WERRENRATH TO SING HERE OCTOBER 12th

POINT GRIDDERS TIE MARQUETTE IN FAST NON-CONFERENCE TILT

No Serious Injuries Mar Local Football Prospects

After a long one hundred and fifty-eight mile drive, the weary Pointers battled in a field of sand to a 7-7 tie with Marquette State Teacher's College last Saturday. The Purple Cloud started with a bang and hovered on the ten yard line during the first eight minutes of play long enough for Captain Paukert to cross the line for six points, while Les Wray added the extra one. The strong Northerners were held to two first downs; did not make a yard through the Point line and all the passes they shot were incomplete except one. Fifteen pointers were entered in the fray while Marquette sent in two full teams out of the eighty men they had on the field. Considering having only sixteen hours of real practice and being unacquainted with each other and Coach Eggebrecht's ways, our boys and our coach deserve a great deal of credit for the way they fought and out played Marquette during the whole contest.

Squad Of 21 Taken

Twenty-one players were taken. They include: left end, L. Holmes, H. Baruth; left tackles, Smith, McCarr; left guards, Fors, Fern, Albrecht; Centers, Weronke, Marsh; right guards, H. Flolid, Precourt; right tackles, Bannach, Pike; right ends, Baillargeon, Chesrown; quarterback, Les Wray; Halfbacks, McDonald, H. Holmes, Charlesworth, C. Pile; fullback, Paukert. Fifteen of these men saw action and none of them was seriously injured. Swan, Richardson, and Horak, a promising full-back, had to be left at home on account of disabilities.

Coach's Statement

"In a tie game there is no joy or grief for both sides. Considering the long trip and the fact that we only had 16 hours of practice, I was well pleased with the game as a whole. I'm mighty proud of the showing of the Point College team, the fighting spirit was commendable, but the boys have a long way to travel before a team of championship caliber is assembled. It also showed that there are a number of positions on the team that are far from cinched. The stiff competition was just what the Pointers needed and I think that it will show up when we take Eau Claire's scalp next Saturday."

Eau Claire Next

This week Eggebrecht is working hard to remedy weak spots and giving out new plays. The hardest drilling the team will get is right now because coach feels that we've gotta beat Eau Claire at any cost. He's got a fine spirit, so has the team, and lets have some on the student's part. 'Member, we're going to beat Eau Claire, — let's go!

Bad Bennie

It is whispered around the locker room that Marquette, in addition to being a very strong aggregation, also has some shady characters in their line up. One of these put a bruise on Ben Weronke's face with a stiff armed fist. Benny chased the culprit all around the town. Failing to catch the long winded Northman, he returned to the game and in revenge he playfully choked another opponent during a melee. The referee opened his sleepy eyes just then and the Point went back 15 yards. What is our problem?

Officers Chosen For Law Classes

Mr. Delzell's Parliamentary Law class consists of 32 members who meet on Tuesdays and Thursdays at 9:10. The class boasts of a large active membership and it is expected that the students in it will carry on the work with great interest, giving themselves valuable parliamentary practice.

After the first meeting was called to order the class elected Elton Davis as temporary chairman and Clifford Krake for temporary secretary. The chairman stated the object of the club and selected Henry Bannach, Margaret Reading, and Maxwell McCornoch to draw up the constitution and by-laws. After a short discussion this meeting was adjourned. The calling of the second meeting to order by the temporary chairman was followed by the reading of the minutes of the previous meeting. The next order of business was the nomination, election and inauguration of officers, who will hold office one week. The following officers were elected: Pauline E. Buhlman, President; Forrest McDonald, Vice-president; Margaret Larsen, Secretary; Harold Holmes, Time-keeper; Bill Richardson, Sergeant-at-arms. After the transaction of business the meeting was adjourned.

English Club Plans Home-Coming Float

The first meeting of the Margaret Ashmun Club was held Friday afternoon in the Assembly. Due to the fact that all the members were not present it was decided that several important business matters be postponed until the next meeting. However tentative plans were set under way for the Home-coming float. Home-coming is Oct. 14 and 15 this year.

The President, Mr. Joswick, appointed several committees which are as follows: selection committee, Julia VanHecke, Pauline Buhlman, and John Praguski; program committee, Mary Kucirek, Leander VanHecke, and Cecilia Schmidt; float committee, Margaret Collins, Florence Nelson, Henry Hess, George Schreiber, Mary Agnes Boyle, Jean Mainland, and Ann Scharff. Pauline Buhlman was appointed reporter.

Pledges will be announced at the end of the first quarter.

Material For Girls' Hockey Teams Needed

Hockey practice has started at Stevens Point State Teacher's College under the direction of Miss Eva M. Seen. All the women students of the school are eligible and they are invited to come out NOW and learn the game. Practice is held every afternoon from 4:15 to 5:00 o'clock and on Saturday forenoons from 10:00 to 11:00. This sport counts in the work for girls' athletic letters and sweaters, three times a week, five points a night being given for each. In case of rain, volley ball will be played in the gym.

Miss Seen urges every young lady who is athletically inclined, to come out for practice, as much enjoyment and fun is derived from the ancient sport of hockey.

Mrs. Sims Presents

Old students will recall the impressive Memorial services which were held last spring in honor of the late President Sims' birthday. At this time Mrs. Sims presented the school with a splendid enlargement of a recent picture of the former President. The portrait was hung in the west end of the main corridor and remained there until last week. The picture was taken down to be replaced by a later enlargement. Mrs. Sims very kindly had the newer and better picture enlarged and framed this fall and the result now hangs where the original picture hung. The students and faculty members will recognize in the new picture a much better representation of the kind friend who was loved by all that knew him.

Tennis Club Meets Monday

In spite of dreary weather conditions tennis enthusiasts are optimistically declaring that they will be playing on the courts soon. The four new cement courts are situated in back of the Rural Demonstration School. They are open to Tennis Club members. Some of the new students and also some of the old have not been able to find out how to secure membership in the Tennis Club. It is for their benefit that a meeting of the Tennis Club has been called for next Monday, Oct 10. It will be held in Mr. Schmeckle's room directly after the last classes.

The membership fee is one dollar. Keys are fifty cents extra. The Club owns the courts and takes care of nets and new lines and such details. At the end of the year it also sponsors a contest in which the best players in Men's singles, Women's singles and in doubles are decided.

Read Bulletin Board, Is Official Request

At the head of the main stair-case stands a board which controls the destinies of many people. Its official title is Bulletin Board. On this board is posted practically every thing of importance to the student body. For the benefit of the new people it will be well to list what can be found there. There are columns for the following: Student and organization mail; Lost and Found; Y. W. C. A.; Glee Club; Orchestra; Departmental; and Miscellaneous.

Any notices that a student has that pertain to any activity whatsoever may be posted. The student body should consider it a daily duty to read the Bulletin Board for any changes which may be made in schedules, etc.

Plays To Be Given By English Class

The Public Speaking Class under the direction of Mr. L. M. Burroughs has been steadily increasing in numbers. The members are at present engaged in learning the art of gesticulation and poise. According to all reports some difficulties have been experienced by those who come first on the programs each day.

EXPECT CROWD IN H. S. AUDITORIUM TO HEAR ARTIST

Hope To Have Many Students Present For Lecture Course

The opening number on the Lecture Course is October 12th when Reinald Werrenrath, famous baritone will sing at the High School Auditorium. In defiance of the usual stories of artists Mr. Werrenrath has never been forced to live in an attic but it would seem rather that success has sought him as much as he has sought it. He is without doubt one of the foremost American Baritones of today. Coming from a long line of ancestors of musical talent, Werrenrath is the possessor of a wonderful heritage. Besides being one of the best singers he is also one of the most interesting personalities now before the public. He was exceptionally well equipped to become famous and his qualities were given immediate recognition.

Acclaimed Great Artist

The Americans as a nation are eager to recognize merit and Werrenrath has received very substantial recognition from them. His success has been tremendous both on this side of the Atlantic and in Europe where he has toured triumphantly several times. During the season of 1923-1924 he filled over a hundred engagements in the eight months of the musical season, in recitals, festivals, oratorios, and engagements with orchestras. He gave three recitals in Carnegie Hall, New York, to overflowing audiences, and has appeared with all the leading orchestras in the United States. In all, during the winter he traveled more than 60,000 miles from Virginia to Canada and from New York to the Pacific Coast where he goes again this year.

His art is rare, virile, wholesome, intelligent, and there is an understanding and beauty about all he does that strikes a responsive chord in the hearts of his hearers. He works unceasingly and each year brings something new to his audiences, which after all is the secret of any lasting success. Recently a critic paid him this tribute, "The more he sings, the better he sings. Every time he returns he sings with more roundness and richness," the consensus of opinion of all who hear him.

Faculty Trio Takes Trip; Hear Speakers

Three of the prominent members of our faculty have been on jaunts this past week-end, but this time it was for the purpose of working. Mr. Herriek, Mr. Steiner, and Dr. Baldwin went to Madison to attend the City Superintendents' Convention there, Friday, September 30, 1927. While there they heard some splendid talks by the Dean of the College of Liberal Arts, at Minnesota University. Dean Johnson predicted great success for the average college student of the future.

APPOINTMENT SECRETARY

Mr. E. G. Doudna former secretary of the Wisconsin Teachers' Association has recently been appointed secretary of the State Normal Board of Regents. The appointment is an especially fine one and foreshadows better days for the State Colleges.

THE EDITOR RAVES

THE CARROLL ECHO tells us how last semester the "Phi Theta boys cracked the books a lot and beat the non-frat men by a few points. The non-frats are back strong this semester though, leading all the men's groups by a comfortable margin. A good rivalry for honors in scholarship is as healthy a situation as the same sort of rivalry in sports. Watch how this list changes in another semester." Then it gives the scholastic standing of the various school clubs.

In late years there has been much discussion as to whether or not fraternities and sororities do enough good to a school to excuse their existence. Some of the leading colleges and universities in the country have decided that the bad outweighs the good, and have forthwith dissolved them.

Whether fraternities and sororities are or are not worth while is a matter open to debate. No one can truthfully say that they are terribly bad and utterly worthless. Still, one cannot say that they are absolutely good. To say that they are bad is stupid — to say that they are good is ignorant. The truth is that some fraternities and sororities are really so worth while that they are nationally known and respected. Others are smaller and narrower in their scope, but their traditions are such that they are of immense value to their schools. Still others are purely hot-beds of trouble to administrations (and sometimes to the police), and dangerous to the social and moral life of the student body.

A fraternity or sorority, or any school organization for that matter, should stand for something big. The quotation at the beginning of this article shows clearly what can happen when school organizations sit up and determine to AMOUNT TO SOMETHING. They are all in it at Carroll. They are not satisfied to initiate new members once or twice a year, hold dances in the spring and fall, and call themselves frat men or non-frat men. To meet every week or so and hear a Mr. So-and-so talk, a Miss Terrible sing, and a Mr. Awful play a few numbers on a piano, is NOT enough excuse for an existence.

There is nothing our school needs more than a good group of active clubs. Not more than there are now, necessarily, — but just active. There are certainly enough things to be done here. Homecoming will be here soon. Let us see if the High School Department can put out a bigger and better float or stunt than the Grammars. Let's see if the Rurals can't make the Primaries ashamed of themselves. What club or what department will take the top of the scholastic list at the end of this semester? The Pointer bets on the Rurals.

CLERGY?

When Sinclair Lewis' "Elmer Gantry" was first published last year, the hue and cry was not only dreadful but it was also wonderful. Clergymen in general condemned it. A great mass of scholarly people were loud in their praise of it. Every newspaper gave it a page at least.

Today, after months and months, Elmer is still found to be the most read according to the Bookman's Monthly Score. It has been at the top of the list, for a long time now but it still seems solid.

Of course Lewis is a remarkably interesting author, but the question before us is hardly answered by that. What makes "Elmer Gantry" such a favorite? Is it the subject of the story, Lewis' style, the praise of scholarly people, or the rancorous condemnation of the clerical gentlemen? Some say the clergy ought to go in for advertising.

KEEP AWAKE

Any fellow can remember a few years back when his older sister wore "middies," and combed her hair with "ear-muffs," sometimes reinforced with contrivances called "rats." Since then they have gone through almost any number of convolutions. They have parted their hair in the middle, rolled them under, cut them, shingled them, and worn them "boyish." Now it looks as though the barbers are going to lose business. The fad now upon us seems to be hair just long enough to appear unkempt, and held together at the back of the neck with a comb. From which you may draw any moral you wish.

HUMOR
MORE OR LESS

Dr. Baldwin: "Do you swear?"
Carlton: "No sir."
Dr. B. "Drink?"
Carlton: "No sir."
Dr. B. "Smoke, gamble, or tell 'em raw?"
Carlton: "No sir."
Dr. B. "Say, I'd like you to meet my niece."
Carlton: "No, sir; I don't neck either."

Margery: "I dreamed I died last night."
Claire: "What woke you up, — the heat?"

A VOICE FROM THE DARK (?)
AGES.

What's become o' the old-time mother that used t' say: "Well I reckon it's about time we wuz puttin' long dresses on Emmy."

Joe — "Have you heard the multiplication song?"
Jim — "No, what is it?"
Joe — "How many times."

Conductor: "This train goes to Buffalo and points east."
Old Lady: "Well I want a train that gets to Syracuse and I don't care which way it points."

Helen Gherke: "The man I marry must be a hero."
Pearl Jaaska: "Aw, gee, don't worry. You're not as bad looking as that."

Mr. Neale: "I never kissed a girl until I met your mother. Will you be able to say the same to your son when you become a married man?"
Son: "Not with such a straight face as you can, father."

Bill A. "Ever seen one of those machines that can tell when a person is lying?"
Frances R. "Seen one? Gosh, I go with one!"

"Speaking of bathing in famous springs, said the tramp to a tourist, 'I bathed in the spring of '86.'"

Consider the fish. Ne never gets caught so long as he keeps his mouth shut.

A TRADITION.

Once upon a time there was a man who knew all the words of "The Star Spangled Banner."
He was Francis Scott Key.

Mr. Burroughs: "Why did Milton write 'Paradise Regained'?"
Verna: "I think it was because his wife died."

Oscar: "Didn't I get my last haircut here?"
Barber: "No, we've only been here two years."

Mr. Collins: "Whom do you resemble in your family?"
Ed Vetter: "I take after my father when he has money."

Marie: "You ought to be an aviator."

Angle: "Why?"
Marie: "Because you're no good on earth."

Students Attend Church Welcomes

Receptions given Friday night by several churches of the city supplied entertainment for a large number of college students.

At the Baptist Church, Miss Hussey had charge of the games while Miss Jones had charge of the program which consisted of an address of welcome, a piano solo, a reading, and an address by the pastor.

The Methodist reception was held in the church parlors which were decorated in orange and black. Two bass solos, an address of welcome, and a vocal solo provided a very entertaining program.

The Presbyterian Church was attractively decorated with autumn flowers and ferns. The program was made up of an address of welcome, vocal solos, a playlet, and a piano solo. Games and charades concluded the entertainment.

The attractive parlors of the Trinity Lutheran Church were made more homelike by the addition of floor lamps and easy chairs. The entertainment for the evening included an address of welcome, a piano solo, a reading, and a vocal solo.

Orange and black crepe paper formed the attractive decorations at the St. Paul's Evangelical Church. An address of welcome, a reading, a vocal solo, and games provided the entertainment for the evening.

Announcement Made Of More Weddings

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Hilda Hollender and Raymond Boone. The wedding took place last spring. Mr. Boone, who graduated from Point College this June, was Captain of the Basketball team last year and active in many of his Department's affairs. Mrs. Boone was employed in the office of the President and was equally well known among the student body. She left a short time ago for Mauston where Mr. Boone is teaching. Before her departure she was presented with a lovely chest of silver from the faculty of the College.

Another wedding of interest to the students is that of Miss Marion Shanks and Norville Justman. The couple were married this past week-end in Beloit. After the ceremony they left on a trip through the southern part of the state. Upon their return they will be at home in Edgar, where Mr. Justman owns a meat market. The bride is a graduate of Stevens Point High School and Mr. Justman attended Point College last year.

K. Of C. Entertains Catholic Students

The K. of C. entertained Loyola members and their friends at an informal dance in the K. C. hall Friday evening from 8:00 o'clock to 12:00 o'clock. Mr. Sievwright and Mr. Blood were present as representatives of the K. of C. organization. Miss May Roach, faculty advisor of Loyola acted as chaperone for the evening. Father Casey gave the welcome address. He expressed the wish that the K. of C. would put on such an affair more often. Mr. Walter Jonas sang Cherie Je T'aime; Mr. Rezzatto sang Blue Skies. As a concluding number Leander Van Hecke and Walter Jonas sang Sam the O.d Accordian Man.

The rest of the time the guests were entertained by the Rainbow Revelers. Ice cream and wafers were served later in the evening.
