SCHOOL FESTIVAL PROGRAM WILL BE GIVEN ON DEC. 20

CHRISTMAS FESTIVAL HAS BEEN GIVEN ANNUALLY

The annual Christmas Festival is to take place in the college Auditorium on the evening of December 20 at 7:30.

The idea of this Christmas Festival originated here and has become traditional, the same program being given each year. It was designed to bring in all the beauty and spirit of the Christmas story and is a charming pre-requisite to the opening of the Christmas holidays.

THREE PART PROGRAM

The program consists of three parts, the first being given by the training school children and the orchestra; the second, the processional; and the third, the scene of "The Nativity."

The festival will begin with the song "It Came Upon a Midnight Clear" played by the orchestra. The song will be taken up by the intermediate children behind the scenes. They will also sing "There's a Song In The Air."

PLAN PROCESSIONAL

The processional will then enter from the back of the auditorium carrying candles and singing "O Come All Ye Faithful." It will continue to the stage where they will sing a group of Christmas hymns. The nucleus of the processional will be members of both Glee clubs, but outsiders will assist. These songs will be followed by Christmas Carols sung by the primary children.

JOHN REZATTO TO SING

The third part opens with John Rezzatto singing "O Holy Night." The curtains will slowly open during the song, revealing the mother and child, the manger, Joseph and a shepherd. The Madonna, Fern Pugh, will then sing, "Sleep Infant Jesus." Off stage a male quartette will sing "We Three Kings of Orient Are" and will appear in a tableau.

GROUP TO JOIN IN SONG

The festival chorus and echo choir will sing "Silent Night" joined by the audience on the third stanza.

There will be a rehearsal of everyone taking part in the festival Wed. evening at 7:30 in the Auditorium.

Arrange Interclass Athletic Schedule

At the meeting which was held after the assembly last Thursday, the following interclass athletic schedule for men was decided upon.

Tuesday nights will be devoted to Basket Ball. The Freshmen and Sophomores will compete from 7:30 to 8:30, and the Juniors and Seniors will have the next hour. Volley ball will be played on Thursday nights, using the same competitive schedule.

Leonard Sprague was appointed student chairman; Carl Eggebrecht, supervisor; and the class presidents are to select the captains for the various class teams.

Play To Be Given By Rural Life Members

The Rural Life Club has selected "Holy Night", written by Juliette Devine, for the play to be given next Monday evening. This play is one of the Christmas Community Plays recommended by the Bureau of Community Development of the University of Wisconsin.

Work To Arrange Social Program

Seventeen responded to a meeting of executives called by "The Pointer" staff last Thursday, the purpose of which was to work out a definite schedule of College entertainment by the different organizations and classes.

C. G. Theis took charge of the discussion and presented the purpose and advantages of such cooperation between groups. He indicated that already there were certain set entertainments which occurred every year and that if some definite program could be worked out, each organization would know just what to expect and thus could make preparations far ahead of time.

Prof. Rogers gave a short talk in which he showed how such a plan would prevent many conflicts.

Various suggestions were given by different executives and were discussed. In some cases it was suggested that two smaller organizations combine in giving their entertainment and thus alleviate too much expense. It is probable that all entertainments will be given to students free of charge. The entertainment Committee has decided this year to advance a certain sum of money to each class to put on entertainment and thus help them to defray expenses.

Penn College Asks Dr. Baldwin To Talk

President Baldwin recently received a request from the Pennsylvania State College to contribute to their summer school course on some aspects of rural education.

W. G. Chambers, director of the summer session at Pennsylvania College, has asked him to spend a week there sometime between July 1st and August 9th, as a member of the summer school faculty. Upon accepting the offer Dr. Baldwin was notified that he will probably be listed for the week of July 29th or August 5th.

Dr. Baldwin has given a great deal of thought to the subject of rural education and on June 21, 1928, gave a lecture at the Urbana Conference before the American Country Life Association Meeting on this subject. A cutting of his lecture was afterward printed, by permission, in the "Rural America" Magazine—November issue. It also appeared in the September 20th issue of "School and Society." The New York Times also quoted a portion of it in connection with a discussion of their own rural problem.

Dr. Baldwin's lecture dealt with the adequate financing of rural schools which is considered one of the pressing problems in the United States. He outlines in a general way the problem of school financing and suggested certain respects in which adequate rural school financing presents special difficulties.

In conclusion he suggests a few type problems which will have to be attached and shows the results of failure to achieve the objectives set forth as constituting adequate financing of rural schools.

State Men Inspect New School Project

Mr. O. H. Plenzke, assistant state sup't, Mr. H. W. Schmidt, Sup't of High Schools and of buildings, and Mr. J. T. Giles, High School Supervisor, were at the college Thursday and Friday of last week making a survey of the building.

This survey was being made for the board of Normal School regents. Measurements of size of rooms, proportion of light to space etc. were taken.

FRESHMEN OF SCHOOL TO GIVE XMAS PARTY ON DECEMBER 19

School Debators Meet Marquette

The affirmative debating team of this college has accepted the invitation from Marquette to debate there on December 14th. Members of the team who will go to West Allis are Allen McVeey, Walter Wasrud, and Floyd Higgins.

The subject is "Resolved, That the public should retain and develop the principal hydro-electric power sources."

This subject will be used for the college triangular debates this season. Point College is grouped with Milwaukee and Oshkosh in the Central triangle. These debates will be held the first Friday in March. Milwaukee negative team will come here, Stevens Point negative will go to Oshkosh and the Oshkosh negative will go to Milwaukee.

Prof. Burroughs has not yet made the final choice for the negative team. A group of about eight people are working on this and it is expected that the team will be chosen sometime this week.

Point College has declined the offer of the University of North Dakota to debate here this season. A debating team from that University is making a two weeks tour through Wisconsin and had asked to stop here in January for a no decision debate.

As yet, Prof. Burroughs has not selected the five students to compete in the final local oratorical contest which is a preliminary to the annual state oratorical contest to be held at Platteville this year, the third Friday in March. The preliminary contest is to be held after the holidays in the college auditorium.

The preliminary extemporaneous contest will be held at the same time and the three contestants recommended by Mr. Burroughs are Allen McVeey, Katherine Thompson and Pauline Buhlman. One of these three will represent the College at Platteville. The subject for extempore speakers is the Kellogg peace pact.

C. G. Theis will be sent as a representative of the negative team to West Allis Friday with the affirmative team. The purpose is to get points suitable for coaching the prospective negative team.

Collegians Plan To Hear Miss Nielsen

Students and public, tomorrow night, will be availed of the opportunity of listening to Miss Hortense Nielsen in a recital to be given in the Auditorium at eight o'clock.

Miss Nielsen is a nationally famous Star in Classic plays. The great fundamental essential of an impersonator or actress is voice and personality. It is said that this is what has made Hortense Nielsen such a pronounced success. She has been acknowledged by the press and public as being unequalled in the portrayal of great masterpieces.

Critics say that her interpretations of the most difficult plays are little short of marvelous. She has given recitals in over 1600 Universities, colleges and schools before over 1,000,000 students.

It is thought that she will choose Drinkwater's "Abraham Lincoln" as the play to be given tomorrow night.

Miss Nielsen will also entertain before an assembly of the student body tomorrow morning at ten o'clock.

Follows Custom Which Was Established Last Year

Following the custom established last year, the freshman class will again entertain the student body at a Christmas party to be given in the college gymnasium Wednesday, December 19, at 7:30.

Committees in cooperation with Professor Steiner, faculty advisor for the freshmen, are working hard to make this a joyous occasion for one last frolic before friends separate for the Christmas holidays.

Plan Elaborate Decorations

The decoration committee consisting of Marion Nelson, chairman, Lelia Butchin and Kenneth Hanson are planning decorations which will convey the true Christmas spirit in a fantastic manner. Huge Christmas trees, laden with many colored lights will be placed about in convenient places and will furnish practically all the light for the dancing. Other decorations in red, green and tinsel will enhance the color of the scene and will add a sparkle to the subdued lighting effect.

Arrange Many Specialties

An entertaining program is being arranged for, which will be given at a definite time in the evening. There will be special stunts and special music will be furnished by "The Harmony Trio." Come and see who they are.

Dancing To Begin At 7:30

Word comes from the entertainment committee that there will be entertainment for all and the dancing will begin promptly at 7:30 and continue until 10:30. Members of the entertainment committee are as follows: Alex Krembs — Chairman, Margaret Cochrane and Margaret Richards.

Chaperones for the evening will be Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert E. Steiner.

WILL WE HELP?

Most of us have heard of Robert Louis Stevenson, the delightful essayist, the writer of thrilling tales like Treasure Island, and best of all, the author of A Child's Garden of Verses. Perhaps he gave them this title so that people would get acquainted with them while young, and therefore would have as many years as possible in which to enjoy them. Some of us know that he suffered almost all his grown-up years from tuberculosis, and was finally cured of it.

Stevenson was not able to play outdoors the way most children do, because when he was a boy he was sick and had to stay in bed almost all the time. In the poem "The Land of Counterpane" he tells one thing he did when he was a child which used to keep him happy during the long days of lying still:

"When I was sick and lay a-bed,
I had two pillows at my head,
And all my toys beside me lay
To keep me happy all the day.

And, sometimes for an hour or so
I watched my leaden soldiers go,
With different uniforms and drills,
Among the bed-clothes through the hills;

And sometimes sent my ships in fleets
All up and down among the sheets;
Or brought my trees and houses out,
And planted cities all about.

I was the giant great and tall
That sits upon the pillow-hill,
And sees before him, dale and plain,
The pleasant land of counterpane."

Some of the poems in the Child's Garden of Verses bring to mind the tuberculosis Christmas Seal of this year, for instance the one entitled "Where Go the Boats."

"Dark brown is the river,
Golden is the sand.
It flows along for ever,
With trees on either hand.

Green leaves a-floating,
Castles of the foam,
Boats of mine a-boating—
Where will all come home?

On goes the river
And out past the mill,
Away down the valley,
Away down the hill.

Away down the river,
A hundred miles or more,
Other little children
Shall bring my boats ashore."

Doesn't that make you think of the millions of Christmas Seals bearing the picture of a fine ship, which will be used in Wisconsin this year? And doesn't the last stanza make you think of those "other little children" to whom the Christmas Seal ship will bring a cargo of health and happiness because you sent these little boats a-sailing, even though, like Stevenson, you do not know who the other little children are?

We are indebted for the above to the "Crusader". The very fact that we are students in a school of higher learning proves that we are blessed with advantages which many boys and girls do not possess. When we view the hardships of others and compare their plight with our own good fortune, we pity and desire to aid them. Buying Christmas seals is one of the many ways in which we can do our little bit.

YE OLD-FASHIONED GIRL

I know a damsel in this school of ours—
And quite a few are like her in this town—
So prim, with all so proper, that her gown
Hangs less than sixteen inches from the floor;
Would never think of dancing; Such late hours,
Embracing out in public. One is bound
To be the talk of everyone in town.
(Speaks thus with such a righteous look and sour)
We offered her a ride, one day, from school,
She modestly and primly then replied:
She'd rather walk and go her way alone.
She carries it to such extremes — this rule—
Full ten miles out one night I went to ride,
And there I met her. She was walking home.

HEARD IN PUBLIC SPEAKING CLASS

Mr. Burroughs: "I could run 100 yards in 12 seconds flat — flat-footed, I mean."

THERE ISN'T ANY SUCH

Pauline was trying to illustrate the meaning of the word "perseverance" to her practice class.

"What is it," she asked, "that carries a man along rough roads and smooth roads, up hills and down, through jungles and swamps and raging torrents?"

The class was silent. Then Willie, whose father was a motor car dealer, said, "There isn't such a car."

McVey: "Which travels fastest — heat or cold?"

Pupil: "Heat."

McVey: "Which travels faster — so?"

Pupil: "Because one can catch cold."

THE ENGLISH AS SHE IS SPOKE

We'll begin with a box, and the plural is boxes,
But the plural of ox should be oxen, not oxes.
Then one fowl is goose, but two are called geese;
Yet the plural of moose should never be meese.
You may find a lone mouse, or a whole nest of white mice,
But the plural of house is houses, not hiee.
If the plural of man is always called men,
Why shouldn't the plural of pan be called pen?
The cow in the plural may be cows or kine,
But a vow if repeated is never called vine.
And if I speak of a foot, and you show me your feet,
And I give you a boot, would the pair be called beet?
If the singular's this and the plural is these,
Should the plural of kiss be nicknamed keese?
Then one may be that and three would be those,
Yet hat in the plural would never be hose.
We speak of brother and also of brethren;
But though we say mother, we never say methren.
The masculine pronouns are he, his and him,
But imagine the feminine she, shis and shim.
So the English, I think you all will agree,
Is the most wonderful language you ever did see.

KAMPUS KAT

Meou—Meou. I froze icicles on my whiskers whenever I peered out until I took the Weather Man by the ears and pushed him out doors until he relented and turned on the sunshine. Purr—Purr. I craved a small amount of extraordinary excitement so last nite after dark I went exploring around the new buildings. I jumped around so much trying to avoid soft cement that it took the rest of the night for me to get my whiskers quiet. Purr—Purr.

I began my letter to Santa last nite Purr Purr. I asked him for a pair of skates so that I can go skating on the pond at the Fair Grounds.

No, I'm not going to break the ice.

Slipperly Yours,
KAMPUS KAT.

WORK TO ARRANGE SOCIAL PROGRAM

It was finally decided to appoint a Committee to work out a tentative program which will be presented at another meeting of executives for approval. Members of this Committee are Frank Lasecke, Leonard Sprague, Clarence Theis, and Mr. Rogers.

This committee met last Monday afternoon and suggested dates for several of the organizations. The date of January 25, 1929 is suggested for the Sophomore Class. The committee decided that the date March 8, 1929 would be an excellent date for the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. to cooperate in giving some type of party during Lent. February 8, 1929 is given to the Forum. The Saint Patrick's dance by the Rurals and the Valentine party by the Grammarians are annual affairs and may be expected. Next week the Freshmen are giving their annual Christmas party and the Seniors sponsor the famous Mardi Gras the last Tuesday before Ash Wednesday. The Juniors plan on giving a Junior Prom this year, possibly on March 29, 1929.

The committee was unable to pick suitable dates for the remaining organizations which are the Margaret Ashmun, Science Club, Loyola, Primary Council, Home Ecs, and the G. A. A. The committee asks that the presidents of the organizations get in touch with one of the members and suggest a date which they would desire.

It is hoped that this plan of social events will eliminate admission charges in the future.

Mr. O. W. Neale Is Heard At Waukesha

Mr. O. W. Neale talked at Waukesha last Wednesday. There he met Dr. and Mrs. Richardson, who are old friends. Mr. Neale and Dr. Richardson taught together at Kearney, Nebraska. Dr. Richardson is now on the faculty of Carroll College.

Miss Seen To Give Health Instructions

Leaders of 4H Clubs of the County and the County dramatic societies will meet in the college auditorium Saturday.

Miss Seen will give instructions in leadership of health exercises to these groups.

In the evening, the final Dramatic County Contest will be held in the auditorium at eight o'clock. Three groups who are winners of preliminary contests will compete.

Students who remember the play given by the Arnott club last year in Assembly, will appreciate the opportunity of hearing such talent again. Faculty members will act as judges.

A small admission fee will be charged.

Lay Steel Columns Of School Building

Swift progress is being made on the new training school building now under construction. The steel which has been delaying certain processes somewhat, has arrived and pouring of the concrete was expected to begin Saturday morning. The columns for the first floor were poured on Thursday.

The choice of face brick was made on Thursday, November 22 and the contract was awarded to the Wisconsin Brick Co. The brick will vary in shade from a rather delicate pink to a rich tan, with six gradations in color between.

The crew expects to continue "pouring" through all cold weather. This is possible because of steam which keeps the gravel piles hot at all times.

Regular commercial means will be used in pouring the mortar. Large towers have been constructed at the top of which will be fastened a large mortar vat. Attached to this will be a long slide of pointed steel pieces which can be swung about over a large area. The mortar will be poured from the top of the tower, down this slide.
