No Serious Injuries Mar Local Football Prospects

After a long one hundred and fifty-mile odyssey, the Marquette eleven returned to the Point late Saturday. The team was accompanied by a group of several hundred students who made a yard through the Point line on Tuesdays and Thursdays at 9:10. The class boasts of a large active member-ship and it is expected that the students in it will carry on the work with great interest, giving themselves a new sense of worth through the practice.

The band, which presented the school with a splendid enlargement of a recent picture of the former President, later presented the picture hung in the west end of the band corridor and maintained there until last week. The picture was taken down to be replaced by a later enlargement.

Mrs. Sims kindly had the newer and better picture enlarged and placed in the same position as the result now hangs where the original picture hung. The student- and faculty members will recognize in the new picture a much better representation of the time friend who was loved by all that knew him.

EXPECT CROWD IN H. S. AUDITORIUM TO HEAR ARTIST

Hope To Have Many Students Present For Lecture Course

The opening number on the Lecture Course is October 12th when Reinold Werrenrath, famous baritone will sing in the High School Auditorium in defiance of the usual stories of artists. Mr. Werrenrath has never been forced to live in an attic but it would seem rather that success has sought him as much as he has sought success from without doubt one of the foremost American Baritones of today. Coming from a long line of ancestors of musical talent, Werrenrath is the possessor of a wonderful heritage. Beside being one of the best singers he is also one of the most interesting personalities now before the public and he well equipped to become famous and his lectures were given immediate recognition.

Alclaimed Great Artist

The Americans as a nation are eager to recognize merit and Werrenrath has received very substantial recognition from them. His success has been tremendous both on this side of the Atlantic and in Europe where he has toured triumphantly. He has been touring during the past 1923-1924 he filled a hundred engagements in the eight months. He is known to clubs, festivals, oratorios, and engagements with orchestras. He gave three recitals in Carnegie Hall, New York, to overflowing audiences, and has appeared with all the leading orchestras in the United States. In all, during the winter he traveled more than 60,000 miles and was heard from New York to the Pacific Coast and South America.

His art is rare, virile, wholesome, intelligent, and there is an understanding and beauty that strikes a responsive chord in the hearts of his hearers. He works unceasingly and year after year he strikes a responsive chord in the hearts of his hearers. He works unceasingly and year after year he

Fallacy Trio Takes Trip; Hear Speakers

Three of the prominent members of our faculty have been away this past weekend, but this time it was for the purpose of working. Mr. Herrick, Mr. Schmidt, and Dr. Balichon went to Madison to attend the City Superintendents Convention there Friday, September 30, 1927. While there they heard some splendid talks by the Dean of the College of Liberal Arts at Minnesota University. Dean Johnson predicted great success for the average college student of the future.

FACULTY SECRETARY

Mr. E. G. Donahu former secretary of the Wisconsin Teachers' Association has recently been appointed secretary. The appointment is an especially fine one and foreshadows better days for the State Colleges.
THE EDITOR RAVES

THE CARROLL ECHO tells us how last semester the "Phi Theta boys cracked the books a lot and beat the non-frat men by a few points. The non-frats are back strong this semester though, leading all the men's groups by a good, good margin. A good rivalry, for honors in scholarship is as healthy a situation as the same sort of rivalry in sports. Watch how this list changes in another semester." Then it gives the scholastic standing of the various school clubs.

In late years there has been much discussion as to whether or not we are losing too much to do school to excel in the existence. Some of the leading colleges and universities in the country have decided that the bad outweighs the good, and have forthwith dissolved them. Then it gives the scholastic standing of the various school clubs.

A fraternity or sorority, or any school organization for that matter, should stand for something big. The quotation at the beginning of this article shows clearly what can happen when school organizations sit up and determine to AMOUNT TO SOMETHING. They are all in it at Carroll. They are not satisfied to imitate new members once or twice a year, hold dances in the spring and fall, and call themselves frat men or non-frat men. To meet every week of so and hear a Mr. So-and-so talk, a Miss Terrible sing, and a Mr. Awful play a few numbers on a piano, is NOT enough excuse for an existence.

There is nothing our school needs more than a good group of active clubs. Not more than there are now, necessarily,—but just active. There are certainly enough things to be done here. Homecoming will be here soon. Let us see if the High School Department can put out a bigger and better float or stunt than the Grammars. Let's see if the Rurals can't make the Primaries as ham-fistedly dissolve them as they were "boyish." Now it looks as though the barbers are going to lose their jobs. The men are not long enough to appear unkempt, and held together at the back of the neck with a comb. From which you may draw any moral you wish.
Students Attend Church Welcomes

Receptions given Friday night by several churches of the city supplied entertainment for a large number of college students.

At the Baptist Church, Miss Hussey had charge of the games while Miss Jones had charge of the program which consisted of an address of welcome, a piano solo, a reading, and an address by the pastor.

The Methodist reception was held in the church parlors which were decorated in orange and black. Two bass solos, an address of welcome, and a vocal solo provided a very entertaining program.

The Presbyterian Church was attractively decorated with autumn flowers and ferns. The program was made up of an address of welcome, vocal solo, a playet, and a piano solo. Games and charades concluded the entertainment.

The attractive parlors of the Trinity Lutheran Church were made more home-like by the addition of floor lamps and easy chairs. The entertainment for the evening included an address of welcome, a piano solo, a reading, and a vocal solo.

Ornage and black crepe paper formed the attractive decorations at the St. Paul's Evangelical Church. An address of welcome, a reading, and a vocal solo, and games provided the entertainment for the evening.

Announcement Made Of More Weddings

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Mildred Hollender and Raymond Boone. The wedding took place last spring. Mr. Boone, who graduated from Point College this June, was Captain of the Basketball team last year and active in many of his Department's affairs. Mrs. Boone was employed in the office of the President and was equally well known among the student body. She left a short time ago for Muskegon where Mr. Boone is teaching. Before her departure she was presented with a lovely bouquet of silver from the faculty of the college.

Another wedding of interest to the students is that of Miss Marian Shanks and Norville Justman. The couple were married this past week-end in Beloit. After the ceremony they left on a trip through the southern part of the state. Upon their return they will be at home in Edgar, where Mr. Justman owns a meat market. The bride is a graduate of Stevens Point High School and Mr. Justman attended Point College last year.

K. Of C. Entertains Catholic Students

The K. of C. entertained Loyola members and their friends at an informal dance in the K. C. hall Friday evening from 8:00 o'clock to midnight. Mr. Siewwright and Mr. Block were present as representatives of the K. of C. organization. Miss May Ronch, faculty adviser of Loyola acted as chaperone for the evening. Father Casey gave the welcome address. He expressed the wish that the K. of C. would put on such an affair more often. Mr. Walter Jonas sang Cherie Je T'imime; Mr. Rozantti sang Blue Skies. As a concluding number Leander Van Hecke and Walter Jonas sang Sun the O. D. Accordion Man.

The rest of the time the guests were entertained by the Rainbow Revelers. Ice cream and wafers were served later in the evening.
