Welcome from the Chancellor

On behalf of the University of Wisconsin-Stevens Point, I welcome you to our Spring 2011 Commencement Ceremony. Commencement is one of our most time-honored and cherished traditions, one we have practiced for 116 years. The University of Wisconsin-Stevens Point held its initial commencement ceremony on June 26, 1895.

"Families, townspeople, faculty and students gathered at 10 a.m. in the Assembly Hall for this historic occasion. Dr. Benjamin S. Terry of the University of Chicago presented the address and spoke on the topic, 'What is An Education?' Seven members of the class received diplomas in elementary education."<sup>1</sup>

Today we will honor more than 1,200 students, their families and supporters as they celebrate this major achievement from a university that now includes four academic colleges and more than 100 program choices within 63 majors, 81 minors and 16 graduate programs. We congratulate our students and all who have made it possible, for their achievements, learning and rigorous work.

Completing a university degree is a major accomplishment, one not achieved without significant sacrifices by the students themselves and also by their families, associates and friends. It is my honor to present these students to you so that you may share in the great joy of their success on this special day.

I thank our faculty and staff members today as well. Through their dedication and mentorship, they have broadened our students' intellectual horizons, contributed to many happy memories, but most importantly, they have changed lives.

It is my pleasure to confer these degrees and to honor our Spring 2011 graduates through this most magnificent of UW-Stevens Point traditions.

Sincerely,

Bernie L. Patterson
Chancellor

The Speaker

A 2000 graduate of UW-Stevens Point, Dan Jessup has spent the most of the last 11 years in Chicago, mixing time between careers in acting, recruiting and human resources.

After completing a double major in Spanish and communication, Dan spent a couple years in Stevens Point substitute teaching, bartending at the Hilltop Restaurant and traveling. Moving to Chicago in 2002, he studied improvisation and performed at various theaters. He began teaching improvisation to both actors and non-actors as a tool for interpersonal communication. Dan also performed in productions by the Rubicon Theatre Project, a company created by six UW-Stevens Point alumni, and has hosted events with the Toy Box Theatre Company, another alumni-created group based in New York City.

Dan Jessup

Dan joined Groupon, Inc. at its Chicago headquarters in June 2009, directing talent acquisition and establishing recruiting and hiring standards as the company grew from about 50 employees to more than 1,900 in North America alone by May 2011. A market-leading e-commerce platform dedicated to local commerce, Groupon has grown to over 500 markets in more than 45 countries since its launch.

Dan transitioned to head of People Strategy at Groupon this spring, with an emphasis on retaining the quality of talent in the company along with internal communications and a focus on company culture. This new role fits well with his background in talent acquisition and training and his double life as an improv actor. As a corporate workshop facilitator and performer, including time with Second City Communications and other engagements, he is an advocate of leveraging the tenets of improvisation to his other work, as they benefit interpersonal communication, team dynamics and liberating spontaneity.

Most importantly, he would like to go to Belt's later this afternoon.

Melvin R. Laird

Melvin R. Laird has influenced young Wisconsin leaders for many years through the Laird Youth Leadership Foundation and biennial Laird Youth Leadership Day conference at UW-Stevens Point.

A Marshfield native, Laird earned a degree at Carleton College then served in the U.S. Navy, earning the Purple Heart. He served as a Wisconsin state senator and then as U.S. Congressman from the 7th District. President Richard Nixon named Laird U.S. Secretary of Defense in 1969 and then counsellor for Domestic Affairs. In 1974 he received the U.S. Medal of Freedom. Laird then served as a senior counsellor for national and international affairs for the Readers Digest Association, Inc. He resides in Florida.

Laird created his leadership foundation in 1964 to provide college scholarships to citizens of central and northern Wisconsin. The Laird Youth Leadership Day conference brought thousands of high schoolers to UW-Stevens Point to learn from leading experts in a variety of subjects. During 21 years of conferences, Laird Day attracted such notables as former President Gerald Ford, former U.S. Secretaries of State Colin Powell, Henry Kissinger and Lawrence Eagleburger, and Wisconsin Governor and UW-Stevens Point Chancellor Lee Sherman Dreyfus.

In awarding the medallions, the students, faculty and staff of UW-Stevens Point express their great pride in the accomplishments of the graduates during their college experience. ### Undergraduate Honors

The faculty has established a program of academic honors to recognize undergraduate students for outstanding academic achievement.

There are three levels of undergraduate academic honors, which are awarded on the basis of grade point average for all courses attempted. Those students graduating Cum Laude have achieved an overall grade point average of 3.5 to 3.74; those graduating Magna Cum Laude have earned an overall grade point average of 3.75 to 3.89; and those achieving an overall grade point average of 3.9 or above have earned the Summa Cum Laude designation.

Phi Kappa Phi

Phi Kappa Phi is a national honor society that encourages superior scholarship in all academic disciplines and recognizes those persons of good character who have excelled in scholarship. The names of those students who have earned this distinction are noted in the commencement program.

History

The origins of the academic dress date back to the 12th and 13th centuries when universities were beginning to form. It is still open to question as to whether academic dress finds its sources chiefly in ecclesiastical or civilian dress. It is often suggested that gowns and hoods were the simplest, most effective method of staying warm in the unheated, stone buildings which housed medieval scholars.

In the days of King Henry VIII of England, Oxford and Cambridge first began prescribing a definite academic dress and made it a matter of university control to the extent of its minor details. The assignment of colors to signify certain faculties was to be a much later development and one which was to be standardized only in the United States in the late 19th century. An Intercollegiate Commission comprised of representatives of leading institutions met at Columbia University in 1895 and adopted a code of academic dress, which besides regulating the cut and style and materials of the gowns, prescribed the colors which were to represent the different fields of learning.

In 1959, a Committee on Academic Costumes and Ceremonies, appointed by the American Council on Education, again reviewed the costume code and made several changes. In 1986, the committee updated the code and added a sentence clarifying the use of the color dark blue for the Doctor of Philosophy degree.

The Gown

Pattern. Gowns recommended for use in the colleges and universities of this country have the following characteristics. The gown for the baccalaureate degree has pointed sleeves. It is designed to be worn closed. The gown for the master's degree has an oblong sleeve, open at the wrist, like the others. The sleeve base hangs down in the traditional manner. The rear part of its oblong shape is square cut, and the front part has an arc cut away. The gown for the doctor's degree has bell-shaped sleeves.

Material. As a means of adaptation to climate, the material of the gowns may vary from very light to very heavy provided that the material, color and pattern follow the prescribed rules.

Color. Black is recommended.

Trimmings. Gowns for the baccalaureate or master's degrees are untrimmed. For the doctoral degree, the gown is faced down the front with black velvet and three bars of velvet are used across the sleeves. These facings and crossbars may be of velvet of the color distinctive of the disciplines to which the degree pertains, thus agreeing in color with the binding or edging of the hood appropriate to the particular doctoral degree in every instance.

The Hood

Linings. The hoods are to be lined with the official color or colors of the institution which granted the highest degree held by the wearer; more than one color is shown by division of the field color in a variety of ways such as by chevron or chevrons.

Trimmings. The binding or edging of the hood is to be velvet or velveteen, two inches, three inches and five inches wide for the baccalaureate, master's and doctoral degrees, respectively; the color should be indicative of the subject to which the degree pertains.

Chancellor's Medallion and the Ceremonial Mace

The Chancellor's Medallion and the University of Wisconsin-Stevens Point Ceremonial Mace were both handcrafted by Henry M. Runke, former chairman of the UW-Stevens Point Art Department. The medallion was cast in a 14k gold pendant in 1968 and contains a purple amethyst to represent the school colors. The four sectioned areas beginning near the center symbolize the four colleges of the university and terminate as prongs for the gem. The mace, carried by the grand marshal in academic processions, was completed in 1976 and has a square base on which important dates from the school's history are recorded. The most prominent feature is the head of the mace which is a miniature of the cupola on Old Main, the school's symbol. The inside of the mace also contains a purple amethyst.
