SOCIAL COMMITTEE ARRANGE CALENDAR

First Semester's Program Ready

At a meeting of the Directors of departments, class advisers, and Presidents of all organizations, which was held Monday, October 27, a student social committee was elected to act with the faculty social committee, being composed of a student from each department, as follows:

Home Economics . . . Irene Skutley
High School . . . . . Ann Baird
Rural . . . . . Evelyn Davies
Grammar . . . . . Helen Jordan
Primary . . . . . Pearl Merrill

The member of the committee from the Special Department will be named at a later date.

The faculty social committee is composed of: T. A. Rogers, Chairman, Bertha Hussey, May A. Roach, H. R. Steiner and Joseph Mott.

At this meeting a schedule for organization meetings was drawn up and agreed upon, as follows:

- First and third Mondays
  - Rural Life Club
  - Primary Council
- Second Monday
  - Home Economics
- Fourth Monday
  - Grammar Round Table
  - Forum
- Tuesday
  - Social Fraternity and Sorority
- First Wednesday
  - Sigma Tau Delta; W. A. A.
- Second Wednesday
  - Margaret Ashmun Club
- Third Wednesday
  - Sigma Zeta
- Fourth Wednesday
  - W. A. A.
- Every Thursday
  - Y. W. C. A.
- Second and Fourth Thursday
  - Loyola Club

The calendar month was used in making up this schedule. In cases where scheduled meetings come at times when the college is not in session, such meetings may be made up on the fifth Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday, as the case may be, when a fifth Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday comes in same month, under these conditions.

1. The group with the least number of scheduled monthly meetings shall have the prior right, but a formal request must be made one week in advance of such meeting.

2. Otherwise, the first organization to make request for a make up meeting will be given preference.

Weary Men Find Place For Rest

In their new lounging room, the men students now have a place to spend their spare time. At the meeting of the men students on Tuesday, Richard Marshall, chairman of the room committee, announced that the combination radio and phonograph which was bought by the social committee last year is available to the men providing that they do not disturb classes with it. With this final touch, the room is certainly a very desirable place for the student to spend his idle moments. Besides a large round table and a smaller wicker table, the room has a wicker set including two davenport, two rocking chairs and two easy chairs.

New Balcony For Tr'g School Gym

By petition of President Hyer and Regent Member William Atwell the Emergency Board released $6,000 for the gallery for the gym in the Training School.

At the time of the completion of the gym the funds were insufficient for erection of the balcony but it is hoped it may be in time for the opening of the basketball season.

President Hyer was at Madison last Tuesday to interview the state engineer for plans concerning the balcony.

Dancing Party To Be Held On Friday

The Athletic Association and Phi Lambda Phi fraternity are sponsoring a dance to be held Friday night in the New Gym.

The dance will be held to celebrate our victory over Platteville.

Irv. Lutz and his Florida Entertainers will play for the dance from 8:30 to 11:45. The admission will be seventy-five cents per couple and twenty-five cents for extra ladies.

EARLY TOUCHDOWN DEFEATS PURPLE AND GOLD GRIDDERS

Point Bows To Whitewater Peds

PLATTEVILLE GAME SCHEDULED TOMORROW

Before a large crowd of Whitewater Teachers' college homecoming the Stevens Point Teachers' College were defeated 19 to 7 at Whitewater on Oct. 25. Stevens Point scored its touchdown in the third quarter, taking the ball in its own territory and making nine straight first downs to cross the goal. Alberts went over the line for the touch-down and Marco place-kicked for the Point. Not only did Stevens Point have to play Whitewater eleven but three officials. Whitewater blocked a Stevens Point punt, and Martzke recovered it. After lying on the ground and taking a nap an angel told Martzke to run the ball over the goal line for a touch-down. This was done under the supervision of Bob Kolf the referee. Whitewater's final touch-down came in the fourth quarter on a long pass from Hoene to Metzke. Hackett carried it over the Stevens Point goal from the one yard line.

PLATTEVILLE GAME SCHEDULED TOMORROW

Stevens Point will play Platteville on their home field this Friday. The school will be dismissed in a body to give the team the necessary support to win the game from Platteville.

Question For Debate Decided

The question for debate this year is: Resolved, that we should establish compulsory unemployment insurance in the several states. This question does not include (1) seasonal industries, (2) industries employing less than ten men, nor (3) the constitutionality of the question.

Since this year the mid-western question is to be debated, tentative plans are under way for an itinerary which will include Lawrence and Carroll Colleges, and Marquette and Wisconsin Universities. Two teams, an affirmative and a negative, will make the trip, each team debating with each of the afore mentioned colleges — according to the tentative plans.

POINTERS REACH EIGHT YARD LINE, BUT FAIL

Northland College scored its first victory over the Purple and Gold by the score of 7 to 0. The winning touch-down was made in the first period. Schibsted hit the line to score the touch-down and only touch-down of the game.

Stevens Point pierced the Northland territory to the eight-yard line in the second period but was stopped from completing its scoring threat. A drive in which Alberts, Marco, Ramsden and McDermott gained steadily had seemed sure to culminate in a touch-down.

Our boys will return to Conference competition this week, meeting the Platteville Teachers here in a Friday game. Whitewater won its second conference victory, defeating Platteville at the Platts' homecoming, 7 to 0. A blocked punt helped Whitewater to score.

Summary of Game

Northland kicked and Stevens Point returned to the 30-yard line. A line plunge netted one yard and Northland threw the Stevens Point eleven for a loss of three yards. Stevens Point kicked off-side on the 50 yard line. Johnson made a yard. A pass was grounded. Johnson failed to gain on a punt formation and Schibsted kicked to the Pointers 10 yard line. Marco returned to the 23 yard line. Two line plunges failed to gain and Northland was penalized five yards for offside. Alberts kicked to the 36 yard line and Marco returned to the 48 yard line. Schibsted lost a yard when the line failed to hold. Northland took a 5 yard penalty for offside.

A pass, Schibsted to Pendergast, placed the ball on the Pointers' 39 yard line. Schibsted made 7 yards, a line smash failed, and Johnson made a beautiful skirt of right end to put the ball on the 10 yard line and a first down. Stevens Point took time out. Paulson made a yard, and on the next play brought the ball to the four yard line. Johnson started off around right end on the fourth down but was stopped with out gain. Point punted out to the 23 yard line. Schibsted passed to Johnson to place the ball on the three yard line. Schibsted hit the line to score the first touchdown of the game. The kick for goal was good. The first quarter was ended by nine plays and punts.

The start of the second quarter Schibsted hit the line for a little

THINK IT OVER!

A speaker at the recent State Teachers' Convention, in speaking about making the teaching profession more truly a profession, made the statement that the profession is "short on good teachers and long on poor ones". In speaking of the poor teachers, he classified them in seven groups, as follows:

1. Parkers: those who just park around waiting to get married. These are always the model of the village and are feared by all men.
2. Stepping-stoners: men who use the profession to make enough money to enable them to take up some other kind of work.
3. Papa and Mama complexions: those who are teaching because their parents want them to teach — not being personally interested.
4. Bored class: those who find no interest in anything connected with the profession of teaching.
5. Complainers: Chronic kickers who are always exclaiming, "Everything would be all right if it wasn't for this or that."
6. Poor health: those whose health does not permit them to enthruse, inspire, and lead in the work of teaching.
7. Triangleers: The only triangles in the teaching profession should be in geometry books.

There are other classes than these, no doubt. Whether you agree with these statements or not, they should be very thought-provoking to the prospective teacher and are worthy of the time spent in thinking. Check yourself up on these points and see if you have allowed, or are allowing, yourself to fall under one of them. If so, you are helping to lower the standards of one of the most noble professions.

Do give the matter serious recognition. The student teachers of today will be the educational leaders of tomorrow. Upon them rests the future status of the teaching profession. Upon their actions and mental makeup depend the social and professional fate of a large group of people upon whose shoulders rests the advancement of civilization and mankind!

HYER GOES HIGHER

ON every hand, from members of the male student body, are heard expressions of earnest appreciation of President Hyer's energetic and successful backing of the men's lounging room project. It is needless to say that every man will do his part to make this room a well-kept, orderly, and popular meeting place, and show the high value which he places upon the efforts of this worthy friend.

SILENCE IS GOLDEN

HAVE you ever tried to teach a class when the members of the class were carrying on conversations of their own? If such has been your experience, you know what strong emotions were aroused and how you would like to have acted, although you didn't do so. Think, then, how a speaker in the assembly must feel when trying to talk to a body of supposedly well-bred college students who insist upon carrying on conversations with each other, sometimes over a distance of three rows! It may be that the students guilty of these manifestations of poor manners are merely thoughtless — at least, it is to be hoped that such is the case — and that they do not realize what a disorderly spectacle is thus presented to the individual on the stage and to any visitors who may be in the room.

"Practice what you preach" is a saying that should mean much to teachers. By the actions of some student teachers at assemblies, it seems impossible that they can expect, with clear consciences and enforce order of their students.

The next time you go to assembly just take a minute off to look about and see just who is trying to take the floor from the speaker. You may be quite surprised to find yourself among the offenders. If so, judge yourself and act accordingly. If not, profit by the sight that greets the eye.

HUMOR
MORE OR LESS

Sister's Beau — "You didn't expect to see me here tonight, did you?"

Sister's little brother — "Naw, Sis didn't put your picture on the piano till after you rang the door-bell."

Bob — "Do you have trouble with your car?"

Dick — "I couldn't have more if I was married to the thing."

New Iceman — "Say, what do think? The guy in that house threw me out because I tried to kiss the cook."

Milkman — "I think the lady of that house does her own cooking."

Some girls don't mind going out with bad eggs as long as they aren't broke.

Betty Co-ed thinks that a coquette is a small Coca-Cola.

Then comes the report that the local sororities have abolished Hell Week. They have made it eight days.

Esther Helsten — "I simply adore that funny step. Where did you pick it up?"

Joe Smith — "Funny step, heck, I'm losing my garter!"

"When in Rome did you do as the Romans do?"

"No — my wife was with me."

A women stops telling her age when her age starts telling on her.

Glenn — "Don't you love driving on a moonlight night like this?"

Adeline — "Yes, but I thought I'd wait till we got out in the country further."

The Circus Bulletin — "The bearded lady died today, leaving a wife and four children.

"Papa, what did you do in the war?"

"Shh! Your mother is in the next room!"

Mr. Percival: (In assembly) Now we will sing "God of our Fathers" Number 2.

Mr. Neale: Where is number 1?

A number of Coach Stockdale's 101 students were standing in the gym door watching the girls play hockey.

Ignacious Loyola Mish said he didn't know how the girls would stand in competition but they certainly looked good.

A ball sails out the door; Jesse is squealed; and the meeting is adjourned until next Tuesday.

Some of the boys were getting their exercise last Friday night — (it being the thirty-first of October.)

Let's hope that the team gives Platteville plenty of exercise on Saturday.

NELSON HALL NOTES

Hello Everybody:

I guess all of you have been asked a million or more times if you "had a nice time" during the vacation, so I guess I won't ask again. I would like to know what you did, though.

Some of us who were not fortunate enough to go home stayed here, and kept Miss Rowe company. The girls gave no signs of homesickness. Just ask any of them if they had a good time. On Thursday, everyone seemed to get a spurt of ambition and typewriters could be heard on every floor. "First, work and then play" was the slogan from the start. On Friday, however, the girls showed everyone that passed that the "dorm" was not altogether deserted. Some of them played tennis, hiked, and roller-skated. A "daily dozen" is essential you know, and you should have heard the send-off they gave the boys for their trip to Ashland! Their voices could be heard easily ten blocks distant. They demonstrated everything from snake-dances to new yells, and although Jack Frost did get after their fingers, noses and toes, they marched and yelled until McDermott was finally seen coming down the street, rubbing the sleep out of his eyes. The girls who stayed were: Esther Hawkes, Natalie Gorski, Thurza Iverson, Frances Johnson, Ann Jeselun, Genevieve Pulda, Patricia Cowan, Ruth Meifert, Ida Lahti, Doris Erickson, Margaret Martens, Dorothy McLain, Inez Braun, El-lamae Newberry, Ruby Hand, Katherine Reichert. Ask Thurza how she likes horseback riding. Perhaps that accounts for her "cuteness".

Some of the girls became real ambitious and hiked to the favorite picnic spot, Red Bridge. The crowd, being made up mostly of Home Ec. girls decided to try to cook something new. Ask them for their favorite recipe of baked potatoes stuffed with weiners or cheese, but don't mention carbon!!

There's some news left from last week too. The freshman girls gave a return Hollywood-party for the old girls Monday evening. Some

Miss Davis Speaks To Rural Life Club

The Rural Life Club enjoyed a very entertaining program at their regular meeting Monday, November 3rd. The program included community singing, a piano solo by Margaret Stevens and a declamation by Mildred Bonas.

The principal speaker of the evening was Miss Davis of the English Department, who gave a most interesting account of her tour during the past summer through England, Holland, Belgium, France, Germany, and Switzerland.

HOME ECONOMICS

The annual Home Economics Alumni Luncheon was held at Hotel Schroeder Thursday noon. There was a smaller gathering than usual, the attendance being about sixty. Representatives from nearly every town and city in Wisconsin were present. One of the guests traveled from Chicago to attend the convention. The person coming from the farthest west in the state represented La Crosse.

Many of the individuals present are in the teaching profession, while others are engaged in dietitian work and nursing. The year of 1914 claimed the earliest graduate from C. S. T. C.

COTTAGE NOTES

The Sims Practice Cottages were quite deserted over the convention vacation. Alice Falk kept the "home fires burning" in the south cottage while Alice Wallington spent part of the time in the north cottage.

Miss Violet Falk, Alice's sister visited her during the vacation. Miss Dorothy Olsen also stopped in on her way back from Milwaukee.

Graduation Dues To Pay For Iris

Every year it's the same old story in the same old way. All two, three and four year graduates of both June and July must pay $5.00 graduation fee; These are your dues to your class treasurer before Dec. 1, 1930. After Dec. 1, the fee will be $5.50. Second year graduates pay to Ann Baird, third year graduates to Cliff Alberts, and fourth year graduates to Esther Hawkes.

This $5.00 will buy you an Iris as well as pay your dues for the year. Pay your dues now and save fifty cents.

Y. W. C. A.

Miss Pierce, who is the secretary of the Y. W. C. A. in Peking, China, gave an interesting talk Monday evening at Nelson Hall. She has spent several years traveling around the world and has devoted much of her time to the study and improvement of conditions in China.

She made her talk especially interesting by a display of Chinese embroidery, and slides, showing various scenes from Shanghai, Tientsin, and Peking.

Some of the girls of the "dorm" were dressed in the costumes representing the Mandarin, the modern garment of the present men and women, and the type of dress worn by school children and their nurse maid who attends them on the way to and from school.

She also had many odd trinkets including "chop sticks", pigeon whistles, and rattling walnuts. Her talk was both interesting and educational, giving many side-lights on the customs, people, and conditions existing in China.

NOTICE!

All manuscripts for the oratorical contest must be submitted to Mr. Burroughs on or before November 12. The length of each oration is to be 1,500 words, ten per cent or one hundred fifty of which may be original quotation. After the orations have been submitted and read, a schedule will be arranged whereby each student will take part in a tryout in delivery. The orations should not be memorized before the first contests because revisions will be necessary.

Alumni Banquet At Milwaukee

The alumni Banquet was held in the Gold room of the Hotel Wisconsin Thursday evening at 5:30 o'clock. About 175 people were present, representing classes from very early years up to the present.

Mildred Novatny, the president of the Alumni Association, presided and introduced Mr. Joseph Kraus, the toastmaster. Mr. George Strom, Mr. E. T. Smith, Miss May Roach, Mr. Spindler, and President Hyer responded with short speeches.

The banquet adjourned in time for an evening meeting.

The Hockey Tournament is in full swing! Five teams are competing, three Physical Education class teams, and two teams under W. A. A. sport practices. The winner of the class contest will play the winner of the W. A. A. teams, thus winning the Hockey Tournament. There may be some cracked shins, some red cheeks (and noses) and cold hands, but that's all in the game and fun. Now, would the girls object to an audience at the games? In fact they would like to show you what Hockey is. The complete teams and schedules will be posted on the W. A. A. bulletin board.

On Saturday afternoon a gang of starving girls set out in quest of food. Their noses led them to River Pines, then on and on to a Bar-Ba-Q only to find out it wouldn't be open till 7 P. M. They were then led past McDill, and on to a little store where they feasted on doughnuts, raisins, potato chips, and hot dogs. Who was this hungry crew? — Genevieve Pulda, Ann Jeselun, Murilla Roberts, Ruth Meifert, Esther Hawkes, Natalie Gorski, Ruth Lippke, Adaline Bellman, Alice Lyman, Wilma Gutknecht, and Alice Sorenson.

The best W. A. A. meeting of the year was held on Monday night at Red Bridge. Why the best? Because the girls roasted supper, then exercised their lungs. Some tourists thought they were near Oshkosh, and the doors were left unlocked, but really, it was only a bunch of peppy girls expressing their appreciation of an apple roast and college life in general.

Ann Jeselun, Frances Johnson, Gen Pulda, Esther Hawkes and Alice Sorenson took advantage of Saturday afternoon to bake their dinner at Red Bridge. Bake their how baked potatoes, weiners, and cheese sandwiches taste. You will get a new supply of "scrumpitious" adjectives.

Stevens Point had a representation of 15 at the Whitewater game. Down there they think we are a pretty noisy college, as our group made more noise than Whitewater — almost! The "gang" was composed of Miss Seen, Miss Brown, Miss Carlsten, Mrs. Stockdale, Misses Josephine Terrill, Margaret Levi, Alta Stauffer, Vivian Enge, Blanche Tyler, Jennie Newsome, Iila Kenyon, Florence Neimi, Thursa Iverson.

of the girls impersonated actors and actresses. Frances Johnson received first prize for impersonating Charles Chaplin. Esther Hawkes, Ruth Meifert, Blanche Tyler, and Jennie Newsome represented "Our Gang". Virginia Thiele received a prize for impersonating Mitzi Greene. Thurza Iverson made a perfect impersonation of "Farina". The "Thurzarinines" entertained the crowd with selections on their "combonphones". The orchestra consisted of the director, Thurza Iverson, Elda Miller, Virginia Thiele, Marcella Magin.

Further entertainment consisted of a stunt given by each floor. The first floor gave a German version of the balcony scene from Romeo and Juliet. Ask Frances Korbal and Katherine Wiggins how to make love. The second floor was represented by the "Thurzarinines". The third floor was represented by the following girls: Ventura Baird, Martha Elmer, and Alice Lyman. They called themselves the "Land Lubbers in Bathing".

After a twister and "grand right and left" everyone formed in line and received a bag of peanuts. You don't have to ask if we had a good time. You know we did!

I guess I've made this long enough for this time, but I'll continue in the next issue. Don't work too hard.

Nosey Nan.

Bessie Dewar, and Frances Johnson.

At the board meeting Monday night Evelyn Davies was voted into W. A. A., Ruth Meifert was chosen head of Volley ball, to be ready to organize practices as soon as our Hockey tournament is over.

Any girls having tennis hours for this fall, hand them to Ann Jeselun soon, to get points, as we are checking up on fall sports. Our regular meeting nights have been determined, the first and third Wednesday of every month. We are going to make these meetings worth while with good, constructive programs, and good social times.

Don't forget the Hockey tournament.

game. A pass, Johnson to Paulson, on the 36 yard line was complete. A pass over the goal line by Schibsted gave Stevens Point possession of the ball on their own 20 yard line. The Point failed to gain on line plays and was forced to punt. Northland lost the ball to Stevens Point on the 44 yard line.

Alberts brought the ball to the Stevens Point 52 yard line; Marco added six more and Ramsden made it first down on the Northland 47 yard line. Marco made a first down on the 28 yard line. McDermott took the ball to the nine yard line and another first down. Marco made a yard, Alberts made a half yard and a line plunge failed to gain. On the fourth down Davies smeared McDermott on the eight yard line. Stevens Point took time out. Schibsted ran around left end to put the ball on Northland 10 yard line.

Northland kicked off to Stevens Point at the beginning of the second half. The third quarter was played with the possession of the ball in the hands of both teams as well as the fourth quarter. Northland had to turn to its passes throughout the second half Stevens Point outplayed the Northland boys throughout the third and fourth quarter. Stevens Point, failing to get the breaks with their passes, lost a very hard fought game to the northerners.

ROTHMOOR COATS

There's a coat for every purpose
this Fall

The new dress coats are soft-flowing, charming... each expressing its own individuality, each almost lost and buried in lavish furs. The travel styles, as always, are hardy and brisk... glowing in Scotch woolsens and deep northern furs. You'll have to see them... and do. It's worth while.
