SCORELESS GAME ENDS GRID SEASON

Point Rush Checked On Five-Yard Line

C. S. T. C. closed its 1930 year, playing Eau Claire to a tie. This game was played on a muddy field which aids no team in making touch downs. It was a cold and rainy day, this keeping the townspeople and students away from the game. The boys worked hard through out the game out playing Eau Claire in making of first downs and keeping the ball in Eau Claire territory.

Lose Chance On Downs

The Pointers lost their best chance to score late in the fourth quarter when they were held for downs on the Eau Claire five yard line. They had reached that marker on a drive that began in mid field and was aided by a pass, Alberts to Neuberger. In the third quarter Alberts returning a punt, raced 55 yards to Eau Claire's 35 yard line, where he was out of bounds. Albert made many yards through the line, and end runs. "Chief" Hansen, whom we have not had a chance to see very often in action, played a fine game and also made gains on plays through the line.

Lose Ten Men

The school always hates to see the grid season end, for many of these boys will not be with us next year to keep up the fight and standard of our school. We have ten men who will not be able to answer to the call to fight next year for the Purple and the Gold. These men are Captain Kennedy, Richard Marshall, Arthur Schroe-

Sigma Zeta Initiates New Members

Several students have qualified for active membership in Sigma Zeta Fraternity, and were initiated last night. The new active members are Richard Marshall, Cassie Raasoch, Helen Hammes, Estelle Buhl, Harold Zimmer, Margaret Birr, and Mary Van Hecke. Mary Van Hecke was a former Science Club member, so did not suffer the initiation. The new associate members are: Alta Stauffer, Natalie Gorski, Ruth Brabant, Lila Kenyon, Eileen Mueller, Elizabeth Neuberger, Jennie Newsome, Ruth Rosolack, Florence Woboril, Ben Monaster-sky. The initiation was enjoyed by all (?)

Lively Party Planned For Tuesday Evening

The Social Committee has planned an all school party for Tuesday evening, November 25.

Students will be admitted by their season ticket.

Novelty stunts will break the monotony of a steady dancing program, but the biggest-surprise will be the "why's and where-for's" of the grand march. If for no other reason at all come to see who is going to take the lead.

Ray Jacob's orchestra will play for dancing which begins at 8:30.

DR. BROWN, NOTED EDUCATOR GIVES SERIES OF TALKS

Library Has National Book Week Display

November 16 to 20 is National Book Week and for this reason the college library has a special display of new books.

These late editions are of special value to the student for they include many reference books classified in the history, education and English sections. Many fiction books are being shown for students who have leisure time. "Dean Briggs" by Dr. Brown is among the collection.

This is the third time this year that books have been received in the C. S. T. C. library, making a total of nearly one hundred for the first nine weeks. Junior publications are placed for perusal in the training school library.

Y.W.C.A. Holds Annual Candle Light Service

At the Y. W. C. A. meeting last Thursday evening about eighty girls formally became members of the Y. W. C. A. by repeating the pledge and relighting their small candles at the large candle which symbolized allegiance to Jesus Christ. The sweet music, the girls white dresses and the soft candle light enhanced the beauty and solemnity of the occasion.

The service opened with a processional of members singing "Follow the Glean" —

Loyola Club Elects Officers For Year

Father Casey was the speaker at the regular Loyola Club meeting held Thursday, November 13th. Election of officers was held after the program, the following people being chosen: President — Helen Hammes. V. Pres. — Celestine Nussse. Sec. Treas. — Melvin Andrie.

ENGLISH CLUBS HOLD DINNER IN HIS HONOR

"The Romance of Being a Student" was the first of a series of lectures given in the college auditorium last Wednesday, Thursday and Friday by Dr. Rollo Brown, of Cambridge, Massachusetts.

In this first lecture, Dr. Brown made students realize how interesting school life is if a student attempts to make it so.

"The Creative Spirit"

The subject of Thursday's address was "The Creative Spirit in Conduct". On Friday, he spoke on the "Creative Spirit in American Life". In both of these talks he expressed the idea that no one can be happy unless he is doing what he likes. Dr. Brown's desire is to find people with any special interest who have a "creative spirit" and in whom he can help to develop this creative spirit. He gave instances of many people who had gained encouragement, and possibly had their lives changed through aid given them. He particularly remarked about a group of women, twenty in number, who are interested in writing poetry. Through Dr. Brown's efforts these women have organized a kind of correspondence club, and thus are able to compare and criticize their work and that of other members.

A Harvard Graduate

Dr. Brown is a graduate of Harvard University. He has done much in the educational field in

STUDENT SENTIMENT

THE football season which closed Saturday left most of the students with a feeling of disappointment in the events that have transpired since the opening games. We started out with high prospects, having as good a line-up as any of the Teacher's Colleges. We should have made a better record. At the beginning of the season, the entire student body gave its full support to the team, enthusiastically and expecting without question to receive the best efforts of the team in return. Editorial Comment was recently requested on the subject of lack of student interest in the games. What is the reason for this radical shift of attention? To the people upon whom this reaction may be placed is this article intended. Because of the actions of a few, reflections have been cast upon all.

Responsibility is a word which should mean much to a student in a teacher's college. By far the greater number of the students in this institution are as conscientious and above-board as anyone else. There are always a few of the other kind with which to contend.

It is needless to say that we all look forward to the coming basketball season with as much spirit as marked the opening of the grid season. Our full faith is with the team. With elimination of the few who serve as deadweights, there is no reason why the disappointments of the first part of the year should not be more than made up.

It is desired that the students of this college think over the problem. With pressure of student sentiment, the standards and moral of the weaklings will either be raised to a higher level, or the individuals will feel forced to drop out of the picture. This is a kind of a situation to be developed. Why let a few cast a blight upon all, when such a thing can be averted? Are we going to stand around and do nothing? That is to be seen.

CHRISTMAS SEALS

"NINE countries have a lower death rate than the United States."

So reads heavy face type on the cover of a recent publication of the Association of Life Insurance Presidents, entitled "A World's War against Disease." That's something to remember, when we're inclined to get cocky about our own country having it all over every other country in everything. We've got a few things to learn and to do to.

But it's certainly good to know that between the four year period 1901-05 and the four-year period 1921-25, the United States cut its death rate faster than any other nation for people between the ages of 20 and 45. Other nations have a better record when it comes to saving their babies, others have a better record in saving middle and old age. But the United States sets the mark for improving its record in saving young people of parenthood age.

How did it happen, do you suppose? Well, if we read a little farther, we see this: that while other nations cut their diphtheria death rates faster, or their scarlet fever death rates, or their typhoid fever rates, or those for any number of other diseases, the U. S. A. cut its tuberculosis death rate faster than any other important country in the world. And tuberculosis, you know, is the great killer of young people. See now why the U. S. leads in cutting its death rates for young people?

"TB" is on the run. And the best way to keep it running, and help keep our United States in a high place in the field of public health, is to help those organizations like the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis Association that are fighting "TB". Buy Christmas Seals and use them. One Tuberculosis Christmas Seal is rather tiny, by itself. Put a few million of them together, and they've got a lot of strength.

NO POINTER NEXT WEEK

THERE will be no issue of the Pointer for next week because of Thanksgiving vacation.

HUMOR
MORE OR LESS

TO BE AIR-MINDED

We will believe that aviation has really arrived when we see a two-passenger airplane go by with seven or eight college students in it.

Betty Co-ed says that the sweetest music she ever heard was the sound of someone else doing the dishes.

Prof. — "How would you punctuate this sentence, 'Mary the beautiful girl ran down the street.'"

Leo Odagard — "I'd make a dash after Mary."

POSITION OR JOB?

John — "What, ninety cents for a telephone call? What were you doing all that time?"

Dick — "I applied for a position."

John — "Yeah — a position on the davenport."

#5&amp;10?!

She is only a Woolworth girl but she has her notions.

Ours is a Government of the people, for the people, by the prohibitionists.—Pathfinder.

JUST ASK THE HUMOR
EDITOR

Humor has great possibilities as a profession. Henry Ford made a billion out of a joke.

Joe — "Did Edison really make the first talking machine?"

Bob — "No, the first one was made in the Garden of Eden, but Edison made the first one that could be shut off."

Alex — "What's the matter Kid?"

Clarence — "I was disappointed in love."

Alex — "But I thought you married the girl."

Clarence — "I did."

NOTICE TO BACHELORS

"Many a man has run into a church while driving with one hand."

Judging by the way some of our "self-made" men boast about beginning life as a barefoot boy, they seem to think that most of us were born with our shoes on.

REVISED VERSION

An apple a day will keep the — diagnostician, the Psychologist, and the Neurologist, the Ear, Nose, and Throat Specialist, the Head and Lung Specialist, the Gastro-intestinal Specialist, the Bone Specialist, the Chiropractor and the Osteopath away.

HEARD IN THE COAL BIN

Hansen — "Let's strike."

McDermott — "What for?"

"Shorter hours."

"Good. I always did think that sixty minutes was too much for one hour."

HOW DISAPPOINTING!

Flora — "But I hear that most English Barons are social flops."

Marian — "Yes. Very few of them have any manors."

—D. J. O.

ON WITH THE SHOW

"Watching the roller skaters at the Capitol," sez Sorny, "is just like an exciting adventure story. You never know what is going to turn up next."

Famous last words — And then it ran out of gas.

Bob — "I don't see how you can tell those Alban twins apart."

Hansen — "That's easy. Jean always blushes when we meet."

It is hard to tell whether the new dresses have grown longer or if they have just come loose at the top.

THE SOLUTION

Another thing this country needs is more colleges that work themselves through students.

"Disarmament must begin at home," said Joe Smith as he trimmed her fingernails.

Baker — "Your glasses are dirty."

Dr. Collins — "Thanks. My eyes are bad and I couldn't see it."

Dolores: Are you chewing gum?

Esther: No, my name is Esther Kuehl.

I motor in a reckless way
And carefully contrive
To read the paper every day
To see if I'm alive!

Stowell: What is the height of dumbness?

Jack Johnson: Well let's see, five feet eight ain't you.

NELSON HALL NOTES

"Jac ce ma te".

The above is just another way of saying "how do you do". Perhaps you can guess what language it's in.

I suppose all of you would like to know what happened since the last time I wrote—so "sit tight!"

Nelson Hall formed the place of several dinners this week of school organizations. On Wednesday, the Margaret Ashmun Club held their dinner in the "rec." room of Nelson Hall. Dr. Brown, who had been giving lectures last week was the principal speaker of the evening.

On Thursday evening, the Y. W. C. A. held a picnic supper in the "rec." room before the candle light services took place in the college auditorium.

The weather conditions have been such that most of the girls spent the week-end at home again. Some are beginning to stay however, and it won't be long until the "snow flurries" will prevent more from going. Homesickness doesn't seem to be a contagious disease with the Nelson Hall family however.

Miss Bess Dewar spent the week-end with Miss Frances Daniels. Miss Daniels is a teacher at Rosholt and often comes to Stevens Point to see her old friends.

Miss Hussey entertained Miss McGeorge at dinner Sunday. Miss McGeorge is the librarian at the city Public Library.

The Misses Helen Hammes, Ruby Hand, and Ellamae Newberry were entertained at dinner by Miss Estelle Buhl on Sunday. The dinner was served at Delzell's.

Miss Lucille Hyland visited her friends at the dorm this week-end. Lucille teaches at Auburndale and consequently has many interesting episodes to tell.

Rural Life Students Surprised By Party

Rural Life Club held its regular meeting on Monday evening November seventeenth. After a short business meeting, followed by community singing the club adjourned to the "old gym" where a surprise Thanksgiving party awaited them. Games and dancing were enjoyed for a time. Sweet cider and ginger cookies were served to all. Everyone had a good time and went home tired, but happy.

COTTAGE NOTES

A formal dinner was served by the girls of the South Cottage on Saturday evening. Each two girls living in the cottage are responsible for the serving of a formal dinner each year. Helen Hammes and Ruby Hand helped with the serving. Irene Skutely, Alice Falk, Marion Kowitz, and Lucille Schmidt are the girls in the So. Cottage.

The guests of the evening were President and Mrs. Hyer, Miss Carlsten, Mr. Evans, and Miss Seen. Roses and candles formed the decorations.

NELSON HALL NOTES

The fad of horseback riding in order to get one's daily dozen is still the main form of exercise indulged in by the dorm co-eds. Ann Jeselun, Marcella Magin, Irene Miller, Crystal Joseph, and Thyrsa Iverson disregarded the cold weather Sunday afternoon and went riding. This is the cause of their aches and groans. The only advice they have to offer to anyone who has been thinking about trying the sport is to know the difference between an English and western saddle.

Katherine Wiggins is suffering with a sore knee sustained during hockey practice.

We are glad to learn that our little neighbor, Don Schmeeckle, is on the road to recovery. The little fellow has been seriously ill.

Nelson Hall has purchased a new Kennedy radio which was installed last Tuesday. The first payment will be made after a dance which will be held December twelfth in the old gym.

Perhaps you would like to tune in on another column of the paper, so I'll sign off—

W. A. A.

Do you know what the scores are? Are the Home Ec's better players than the Grammars? Did the Purple's beat the Golds? Who will win the final game tonight (providing the weather permits)? Last Wed. the 11:00 Home Ec. team showed the 9:00 Grammar girls, how to play hockey to the tune of six to two. Monday the Home Ec's continued their policy, and showed the Primary 1:15 class that they can make three scores to their none. The other scores are posted on the W. A. A. bulletin board.

Gen didn't lead her gang on the usual tramp, as they were all at the football game.

The next meeting of W. A. A. Wed. Dec. 4, will be in charge of Natalie Gorski, Olga Wolfgram, and Ruth Meifert. Wonder what we'll do.

It isn't too early for prospective new members to hand their names to the President.

We enter the region of light,
And hastening on, with eager intent,

Arrive at the rainbow's end,
And there uncover the pot of gold
Buried deep in the heart of a

Honored At Elmhurst

John L. Rezatto, of Ironwood, Mich., and a graduate of the class of 1929 of Central State Teachers' College, Stevens Point, Wis., now a senior at Elmhurst, has been appointed assistant director of the famous Elmhurst College Glee Club. The Elmhurst Club, which broadcasts at regular monthly intervals over station WLS, Chicago, and has made several interstate tours carrying it into practically every state in the Union, has been judged by critics as one of the finest among the smaller colleges of the mid-west.

On coming to Elmhurst College last Fall, Mr. Rezatto immediately became leading tenor soloist. From this envied position, Mr. Rezatto next rose to assistant director, assisting Director Cornelious H. Kickert in the training and presentation of the club.

In addition to his precosity in music, Mr. Rezatto has also won his way into the hearts of Elmhurst students by his strategic playing on the Elmhurst varsity football eleven. Incidentally, Elmhurst College defeated on Saturday, November 15, Bradley Polytechnical Institute, of Peoria, a school twenty times larger, and whose team has previously been defeated only by Iowa State, a Big Ten team, at a score of 27 to 25. In this game, Mr. Rezatto, half-back, carried the ball over the goal for the winning touch-down before a crowd of eleven thousand spectators.

Scholastically, Mr. Rezatto, who is majoring in education, is assistant instructor in the biology department, specializing in histology under Dr. John Wnter.

Mr. Rezatto is also director of a mixed chorus of fifty voices at Cicero, Ill.

Former Rural Student Writes From U. of O.

A letter from a former student in the Rural department was recently received by Mr. Neale. The letter is given here for those who are interested. It reads as follows:

I recently received a very interesting invitation and announcement of the Point homecoming. Therefore I thought much about my friends back in the Rural Department. I'd very much like to be able to participate in the homecoming events.

I am here at Ohio University getting my Master's Degree. I am of course, in the College of Education. I was offered a teaching fellowship; so I accepted. I work in the English department of the University High School. I teach two hours daily. Next semester I will have the opportunity to train a student teacher. It might be interesting for you to know that the critic I work with is Miss Louise Jane Diver of Amherst Junction and a Point graduate. She now has an A. M. degree and has been working in the West. You see we have much in common.

The University here accepted my credits hour for hour with no cuts. M. A. M. degree will not be granted until next August because my teaching throws it into the summer session. Perhaps when I secure my Master's I might succeed in returning to my Alma Mater as teacher in the Education or English department.

Please extend my greetings to the others of the Rural Dept.

With best wishes, I am,

Sincerely,

Henri L. Hess

DEPARTMENTS

The 10:05 period Tuesday morning, November 11, was devoted to meetings of the different departments.

Mr. Smith met the High School students in the auditorium, Elizabeth Rogers was elected treasurer, to replace Joseph Smith. Mr. Smith then dismissed all but the Seniors, who stayed to discuss the problems of placement.

At the Rural meeting Mr. Neale gave a brief talk, telling the members of the department that this year the work has been better than heretofore. He devoted the last few minutes of the meeting to private discussions.

A program was enjoyed by the Grammars; Josephine Terrill gave a book report, and a pantomime, "The Supreme Sacrifice", was presented by several members of the department. A discussion of the importance of Grammar Round Table was given by Mina Hunt and Margaret Martens.

At the meeting of the Primaries a social committee was elected for the remainder of the semester. They decided to hold a party for the members of the department, Monday, December 1st.

The Home Economics Department had a business meeting at which the Freshmen were put in charge of a Christmas program to be held the first part of December. The money that would be used for Christmas presents by drawing names is going to be used for Charity baskets.

The department of special students elected its member representative on the social committee, Fred Cochrane. Mr. Thompson exhibited several charts which he has drawn up to enable each member of that department to find out how he rates in each of his classes, and how the department rates as a whole.

DR. BROWN, NOTED EDUCATOR GIVES SERIES OF TALKS

America. While on a trip in Europe, he investigated the methods of teaching employed in France. He is the author of several books, among which are "The Art of Writing and Reading", "How the French Boy Learns to Write", and "The Creative Spirit—An Inquiry into American Life".

The student body was fortunate in having the opportunity of hearing Dr. Brown. His lectures are enhanced by a great fund of experience, command of language, unity of subject, and subtle sense of humor. He challenges thought, thus being not an ordinary entertainer, but a true educator.

Before Dr. Brown's lecture on Thursday, two violin selections were played by Edward Kolshed, a student at C. S. T. C. The manner in which the students listened, and the applause given him show how much Mr. Kolshed's music was appreciated.

Wednesday evening, at 5:45 P. M., the Margaret Ashmun Club and Psi Beta chapter of Sigma Tau Delta met for a dinner in the recreation room at Nelson Hall, in honor of Dr. Brown. The time of regular meeting of the Margaret Ashmun Club was altered to accommodate both of the organizations and Dr. Brown, who spoke at the meeting.

SCORELESS GAME ENDS GRID SEASON

der, Clifford Alberts, Kermit Frater, Karl Kitowski, Myron Smith, Ted Chvala, Lawrence Beaudin, and Vic Vrobel.

Many of the student body do not know all of the men named above, so, in a few words, here is some information on each one:

Gregory Charlesworth, guard on the 1928 championship football team, assisted Mr. Stockdale as line coach. "Greg" was in charge of the team last Saturday when our team played Eau Claire, and showed himself as a coach as well as a star player.

Capt. Robert "Bob" Kennedy of New Lisbon held down his position of L. End, and was always there when it came to breaking up the plays of the other team.

Richard "Dick" Marshall from Red Granite played center. He also was captain of the 1929-30 basket ball team. Dick played in the back field last year.

Arthur "Runt" Schroeder quarter back and a fighter from Shawano worked in the back field. Art was used in running interference for his team mates.

Clifford "Lucy" Alberts, half, and a star, which makes every one proud of him, in blocking and running the ball over the goal line for touch-downs. "Lucy's" home town is Forestville.

Myron Smith well known as "Mike" and also played on the 1928 Championship football team, held his job as tackle 100% efficient.

Carl Kitowski a Point player, was in every play from the first of the game until the last, fighting like no one's business. Carl played tackle.

Kermit Frater was also one of the Point's outstanding tackles. Girls, look out. Ask one of the football men about Kermit on the trip to Marquette. The name of his home town helps to explain, "Wild Rose".

Clarence "Ted" Chvala was also a member of the 1928 Championship football team. He played outstanding football all this year. His job was to make a hole in the side of the line and it was always open. His work was fine in tackling and blocking.

Vic Vrobel played in the back field. This was a new job for Vic but he was always there when the team needed a few yards.

Lawrence Beaudin, a player who came back to school this year, was a member of the squad in 1921. Lawrence was hurt in the first part of the season and did not get a chance to see much of the fighting lines. Beaudin played center.
