Nineteen Men Work To Make Basketball Team

(By Carlton Lintner)
Start Second Week

After eight and one-half hours of actual cage practice last week Coach Carl Eggebrecht's squad started their second week of court work last Monday.

Practice is held every Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 3:15 and every Tuesday and Thursday at 7:15, although practice games will alter it a bit.

The mentor scrimmaged his charges the first night of practice and has run thru light engagements every night since, giving each candidate the opportunity to prove his worth. Noticeable improvement is already obvious, there being less fumbling, better passing and floor work, and many signs of a speedy quintet.

The Squad As Is

The squad that greeted Carl Eggebrecht was, and still is, somewhat limited, and in all probability will remain so, making it necessary to add rather than to cut it.

Those trying out for the pivot position include: Harold Paukert, Dick Marshall, Tiny Bannach, Oscar Zeigel, Leo Krause, and Tiger Flowers, while the forwards are: Captain Frank Wierzenski, Charlie Piles, Bill Marsh, Harold Holmes, Jack Rezzatto, Red Nichols, and Carlton Lintner. The prospective guards are more numerous and, Ben Weronke, Scotch McDonald, Bill Albrecht, Greg Charlesworth, Leo Bailargeon, Warner Berry, and Shrimp Roman have tried their respective hands at it, reinforced occasionally by Tiny Bannach and Harold Paukert who play both center and guard.

Week's Practice Tilts

The Purple squad took its first trip Tuesday, traveling a whole block to the high school where they engaged the "Red Devils" in a spirited scrimmage.

This was the first of the fall series and follows a custom established some years ago whereby the Teachers can knock their little brothers all over the lot at certain times of the year. These practice massacres are beneficial to both schools, and Ringdahl's cagers will favor the Purple and Gold with a return game soon.

Capt. Wierzenski, Marshal, Piles, Paukert, and McDonald worked well for the Teachers, while Capt. Clausen, Baker, and Henning looked good for the Preps.

Other practice games with other schools are being arranged to take place before the Christmas recess, but nothing definite could be learned about them.

Old Stuff

Last season the Point cagers rang up a total of 225 points in their ten conference games, to their opponents 228 — only three points difference, proving that the Purple was on a par with the class of state.

The difficulty lay in shooting the critical basket that meant defeat or victory. This year's squad looks to be better sharp shooters than last year's, and we are praying that they will all be constant scorers throughout the season; because, after all, dead shots can win any basket ball game — and we gotta do some winnin'. Let's go!

Iris Asks For Snaps

Have you a friend who is always "doing something"? If so get out your kodak and snap your pal at a ludicrous moment.

There is a box below the bulletin board for all snapshots that you wish to go into the Iris. Everybody's picture should be in the Iris. The annual is a record of the school year. Get busy with your camera and help out.

BASKETBALL TONIGHT

Students of S. P. T. C. will have their first opportunity to view the new cage squad tonight, at 8:00 o'clock, when the Nepeos of Port Edwards come here for a practise game. A return game will be played at Nekoosa next Wednesday.

Rev. O. H. Hesla Talks At Y. W. C. A. Meeting

Rev. O. H. Hesla spoke at the weekly meeting of the Y. W. C. A. held Thursday evening at Nelson Hall. He gave an illustrated lecture on the status of women in China, showing the girls samples of the clothing worn there. He also had with him miniature carved novelties of rickshaws and other Chinese articles. The talk was both interesting and instructive and was very much enjoyed.

The following girls were rewarded for the best essays handed in during the "Why I Am Thankful" contest: Ethel Mais, Leota Andrew, Mildred Stankia, and Iva Mae Wood.

This evening the annual "Doll Party" will be held. Admission to this party will be a dressed doll which can be presented to the orphans for Christmas. It is hoped that every girl in school will make an effort to attend and bring a doll for some child who is not fortunate enough to have a plentiful Christmas stocking.

Forum Meeting Held On Wednesday Dec. 7

The regular monthly meeting of the Forum was held last evening in the Assembly room. After the usual business meeting a program was presented.

Under the direction of Walter Allen, Leander Van Hecke, Homer Morrissey, and Walter Allen presented a very clever Comedy Skit. There was also a trio, composed of John Rezzatto, Leander Van Hecke and Homer Morrissey. As music was the keynote it was only fitting that the program should be concluded by a group of solos by John Rezzatto.

Plans were made for an all school party to be held in the near future.

Discussion Held By Members Of Y. M. C. A.

Thursday evening December 1, the recently organized Y. M. C. A. met in Mr. Stiener's room. Frank Lasecki again acted as Chairman. There was a general discussion as to what should be put in the By-Laws.

A letter has been received from the River Falls College enclosing the constitution of that chapter of the Y. M. C. A. A committee under the direction of Walter Wassrud will use this constitution in making one for the Stevens Point Chapter.

At the regular meeting next month the new constitution will be adopted.

CLUB MAKES TOUR

The Science Club met last Wednesday at the Telephone building where two hours were spent in going through the building. The tour was conducted by the manager, Mr. Powell, and two other men.

Delegates To Go To Student Meet

Once in every school generation there is held what is known as a Quadrennial Student Volunteer Convention. This year the Tenth Annual convention is to be held at Detroit, Michigan. Mary Hughes, Charlotte Schlottman and Clarence Theis have been appointed delegates from Point College.

The convention sessions will begin at 2:30 Wednesday afternoon, December 28, 1927 and run through until Monday January 2, 1928. This is to be a convention dealing with the problems pertaining to Christian missions abroad. There will be platform addresses which will give data from first hand experience. After hearing the speaker's discussion, groups will tackle the problems raised.

Speakers are being brought from all over the world. In addition to 3,500 student delegates, many student pastors, missionaries and others, are expected.

Each college may send two delegates for the first two hundred students and one more for each additional hundred and fifty enrolled up to the first two thousand, and one additional delegate for each three hundred enrolled above two thousand. A member of the faculty may also go.

At Indianapolis in 1924, at the last convention 841 colleges and universities of Canada and the United States were represented. This year an even greater representation is expected, and to us it is of interest to know that Stevens Point Teachers' College is among the many.

Schedule Arranged For Club Meetings

Definite days have been set aside for organization meetings in order to do away with conflicts and regulate the number of evenings which the building will be open. The following is the schedule:

First Wednesday of each month Home Economics and Forum
First and third Wednesday of each month Rural Life Club, and Primary Council
Third Wednesday of each month Grammar Round Table
Second Wednesday Margaret Ashmun Club
Fourth Wednesday Science Club
Every Thursday Y. W. C. A.
First and third Thursday of each month Y. M. C. A.
Second and fourth Thursday of each month Loyola Club

The months referred to are always calendar months. Such meetings as may be interfered with by dismissals from school may be made up on fifth Wednesday or Thursday, as the case may be, when a fifth Wednesday or Thursday comes in some month, under the following restrictions:

1. The group with the least number of scheduled monthly meetings shall have the first right, but must make its request at least one full week before such fifth Wednesday or Thursday.

2. Otherwise, the first organization to make the request for a make-up meeting shall have the prior right.

FRESHMAN CLASS PLANS TO OFFER CHRISTMAS DANCE

Engage Allen's Orchestra; Plan Elaborate Decorations

Christmas would not be Christmas without a party. At any rate that seems to be the thought of the Freshmen. On the evening of December 17, at 8:00, the class of 1931 will be hosts to the students and faculty members of Stevens Point College, in the gymnasium. The Freshmen have laid extensive plans for a dance to be given at this time.

Committees Appointed

At a recent meeting the following committees were appointed, decorations: Buzz Flowers, chrm., Clarence Teske, Fern Pugh; entertainment committee: Clarence Theis, chrm., Leona Krembs, Donald Briselden.

Leander Van Hecke, Homer Morrissey, and Walter Allen will entertain with two musical stunts. Mildred Foss and Kenneth Franz have been asked to give humorous dialect selections.

The decoration committee states that they will use boughs, and red and green streamers for the basis of the decorations.

Mystery Stunt

The party starts at eight o'clock and stops — when it must. Besides the afore mentioned stunts there will be specialty dances and best of all a "Mystery Stunt". Absolutely nothing is known about this stunt although authorities say that it is a dandy.

Student Coaches To Present Six Plays

The comment on the public presentations of the Public Speaking Class plays has been such as to warrant the production of another series of short comedies from the legitimate stage. A second round of plays will be offered at 10:00 o'clock on the Monday, Wednesday and Friday mornings of the last week in this semester.

There have been selected six coaches who are: Eleanor Baker, Mildred Foss, Norma Hess, Mabel Keene, Maxwell McCornock and Linda Schimelpfing. These six will select and coach the six new plays. Of these the best three will be chosen after a tournament and presented for the public.

It has been suggested that there may be no charge made for this presentation, so keep it in mind, and invite your friends and any towns people who may be interested.

Class Makes Plans For Collecting Dues

The Freshman Class held a business meeting Thursday December 1, after the regular assembly. Plans were made for the school party. Miss Brown of the Training School was elected faculty advisor to assist Mr. Schmeckle who was appointed class advisor.

A committee was appointed to collect dues and all Freshman are asked to respond promptly. Leona Krembs will act as chairman, assisted by Elizabeth Rogers, George Chesrown, Olive Van Vuren, Chester Smith, and Carl Young.

Dues for the full year will be seventy five cents. The president states that this includes the assessment for the Christmas party and for that reason should be paid promptly.

WE SHOULD LIKE TO SEE IT

Last Thursday at the Von Steuben anniversary meeting, Frank J. Schneller of Neenah, commander of the Wisconsin department of the American Legion, spoke before the students and faculty of the Milwaukee State Teachers' College. In his talk he said that the same students who had voted in favor of pacifism at the student conference last January voted in favor of free love.

Mr. Teter, a member of the faculty, interrupted the speaker to deny this statement. After the meeting several other faculty members joined in the argument.

A sophomore, Edward Owens, ardently defended student views on pacifism and condemned Mr. Schneller's stand, before a public speech class the next day. He said,

"The students of the world are gradually leaning toward pacifism, not because we are cowards but because we realize the horrorfulness of the barbarian ideas of our warlike ancestors. We do not oppose war during war times; but we oppose war talk in peace times."

Now plans are being made to have Owens give his speech before the entire student body, and the forensic society decided to hold a debate in the near future on pacifism and militarism. A petition is also being circulated to induce Mr. Schneller to return and argue the question with one of the instructors. To a casual onlooker, not knowing any of the facts, what does this show? It shows that Milwaukee State Teachers' College is alive, and deserves unqualified commendation.

It is a good thing to have a man like Mr. Schneller accuse students of things, which, in his opinion, are wrong. It is especially good to have students and faculty respond in the way they did.

It is not the sole aim of the state to make teachers out of its teachers' college students. If the college training can just make them AWAKE and make them THINK, the state will undoubtedly consider the money well spent.

Now just this — can you imagine us responding like they did over there in Milwaukee?

FRESHMEN ON FELLOWSHIP

The following remarks are representative of the attitude taken by the Freshman Class on the subject of fellowship in the school.

The four year courses and the conferring of degrees have opened a new field for fellowship within classes and between classes. We believe that each member of this Central State Teachers' College should be loyal to his class as a Freshman, Sophomore, Junior, or Senior rather than to his individual department. Departments tend to create jealousy within the school; classes work toward the welfare and betterment of the entire school by bringing all departments together. A good way to explain this view is to use the example of the executive who is a specialist in a definite phase of business. The business world admires and respects his ability to guide a certain department but measures his character rather by the loyalty and service he renders the organization which employs him.

The Freshman class favors the advancement of fellowship between classes and so is planning a party to start the ball rolling. It may seem presumptuous to some that we, the youngest class of the college, should be the sponsors of this change in policy and yet, if this new policy is to be worked out definitely in the future, the obligation to bring it about naturally rests largely upon that class which has the greater number of years ahead of it in the school.

The date and program for this party will be announced in the assembly and on the bulletin board. We as hosts invite every Sophomore, Junior and Senior to attend this all-school party as our guests. There is only one restriction attached to the invitation as to who may attend: no one will be allowed to attend who cannot assimilate the atmosphere of good-will and fellowship. It will be your loss if you miss this good time. Specialty acts presented by talented members of the school will put the spice into the evenings entertainment. We hope that this party will be a success in furthering the cause of fellowship in the school.

THE JOYS OF MOTORING

Elton Davis: "Since I bought a car I don't have to walk to the bank to make my deposits."

Frank W.: "Oh, you ride there?"

Elton: "No. I don't make any."

WELL, THAT'S ONE WAY

Mae G.: "So you're going to marry him?"

Hazel C.: "Sure, got to get rid of him some way."

Eloping with his sweetheart, an Indiana man was just about to cross the state line into Illinois when the engine sputtered and died and the irate father caught up with the party. The miss in the auto missed getting married by a miss in the engine and the girl is no Mrs.

Miss Church: "I believe you missed my class yesterday."

Alice A.: "Oh, no, not in the least."

WHAT D'YA MEAN,—COVERED?

It used to take the combined efforts of two sheep to cover a woman. Now both have given way to one silk worm.

SUCH THINGS DO HAPPEN

Carlton: "He claims to be related to you and says he can prove it."

Harold H.: "The man's a fool."

Carlton: "That may be a mere coincidence."

OUR GENTLEMEN OF LEISURE

Mr. Smith: "And have we no leisure class in this country?"

Tack Allen: "Oh, yes, we have the coal miners."

Mrs. Steiner: "Herbert, you talk in your sleep. Do you know that?"

Mr. Steiner: "You don't begrudge me that, do you? It's my only chance."

TO DO OR NOT TO DO

Al Horak: "Where'll we go?"

Dorothy Shesely: "I don't know. It's too late to go to bed and too early to go to a night club."

DOES HE WAG HIS TAIL AND BARK TOO?

Oscar: "What are you eating, Jerry? Looks like a dog biscuit."

Jerry: "That's what it is. The doctor told me I needed more animal nourishment."

Zella: "Have you ever met the only man you could be happy with?"

Claire: "Oh, lots of them!"

It's a poor corner that hasn't one gasoline filling station.

MISUNDERSTOOD

Mr. Smith: "A fool can ask more questions than a wise man can answer."

Don B.: "Ah, I see! That's why I flunked that exam."

Mr. Davidson in English Methods class, "If your head was as bare as mine is, you wouldn't want that window open."

QUITE EASY

At an examination, a boy in the grades was asked to state why a tiger is striped, and he wrote:

"It is striped because it makes it better for circus proprietors. If a tiger escapes from a circus it is easier to find him than if he had no stripes. He will not go far without some one noticing that he is not a horse or dog, on account of his stripes, and calling up and asking the circus people if they have lost a tiger."

Rumor has it that when the Minneapolis gang went to the dorm and Miss Rowe saw their gastronomical convolutions, she wended her way to their table and announced, "I'm afraid there must be a misunderstanding. This isn't the only meal we serve here."

Well, the only thing we can say is that at first we thought the gang from Minnesota was bashful but we have since found that they stacked their plates so high that they were hid, not for the purpose of concealment, but for the main and simple reason that they were hungry.

SOCIETY

Seniors Entertain Faculty At Dinner

The Nelson Hall Seniors entertained the faculty and their wives at a six o'clock dinner Friday evening. This is an annual event, and is looked forward to with much pleasure by both the Seniors and faculty. About 119 were present this year.

The dining room was fittingly decorated with a Christmas tree and holly. The red and green color scheme was also carried out in the table decorations.

After the dinner, everyone gathered in the living room and the girls entertained with a short program. Miss Margaret Cauley played the violin and Miss Dorothy Cauley sang two numbers. She was accompanied by Miss Eunice Reilly. A play, "The Girl Who Slipped", was presented by Arline Carlsten, Charlotte Schlottman, Mary Hughes, Mary Kucirek, and Cecilia Leirick.

Vera Jordan acting in the capacity of Santa Claus distributed the presents to various faculty members and guests. After Santa had gone everyone drew names, and was given a piece of molding clay which he was supposed to shape into a present for the person whose name he had drawn. Many beautiful and some grotesque presents were received.

Student In Hospital

Miss Eleanor Mullarchy was operated on for appendicitis at St. Michael's Hospital, Wednesday, Nov. 3rd. The Public Speaking Class, the girls at the home where she stays, and some of her friends have sent her flowers.

Faculty At Convention

Mr. E. F. Roberts and Dr. R. D. Baldwin recently made a trip to Wautoma to attend the High School Supervisors Convention there.

The two members of the faculty discussed the various problems of conducting High Schools and also the problems connected with High School curriculums.

LITERATI TO MEET

The Margaret Ashmun Society will hold a meeting Wednesday, December 14th. Mr Spindler will give an address. There will also be the monthly book report. After a few musical numbers refreshments will be served and the remainder of the evening spent socially.

Delzell Entertains Council, Dec. 5th

Mr. Delzell held a Primary Council meeting at his home Monday, December 5. A pleasant program was given which consisted of the singing of Christmas Carols by the group, a reading by Harriette Nelson, a song by Mildred Stienke, and a Christmas story by Miss Ivy, while the girls roasted marshmallows before the fire place. The meeting closed with more group songs.

Group Enjoys Party

Miss Hanna gave a very pleasant party Wednesday, November 30, for her advisory group.

A number of games were played and a regular track meet carried out. The meet consisted of a 100 yard dash, running broad jump, 50 yard dash, Marathon Race, etc. Prizes were awarded the following people: Mr. Harold Holmes received first prize, Mr. Henri Hess, second and Miss Faith Herrick, third.

After this strenuous exercise, which every one enjoyed, Miss Hanna served a delicious lunch.

College Girl Honored

Point College seems to be not only getting added glories from its alumni but also from its students. Miss Olive VanVuren, a Nelson Hall girl, recently returned from Chicago where she attended the convention of the 4-H Clubs. While there Miss VanVuren was selected as the Champion of the State Show.

Accomplishments like this can not be lauded too much. It is with pleasure that the Pointer extends its congratulations to Miss VanVuren.

Coach Eggebrecht attended the Notre Dame-Southern California football game and returned disappointed. He states that Drury and Flannigan were the only bright spots of a dark contest; that Notre Dame pulled the same plays that River Falls did against us, while S. C. worked the same plays that the Point used. He advocates a horrible death by torture for all fans who arrive late and block the view while getting to their seats.

A writer for the Superior Telegram joined in the popular indoor sport of picking a-l-conference teams, and honored Ben Weronke, local center and Captain elect, with a tackle position. Bennie says he appreciates the honor but if the picker insists in giving him a strange position on the mythical team, he would rather be quarter-back than tackle. Ben has never played either so he ought to know.

Coach Harry Ringdahl of the high school is always on the lookout for new basketball wrinkles. His squad, fitly called the "Red Devils," wear scarlet jerseys, trunks, sweat pants, and sweat shirts, making them a hot looking team that can be seen ten miles away, but, to cap the climax, each player now sports a nice scarlet ribbon around each wrist to make identification easier in a melee. Great stuff, Harry! Maybe little Tiny Bannach will be crying for some pretty wristlets soon. We hope so, cuz they're Keen.

Tiny Bannach is getting around a petition to send to the governor requesting a new gym, the present one being too small for expansion on his part. Whenever he takes his allotted two steps in practice, he hits the wall and shakes the building. Hank doesn't want to knock the building over or jar anyone's bicuspid loose from the shock, so he is taking the initiative in getting a gym where he can take two good Full Steps. Nice work Tiny.

Alumni Notes

Stevens Point College should be proud of its alumni. Some of them, who are doing very notable work, have been brought to the attention of the office. A few of them are:

Margaret Ashmun, a graduate of the class of 1897, is now located at 57 Prospect Street, Northampton, Mass. She has become famous as a writer.

Harvey A. Schofield graduated with the class of 1901, is president of the State Teachers' College at Eau Claire. Charlotte Anna Nachtwey, class of 1917, is a lawyer in Chicago.

Joseph D. Beck, a graduate of the class of 1897, is a member of Congress from Viroqua and is prominently mentioned as a candidate for governor.

Martin R. Paulson, class of 1920, is an attorney at law at Racine.

Edwin Thomas O'Brien, graduated with the class of 1898, is President of the United States National Bank at Kenosha, Wisconsin.

Nellie Margaret Lamoriux, a graduate of the class of 1900, is Vice-Principal of the Social Science Department in the Junior and Senior High Schools of Waukesha.

Ira Odell Hubbard, class of 1899, is Superintendent of the Public Schools of Ashland, Wisconsin.

Ellen Agnes Hoffman, class of 1907, is Librarian at the Forest Products Laboratory, United States Forest Service, Madison, Wisconsin.

Pearl Marie Heffron, class of 1919, is a Teacher in the Marquette University, Milwaukee, Wisconsin.
