FREE TICKETS TO LOCAL SHOW

Some students are still wondering just who the free Fox theatre winners were in the last issue of the Pointer. Well the first line with all those Geeees in it represented one of our attractive comics, Lois Genevieve Richards. Kenneth Schlytt of Wittenberg was the second winner, and Carolyn Rolfsen won the third pass.

If you can correctly spell your name from any one of the three lines below report to the Pointer Editor for a complimentary pass to the local Fox theatre. The passes may be used on any night.

PROBLEM SOLVED

Students will find their Pointers in the halls at 8 o'clock on Thursday mornings hereafter. President Hyer has given permission to distribute the issues at this time to avoid the after assembly rushes. This method of distribution will continue as long as student interest in the paper does not interfere with classroom discussions or assembly programs.
WE'RE LEFT IN A QUANDARY OVER THE WHITewater-EAU CLAIRE PROTESTS

We are not challenging the sincerity or honesty of the Teachers Colleges Athletic Board in its recent decision upholding the White-water and Eau Claire protests — but after carefully analyzing the situation neither can we say that we are in true accord with their action.

Members of the board admit that conference rules regarding the point which concerned Bernard Garber's eligibility are not specific. Only five of the ten members of the board cast a vote on the alleged violation committed by the Point. Those who did vote acted on "technicalities" only because no rules which covered this particular case could be found in the guide book.

River Falls Teachers College has quarters and no semesters. The board last year agreed that any athlete who had successfully completed two quarters at River Falls or one quarter, a summer term and part of another quarter, in all an equivalent of 18 weeks, would be eligible for athletic competition. Stevens Point acted on this assumption.

Not until Stevens Point had defeated the southern college did White-water protest the game. After White-water had notified Mr. Edgar Doudna, secretary of the board of regents, that there was a possibility of protest, Mr. Fred J. Schmeckle, local board member, drove to Madison. Mr. Doudna and Mr. Schmeckle talked over the phone with Mr. Fischer, Conference representative of White-water. At that time Mr. Fischer assured both Doudna and Schmeckle that there would be no protest.

On the following week we played Eau Claire as our Homecoming game. Prior to the game Mr. Schmeckle phoned Mr. A. J. Fox, Eau Claire conference member and present secretary of the athletic conference, and told him of his intention to protest Garber's eligibility. Mr. Fox assured Mr. Schmeckle that it would be quite all right to use Garber in the Eau Claire Game. After we defeated Eau Claire, Fox protested.

We cannot understand the actions of Mr. Fox. If he had not consented, Garber would not have been permitted to play in the face of an eligibility protest. We know that Garber is not a member of the White-water. We feel that Mr. Fox has shown a very unsportsmanlike attitude and that he has been very unfair to Central College.

Not belittling Garber in the least, but both Whittewater and Eau Claire fans have admitted that Stevens Point would have defeated their respective teams without the services of our protested player. Local Athletic Committee members would never have allowed Garber to participate in any conference game had they thought that there was the slightest opportunity of an eligibility question to arise.

Local school officials and Coach Eddie Kotal have taken the decision with no ill feelings toward anyone. Nevertheless it's a hard pill to swallow.

Written rules failed to cover the point involved — and only half the board members, by a verbal supplement to the rules, acted upon the matter.

Undoubtedly the board members are just as disappointed that this matter had to occur as we are. Nevertheless their action has left us in a quandary.

Samuel H. Blute is the only one who was afraid to say anything about it. The Professor has been worried . . . awfully worried. Someone in his home town railroaded him into betting on Hoover. If Hoover loses poor Sam will be the com- pelled to chauffeur his friend in a wheelbarrow down Plainfield's main street with the whole town looking on. We're going to press now and the election returns which spell Sam's fate will be known when you read this.

Wend says he'll walk to Plainfield to see the parade if Hoover loses. Poor Sam, poor Sam . . .

A Letter From Oshkosh
State Teachers College
Oshkosh, Wis.
Nov. 1, 1932

President F. S. Hyer
Central States Teachers College
Stevens Point, Wisconsin

My dear President Hyer:

I am writing to thank you for the very courteous treatment which we received at Stevens Point. I have always been happy over this interchange of courtesies which resulted in the visiting delegation being treated to coffee and doughnuts. It was never better appreciated than it was following the game on Saturday. We hadn't expected this second installment. It is warm and cheer us for the trip home.

Please extend to your teachers and students our congratulations. We shall hope to re-experience this kind next year.

I wish also to congratulate you on your emphatic victory. While we like to win, we can take a defeat. I do not know when I have watched a more interesting contest. In fairness to our team, it did look as though we might win during the second half, but our hopes were glimmering after the touchdown and the safety. The outcome of the game however is only part of the relationship. We really enjoyed the fire school spirit and the interchange courtesy.

Cordially yours,

F. M. KARNES

(Director of Industrial Education)

"FROM THE JANITOR'S DUSTPAN"

I've been so busy with my job of cleaning up this place I found I had to go and rob another town. I then filled my pockets with two copies of 'The Pointer', and six paragraphs of the week's news.

The editor stood at the peary gate, His face was worn and odd; He meekly asked the man of fate Admission to the fold.

What have you done?" St. Peter asked.

"To seek admission here!" said I.

"Oh I ran a college paper On earth for a couple years," The gatekeeper opened sharply As Peter touched the bell. "Come in," he said, "and take a rest You've had enough of hell!"

— JOHN THE JANITOR, with apologies to Stontious

CROCKER'S CRACKS

Two literary minded students kidnapped Shakespeare the other night and took him for an airing. Soocrates, too, might have followed had not the Engineer been otherwise minded. There was some little fuss in the town, I understand, but one of the students managed to escape with Shakespeare under his arm. He got cold feet later on, however, and unceremoniously propped his charge on the front lawn of 1041 Normal Avenue. When interview-d later concerning his little trip into the outside world, Shakespeare said, "Nertz!"

Tom Smith went to Chicago last week-end and while there he was nipped for $50 for seats to the new musical comedy "Of Thee I Sing". This is fair warning... don't let him start telling you about it...

Did you hear about the burping contest three of the colleges most attractive coeds staged over hambur-ger and onions at the Kampus Kitchen Monday evening? Our sorority beauties are becoming more accomplished in every way.

Mr. Evans in Bio. Sci.

"Let's see now... Where was I? Oh, yes, halfway through the digestive tract!"

Harry Richman had his tonsils removed the other day and is compelled to speak with a soft, cultured voice to prevent a hem- orrage occurring. He says that he's lost in his voice he has made up with the loudness of his new burnt-orange corduroy trousers. They fairly yowl! Skinner says they're "just dears" though, so that makes everything all right.

The shades of night were falling for Erre when from this earth a freshman passed Ere they laid him in the ground They opened up his head and found... an Excelsior!

According to a poll at the University of California recently fully two-thirds of the campus have never been kissed. This was not counting kisses by relatives. Who says college stu- dents do nothing but neck? But of course, C. S. T. C. is not the U of Cal. . . . maybe things would be a lot different here. Who wants to talk to the campus reporter with the purpose of solving this weighty question?

Mr. O'Brien, director of the Madness Press, says that St. Croix has a new daily. The name is "The Arrow of the North".
Pointers Down Oshkosh, 11-0, In Hard-Fought Rivalry Title

Playing the football of which they are really capable, Coach Kotal's gridders downed the strong Oshkosh aggregation Saturday, Oct. 29, for their first official conference win, 11 to 0.

Oshkosh Favored

Oshkosh, fresh from a win over Platteville, was favored to trim the locals, but the game upset the dope. A strong wind carressing down from the north gave the team with the wind at it's back a tremendous advantage. This was the case for Oshkosh in the first quarter, and they kept the play deep in Point territory.

In the second quarter, however, with Becker kicking with the wind the locals came back to threaten the Oshkosh goal line. When the running attack was stopped, Warren Becker dropped back and made a "honey" of a place kick from the 35 yard line. The kick, made from a difficult angle, gave the Kotalmen a three point margin which would have won the game alone.

Locals Open Up

The local attack opened up in the third quarter and a series of runs and passes culminated in Anderson's going over for a touchdown. "Andy" substituted for Hinkle. The try for an extra point failed. An Oshkosh safety provided the last two points for an 11 to 0 victory.

Sam's Sport Shorts

Almost any columnist can predict wins and losses fairly accurately, but when they forecast ties! That's something to write home about — and that's just what this column did in the Wisconsin-Oshkosh game two weeks ago. We don't want to brag... not much!

Anyhow, this is how it looks for next Saturday:

Stevens Point to defeat Stout Superior to beat Milwaukee River Falls to beat Eau Claire Whitewater to trim Oshkosh

The Oshkosh "Advance" reported that the Oshkosh gridders would spoil Coach Kotal's disposition. On the contrary, the game brought his first smile in weeks.

We could say a lot about the decision of the Athletic Council in regard to the eligibility of Garber.

Consider it said.

The game with Oshkosh was a downer, constant penalties and official brain storms marring a hard fought battle.

Speaking of comparative scores: Whitewater, a team defeated by the Point 3 to 0, defeated St. Norbert two weeks ago, 25 to 0. And then the Kotalmen come home on the short end of a 13 to 12 score.

many more first downs, and gaining many more yards. The last minute breaks of the game were enough, however, to undo all that.

SIGMA TAU DELTA INITIATES PLEDGES
The Psi Beta Chapter of Sigma Tau Delta held its meeting for the purpose of initiating new members in the Recreation Room at Nelson Hall on Monday evening. A banquet-dinner, under the direction of Miss Row, was served to more than thirty members and guests. At the table each pledge gave a toast to the organization and its principles. Formal initiation was held later in the evening for Ethelyn Baerwald, Cletus Collins, Patricia Cowan, Carolyn Hefner, Ruthie McLaren, Agnes Madson, Celestine Nuesse, Vera Scheffner, Sigrid Stark, and Clarence Styza.

At the business session which followed plans were discussed relative to the bringing of a prominent literary character to Central State, such as has been done for the past two years. In 1930 Dr. Rollo W. Brown was on our campus for three days. Students re-enact with enjoyment the appearance of Lew Saretz, woodeen poet last year. Announcement will be made later as to who will appear this year at C. S. T. C.

GREEK DANCING PARTY
Members and their guests were entertained at the Inter Fraternity-Sorority dancing party in the new gymnasium on the evening of Tuesday, November 1. Music was furnished by Irving Kutt and his Florida Entertainers. Mr. and Mrs. Kotal, Mr. and Mrs. Rightsell, Miss Brown, and Miss Seen were guests of the Greeks. The party was the first of its kind ever held at this school, but the success of the affair indicates that there will be more Halloween decorations and to the affair.

BLOC MEETS TONIGHT
“Free-Will versus Determinism” will be the subject of discussion at the meeting of the Bloc Club tonight. The group will hold its session at the home of Marlowe Boyle, 1314 Clark street. Professor Frank N. Spindler will be the guest speaker.

KNOTZEN ADDRESSES HARLEQUIN MEMBERS
At a meeting of the Harlequin Club held last Monday night, Mr. Knotzen delivered an address in which he suggested that the organization sponsor a high school dramatic contest to include several high schools in the immediate vicinity of Stevens Point. The matter is being given consideration. Possible plays were also discussed.

Two students have been initiated into the club recently. The new members, Mrs. Kay Van Buskirk and Miss Bernita Danielson, have enivable dramatic records. It may interest local students to know that Mrs. Van Buskirk was formerly affiliated with Harry Culperton, and sang the part of Hansel in “Hansel and Gretel.” Miss Danielson is a graduate of Lawrence College, where she was a member of the Sunset Players, and has been a successful dramatic coach in High Schools.

"Junior Pointer"
New School Paper

A "Junior Pointer", edited by Kenneth Thompson and issued by the Junior High School department of the Training School, was on sale in the Training School corridors last week.

The issue is a very clever one, with departmental and class news predominating. The art work is superior to that found in most college papers, and the humor is original, to say the least.

A semester's subscription to the "Junior Pointer" costs twenty five cents, while individual issues are sold for five cents.
