GILBRETH SPEAKS HERE NEXT THURS.

AUTHOR OF FAME COMES UNDER AUSPICES OF HOME EC. AND WOMAN'S CLUBS

A woman of national fame, Mrs. Lillian Moller Gilbreth, of Montelan, New Jersey, is being brought to Stevens Point on May 22nd under the auspices of the Home Economics Club and Stevens Point Business and Professional Woman's Club. She is a consulting engineer.

A CONSULTING ENGINEER.

Mrs. Gilbreth has achieved fame as president of Gilbreth, Incorporated, a firm of consulting engineers, as a speaker, and as the author of several books and many magazine articles. She directs courses in motion study and the one best way to do work.

Among the books which Mrs. Gilbreth has written are "The Home Maker and Her Job," "Living with our Children," "The Psychology of Management," and "Applied Motion Study."

When the last edition of the "New International Encyclopedia" was being compiled, Mrs. Gilbreth was asked to contribute the article on "Scientific Management". She is a member of many organizations, among them the American Management Association, the American Psychological Association, the Institute for the Scientific Management of Poland, and the Society of Mechanical Engineers.

Mrs. Gilbreth received her Doctor's degree in Philosophy at Brown University in 1915. She is a member of Phi Beta Kappa.

Culver Honored By Science Fraternity

At the Sigma Zeta banquet held on Wednesday, May 7, at Wisconsin Rapids in the Hotel Witter, Gary E. Culver, the guest of honor for the evening, was presented a key and honorary membership into the organization.

Dr. Culver formerly was a professor at Central State Teachers' College and the founder of the original Science Club here. The presentation was made in behalf of the Zeta chapter by Fred Hebal, the treasurer of the chapter.

Local Band Awarded Third In Class "A"

At the State band tournament held last week in Milwaukee, the Stevens Point High School Band won much recognition. The band was given third place in Class A with three other bands, Milwaukee Boy's Tech, Milwaukee Washington, and Milton Union.

Listed in the personnel of the local band were the names of two pupils from the training school. Walter Hoffman and John Maloney.

Romantic Revival

Did you ever see Alex Peterson make love? No? Then come to see "Civillian Clothes" to-night. You will not only see a demonstration lesson in love-making by Professor Peterson, but also some butting of the best quality by the same gentleman in a butler's uniform. See you there!

Dinner Planned For Literaries

Next Wednesday evening, May 21st, at half past six, the members of Sigma Tau Delta will assemble at Hotel Whiting for their annual banquet.

The banquet is an event to which the members have long looked forward with great pleasure. A splendid program has been arranged, and it is felt that, as in the past, everyone present will thoroughly enjoy himself.

In addition to the principle speaker, the incoming and retiring officers will talk. This is the first year of the organization of the Psi chapter of Sigma Tau Delta, and everyone will certainly be interested in hearing what its pioneer president, Clarence Teske, has to say. At the banquet also there will be announced the winners of the short story contest. The awarding of prizes will take place at this time.

No member will want to miss the banquet. The price is one dollar a plate. Reservations must be made with Mr. Allez, chairman of the committee on arrangements, no later than to-day.

CALENDAR

- May 15 Speech play "Civilian Clothes",
- May 15 Y. W. C. A.
- May 21 Captain Chase on "The Lure of Hawaii"
- May 21 Margaret Ashmun Banquet
- May 21 Meeting of Sigma Zeta
- May 22 Mrs. Lillian Gilbreth speaks
- May 23 Rural Life Club play "That Ferguson Family".

Locals Attend Meet Of Arts Association

Miss Edna Carlsten, College Instructor, and Miss Emma Smith, the city art supervisor, attended the annual meeting of the Western Arts Association held in Minneapolis last week. The theme of the meeting was "Adjustment of the Arts to Modern Education." Speakers of national and international reputation appeared on the program, such as, Herr Huffmannof, Munich, Germany, Frank Alvah Parsons, of a New York Art School, Dr. Shapley, Head of Art Dept. of the University of Chicago, and Miss Meiss, art supervisor of Portland, Oregon. There were many instructive and interesting exhibits both in Minneapolis and St. Paul. The instructors above mentioned feel highly repaid for attending the convention.

Several New Books Now In The Library

Recent books of interest to be found on "New Book" shelves in the library:

1. "Twentieth Century Poetry" edited by Drinkwater, Candy, and Bennett.
2. "History of Egypt" in two volumes, Baikie.
3. "American Fold and fairy Tales" selected by Rachel Field.
4. "White Eagles A story of 1812" Val Gielgud.
5. "Old Louisiana" Lyle Saxon.
6. "History of Ancient Persia" Rogers.

Locals Drop Fast Game To Oshkosh

Playing in their first tennis meet of the season the Pointer racketeers were defeated by a fast aggregation from Oshkosh Monday afternoon. The game was called during the doubles with Oshkosh leading. Scores were as follows:

|  |          |
|--|----------|
| Singles                                  |          |
| Mc Daniels — Rothman                     | 6-1, 6-2 |
| Johnson — Pagel                          | 6-2, 6-2 |
| Robinson — Thompson                      | 6-1, 6-1 |
| Madden — Robertson                       | 6-1, 6-2 |
| Rothman, Pagel vs. Mr Daniels, Johnson   | 6-2, 4-3 |
| Thompson, Robertson vs. Robinson, Madden | 6-3, 5-3 |

Other games are being arranged by Prof. F. J. Schmeckle who has charge of the tennis meets.

Smith Heads History Meeting At Madison

Nearly 150 history teachers of Wisconsin met at Madison, Saturday, May 10, to study curriculum and study materials. They were under the chairmanship of professor E. T. Smith of Central State Teachers College.

It was the first meeting of the history section of the Wisconsin State Teacher's association. The association had voted the section at its meeting in Milwaukee last fall. University of Wisconsin departments of history, school of education, and history groups of Madison high schools were the hosts, with Professor B. W. Phillips, Wisconsin high school, as chairman of arrangements.

Four University of Wisconsin faculty members gave addresses at the Saturday morning session. The welcoming addresses were given by Frederick L. Paxson, Authority on recent history of the U. S., and Professor C. J. Anderson, who becomes dean of the next school of education in the fall. Problems of curriculum construction were dealt with by Professor C. Stephenson in the address of the afternoon session, and Prof. J. T. Sellus talked on "values in the Teaching of History". High school teachers also lead, or contributed to the discussion.

Await Decision Of Judges On Stories

On Thursday, May seventh, all the stories which were written for the short story contest were handed in to the committee in charge. The number of stories was not quite as large as they have been in years previous — but perhaps the quality makes up for the quantity.

Five or six of the best stories will be selected by a committee chosen by the literary club. These stories will be handed without their author's names to the judges. There have been five judges selected—Mrs. George Atwell, Mr. E. T. Smith, Mrs. Elizabeth Maloney, Miss Glennon and Miss Lucille Hyland.

Each one of the judges will read the stories and judge them individually. The stories will be judged both from the standpoint of originality and of technique.

The winners of the first and second prize will be announced at the Margaret Ashmun banquet on the twenty-first of May. The prize winning story will also be published in the Pointer very soon.

RURALS TO GIVE ANNUAL PLAY SOON

DOCKA AND JOOSTEN FEATURE IN THREE ACT COMEDY

Rural Life Club is preparing to present its annual play on Friday evening, May 23, at eight o'clock in the auditorium. The play this year is "That Ferguson Family", a comedy in three acts by Howard Chenery.

This is among the most successful plays that have been produced in recent years. It was presented by Gustav Blum, at the Little Theatre, New York, in 1928.

HAS INTERESTING PLOT

The play has to do with a father, a mother, three children, and various sweethearts. The world tells the children one thing, their mother tells them another. For years their mother has controlled their various destinies. Naturally there grows within these young people the spirit of independent living, a desire for homes for themselves, but the mother fails to recognize that her children have grown to be men and women. She still thinks them children without wisdom.

LINKS TO PRESENT DAY LIFE

What happens is an interesting play that will bring home to everyone a portion of his own life, and ambitions, and sacrifices, a play of laughter, and tears. That Ferguson Family is the idiom of America.

LARGE CAST

The characters in the play are impersonated by the following students of the Departments of Rural Education.

Edna Anderson, Nelsonville, Wis., takes the part of the mother, Mrs. Ferguson; Lenore Docka, Amherst, Wis., impersonates Tavie, the younger daughter of the Fergusons. Both of these young ladies graduated from the Amherst High School. Clarence Teske, Stevens Point, plays the part of Fred Ferguson, the father. Mr. Teske completes the degree course in Rural Education in June. Henry Holubetz of Colby, takes part of Joe Ferguson, the only son in the family. He is a graduate of the Colby High School. Rupert Striker, Tavie's fiancé is played by Edward Joosten of Rudolph who completed high school course in that village. Evelyn Disher, Stevens Point, is Mrs. Bert Connelly. She is the older daughter of the Fergusons. Regina Zynda, Stevens Point acts the part of Mary Fleming, Joe's sweetheart. Miss Disher and Miss Zynda are graduates of the Stevens Point High School. Vera Smierling, Royalton, Wis., is Mrs. Sarah Thorne, the busy body of the neighborhood. She is a graduate of the Little Wolf High School Manawa, Wisconsin. Alfred Ferg, Rosholt, Wis., impersonates Bert Connelly, Laura Ferguson's husband. Mr. Ferg is a graduate of the Iola High school, Iola, Wisconsin. Bill Fleming, a general merchant is impersonated by Arnold Marks, Big Falls, Wis., who graduated from Marshfield High School.

The price of admission is twenty-five and thirty-five cents.

Attention, Girls!

Such popularity must be deserved! Vera Sargent has four gentlemen seeking her hand at one and the same time. Girls, do you know how she does it? You'll find out if you come to "Civillian Clothes" to-night. That alone must be worth thirty-five cents, not to mention the laughs and splendid acting that come with it.

Published Weekly at Stevens Point by the students of the Central Wisconsin State Teachers' College. Subscription Price $2.00 per year.

Entered as second-class matter May 26, 1927, at the post office at Stevens Point, Wisconsin, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

WHAT IS A CAMPUS FOR?

OUR college is here for the purpose of producing teachers. The campus is here for the purpose of producing grass. The students need exercise to develop properly, and so does the grass need some sort of exercise to grow best. What objection, is there then, to putting the two together for the exercise? None, only we may raise "cain" rather than teachers and grass. The campus is used for moon-gazing of various sorts, and often takes the place of a davenport. Yet when we try to give it good, pure, healthful exercise, objection is made, and threats of force are given. These objections are free, and the threats are not only free, but urgent. At home, we let the cows crop the lawn, and we have the prettiest one in 17 counties. And they didn't leave their feet in the barn either! So why must we leave our tennis-shod feet home when we try to improve the grass of our College? Physical Education teachers advocate proper exercise. So it is carved out at the Universities, but here, our Campus is sadly neglected. When we try to fulfill this great need we are energetically reprimanded. It's a funny feeling to be "campused" but it's a funnier feeling to be "kicked off the campus."

"It's not for the knowledge,
 That we're in this college,
 But it's 'Keep Off the Kampus'
 While we're here!"

Kampus Kids.

COLLEGE EDUCATION

ONE of the strangest things in the world is the attitude of our College educators toward college education. They are the most outspoken critics of their own work. When three or more get together in a convention they regularly denounce the present-day college and ridicule a large portion of the college students, saying they ought to be at work somewhere. "Colleges undertake to teach young men to think and then plunge them into so many activities they have no time to think," charged the president of Lafayette. "The standard college is a misfit in education," declared Secretary of the Interior Wilbur, himself long a college president, "it is a cumbersome mill grinding material indiscriminately."

It is a good sign. It promises betterment. An institution that has within itself unsatisfied, analyzing and critical minds may be counted on to evolve, to throw off shackles and dead weight and again become vital. We may be sure the ancient and obsolete scholasticism never doubted that it was perfection itself — not even after it was dead.

FINAL AFFLICTIONS

PERHAPS the most talked about and the least done about of all college evils is the term paper. We phase in on every student's lips day in and day out from April until June. Why not sooner? Because it is human nature, or perhaps better to say, student nature to postpone even a thought of the impending morster until dire necessity demands that something be done about it.

Since the term paper really is only a product of last minute feverishness, is much value denied from it? Certainly not much value to the student who merely transfers thoughts from books to paper until the required number of sheets are compiled. It may be of a little value to the professor if he needs any mental exercise or wants to subject his eyes to a severe test to see if he needs glasses. Notwithstanding the possible benefit which may be denied, I doubt very much if either student or professor enjoys any pleasure connected with the performance. Considering this, I am wondering just how much of the final grade it would be fair to apportion to the term paper.

HUMOR

MORE OR LESS

A word on the cuff is worth two in the book.

Mary had a little lamb,
 This tale was told before,
 But did you know she passed her plate
 And had a little more?

Irl: "What this institution needs is a collegiate Ford that will run."

Mr. Burroughs: What do you know of Milton?

Cliff P. Milton was the poet who wrote Paradise Lost, then his wife died and he wrote "Paradise Regained."

First Girl "I got a letter from home today."

Second Girl "That's fine, lets go down town and spend it".

Did
 You ever see
 Anything
 Quite
 So good
 As
 Free verse
 For filling up
 Space?

Fritz (proudly) My mind is a memorandum.

Ardsy — Oh, I see, a sort of a blank book.

Old Lady (giving tramp a nickel): "Now, my poor man, tell me how you were reduced to poverty."

Tramp: "I was like you, Mum, always giving large sums to charity."

Did you ever hear the Scotchman who took out fire insurance on his cigar before he lit it?

Co-ed: "Mother is it true that sheep are the dumbest animals?"

Mother: "Yes, my little lamb."

I take up French, German, Greek, Latin —

You are a linguist aren't you?
 Naw, I'm the elevator boy.

Anna Mae — Do you use tooth paste?
 Kelly — Merely, no! None of my teeth are loose.

Customer: "Hey, waiter, I can't eat this soup you brought me."

Wilbur: "Sorry, sir." (Takes it back and brings fresh bowl.)

Customer: "Young man, I can't eat this soup."

Wilbur: "Sorry, sir. I'll bring you some more."

Customer: (after dish is set before him) "Say I tell you I can't eat this soup."

Wilbur: "What's the matter with it?"

Customer: "Why, you didn't bring me a spoon."

"Don't you like the nurse, Willie?"
 "No, I'd like to pinch her cheeks like daddy does."

THE INQUIRING REPORTER

H. Z.

What qualities, in your opinion, do women like in men.

Dot Belle—Courtesy—(Especially to the home folks and older people). Manliness—meaning no booze, etc. Bigness. Initiative-ability to accomplish something worth while without being urged on. Gumption, pep, life. Honesty or trustworthiness. (One can hold no respect for a person one cannot trust.) Some special ability in athletics. (Sort-of makes them the "strong man").

Crystal Joseph—Courtesy—if there is anything I dislike to see, it is lack of courtesy. Straightforwardness. Vitality. Interest in athletics. Willingness to work. Ability to dance—well.

Alma Hougum—Interest in athletics and outdoor sports. Physically strong and vigorous. Broad-minded. Absolutely nothing sissified allowed.

Sonny Boy—Qualities in men. Ha! Ha! Ha! One's as bad as the other. Dorothy Oleson—Couldn't tell you. Any Nelson Hall Girl—Tall, dark, handsome.

Ann Jesulun—The dominating type. Gert Conklin—I like dark curly haired men, Straight brown haired and blond curly ones—but I like black curly haired ones the best. Spike Engels—None.

Dorothy McLain—He must be neat and if good looking why that's all the better. He must be interesting and different. Not too studious or a sissy. He must be a good dancer and go out for athletics.

"JUST T'ANKS"

I know a lad at C. S. T. C.,
 Who is quite full of jollity,
 One thing he always says to me
 "Just T'anks."

Around the girls he sure does shine,
 They plead with him, "Will you be mine?"

They always get the same old line,
 "Just T'anks."

He always kids the teachers too,
 But makes it a point to slide right thru,
 But one thing that he says that's true,
 "Just T'anks."

I never saw a lad so bright,
 He always knows just what is right,
 And if you help him in his plight,
 "Just T'anks."

He likes to step out now and then,
 Among the very best of men,
 And what he says you'll hear again,
 "Just T'anks."

The other day when we first met,
 He asked me for a cigarette,
 And what he said I'll ne'er forget,
 "Just T'anks."

I'll bet there will be HECK to pay,
 When he hears of what I've said today,
 But then he may be glad and say,
 "Just T'anks."

DID YOU KNOW

Practically all of the air must be pumped out of a lamp bulb during the process of manufacture, in order that the lamp have long life. In making one of the tiniest "bug lamps", for instance, about 100,000,000,000,000,000 molecules of air are extracted from the little bulb, leaving only one part in ten million. It is then considered "pumped dry". — Sch. Sci. Math.

The average fellow wouldn't mind a girl giving him the gate if she'd give him back all the gate receipts he spent on her.

SOCIETY

NELSON HALL NOTES

Mmmm! Lilac time! And that means a fragrance in the house and outside too, that is irresistible. A huge bouquet of purple lilacs stands in the center of each of the thirteen tables in the dining room. Mrs. Waddy, whose lilac trees decorate the view from the east windows, kindly gave the janitor permission to "help himself".

Mrs. Schmeckle also sent several beautiful bouquets of white lilacs to the Hall.

Those of the girls who lived at the dormitory last year were glad to see one of their comrades Sunday. Mary Lea, who was one of the last year's Freshman Home Ees, visited her friends then.

May Chapman was the guest of Anita Dalfon at Anita's home in Portage. The two roommates spent an enjoyable week-end together.

On Tuesday Mina Hunt was called to LaCrosse where she attended the funeral of her oldest sister, Mrs. Mabel Hunt Zurn. Mina returned to Nelson Hall Sunday evening.

The dorm girls were delighted Sunday noon to have Alma Hougan as a guest. After dinner she gave a short musical program in the living room. Alma played many selections which were greatly enjoyed.

Vacation time is anticipated with mingled joy and apprehension—joy at the days ahead that will be crowded with outdoor pleasure and apprehension for other excellent reasons. Term papers are becoming due altogether too fast. The lily white pale, (etc.) brows of those who haven't their "jobs" for next year are furrowed with worry. The question, "Are you flunking in arithmetic, too?", is a frequent question now.

The sign out on the hall table is receiving the shock of its life. The dorm girls are writing different destinations down now, for they are "going to new places". "Town" used to be the most popular place. Now its rival is "Red Bridge". It is a favorite place for hikers, weiner roast fiends, and swimmers alike. We hear the water's fine.

"Come on in, Skinnay!"

Mamie Malueg went to Madison with Miss Seen this week end. They experienced the joy of awaking the dean from her sound slumber.

During Miss Hussey's brief illness Sadie Espeseth proved to be an efficient nurse. Through her efforts and Miss Hussey's own determination Miss Hussey was able to conduct her classes Friday.

Dorothy Oleson spent the week end at Edgerton with Lucille Hyland, a former student here.

Irma Quinn was the guest of Lorna Quinn Sunday evening.

The "dining-room" girls at last had a longed-for treat when they dined at the hotel Wednesday evening. Their purpose was to get "pointers" for table service — or at least so they say. We dunno.

Poor Mr. Craig has an awful time trying to keep the dandelions down. As soon as he mows ten down twenty pop up — but still he perseveres. Spring must be here — what d'you think???

W. A. A. NOTES

"Let's do it again!"

This was the plea of the W. A. A. girls who camped at Lake Emily early last fall. — So they're going to do it again.

Friday night after school closes ten or twelve of the girls plan to leave for Lake Emily to spend the week-end there. They are looking forward to enjoyable afternoons in, around and on the lake and expect to come back with sun tanned complexions. They may get sun burned and freckled also — but what of it.

Let's hope and pray that it won't rain!!

Teaching Positions Filled By Seniors

Teaching positions still furnish the chief topic of conversation among the graduates. The "lucky" ones who have signed contracts since the last issue of the Pointer are as follows.

Graduates

Florence Helgeson — Principal of the state graded school at Hixton.

Fern Pugh — Home economics at Waupun.

Marion Nelson — Grades 1 and 2 at Weyauwega.

Helen Tisserand — Grade 3 at Kiel.

Regina Groth — Grade 5 at Kiel.

Margaret Heinig — Intermediate position at Edgerton.

Marguerite Patten — Home economics at Mellon.

CHAFF

Tennis has a rival in spring sports at Central. A few minutes of swimming at Red Bridge is on the daily program of quite a number of students. It's a good method of washing the cobwebs out of weary brains. Try it!

Miss Roach was the speaker of the evening at a meeting of the Catholic Women's Study Club at Mosinee on May 6.

The football and basketball men will soon be strutting about the campus in new sweaters. The order has gone in and the sweaters are expected soon.

Last Saturday the eighth graders of the Portage County schools wrote their examinations here in the Rural Assembly.

On May 31 the county-wide championships in declamation, spelling, and singing for the rural school children will be held here. Gertrude Siebert, who graduated from the rural course in February of this year, has done such good work in the Lake View School that her children are entered in the singing finals.

Another spring sport is star gazing. Mr. Rightsell brought the telescope out on the campus and a few students searched eagerly for the man in the moon.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

There are still a number of people who have not paid their senior class dues. It is necessary that this be settled in order to graduate. This is a school regulation that should be carefully observed.

Many of the clubs and organizations have paid for their space in the annual. However, there remain several who have not paid. The business manager asks the co-operation of those who signed contracts for space in the matter of early payment. He cannot meet his obligations until all organizations have paid.

The "Iris" is almost ready for distribution. The date of the party will be announced soon in the Pointer.

Housewife — "What makes you so late with the milk these mornings?"

Bill Scribner: "Well you see, the pure food law don't allow us more than twenty million bacteria to the gallon, and you wouldn't believe how long it takes to count the little shrimps."

What makes the powder puff?
No one nose, my dear, no one nose.
