their four daughters. They live at Route 7, Box 7820, Hayward.

Linda Jean (Wesling) Nugent, '69, works part time for Columbus High School. She and her husband and their two children live at 404 W. Jefferson, Marshfield.

Jon-Paul Patrik — artist extraordinaire

Jeweler, painter, sculptor and fiber artist Jon-Paul Patrik, '69, who lives in Austin, Texas, recently had one of his works hung in the Danish Royal Palace. Last spring Patrik took his eighth trip to Denmark, where he presented an embroidered micro-work of Rosenborg Castle to the Queen's representative. It will be displayed in the Royal Palace.

From there, he traveled to Paris where he studied tapestries and rugs and toured some custom needlework companies. He hopes to move to Paris in the near future. After leaving his hometown of Stevens Point in 1970, the artist (who changed his name from Patrik Pavloski in 1966) studied environmental art at UW-Madison for a brief period, then opened a Scandinavian import store. He operated that business for several years until 1981 when he joined seven other Madison-area artists in establishing the Westwing Workshops. Westwing is a series of studios in a renovated portion of the Dane County Hospital mental health facility. The artists have refurbished the basement area and rent the workshops for $1 per year in exchange for providing art therapy for the hospital's residents. During this period in his life, Patrik also was rearing a son and caring for his elderly grandmother. The artist developed an interest in embroidery when he had to be hospitalized for a time and wanted something to keep him busy while he recuperated. A visitor brought him some canvas mesh, needles and colored thread and he taught himself how to do needlework. Since then he has created many embroidered works, including a large tapestry containing the biblical quotation, "Whatsoever things are beautiful, think on these things." Each letter contains a different embroidered picture. He labored on the sampler for more than nine months and still adds new touches to it periodically. Patrik's skills as a needlework artist led to a duo show at the Elvehjem Museum in Madison in 1984. He also has done a series of "architectural portraits" of 22 historic buildings located in "Main Street, Mt. Horeb," where he had a studio prior to moving to Texas. The detailed three-by-five inch miniatures contain 635 stitches per square inch with three colors per stitch. His art agent in Austin is negotiating with Lady Bird Johnson to commission Patrik for a series of embroidered wild flower works to commemorate her beautification efforts in Texas. He recently designed a new line of high-tech contemporary jewelry called the Pawlowski Collection. The 12 rings are made of silver designed to look like stainless steel. He now is working on large textiles with tropical themes. Though he also studied at the University of Minnesota and UW-Madison, Patrik says he received the best quality art education at UW-SP. He attributes the "outstanding training" to teachers such as Norman Keats, Henry Runke and Herbert Sandmann. Since relocating in the south about two years ago, Patrik has been working with a group of artists affiliated with Austin's Arts Warehouse. His address is 1007 S. Congress Ave., Apt. 137, Austin, Texas.

Signe Lunde, '69, is lead teller at the Farmers State Bank in Waupaca. She has worked at the bank for more than six years.

Daniel H.R. Hanson, '69 (master's '72), will be teaching history and social studies in Ashford, England, at The Towers School as a Fulbright exchange teacher for the 1986-87 school year. He is employed with the Oregon School District and lives at 258 Hayler Court, Oregon.

Paul R. Schilling, '69, was elected vice president of the University of Wisconsin System Board of Regents. He has served on the board since 1981 when he was appointed by Governor Lee S. Dreyfus. After earning a J.D. degree in 1973 from Georgetown University Law Center, he was an assistant attorney general for the state of Wisconsin, then joined the law firm of Mulcahy & Wherry in Milwaukee. He and his wife, Carol, have two children.

Colleen D. (Houlihan) McGrath, '69, has been a membership coordinator for Post Adoption Center for Education and Research, a non-profit group that offers support to all triad members coping with the lifelong impact of adoption. Currently she is a consultant for cooperative adoptions, as well as being a home executive and nanny. She and her husband, James, live at 2301 Russell, Berkeley, Calif.

Leonard Long, '69, recently accepted a promotion as executive director of the Prairie Council Boy Scouts of America in Galesburg, Ill. He and his wife, Debra, an occupational therapist, have twin boys. They live at 221 West North St., Knoxville, Ill.

Sam A. Ray, '69, and his wife, Marion (Carl) Ray, '62, have taken early retirement. Sam taught for 17 years in the Neillsville School System and three years at the Fairchild Village School. Marion taught for 25 years in Neillsville and five years at Fairchild. They live at 322 Hill St., Neillsville.

Ronald C. Retterath, '69, was appointed senior vice president and actuary by Wausau Insurance Cos. He and his wife, Ruth, live at Route 2, Box 10, Edgar.

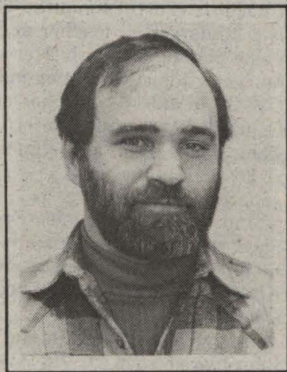

Richard Schauer, '69, has been promoted to manager, structured settlements and policyowner services for Employers Life Insurance Company of Wausau. He and his wife, Kathryn, reside at 402 Lisbeth Road, Wausau.

Donald Justin Isherwood, '68, has received an annual distinguished achievement award given by the Academy of Letters and Science at UW-SP. He is the author of numerous magazine and newspaper articles and has a column in the Reach section of the Stevens Point Journal. His manuscript, "All Novels are Liars," was the 1984 winner in a regional writing competition sponsored by the Robert E. Gard Wisconsin Idea Foundation. His first novel, "A Farm West of Mars," will be published next year. He was named a recipient of the 1985 Council of Wisconsin Writers' annual award in the fiction category, and of the Portage County Historical Society's Pine and Iron Award for the advancement of interest in local history. He lives at 5324 Birch Drive, Stevens Point.

Thomas M. Schleier, '68, is a senior computer systems analyst. He and his wife, Janet, have a six-year-old son who will appear in "Sour Grapes," a film starring Jamie Farr. Their address is 1348 Calle Crucero, San Marcos, Texas.

Patrick Timbers, '68, has been promoted to district office claims manager by American Family Insurance. He and his wife, Helen, and their two children live near Rockford, Ill. Henry W. Fleck, '68, and his wife, Frances, have a son, Bryan Matthew. They live at 21835 Schroeder Road, Kansasville.

Ed Winkler, '68, has been an eighth grade U.S. history teacher with the Tomahawk Public Schools since 1955. His address is 1265 E. Kings Road, Tomahawk.

Edwin C. Kalke, '68, has been named the Distinguished Teacher of 1986 at Carthage College in Kenosha, where he is chair of the art department. His nine-color lithograph print, "34255," was recently selected for the juried exhibition of Wisconsin art at the Milwaukee Museum of Art's Cudahy Gallery. Before joining the faculty at Carthage, he had taught in the Racine Public School System for seven years. He is married to the former Paula Okray, '70. They live at 2307 Washington Ave., Racine.

Gary Gurske, '68, an 18-year veteran with the Department of Natural Resources, has been appointed La Crosse Area Warden Supervisor. He lives in La Crosse.

Sharon (Watzke) Fields, '67, recently completed requirements for American Montessori Society pre-primary teacher certification at the Memphis Montessori Institute. She is employed in Oak Ridge, Tenn., where she teaches students aged 2 1/2 to 6. Her husband, David, works at Martin Marietta Corp. and they live at 3818 Guinn Road, Route 17, Knoxville, Tenn.

Patricia Lyon, '67, is minister of discipleship at First United Methodist Church of Waukesha. After graduation, she taught in Hatfield for two years before moving to Illinois. She graduated from the Garrett Evangelical Theological Seminary in 1983 and was appointed pastor of Albany United Methodist Church south of Madison. She has two children.

John G. Moeller, '66, sold his short story, "Lifeblood," to Prime Times Magazine which is distributed through credit unions around the state. It was published this spring as the main fiction entry. John has taught English in Green Bay for the last 20 years. His wife, Pam, is a mathematics teacher in the Seymour system. They have three daughters, Jackie, Jennie and Katie.

Joann Boeyink, left, '63, and Iris Scheel Meyer, '64, friends since their student days, participated in homecoming activities on campus in October. Joann is a junior high school counselor in White Bear Lake, Minn., and Iris is a substitute teacher in Mosinee. They said they are beginning plans for "a huge reunion in 1988" for alumni members of Omega Mu Chi Sorority.

Roberta (Northrop) Ratliff, '67, teaches elementary school art and is developing a career as a fiber artist. She and her husband live at 1695 W. Woodland Ave., Addison, Ill.

Bjorg (Nyen) Steinhorst, '67, who had three children's stories published by a church magazine, toured Norway and Denmark last year. She and her husband, Ronald, were host parents for an English foreign exchange student for four months last year. They have three children, Todd, Jon and Sara. The family lives at 1511 Jefferson St., New London.

Janice (Marquardt) Lutz, '67, is currently a full-time homemaker. She serves on the board of christian education for St. Paul Lutheran Church and School in Stevens Point and also holds membership in Lutherans for Life and Wisconsin Citizens Concerned for Life. She would enjoy hearing from former UW-SP classmates. She and her husband, Marvin, have five children and live at 6617 Old Highway 18, Stevens Point.

Mary K. (Norman) Costello, '67, is a social worker for Catholic Social Services of the Miami Valley. She does counseling and program management for senior services and crisis intervention and consultation for local police. She lives with her three daughters in Dayton, Ohio. She would enjoy hearing from old college friends.

Bill Rudersdorf, '67, and Mary Lee (Bubon) Rudersdorf, '67, reside at N384 Mariposa Lane, Wisconsin Dells. She was named teacher of the year, special education division, in the Wisconsin Dells School System. Bill is employed by Knoll Pharmaceutical.

John Pierson, '66, qualified for the 1986 Leading Producers Round Table President's Council Award from the National Association of Health Underwriters. "Excellence in the sale of disability and health insurance" is the criterion for membership in the round table. John, a Stevens Point native, is associated with Cyganiak Planning Inc. of Mequon. He is a former high school teacher in Menominee Falls and holder of a master's degree in teaching from Marquette University. He and his wife, Cindy Parkovich, '67, who has been active in theatre groups in the Milwaukee area, are the parents of a daughter and a son.

Anne G. (Graver) Edwards, '66, has been a geography, history and philosophy librarian at the University of Missouri for 15 years. She also is active in organizations dealing with the concerns of disabled persons. Her address is 1801 Rose Drive, Columbia, Mo.

Fredereck L. Hoffman, '66, who moved back to Stevens Point nine years ago as an agent with Physicians Mutual Insurance Co., is now a manager. He was named Manager of the Year for the second time last year. His wife, Patricia, is a UW-SP student. The Hoffmans and their four sons, Steven, Matthew, Timothy and Jeffrey, live at 420 Beaver Lane, Stevens Point.

Benjamin F. Foltz, '66, is a teacher and administrator for the Appleton Public Schools. His wife, Burga, is employed at H. C. Prange Co. They have two adult sons, Stephen and Gregory. They live at 2310 S. Gladys, Appleton.

James W. Krueger, '65, has been appointed vice president of financial development for the national headquarters of the American Red Cross. With the exception of two years spent in the Army during 1966-68, he has been with the Red Cross since his graduation, serving in St. Louis, Houston, Fort Wayne, Ind., and Baltimore. He resides with his wife, Noreen, and their three children at 307 W. Wind Drive, Ruxton, Md.

Darlene (Morren) Wurl, '65, is a third grade teacher in Tomahawk. She and her husband, Wallace, live at 126 W. Pleasant St., Tomahawk.

Robert W. Schultz, '65, is a field director for Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance. This is his 10th year with the firm. He received a master's degree from Winona State University and a CLU degree in 1982. He and his wife, Judy, reside at 127 Dickinson Road, Springfield, Ill.

Dennis A. Pukall, '65, has assumed duties as commander of the 17-man weather detachment at Wurtsmith Air Force Base. His address is 8005-B North Alaska St., Wurtsmith AFB, Mich.

Robert Schoen, '65, director of Wisconsin Rapids School District's transportation system, has been awarded the Wisconsin American Automobile Association Recognition Award which named him the state's top school transportation director. He is president of the Wisconsin Association for Pupil Transportation and annually officiates at about 60 high school and college football, basketball and volleyball games. He and his wife, Judy, live with their children, Stephanie and Todd, at 6611 Lenox Ave., Wisconsin Rapids.

Jim Malloy, '65, is senior vice president and general manager of the Wisconsin and Southern Railroad Company where he has been employed for seven years. Before joining W&S, he was a member of the East Central Wisconsin Regional Planning Commission. He and his wife, Kathy, live in Oshkosh with their two sons.

Phillip Macht, '65, has been appointed director of the Wisconsin Resource Center at Winnebago Mental Health Institute, Oshkosh.

Don Slusarski, '65, was honored with a Letter of Benefaction as an honorary member of the Lasallian family. The award is presented to colleagues of the Brothers of the Christian Schools who have served with them in their ministry with dedication and loyalty. He lives at 2609 Atwell, Stevens Point.

Chuck Millenbah, '64, was promoted to supervisor of physical education and director of instructional programs at the University of California, San Diego. He is married to Justine A. Wells, a Pacific Southwest Airlines flight attendant. They live at 647 Loring St., San Diego, Calif.

George R. Packard, '64, does organizational consulting in the U.S., after spending eight years abroad doing community development work. He is employed by the Institute of Cultural Affairs. He and his wife live at 4207 Chartres, Houston, Texas.

Nathan Timm, '63, is a consultant with the Wisconsin Department of Public

Nadine (Nass) Miller, '63, received a master's degree in administration supervision from Nova University. She works as an instructor of physically disabled students. She and her husband, Lowell, live at 6761 S.W. 12th St., Pembroke Pines, Fla.

DuWayne Herning, '63, recently received the Wisconsin Optometric Award presented by the Wisconsin Driver and Traffic Safety Education Association. This is the highest award presented for driver and traffic safety in Wisconsin. He is the driver education coordinator at Wausau West High School, chairman of the Marathon County Highway Safety Commission and a past president of the Wisconsin Driver and Traffic Safety Education Association. DuWayne lives at 2712 Mary Ann Lane, Wausau.

Thomas M. Love, '62, an associate professor of economics at North Central College since 1978, was promoted to the academic rank of professor. He and his wife, Jeannie, and their four children live at 115024 West St., Naperville, Ill.

Vivian (Drescher) Thiede, '62, retired in 1981 after 32 years of teaching in Clark and Lincoln counties. She lives with her husband, Eugene, at N10162 Pine Shore Lane, Tomahawk.

Michael Liebenstein, '62, has gone to work for American Family Insurance after 18 years spent teaching and coaching. He and his wife, Jewel, live at 624 Somerset, Janesville.

Marie (Peters) Lochen, '61, retired in 1972 after 31 years of teaching elementary school. She lives at 608 Washington, Athens.

Robert Evenson, '61, is teaching Suzuki method piano at the Neighborhood Music School in New Haven, Conn. He and his wife, Judith, live at 2 Edgehill Road, New Haven.

Glenn Zipp, '61, was elected president of the Alumni Association at the University of Illinois, Urbana-Champaign, where he earned his M.A. He is director of Region 33, National Labor Relations Board in Peoria, Ill.

Martha Polacek, '61, received her master's degree in educational administration from UW-Superior. She is an art teacher in grades K - 8 in the Westfield School District.

Earl N. Meyer, '61, is a certified fire investigator. He is employed by the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources as a forest fire specialist. He lives at 1097 Lori Lane, Sun Prairie.

Donald A. Henn, '61, is president of Mid-American, Inc., Equitable Acceptance Corp. and New Era, Inc. (formerly Vollrath Co.). His wife, Priscilla, is self-employed as a free-lance designer. They live at 2001 Orkla Drive, Minneapolis, Minn.

Ada (Schultz) Schrader, '60, is retired from 40 years of teaching in Wood and Racine county schools. She lives at 700 Hawthorne Court, Marshfield.

Barb Leo, '60, joined 16 other women artists exhibiting work at the Green Bay YMCA this spring. She works primarily in watercolor and monoprints and also has experience as a fiber artist. She has been featured in the Best of the Northeastern Show and has won awards in art shows at New London and Waupaca.

Helen Dziewior, '60, was selected as the 1986 Irish Rose for the South Central Shamrock Club. Although retired from teaching full time, she still does some substitute teaching at the Mauston Middle School. Helen resides at 510 Water St., Mauston.

1950s

Philip Poulette, '59, and his wife, Ella, make their home in Wautoma and spend winters in Florida. He is a retired elementary school teacher, active in the Waushara Retired Teachers Association and the Waushara Golf Club. Their address is Box 129, 212 E. High, Wautoma.

Elaine L. (Lange) Zuge, '59, has taught for 22 years, the past 11 at Manawa Middle School. She and her husband, Clifford, have two married daughters and a son in high school. Their address is Route 1, Box 403, Manawa.

Hazel M. Spiegl, '59, has retired after teaching 48 years, as well as substitute teaching for eight years in the Antigo Unified School District. She says Stevens Point "was the grandest place in the world" where she "had a wonderful time." Her address is 203 Freiburger Ave., Antigo.

Eileen (Niemuth) Hoehne, '58, retired in 1975 from teaching home economics. She and her husband, Robert, live at 4446 Hoehne Lane, Lena.

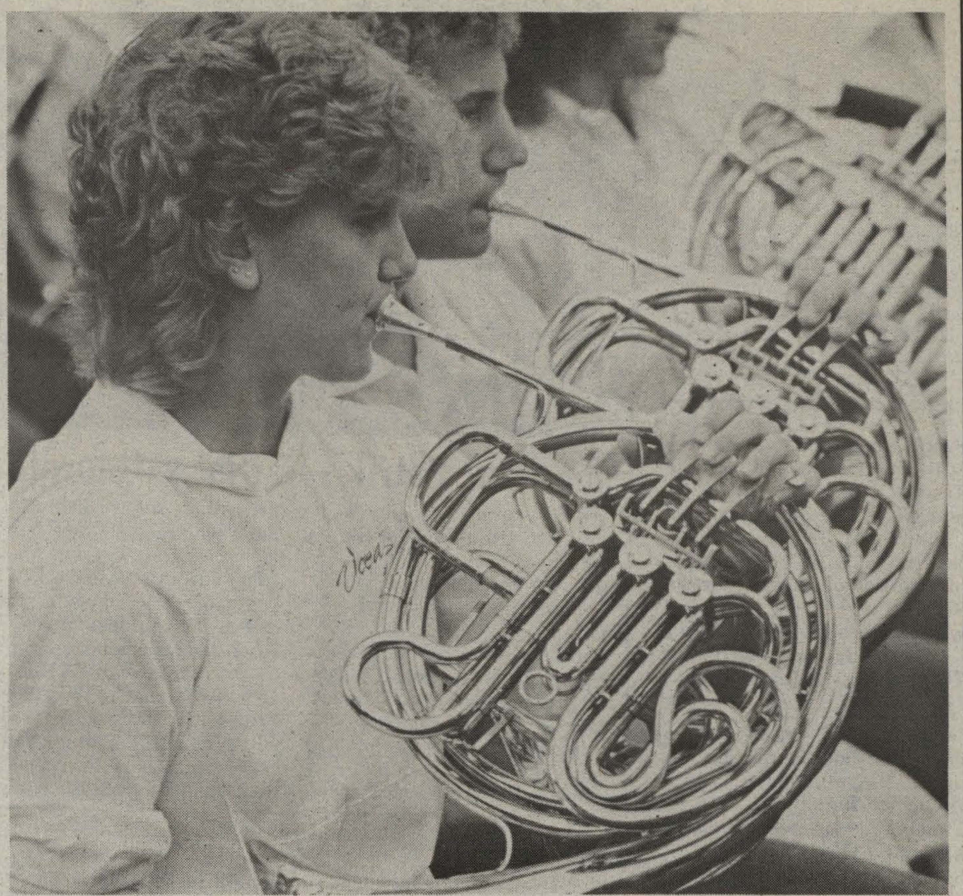

Evelyn Collins, '57, a retired teacher, lives at 525 10th St., Baraboo.

Margaret Fischer, '57, retired this spring after 45 years as a teacher. She plans to travel to Hawaii and Alaska. Last summer she spent three weeks in Europe, visiting Ireland, Scotland and England.

Irvin (Russ) Hutter, '56, has been appointed the alcohol/traffic safety education program supervisor for the Wisconsin Department of Public Instruction. His wife, Janet, is a kindergarten teacher for the Madison Public Schools. They live at 6300 W. Gate Road, Monona Village.

Walter Drzewieniecki, '56, was named a Professor Emeritus of History by the State University of New York at Buffalo. He has been elected president of the Polish Cultural Foundation of Buffalo and writes and lectures on Eastern European affairs. He and his wife, Zofia, live at 337 McKinley, Kenmore, N.Y.

Tom Wirkus, '56, is in his 26th year as a member of the UW-La Crosse speech and theater department. He conducts many listening workshops around the state. His wife, Lois (Langfeldt) Wirkus, '55, is assistant to the Dean of the College of Education at UW-La Crosse. They reside at 1620 State St., La Crosse.

Music continues to be a popular course of study at UW-SP.

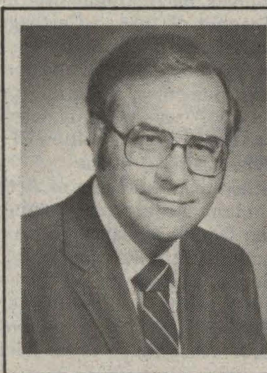

Harold A. Miller, '56, has been promoted to Brigadier General, Illinois Army National Guard. He is employed with the Joliet Township Schools as assistant superintendent for educational services. He lives at Valley Parkway E, Joliet, Ill.

Brad Blake, '56, has begun duties as director of the New Mexico State University Museum in Kent Hall. The museum reopened this fall after undergoing major renovations. He also teaches anthropology and says he enjoys getting his students either into the primate lab or on an archaeological dig site at the beginning of each semester. He and his wife, Patricia (Scribner) Blake, '57, live at 10872 N. Hwy 85, Las Cruces, N. M.

Claire (Mueller) Halamba, '55, and her husband, Ron, spent 12 years as missionaries in Taiwan. They now live at 1073 Estate Drive, Memphis, Tenn.

Charlotte (Forth) Krumm, '55, is a kindergarten teacher at St. Peter School, Oshkosh. Her husband, John, who attended UW-SP in 1951-52, teaches at Oshkosh West High School. Their son, Collin, a freshman at UW-SP, is the third generation of Krumms to attend. Aunts and uncles who have attended or graduated include Guy Krumm, Clarence Krumm, Grace Krumm, Lucille Carnahan and Lucille's daughter, Pat. Charlotte and John live at 1548 W. 7th Ave., Oshkosh.

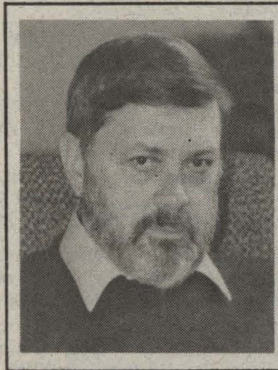

Eugene W. Arnett, '55, has been president of Memorial Hospital of Taylor County since it opened in 1961. He was recently elected to a three-year term, beginning in 1987, as chairman-elect of the American Hospital Association (AHA) General Council. In chairmanship of the 25-member board of trustees which governs the association. Then, in 1989, he will become the speaker of the 192-member House, the top policy approval body of the AHA. A former chairman of the AHA's advisory panel of the Center for Small or Rural Hospitals, Arnett is currently a member of AHA's Committee of Commissioners to the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals. He has also served for three years on AHA's Council on Management, and for seven years in its House of Delegates. Active in civic affairs, he is a recipient of the man of the year award from the Medford Area Chamber of Commerce and is chairman of the police and fire commission. He and his wife, Carol, have five children. Arnett is the second UW-SP alumnus to head the AHA. George E. Cartmill, '38, former chief executive officer of Harper-Grace Hospitals in Detroit, was president of the AHA from 1965-1966.

Edmund Facklam, '53, prior to his retirement in 1977, was principal of Manawa Elementary School for 20 years. He lives at 330 Grove St., Manawa.

Marjorie (Lawrie) Liesch, '52, and her husband, Robert, have retired. They reside at 4421 Northview Drive, Madison.

Brice Warner, '51, has retired after 35 years in the teaching profession. He has been with the Tri-County Area School District for more than 32 years, the past 18 as middle school principal. He says he plans to do a little home remodeling, some fishing and a lot of relaxing. He and his wife, Alta, live in Plainfield, where their address is Box 204.

Clarence J. Karier, '51, is a professor of the history of education and chair of the department of educational policy studies at the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign. Recently the University of Illinois Press published his book "Scientists of the Mind," which deals with the "crisis of credibility that Judeo-Christian theology underwent in the face of Darwinian science and the secularization of Western culture." The university press also is publishing a second

Ray J. Blaskey, '50, who has retired from teaching, serves the Antigo Unified School District Board of Education as vice president. He also is active in the Veterans of Foreign Wars organization, winning the election to the All-State Commanders Team for 1984-85. He and his wife, Helen, live at 918 Elm St., Antigo.

Ray J. Blaskey, '50, who has retired from teaching, serves the Antigo Unified School District Board of Education as vice president. He also is active in the Veterans of Foreign Wars organization, winning the election to the All-State Commanders Team for 1984-85. He and his wife, Helen, live at 918 Elm St., Antigo.

1940s

Marvin Abrahamson, '48, and his wife, Maryann, had the opportunity to sing with a church choir in Europe last summer. They live at 7380 N. Iroquois Road, Fox Point.

Rosemary S. Nelson, '47, (master's degree, '66) taught in the English department of Stevens Point Area Senior High School for 38 years before retiring last year. She is an organist and choir director. Rosemary says retirement means more time for music, travel and volunteer work in addition to substitute teaching at SPASH. She lives at 1910 Third St., Wausau.

Dorothy A. (Radtke) Mattison, '46, retired from teaching due to severe arthritis. She says she enjoys retirement but not the loss of her mobility. She lives at 2228 N. Casaloma Drive, Appleton.

Ray C. Olsen, '46, retired in 1975 from guidance counseling at Elmendorf AFB in Anchorage, Alaska. He and his wife, Elsbeth, live on the old family homestead. They have journeyed to Anchorage the past several summers to visit sons and a daughter and go salmon fishing. They live at Route 1, Box 207, Crivitz.

Dolores Woolley, '45, is a retired teacher. She says she enjoys the alumni news, especially articles about the teachers of her era. She and her husband, Thomas, who is self-employed in a restaurant and bar, live at N13 W24610 Bluemound Road, Pewaukee.

Rachel A. Solverud, '43, retired after teaching for 39 years, the past 33 of which were in the Oshkosh School System. Her address is 1825 Westhaven Drive, Oshkosh.

Jean Scheuer Leary, right, who received her teaching certificate in '26 and her bachelor's degree in '36, and her friend, Ethel Cable, both of Stevens Point, were in the crowd for the annual homecoming day parade in October. Both women are longtime university boosters. Mrs. Leary, a retired teacher, recalled that homecomings in her student days were highlights of the year on campus with big parades, snake dances through the downtown and huge bonfires. For nearly 30 years, Mrs. Cable boarded many students at her home on Ellis Street where she still lives.

James Saunders, '43, whose thick British accent amused his professors and fellow students when he enrolled at "Central State," fresh off the boat from Liverpool, is now a retired Methodist minister living at Route 1, Almond. He was invited to come to the United States after he had completed a preparatory program for lay preachers and served congregations in Coloma, Westfield and South Burr while attending college classes in Stevens Point. After graduation, he attended Garrett Theological Seminary at Northwestern University and was ordained in 1948. His pastorates were served at Evansville, Fennimore, Stoughton, Waupaca and Wautoma prior to his retirement in 1978. He currently serves as summer chaplain at Camp Cleghorn on the Chain O' Lakes near Waupaca.

Madelaine (Labrot) Mullen, '42, and her husband, Arthur, have both retired from teaching. They recently traveled to Alaska and spend time golfing and bowling, in addition to being involved with retired teacher activities and community projects. Their address is Box 65, Plainfield.

Edith (Liebenstein) McConnell, '41, is retired and living at 1840 Russell St., Wisconsin Rapids.

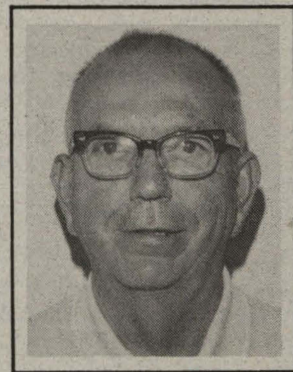

Margaret (Sorensen) Wied, '41, and her husband, Walter, are retired. They have four children and seven grandchildren. They live at 7915 W. Allerton Ave., Greenfield.

Elizabeth M. Frankland, '40, retired from UW-Oshkosh in 1976 after teaching elementary education classes for 14 years. She lives at 1411 S. Locust Ave., Apt. 210, Marshfield.

Zorka M. (Malesevich) Falk, '40, has retired after 24 years of teaching. She says both she and her husband, Arthur, are enjoying retirement. They have three children and four grandchildren. Zorka recently spent six weeks touring Europe. They reside at 322 Grand Blvd., Mayville.

E.R. Giese, '42, and his wife, Ora Lee Giese, '40, have been retired since 1975. They reside at 12 W. Bundy St., Rice Lake. After earning a master's degree from UW-Madison, he spent 27 years as a teacher and school administrator, then became a social worker. The couple, married in 1934, do a lot of traveling.

1930s

Robert Sachtjen, '39, is retired and living with his wife, Ardith, in Sun City, Ariz. In the fall of 1939, he had enrolled in Garrett Theological Seminary and, during that winter, was interviewed by the Board of Missions of the Methodist Church. Soon afterward, he was on his way to Burma to teach science at the Methodist Boys' School in Rangoon. He said that the boys he taught were of Burmese, Indian and Chinese extraction, but not much different than the average pupil in any American classroom. At that time, Burma did not have a system of free public schools; private agencies provided the bulk of educational facilities. One alumnus of the Boys' High School, U Thant, later became Secretary General of the United Nations. After the Japanese attacked Pearl Harbor in 1941, Rangoon came under seige and the missionaries were evacuated. Rev. Sachtjen was reassigned to Mount Hermon School, Darjeeling, India, near the Nepal border in the foothills of the Himalayas where he primarily taught the children of business and missionary families. In 1983 he returned to India and Burma for a visit and found many changes. One development, pleasing to him, is that Burma now has a system of public education which incorporates the Methodist Boys' School. "It is a privilege," he said, "to have had a part in the making of education more available to the common people of Asia."

Mildred (Luedtke) Anderson, '38, says she still enjoys hiking and tent camping, thanks to the successful implantation of two artificial knees. She is looking forward to the 50th class reunion. She and her husband, Harold, are enjoying retirement with summers spent visiting children in Arkansas, Ohio and Texas and their friends and relatives in Wisconsin. They live at 377 Ord Drive, Boulder, Colo.

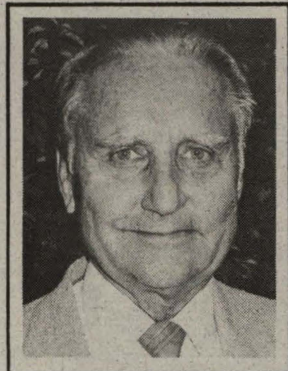

Ralph Abrahamson, '38, retired from teaching vocal and instrumental music in junior and senior high schools. He lives at 6129 S. 1300 E, Apt. U, Salt Lake City, Utah.

Libby Heiman, '37, retired after teaching for 50 years. She lives at 4361 N. 89th St., Milwaukee.

George W. Staffon, '37, retired in 1977 after 38 years of teaching, three at Pittsville and 35 at Middleton. He and his wife, Irene, live at 7241 North Ave., Middleton.

Elsie Gurholt, teaching certificate in '36 and bachelor's degree in '43, retired from elementary school teaching in 1982 after 29 years in the classroom. She was on the faculty of the Stevens Point School System in the later years of her career. She and her husband live on a farm near Scandinavia. They have two sons. She is an avid reader, golfer, traveler and does volunteer work for the Iola Hospital and her church.

Mabel Aronson, '36, lives in Iola with her husband, Raymond. She retired about five years ago after being a teacher for 25 years. Her hobbies are writing and involvement in the Wisconsin Regional Writers. Also active in church work, she has been a choir director more than 30 years. The Aronsons have two daughters.

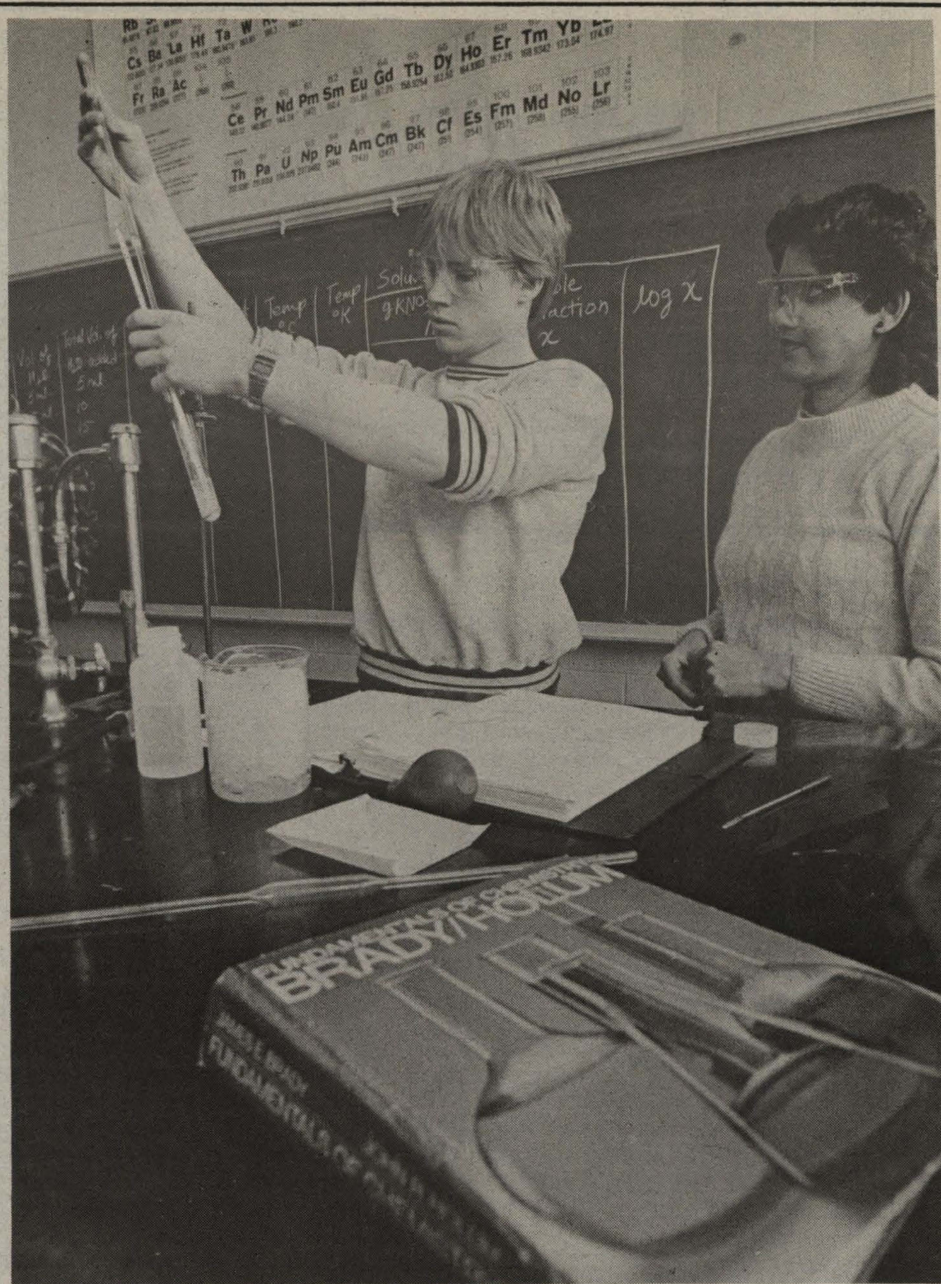

Mark J. Schroeder, '36, is the author of "Fire Weather," a book based on his research during a long career as a staff member of the National Weather Service and U.S. Forest Service. The book is used as a text in a fire science class at UW-SP, one of few courses of its kind offered on an American campus. Ironically, the professor who teaches the course was unaware until Schroeder visited the campus this summer that the book was penned by a member of the Pointer alumni ranks.

A research meteorologist, he retired in 1973 after serving the federal government for 32 years. During World War II, he was in weather reconnaissance, and in peacetime served in the Air Force Reserve, rising to the rank of lieutenant colonel. Schroeder and his wife have long been active travelers but have taken extensive trips since he retired in 1973. The Schroeders have been on every continent except Antarctica and in all of the 50 states plus most of the Canadian and Mexican provinces. The Schroeders live at 2295 Drummond St., Riverside, Calif.

Ralph Okray, '36, and his wife, Helene (Waterman) Okray, '34, have three children and seven grandchildren. Ralph is now retired. They live at 4705 Tonyawatha Trail, Monona.

Joseph Szymanski, '36, reports the "Marathon Wee Willys" basketball team will hold a 40th reunion on Friday, Nov. 28, 1986. The team, sponsored by Marathon City Brewery, was a popular central and northern Wisconsin amateur group in the '40s and '50s. Team members who are UW-SP (then Central State Teachers College) graduates are brothers Stanley, Joseph, Frank, Alex and Edwin Wally and Ray Szymanski, plus Pat Buchberger and George Prihoda.

A UW-SP chemistry lab in the Science Building.

Alex Perrodin, '35, is a retired professor from the University of Georgia. He recently placed 17th in the 70-74 age group for a national 10K road race at Eatonton, Ga. He and his wife, Patricia, live at 214 Davis Estates Road, Athens, Ga.

Dorothy L. (Brys) Brown, '35, and her husband, Leroy, spend the winters in Rancho Bernardo, Calif. They have three children and eight grandchildren. They live at 1077 Sibley Memorial, St. Paul, Minn.

Myron Fritsch, '34, has retired from the Owen-Withee School System where he served as the elementary supervisor. He and his wife, Evelyn, spend summers at their cottage in Woodruff and reside the rest of the year at Route 1, Withee.

Melda (Beckman) Mortensen, '34, (bachelor of science, '52) hosted seven different exchange teachers last summer from Germany, Luxembourg, England, Belgium and Denmark. In 1983 she traveled to Europe with 189 American teachers. This summer she hosted a junior high school principal from Bodoe, Norway. She and her husband, Henry, live at 128 Wells St., Manawa.

E. Margaret Morris, '33, recently moved to "a very pleasant apartment in the Tanglewood area of Olympia." Her address is 7602 Third Way SE, Apt. 28, Olympia, Wash.

Crystal (Springer) Walker, '32, a retired teacher, lives at 2121 E. Capital Drive, Apt. 602, Milwaukee.

Robert C. Van Raalte, '32, is retired. He taught in a one-room school for four years, was principal of a grade school for six years, a county supervising teacher for seven years, a state elementary school supervisor for seven years, and assistant state superintendent of public instruction for 20 years. He also was in the Army for four years during WW II and retired as a major in the Army Reserve. He and his wife, Jenette (Doughty), live at 914 Columbia Road, Madison.

Dorothy R. Johnson, '31, retired after 53 years of teaching—21 in high schools in Wisconsin, 29 years at Concordia College, and the last three years at Oak Grove High School and Park Christian School in Moorhead doing volunteer tutoring in reading. She lives at 3306 Village Creek Blvd., Apt. 301, Moorhead, Minn.

Bernice (Smoot) Gronewold, '30, and her husband, Benjamin, are retired after spending 24 years in Buffalo where he was a professor at the State University of New York. They live at 1403 Thomas Ave., Watertown.

Marie M. (Mollen) Van Ness, '30, retired from teaching in 1971, but continued to substitute teach until last year. She is a landscape painter and does rosealing. She lives at 413 Seminary St., Lodi.

1920s

Jean (Mainland) Speer, '28, and her husband, George, returned to the UW-SP campus this summer to attend a performance of "Camelot," in which their granddaughter, Melinda MacDonald, appeared in the role of Guenivere. While on campus, the university hosted a celebration for the couple's 50th wedding anniversary. Mrs. Speer's grandfather, Melvin Olin, was the builder hired by the state in 1893-94 to construct Main Building at UW-SP. Then, about 1916, he built the university's first dormitory, Nelson Hall. James Mainland, Mrs. Speer's father, was superintendent of the Stevens Point Lighting Company when some of the first outdoor lighting was installed on campus. The Speers have lived in Oak Park, Ill., since he retired from his position as professor and director of the Institute for Psychological Services at the Illinois Institute of Technology.

Lyrena (Bradley) Zimmer, '26, and her husband, Emil Zimmer, '25, (Primary Dept. '26), celebrate their silver wedding anniversary this year. Their address is Route 1, Box 480, Wild Rose.

Lucille (Lamb) Patterson, '25, who is retired, recently had a happy reunion with former roommate Bernice (Smoot) Gronewold. She lives at 214 Marinette Trail, Madison.

Gladys (Kusman) Persike, '25, and her husband, Frank, are both retired and live at 2208 Ellis St., Stevens Point. Their son, Frederick, is a chef at the Sky Club and their other son, James, is a manager of apartments in Plover. They have three grandchildren.

Erling Hegg, '23, attended the 65th reunion of his Stevens Point High School Class of 1920 last June. The reunion dinner was dubbed "The Last Supper." He says he has fond memories of his three years at Stevens Point Normal. He spent 38 years with Sentry and Allstate Insurance as technical writer-editor and systems analyst. He retired in 1967 and moved to Fair Oaks, Calif. He has three children, six grandchildren and two great grandchildren. He lives at 7435 Fairway Two Ave., No. 11, Fair Oaks, Calif., on the second fairway of a country club. His wife, Esther (Gavin) Hegg, '23, passed away this spring.

Verna (Crocker) Accola, '23, has taught classes for rural women one night a week for the last four years under the George-Reed Act. She lives at 716 12th St., Apt. 9, Baraboo.

Florence Donermeyer, who completed a two-year course for elementary teachers in '18, completed additional training for grammar grade teacher certification in '28 and received a bachelor's degree from this institution in '39, is now retired and living in the Donermeyer family home at 2116 Jefferson St., Stevens Point. She has the distinction of being named the first "national teacher of the year of partially seeing children." The Winifred Hathaway Award was established in 1959 by the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness and given to Miss Donermeyer in recognition of her achievements in serving partially seeing children in the Oak Park, Ill., school district. Miss Donermeyer, who began her teaching career in Central Wisconsin, during World War I, was hired by the Oak Park School District as an elementary teacher in 1928 and served there until her retirement in 1966. She specialized in teaching the partially seeing more than half of her career and was called on to teach a special course in the area of her expertise for Illinois State University in Normal.

Events for Summer

Four set for Southwest

A tour to the southwestern United States will be offered during two weeks in June by UW-SP.

"Preserving the Past, a special tour to discover the rich heritage of the four corners area of the Southwest," is scheduled June 14 - 27. The trip is especially designed for teachers and adult learners to investigate the cultural heritage of Native Americans and explore the environmental diversity of the area. The offering is limited to 37 participants; anyone under 18 must be accompanied by a parent. Two or three undergraduate or graduate credits are available in anthropology or geology.

Clarence Milfred and Marshall Parry of the geography/geology faculty and John Moore of sociology/anthropology will lead the group through Arizona, Colorado, New Mexico and Utah. Visits to Native American communities, Grand Canyon, Petrified Forest, Great Sand Dunes, quarries and some cities will be included on the itinerary.

Instructional costs are $100 without credit, $105.20 for two undergraduate credits and $157.80 for three undergraduate credits. Graduate students will pay $183 for two credits and $274.50 for three credits. Transportation and motel costs range in price from $560 to $885 per person.

The trip is sponsored by UW-SP's Museum of Natural History and the Office of Continuing Education and Outreach.

Further information and applications are available through the Office of Continuing Education and Outreach, 103 Old Main, UW-SP. ■

College Days opens June 16

UW-SP's College Days (formerly called College Week for Women) is open to men and women from across the state. The series of 36 personal enrichment, educational and recreational programs are scheduled on campus between June 16 and 18.

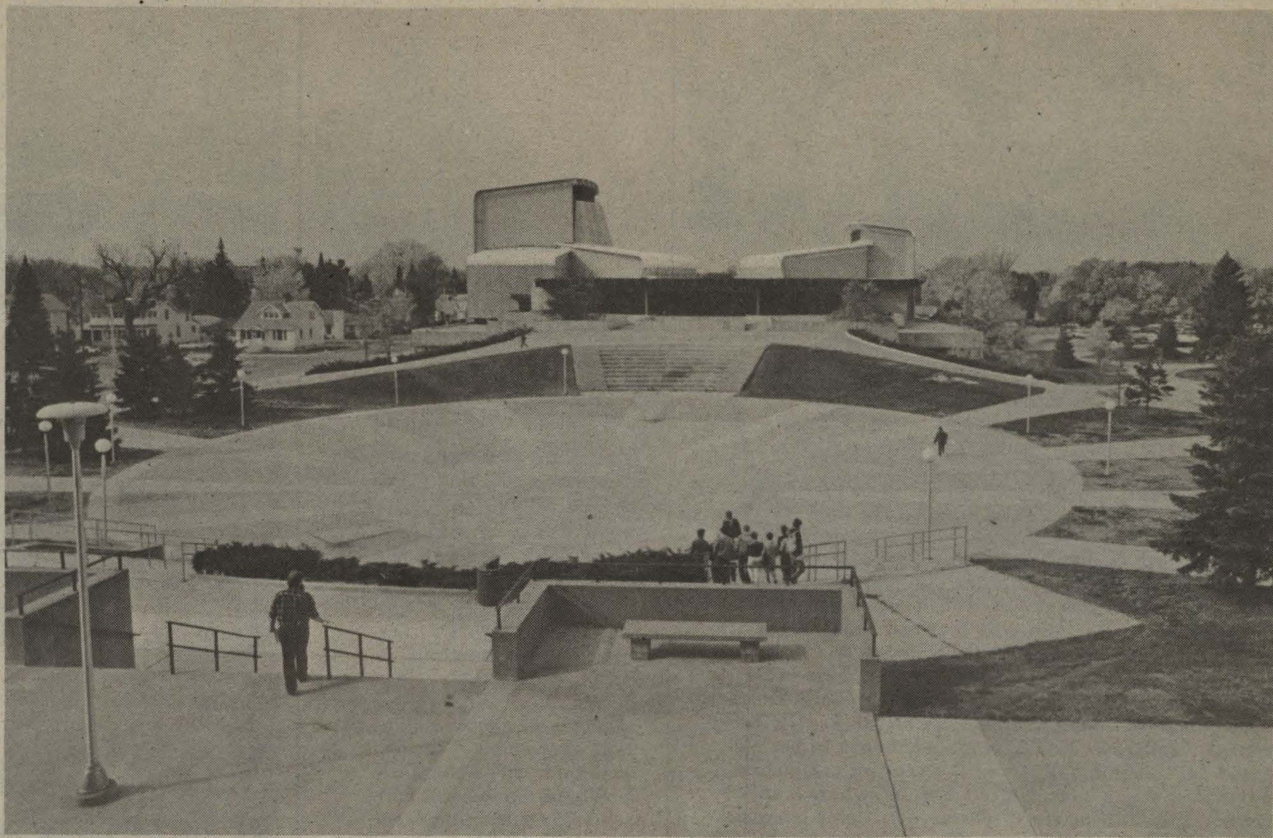

This is the eighth year that UW-SP has joined its sister institution of UW-Madison in hosting programs on the two campuses.

Participants have the option of attending either one concentrated course or two shorter classes which meet each day. Continuing Education Units are available.

At UW-Stevens Point new offerings this year include: Creative Quilt Design; Travel Escape; Let Color Enhance Your Wardrobe; Dreams: Visions of New Realities; The New Social Gospel; Survival Techniques for the Battle of the Bulge; Better People Skills for Women; and From Memories to Memoirs.

Special programs scheduled when classes are not meeting include a planetarium showing, coffeehouse entertainments, a Schmeeckle Reserve walking tour, a discussion with small business owners, a slide show about the Amish in Portage County, a Sentry World Headquarters tour, a Suzuki concert and other presentations.

The charge is $40 for registration, plus $58 for those desiring to stay in university dormitories and have their meals in the cafeterias. Further information is available from the UW-SP Office of Continuing Education and Outreach in Old Main Building. ■

A view of the Fine Arts Center from the porch of the Albertson Learning Resources Center.

Summer programs for youth

Several programs for youth will be offered next summer at the University of Wisconsin-Stevens Point's Central Wisconsin Environmental Station.

For boys and girls ages 9 through 13, four different week-long Nature Adventure Camps have been scheduled. Sessions for 9 to 11-year-olds will be held on June 14 - 19 and July 12 - 17. Eleven to 13-year-olds may select sessions from Aug. 2 - 7 or Aug. 9 - 14.

Activities include swimming, boating, canoe trips, arts and crafts, archery, games, fishing and studying beavers, fish, deer, hawks, owls and insects in their natural habitats. The fee will be $160.

Also, boys and girls between ages 9 and 13 who are in special education programs may join the Timber Top Nature Adventure Camp which will run from July 19 - 31. The campers will spend two weeks participating in Nature Adventure activities as well as reading instruction and practice. The cost will be $385.

High school students who are beginning their junior year, seniors and spring graduates are eligible to sign up for one of three week-long Natural Resources Careers Workshops offered in June, July and August.

Young people interested in pursuing careers in such fields as forestry, fire control, fish and wildlife management, park services environmental standards and law enforcement will attend programs led by professionals from private, state and federal resource management agencies. Field experiences will be provided in resource management and environmental protection projects. One college credit from UW-SP is available.

Sessions run from June 7 - 12, July 5 - 10 and Aug. 16 - 21. The fee will be $160, plus tuition if the credit is desired. The workshops are co-sponsored by the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources.

New this year will be the Wilderness Trek - Boundary Waters Canoe Area for high school freshmen and sophomores. Students and staff guides will spend eight days on a canoe trip in the wilderness of northern Minnesota, including a day of work in the Superior National Forest with Forest Service professionals.

The cost which covers room and board, full equipment rental, transportation and guide services is $350.

Information about the offerings is available by mail from the Central Wisconsin Environmental Station 7290 County MM, Amherst Junction, WI 54407. The phone number is (715) 824-2428. ■

Four Elderhostels planned

Four separate one-week Elderhostel programs are scheduled this summer and early fall by UW-SP.

Elderhostel activities are offered on an international basis by a nonprofit organization that cooperates with public and private colleges and universities to sponsor noncredit educational enrichment for senior citizens. Sessions attract people age 60 and above from throughout the United States.

From July 12 - 18 and July 19 - 24, programs on the UW-SP campus will include: Exploring the Plants and Birdlife of Central Wisconsin, Hypnosis, Aquacise, Ten Philosophic and Religious Problems and The Wonders of Wellness.

From Aug. 23 - 29, The Lake States through the Eyes of Wisconsin's Great Naturalists will be held at the Central Wisconsin Environmental Station and led by its staff.

From Sept. 13 - 18, Creating Memories in the North Country will focus on creative expressions in nature photography, painting, sketching and writing. Sessions will be held at Treehaven, UW-SP's new fully winterized natural resource education facility near Tomahawk.

Also at Treehaven from Sept. 27 - Oct. 2, Legends of the Northwoods, will explore how characters such as Paul Bunyan, the Hodag, and others developed through stories, legends and song. The field trips and excursions will include basic plant and animal identification and cultural history.

The fee for Elderhostel is $190.

Further information and registration for the events are available through the Office of Continuing Education and Outreach, 103 Old Main, UW-SP. ■

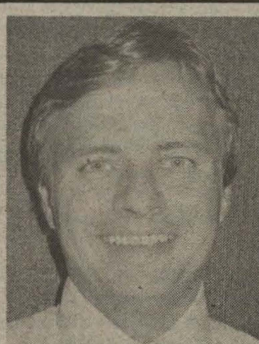

We'd like to hear from you

If there is some news about yourself that you'd like included in the "Whatever happened to good ol' Joe?" section of this news magazine, please fill out the enclosed form and mail it to the Alumni Office, Main Building, UW-Stevens Point, Stevens Point, WI 54481. Also, if you have questions, need assistance or wish to discuss a way you can help UW-SP, please contact Karen Engelhard or Scott Schultz at the same address.

Finally, if you are planning to move, please send us a copy of your new address.

Karen Engelhard

Scott Schultz

The enclosed form can be mailed to the Alumni Office, Main Building, UW-Stevens Point, Stevens Point, WI 54481

Name _____ Maiden _____ Phone _____

Address _____

Grad _____ Non-Grad _____ Year graduated or last attended _____

Occupation/Employer _____

Spouse _____ Grad _____ Non-Grad _____ Year graduated or last attended _____

Occupation/Employer _____

NEWS FOR "POINTER ALUMNUS": _____

About the cover

Our mascots Stevie and Stephanie Pointer, are, in real life, students Dale Armstrong of Fort Wayne, Ind., Joan Lemmenes of Brandon, and Mike Statz of Windsor.

The people behind this paper

The Pointer Alumnus is being distributed to 32,000 homes of graduates and friends of UW-SP. The editor is John Anderson assisted by Sarah Clanton, Marilyn-Thompson, Mary Sipiorski, Virginia Crandell and Elizabeth Schwerbel. The new design is by Katherine Vollmer. They are all members of the News and Publications Office. Photography is by News and Publications and Educational Media Services photographers. ■