LIBRARIAN RECEIVES
CARNEGIE GRANT

One Of Twelve In
U. S. And Canada

George C. Alex, head librarian at Central State Teachers' College, is one of twelve librarians in the United States and Canada who have been selected to receive cash grants for graduate study. The grants were given by the Carnegie Corporation of New York and announcement of the awards was made in New York today and carried in Associated Press dispatches. The twelve were selected from 103 candidates. They will receive grants ranging from $1,000 to $2,500.

The grant received by Mr. Alex is $1,500 which will be used in graduate and research work in library problems at Columbia University. He will take a year's leave of absence, beginning in the fall.

Phi Lambda's Sponsor
New Fishing Contest

Phi Lambda Phi Fraternity is sponsoring something unique in the nature of a trout fishing contest for any person, not connected with C. S. T. C. Prizes will be awarded after the decision of the judges Miss Jones and Mr. Rightsell.

Rules for the contest are as follows:
1. Fish must be caught on May 1, 2, 3, or 4th.
2. Fish must be entered at Miss Jones' room by 12 o'clock on May 4th.
3. Only rainbow and speckled brook trout will be considered.
4. Fish must be taken from an open stream. No fish taken from hatchery or privately controlled stream will be eligible.
5. No individual will be allowed to win two prizes.
6. Each participant must secure blanks at the Phi Lambda Phi bulletin board before the season starts; after which they must be signed by two people certifying their catch.
7. Fish must be dressed but head and tail should be left on.
8. Prizes will be awarded as follows:
   a. First prize for the heaviest trout caught will be a fly rod donated by the Sport Shop.
   b. Second prize for the longest trout caught will be a fly reel.
   c. Third prize for the nicest catch of trout will be a fly casting line.
   d. Fourth prize for the biggest fish story will be given.

PROSPECTING

POSITIONS — positions — positions. This is a word being frequently used by student these days. "Have you applied?" "Have you signed up?" Such questions can be heard anywhere around C. S. T. C. This is an anxious period for those who have invested in a four year period of training for the teaching profession.

Many students are wondering if this has been a wise investment. What are the possibilities of such a career. According to figures this year, the degree graduate can expect to get a job at an average salary of about $1800 for this school year, or a magnificent monthly average of a little over $100 for the whole year. What great returns on an investment! Why, one can almost run after his neighbor's.

What are teachers going to do about this? For one thing, institutions for the training of teachers should be run on a high standard instead of high enrollment basis. This will help alleviate the yearly flood of teachers with experience. Instead of high enrollment basis. This will help alleviate the yearly.

The chances are mostly not, unless you invest a considerable amount of money in getting another degree. If someone should have one of his own and not run after his neighbor's.

Conscientious Mother: "I hope that is a good book for you to read."

Young Daughter: "Oh, yes, ma'am. It would help eliminate the 'underhiders.'"

A comparison of salaries will throw teachers in the same class with "butcher, the baker, etc."

What is that at all? I'm not going, he is not going, we are not going, they are not going. What great returns on an investment! Why, one can almost run after his neighbor's.

It isn't the money that counts, "Think of the good you are doing. "Money isn't everything." Such are the admonitions one receives when one asks about salary. Well, believe it or not, money makes the world go around today. You can't get along without it in America.

Everybody is after it. Why should a teacher think of herself as much as the 'butcher, the baker, etc.'?

What are teachers going to do about this? For one thing, institutions for the training of teachers should be run on a high standard instead of high enrollment basis. This will help alleviate the yearly flood of teachers with low standards. Another thing to do is to get organized. If a teachers' union must be formed, steps should be taken now. It would help eliminate the "underhiders."

If in those in the field are unable to make these advances, those in the field should take the lead when they have gained experience. At least, it is something to think about. If someone would take the lead in this matter, the season of securing positions would be one of less mental strain to those who are doing the looking.

A Student.

This is the business of education — to know how to think, to appreciate and enjoy the best in art, literature and music, and to be tolerant, sympathetic, temperate human beings, understanding the world in which one lives.

Education is concerned with the growth of personality. It only succeeds when it instills in eagerness for the good things of life. Its job is feeding the fires of the spirit and lighting an unquenchable flame for truth and beauty. — WOEN J. ROBERTS.

UPON the subject of education, not presuming to dictate any plan or system respecting it, I can only say that I view it as the most important subject which we as a people can be engaged in. That everyone may receive at least a moderate education and be enabled to read the histories of his own and other countries, by which he may duly appreciate the value of our free institutions, appears to be an object of vital importance, even on this account alone, to say nothing of the advantages and satisfaction to be derived from being able to read the Scriptures and other works, both of a religious and moral nature, for themselves.

For my part, I desire to see the time when education — and by its means morality, sobriety, enterprise, and industry — shall become much more general than at present, and should be gratified to have it in my power to contribute something to the advancement of any measures which might have a tendency to accelerate that happy period. — ABRAHAM LINCOLN.
NELSON HALL NOTES

Howdy! Have you recuperated from the big trip? Have you noticed that when Nelson Hall goes to Chicago, things are very quiet? Several of the girls together with Miss Fuggle and Miss Lorette Roach drove to Eau Claire to attend a Y. W. C. A. convention. The girls who enjoyed the trip included Frances Johnson, Lila Kenyon and Blanche Tyler. Miss Jean Skinner has gone to Endeavor for her tonsils removed. She will return sometime this week.

Marcella Magin and Velva Funk visited relatives and friends in Clintonville last week end. Everyone enjoyed Miss Hamilton's annual visit to C. S. T. C. She is the secretary of the Y. W. C. A. in Wisconsin. The entire school was given an opportunity to hear her on Thursday in assembly.

Margaret Beardsley is detained at home because of illness. We wish her a speedy recovery.

Beryl Sprong was absent to attend the funeral of her grandfather last week.

Helen Hoefland spent last week end at Soldier's Grove. We missed Helen's usual stay there.

Although it takes Lucille Smith and Helen Jordan with perhaps several more of the girls to start Lucille's car, Helen and Lucille motored to La Farge and back this week end.

Viola Rasmussen drove to Mountain in her chevrolet this week end.

Beaie Dewar spent the week end with Dolores Chilsen in Merrill.

Virginia Thiele entertained Magdalen Knapstein at her home in Green Bay this week end.

Alice Lyman spent an enjoyable two days in Fond du Lac.

Lucille Trummm, Lucille Scott, Eleanor Baker and Elizabeth Brockbank returned to the dorm for a short chat with some of their friends.

Word has been received from Lolabelle Amidon. She hopes to see some of her classmates and friends soon when she visits the Point.

Ethel and Myrtle Wiecke have been successful in sewing jobs.

Helen Humes has not required to hobble any more but can stride along with the rest of us.

Olive Van Vuren, a former graduate of C. S. T. C. visited the dorm last week end. She intends to graduate from the University of Wisconsin in June.

There are two and only two occasions when taking a walk is rather sensational to say the least.

The intoxicated youths entered the dorm the other evening, climbed the stairs to second floor and proceeded to the fire escape which they proceede the "lack porch". Upon being questioned by Miss Rove they said they were looking for dates. They were informed of the necessity for ringing the bell when asking for dates. The youths promptly carried out her orders and asked for girls in the "out" end of the dormitory. The proofs to the number of the trunk room. We were not aware that girls were kept in trunk rooms in Nelson Hall. The next time that you may have a date with Chief Frymark. Don't be frightened girls, they were only youths.

Don't forget to sign for your rooms freshmen, sophomores, and juniors!

Have you asked the boy friends to the Omega Spring Formal?

THE PLANETARIUM — AND HOW!

suppose in starting to tell a story one usually starts at the beginning — if one can remember that far back especially after a trip to a great metropolis like Chicago.

There really was a beginning to the trip to Chicago, though, if I remember correctly. Way back in my mind there appears a picture of 1925. I was a small indi-dual who anyone could tell had just awakened from a couple of hours of stolen slumber. No tears were shed to dim the shine of polished or new shoes or to spoil the crease of newly pressed trousers. Even Therese Lipinski remained, dry eyes as she said goodbye to Les.
Mr. Rightsell had Mrs. Rightsell along, and Mr. Evans anticipated seeing his wife in Chicago. Miss Laristen and Miss and Miss Miss Church are single so there wasn’t so much need for tears after all.
Bob Neale was more than satisfied because three fourths of the crowd was girls. Harold Zimmer proved to everyone later on in the morning that he preferred one and only. Yes, altogether everyone was brave in getting started. Bill Scribaer, Art Thompson, Tom Smith, and Earl Koch thought the company was rather stingy in only giving us four cars to run around in, but they were good sports and sat down eventually. Bill had to get up at 4 A. M. though. He then had to finish delivering milk.
That suit case of his looked something like a delivery truck without the wheels. At that Bill found that the crew knew that the milk was from the night before so he is still poor and is ready to sell his “get-rich-quick” idea.
The boys tried to help him get rid of it in Chicago but they found that they keep cows down there too.

(But that’s ahead of my story.)

The train finally started and dragged along for a while but decided to stop abruptly now and then. This was a treat for the people come to the Point by way of the Green Bay and Western. Being a Home Ec., Estelle Buhl, however, is used to keeping right on the go and wondered why in the world the company didn’t get someone to move the ants hills along the way.

There are always some people who must spoil everything you know, and these were not among the passengers on the trip. Larry Gordon started snoring about 2:30 and those “eight o’clock sleepy time gals” followed suit. Such a team up of seas was never seen since the repeal of the Homestead Act. Lucky was the fellow who slept in front of someone short.
Mr. Verner slept two cars with Tiny Bannach fumigating his cot.
We’re thankful he didn’t pass out altogether. About 6 pillows helped considerably to make sleeping comfortable for two blissful hours.
We wish Mr. Steiner would have given his small son a quarter
—the price of a pillow. The poor little fellow had no sleep at all because someone was always claiming the pillow he had taken while they shifted positions or raised their heads for a moment.
The sun made a good alarm clock for most of the travelers. The other went awakened — “Pillow please!”, from the Porter. There was almost a struggle when Helen Hamme tried to sleep after 7 o’clock on the rented pillow. No one looked especially fresh in the morning, but Kermit Frater looked all in except his shoestrings. (He lost these playing polo.)

At Waukeena we were told that the yellow tickets were our breakfast and Al Ackeret proceeded to eat his. The train finally arrived at the Grand Central Station. As the crowd emerged from the Pullman Lois Carpenter was heard to remark, “Why, we’re right in the planetarium.” One really can’t blame her for overhead was the arched iron framework with the sun peekabooing through the columns. “That’s what I call service!”, shouts Pete Peterson.

Pete learned something about service as we were packed into dozens of yellow cabs and hustled to the real planetarium after breakfast.

Mr. Blackman must have given some of the C. S. T. C. students a romantic idea of the universe. You should have seen the couples who entered the building. Alfa fell asleep even though she did sit next to Kermit Frater and awakened
just in time to hear the lecturer give orders to “keep your feet on the floor” while he whirled the planets around and stopped at 1953. What an awakening! Alfa says she knows how Rip Van Winkle felt.

All this time Frances Johnson was getting uneasy. She had become so much about a certain high building where one could go up on the elevator for nothing.
Its a good thing the weather was warm for Frances insisted on sticking her head out all the way to the

ATHLETICS

LESSONS IN TENNIS

THE BACKHAND GROUND-STROKE GRIP.

A number of questions have been asked, "How do you make a backhand shot?"

It is obvious that the forehand grip described in the last lesson can be used for a backhand shot, because it would be swung against the back of the hand itself. Therefore, a change in grip is necessary. This is easily accomplished. Change the hand one quarter of a circle on the handle, backward, so that the hand rests directly on top of the handle, the knuckles of the hand pointing to the sky. Grip the handle tightly. The shot off the backhand travels directly across the wrist with this grip. Start your swing like in the forehand. Be sure to "follow through," as this will aid you in placing the ball where you want it to go. KEEP YOUR EYE ON THE BALL.

SERVICE GRIP.

The grip for service is just a midway between the forehand and backhand grip. Take your forehand grip and then turn the hand half way back to the backhand position and you have the grip for service. The average player is an inveterate careless. The easiest way to serve legally is to remember that one foot must be behind the baseline and both behind the line until your racket has struck the ball. Stand about two inches from the base line with your feet pointing about 35° from the way you are serving.

THE SLICE SERVICE.

This is the most common form of service and one I always have my beginners use.

To hit this service, stand behind the baseline with your feet at an angle of about 35° to the line. Drop your weight back on your right foot. Toss the ball well ahead of your head and slightly to the right in advance of it. Swing your racket up and forward with one easy, surefull movement, keeping your eye on the ball, at the same time, shifting the weight forward to the left foot. Hit the ball as high above your head as you can comfortably reach. The racket is outside or on the right side of the ball. It travels from right to left. This is very easily done if taken slowly at first. Do not waste your first ball, make it good.

The next lesson will bring to a close the articles on tennis made possible by the Pointer. It will consist of Valley, Smash and Incidental Strokes.

Interclass Trackmeet
Planned For May 9

All men interested in track should take it upon themselves to report at once for daily workouts. An interclass track meet is planned for May 9. Each class should be well represented in the track meet. Let's have each class represented by at least 25 or 30 men.

According to announcement from the office the contract has been let for the new fence around the tennis courts.

"S" Letter Day
Adopted By C.S.T.C.

C. S. T. C. will adopt a new day for all letter men. It will be called "S" letter Day. Every Thursday, every letter man will wear his sweater to school. This does not mean that he cannot wear it other days, but Thursday will be the appointed day for all of them to appear in their sweaters.

Baseball Team To Be Organized By Students

This year the men of the school have taken to sports. The new craze is baseball. A college team will be started at once if enough students will take an active interest. Coach Kotal announced today that a schedule will be made in an effort to have a number of good games here this season. It will take thirty-five ball players to make up a good squad. Why can't every man who knows something about base ball get out and work for a strong team?

Checker Tournament
Games By May 9th

All entrants find out who your partner in the tournament is, and play your games off."Forty-one" will start now. These games must be played off before May 9. Play your game and report the winner to Coach Kotal's office at once.

Spring Football
Ends This Week

This week will bring to a close the spring football season. Coach Kotal was well pleased with the results of the spring work-out. Thirty-seven suits were issued three weeks ago. The average player is in good shape. The track meet held on the appointed day for all of them to appear in their sweaters.

The last two or three days will be given over to scrimmages. There has been a number of old timers who were out that are ineligible for competition next year, but are parts of the game.

planetarium and remarking as we passed the skyscrapers, "Ooh! Ain't that a big one." It took a week for Frances to get over her stiff neck.

Wlilbur Stowell and Kermit Fra-tter were positive they knew the city and so decided to find the most interesting places. A little later Mr. Evans found them sitting on the curbing trying to flag a taxi to take them back to the Grand Central.

Cletus Collins, we discovered also has another weakness besides girls. It's elevators. He even risked having his constitution upset going up and down 13 stories in the Morrison Hotel from 6 to 8 o'clock. The reason — A pretty girl who ran the elevator was off duty at 8. Not so dumb!

Some of the fellows were determined to save money so they decided to see the Follies—98% off you know.

I don't know if the trip did the Home Ees any good or not. Blanche Tyler, Jennie Newsome, Lila Kenyon, Vivian Enge, and Alice Lyman were shocked to death at Maxwell St. Wilma Gut- necht thought the display of sausages was jewelry and the rest of the girls had to prevent her from spending all her money foolishly.

If we omitted anything interesting ask Al Achenret he knows how much money we all spent, how and why and what have you.
