EGGBRECHT TO COACH HERE
LETTER MEN BACK; MANY CANDIDATES MAKE HOPES HIGH

Walter J. Hunting, Former Coach, Leaves For Post At Duluth

Carl Eggebrecht, former director of athletics of the Minneapolis Collegiate Schools in Minneapolis, Minn., has been chosen to guide the destinies of the Point College teams this year upon the resignation of Walter G. Hunting who has left to become the football coach at Duluth State Normal School, in Duluth, Minn. The new Stevens Point mentor comes praised and recommended especially from Miss-expectant parents and has developed, in three years, a grid, made possible by the championship in the score of 7-6. The most marked difference thus his last season's backfield, but it has been

To continue the biography, Eggebrecht graduated from Waunau High School in Waunau, Wis., and from the four years of the University of Wisconsin he graduate at Heidelberg University and at Lomardi College with marked success.

Burroughs Plans For Big Season In Drama

Exhaustive plans have been laid this year toward the success of the Public Drama Class. The classes will meet the second period and for the first eighteen weeks will devote themselves to the work of the play. In the first half of the play's repetition at the Summer session of the college. All small plays will be produced, and the classes in the English Department, states that he has arranged for the success in dramatizing this year.

Nelson Hall Filled; Plan Girls' Party

Nelson Hall has filled up its full quota this semester and at least half the girls are new. There are included in the list old girls a few whose faces may be familiar only to third year students. These girls have returned in their sophomore year of teaching and are now back to get their degrees. There are certain difficulties to be experienced in settling the girls in their permanent homes, which can not be avoided in any dormitory. It is hoped this year that there may be no such trouble.

In the near future plans will be made for parties for the new girls. Custom has set certain parties down as expected affairs. Among these are the nights set aside for calling. This enables the girls to become well acquainted and relieves the stiffness. Later a big party will be held for all the girls from Miss Rose states that Nelson Hall parties are what might be called a 'big scream' since they in the history of the school, and only those who are asked are invited to do so, but the season is a pressing one and he may not be able to attend.

McDonald Uncertain

At the time this paper goes to press, Forrest McDonald, star of last year's football and basketball teams, has not definitely decided to come back to Point College.

The true interest of all knowledge lies in its growth. The very mistakes of the past form the solid ground on which the true knowledge of the present is founded. Would a mathematician be a mathematician who had not studied his Euclid? Would an astronomer be an astronomer who had not studied the Ptolemaic system of astronomy, and had not worked his way through its errors to the truer views of Copernicus? Would a philosopher be a philosopher who had never grappled with Plato and Aristotle? Would a lawyer be a lawyer who had never heard of Roman law? There is but one key to the present — that is the past. There is but one way to understand the continuous growth of the human mind and to gain a firm grasp of what it has achieved in any department of knowledge — that is to watch its historical development. This is the duty of our schools and universities.

No doubt, it will be said, there is no time for all this in the hurry and flurry of our modern life. There are so many things to learn that students must be satisfied with results, without troubling themselves how these results were obtained by the labors of those who came before. This really would mean that our modern teaching must confine itself to the surface, and keep aloof from what lies beneath. Knowledge must be like called cut and dry, if it is to prove serviceable in the open market.

Experience, however, has proved this to be false. The cut-and-dry knowledge which is acquired from the study of manuals or from so-called crammers is very apt to share the fate of cut flowers. It makes a beautiful show for one evening, but it fades and leaves nothing behind. The only knowledge worth having, and which lasts us for life, must not be cut and dry, but, on the contrary, it should be living and growing knowledge, knowledge of which we know the beginning, the middle, and the end, knowledge of which we can produce the title dates whenever they are called for. That knowledge may be small in appearance, but remember, the knowledge required for life is really very small.

We learn, no doubt, a great many things, but what we are able to digest, what is converted in succum et sanguinem, into our very lifeblood, is by no means so much as we imagine in our youth. There are certain things which we must know, as if they were part of ourselves. But there are many other things which we simply put into our pockets, which we can find there whenever we want them, but which we do not know as we must know, for instance, the grammar of a language. It is well to remember this distinction between what we know truly, and what we know by a certain effort of memory only, for our success in life depends greatly upon this distinction — on our knowing what we know, and knowing what we do not know, but what, nevertheless, we can find if wanted.

It has often been said that we only know thoroughly what we can teach, and it is equally true that we can only teach what we know thoroughly.

American parents will select small colleges near their homes for their children if they follow the advice of Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, noted educator and health authority.

The great universities with present-day enrollments of 5,000 to 25,000 are like factories, turning out graduates supplied with specified facts on certain subjects, but they lack the advantages of intimate contacts between teacher and students and the congenial community life which develops character and fosters culture, he declares.

"One dollar expended at Hanover, a small college in Indiana, gives as much culture as five at Harvard. As a graduate of both institutions I can truly make this statement.

"The real specific benefit of the small college, lies in the fact that its students know their professors. They are not simply a number in a huge herd, without recognition or individuality.

"The whole benefit of personal contact with the professor, the advantage of his personal and sympathetic attention and his interest in each individual character as it is unfolded before him during the years of the association, are all lacking in this mass instruction.

"The safety of the future, the purity of learning and the efficiency of teaching are all intimately bound up with the small educational unit," his article concludes.

MORE OR LESS

"HERE, BOY, WHAT D'YE MEAN 'GREAT SWINDLE 70 VICTIMS!' NOTHING IN THIS PAPER ABOUT IT!"

NEWBAY: "GREAT SWINDLE — 71 VICTIMS!"

Give a sentence with the word different.

Every time I get home late I have to go to different.

There sure was some hot necking when Uncle Amos got too near the gas with his celluloid collar on.

"Jerry," said the teacher, "come to the board and point out Australia to the class.

Jerry did so.

"Who discovered Australia, Andy?" the teacher asked.

"Jerry did."

I suppose you've heard that new song that Harry Richman sings called 'I'll Take the Blame,' otherwise known as "Yes, Sir, That's My Baby."

HERE'S ONE.

Clap hands!

Hiccup Charlie.

The movies are still in their infancy, but a lot of their gags aren't.

"That shielk I saw you with last night looked like a flat tire to me."

"Yeah, I'm going to use him for a spare from now on."

Do you regularly attend a place of worship?

Yes, I'm on my way to see her now.

Botany Prof: "How would you spell 'calliméricous"?

Stude: "Very poorly, Sir."

Mechanics Prof: — Name a great time saver.

Sophomore — Love at first sight.

"That's what new flea song!"

"O for goodness sake, don't you know it? It's called 'My Little Home in the Grey Vest.'"

Jane — Men are all a like.

Jack — Then why do you girls want three or four?

Teacher — Harold, in the sentence, ‘I saw the girl climb the fence’ how many 's' would you use?

Our Young Hero — Bofe of 'em, teacher.

Attorney: "Were you hurt in the melee?"

Chip: "Naw Sir, I was hit in de stomach."

Father (to son leaving for college): "Good-bye, son, write to me often.

Spendingthrift Son: "Thanks, Dad. That is mighty generous of you."

Oohde: You say your ancestors were all killed in the War of the Roses.

Habo: Oh, yes. Indeed, for several generations the family was extinct.

Catch as Catch-Can Column

Catch what you can; Can what you catch.

I cannot sing the old songs,

I sang long years ago;

For all my notes are shaky;

They will not sweetly flow.

But I can sing the new songs;

Their tunes I love to bawl;

For, luckily, the new songs,

They need no voice at all.

How will I ever remember his name?

Oh, just remember it rhymes with stomach.

Sing me a song of sex pens,

Dipped into the mire,

Writing furiously away,

For anybody's hire.

When the mess is finished —

As my teacher says —

Isn't it a dainty dish?

They serve to you today?
Social Year Ahead
Announcement Soon

Beginning a heretofore unestablished custom the Pointer has been issued on the first day of school. Since the student body at large are not residents of the town it has been impossible to gather student social news. However, plans have been made for various organizations to remedy this need and we may all look forward to an extensive social year.

Among these plans are those for a student mixer. At the time the Mixer goes to press there were no definite statements at hand, but announcements will soon be made regarding the dance.

Most of Faculty Camp This Year

Like all other humans, faculty members do go on vacations. Unfortunately it has been impossible to get to all of our teachers and wret from them their summer experiences. Mr. Baldwin says that he spent a comparatively quiet summer working, except for two weeks which he spent at Holiday Lake with his family. Mr. and Mrs. Garby spent a week at the cottage of the Eggensteins’, Miss Rowe, after departing from her tonals, spent her time at another cottage on Pelican Lake. While there she tried to become a carpenter, but after driving sixteen nails quit and decided she could not qualify. Mr. Steiner was in the North Woods for three weeks and although he was without boat and fishing gear he got in some fairly good fishing. The past week-end he has been engaged in hunting prairie chickens. The Rogers were at Penn State University where Mr. Rogers enrolled in the six weeks course. However he was taken ill and forced to return. Since that time they have been camping on Clark Lake. After their return they also spent some time in Bloomington, Ill. Mr. and Mrs. Rogers have recently returned from a conference which took place in Appleton. Mr. Watson, after his return from a course of study at the University of Chicago, has been visiting relatives. Mr. Burroughs, after putting in some time at institute work at Wabash College, spent a week in the North Woods. The University of Chicago again claimed one of our professors; Mr. E. T. Smith was there for the six weeks course. Afterward he and his family spent some time at Mr. Rogers’ cottage on Pelican Lake and at Mr. Eggenstein’s cottage.
