MARDI GRAS ENDS AT MIDNIGHT WITH RIOUS REVELRY

BALL MASQUE IS MASS OF COLOR AND GAYETY

Mardi Gras, the climax of the present social season, was successfully brought to a close Tuesday, February 12 at 12:00.

The affair which began at 5:30 P. M. was a success in every detail. The Ball Masque was a mass of color and gayety. Gay costumes, confetti and balloons all added to the spirit of Mardi Gras and carried out particularly well the meaning of the term.

IMPRESSIVE CORONATION

The biggest event of the evening was the crowning of Ed Vetter as King and Dorothy Oleson as Queen of Central College. These people received the highest number of votes in the popularity contest which came to a close at 9:00 the night of Mardi Gras. The two were representatives of the Sophomore Class and the Sophomores are to be congratulated on their spirit.

Other contestants were: Bud Laabs, Mary Boyle, Marie Stevenson, Antone Porter, Alex Krembs, and Margaret Richards. These people were delegated to act as attendants at the court of the King.

The ceremony was beautiful and impressive, the Court Herald, Francis Bacon, blew a trumpet to announce the coming of the royal party. Frank Lasecke, President of the Senior Class, received them at the throne and assisted in the coronation.

WINNERS LEAD GRAND MARCH

The King and the Queen then led the Grand March in which all costumed couples participated. Judges for the prizes were Prof. Evans, Ferdinand Hirzy, Miss Hoffman, and Miss Davis. Prizes were awarded as follows: Funniest man — William Marsh; funniest woman — Hazel Schroeder; best looking man — Bob Neale; best looking girl — Lois Richards. A special prize was given to Misses Eunice Riley and Lucille Krumm.

ANNUALS AS PRIZES

The prizes consisted of copies of the school annual, The Iris. The special prize, however, is a mystery and is donated by Ferdinand Hirzy.

Mardi Gras is reported to have been a financial success and an itemized report will be printed in a later issue of the Pointer.

Miss Lois Zwinggi Doing Library Work

Miss Lois Zwinggi of the University of Wisconsin Library school is doing cataloging in the college library as practice.

She will be here until March 5th and will then be succeeded by Miss Bernice Cox also of the University Library School.

Audience Enjoys Leopold Recital

Ralph Leopold, eminent American pianist, rendered an enjoyable concert in the College auditorium, Monday evening.

His technical expertness and intelligence in the treatment of musical ideas in the different compositions and the clarity and feeling with which he conveyed them brought most hearty applause.

It is said that Mr. Leopold is the greatest living interpreter of Wagner's music. This was made evident not only in his verbal explanations of two of Wagner's operas listed on his program, but in his interpretation of these at the piano.

Mr. Leopold's program Monday evening was as follows:

I
Toccata and Fugue in D minor ..... Bach-Tausing
Nocturne in G major ..... Chopin
Scherzo in C sharp minor ..... Chopin

II
Sonata Opus 51 ..... Schytte
Allegro con brio
Intermezzo
Finale

III
By the Sea ..... Arensky
Humoresque ..... Rachmaninoff
Love Duet and Brangane's Warning from "Tristan and Isolde" ..... Wagner-Leopold

IV
Ride of the Valkyries from "Die Walkure" ..... Wagner-Leopold

Musical Quartette To Go To La Crosse

The girl's quartette has been selected which will accompany the Forensic representatives to La Crosse March 15.

Members chosen for the quartette are as follows: Anita Dalton, first alto; Lela Buttgen, second alto; Fern Pugh, first soprano; and Mable Hiltz, second soprano.

These people have begun practice on selections which will be rendered for the entertainment of the Inter-state forensic assembly at La Crosse.

Money which has been raised by the various Glee Club concerts will be used to pay the expenses of these people and of the forensic representatives.

The final joint concert of the Public Speaking and Music departments will be given March 4 in the College auditorium.

Freshmen Will Give Party On Feb. 22nd

The Freshman Class cannot be defeated in having a party. Since the epidemic of influenza interfered with their having the annual Christmas Party, they are now planning on entertaining the student body, February 22 in the College gym.

Rounds Metcalf, president of the Freshman class, has appointed committees to take charge of the affair.

Alex Krembs is chairman of the entertainment committee and plans to give a varied program. Since it is the lean season, many will not care to dance so other forms of entertainment will be furnished for them.

Mary Nelson and her decorating committee are arranging an unique scheme in class colors.

Every student and faculty member is cordially urged to attend and participate in the fun.

CENTRAL IN SECOND POSITION AFTER STEMMING WHITEWATER

Mr. Skovgaard To Play On Feb. 17

Mr. Skovgaard, a violinist, will appear in concert at the Methodist Episcopal Church, Sunday evening, February 17.

Mr. Skovgaard will play the famous Strad violin which once belonged to the master violin builder, Antonius Stradivarius.

This is one of the famous violins of history, not only because it is a Stradivarius violin but because of its unique history.

In 1712 Stradivarius lost a son. In the same year he made only one violin. This he kept as a memorial to his son. A short time later this violin was stolen by a girl, the sweetheart of one of his prize students.

After two years, the violin was returned and remained in the possession of Stradivarius until the time of his death. Upon his death, the violin fell into the hands of a violin collector and later was purchased by a private museum in Madrid, Spain. Here it remained until the museum burned, just prior to the Spanish-American War. It was then brought to London by a friend for safe keeping until such a time as the museum should be rebuilt.

It was here that Skovgaard first saw the violin. Later it was purchased for the sum of $13,000 by Skovgaard's father in Denmark.

Search Instigated For Writer Of Song

The Pointer is cooperating with the Music Department in sending out an appeal for help in finding the author of the school song "The Purple and the Gold."

This song was the original school song and will be published this year in the Iris.

The author of both the words and music is unknown. The song was here when Mr. Percival came as director of the department and after inquiry among faculty members who were here before him, the composer still remains a mystery.

Literary Exhibit Is Ready For Students

The library is putting on an exhibit this week for the benefit of the student body and faculty.

The exhibit of photographs is now up and the following people are shown: Woodrow Wilson, President Coolidge, Schuman-Heink, Louise Homer and May Peterson. The latter three belong to the school while the others were contributed by Mrs. Sims.

Lyon Phelps. The school owns letters by Ellery Sedgwick, John Mott, Ernest Seton Thompson, John Hay, W. J. Bryan, R. W. Hodson, and Maud Ballington Booth.

OUR CENTRAL IDOLS WIN TWO HARD GAMES

BY CARLETON LINTNER

Central State continued to keep in step with the top-notch Superior, in two hard games of last week; on Thursday trouncing Eau Claire on their own floor; on Saturday, beating the scrappy Whitewater quintet on the local hardwood after an exciting overtime period which ended 37 to 32 in the Purple's favor.

NEUBERGEER OUT

Disrupted by the absence of Snuzzle Neubergeer, stellar forward, the Pointers couldn't get used to the new star in their midst, when it came to smooth working plays; but Art Schroeder more than made up for this with his six field goals, which was the most made on the Point side of the books.

Whitewater flashed a showy offense that put them in the lead, after White and Schroeder made their first toss, and managed to keep even or in the lead during the whole period.

VISITORS LEAD AT HALF

The Southern Teachers took the lead after Joliffe's free throw had tied the middle period at 18 all. Pushing ahead on baskets by Perry, Joliffe, Schwager, and Kitzie until the Pointers trailed 27 to 22. Marshall stepped up and registered his first, followed by the faithful Schroeder and McDonald. White tied the score at 29.

With less than a minute to go, Marshall found the ring from the center of the court, putting the Moll-men in advance. After furious play, Schwager struggled free of a tangle and dribbled unmolested down the center to tie the score as the gun barked.

OVERTIME OVERTURES

Scotty McDonald decided to make a long heave after three minutes of exciting overtime had progressed, and he did from mid-court. This broke the ice, Marshall contributing one, followed by Schroeder with another to end the game 37-32 with Central State on top.

ANENT C. G. THEIS

Clarence Theis has edited his last "Pointer"; it was a most fitting product of student journalistic endeavor. Quality places it among the very best of the papers that have ever been issued at Central College.

That issue was merely one of the manifestations of the staff's accomplishments. The production of each of the others deserves equal tribute. In each instance truly remarkable cooperation was secured and C. G. was instrumental in attaining this condition.

The present editor originally served in the capacity of business manager for the "Pointer". With Clarence at the helm I could ask for no more than to continue serving in that capacity. It is to be noted that in countless other instances friction has occurred, spasmodically, between the editor and the business head; in this instance there was nothing but Utopian agreement. Conciliations were frequently necessary and always made. C. G. deserves a lion's share of the credit.

In behalf of the "Pointer" staff and also in behalf of the students, I express a whole-hearted appreciation of the accomplishments of Clarence Theis as regards his efforts in "Pointer" work.

C. G. will still remain loyal and dutiful to his school by his participation in various other extra-curricular activities to which he now devotes the time that was formerly allotted to "Pointer" work.

Life and health to you, Clarence. Farewell.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

...Oh! What sighs of relief. The biannual prescribed period of warfare between the instructors and students has terminated. The inquirers bombarded with questions; the students returned with a barrage of answers... but not necessarily the correct ones.

Such a state of belligerency has been the instance of countless dissertations. Perhaps, nevertheless, this one will be countenanced by the reader.

Students — and instructors — have aged needlessly because of the hereditary mental turmoil incident to the recurring finals. This situation exists merely because the mark on the final exam manuscript is, in a great majority of instances, the deciding factor in ascertaining the semester grade.

The plugging, conscientious student has a low par value; but it is to be observed that he does not habitually "pass the buck" during the semester and, if it weren't for the psychological effect of that tense "EXAM ATMOSPHERE", would not cram. This is the type of conduct that needs to be encouraged and is possible of attainment.

The other type of student is just as capable but is still remaining under the influence of the pernicious secondary school habit — that of putting off from one day to the next and so on until the final day of reckoning.

For the comparatively small classes in colleges of our type, the daily achievement of students should be the barometer by which the ultimate appraisal is made. Here contact is close enough to permit an accurate discovery of just what each member of the class is accomplishing; final tests can be utilized as a means of measuring the effectiveness or ineffectiveness of the teachers or teaching processes. Honor during exams will become an actuality and the student will do his work each day and thereby benefit immeasurably. The educational progress of small colleges will have passed a new milestone. A premium should be placed on student concentration that is not spasmodic but continual from the first day of the semester to the last.

It is much better that the faculty and students be able to feel that they are making their marks day by day and not semester by semester.

HUMOR

MORE OR LESS

OPENING NUMBER

The refrain from "Galloping Dan-druff" as sung by Miss Liz Terine—"I'M JUST A LITTLE COOTIE WHO WANTS TO GET AHEAD."

AND THE NEXT DAY HE HAD A TOOTHACHE!

Jesse Jones: "Bobbie, what did the glaciers bring down?"

Bobbie Kennedy: "The glaciers brought down rocks."

J. Jones: "Where did the glaciers go?"

Bobbie K.: "They went back for more."

NO WONDER!

Soph Marshall: "What is this thing they call the 'faculty', Metcalf?"
Frosh Metcalf: "Oh, just a bunch of men and women who are hired to help the seniors run the school."

THIS DRAWS THE FOAM

"Nip" Chesrown says that the only time he ever got really and truly mad was when his sister, who was a stenographer, took a day off to marry her employer and then found that the bridegroom had deducted it from her salary.

Margaret Reading (returning to the ballroom): "I hope you will be so kind as to pardon my negligence."

Hap Fleetham (graciously): "I thought it was your petticoat."

Speaking of safety pins, Greg Charlesworth intimates that there was a time in his life when they had more responsibility than the chairman of the First National Bank.

Neal Precourt says (riding with Mr. Steiner): Mr. Steiner, don't you find it thrilling to sit gripping the wheel while the kids on scooters go whizzing by?

Ruth Holman says that the only drawback to being fat is the inconvenience caused. Once she was sick with mumps for three weeks before the doctor found out what was the matter with her.

NO SCOTCH LUCK

Rosengren always desires to be nonchalant, but he has found that he can't always borrow the right cigarette.

HEAR, HEAR, HAR, HAR, TICK, TOCK

Big Ben — "Many are called but few get up."

Billie Budzinski says: Je suis colle!
Madame Davis says: Oui, oui, Willie.

Rumor (and history) has it that A. Schroeder at one time was a member of the S. P. T. C. basketball team and accompanied the said aggregation to Wausau, Wis., for a struggle with the Rep Top Cab outfit. After the game our fast athlete, who is the antonym of "Stretch" Murphy, fell in at a corner drug store and requested some "Spud" cigarettes; he was chagrined beyond endurance when the girl clerk asked him how old he was.

A. S. is now pestering O. Johnson for his recipe for longevity and offers a reward (?) for a compound which has the qualities opposite to that of "shortening".

Love at first sight is possible, but it is always better to wipe off your spectacles and take a second look.

LET US CLOSE BY SINGING—"If we're raising our boys and girls on water, is that why we're bailing them out?"

EXTRA!!!!

Scotty McDonald, Stevens Point's model athlete, received a very sad bit of news from the ancestral highlands over across the ditch. He was recipient of ONE POSTAL CARD informing him to the effect that a dozen of his cousins were in a hospital recovering from a severe shake-up. It seems that two taxi-cabs collided on the quay and his brothers were in one of them.

Scotty said his relations felt pretty bad about it until the cabby informed them that he would make no attempt to collect the fare.

HALL OF FAME

To all to whom these presents shall come, greetings: Be it known that Julius Haroldson, the hereinbefore mentioned INDIVIDUAL, late of Edgar Wis., Stratford Wis., Mount Horeb Wis., and Oslo Norway (in the order named), has now already chipped himself a niche in the Row of the Immortals together with Steinway, O'Bannon, George Washington, Jefferson and Andy Gump.

He has been selected, by popular acclaim, as all-time, All-Central in all respects....

Was all conference heavy-weight (210 lbs) checker champ for four hours, 61 minutes and 61 seconds — and then the balloon burst.

The only reason the coach didn't play him in every football game was because of a physical peculiarity. The officials had a tendency to call his stomach off-side; if he turned around and lined up, the difficulty was not obviated.

He was Haired as a logical Queen of Mardi Gras. Looks well in a formal dress...

Is affluent and has retained lawyers to do his correspondence.

Boasts the unique distinction of being "E Pluribus Unum" because he is the only Frosh at Central that every codd knows.

Stormy tomorrow and maybe fair!

COMMENTS

It was a fight from beginning to end, and it proved one thing, that the Moll-men were the best fighters and best shots. Teamwork was scarce; the game resolved itself into a long shot exhibition, which is something new and novel in the local college contests.

Both teams had wonderful defenses, while Whitewater completed some sparkling dribble-in shots. Schwager was easily the star for the Whites, collecting five goals, coupled with three free throws. Perry and Kitzie played good games.

McDonald shone as usual, as did his big team-mate Weronke, who had his hands full but fought like the devil anyway. Schroeder proved himself all right to the crowd and his shooting eye was impressive. According to reports Neuberger will be back with the squad in time for the Stout tilt.

SHOT NEARLY EVEN

In the main bill, the Central team had a total of 84 shots, at the basket, to 73 for Whitewater. Honors were fairly even in the offensive division. Both teams took a lot of long shots, McDonald starring in this branch for the home team and Kitzie and Schwager for the invaders. It was the second defeat in two nights for them.

Stevens Point will return compliments with Whitewater by playing there next Saturday night.
