Committee Decides On Standard Dress

A meeting, at which several of the departments in school were represented, was held last week to decide as to the sort of dress to be worn for the graduation exercises.

Crystal Holderegger acted as chairman of the committee with the following members:

Leota Andrew

Forrest McDonald

Lawrence Beaudin

Frank Lasecke

It was decided at this meeting that white would be the most appropriate color for the girls. The dresses may be of any material and may be informal, or sport dress.

For the boys, dark suits are preferable, but light suits are permissible. Degree students will, as usual, wear the caps and gowns, following the precedent set.

Should there be any objections or suggestions concerning this decision people are asked to write them out and hand them to any member of the above committee before four o'clock on Monday, April 29.

Malmquist Pens For State Paper

Arnold M. Malmquist, former student of C. S. T. C. and well known as a former editor of The Pointer, is becoming recognized as a writer.

Malmquist contributed an article to last week's Pointer which appeared on the editorial page. Other articles of his appeared in the April number of the Wisconsin Magazine.

The Wisconsin Magazine may be found on the magazine shelves in the library and students who are interested may read the article.

The Pointer was very glad to receive Arnold's contribution and it shows that he maintains the right spirit in regard to his former interest and Alma Mater. Such contributions always add a desirable tone to the paper and help to make it more appreciated by the alumni.

Malmquist is at present in Kenosha where he is employed on the staff of the Kenosha Evening News. In addition to this journalistic work he contributes to various magazines, thus carrying on his work as a writer.

Request Lists From Campaign Managers

Lawrence Beaudin, business manager of the Iris, requests that all campaign managers will please turn in their lists promptly at the close of the campaign, April 26.

The lists should contain the number of people who have signed up and the total number of undergraduates in the respective department. The exact percentage figured out would be appreciated.

Science Club People Elect New Members

The Science Club elected members for the second semester at a meeting held Monday afternoon.

The club is an honorary organization composed of students and faculty members who have done outstanding work in science.

Those who were elected to membership were: Stanley Miller, Fern Pugh, Antone Porter, Mildred Barnum, and Leota Andrew.

Big Interest In Ashmun Contest

The Margaret Ashmun Short Story contest has interested many budding authors and authoresses. One English class reports fifteen stories to be submitted, while several individuals are busily concocting plots and plans for prize-winning stories. The prize — a cash prize for first winner and an Iris or recent book for second winner, are well worth the time and thought put upon the stories. In addition to this the contest may disclose to the school some people whose literary talents could well be used in staff work and honorary societies.

Members of the Margaret Ashmun Club are looking forward to the May meeting, when the pledges, under the direction of Walter Wasrud and Ruby Libakken will present a play for their share in the initiation ceremonies.

The members of this honorary organization are asked to remember that all dues must be paid before May 1. This will enable the officers to determine the number of people who wish to remain club members.

Six members have been automatically dropped for failing to attend the regular meetings of the club. The committee on membership has sent them written notifications of dismissal.

The following members have been appointed to serve as the committee for arranging the annual banquet of the club:

- Clarence Theis (chairman)
- Mary Agnes Boyle
- Crystal Holderegger
- Richard Marshall
- Fern Pugh

The meeting is composed of the mid-west section and is being held at the Northwestern University in Evanston. The dates of the meeting are April 22-23-24.

There is another meeting of the Physical Education mid-west section in Chicago, April 24-25-26-27. Miss Seen will attend this convention also.

University Of Chicago Team Wins over Harvard

Donald Vetter, former student of C. S. T. C., has the honor of being a member of the debate team of the University of Chicago, which won the debate against Harvard last week.

The debaters union, in an effort to revive interest in debate at the U. of Chicago, engaged the Harvard team to oppose the University team on the question: Resolved, The emancipated woman is a curse.

The debate was held Tuesday, April 9, at 8 o'clock in Mandel Hall.

Harvard Has Good Squad

The Harvard affirmative team has won practically every debating honor in the East for the past two years, being Eastern Intercollegiate Debating Champions and having won the Coolidge Gold Medal. Members of the Harvard team are: Jay Mack Swygert, Jackson K. Hurd, and Brooks Otis.

Donald Vetter, Leonard Bratwood and George Pibod compose the University team.

The Chicago team won the debate by an audience decision. The results were about 3-1 in their favor.

Wins Laurels at Point

Vetter was active in debate and forensic work here, having won first place in state contest and tied for first in the interstate contest as an extemporaneous speaker.

Aside from speech work he was very active in extra-curricular activities and was an outstanding student.

FEE REMINDER

Graduates are reminded and requested to pay their dues at once.

This should be done in order to facilitate pre-commencement preparations. The dues are $5.50.

There are fifty graduation announcements that remain unsold. It is hoped that these will be purchased so as to avoid the loss which will otherwise occur.

Dr. R. Linton To Give Illustrated Lecture

Dr. Ralph Linton, expert in the field of ethnology and anthropology, will lecture in the College Auditorium, Friday eve., April 26 on the subject "Madagascar, the Mystery Island".

This will be an illustrated lecture on the Capt. Marshall Field Expedition of the Field Museum to Madagascar.

Dr. Linton has a long and interesting record of work done in the field of ethnology and anthropology. His first work was done in New Mexico in 1912, when he worked as an ordinary laborer on the excavations of the School of American Archeology at Santa Fe. In the winter of 1912-13, he went to Central America for the same institution and helped dig out the ruined city of Quirigua in Guatemala. From that time until the outbreak of the World War, he studied winters and did field work in summer in different parts of the U. S. During the summer of 1917 he enlisted and served in France.

Dr. Linton is the author of fifteen scientific books and of many popular articles and poems which have appeared in our leading periodicals.

ABOUT AWARDS

I am not directly connected with forensic activities of C. S. T. C. but I have been driven (by my own inner reactions) to express my opinions in regard to forensic awards.

I thought that the editorial column of the "Pointer" would be quite fitting for such an expression.

The college at Stevens Point has always been very active in state forensic competitions year after year. The trouble is that students do not encourage nor do they appreciate the toiling of our speech representatives.

For instance, debate work (if the teams are successful in winning the triangle) is spread out over the major portion of the school year.

We get out of a thing exactly what we "put" into it. Perhaps this is true because of the law of conservation of energy.

Debate, extemp and oratory are keystones of any English course. They are absolute necessities. Intercollegiate competition in speech increases the interest displayed.

At C. S. T. C. many students have become interested in speech endeavors. They have benefited themselves. Incidentally, they have benefited, or rather, increased, the prestige of the school.

In spite of their noble efforts, we have noticed very little loyalty on the part of the students. We noticed very little encouragement and we have noticed skimpy attendance at speech events.

In the matter of awards, we have sometimes been delinquent. It's too bad that such is the situation.

It has been rumored that school emblems are not to be awarded to speech representatives. If this be true, what recognition can be given? The answer is plain.

Discussion has been going on and I wonder if the powers that be will see fit to honor our 'oral' workers.

I am a disinterested student. I have never taken any speech work, being primarily interested in mathematics. But I see a situation that needs attention.

Math. Student.

A REPUTATION

KEEP up a good reputation for yourself! No person of average mentality would even so much as ask the reason or reasons for the above statement.

A good reputation is not valued until a poor one has caused failure in some particular instance. This revelation is fortunate to a certain extent but it is also unfortunate in that the victim remains in a deplorable state for some time to come.

Under reputation, we consider not morals alone, but we consider all acts of humans. Even your treatment of cats is a factor in the construction, if you please, of your reputation, be it good or bad.

Reputation is character. Good character is always spoken of but not always practised. It is a little difficult to act so as to build faultless character. Sacrifices (of a personal nature) are necessary. Exceptions — acts with no altruistic element — lead to fixation of relatively undesirable habits.

Bad acts are usually reconciled by philosophizing. It is extremely unfortunate that this is so. Selfishness must be somewhat sublimated. Empirically, it has been shown that this is quite difficult. Society must honor, more than it has done heretofore, the men who dig their own trenches without damaging those of their fellow men.

Making an application to our College, we find that possession of low-grade character causes worries and troubles. Good character assures its possessor of a position and good standing in the world.

The superstructure of character is a skeleton affair; the foundation, on the other hand, is as sturdy as the Rock of Gibraltar and is impregnable and quite impervious to assaults with intent either to strengthen or to rebuild.

Dear Editor:

I think that things have been going haywire at C. S. T. C. during the past few weeks.

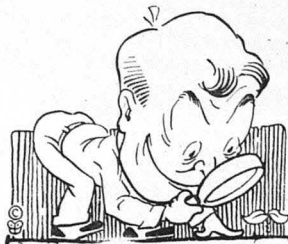

Boys and girls haven't been able to get back to school after their week-end trips to the old home towns.

What's the matter?

If the boys collected to get gold footballs, why don't the Home Economics girls collect to get plush rolling pins?

That's the worst part of the whole business!

GOOD-BY

Eloping Bride: "Here's a telegram from papa."
 Bridgroom (eagerly) "What does he say?"
 Bride: "Do not come home and all will be forgiven."

The teacher asked the class to write a few words on the life of George Washington. Willie wrote:
 "George Washington, the father of our country, fought for liberty all his life and then went and got married."

Irritable Husband: "How can you expect to drive a nail into the wall with a hair brush?
 For goodness sake use your head."

Have you heard the four wheel brake song?... "For we'll break the news to mother."

Have you heard the new butcher song?... "Butcher your arms around me, honey."

Wise: "Do you think it will stop raining?"
 Crack: "It always has."

SELFISHNESS

A man who was sentenced to be hanged was visited by his wife, who said:
 "My dear, would you like the children see you executed?"
 "No," he replied.
 "That's just like you," said she.
 "You never wanted the children to have enjoyment."

FAIR ENOUGH

Landlady: "I'll give you just three days to pay your board."
 Wasrud: "Alright. I'll take Christmas, Fourth of July, and Easter."

Scotty McDonald was glad that he was born in this country. He said it saved him the fare over. A saving man who ought to be rich purty soon.

Mary has a little skirt,

 It never shows a speck of dirt,
 But it surely does show Mary.

SURE, AND IT'S ALWAYS THERE

An Irishman and his wife were at the theater for the first time. The wife noticed the word "asbestos" printed on the curtain.
 "Faith, Pat, and what does 'asbestos' on the curtain mean?"
 "Be still, Mag, don't show your ignorance. It is Latin for Welcome."

Six-year-old — "Look, daddy, I pulled this cornstalk up all myself."
 "My but you are strong!"
 "I guess I am. The whole world had hold of the other end."

When troubled with headaches try pushing your head through the window — and the pane will disappear.

The Whirlpool

Respectfully submitted....

Dear Whirlpool Editor:

What do you think of the idea of having enough cooperation to keep non-members from playing while members of the Tennis Club wait for a chance? Of course I refer to the period during which the membership ruling will take place.

"Shorty"

Dear "Shorty", —

I agree with you. I believe that non-members should promptly vacate when members appear. Cooperate! Then it will be done.

Dear Editor:

Why don't you carry on a canvass to determine whether the Artists Course is enjoyed by a majority of the students. I have heard to the effect that most students feel out of tune at those presentations and oblige by staying away.

Attendance results seem to point in this direction also. If the courses are disliked, a change would pay.

W. A. T.

Answer: Personally, I dislike the majority of the numbers of the Course. Still, it would be quite difficult to ascertain the true opinion of the student majority.

Students may consider the Whirlpool as a forum for expression of opinions on this subject.

Mr. Gustafson of the English Department spoke at the Men's Club of the Presbyterian church on Monday evening. His most interesting subject was, "The Land of the Lapps." He told of his experiences in that country, which he visited last summer. He gave a very good description of the people, their manner of living and their unusual customs.

Mr. Gustafson spoke at the Home Economics Club meeting last week on the subject of Foreign Foods.

College Scientists See Demonstration

Science Club members and members of the nutrition classes last night witnessed a demonstration at St. Michael's Hospital regarding the method of determining basal metabolism. The demonstration was conducted by Miss Dideen, hospital technician.

NELSON HALL NOTES

Lucille Hyland has a favorite dentist in Edgerton. He happens to be her father. She had to visit the dentist on Sunday.

All Nelson Hall family that was left over the week end, enjoyed the movie "The Harvester" at the Collge Auditorium on Friday night.

Sadie Storzbach's little nephew from Plainfield underwent an operation for appendicitis on Sunday night, April 14. His mother, Mrs. Storzbach, has been staying with her friends in Nelson Hall during the past week.

On account of the serious illness of her father, Genevieve Taylor is making weekly visits to her home in New Lisbon.

The piano fund is up to the $280.00 mark. This past week corridor four had a pineapple ice cream sale. At this sale we discovered which member of the faculty is the best ice cream disher. Hurrah for Mr. Roberts!

Margaret Cochrane of New London visited old friends in Nelson Hall on Sunday.

Lucille Scott celebrated a very happy birthday on Sunday, we may judge from the beautiful floral decorations and the wonderfully artistic and delicious birthday cake at the special table. There were fourteen at the table including Miss Scott as hostess.

Miss Bessie May Allen and Miss Emily Wilson were guests at Sunday dinner.

Miss Rowe entertained Mr. Arnold Malmquist, Miss Ruby Tilleson, and Henry Kolka, on Sunday.

Estelle Bock is spending the week with her people in Crandon and trying to overcome a troublesome cold.

Esther Schultz is at her home in Colby recovering from her recent illness.

Ruby Libakken spent Tuesday interviewing the principal and school board in Clintonville; Jeanette Hanson and Louise Boyack made a trip on Monday to Mauston for a similar purpose.

Exhibit In Library Shows Class Skill

There is a very interesting art exhibit in the library this week. The students of Miss Carlsten's eighth grade art class have made several hooked rugs in various shapes, sizes, and colors. These are neatly made, and show the ingenuity of the workers.

On one of the tables is the plan for beautifying the Wisconsin River front in Stevens Point. This model was made by Miss Edna Carlsten, head of the art department of this college. It shows how the river front would look if improved with trees and flower beds. Out in the river are two islands which have been made into bird sanctuaries.

Professor E. T. Smith, who is in charge of the history department here, spoke to the members of Miss Carlsten's art class on Monday on the subject "Period Furniture in Connection with History."

Boys Don Suits For Baseball Workouts

The athletes of the college are not to be denied their inherent privilege of playing the great 'American Game.' Several would be members of the team have donned their suits and are practicing "on their own" so as to be prepared when the teams are organized, which is hoped, will be in the near future.

In Germany, during the 19th Century, all princes of the blood had their "prugelkuchen" — a boy who was brought up and spanked every time the prince misbehaved.

A gallon of vinegar weighs more in winter than in summer. During the heat of the summer, vinegar expands. Thus the weight will be slightly less.

A gallon jug of 4% cider vinegar measured at 80 degrees F. in summer heat, weighed 134.5 ounces. The same jug filled with the same brand of vinegar weighed 135.5 ounces at a temperature of 40 degrees F.
