MOLLEN AND TESKE SPEAK FOR CENTRAL

DEBATERS GO TO LAWRENCE FRIDAY

Marie Mollen, '30, won the local ora-torical contest, Friday, February 21. Marie will represent Central College at the State Oratorical Contest to be held at Platteville State Teachers' College March 21. On Monday afternoon February 24, Clarence Teske won the local ware 21. On Anonday atternoon recruary 24, Clarence Teske won the local extemporaneous speaking contest.

Marie selected as her subject "The Attitude of Foreign Writers Towards America." The extemporaneous subjects are selected from the articles most discussed in the following magazines: Time, Nation, World's Work, Outlook, Forum, New Republic, Current History, and Christian Century.

Marie is a senior in the high school department. She is, Master Scientist of Sigma Zeta, and secretary of the Senior Class. Clarence is a senior in the rural department. He is president of the Senior Class, and Business Manager of the "Iris".

Central State Teachers' College is proud of its record in oratory. In 1927 Donald Vetter won the state oratorical contest and also the inter-state contest.

Donaid Vetter won the state oratorical contest and also the inter-state contest. In 1928 Frank Joswick won the state contest and tied for first place in the inter-state contest. Last year Leonard Sprague placed second in the state con-

The negative debate team will journey to Appleton on Friday, February 28, to debate with the Lawrence College affirmative team. The members of the negative team are Burton Hotvedt, Floyd Higgins, and Esther Hawkes. The question is Resolved: That the United States Should Disarm. The contest will begin at eight o'clock on Friday evening. It is to be an open forum debate.

Library Receives A Complete Shake-Up

After almost an entire year of tur-moil, the library is again becoming organized and arranged.

All the fiction and biography books,

All the fiction and biography books, bound magazines, and the reference books under the clock are left in the study room. These will be "open stack" books.

What was formerly Mr. Watson's room has been converted into a stack room. All reference and reserve books are placed there. The circulation desk occupies the space at the entrance to this room. Six new steel stacks supplement the old wooden ones.

NOTICE TO GRADUATES

All prospective diploma or certificate graduates, who have not already done so, are requested to fill out application for graduation forms in the registrar's office, not later than March 7th.

7th.

Beautifully engraved invitations to the commencement exercises are now procurable. They are on fine quality paper and present a very attractive appearance. Every graduate should place his or her order at the Counter immediately. The invitations are sold at the rate of fifteen cents each in lots of twenty or less. If more are ordered, the rate is twelve and one-half cents each. Orders must be in early.

Jynx Against Locals On Trip

The Pointers, unable to get into their stride, dropped two games in as many days, to Eau Claire and Stout.

At Eau Claire Friday, the Purple and Gold lost 39 to 28 to a team that was so 'on' that they sank nine out of every ten shots. Scott, the westerners' star forward, counted for six baskets in six tries, or a one hundred per cent average. Even the U. of W. could not beat a team as hot as Eau Claire was that night. In spite of this the Centrals made a very creditable showing.

The Pointers took the lead early in The Pointers took the lead early in the game at Stout, being ahead 9 to 5 in the first five minutes of play, when Charlesworth had his fourth personal called on him. At the time that the foul was called on him, Greg was dribbling down the floor for a holes when foul was called on him, Greg was dribbling down the floor for a basket when an Institute player stuck out his foot and tripped him. The "Ump" must have had a mental lapse for he called the foul on Greg, thus putting him out of the game. With Charlesworth went the Point's offense. Marshaff, who is usually good for five or six baskets, and "Dead-eye" Schroeder, were unable to see the basket; only Chvala seemed to be able to hit the basket with any degree of certainty. The final score was 38 to 25 with Stout on top.

PIRATE BALL TO FEATURE ANNUAL MARDI GRAS GAIETY

Mexican Group Will Play Here

Another treat is in store for the student body on Wednesday evening, March 5, when the celebrated Ramos Mexican Orchestra will appear here. This is another of the lyceum course numbers. This organization comes here with a splendid background of musical and entertainment achievement. With it comes the romantic atmosphere of old Spain, which finds expression in the program of the orchestra.

The Ramos Orchestra is unique in The Ramos Orchestra is unique in the fact that it is a family organization, composed of Hesiquio Ramos, his three daughters, Lupe, Rosn, and Concepcion, and his son, Rafael.

Social Committee To Buy Orthophonic

The purchase of an orthophonic pho-nograph, similar to the one which fur-nished music for the matinee dance last Friday afternoon, is being seriously considered by the college social committee. The machine is a combined electric radio and phonograph.

If it is purchased, the machine will be for the use of any college group. It is not intended to replace the usual dance orchestra, but will provide the means for additional informal dances, similar to the matinee dances that have recently been given. Any group of students would be allowed to use it at any time by asking the social commi-ttee's permission. It could be used to great advantage during the school year in many ways.

In many ways.

The social committee is making an effort to purchase the machine. The members would very much appreciate any donations made by various organizations and classes of the school. A very special price, has been quoted, which, however, demands full payment immediately.

The Junior class has already made a very generous contribution of fifteen dollars.

UNIQUE STUNTS TO TICKLE GOBS

The great celebration of the school year is drawing very near. Five more days will bring the long awaited Mar-di Gras with its program crammed with fun. Tuesday evening at 8:30 the par-

fun. Tuesday evening at o.o. ty will begin.

Hours upon hours have been spent in action of the stunts. The orthe preparation of the stunts. The original Sears, Roebuck and Company Show Boat is almost ready to present Show Boat is almost ready to present its master performance to a pirate public. The Show Boat is under the direction of Gob Evans. The brave, bold pirate captain is assisted in his entertaining antics by three beautiful ladies, Scarlatina, Gelatina, and Concertina. The entertainers are bringing their famous dancing girls, wWuzzly from the South Sea Islands will also be there. Beethoven-Peterson will furnish the music in accordance with Piccolo Pete. Pete.

JACOBS ORCHESTRA TO PLAY

The plans for the "Pirate's Ball" are now complete. Jacob's Orchestra will provide the stimulus for an evening of dancing. The pirates will be allowed to dance between acts of the entertainment. There will be no boring moments. The music will continue ing moments. The music will continue until midnight.

Davey Jones is getting ready to open his far-famed locker. He will serve drinks that will quench the thirst of any pirate. Refreshments will be served at tables along the walls of the gym. Mr. Evans has agreed to administer doses of monoaceticaeidester of salveilic acid to any person who proves himself incapacitated on the following day.

Many of the prospective pirates are busy making their costumes for the grand ball. The posters in the corridors have provided many a gob with an inspiration that may be a prize-winner.

OPENS WITH STUNTS

OPENS WITH STUNTS
The amateur acts will open the program. They promise some hearty laughs. Sammy Block has promised to furnish one of the treats. There is still time to enter stunts in the contest.

KING AND QUEEN TO BE CROWNED

The crowning of the king and queen will be on board ship. The ceremony fits in very well with the rest of the program. The guests will remain in suspense as to who is ahead when the ballot box is closed until the appear-ballot box is closed until the appearance of the royal pair.

There are now five candidates for king of the Mardi Gras and five for queen. Two "dark horses" have been entered in the race. They are Emily Murray and Harry Liebzeit. The candidates for the classes are as follows: Seniors: Gregory Charlesworth and Mary Agnes Boyle; Juniors, Orlando Johnson and Elizabeth Rogers; Sophomores, Emil Pagel and Murilla Roberts; Freshmen, Burton Hotvedt and Vivian Enge.
The tiekets are being sold by presi-

Vivian Enge.

The tickets are being sold by presidents of the classes and their representatives. The voting coupons are to be turned in as soon as possible. There is a box on the inside of the door leading to Mr. Evans' office. Coupons are put in this by means of a slot in the door.

FUN FOR ALL

Everyone who attends will have a good time. There is no doubt of this, whatever. The celebration has been so (Continued on page 4, col. 1)

VISIT DAVEY JONES' LOCKER

ME annual fiesta, the time when students and faculty get together in one grand revelry, in other words the Mardi Gras is scheduled for Tuesday evening, March 4.

The general scheme for the evening is to be a pirate effect and everyone is urged to dress in pirate costume. Since this will be the last such opportunity for gaiety before the lenten season, it behooves each and every one to take advantage of the opportunity. Ransack the garret and see if you can't be forthcoming with most any kind of a costume, appropriate for the occasion. Bring along plenty of pep and you'll find plenty of ways to use it.

THE SEASON'S LAST GAME.

THE victory over Whitewater ten weeks ago aroused all hopes and anticipations which have lain dormant for some time. Everyone began to sit up and take notice of what the boys are capable of doing, and the manner in which they take advantage of a break when they get it.

The last two losses however, with Eau Claire and Stout successively, rather put a damper on things again but we have one more hope and that is the game with Oshkosh this Saturday.

Oshkosh we hear, has a strong force and will offer a hard battle but even though we are not from Missouri, we must be shown. We know that even though Oshkosh does sport a creditable record, they will have to work for what they get here.

The game promises to be one of the best of the season. With captain Marshall in condition again we hope he will lead his men to victory.

Better stand looking up your tickets, folks. This is going to be another chance to use them. The last game of the season and not a vacant space ought to be noted. Bring plenty of pep in reserve and use it.

PATIENCE WINS.

PATIENCE wins. Oh yes, no matter how endless may seem the task or how boresome we usually find that patience wins.

Whether the attitude taken by the students in regard to the upheaval in their most peaceful sanctity, the library, is one of patience or resignation is hard to tell amid all this chaos which seems to have been going on since the first odor of paint began to permeate the corridors way back in the first semester, was heard a faint rumbling (or was it grumbling) which produced all the audible symptoms of a young volcano. Volcanos as we know, in due time erupt. In what form this eruption will take place we do not know (perhaps as smallpox). At any rate, if you are one who is beginning to feel a faint symptom of an eruption just put on a broad smile and act as though you had never been interested in any confusion which may have disturbed your peace. The thought that there are worse things (vaccinations for instance) which might occur will help to keep you from erupting.

And remember, patience wins. Oh yes! Patience wins.

Whitewater's defeat by the Pointers was the biggest upset of the year. The Royal Purple of Whitewater pays tri-bute in the following manner:

"A fast aggregation from the north showed Whitewater a few tricks about the game of basketball and avenged their defeat of last week. Stevens Point looked to be the best team in the con-ference with a slow breaking offense, good shooting and neat floor work. It was a defensive battle with a few short shots and many spectacular tosses by Marshall and Schroeder. The defeat of the locals was quite and upset accord-ong to dope because things looked quite favorable for the Purple playing on the home court."

A little farther down it says:

"Schroeder, the boy with the injured shoulder, couldn't miss a shot; Marshall got his quota; Baker and Charlesworth did little shooting, but surely showed the spectators some nice guarding and the best dribbling seen on the floor this year."

Stocky has been hindered all season with an epidemic of infections among his squad. First it was Captain Marshall, who was laid up with an infected arm, and now it is Neuberger and Kla-ppa, Ollic, Point's scoring ace, is in the hospital-with an infected leg. Klappa, center, is held in bed with the same thing.

The game of games is fast approaching. The strong Oshkosh team comes here Saturday for the last and best game of the year. Statistics show that Oshkosh lost two games by two points and two games by three points, so you can see that even though she does not rank high in the standings, she has an rank high in the standings, she has an exceptionally good team. The game is exceptionally good team. The game is scheduled to start at 8 o'clock and promises to be a thriller. Let's show the team that we're back of them through thick and thin by being there to cheer for them.

Eau Claire has a great deal of trouble keeping kids from getting in free by earrying the grips of the fellows. So when Art Schroeder started to walk up the stairs with a grip the fellow grabbed Artie by the arm and was go-ing to throw him out. Art didn't know whether to sock the guy or to cry. No amount of persuasion would convince the fellow that Art was a player and the only way we got him in was by getting Coach to identify him.

NIGHT MARES (Dedicated to Nelson Hall)

My love is like a huge river Which flows in my passionate blood Reaching its crest in a life time And carrying you away in its flood.

If the world loved me as you do, Then I should starve for love For you are the only perfect girl On the earth or heaven above.

I've dreamed at least a thousand dreams

In which your fair face keeps smiling I've held you a thousand times in my arms

To awake heart broken and crying.

The world hangs heavy on my hands Like the weight of those thousand dreams

Till come the procession of eternal bonds

You'll be the girl of my dreams. Billy Boy

Junior Food Class Entertain At Dinner

If "the way to a man's heart is really through his stomach" anyone who is not taking a home economics course deserves pity. They have too much experience in culinary arts to give the rest a chance to show any minor skill in cookery. More experience was gained this week when the junior foods classes entertained at formal dinners. The class was divided into two groups cach section entertaining the other. The first group composed of Alice Wallington (chairman) Dorothy Oleson, Alice Falk, Velva Carley, Laura Schoeninger and Irene Skutely served their dinner Monday evening. Miss Meston and the other group-Ruth Stiller, Mary Repko, Lucile Schmidt, Flora Pike, Marion Kowitz and Fern Pugh served their dinner Wednesday.

The school dining room was used for both dinners and was very chairmingly decorated. Monday evening the color scheme was green and yellow. Marigolds in green bowls and yellow candles formed the centerpiece. The menus were elaborately tasteful and served in a "finished" style.

Dorm Hop Enlarges Encyclopedia Funà

Encyclopedia Fund
The partiotism of the girls at Nelson
Hall was seen in the "rec' room decorations, Saturday evening. Bunting, red, white and blue streamers, and flags were tastefully arranged on the walls and ceiling. The occasion was a George Washington dance. Despite the highsounding name, this was just one of the ordinary friendly "hops" that have been given before. An added attraction was the serving of refreshments. The proceeds from the dance were added to the encyclopedia fund. A few more such dances before Lent ought to enormously increase the fund's size.

George Washingtons Revel At Matinee

There was an amazing number of George Washingtons around the college last Friday. Each one carried his little red hatchet with him. These hatchets admitted them to the W. A. A. matinee dance in the gym Friday at 4:30. A large group of students danced to the music which was provided for by an electric victrola. Dancing at this hour of the day seems the best cure for blues, boredom, spring fever or what have you. The success of the matine dances which have been given before points the way to more of them soon.

Sigma Zeta Enjoys Talk By Dr. Collins

Dr. Collins was the speaker at the February meeting of the Sigma Zeta. This meeting was held Wednesday evening, February twentieth. His subject was one which should interest all who are planning to teach. He spoke on the statistics of grading and discussed the subject very thoroughly and well.

After a short discussion of business

After a short discussion of business matters, the meeting adjourned. This was one of the most profitable meetings of the organization.

NELSON HALL NOTES

How-do, fellow (and also girl) readers:—

Don't you despise the weather man? A couple days ago we were bathing in the glorious sun listening to birds twittering and all that. Now look at us! Such is living.

Anyway, we Nelson Hall girl, made the best and the most of our temporary spring time. Those who owned cameras were out on the campus "shooting" every imaginable view and every available person. Hollywood has nothing on us, now.

Hikes are again in order, it seems. Elizabeth Brockbank and Ruth Seymour even donned the ever-handy overalls when they tramped out to Red Bridge. Lady Rumor has it that they tried to fish. We can't say for sure, but some one did decorate second floor with a fishing trophy.

Miss Anne Falk of Kenosha was her sister's guest this week end. We don't need to say how glad Alice was to see her.

Outgoing traffic at the dormitory was very heavy this week end, and no one had to worry about being ''snowed in''. The aggregation which weekly migrates to Wausau — Ruth Lippke, Ruby Curtis, and the Schroeders — didn't overlook this week. Ruth Neuenschwander also spent the week-end in Wausau.

Jean Skinner, Anne McWilliams, and Dorothy Dewar went to their homes in Westfield.

Amherst again claimed Lucile Scott, Lorna Quinn, and Adelyn Stedman for the week-end.

"Mibs" Roberts visited her parents in West De Pere, Lucile Schmidt spent the week-end in Marshfield.

Estella Bock who graduated from here last year and who is now teaching in Elmhurst, Illinois took advantage of the 'home-town special' and returned home to the dormitory. She was the guest of her former room-mate, Lela Buttgen.

Lucile Hyland of Auburndale again visited the dorm this week. We are all glad that she lives close enough so that she can come back so often.

Shorn locks are again in vogue, long tresses have almost disappeared. At least this is true at Nelson Hall. Some of the girls greatly surprised us by allowing the barber to mutilate locks that were almost ankle length.

The fund for the reference books is steadly rising. Sales and dances have enlarged it to $15.45.

I'll be on the job again this week. Don't forget to vote in the popularity contest.

-The Dorm Co-ed.

College Education

What is this college education we all

What is this knowledge they all rave about.

Where is this place all fads start, The place where sport and romance each do there part?

When you hear a man giving to another a lingo

a ingo
Which sounds like the jabber in the African Jungo
Mixed with words that expound knowledge You are talking to a man who went to college. When you see a man dressed so he's as fat as he's tall

In furs that are a trapper's whole winter haul, With a bare head showing signs of great knowledge. You are meeting a man who is going to college.

When you see two teams that seem fighting mad,

Slinging words we thought we never had, And rooters yelling songs beyond our knowledge You're attending some sort of game at a college.

When we see two people in some dark place park, And each tell the other they are losing their heart,

And the next night try on another their knowledge You are seeinng the romance that goes on in college.

When you see a student weighted down with books,

And a feverish sign of ambition on his

And in every way is trying to obtain knowledge

You've hit a place that is not a college. C. J. K. M.
