STUDENTS ATTEND AND PARTICIPATE IN FIRST FROLIC

After an exceedingly hilarious evening, Friday, November 18th, the student body proclaimed the All School Frolic a huge success. The Frolic was an innovation on the part of the faculty and met with a well deserved success.

The side shows which were conducted by the various students from 7:00 to 8:00 o'clock were found to be all that the "barkers" and signs proclaimed. Beyond doubt, the Kangaroo court with Henry Bannach presiding, not only received the greatest attention but also the greatest revenue.

Prizes Awarded

The S. P. T. C. Follies were the recipients of a five pound box of candy as the result of having taken in the most tickets. The Female Circus received a like prize, this for having the best stunt on the faculty vaudeville program. The faculty men and wives acquitted themselves very well. Never again can it be said that Point College teachers are not human. Clarence Teske was awarded a pound box of candy for having best impersonated a hobo, and all who recognized the young gentleman in civilian dress after having viewed his make-up, agreed as to the judges' decision.

Dance In The Gym

To top off the evening's gaiety, Pug Moen's Blue Streaks entertained in the gymnasium after the vaudeville. Again Vox Populi expressed the general attitude. Rollicking joy was the keynote of the dance which was very well attended. Not only was the floor crowded, but the balcony, as well, was crowded with people.

Lunch Stands Operate

The training school corridor was the scene of Miniature Delmonico's. tantalizing odors of hamburgers and hot-dogs penetrated all regions. Candy, pop, and ice cream cones were seen in every hand.

On all sides the pass word of the evening reigned supreme, "Frolic".

Gross Receipts Big

The outcome of the financial end was very satisfying for the gross receipts approximate $290. Of this about $50 will be used for expenses. All that remains will go toward the athletic debt.

One Act Plays are Financial Success

A number of plays were presented Tuesday evening November 22nd. They were given by the Public Speaking Class under the direction of Mr. L. M. Burroughs. Each play was under the direction of a student coach.

The plays selected were: Modes and Manners, Anne Stewart, coach; Boy Comes Home, Henri Hess, coach; Evening Dress Indispensable, Clarence Theis, coach; Solemn Pride, Dorothy Bentz, coach. These were exceptionally well put on and showed much work on the part of the students.

It has been the policy of the Public Speaking classes to be self-supporting.

The following is the financial report: Gross receipts .....$63.30

Expenditures:
Royalty ..... 30.00
Labor ..... 2.00
Incidentals ..... 2.25
Journal Printing ..... 10.50

Balance .....$19.55

The money left over will be used to buy books of plays, manuscripts and various incidentals required by the public speaking class.

Weronke Elected As Grid Captain

Bennie Weronke, stellar center of Stevens Point Teacher's College football aggregation, was recently elected by his team-mates to captain the 1928 Grid machine. Who will ever forget Bennie, who broke through the Fall's line, blocked and recovered the punt that paved the way for the Point's victory over their old and previously unbeaten rivals? In addition he is a fighter, and has played consistent smart football all season. Ben steps into the sizable executive shoes of Harold Paukert, star fullback who throws a diploma for a loss in June.

Congratulations, Captain Bennie and good luck to ex-captain Harold.

At the same meeting, Les Wray, that hard hitting back who leads as smart an offense as Napoleon ever did, was elected lieutenant for the coming season. Les has just finished his first round of collegiate football and we can safely expect great things from him next fall. Congratulations, Les.

Cage Schedule 1927-28

January 7th. Eau Claire at Stevens Point

January 13th. Oshkosh at Oshkosh

January 28th. Whitewater at Stevens Point

February 3rd. Eau Claire at Eau Claire

February 10th. Milwaukee at Milwaukee

February 17th. Superior at Stevens Point

February 21st. Oshkosh at Stevens Point

Besides these conference games, several preliminaries are being arranged in December, to give the boys a chance to show up in real action before tackling Eau Claire January 7th.

School Classes Meet To Discuss Business

At the close of a recent assembly the different classes met in various rooms to conduct business.

The Freshmen Class held an election of officers, the following being elected: Mr. Clarence Theis, President; Miss Leona Krembs, Vice-president; Mr. Chesrown, Secretary-and-treasurer. The Sophomore class also elected officers. Bradford Willett, President, Pauline Buhlman, Vice-president; Florence Nelson, Secretary; Helen Weber, Treasurer.

The Juniors have already elected their officers and one class advisor has been appointed, Mr. L. M. Burroughs. The selection of the other advisor was left to the Junior class, whereupon Miss Seen was chosen. The members of the class were advised to have their pictures taken early.

The Senior class also chose advisors. Mr. Rogers had been appointed and Mr. Steiner was elected. A committee was appointed to confer with the officers and class advisors to decide upon class rings and pins for 1928. Miss Larsen reminded the Seniors to have their pictures taken, and Mr. Rogers gave some suggestions on getting Iris work done.

Conference Attended By Faculty Members

On Friday November 18 Professors Rogers, Herrick, Watson, Smith, Steiner and Neale, together with Doctor Baldwin drove to Marshfield to attend the High School Supervision Conference.

Pointer, Iris Send Editors to Madison

During the Thanksgiving vacation on November 25 and 26th, the editor-in-chief and faculty advisor of the Pointer, Solomon Welantzik and Mr. John J. Rellehan, drove to Madison to attend the Wisconsin Student Editor's convention. The convention is an annual affair held at Madison the two days following Thanksgiving. At this time lectures are given concerning newspaper and annual publications in High Schools and Colleges.

Those attending are editors, faculty advisors, and anyone interested in publishing school papers or annuals.

Miss Margaret Larsen, editor-in-chief of the Iris of this year, also attended the convention. Not only was Miss Larsen present at the various lectures and meetings, but she also attended the Banquet at the Hotel Lorraine, Friday evening, November 25th.

Ask McKee to Talk To Y.M.C.A. Tonight

On November 17 the enterprising young men of Stevens Point College met in Mr. Steiner's room and under the leadership of Frank Lasecki organized a Y. M. C. A.

Under the direction of William Norton a playlet was presented. Afterward Mr. Steiner addressed the boys. He set forth the merits of a Y. M. C. A. and the reasons why our young men should have such an organization.

In the free-for-all discussion which followed this talk, Dr. Baldwin spoke of the advantages of a Y. M. C. A.

Mr. P. H. McKee, student secretary of Y. M. C. A., Milwaukee, Wisconsin, has been invited to speak to the new organization December 1. Mr. McKee will aid the boys in establishing a constitution.

Debaters Prepare to Meet Marquette U.

On December 16th the negative team of the Marquette University debate squad will appear to debate a selected affirmative team of Point College. The question for debate is, "Resolved: That the United States cease to protect by force of arms American capital invested in foreign countries except after formal declaration of war."

The three debaters on the negative will be opposed by Allen McVey, Henri Hess, and Frank Joswick.

After the debate Open Forum will be held, and all the Debate class may engage the visitors in a verbal combat if they wish.

The debate class, which is under the tutelage of Mr. L. M. Burroughs, has been striving steadily toward a fair mastery of this year's subject and it is expected that the contest will be well worth while.

The Eau Claire affirmative team has asked for a date convenient to our negative teams. These debates are only preliminary and count only as practice.

WATCH FOR IRIS NEWS

Announcements will be made in the Pointer and on the Iris Bulletin Board. It is imperative that everyone should see these announcements and be on time when the pictures are taken.

Preliminary Work Begun

Cage practice officially opened last Monday at 3:15 when a goodly assorted bunch of potential basket makers assembled in the gym to get acquainted with their next three months surroundings.

The program of the week called for fundamentals, and tossing the medicine ball.

Suits will not be issued until Eggebrecht gets a line on the candidates, and by the looks of things there will be plenty of hot competition for all five berths.

Letter Men Numerous

Only three of Hunting's last year's varsity are among the missing: Ray Boone, center, Laurie Peterson, forward, and Vic Vroble, guard; while Captain Frank Wierenzenski, Ben Weronke, Scotty (Romeo) McDonald, Harold Paukert, Hank Bannach, Bill Marsh, and Harold Holmes, are back in short pants and rubber shoes. A complete list of candidates will be published next week.

Why The Falls Fell

Students have bothered Coach Eggebrecht to tell them just how his team shot the Falls and came out on top, so this department endeavors to enlighten the world on this topic.

The jinx that has found the environment at S. P. T. C. so favorable the last few decades is gone. Completely gone, and the guy that wins the concrete razor blades for chasing him is none other than Wild Bill Albrecht. The night before the Falls game, after practice, the fellows were in the locker room dressing. All at once a devilish squeal was heard and there stood Bill clined in a towel with his clarinet clinched in his molars.

He got hot with the blooming squeal stick and soon had strains of wild syncopated jazz tickling our ear drums. We humans can stand more punishment than jinxes can, and, as we called for encore after encore, the jinx made faces of extreme distaste and agony, held his ears and sprinted for parts west pursued by the high notes of "Red Hot Henry Brown". He must have stopped at River Falls and tipped their championship aspirations, as shown by the score. We expected a letter from R. F. asking Bill to come and play Pied Piper for them and chase the little bug-a-boo further west to La Crosse but they didn't and look what happened to them! Anyway we're darn thankful that the jinx has gone so let's give Bill thirteen good rags for distinguished service.

In Memorandum

Last season the jinx took a liking to Walter Hunting's cagers, and six conference contests were decided by a one or two point margin, the Pointers usually on the low end; although they had as good a quintet as any Normal in the state.

A resume of last season's hardluck schedule is as follows:

Point	..... 24	Stout	..... 23
Point	..... 22	Eau Claire	..... 27
Point	..... 21	Oshkosh	..... 32
Point	..... ?	Stout	..... won
Point	..... 15	Whitewater	..... 13
Point	..... 18	Oshkosh	..... 19
Point	..... 18	Whitewater	..... 17
Point	..... 30	Marquette	..... 31
Point	..... 24	Milwaukee	..... 26
Point	..... 30	Eau Claire	..... 26

What are we gonna do about it? Nothing, but try to chase the jinx and leave the rest to Coach Eggebrecht who is busy administering floor knowledge in large doses. Let's go!

WAIT

Professor S. A. Leonard of the University of Wisconsin, has endorsed a number of ungrammatical expressions on the grounds that such expressions are "rarely unclear".

"In fact," the professor said, "they are often clearer and more forceful than their cultivated equivalents."

"Try and get it," is one of the forty-five English locutions ordinarily frowned upon by extreme purists in grammar, which are declared to be perfectly proper in the speech of a cultivated person by some 22 authorities who gave their opinions to Professor Leonard in the course of an investigation sponsored by the national council of Teachers of English.

Among the sentences containing usages, incorrect according to strict grammatical ruling, but endorsed by the authors, editors, business men, linguists, and teachers of English and public speaking who constituted Professor Leonard's jury, are the following:

None of them are here.

Will you be at the Browns' this evening?

Who are you looking for?

That's a dangerous curve; you'd better go slow.

It is me.

One rarely likes to do as he is told.

There was a bed, a dresser, and two chairs in the room.

Can I be excused from this class?

That clock must be fixed.

To the high school English teacher who battles vainly for the "pure" English of the rhetoric books, Professor Leonard gives the assurance that "a great many of the expressions we have felt obliged to correct are actually quite acceptable in the informal speech and writing of the cultivated."

MR. SO-AND-SO BROADCASTING

For some reason other libraries have come to mean places of books and quiet. Libraries, to be libraries, must have books of course. It is in the very nature of libraries to have books. Assuredly. Who can imagine a library without books? Now who can imagine a library without quiet. Unfortunately a library without quiet is like a library without books, they just seem to go together, for what good are books if they cannot be read?

Having gone through this preliminary gyrations, it becomes almost imperative to come to the subject in hand, — which is the faculty. Somehow (the reasons for this may be psychological) some of our worthy teachers have come to the conclusion that the library is a place where a fairly sizeable audience is constantly waiting to hear them talk. Horrible! Still, if Mr. So-and-so, happens to have anything to say, and he wishes to say it, he says it, not in a soft tone of voice either, — no, no, it is beneath the dignity of a learned gentleman to whisper, you know.

Result — a large number of studious students (these last two words go very nicely together) must raise their heads from Maspero's Egyptian Archeology, etc. to find the cause of this rude interruption. And so the studious student's train of thought is broken, and he is brought back quickly from Egypt so that he may hear Mr. So-and-so talk aloud in the library.

Just as it is necessary that young women in the training school wear low heels and somewhat long skirts to be good examples to the children, just so it is necessary that all the Mr. So-and-so's be good examples to the students.

Let he whom the shoe fits wear it.

I do by no means advise you to throw away your time in ransacking, like a dull Antiquarian, the minute and unimportant parts of remote and fabulous times. Let blockheads read, what blockheads wrote.

Earl of Chesterfield.

The wisest man is generally he who thinks himself the least so.

The Rural Life Club presented its monthly program Tuesday evening November 22. At this meeting the members presented a Thanksgiving pageant. This was a sort of project on the part of the members by which the manner in which the various immigrants celebrate Thanksgiving was portrayed. The participants designed and made the costumes they considered appropriate.

The pageant was under the supervision of Miss Hanna. The student committee was composed of Clarence Teske, Dora Reed, and Nina Hall. The show pointed out to the future teachers what can be done in a one-room school. After the program doughnuts and sweet cider were served. The rest of the evening was spent in dancing.

Alumni Notes

Interesting letters have been received from two members of the Alumni.

One was from Miss Verna A. Phillips, who is in Caracas, Venezuela. She has been there for six years, studying Spanish and using it in daily conversation. She is planning on taking a furlough soon and returning to Stevens Point Teachers' College for a degree.

Another letter was received from Eddy L. Ford, who entered the Teachers' College in 1897. He has been working as a missionary in China, but is now at home on a furlough. His home address is 2408 Orrington Ave., Evanston, Ill.

Girls Set Schedule For School Gym Use

Athletics have been occupying the minds of many of our girls this year. Due to the fact that the boys also have great interest in sports it has been difficult for the girls to obtain the use of the gymnasium.

Arrangements have been made to the effect that the girls may have the use of the gymnasium Tuesday and Friday afternoons, and Saturday mornings. There will always be something doing on these afternoons. The girls plan to continue the playing of seasonal sports.

A Girls Volley Ball Tournament is to begin the week of December 5, playing Tuesday and Friday afternoons, and Saturday mornings. A paper will be on the bulletin board so that all girls, wishing to take part in the tournament may sign up. Don't put it off but act immediately.

NEW DEPARTMENTAL-SECRETARY

A recent addition to the force in the main office is Miss Margaret Mertlick, from LaCrosse. Miss Mertlick is successor to Mrs. Raymond Boone, the former Hilda Hollender, and will act as Departmental Secretary. Mrs. Boone it will be remembered went to Mauston this fall where Mr. Boone is now teaching.
