POINT TROUNCE WHITETEY BY SMALL MARGIN

Visitors Downed by Excellent Free-throw Marksmanship — Keith Berens

The Purple won its second conference game last Saturday night by defeating Whitewater by fifteen. This places Stevens Point in a better estimation among the rest of the conference teams. Although Whitewater is not one of the best teams in the Normal association and sufficiently good to put up a good fight. The fans from town went away satisfied for once, that the Point cage squad can win by virtue of hard work, even with the run of luck against them.

Whitewater tried to take advantage of the Point's characteristic slow start in the first half, by trying for all the shots possible. They started shooting in long shots from all angles but none of them took effect. The Purple defense was somewhat loose at first, but it tightened up during the course of the game.

First Half Slow

The Visitors continued to plunk dead ones in the vicinity of the cage throughout the first half. The luck still held. As the Point defense tightened up, the Whitewater shooting became ragged and spasmodic. Vroble, the new addition to the Purple quint, went in for Weronke, and a few minutes later Marsh took Wierin­zinski's place. Whitewater continued their snap shooting and finally managed to edge a field goal. Just before the half ended, Wierinzinski went in again for Marsh. Both teams tried long shots for the short period left. The half ended 4-10 with the Point on the shady side, and the spectators all ready to see another Purple loss.

Point Gains Fast

The second half proved a different tale. Peterson dropped in the first Point field goal, and then the Whitewater squad began to get anxious, with the result that free throws began coming this way. When Mac Donald caged another field goal, the crowd began to wake up, since the free throws had brought them up to 12-13. Mac's basket put the Purple ahead one point, and a free throw just before the game ended made the final score.

MARDI GRAS WILL BE GAY REVELRY

It's all settled.

Mardi Gras is going to be a humdinger!

General Chairman, Irving Gordon, has appointed all his committee and everything is arranged from the Departmental committees through the final fancy dress ball. All the popular people have been selected. The Union Vaudeville talent is rounding into shape. The Mardi Gras spirit has grasped the heart of the school and is holding it in breathless anticipation.

It will be the most resplendent event that the gray old Stevens Point partisans can remember. It's going to start with melody and end with a rhapsody. Of course the Ball will be the brilliancy of this year. It's going to be a Mask-Ball, and everyone admitted is going to mask.

March 1st is less than two weeks away, but it won't be long now!

CAGE STAR TURNS SKY RIDER TIES CHICAGO SKI JUMPER

Entering in a ski tourney at Nelsonville, Laurie Peterson, of the High School Dept. and member of the cage squad, tied Oscar Knutzen, star jumper and member of the famous Norge Ski Club of Chicago. Laurie made the longest jump of the contest, but his other jump, which was somewhat shorter, brought his average down so that he tied with Knutzen. He also jumped to fourth place at the Wausau Winter Carnival meet.

He was accompanied to Nelsonville by William Richardson.

THE WICKED TREND

The ancient and omnipresent idea of reform is for the other fellow is as rife today as it has been at any time since the Cro Magnon guffawed at the table manners of the Neanderthals. Though A is being led by the nose, it is the case that he feels he could stand a little of it. It goes round and round. The spirit that something is too bad for somebody else, but not too bad for me is ridiculously absurd, but it is just as sure to crop up out of the corner of life as the bulldog out of the fireplace. "The Private Life of Helen of Troy" has been the bullseye of the reformers brick-bats of late. They read it avidly, but raise their sanctimonious eye-brows in odious disdain at the thought of anyone else reading it. Others, they squeal, will not correctly interpret it! Though by the time when the folks who are just emerging from the throes of impressionable youth look at the youth which has taken its place and give it credit for the same amount of judgment which it had in its heyday! Did the supposed salacious things of their age influence them? They would say that their youth was different, but relatively was it?

ANNEtNT CONVENTIONS

A few weeks ago a hundred or more swimmers darted from the beach of Catalina into the near-frigid Pacific to swim to the mainland. Among this number were several women. The race was a heart-breaking one, but it is interesting to note that two women stayed in the water four hours after the last man had given up. They endured the chill waves for more than nineteen hours.

Fifty years ago a contest such as this would have been impossible. Women could not have competed; their precious swimming costumes would have prevented the best of them from swimming a good nautical mile. They wore more to go swimming, more by far, than women now wear for street wear, and probably several times as much as a woman in formal dress. Moreover, they were not physically able. Women were essentially secluded beings. None of them, drudges or ladies, could have withstood the rigors of this Catalina swim.

Women, it is obviously (painfully so) true, wear scant clothing today. But they are the bane of the average, the average, up to ten pounds of clothing in winter, the average woman wears as low as sixteen ounces! Dr. Lee Alexander Stone, of Chicago, attributes to the absurd apparel which men wear their increasing tendency to be round shouldered, bilious and their high susceptibility to colds. It is his contention that women have been given more than mere social emancipation: they have been given emancipation from the eviscer-like foibles of antique clothing.

It is no longer considered unlady-like for a girl to engage in music and sports. Women’s athletic records are being broken constantly. Men’s records are almost stable. Fractions of seconds are being clipped off women’s records and we may soon see a time when women will compete with men for the highest laurels. The Catalina swim, the culmination of countless other record swims, may be the epochal event of open athletic contests.

He: Great! That beats dancing any time.

And thereupon Buzz Vetter took her by the arm and walked out.

LOYOLA HOLDS PARTY AND SLEIGH-RIDE

A sleigh-ride sponsored by the Loyola Club was held for friends and members last Thursday, February 10th. The meeting places were at the Post office and Nelson Hall.

At seven-thirty the sleigh drew up at the Dorm and a gay group of school-teachers-to-be-élaborated into the crowded bob. After an hour of enjoyable riding and hiking the group gathered at the Demonstration School where hot dogs and coffee were served under Miss Hanna’s supervision.

Miss Roach acted as chaperone and the Misses LeVigne, and Tremey, and Father Weix were guests of honor.

LITERARY CLUB DANCE BEST ATTENDED SO FAR

The after-game dance sponsored by the Margaret Ashmun Club, which was held after the White-water tilt, was the most successful terpsichore held so far by any of the various school organizations which have attempted dances for profit. The dance was attended by over two hundred and netted a neat turnover for the Club. The money will enable the Club to liquidate several outstanding debts.

Things noticed — Lemmer installing doorbells.

G. A. A. PARTY BECOMES HILARIOUS AFFAIR

Twenty-three members of the G. A. A. enjoyed a sleigh ride last Friday evening.

The horses, inspired by the soloists, Connie Martin and Dorothy Shesley, were able to pull over the barest of bare streets.

Helen Lohr, wishing to complete the required number of credits for a sweater and also to relieve the horses, walked part of the time. As a result of one of these little walks, Miss Foster was left behind.

After a two hour ride, the girls stopped at the Pal for a hot lunch. Margaret Larson discovered that doughnuts were not exchangeable for sandwiches.
Noted Lecturer
Well Received

Original portrayal of Asiatic and African life extremely interesting.
Possessed of breadth of view and speaking without restraint
— often philosophically — Julian Arnold, traveller and lecturer, offered both faculty and students of S. P. N. a greatly appreciated and decidedly worthwhile series of inspirational talks. He discussed conditions of life in Africa and the Orient, together with current social and political conditions, in a manner distinctly new.

Comprehensive treatment of material demanding wide and detailed observation, and the ability to colorfully clothe this extensive variety of subject matter, were distinguishing characteristics.

The evening lectures were rendered doubly pleasurable by the addition of vocal and musical selection by members of the music department. The Musical Trio, Girl’s Glee Club, and Girl’s Quartette combined, under the direction of Mr. Pervical, to make this treat possible.

QUESTION OF THE HOUR.
We believe that Ye Pointer Editor should have all the dignity attached to a position of such importance, but why the hirarchical attachments? Is it possible that we are harboring a vicious criminal in our midst in the guise of a self-respecting editor? Here is a chance for local sleuths to strut their stuff.
