Letters Awarded Point Athletes

At last, the time grows near for the assembly-hour record at other times more lasting and treasured than just the cheers of the crowd—something which will always remind him of the men he played with, and the school he played for—his letter.

According to plans made at the present date, presentation of these awards will be made at the conference to be held at 5:30 Thursday night at Nelson Hall. The list of the awards is as follows:

Sweaters for football to A. Baker, K. Cashman, G. Olson, Roy, W. Scribner, Klement, R. Atwood, Gregory, R. Schuhm bill, Koech, J. Atwood, O. Greene, Reimer, Van

Glee Clubs Give One Hour Credit

Two glee clubs, both under the direction of Professor Peter J. Michelsen, have been organized in the college second semester.

A boys’ club with a membership of 16 meets every Friday afternoon at 3 o’clock. The girls’ glee club rehearses every Friday afternoon at 3 o’clock. The clubs will meet in the coed gym. Mr. Michelsen said both organizations will make appearances at the assembly-hour record at other times later in the year. Each group is a one hour credit class.

Saint Thomas Debates Here

The Margaret Ashmun Club, local honorary English Fraternity, was entertained by a debate between the Saint Thomas Negative and the C.S.T.C. Affirmative teams last night in the library. The question for debate was Resolved; that Congress shall enact legislation for the centralized control of industry. Both sides presented their cases admirably and the debate proved both interesting and instructive. C.S.T.C. was represented by Lorin Gordon and Clarence Styza, while the St. Thomas team was composed of Messrs. Archie Gingold and Lew Tremont.

Eau Claire and Oshkosh Trim Point Teams

Stevens Point Has No Chance at Winning Conference Debate Title

By virtue of two defeats to the representative debate teams of the Stevens Point State Teachers College, the hopes of having a championship were shattered at the local contest.

Local Decision Close

The affirmative team of Boyle, Smith and Vieg met Oshkosh here last Friday and received a setback of 100-95, according to the decision of the judge, William M. Lammers. The negative squad was handed a 106-95 defeat by the Eau Claire affirmative. J. M. Cochran was the official at that debate.

Two On Top

To date it is understood that Oshkosh and Platteville are ranking contenders for the title with a defeat. Superior and Eau Claire fell to the southerners, while Point and Whitewater lost to Oshkosh.

Pledge Period And Rushing Is Organized

Now that fraternity and sorority pledging is well on its way the Greek Council has successfully handled its first difficult task. In past years the rushing and pledging has been unorganized and much ill feeling and criticism has resulted from the helter-skelter tactics employed.

Dates Set

This year the representatives of the organizations met January 12 to set definite plans for the period. They agreed that the week of the final semester examinations should be known as a “sacred week.” This was to prevent disturbance of study by holding rushing parties. On Wednesday, February 17, a 11 pledge elections were to be completed and the invitations sent simultaneously. The sororities were ready before the fraternities.

College Band Enters Stunt Program; Point Has Chance For Interstate

When the state oratorical contest gets underway at the Milwaukee Teachers college Friday, March 18, Celestine Nuesse with ‘The Bourne of Youth’ will represent C.S.T.C. in the oration division with Marlowe Boyle as the extemporaneous speaker.

College Band Goes

According to present plans the local college will send its 33 piece band to Milwaukee. The band will participate in the stunt program which will be held at 10 o’clock Friday morning. In the event that inclement weather prevents the band from moving to Milwaukee, some musical stunts will be alternated. Music director Peter Michelsen, said cars offered by local students and professors will convey the band to Milwaukee.

Strategic Introduction

Up until the second half the Pointers didn’t seem to realize whom they were playing against, and were doing very well indeed. However, when Coach “Eddie” Kotal introduced the Packers the boys wilted. Even the official were courteous.

Of course, the local lads were handicapped by their coach playing Chris McLeese, All-American guard,

B Team Successful

In Season’s Games

The Central State Teachers College B’s have shown a brand of basketball which demands recognition. Under the careful tutelage of coach Vrobel, they have played and defeated some of the strongest aggregations in this district, and closed their regular season, taking third place in the North Central Wisconsin Tournament.

Not a single man on that squad show improvement by the end of the season.

Individual Stars

To any fans who have witnessed their efforts on the basket ball court, the spirited three players exhibited, was a revelation. Anderson, who played the pivot position, will undoubtedly offer strong competition for the best players on next year’s varsity.
Hansen, whose abilities have already been recognized, certainly proved valuable at either guard or forward. The diminutive Shore, displayed fight and ability to locate the basket or regularly that he was spent every time on the bench. Keener, seldom failed to take the ball off the board on rebounds, and his guarding work proved an important part in the opposing teams’ low scores. Richman shot often, but his ability to sink them warranted such proc-dure. A. Anderson was able to fill in at either guard or forward, should be able to hold down a regular position next season. Bush and Christenson lacked experience, but they have shown a desire to participate, even on the bench.

Champs Clash

City Champs Accept Phi Sigma Epsilon Challenge To Basketball Game

Plenty of “action” and amusement will be afforded local basketball fans in the new gym Friday night when the challenging Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity championship quintet swings into motion against the Foresters, city champs, to decide the verbal battle that has been raging between the two teams during past weeks.

The Phi Sigma Epsilon quintet,
winners of the tournament at St.
Peter’s gym last week, are to meet the Foresters, victors in the college-sponsored tournament,
in the college gym tomorrow night.

It was understood that a cinder track was to be built completely encircling the new gridiron. The 440 yard track is not essential at the present time, but a 100 yard stretch would help immensely in developing a strong team. Inasmuch as track is a major sport now it behoves someone to take action at once.

The game is especially interest-inf in that the Foresters refused to enter the St. Peters temunity unless they were given a percentage of the gate receipts,
on the ground that they were city champions already.

The game tomorrow will settle once and for all the question of what team really is the best in the city.

And who were the two well-known campus playboys who broke the window in the telephone booth while foolin’ around? You better come clean, old Pal, old Pal!

We see by a freshman theme that the “Pointer” is a fine, up-lifting influence. AH — recognition at last!

And we solemnly promise
that no poetry will ever again stain the spotless
escutcheon of this here n o w column.

ALUMNI NOTES

It is noticeable in these lists of graduates that we are publishing that the Home Economics Department graduates hold their due proportion of fine positions as teachers in universities, colleges and high schools, and also as dietitians in large hospitals in public institutions, as demonstrators for cookery utensil manufacturers, as cafeteria managers, etc., from Hawaiian Islands to New York City.

Nelson Notes by Nat

After trying to scrounge news I decided that I would have to rely on quality rather than quantity in this column this week.

Miss Elizabeth Gieseler of Tower, North Dakota, is staying with us while she does her practice work in the college library. Miss Gieseler is a student at the Wisconsin Library School at Madison.

Miss Esther Merwin has completed her practice work in the library at the local school and has gone to Pond du Lac for a month to work in that city's public library. We were sorry to see Miss Merwin leave, and we hope she chooses to visit us sometime.

Miss Adeline Bellman's mother of Fort Atkinson visited at the dormitory Sunday.

Miss Madeline Rice was Miss Frances Korbol's guest Sunday evening.

Miss Amy Boeyink visited relatives at Vesper this week-end. Miss Murilla Robert's birthday was the occasion for boxes and a very impromptu birthday party this week-end.

Are you counting the days until vacation too?

The shipment is a valuable addition to our laboratory, which is rapidly becoming one of the finest in the state.

Pledge Period and Rushing is Organized

were and through agreement dispatched their invitations earlier than the set date. The men's organizations dispatched theirs on the set date.

Deans Approve First

The pledge invitations were given to Dean of Men, H. R. Steiner and Dean of Women, Bertha Hussey. Here they were approved for fraticinal and other standings, and then mailed. The Greek Council also had adopted a proviso that rushing parties should be at a minimum for "depression reasons."

Work Ahead

The real work of the Greek Council will come later in the year when it will act with the President's organization committee on pledging for next fall. The committee is made up of the advisers of the fraternities and sororities, and the social committee of which Mr. Rogers is chairman.

All organizations are being dealt with.

It is understood that this committee has already prepared a list of suggestions for this work. It is noticeable and appreciated by the students that the matter is being dealt with in the form of recommendations and not without their own planning.

Semester Elections

The Council remains the same this semester with the exception of the Chi Delta Rho representative, Weldon Leach, their representative president, has been elected as representative while Edward Lenthold, present head of the fraternity, is in the council in place of Douglas Robertson.

Burton Hotvedt and George Maurer merely changed places as Maurer was elected president of the Phi Sigma Epsilon and Hotvedt representative for the last half of the year. The sororities, Omega Mu Chi and the Tau Gamma Beta do not hold semester elections.

THE EDITOR’S UN-EASY CHAIR

Note — All contributions must be signed when submitted and writer must be willing to have name divulged. Several communications have been received this year unsigned and of such satirical nature that they could not be used in The Pointer without considerable trouble. This one is slipped under our door signed —

I often wonder what we would do without our ‘Pointer.’ Each Thursday we look for it, because much of our enjoyment depends upon it. It relieves the tedium of study. It furnishes a lunch-table topic — or prevents conversation, as the participants desire. Its head lines supply us with the thrill which we have come to demand as affords the deeply beloved opportunity for us to voice our opinions. In short, school life without our weekly paper would be but a dull affair.

The wholesome fear of unfavorable publicity which most of us possess is an excellent deterrent but, on the other hand, favorable mention is always a great incentive to commendable action for which our paper accords us generous praise. We should realize that it is but a mirror of our school and our associations with it. If we would not have others see a distorted reflection, we must stand before it in uprightness, strength and beauty.

The lives of most of us are so crowded that there is not much time nor opportunity to attend all of our athletic games, assemblies and social functions. But in our paper we have a friend who places before us these happenings and the results, in summarized form, so that we may, in a comparatively short time, familiarize ourselves with them. Here we may keep abreast of all these things. In fact a liberal understanding may be obtained, and with great enjoyment, through a diligent reading of our paper.

May our words and deeds be instrumental in creating an image of school and social life which will be proud to be seen reflected in the pages of “The Pointer.” — A Student.

KOLLIN’S KADDY KAPERS

Waiter — “These are the best eggs we’ve had in years.”
Diner — “Better bring me some you haven’t had so long.”

They sat alone in the moonlight.
And she soothed his troubled brow.
“Dearest, I know my life’s been fast,
But I’m on my last lap now.”

He — “No woman ever takes another woman’s advice about frocks.”
She — “Naturally, you don’t ask the enemy how to win the war.”

Author — “Have you read my new book ‘What do you think of it?’
Student — “If you ask me, I think the covers are too far a part.”

Stenographer — “Your little girl wants you to kiss her over the telephone.”
Busy Manager — “Take the message. I’ll get it from you later.”

Mrs. Leuthold — “And is my boy really trying?”
Dr. Collins — “Very.”

Home Ec Problem — “Why do they put so many holes in Swiss cheese when limberger really needs the ventilation?”

“I thought your secretary was a blonde.”
“She was, but she went off the gold standard.”

Newlywed — “I wonder why we can’t save anything.”
Mrs. Newlywed — “It’s the neighbors, dear, they are always doing something we can’t afford.”
