SCRIBNER AND EDICK REIGN AT MARDI-GRAS

Olga Wolfram, Alice Curtis, Beatrice James and Harold
Reichert Win Costume
Prizes

Net profit from the Mardi-Gras which was held in the college Tuesday afternoon and evening will exceed $175. This money is used to help finance the publication of the college yearbook, the "Iris".

Only Few Wear Costumes

William Scribner and Bernice Edick were elected king and queen of the carnival dance and led the costume parade to the tune of Harold Stevens' orchestra. The gay colors which decorated the gym added life to the party. Only a comparatively few appeared in costume.

Costume Prize Winners

Olga Wolfram and Alice Curtis were awarded first prize for the best costumed couple. Beatrice James was chosen the best robed young lady and Harold Reichert walked off with the gent's prize.

A matinee dance in the old gym opened the Mardi-Gras. The auditorium was almost filled for the main show in the evening. Faculty members and students who presented the 1932 revue gave their audience plenty of laughs.

College Quint To Play Packers Here Monday

Stevens Point basketball fans will have their last opportunity to see the champion college team in action next Monday night at 8 o'clock in the new gym when the Green Bay Packers will oppose the undefeated quint.

Coach "Eddie" Kotal said, "We're going to use the money from this game to help buy white sweaters and gold basketballs for the boys. I know the students and town will back us". Students will be admitted for 25 cents, townspeople 40 cents.

Michalski, Herber, Engleman, Grove and Rose will be among the national pro-stars on the Packer team to perform here Monday night.

Marquette University and other leading colleges have recently communicated with the local athletic board for cage games. To date no action has been taken.

Surprise Attack Downs Foe Before 5,000 Howling Fans

Flashing a rapid-fire passing attack and an air-tight defense Coach Kotal's Pointers climaxed the most successful season in the history of the school by defeating the one and only "Doc" Meanwell's University of Wisconsin Badgers, 28 to 24, in the Field House at Wisconsin Rapids Monday night.

Wrong Demonstration

The result came as a drastic surprise to the capacity crowd packed in the gym, who had come to merely see the University team give an exhibition of basketball playing. The program was wrong. It was Eddie Kotal and his Pointers who gave the demonstration, and how they did it!

First blood was drawn by the Pointers after about two minutes of play, when after some smooth passing, Guy Krumm flicked in one of his famous long ones. The crowd took that as a piece of luck, but when the Kotalmen came right back and controlled the ball the greater part of the time and got the tip-off consistently, they began to realize they were seeing a battle.

Farewell Appearance

Jumping against the giant Hamann and the lanky Knake, Captain Art Thompson controlled the tip-off consistently. It was Art's last home game, and he made it a royal farewell.

Beside hitting the hoop for two baskets "Tommy" got in on every play. Meanwell could have used him Monday night. Gregory and Marsh put on the prettiest exhibition of guarding ever seen by your writer. Facing the Meanwell short pass attack for the game the first time, they held the basketekers from the Big Ten to eight field goals. "Greg" was sent out of the game on personals in the second half, but every foul would have meant a basket to Wisconsin otherwise.

NOLAN GREGORY

Favors Bad Ankle

"Jug" Marsh, favoring a bad ankle injured in the Stout game, was the coolest man on the Lincoln Field House floor. He broke through for two pretty buckets and played a beautiful floor game.

"Dead-eye" Krumm and "Lar-ruping Larry" Bishop provided the offensive punch for the local quintet. Larry, once weakest on the team on free throws, dropped in three to lead his mates in this department, and scored on two spectacular baskets. Guy came through with four goals to lead either team in basket shooting, and played his finest floor game of the year. He was taken out, completely worn out, late in the second half.

Reserves Hold Lead

Bader, Omholt, and Eckerson got in the game for the Point, and their performance testified to the reserve strength of the Kotalmen. The Badgers kept their first string line-up intact all through the game, substituting only Knake for McDonald.

Wisconsin presented the smoothest attack seen in Central Wisconsin this or any other year. Their passing game was easy and fast, and if the Badgers had the shooting eye of our lads, the result would have been different. Young "Cubby" Poser was the only consistent shot on the Wisconsin team, leading both teams in scoring with ten points.

Tied At Half

At the half, the score was tied, 14 to 14, and Point rooters were elated that the boys had held them as long as they did. But when the game went into the second half and the Pointers not only held on, but went far in the lead, the crowd went crazy. In the second half we scored fourteen points to eight for Wisconsin.

No Alibi

Wisconsin may alibi the result

"DOC" MEANWELL LAUDS KOTALMEN

News that Stevens Point defeated "Doc" Meanwell's crack University of Wisconsin basketball team has spread for miles around the past three days. Every metropolitan newspaper in this area carried as its headlines details of how Eddie Kotal's small town college team thrilled 5,000 fans at Wisconsin Rapids last Monday night by upsetting the well favored Big Ten quint.

EDDIE KOTAL

Thousands of dollars invested into advertising space couldn't promote more publicity for the local college and the city of Stevens Point than that one victory over Madison.

True it is that Stevens Point only received some odd $250 as its share of the gate receipts. Madison walked off with about $1,300 and the Rapids got the balance.

However the admiration of the 5,000 spectators, the thrill that was afforded our cagers in competing against a Big Ten team, the hosts of friends that Kotal and his players have gained as a result of their perfect and clean cut demonstration of basketball — all these factors we believe, greatly outweigh dollars and cents.

It isn't necessary to comment on Kotal or his players. But picture yourself in their positions that night, fully realizing that thousands of basketball enthusiasts had packed the house just to see how you fared with Big Ten material. It was a nervous strain. Kotal and his cagers are riding on the wave of popularity now. The many telegrams of congratulations that are pouring in daily prove that. But who denies that they are deserving of it?

Had Madison trimmed the Pointers by a decisive score like many had expected, the Kotalmen would have been the target for many a boo.

Many of the conference coaches witnessed the game. We hope they remember it in making their all conference selections. After the game "Doc" Meanwell said to Kotal, "You have a nice ball team, 'Eddie', and you outplayed us tonight". Commenting on the work of Nolan Gregory, Meanwell said, "I could use that young man".

We aren't intimating that the local college has a better quintet than Wisconsin, but we do aver that the Kotalmen gamely outfought "Doc's" squad.

Who Ruined Spruce?

$5 To One Who Knows

A $5 reward for information leading to the discovery of the person who deliberately broke the tip off of the blue spruce on the front campus last Friday night is being offered by Mr. Fred J. Schmeckle.

The attractive evergreen was planted last spring by the 1932 graduating class as a dedication. The cost of the spruce is estimated at $25.

Chicago Art Theatre

Players Here Tuesday

Next Tuesday evening the renowned Chicago Art Theatre company will present a play in the college auditorium at 8 o'clock.

At the summer session last July these same players presented "The Silver Cord". Students will be admitted by their activity tickets. Townspeople having entertainment tickets are also invited.

BROADCAST

Oshkosh Displays Nature In The Raw

Dear Editor:

In Saturday's Journal, our friend, the Sports-Editor, criticized our college spirit as follows: "Even with a winning team on the floor, students at the State Teachers College fail to get up enough enthusiasm to give their team the support to which it is entitled." We are not taking exception to the criticism which we know was given in a friendly way. As students we are proud of our fine basketball team and we want them to know that we are back of them as a united student body. However, we know that the members of the team want us to be good sportsmen and they expect us to be decently courteous to the visiting teams from our sister colleges.

The Sports Writer was at the game at Oshkosh Saturday evening and we hope he appreciated the difference between the spirit which prevails with us and the spirit manifested by the Oshkosh crowd Saturday night. We are proud of the fact that we here at Stevens Point are decent in our conduct toward visiting teams. Courtesy was entirely lacking at Oshkosh. The booing, jeering, and fouling were all on the same level. We make it a rule here to receive the visiting team with the same cheers that we receive our own team when they come up on the floor, and we give credit to our opponents when they make good plays. Not a welcoming word for our boys when they came on the floor at Oshkosh, but boos and jeers for everybody, the coach and players alike. Even our faculty members were shown a discourtesy when they offered to give up their seats to permit the coach and players to have a bench as near to the official's table as the place occupied by the Oshkosh coach and team.

If the attitude of the Oshkosh crowd Saturday is evidence of the college spirit prevailing at Oshkosh, we are mighty glad that we do not have that kind of spirit at Stevens Point.

CLETUS COLLINS

A Good Lenten Resolution

Fellow Students:

The churches of Stevens Point cordially invite you to attend any of their services held at the church of your choice.

Most of us have had religious training in our homes. Now that we are away from home, as most of us are, we should not go back on that training. Let us bear in mind that our lives cannot be well rounded without spiritual expression. None of us care to grow lopsided. Furthermore, we need to further our religious training so as to keep our conscience sensitive. Our morals must be developed. We must be ethically clean. Our characters depend upon this.

Therefore, for our own welfare if for no one else, let us accept the invitation of these churches. Let us be loyal to our church. In behalf of the churches of this city you are always welcome.

A FELLOW STUDENT

THE INQUIRING REPORTER

THE QUESTION: What do you think of a girls' intercollegiate basketball conference?

Bernice Edick: I don't play basketball, so I'm neutral.

Patricia Cowan: I haven't played basketball this year.

Eunice Riley: I think that girls' rules are too uninteresting.

Oscar Christenson: If they play boys' rules — yeah.

Bob Steiner: I don't like to see a girls' game 'cause they aren't fast enough. If they played boys' rules it would be all right.

Betty Rice: I'm all for girls' athletics and I think that the school might take more interest in their splendid games.

Gladys Boursier: I think it's pretty keen because it'd give the girls a chance to strut their stuff as well as it would the fellows.

Ed Miller: I think it'd be O.K. There are a lot of athletically minded women who I think would enjoy outside athletic relations.

Ralph Bader: I think this college would have good teams, but they'd have bigger crowds if they would use boys' rules.

Coach Kotal: It's a good idea, but where would they get the money with two teams on the road?

Nolan Gregory: It's O.K. I think it's good for 'em. There should be a girls' conference as well as a boys'. There are some dog-gone good girl basketball players in school.

Earl Eckerson: I wouldn't mind playin' 'em. It'd be good publicity.

Evelyn Gramskee: I think it'd be a good idea if boys' rules were used. Otherwise it'd be too slow.

Edna Crocker: I think it would be a very good idea.

B' Squad Romps Over Merrill 20-11

In a game featured by hard, fast play the Point B Quintet overwhelmed the Merrill All-Stars 20 to 11 in the preliminary to the Stout game. Practically all the scoring was done in the first half, the second half being devoted to defensive play. In the second half Merrill substituted a great deal but was unable to solve the Pointers' defense.

Nohr, Merrill center, was high scorer of the game, making four field goals and a free throw for a total of nine points. Nygard, forward and McDonald, guard, shared scoring honors for the Point, each making six points. Nygard had three field goals and McDonald made two field goals and two free throws.

Games This Week

Milwaukee at La Crosse (Thursday).
Stevens Point at River Falls (Friday).
Oshkosh at Whitewater (Friday).
Milwaukee at Eau Claire (Friday).
Superior at Stout (Friday).
Oshkosh at Platteville (Saturday).

River Falls will furnish the opposition for the Pointers in the last game of the conference season, to be played at River Falls
tomorrow night.

Win First Game

In the first game with the Falcon quintet Eddie Kotal's boys emerged the victors by a 36 to 28 score. The game was played on our own home floor, and River Falls was the only visiting teachers college team able to keep that close. With the advantage of their own gym the score may be reversed.

Morrow, tall center, and Kuss, captain and forward, lead the Falcon attack. The two guards, Isaacson and St. Peter, are constant scoring threats as well as defensive aces. By the way, Morrow was All-Conference center last year. He'll have to beat the Point single-handed to take the honor again from our own Art Thompson.

Game To win

Defeat in this game means that the Pointers would have to share their championship laurels with the La Crosse champs of last year. The boys have worked and fought too long to lose now.
River Falls will be out to win,
and will "shoot the works", for a win over the undefeated Pointers would mean a successful season to them.

The lineup of Bishop, Krumm,
Thompson, Gregory and Marsh will be in there when the first whistle blows. It will be the last game for Captain Thompson, who graduates this spring. All of the other men will be eligible (we hope) for next year and another successful season.

Blue Devils Bow To Pointers, 45-30 For Eighth Straight Win

Playing a slow and listless game the Pointers defeated the Stout Institute quintet here last Friday night for a costly 45 to 30 victory.

"Jug" Marsh Out

We say costly, for the game
meant the loss of "Jug" Marsh, veteran guard, for the Oshkosh game. "Jugger's" guarding and feeding has been invaluable this year, and when other men were tied up he was a scoring threat as well. A twisted ankle sent Marsh out of the game.

The Stout team is known as the "Blue Devils" and they really looked pretty sad. They completely outplayed the Pointers in the first half, and yet were not able to capitalize on their scoring opportunities, missing shot after shot.

Pointers "Off"

The scoring eye of Art Thompson was all that kept the Pointers
in the game in the first half.
Their passing was putrid and their guarding was way off. Time and time again Stout shook
a man loose for a sucker shot only
to miss.

Coach Kotal must have been talking in good form last Friday,

for the boys came back in the second half and began to click in the old accustomed way. After a safe lead had been established the regulars were withdrawn and the reserves finished the game.

SAM'S SPORT SHORTS

I still don't believe it!

Did you see Krumm make that shot? And Greg take that ball away? And Larry sink those free throws? And Artie get that tip-off? And Marsh get those buckets?
And Eckerson show that speed?

Meanwell and his boys are taking an awful panning about the game. Just the same, that's going to be a real ball-club if they stay eligible. There certainly is science in basketball. The way these plays clicked was beautiful.

Young Chubby Poser was an outstanding player on the floor.
In spite of his size he carries all the offensive power of the Badger quint. Beside his speed he has a nice eye for the basket and never misses a free-throw. If Gregory wasn't guarding him every minute
the result would have been different.

This Dyer, umpire at Wisconsin Rapids, is a Wisconsin man. The entire crowd was on his neck for the way he was calling them. Incidentally, he officiated in that rough game at Oshkosh, and lost control of the battle.

We apologize to the men whose pictures were left out of the Wisconsin game story. We have used cuts from last year's Iris for illustrations and only have pictures of Thompson, Gregory, and Krumm, of last year's team. Sorry, fellows.

Young "Eckie" Eckerson looks like the most promising bit of material uncovered by Coach Kotal. He flashed speed that bewildered the University lads. Ek-ckerson is being groomed for Thompson's center job.

Did you know that in Mr. Hyer
we have the only college president in the teachers colleges who follows his school team? Prexy follows the boys, making the Stout, Eau Claire, and Oshkosh games as well as not missing a home game.

And was that Oshkosh aggregation nasty! They seated the team and the coach down in one corner of the gym where they couldn't see the game, and gave our scorer,
Mr. Schmeeckle, and our timekeeper, Mr. Davidson, one chair to share. And if you don't think that was a hardship, ask either one.

And Coach Kotal's fingernails are practically gone, now. If he ever plays three games in a row
again, his fingers will go.

POINTERS HOLD LEAD IN ROUGH OSHKOSH TILT

Tough Crowd And Narrow Gym
Almost Upset Kotalmen; Ninth
Conference Win

Fighting to hold a clear record and an undisputed claim to the championship of the teachers college conference the pennantbound Pointers cleared their most threatening obstacle, Oshkosh, in a game played there last Saturday 34 to 19.

Sure Champs

The victory assures the Pointers of at least a share in the title, with only defeat at the hands of River Falls to threaten sole ownership of the gold basketballs. It is the first time since 1918 that the local college has led the conference.

Oshkosh was out to stop the Pointers if they had to use the water buckets to do it. The Kol-fmen are always rough and bruising
players on their own floor,
and they went a notch farther
against the Point.

Rough Game

Kotal's quintet fought back,
and before the game was over six men had gone out on personal fouls, three from each team. Gregory, Thompson, and Bishop were chased to the showers, as were Hintz, Stogbauer, and Wandrey of Oshkosh. Oshkosh made twenty fouls and the Pointers fifteen.

To complicate matters, the officials let the game get out of hand,
and rough and tumble tactics displaced real basketball. The Oshkosh crowd, never famed for courtesy to a visiting team, were at their worst, and rode the Pointers and Coach Kotal unmercifully.

Tied At Half

In conditions such as these, and on a floor as difficult to play on as is Oshkosh's, it was a real feat to win. The score was tied, 12 to 12, at the half, but the Pointers opened up in the second half to score 22 points to their opponents
7. Larry Bishop was tied up by big Wandrey, but Thompson and Krumm succeeded in getting

Coach Kolf of Oshkosh, beeper deluxe, was at the Wisconsin
game, and said a few kind words.
Someone remarked to him that the Point looked awfully lucky in sinking those long and angled shots. Kolf said, "That's what I thought five or six games ago,
but after seeing them doing it all season, it doesn't look like luck anymore!" Thankee, suh. You must come around and see us
some time.

Boys' Intra-Murals To Start Soon

Intra-Mural basketball will start this week end with about 100 men participating. Each man on the regular team will have charge of one team. The games will be played at a rate of about two or three a day for a period of four weeks. It is necessary that about 20 more men sign up as the teams are not yet complete. All these interested will please sign in the coach's office today. Miles Graney is in charge of all arrangements.

Miss Eileen Mueller, Iris Editor, seems to be having difficulty in rounding up enough Juniors at one time to justify a picture of that group. It seems that only 30 out of some odd 90 members of the class responded to the announcement in assembly last Thursday.

Miss Mueller asks that all Juniors be on the look-out for the next announcement and assemble on the third floor for pictures at the specified time.

Perhaps we have been misinformed, but we have never noted shyness as a Junior characteristic before.

Group picture of the Grammar Round Table will be taken at 4 o'clock today.

Two people made direct hits in the Hirzy score-guessing contest held in conjunction with the Point-Wisconsin game. Muriel Bachman, Sophomore, and Sam Bluthe, Senior, of Plainfield, are the winners of a five dollar bottle of perfume and a bill fold of equal value respectively.

It is interesting to note that of the 468 guesses submitted, only 101 favored the Point. Fred J. Schmeckle of the faculty erred to the extent of two points. His guess was 28 to 26 in favor of the Pointers.

Beauty Contestant Local Coed

The picture of Miss Janet Alban, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Alban, until last September a resident of Stevens Point and now living at Chippewa Falls, appeared in a recent issue of a Chicago publication conducting a beauty contest. Miss Alban received $100 because of her selection and she is also one of the 100 young women being considered for the queen who will reign at the World's Fair in Chicago this summer.

Miss Alban was a student in this college up to the time of her departure and was enrolled in the Grammar department.

Sorority Girls Entertained

Mrs. Charles H. Cashin, patroness, and Miss Eva M. Seen and Miss Florence Brown, faculty advisers of Omega Mu Chi sorority of the Teachers College, entertained the sorority Wednesday afternoon, February 22nd. at the Cashin home, 936 Clark street. Twenty-four were present including new pledges. An "earthquake" bridge party was enjoyed followed by a lunch with a birthday cake in honor of George Washington.

The prices for admission are 25c for students plus your student activity ticket and 40c for outsiders. This is to be an inauguration party so come and see the best man inaugurated!

P. E. O. Guest Night

Chapter I, P. E. O. sisterhood held its annual guest night at Nelson Hall, Tuesday evening, February 21. The P. E. O. colors, yellow and white, and the flower, the marguerite, were used effectively to bring a breath of spring into the recreation room, where dinner was served at 6:30 o'clock to 64 members and guests.

An interesting program was given in the parlors of the dormitory. Mrs. Victor E. Thompson, chairman of the committee for the evening, welcomed the guests and presided at the program.

One of the chief objectives of the organization is education. Besides following a course of study at each meeting, the members sponsor a student loan fund for worthy girls at the State Teachers College. Chapter I has helped 67 girls at the local college complete their education by timely loans.

Sophomores Win Girls' Tournament

The Sophomore team won handily in the Girls Basketball Tournament. Players on the winning team were Roberta Lindow (capt.), Norma Steinmetz, Yvonne Dallich, Velma Scribner, Bonita Newby, Leona Henrichs, Marcella Hoerl, Betty Rice, Lorraine Rustad, Roberta Sparks. The players, together with the members of the Hockey teams were given a banquet at Nelson Hall last week.

NELSON HALL

Nelson Hall was well represented at the Oshkosh game Saturday. Our rooters were: Lorraine Guell, Natalie Gorski, Lila Kenyon, Alice Paulson, LaZett Schmidt, and Alta Stauffer.

Alice Paulson visited with her sister, Sigrid, an alumna of C. S. T. C., at Menasha. LaZett Schmidt attended a semi-formal society party at the Oshkosh College. Alta Stauffer entertained Natalie Gorski at Fond du Lac for the week-end. Lila Kenyon visited with relatives at Fond du Lac.

Coeds On Spree

Enthusiasm overflowed at the dorm in the form of a demonstration Saturday night after the game. Are we proud of our "thousand per-centers!"

Marjorie Wilson and Leora Streblov entertained the Misses Lulu Wilson, Marjorie Streblov and Grace Flowers of Oconto Falls, at the dormitory this week-end. Ella Holly and Phyllis Hibner were fortunate enough to be able to spend a week-end at their homes in Rio and Wyocena, respectively.

One of our old "dormites", Anita Dalton of Pardeeville, visited at school this week.

Attends Big Ten Game

Appleton was the "harbor" for Magdalen Goggins, as was Madison for Carol Keen and Margaret Mortenson. The latter attended the Northwestern cage game.

Tuesday night our Recreation Room was the scene of the P. E. O. banquet and of the W. A. A. banquet Thursday night.

TALKS ON MATH

At the last regular meeting of the Sigma Zeta society Mr. Joseph V. Collins explained "An Unused System of Coordinates and Its Deserved Place in Analytic Geometry and Calculus".

Knutzen Judges High School Debate Tilts

N. E. Knutzen, of the college English Department, drove to Clintonville last Tuesday night to judge a debate between the Menasha and Clintonville high schools.

The State High School League question for this season is concerning taxation. This is one of a series of league debates that Mr. Knutzen is to judge.

BELMONT CAFE

Including the 50 Plainfield rooters that Sam Bluthie had cheering for us at the Rapids' spacious field house Monday night, approximately 5,000 cage fans packed the gym to see the "U" boys get upset.

— and to think that "Doc" Meanwell forgot all about the demonstration after the game. Here's betting he didn't forget to collect his 60% share of the gate receipts. After all, who wouldn't take a defeat with a smile for about $1,300.

Plenty of tonsils were strained when Guy Krumm heaved that first long one neatly through the net. "Jug" Marsh's last ringer sorta made seating on the bleachers more comfortable too during the last minute of the game.

We'll have to hand it to Harris Shafton and his "S" club gang when it comes to ideas for making money. Harris had the boys selling ice cream pies at the game. And, folks, did they sell 'em. Chocolate and ice cream were smeared over everyone's face by the time the final whistle chirped.

Alice Sorenson wins the two free Fox theatre tickets for guessing nearest the total point made at the game. Her guess was 57. The 28-24 score totaled 52 points.

Just when Bessie Allen got sandwiched in between "Herb" Steiner and "Tommie" Rogers on those narrow bleacher seats didn't Michelsen's band have to spoil it all by playing "The Purple And The Gold". (That's it, you see they had to stand up again).

An interesting article appeared in "The Stoutonia", Stout Institute's weekly paper at Menominee. Here it is:

"Eddie's a Prince", says Stevens Point boys of their handsome, wavy-haired coach, Eddie Kotal. Kotal has been at Stevens Point for two years; is a graduate of Lawrence; and has taken work at Columbia.

He calls his young daughter "The Brat". He lives happily in strict accordance with training rules and forbids his "boys" pickles.

When "Eddie" dons a suit and goes out on the floor to play with his team, he runs every boy ragged. "Eddie's a great guy. Eddie's a prince", says his associates.

The development of the human mind and soul is something which cannot be done by machinery. It can only be brought about by the skillful well-trained and sympathetic teacher. Teaching is one profession that the machine cannot eliminate. In fact, the more machinery we have the more and better teachers we must have. Following are some more of our graduates who are carrying on this great work.

of the game as being the result of a let-down after their Northwestern game Saturday night. Our showing, then, is all the more remarkable, for we played Stout on Friday and Oshkosh on Saturday, and still had enough power in reserve to win. As a demonstration, it was a good basketball game.
