SOPHS STAGE PARTY IN GYM TO-NIGHT

POINTERS BOW TO OSHKOSH GRIDDER BY SCORE OF 13-0

Accompanied by 150 loyal rooters the "Fighting Pointers" lost a hard fought battle to Oshkosh 13-0. The fans saw a real game even though the Pointers were defeated.

SCHROEDER INJURED

Art Schroeder, quarterback, was injured at the beginning of the second quarter. Art said he will not be able to play football any more this season. He will be greatly missed on the team and football field.

Oshkosh won the toss and chose to kick with the wind. The wind was a big help because it was so strong the first couple quarters. The Point kicked off and the Sawdusters punted on the first down. The Pointers were handicapped on kicking a punt back, so Oshkosh gained on their punting. The first touchdown came just before the quarter ended, when Drahn, Oshkosh's quarterback went over. The extra point was made when the Pointers were called off side.

The second quarter was more of an equal draw. The wind was in our favor and we played in Oshkosh territory most of the time. The half ended 7 to 0.

The second half started with the Pointer's line up shifted around. Chvala took the halfback position while Kitowski went in as guard. Carl played a real game as guard.

The third quarter was going fine when Ross thought he was able to catch a pass to overcome the penalty they had just received which put them back 15 yards. Drahn passed a long pass to Ross, which was completed and gave them another touchdown. The point after touchdown was not good.

MARSHALL RUNS FOR TOUCHDOWN

The last quarter was very exciting. Oshkosh passed and Marshall intercepted and ran for a touchdown. The referee said he had blown the whistle before the pass was made, so he won and the play was called back. It doesn't do much good to argue with the referee, because they are usually always right, and if they are not, they still stick to it, and if you don't believe it ask Mikie, because he tries to get everything he can for the team. I'll say he does all he can for the team. He tried hard to get a box of candy once but failed on the last down.

After the game the Pointer's fans were invited to coffee and doughnuts served by the Oshkosh fans.

STUDENT PEP APPRECIATED

The team was sure pleased with the followers they had, and the remark was heard in the dressing room that they sure felt like playing when someone there was yelling for them that they knew. Let's keep up the spirit, because it sure does help.

Mishap Befalls Peppy Boosters

At eleven-thirty A. M. Friday, October 25, the familiar city, "bonded carrier" left the college weighted down to capacity. Many an unexpected thing happened before it finally returned to Stevens Point about ten o'clock in the evening.

All went well and merrily until the bus reached Fremont. A few minutes later an array of college students and teachers stood helplessly along the roadside. The axle was broken. Moans and wails were loud, but it became a question of waiting or walking.

The weather was fine and so was the road, hence several chose to walk. They marched along a short distance. Then began a series of rides. A Stevens Point gentleman in a coupe was the first Galahad. He bore off the full crowd of some ten young bloods. Then other friends bound for the game approached to take part of the load. The crowd was finally divided up so that no more cars broke down on the way.

To those who chose to wait, may be applied the old saying, "Everything comes to him who waits." Cars came and went, some bearing away more students others going away without Miss Seen's stamp of approval. About eight girls remained to finish the journey in the rejuvenated bus. It continued on its way once more about a half hour after the break-down occurred. The stragglers arrived at the game between halves. The gatekeepers were merciful and charged them no admittance fee.

After the game the entire group of Stevens Point visitors was treated to coffee and doughnuts. The students and faculty of the Oshkosh State Teachers' College showed the Pointers splendid courtesy and consideration. Many students were entertained by their Oshkosh friends before and during dinner. Nelson Hall girls still prefer their own abiding place to the Oshkosh dormitory, even though they were delightfully entertained and enjoyed ringing the bell for a waitress to come. Regardless of the sweet cider they were served they maintain there is no place like home.

The bus was loaded once more at seven o'clock and returned to the Point without mishap. The returned trip was so calm that many were lulled to sleep to the tune of Barney Google. Thus ended another perfect day.

Student's Condition Reported Critical

Chester Smith, student in C. S. T. C. and a member of the Pointer Staff, underwent a major operation Monday evening at the St. Michaels hospital.

Chester was stricken very suddenly and was rushed to the hospital at about eleven o'clock, P. M. Reports state that his condition is very critical.

The Pointer and student body take this means of extending most sincere wishes for a speedy recovery.

WELCOME

Central State Teachers' College is singularly honored today by the presence of Mr. Rollin Pease, concert singer and bass baritone of the Washington Grand Opera Company. Mr. Pease appeared on the regular Assembly program. A most sincere and hearty welcome is extended to him by the student body.

Senior Party Is Dubbed Success

The seniors sponsored a very successful dancing party last Saturday evening. The dance was given in the College gymnasium, and was very well attended. It began at eight o'clock and was brought to a close shortly before midnight.

Dancing to the music of Jacobs' Orchestra was the feature of the evening. The dancing was stopped for a few moments that the guests might enjoy two trombone solos by Jack Frost, a freshman, and three piano numbers by Noel Van Hecke, a local young man of great musical talent. Punch was served throughout the evening by several of the young women students.

Senior class officers in charge of the party were Clarence Teske, president; Fern Pugh, vice president; and Emery Fritsch, treasurer. Miss Marguerite Patten acted as chairman of the refreshment committee.

The seniors express their thanks to Miss Jones and Mr. and Mrs. Schmeckle for chaperoning the party.

CALENDAR

Oct. 31 — Sophomore Hallowe'en Party.

Nov. 2. — Stevens Point vs. Platteville at Platteville.

Nov. 5. — Movie, "The Actress" with Norma Shearer.

Nov. 6-11. — Teachers' Convention at Milwaukee.

Nov. 9. — Whitewater Game.

Nov. 27—Dec. 2. —Thanksgiving recess.

Respite Granted To Students Of College

The faculty and a few students of Central State Teachers' College will be leaving Stevens Point Wednesday afternoon, bound for Milwaukee. The Wisconsin Teachers' Association will hold its annual convention there on Thursday and Friday of next week. The program of the session is always exceptionally worthwhile and of great value to every teacher or prospective teacher who can possibly attend the meeting.

In order to give the teachers an opportunity to reach Milwaukee easily, classes are being dismissed next Wednesday at noon, and will begin again Monday morning.

Alumni Plan Dinner At Milwaukee Hotel

The Alumni of Central State Teachers' College will have an opportunity to meet and greet old friends while they are in attendance at the convention. The Alumni Reunion dinner is being planned particularly for the purpose of reuniting old companions. It will be given Thursday evening, November 7th at 6 o'clock at the Hotel Miller in Milwaukee.

Reservations should be made before November 3rd with Mrs. A. L. Raymond, R. R. 5, Stevens Point, or after November 3rd with the Hotel Miller.

SPECIAL TREAT IN STORE FOR THOSE IN BUM COSTUME

The "bums" of Central College will gather tonight at a Hallowe'en party in the gym. The sophomores are sponsoring the first all-school celebration that has been given for some time in the college. The admittance is a "hard-time" costume and twenty-five cents.

The committees have been putting their heads together to work out an original, enticing evening's entertainment. The "bums" will be put through a series of trials before they emerge triumphant and free to eat, drink, and be merry.

SURPRISE PROGRAM IN STORE

The program is to be more or less of a surprise, but a few hints have been dropped. There will be, of course, a fortune teller to startle you with breath taking prophecies. Evil spirits must approve of each tramp before he is given his "hand-out". The entire group will join in the stunts and dancing. It is rumored that the dances will be eerie affairs with queer figures moving about in dim light. The music will be provided by a good orchestra.

APPROPRIATE DECORATIONS

The gym will be decorated in real Hallowe'en style, with plenty of old fashioned witches, cats, and pumpkins. The lighting effects will be low and spooky. The sophomores are working with the intermediate department of the training school for a part of the decorations.

The all-important matter of refreshments is being ably handled. There will be plenty of good cider and doughnuts for all who come, and fluffy popcorn.

PRIZE GIVEN FOR BEST COSTUME

The celebration is to be a combination "hard time" and Hallowe'en party. Each guest must be dressed in old clothes, as ragged and queer as he can obtain. There will be prizes for the best "hard time costumes". The winners will be crowned "Vagabond King and Queen." Guests are admitted with masks or without, but they must be in "hard time" costumes.

The chaperones of the party are to be Mr. and Mrs. Steiner, Hiss Hussey, and Mr. Delzell. The rest of the faculty members are cordially invited to come and join in the good times.

COMMITTEES WORKING HARD

The committees have worked hard throughout the week preparing for the festivities tonight. They are as follows:

Executive Committee: Murilla Roberts, Orin Enerson, John Stephenson, Edith Sansom.

Refreshments: Estelle Buhl, chairman, Helen Hammes, Ruby Hand, Genevieve Pulda.

Decorations: Crystal Joseph, chairman, Sadie Espeseth, John Kolka, Lavern Clark, Earl Aanschutz, Maurine Tavis, Lela Buttgen, Rozella Peterson.

Music: Reinhard Latzig, chairman, Ruth Seymour, Ann Jeselun, Janet Urquhart, Alex Peterson.

Program: Catherine Novitski, chairman, Victoria Mason, Esther Sorenson, Ann MacWilliams, Regina Groth, Ethel Kelley, Evelyn Sieviertson, Alex Krembs, Edward Okray, Hazel Schroeder, Margaret Heing, William Budzinowski.

Published Weekly at Stevens Point by the students of the Central Wisconsin State Teachers' College. Subscription Price $2.00 per year.

Entered as second-class matter May 26, 1927, at the post office at Stevens Point, Wisconsin, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

URGE STUDENT INTEREST IN CONVENTION

THE time is again at hand for the annual meeting of the Wisconsin Teachers' Convention at Milwaukee. It is customary each year for teachers of nearly every school in the state to attend the convention for the purpose of receiving new insights into some field of education, for receiving newer ideas, brushing up on old ones and in general to gain a broader view of education as a whole.

The convention not only does these things for the teacher but it affords also an opportunity for renewing old acquaintances. This social asset is perhaps of greatest incidental value as a drawing card to all the others. This is a place where all friends meet and together they assimilate the knowledge of most interest to themselves.

Since it is so universally known that the convention is of such tremendous value to those interested in the teaching profession, the desire has become prevalent among prominent educators to interest not only those who are already in the field but those who are about to enter it as well.

It would seem that this is not only advisable but the wise and proper attitude for any senior to acquire. It would not only help him to establish a professional mind but would greatly strengthen his already liberal supply of teaching skills and attitudes.

The interest shown by senior college students in the recent Central Wisconsin Teachers' Association held at Stevens Point was a splendid example of the results longed for by the educators of today. Statistics from that convention show that out of an entire enrollment in the college of perhaps three hundred and sixty students, one hundred, most of whom were seniors, were in attendance at practically every meeting of the convention.

It is some such a record that is hoped for at the Milwaukee Convention. Although it is not compulsory, it is a fine idea that senior students should anticipate their positions by adding to themselves a fine stock of reserve qualifications.

STATEMENT FROM THE SOCIAL COMMITTEE

THERE has been much discussion among the students this year because of the fact that the Social Committee has not contributed money for the various class parties.

Every year the Committee is appropriated fifty-three dollars from the Student Fund to use as they see fit. Formerly this money was given to various classes for their parties.

This year the members of the Social Committee, after conferring with the class officers, voted against this practice.

The reason is a very good one. They believe that the school as a whole will have a bigger social year if each class will take the initiative and be spirited enough to organize, finance, and sponsor a party of its own. The money the Committee has received will be used for additional parties.

The all school party given at the first of this year had the help of the Social Committee. They paid $25.00 for the orchestra and $4.95 for the punch.

The Social Committee.

REGRETS

THE POINTER regrets that the answer which was submitted to last week's question, was not received in time to go to print.

The question was — "If Not Homecoming — What?" The reply offered indeed a worthwhile suggestion and will be printed in the next issue of the paper.

Incidentally, it might be said that it will be of great convenience to the Pointer if all articles submitted for publication are in the office by four o'clock each Monday. The latest hour is six o'clock.

HUMOR

MORE OR LESS

A man entering a street car left the door open and a passenger yelled:

"What's the matter, were you born in a barn?"

The new-comer seated himself near the door and burst into tears. Feeling sorry for the fellow the passenger walked back, patted him on the shoulder and asked, "What's the matter old man, did I hurt your feelings?"

"Yes," replied the latter, "I was born in a barn and every time I hear the bray of a Jack-Ass it makes me homesick."

Home Ecer: Miss Roach, we'd like to have you come to our dinner tonight.

Miss Roach: Oh, thank you, I didn't know I was so popular.

Home Ecer: Well, we wanted to invite somebody who'd keep up the conversation.

You can always tell a college man, but not much.

If Ollie doesn't speak to you, he's not snobby, he's just sleepy.

Gregg's Ford had stalled and the usual crowd gathered. All efforts to start it proved fruitless. Finally Gregg cried out in genuine despair, "Doesn't anyone know anything about this car?"

"Only a lot of bum jokes," one student replied.

"No girl ever made a fool outa me."
 "Who did it then?"

Roses are red,
 Violets are blue,
 Freshman are green,
 And what have you?

Second Angel — "Flu".

Farmer: "I don't you see that sign marked 'Private, no hunting allowed'?"

Hunter: "Yes, but I don't read anything marked private."

"The full may punt for fifty yards, The half may back for five,

The quarter's the brain of every gain And keeps the team alive.

And when the tiers are arock with cheers

And the air's like a nip of wine, Here's a toast to the souls who open the holes

Down in the muck of the line."

Raisins are just grapes that worried too much and got wrinkles.

From the way some people speed past you in an automobile you would think the district attorney was after them, and he probably is.

"I hope you'll dance with me tonight."

"Oh, rather! I hope you don't think I came here merely for pleasure."

Doctor — H'm! Severe headaches, bilious attacks, pains in the neck — h'm, what is your age, madam?

Patient (coyly) — Twenty-four, Doctor.

Doctor — H'm — (continuing to write) — loss of memory, too.

SOCIETY

P. E. O. Chapters Enjoy Luncheon

The Stevens Point chapter of the P. E. O. entertained the Wisconsin Rapids chapter at a charming luncheon at Nelson Hall Saturday afternoon. The "ree" room was very appropriately decorated with pumpkins and cornstalks. Since both Miss Rowe and Miss Hussey are very active in the P. E. O., a number of the dormitory girls assisted with the entertaining.

A prettily costumed trio accompanied by Miss Meston and composed of Lela Buttgen, Delores Chilson and Anita Dalton sang "Little Orphant Annie" and "The Owl".

Murilla Roberts gave a musical reading, entitled "In the Usual Way". Lucille Scott and Catherine Novitski danced a witches' dance. Miss Ruby Hand played for the first number and Miss Sadie Espeseth for the second. "Seeing Things at Night", a "scary" poem was read by Delores Chilson. Bessie Wilson danced the sprightly dance of "Dickon".

The feature of the program was a play, Feathertop.

The following cast played.

Mother Rigby Victoria Mason
Feathertop Winona Roehr
Dickon Bessie Wilson
Justice Gookin Sadie Espeseth
Polly Gookin Ann Jeselun
Villagers Esther Kuehl, Edith Sansom

During the luncheon Ruby Hand played a number of charming selections.

Committees in charge of the luncheon were — Invitation, Mrs. Florence Whitney and Mrs. G. H. Lawrence; Luncheon, Mrs. Wayne T. Cowen and Miss May A. Rowe; Program, Mrs. George A. Harter and Miss Bertha Hussey; Decoration, Mrs. R. D. Baldwin and Miss Nancy Church.

Mrs. Harter, chairman of the P. E. O. Program committee, gave the girls a large box of Hallowe'en sweets which made them the envy of the rest of Nelson Hall.

Father Casey Talks To Loyola Members

Rev. Father Casey, pastor of St. Stephens Church spoke to a large group of the Loyola Club members at their meeting Thursday evening. The meeting was held at seven-thirty in the Rural Assembly room. Father Casey's lecture dealt primarily with the importance of religion in our lives. He left the members with this question to consider. — "How much time do I devote to my religion?"

After the lecture a short business meeting was held. The club then enjoyed refreshments and danced for the remainder of the evening.

NELSON HALL NOTES

Miss Estelle Bock, who teaches fifth grade in Elmhurst, Illinois, was the guest of her former room-mate, Lela Buttgen. Her visit was brought about by an attack of "Stevens Pointitis." Last week's "Pointer" affected her so that she had to return for a short visit at least.

Miss Amy Schaal was very fortunate this week-end. Sunday her parents, brothers and three sisters from Gillett visited Amy and were her guests for Sunday dinner.

Miss Ruth Rossbach who has been suffering from an attack of tonsillitis is now able to resume her school duties. We're glad to see Ruth "up'n coming" again.

This week-end Miss Cecile Stephens entertained Miss Elizabeth Brokbank at her home in Rhineland. They broke all speed laws on the way back to Stevens Point.

Miss Palma Fiane, a Nelson Hall girl in 1919 and 1921, entertained her niece, Agnes Rindall, in Iola this week-end. Agnes is now one of the dorm girls herself.

Miss Vollie Holand visited with Miss Sarah Neale's family this week-end. Miss Neale lives in Packwaukee.

Announcement of the marriage of one of our "old girls" has come to Nelson Hall. Miss Constance Martin who graduated two years ago was married to Mr. Leonard K. Sairs on Saturday, October 26. They were married in West Bend, which is Miss Martin's home town.

Memories of the "good old days" returned to Miss Grace Le Tourneau '25 and Miss Mary Staples '27 when they called here on Sunday. Both girls are teaching in Butternut.

Miss Janet Urquhart was the guest this week-end of Miss Helen Jordan at the latter's home in La Farge.

Cold Weather is surely approaching! Only eighteen girls spent their short holiday at home. Perhaps that was because of the game. Most of the Nelson Hall-ites went to the game at Oshkosh. You could easily have "spotted" them, for they carried delicious little luncheons which Miss Rowe very kindly prepared for them. Most of them returned just in time for a brief dancing party Friday night.

The too early snow-fall struck terror in the hearts of some of the girls. It meant the disappearance of that big heap of leaves on the campus. Some very dignified teachers-to-be have tumbled and romped in them under cover of the kind, dark night. — To spare them embarrassment no names will be mentioned.

Birthdays, visitors and general reasons have occasioned spreads during the week.

Impressive Service Held In Auditorium

A very impressive scene was the candlelight service of the Y. W. C. A. conducted Thursday evening in the college auditorium. Rev. Reetz and Miss Dorothy Oleson led the procession of the white-clad girls bearing flaming candles. As the girls entered the auditorium they sang "Follow the Gleam." Miss Meston played the piano for these services. The cabinet officers took their places on the platform while the entire group repeated the ideals and purpose of the Y. W. C. A.

Reverend Reetz gave a short talk, in which he discussed what it means to be a Y. W. C. A. member.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

IRIS

All 1930 graduates are to go to Cook's Studio to have their pictures taken for the Iris as soon as possible.

MOVIES

Thus far, the movies given in the auditorium every week, have been very well attended. At the one last week almost twenty-five dollars worth of tickets were sold. Since the rest of the movies promise to be just as interesting and entertaining, if not more so, this record ought to be easily beaten.

Y. W. C. A.

On Thursday afternoon, October 31, the Y. W. C. A. Cabinet will be at home to their friends at a tea, which will be served from 4:30 until 5:30. The faculty women and wives of the faculty men are most cordially invited. There will be a brief song service. All Y. W. C. A. members are urged to be present.

STUDENT DIRECTORY

The student directory, our annual production, will be at the counter in about two weeks. Douglas Mainland is chairman of the committee.

This exceedingly useful little book contains the names and addresses both home and city of every student and faculty member and it will sell for the usual price of twenty-five cents.

FACULTY ACTIVITIES

Mr. Neale spoke to the Woman's Club at Antigo, Wisconsin, last Monday evening. He is speaking again tomorrow evening at the Parent-Teachers Meeting at Curtis. Victor Gugla, one of our graduates of last year is principal at the Curtis school.

The physical education staff has been invited to go with Dr. Baldwin to the dedication of the new Alexander Gymnasium at Lawrence College. The ceremony is to take place November 4th.

Two after-school classes are being conducted at present. Mr. Steiner is teaching a course in the study of representative Americans each Wednesday afternoon to a group of city teachers. Mr. Mott is teaching the psychology of individual differences to another group. These classes meet at four o'clock and usually last until almost six o'clock.

W. A. A.

We neglected to mention last week that before a girl can present her name for membership in the W. A. A. she must have shown an active interest in sports. Her scholastic average must also meet the W. A. A. standard. That standard has not been determined as yet, but will be in the near future. If a lack of interest is shown after admittance or if the scholastic standing falls below the average, membership will be forfeited.

The next W. A. A. meeting will be held next Tuesday in the lower kitchen of the college. The meeting will start at seven-thirty.

Didn't you enjoy the doughnuts last week? We knew you would. After assembly the W. A. A. will again sell doughnuts for a nickel apiece.

Students Of History Discuss Informally

"Socializing the recitation" "the socialized discussion" and similar subjects have been discussed for a long time now. Sometimes they are practiced, but never to very great extents. Wednesday evening, however, Mr. Stockdale's Ancient History class socialized its procedure very much. The "dorm" girls in the class invited the entire group to the recreation room at Nelson Hall where they discussed history topics. After the discussion they roasted marshmallows. Similar enjoyable meetings are being planned. If that isn't combining duty and pleasure, we ask you, "What is?"

PREPARING THE WAY

A minister who once preached in a little out-of-the-way town where there was a good deal of struggle and hardship to get along, a great deal of close-fisted shrewdness and poverty in general, having been there a good many years, at last made up his mind to resign, and, to the surprise of his congregation, made the startling announcement one Sunday morning:

"Brethren and sisters, it seems the Lord does not love this people, he never takes any of you to heaven. There hasn't been a funeral here for five years. It does not seem to me that you love one another—nobody ever gets married. I haven't had a wedding fee for a decade. It does not seem to me that you love your pastor for you never pay his salary in full; you eke it out with scabby potatoes and wormy apples — hm 'and by their fruits ye shall know them.' I am going to a better place; I have been appointed chaplain to the penitentiary — and 'I go to prepare a place for you.'"

Joe: "Say, Esther, do you know how they summon the deaf mutes to dinner at the asylum?"
Esther: "No; how?"
Joe: "They ring dumb-bells, of course."
