LOUD SPEAKERS PLANNED FOR NEW GRIDIRON

Students Will Occupy North Sec-tion Of Bleachers; Program Starts At 1:30 P. M.

Plenty of pep and enthusiasm will be exploded here this weekend when the fuse to Central State Teachers College's huge de-dication and homecoming firecracker is ignited.

Assembly Tomorrow

A student assembly tomorrow morning will start things. To-morrow night a snake dance and pep meeting is slated. Saturday morning the huge parade will undoubtedly daze alumni and townspeople. Practically every old Ford and mule in Portage county has been chartered by some or-ganization to perform in the depression march downtown.

Occupy North Bleachers

Students are asked to occupy the northern section of the bleachers on the new athletic field Saturday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. The band will march onto the field at that time. The official dedication will be held sharply at 1:45, followed by the address of our guest speaker.

The band, President Hyer, who will be chairman of the afternoon activities, and the guest speaker will occupy the band stand. Press agents will also have a booth on the new elevated stand.

Install Loud Speakers

According to present plans loud speakers will be stationed at regular intervals along the field. The dedication speech and play by play accounts of the game will be broadcast through the amplifiers. This will enable all fans to follow the game by players. If the loud speaker experiment is successful, amplifiers will be used on the local field throughout the season.

ASSEMBLY There will be a very im-portant student assembly to-morrow morning (Friday) at 11 o'clock. All students report to the auditorium promptly.

Davidson To Enjoy Parade From Window

Illness isn't going to prevent our faculty member, Joseph M. Davidson, from seeing our big homecoming parade Saturday morning. Mr. Davidson, who has been seriously ill for the past several months, has improved sufficiently to sit up in bed and will enjoy the program from his bedroom window.

Charles C. Evans, chairman of outdoor activities, has arranged to have our "depression" floats promenade down Clark Street and pass the home of our professor at 1123 Clark Street.

Rumors have it that "John the Janitor" will be mounted on Portage County's only jackass. Fords with births dating back to 1908 and other feature freaks will be 'free-wheeling' along with a twomile parade.

Will Visit Classes And Dine At Nelson Hall; Program And Reception In Afternoon

Tomorrow the Primary Department, under the direction of Miss Sue Colman, will sponsor an entirely new feature to be known as "Parents Day." Mary Lou Bow-ers is general chairman.

To Visit Classes

Parents of the students in the Primary Department will arrive Friday morning. They will register and be given programs of the day's events. The remainder of the morning will be spent in visiting classes and seeing the school. At noon they will be taken to Nelson Hall for luncheon.

Welcome By Hyer

A program will be given in the assembly at three o'clock. Mr. Hyer will welcome the parents in behalf of the school. Miss Colman will then speak for the Pri-mary Department. Mr. Knutzen will sing a few selections, and the band will play.

At four o'clock an informal reception will be held in the (Continued on page 4, col. 1)

CLASS OFFICERS TO BE ELECT NEXT THURSDAY

Senior And Junior Selections Expected To Be Close; Frosh Number 364

Election of class officers will be held next Thursday morning, Oct. 20, at 11 o'clock after the regular assembly hour. Candidates for the respective offices are expected to encounter bitter opposition because of the increased enrollment here this year.

Stiff Elections Expected

Senior and Junior officers are particularly sure to encounter stiff competition because of the distinction and significance attached to the respective offices.

Members of the Senior class will assemble in Mr. Smith's room on the second floor to elect their officers. There are 69 students in the upper classmen group.

Junior Prom King

The Juniors will convene in Mr. Watson's room on the first floor to select their leaders. The Junior President automatically becomes the Junior Prom King which makes this office a coveted one. Cedric Vig was last year's Prom King. Adeline Bellman was his Queen. The Junior membership totals 84.

The Sophomores will meet in Mr. Neale's rural assembly room on the third floor to choose their officers. There are 235 members in this group.

Large "Frosh" Class

The Freshman Class, which is the largest in the history of the college with 364 students, will congregate in the auditorium.

If you haven't already been tagged for a purple and gold chrysanthemum you will be — so keep a spare dime in your pocket or purse. Wear them at the homecoming parade and game.

MORE ACTION LESS WORDS

Just to wish our Alumni an old fashioned "welcome" is sufficient. Our pep, enthusiasm and friendliness should do the rest.

SOMETHING NEW AND DIFFERENT

Tomorrow the students of the Primary department are holding their first annual "Parents Day" in the local college. Parents of the primary students have been invited to our college for the day. In the morning the visitors will observe their children's classes. A luncheon awaits them in Nelson Hall at noon. An assembly and reception have been arranged for them in the afternoon.

Miss Susan Colman and her Primary department have been putting in long hours preparing for tomorrow's feat. This is the first time an undertaking of this nature has been attempted here. It will undoubtedly be a marked success. Parents are interested in the work their children are doing. Tomorrow's program will give parents some idea of the work involved in the daily routine of the average collegiate student.

Miss Colman and her department have established a precedent which will reflect favorably upon the college and the primary department.

ECONOMICS CLASSES TO SPONSOR CAMPAIGN

Last year Stevens Point was the proud possessor of an orator and oration that resulted in a state and inter-state championship. The text of Celestine Nuesse's masterpiece was a challenge to youth and a biting criticism of the college students, their lack of training for public life and the absence of opinions on current issues.

This year finds the college student in a different mood. The economic situation and political turmoil has had an astounding effect on student thought. Economics classes are more than places to keep warm and out of the way; an election means as much as a world series; study groups spring up voluntarily from the campus; editorial pages take on the supremacy once held by the comic page; and last of all, the college is going to have its own political campaign.

This colorful event will take place October 28, and will be sponsored by social science classes under the direction of Prof. Norman E. Knutzen. The campaign will go on all day after initial speeches have been made in assembly. Voting will be similar to the regular precinct method, with booths outside of the auditorium that will be open until 5 p. m. Students will represent the four political leaders, Kohler, Schmedeman, Hoover and Roosevelt and will present well prepared and representative speeches in behalf of their party nominees. These students are working in close contact with the respective campaigns in order to present vote-telling material. The band is expected to contribute to the program and create a convention atmosphere.

The college election will mean more than a novelty. It will be a barometer of student interest. Politicians are anxious to have favorable results from this election for their respective parties in order to help create the valuable pre-election "band-wagon" in this community.

Campus dopesters are wondering what the summer months have done to student opinion. The Pointer straw vote conducted last spring gave Roosevelt 154 and Hoover 91 while La Follette defeated Kohler 150 to 96. On this phase of the vote alone was there any evidence of consistency, dead men and ineligibles receiving votes for other nominations. The question of whether the previous Progressive majority has disintegrated or will build a surprising victory for Schmedeman is one that is prime. The Kohler gains in the state may prevent such an occurrence if student opinion is the same as public prevent such an occurrence if student opinion is the same as public opinion. Doctor Evans will conduct a clinic from now until October 8 for people suffering from bad campaign cigars distributed by the campus politicians. NEW ATHLETIC FIELD SCENE OF HOME GAME

Coach Zorn Invades Old School; Homecoming Game Goal Of Eau Claire Squad

Next Saturday afternoon, after the bands have finished playing, and the ceremonies of dedication are over, a whistle will blow, and two teams will meet in the first home game of the Point schedule, and the first game to be played on the new athletic field.

Victory Possible

Eau Claire will oppose the Pointers in this Homecoming tilt, and at last it looks as if this great occasion can really be celebrated with a victory.

Although Coach Zorn's aggregation hasn't shown much strength this year, no conference team can be considered beaten till the last whistle is blown. Last year we tied the Zornmen on a sloppy field to spoil their Homecoming, and they'll be aching to do the same for us.

Squad In Shape

Coach Kotal's gridders came Marshfield1 1 0 1.000 Rhinelander1 0 2 .333 out of the Whitewater fray in tiptop shape, and should be "in the pink" for Eau Claire. Skull Tomahawk003 practise and active scrimmaging will be in order for the balance of the week, Coach intimated.

The work of the coaching staff, including the part time help of Michaeleske and Nash, Packer gridders, is beginning to be evidenced in the work of the line, 20 (non-conference). which is charging faster and harder.

There will be little rest in the "old town" this week-end for college students and alumni. Football fans are expected to tax our new athletic field to capacity Saturday afternoon. Of course, we're not the sort to pull the old "I told you so" but last week the Shorter didn't miss a guess. Unusual, but true.

A pechiar thing — no home team won' in last week's games. Whitewater, Oshkosh, Platteville and Stout all lost on their home fields. Let's hope it doesn't remain the rule.

Warren Becker, Point half-back, has a twin brother, Wayland Becker, who is starring at end for Marquette. "Just sort of runs in the family", says Warren.

The Whitewater "Royal Purple" predicting grid scores last week gave Whitewater, 13 — Stevens Point, 0. As Mr. Steiner is wont to say, "The flowers that bloom in the spring, tra-la, have nothing to do with the case."

To judge by last week's results Superior, La Crosse, and Milwaukee look to be the class of the conference. Superior was impressive in beating Aberdeen, 7 to 0.

And last week Army beat Carleton, 57 to 0. Considering that to know where we stand.

Warren Becker's educated toe booted the Pointers to victory over Whitewater in the opening game of the conference season at Whitewater last Saturday afternoon.

Score Is Deceiving

The score of 3 to 0 does not in any way indicate the comparative strength of the two teams. The ball was in Whitewater territory from the start of the game, only a determined and sometimes inspired defence by the Whitewater line holding down a larger score.

Newspapers report the Point team to have shown its best attack in recent years in scoring 14 first downs to 4 for the southern athletes. A fast ground game and a vicious aerial attack featured the Pointer's style of play.

Lack Of "Punch"

The lack of scoring punch, however, was evident in the local's failure to score after working the ball within the enemy's five yard line four times. Once the Kotalmen fumbled, once they were penalized, and twice that Whitewater line held and took the ball on downs.

Great Line Play

The feature of the game was the play of Becker in the Point backfield, the passing combination of Becker to Bishop, and the great line play of both teams. Christenson, Garber, and Miller stood out for the locals, while Mundt and Patrick were making it interesting on the other side of

Members of the Home Eco-nomics Club were entertained at the Cottages, Monday evening, October 10th. It was the first social meeting of the year, and it enabled the new H. Catholic Students Meet

Every Catholic student is encouraged to attend the first official meeting of the Loyola club this year. The meeting will be held in the Rural Assembly Room, Thursday, October 13th, at 7:30 P. M. A very interesting program has been worked out, and Miss Roach wishes to have the Rural Assembly room filled.

Students will be kept busy with their social affairs this week-end. Students, get your datebooks out and mark these down so you won't miss any of them. Michelson Directs Band

General sessions opened at 8:15 with a concert by a 98 piece band directed by professor Peter J. Michelsen. The band was made up of a select group of players chosen from high school bands of Central Wisconsin. The band, under the direction of Mr. Michelson, gave another concert before the evening session of the Association.

The next session of the association will be held in Stevens Point in 1933.

WISCONSIN ENROLLMENT

According to figures released by the University of Wisconsin last Wednesday, enrollment this year is 7,600, this figure representing a drop of over 9 per cent from that of the previous year. Yet our own college shows an enrollment increase of over 20 per cent. Can you explain this?
