Michelsen Will Judge Indiana Tournament

Professor Peter J. Michelsen, local music director, has been selected by the Indiana school Band and Orchestra Association to act as judge for their state contest May 6, and 7. This event will be held at Bosse High School, Evansville, Indiana.

Mr. Michelsen received the following comment in his selection by the association:

"The fact that you have served as a judge two successive years in our state contest and that your name was proposed for a third, marks you as an outstanding adjudicator. The fairness of your decisions and gentlemanly manner of offering constructive criticisms, we feel, is largely responsible."

Point Graduate Writes Article

Doctor Arnold Lucius Gesell, who graduated from Stevens Point State Teachers College in 1899, is the author of an article in the last Scientific Monthly on the new developments in the scientific study of the child. This subject is in accordance with his research work as professor of child hygiene in the graduate school at Yale University.

Dr. Gesell lectured here some years ago. A magazine article titled "A Town of a Thousand Souls" attracted much attention at the time of its publication. Gesell was a successful orator while at Stevens Point, winning the state and interstate oratorical contest for his school.

BURROUGHS WILL JUDGE BIG TEN

Will Decide Purdue-Wisconsin Debate

Leland M. Burroughs, instructor in speech and English on the local faculty, will go to Madison Thursday to judge the Purdue-Wisconsin debate which will be held in the Memorial Union Building. It is a Western Conference debate. Dr. A. T. Weaver, head of the speech department at the University of Wisconsin extended the invitation for Mr. Burroughs to act as critic judge. Dr. Weaver judged the local oratorical and extempore speaking contests here in February.

Mr. Burroughs will go from Madison to Milwaukee for the State Teachers College Oratorical and Extempore speaking contest.

OBITUARY

Death Of "A-1" And "A-2"

In the interest of science, two little white rats have gone to the happy rat heaven, where subsidies are granted on cheese importations and embargoes levied on cats and steel traps.

Miss Helen Hammes, of the Home Ec. Department, has been conducting the experiment and has now demonstrated the value of some food which is just another digit on our typewriter, but of some value to those who know.

Experiment Report

Miss Hammes reports the result of the experiment in this manner:

"The experiment consisted in the feeding of three white rats, as a problem in nutrition. The rats were fed on vitamin 'A plus' diets and vitamin 'A minus' diet, to show in actual life processes, the effect of vitamins on the animal and hence on the human body.

"One rat was fed an adequate diet consisting of yellow cornmeal, casein, and one percent of calcium carbonate and sodium chloride. The vitamin 'A minus' rats were fed white cornmeal, casein, and the same amounts of the mineral content. This diet was adopted at

DEBATE CORRECTION

The names of Clarence Styza, Marlowe Boyle, and Laurin Gordon were omitted from the debate story last week. These men were defeated by Oshkosh here in a 100-99 decision. Celestine Nuesse, Cedric Vig and Tom Smith lost at Eau Claire, 100-97. Nuesse spoke first in the constructive speeches and concluded the rebuttal argument for Stevens Point.

Nine Volumes Of First Point Newspaper Presented Library

The local Teachers College library has received nine bound volumes of "The Wisconsin Piney," a weekly newspaper published back in the days when Stevens Point was the center of the logging industry and but a trading post in the forests along the Wisconsin river. The gift was made to President Frank S. Hyer by Mrs. Geraldine Bliss Clark, 117 East Avenue.

Dated Before Civil War

The first copy in the volumes is dated March 29, 1852. The last copy entered is one for December 25, 1873. They were collected and bound by Mrs. Clark's father, Mr. N. F. Bliss, who died in 1876. For the past four years the collection has remained in the Public Library. The minor use placed upon the relic there caused Mrs. Clark to move the editions to the College library.

When the local Normal School was begun in 1894 Mrs. Clark gave the library a copy of "The Stevens Point Handbook," a relic

DR. J. V. COLLINS PREPARES BIBLE STUDY MATERIAL

Philadelphia Publishing House
Markets Novel Bible Contributed To By Dr. Collins

Dr. J. V. Collins, professor of Mathematics at the Stevens Point State Teachers College, is the author of a new practical course in bible reading and religious education appearing in a bible recently published by the A. J. Holman Company of Philadelphia.

DR. J. V. COLLINS

New Idea

This book offers an entirely new plan in religious education. It is designed to be used as a textbook in Sunday Schools, being taken by High School Juniors and Seniors or by any Bible Class. It is also adapted for use by Freshmen in colleges; indeed this edition is called the college edition. It is expected that the various Protestant church Boards of Education will urge its use and will have it listed in their catalogs of publications, so that it can be purchased through them.

The Introductory Notes begin by setting forth the great importance to young people of reading the Bible through and studying it intensively.

Old Publishing House

The Holman Company that is bringing out the book is understood to be the oldest Bible publishing house in this country. They are located at 1226 Arch St., Philadelphia.

A St. Patrick color scheme was carried out in the food and the decorations. The table centerpiece was composed of freesia and white sweet peas, and tall green tapers on the table and the buffet furnished the only light.

OMEGA BRIDGE PARTY

A most novel bridge party and luncheon was given at Hotel Whiting last Saturday afternoon for the Omega Mu Chi Sorority by their faculty advisers, Miss Eva Seen and Miss Florence Brown.

Saint Patrick's Day furnished the theme for the decorations and luncheon. Little green hats, covered dishes of green and white candies were at the tables. A large green hat was filled with prizes for bridge. Almost every guest was fortunate enough to win a prize for something, a little slam, a grand slam, four aces in one hand, a score of four hundred or over in one round, high score, or low. Miss Elizabeth Sherbert received high score and Miss Ann Jeselun low. Novel favors, "bonbons" were passed around before luncheon, and the girls all wore green caps and read fortunes while dining.

Mrs. Charles Cashin, sorority patroness, was guest of honor.

FORMAL APRIL 1

Zackie Moore and his eleven piece recording orchestra, playing for the Chi Delta Rho fraternity semi-formal dance at Hotel Whiting, April 1, will feature for the first time in Wisconsin, the Cuban "rhumba". Moore, after his two seasons at Club Tokio, Havana, Cuba is now considered one of the outstanding exponent of the rhumba among American orchestras.

Several years ago Americans came back from Havana talking about the rhumba, and its soft rhythmic tempo, and the work of the band at Club Tokio. The craze for Cuban music swept the nation, and southern hotels were demanding Zackie Moore. Accordingly this leader returned to the States for new engagements.

Now the dancers of this section of the country will have an opportunity to hear the band that created such a sensation in the southland. All the famous rhumbas, the singing tunes, the youth, and their enviable record, Mayo Hotel, Tulsa, Over the Top Cafe, Mexico City, Colon, Panama, Teatro Com-pamor, Havanah, recordings for Okeh, Paramount, Broadway, and their long engagement at Club Tokio.

SUPPLEMENTARY TOURNAMENT BEGINS

COLLEGE AGAIN HOST TO PREPS IN TOURNAMENT

Three Day Tournament Begins In New Gymnasium at Three This Afternoon

Stevens Point State Teachers College will be host to eight Wisconsin High School basketball teams for three days this week. After a lapse of three years, the local College has been awarded the tournament after Iola declined the honors.

Amherst And Marathon First

This afternoon the Amherst and Marathon City High School teams begin the series at 3 o'clock. The 2nd game will be between Edgar and Mattoon at 4 o'clock. Needah will meet Weyauvega at 7:30 and Rudolph will play the Wood County Aggies at 8:30, tonight.

Schmeeckle In Charge

F. J. Schmeeckle, chairman of the athletic committee, is manager of the meet. Officiating will be handled by Coach Eddie Kotal and F. C. Fellows, of Stevens Point. Medals will be awarded to first, second and third place teams, the same as in the district tournaments. Gold medals and a trophy will be presented to the championship team; silver medals will be awarded second place winners, and silver medals and a trophy will go to the consolation winners.

W. A. A.

Plans are well under way for the annual entertainment night given by the girls for the faculty women and wives. This year the big event will be held on Wednesday evening, March 23, in the old gym. A most interesting and fascinating evening of amusement is promised.

Ping Pong Tourney

Girls who wish to enter the Ping Pong tournament will please sign on the "Ladder" sheet provided on the bulletin board in the game room. The tourney will be known as a "Ladder" tournament, meaning that any girl may challenge any other girl. Those who have already entered the tournament are Annette Horton, Ruth Reed-al, Emaline Martin, Olga Leonardson, Velma Scribner, Thyrsa Iverson, Alice Sorenson, Bonita Newby, and Helen Strachota.

Dart Base Ball

The dart baseball tournament will probably be held sometime next week. Any group of four wishing to enter as a team may do so by signing before Friday at 4 o'clock, on the bulletin board in the game room.

SHOW THE PREPS A REAL COLLEGE

Pointers Appear Strong In Track

With the rapid approach of what promises to be spring weather, comes a yearning to exert our excess energy in, well the Greeks had a name for it, but we call it "track."

Coach Kotal has posted a paper on the athletic bulletin board, which already contains the signatures of most of our sprinters, distance men, vaulters, high jumpers and weight men. If quantity is any indication of track possibilities, Coach Kotal may feel gratified. The quality, however, remains to be seen.

New Suits

New track suits are being issued, and many are already developing their conditions by daily workouts on the indoor track in the old gym. The hurdlers have even made use of the hallways in the basement, and although cement floors do not approach a cinder track, they do serve a purpose.

Track is a major sport in Stevens Point, and lack of experience should not prevent anyone who is interested, from coming out for it.

Laabs Eligible

"Bud" Laabs will not have much argument in the conference with his ability in pole-vaulting and the javelin. Another prospect is Orsten Greene, who ranked second in state prop track with the shot put.

Strong In Baseball

A survey shows that baseball material is strong here and would have a good schedule if desired amongst amateur teams in Central Wisconsin in the spring.

CHAMP HONORS GO TO COLLEGE ORGANIZATION

Phi Sigma Epsilon Gains City Championship In Win Over Foresters

The Phi Sigma Epsilon basketball team, otherwise known as Sigma Phi Eps or "frats" to our downtown contemporaries, won undisputed claim to the city title when they defeated the Foresters, 34 to 20, in the college gym last Friday night.

College Boys Fast

The fraternity boys displayed the same fast-breaking offense taught by Coach Kotal to the college team, while the Foresters played more the professional type of ball, waiting for the breaks to slip in and make a bucket.

Last Minute Spurt

The game was much closer than the score indicates, the Phi Sigs padding their margin by two field goals each by Thompson and Krumm in the last minutes of play. Krumm and Thompson starred for the victors, and Art Schroeder stood out for the losing aggregation.

The line-up:

	FG.	FT.	P.F.
Phi Sigs
F.—Bergerson	4	2	4
F.—Krumm	5	2	2
F.—Peterson	0	0	2
C.—Thompson	2	3	0
G.—Keener	1	1	3
G.—Andrae	0	1	2
G.—Rickman	0	1	4
Foresters
F.—Razner	2	3	3
F.—Schroeder	3	3	2
C.—Grabowski	0	2	2
G.—Vrobel	1	0	1
G.—Klappa	0	0	2
G.—Fishleigh	0	0	4

Our apologies to:

Harry Klappa — because we forgot to mention that Harry received a captain's award for football, and, adding insult to injury, we spelt his name wrong.

Eddie Baker — because no mention was made of the fact that the basketball season just ended was the last for "Bake," that he played sweet ball in the Eau Claire game, and will really be missed next year.

Art Nygaard — for failure to mention Art's participation in "B" team games this year.

To judge by the number of guys calling for the new sweat suits, observed Coach Kotal, we ought to have a track team. Well, that suits us. (There's a pun there.)

"Duke" Warren is quite happy about this coming boxing tournament. "That's right up my alley," said the "Duke."

We understand that "Bucky" Miller is going to fight a wooden Indian.

ATHLETES RECEIVE LETTER AWARDS

The annual letter-men's banquet is at an end for another year, and all over the campus new sweaters are blossoming out like roses in the spring. The Haresfoot Club motto is "All our girls are men, yet every one's a lady." Central State girls might say "All our men are men, yet every one's an athlete."

The banquet was a huge success, from the amount of food consumed, according to Miss Rowe. The steaks were furnished by special permission of Mr. J. Peickert (no charge for advertisement.)

The affair was of a private type, no flowers being sent. The decoration followed the St. Patrick motif. After the meal had settled a bit, Ed Baker, a consistent performer at guard for the past three years, was honored by the captaincy for the past season, and Arthur Thompson was elected captain of next years five.

The athlete's carry the best wishes of the student body for another prosperous year.

in the Canadian North, and U. S. Ranger in the Rocky Mountains. He has divided his time between mountain, wood and prairie, having a thorough and profound knowledge of Indians, hunting and woodcraft. In the summer, when his professorial duties are ended, Mr. Sarett retires to his camp in the North Woods near Laona and Crandon, where he spends his time in writing and entertaining his friends. He is not a recluse there, but is neighborly and well acquainted.

Published Four Volumes

To date, four volumes of his verse have appeared, including 'The Box of God,' 'Many Many Moons,' 'Slow Smoke,' and 'Wings Against the Moon,' the latter having been off the press for only a few months. The subjects of Lew Sarett's writings are very diverse, but all smack of the outdoors. His poetry is beautiful in its lyric quality, being simple, direct, and picturesque. The stage will be arranged for a forest scene, and when the curtain rises, Mr. Sarett will appear in the picturesque garb of a North Woods lumberjack, and in this appropriate setting, will recite some of his poetry and tell of his experiences.

Committee At Work

The student committee for the entertainment is composed of Esther Kuehl, President of Sigma Tau Delta, Cedric Vig, President of Margaret Ashmun, Alta Stauffer, Margaret Morris, Laurin Gordon, and Burton Hotvedt. President Hyer and Norman E. Knutzen are assisting in the arrangements. The committee and members of Sigma Tau Delta are planning to entertain Mr. Sarett at a luncheon on Tuesday, April 5.

Admission Low

Students elsewhere have paid from one to three dollars to hear Mr. Sarett and, although the price of admission has not been definitely decided on, it is expected to be considerably less through the application of the student entertainment fund.

Chivalry is not dead at Marquette University, and as a result, Coach Jennings is minus one of his track stars as his squad trains daily for its coming indoor campaign.

Arnold "Pete" Walter, last year's captain, who is eligible for another season in the middle distance events recently objected to offensive remarks made by two unknown youths within the hearing of Marquette coeds.

NUESSE ENTERS SECOND ORATORY CONTEST FRIDAY

ter-state contest to be held April 29 will hinge upon Nuesse. The college winning the state oratorical contest in Milwaukee will be awarded the tri-state event. Iowa, Illinois and Wisconsin comprise the inter-state forensic league. Nuesse will be the final speaker.

Unless the weather man makes auto transportation impossible the college 35 piece band under Professor Peter Michelsen will accompany the orators to Milwaukee. The local band will render a stunt program Friday morning at 10 o'clock. Over 50 students and teachers are expected to motor to Milwaukee for the contest.

Contest Program

Professor Joseph Mott, secretary of the Forensic league, said the program will start with a dance in the Milwaukee college gym this evening. Friday morning at 9 o'clock, business meeting; 10 o'clock stunt program; 2 P. M., extemporaneous contest; 7:30 P. M. oratorical contest; matinee dance Friday.

Nuesse is a veteran in the oration field and is a graduate of the Sturgeon Bay High School. He represented the local college in the contest last year, is president of the Loyola club, Secretary of the Margaret Ashmun club, Treasurer of the Harlequin club and a member of the Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity. Nuesse is also a member of the college debate team.

Boyle Local Student

Boyle graduated from the local High School last year and was one of the outstanding debaters on the Point High squad. He is Treasurer of the Chi Delta Rho fraternity, a member of the Pointer staff, debating team and the Loyola club.

According to reports from Milwaukee only seven of the nine state colleges will compete in the oratorical contest. Eight will participate in the extemporaneous event, River Falls having no representative.

Extempore Speakers

The orators were listed in last week's Pointer. Following is a list of the extemporaneous speakers:

Miss Annabel Betz, Eau Claire; Ellis Evans, Oshkosh; Leo Bent, Whitewater; Jerome Trudell, La-Crosse; Louis Alderman, Milwaukee; Jaycie Crichton, Platteville; Gifford Dunbar, Superior; Marlowe Boyle, Stevens Point.

In the Extempore contest the speakers receive three topics an hour and one-half before the contest. The contestants select one and narrate on that topic in the extemporaneous event.

Alternate Speakers

Cletus Collins is the alternate in the oratorical event. Clarence Stysa is alternate in the extempore contest.

of great interest. Attorney W. F. (Pat) Collins, local historian, who is known by his pen name of Tap Snilloc, discovered that several pages had been ripped out of the gift. In an interview with The Pointer, Mrs. Clark, who is now 82 years of age, stated "I hope they treat this piece of work a little better." The missing pages have been substituted by typewritten material.

An interesting item appears in The Wisconsin Pinery for February 4, 1867. "As for Curtis Hall — (the local theater at that time). The proprietors are making a fine thing out of it—occupied with one show or another almost every evening. WHAT IS STEVENS POINT COMING TO?"

Another spicy bit draws our interest also. "Seventeen of the principal business men of Boscobel, in this state, have pledged themselves by a written bond, under $100 forfeiture, not to drink any more liquor, swear, play poker, old sledge, billiards, or other games."

SPRING SOCIAL SEASON BEGINS

Chi Delt Formal

Friday, April 1, will mark the beginning of the social activities when the Chi Delta Rho fraternity will hold its spring formal banquet and dance in Hotel Whiting. Zackie Moore and his Chicago orchestra will furnish the music. Edward Leuthold, president of the Chi Deltas, said there will be plenty of music and entertainment during the evening. The affair will be semi-formal.

Sorority Formal

On Saturday, April 9, the Omega Mu Chi sorority will give its annual spring formal at Hotel Wausau. It is a traditional affair for the Omegas to hold their spring event at Hotel Wausau. President Murilla Roberts said the Adrian orchestra of Fond du Lac will furnish the music.

College Junior Prom

The college Junior Prom will be held in the new gym Friday, April 15. Eli Rice and his "Dixie Cotton Pickers" have been engaged for this big social event. The colored orchestra will make the evening complete. President Cedric Vig has neglected to officially announce the queen but press reports have it that Miss Adeline Bellman of Fort Atkinson, also a junior, will accompany the king on the throne.

Fraternity Dance

Following the college prom the Phi Sigma Epsilon national fraternity will hold its spring formal in Hotel Whiting on Friday, April 22. Because of the popularity and applause merited by the "Knights of the Night" orchestra of Fond du Lac last year at the Phi Sigs' big event, George Maurer, president of the fraternity, said the orchestra has been contracted to furnish the music again this year. The dance will be semi-formal.

"Break" For Coeds

If any college coed finds herself sitting at home on the evening of Thursday, April 28, it will be her own fault for the Tau Gamma Beta sorority will give its spring formal on that night. The Tau Gam dance will be the last college formal of the year. President Georgiana Atwell announced that Tommie Temple and his popular Appleton orchestra will furnish the music.

OBITUARY

the advice of Dr. Steinbach, of Madison, an eminent authority on vitamins in general.

"The rats were purchased at Madison, January 13, and when they came they weighed an average of 35 to 40 grams. Every day they were fed ten grams of combined food mixture. The exact amount eaten was recorded. The rats were weighed each week before their daily meal, and this result recorded.

"After two weeks of the prescribed diet, the 'A minus' rats failed to gain in weight in proportion to the 'A plus' rat, who gained ten grams over his two unfortunate brothers.

Should Have 'Old Golds'

"'A-1' and 'A-2' began sneezing at the beginning of the third week, and they continued the sneezing and coughing combined with the other symptoms of cold until their untimely death, at the end of the fourth week, when they weighed 67 grams. The 'A plus' rat weighed 80½ grams at this time.

"The experiment proved that when foods containing vitamin A spinach, and yellow foods, and such as butter, egg yolk, oranges, leafy vegetables, are not taken into the body, the body does not gain its full weight, and diseases of the pulmonary tract result. The eyes become dull and the fur or hair ragged."

"A" In Good Health

At present 'A' is still living and is in perfect health. He weighs 132½ grams and is exceptionally active. He lives in the room previously used by Mr. Mott, patiently awaiting the time when his mistress shall feed him the 'A minus' diet, when he has attained his full growth. When he has attained the symptoms of the lack of the vitamin, it shall be fed to him to make him again regain his health.

'A' is willing to welcome any visitors who chance by while he is receiving his daily care. He will welcome you by gazing upon you with his shiny pink eyes, and wiggling his long white moustache.

The March Hares

At Nelson Hall are Miss Hussey, Mr. Craig, Amy Boeyink, Florence Hanson, Marian Howard, Thyra Iverson, Mary Kosovec, Olga Leonardson, Dorothy Lewis, Irene Miller, Mildred Osinga, Neva Redeman, Murilla Roberts, and Kathryn Slowey. You remember the noise they made and the gay tunes they sang at the All-Nelson Hall birthday party we had in January?

Thursday evening, March 10, the Recreation Room was the scene of the college football-basketball banquet. The boys and the Athletic Committee presented Miss Rowe with a beautiful flowering plant in appreciation for her part in putting the affair "across".

The Misses Helen Berfield, Agnes Spratler, and Winifred Koske spent the week-end in Milwaukee visiting friends and relatives.

"Bob" Lindow and "Mibbs" Roberts were anxious spectators at the exciting tournament games held at Wisconsin Rapids this week.

Fern Pedrick motored to her home in Ripon with Miss Coleman.

Last Friday evening Table II enjoyed the special privilege of preparing and partaking of a supper and social evening at the Red Cross cottage on Normal Avenue. Miss Eva Seen was the guest of honor.

"Jo" Schroeder of Wausau dropped in for a visit Sunday.

We hope Central State gets ahead in a big way at Milwaukee this week. Good luck, Nuesse and Boyle and all our musicians!!!

BASKETBALL and football teams appear before the frenzied sport fans season after season and provide thrilling spectacles for the interested followers. Win or lose, — the athlete always receives a certain amount of glory and identification for his physical abilities. He is the receiver of all his due publicity and is often highly touted for his willingness to "do-or-die for his Alma Mater." Besides all the lime-light the athlete experiences the joy of physical combat that every boy would gladly partake in if time and physical make-up permitted. Often his participation means injury, but injury and hard knocks make him only a greater hero.

IT takes more than what is seen on the athletic field to produce and maintain a smooth athletic machine. Sometimes we wonder if this feature is not too much subordinated in our present awe of the hero-athlete. Besides the worries of coaching we have the monotonous tasks of management which are so necessary to the athlete. Without the managers our teams would be but unorganized mobs. We wonder if our student athletic managers receive all their just credit?

NIGHT after night they plod through the task of taping, bandaging and rubbing the squad. In their free periods they perform countless errands and chores around the athletic office. They have all the responsibility of valuable equipment and an orderly store room. From observation they are often the butt of contempt and abuse from the more spectacular and gifted collegiate gladiator.

CERTAINLY these student managers merit whatever reward may be presented to them after their faithful service. We are glad to see that the two local student managers have received a fitting but distinguishing award with the other members of the football and basketball machine.

AN old alumnus of Bowdoin has mailed a circular to Professor E. T. Smith which concerns a matter of college athletics at his Alma Mater. The concluding paragraphs contain an excellent philosophy.

"I NOW come to the point which is my main purpose in addressing to the students of my Alma Mater this Open Letter. It is no disaster to lose a game. It is a misfortune, but not a calamity, to have a bad season. But it is a calamity for the undergraduates of an old and honorable institution, whose sons have written their names large on the honor roll of the nation, to drift into a state of mind that is reflected in the philosophy of "peace without victory." Life is a stiff game. This old world is swift and hard to beat. You cannot win out in a competitive order of things on a diet of defeatism. In the serene and yellow years, the psychology that accepts a defeat philosophically is understandable and perhaps natural; but in youth it is abnormal."

"Have no illusions, young men, about the Russian mirage, or any of its pink counterparts! Before long you will all be out on your uppers looking for jobs; and a little later on you will be kept tolerably busy trying to hold them down. You and your sons and your grandsons, from generation unto generation, are going to continue to live in a competitive world. And it is good. We perfect ourselves by striving."

"A hard philosophy, you say? The philosophy of Wall Street, and the steel mills and the sweat shops? Yes. And the philosophy, too, of Saint Paul and Savonarola and John Wesley and Abraham Lincoln and General Booth and Cardinal Mercier. It is the philosophy of life! You cannot get away from it; and this would be a soft, flat, stale, and utterly uninteresting world if we ever did get away from it."

"Acquire the winning psychology, young men! And be not over-confident of the alluring catch-words, economic short-cuts, and political cure-alls that may be dangled before your eyes by well-meaning idealists, utopians, and experimenters. Read your history and apply the test of experience. All human wisdom did not suddenly spring into being in the opening decades of the twentieth century. Take note of the wise warning of Edmund Burke, that "No difficulties exist in what never has been tried." And bear in mind the kindly injunction of Bowdoin's most distinguished and best-beloved alumnus, given on the 50th anniversary of his immortal class."

"Let him not boast who puts his armor on
 As he who puts his off, the battle done."

SUGGESTS ACTION ON IRIS

Dear Editor:

I believe that you have used foresight in suggesting that the Iris be paid for out of our tuition fee by increasing the amount paid with $1.50 or more. I hope that we have quick, definite action on this excellent suggestion made in The Pointer.

FOR FAIR PLAY

A PADLOCK — AND NOT FROM VOLSTEAD

"WE never miss the water until the well runs dry." It has been my privilege, as a student of C. S. T. C. to enjoy the advantages which the men's recreation room offers. As an observer, I could hardly fail to notice the amount of destruction a few of "the boys" have been able to create during the past semester.

At least three of the chairs have been reduced to mere stools. What once might have been a very serviceable davenport, now retains the semblance of mattress which had been struck by a miniature cyclone. Two or three boys were having a splendid time throwing checkers at each other, and anybody else that the stray missiles happened to strike. Another chap seemed to have mistaken one of the tables for a foot stool, while still another lad was having a glorious pastime, in his efforts to obtain as many different stations permitted with one twist of the dial. I sincerely doubt that he even stopped to consider that the other chaps who were attempting to keep their eyes to various books, might be trying to study.

After surveying this scene for approximately ten minutes, a certain element of doubt began to creep into my mind. — Were these tactics part of the curriculum which denoted the right to be called college students? My conception of that term must have been decidedly misconstrued. Perhaps that was the reason why somebody removed the sign above the door — "Men's Lounge."

The expenses for the replacement of articles which these "play-boys" have so carelessly ruined, can not be paid for with buttons. Yet, if you feel ambitious, I would suggest that you try to collect as much as twenty five cents from these self same persons, for what is termed as dues.

Unless immediate action is taken on the part of those students who are capable of realizing the necessity of concentrated effort, there is but one alternative. The room will have to be locked. Perhaps such action would be more than justifiable. It might mean a decided loss of sleep for some, it would necessitate the use of the halls for discussions on the abilities of various teams, the musical education of our stronger sex would show deficiencies, if you do not contend that is already the case, and for those who have succeeded in concentrating on educational matter, well, the library contains some very nice straight-back hardwood chairs. Does C. S. T. C. lack enough student spirit to cooperate on this insignificant project? I wonder?

—HENRY GEORGE — "I AM FOR MEN."

ALUMNI NOTES PLEASE OLD GRADUATE

COMMENTS have been received from various alumni members of the local college relative to the "Alumni Notes" that appear in the weekly issues of the Pointer. Here's one from Dr. W. N. Hedback of Cumberland, Wis., an 1898 graduate.

"Much pleased to get Feb. 25 copy of the Pointer as it prints present condition of my class. If a previous copy contains whereabouts of other 1898 graduates, I want it at any price. I am enclosing coin for same.

"If my record is wanted, say so. I was much pleased to read of Miss Ashmun as I recall her gifted pen since school days." Best wishes,
