Colleage Coach Givés Review of Athletics

Coach Eggebrecht wishes to present the following article on all concerned:

"In reviewing the Athletic history of the College for the current season, we find a marked improvement over that of last year. The old traditions of excellence are being renewed by a new generation of athletes who are proving worthy successors. The interest in athletics has never been greater, and the enthusiasm among the students is evident in their attendence at the games and their support of the teams."

Teaehing Posts Filled By Students

Students Speechless After Faculty Song

The student body of Point College wishes to present a jewel in music rendition last Thursday during the assembly hour when the faculty chorus offered an original composition, glorifying our dear College, in beautiful cracked terr and wobbling falsettos under the able direction of Frank E. Percival.

Measures, Stein, Baldwin, and Percival, being more fortunate endowed with vocal chords than their colleagues, took the solo parts, reeling off all the notes with a degree of pitch absolutely unattainable by the average human being. Needless to say the rest of the learned youngsters joined in the singing of this beautiful composition.

The general effect of the sound waves from the chapel was at once apparent. The nervous system was being stretched and taut as the voices were perfectly tuned. The combined effort to express the thoughts of the other folks, neither being defeated until their last and final meeting.

Bennie’s brave, running true form, topped the first game by a big margin but blew up in the second; won on third, then dropped the last two losing the conservative Pendant aggregate with third title.

Bennie’s team was characterized by its smashing smashes and its hot drives. They came up to their customary form, and although the other hand Pendant played the afore-said steady game, waiting for the breaks and got them.

The crowd was for Pendant andazzled the losers unmercifully.

Paukert Volley Men Take Championship

"Volley Power!" Paukert led his volley boys to a championship in Point College in a special five game series with Ben Wente’s Wonders. The contest was a hard fought battle, heading the other outfits, neither being defeated until their last and final meeting.

She sure knew her burys.

The biology class after much research learned that the Easter bunny for this year was a success. This theory was reached after it was found that rabbits never use skis.
