POINT'S ORATOR AWARDED THIRD AT WHITETOWER

Nuesse Second In Extemporaneous Contest; Superior And La Crowe Winners

Superior won the 38th annual oratorical contest of the Wisconsin teachers colleges. Whitewater last Friday, La Crowe placed second and Stevens Point, represented by Jack Burroughs, was awarded the third place.

In an extemporaneous speaking contest held Friday afternoon La Crowe won first place and the Stevens Point speaker, Celestine Nuesse, won second.

Carl Ritzman Wins

Burroughs is the son of the Stevens Point coach, L. M. Burroughs, and subject of his oration was "The Spirit of Youth." Nuesse was the winner last year of both the state and interstate oratorical contests. Superior's winning orator is Carl Ritzman, whose oration was "Eternal Growth."

Superior is given permanent possession of the silver trophy for the win.

The ranking given the six competing schools in oratory and the marks given their orators are as follows:

Superior 100, La Crowe 94, Stevens Point 92, Platteville 91, Eau Claire 87, Whitewater 80.

William Welter Best

The extemporaneous results were:

La Crowe 100, Stevens Point 98, Platteville 91, Superior 91, Eau Claire 84, Whitewater 80. La Crowe's extemporaneous winner, William Welter, discussed "War Debts," while Nuesse's topic was "The Banking Situation."

The proposal that the future oratorical contests be held in Stevens Point, a central location, to save traveling expenses of participants, delegations and judges, was not introduced, although it was agreed to combine the oratorical and extemporaneous contests (Continued on page 4, col. 2)

WOULD CONVERT OUR OLD GYM INTO SWIMMING TANK

Undoubtedly students of Central States Teachers College would welcome no other improvement more than the construction of a swimming tank. As soon as the opportunity arises, we hope the funds will be available to construct a swimming tank for the use of the students. The tank would be of the latest design and would provide adequate facilities for swimming.

The tank would be located in the basement of the college buildings, and would be accessible to all students. It would be a great asset to the college and would help to promote physical fitness among the students.

We believe that the construction of a swimming tank would be a tremendous asset to the college and would help to promote a healthy and active lifestyle among the students. Therefore, we urge all students to support this project and contribute to the funds necessary for its construction.

Sororities Initiate New Members Tuesday

Formal initiation of 11 Omega Mu Chi pledges and six Tau Gamma Beta new members was held by the respective sororities Tuesday evening in the parlors of the homes. After the formal initiation both organizations entertained their new members at 6:30 o'clock dinners at Hotel Whiting Tuesday evening.

Dramatic Club Takes in Four New Members

At a meeting of the Harlequin Club Monday night four students were taken in as associate members. The new members are Elia Marie Johnson, Gladys Bourrier of Stevens Point, Berenice Edick, Gillette; and Sigrid Stark, Nasse, Minn.

President Hyer gave a short talk on the value of dramatics in teaching, bringing out the fact that the only way in which Teacher College graduates can compete for positions with the graduates of the large universities is by their participation in extra-curricular activities.

The possibilities for presenting a play this semester were briefly discussed, and a committee was appointed to investigate available plays.

Days Of Stagg, Eckersall, And Heston Brought Back In Memories Of Geography “Prof.”

Memories of great names and great days were evoked by an interview with Mr. Charles F. Watson, director of the Grammar Department and teacher of Geography at Central State Teachers College.

Played Under Stagg

Mr. Watson had the privilege of playing football at the University of Chicago under the “grand old man of football”, Alma Stagg. The immortal Eckersall was his team mate. The gridiron greats we read about were his friends. He played with men who made football history.

Five Regulars Named On Conference Teams

Five Point cagers gained recognition on either the first or second teams in all-opponent selections gleaned from the teachers college papers.

First Team

Bishop, Thompson, and Gregory were picked for positions on the first team along with Schwogelt and Novak of La Crosse, Russ of River Falls, Wittig of Oshkosh, Stori of Stout, and Humke of Milwaukee.

Second Team

Marsh and Krumm were chosen for posts on the second team along with Holher of Milwaukee, Collins of Superior, Morrow of River Falls, Anderson of Stout, Stoglauser of Oshkosh, and Pints of Platteville.

Playing in their last game, exhibition or otherwise, the Point varsity cagers almost lost their undefeated record when they met six coaches and a referee in an exhibition game Saturday night played between the final games in the high school tournament, winning, 20 to 14.

“Eddie” Gets Rough

Led by Coach Kotal and Harry Ringdahl of the High School the old boys went out to win the game. They won the referee first, and “Eddie” couldn’t do anything but play leapfrog with the boys and get away with it.

They couldn’t stop Guy Krumm from shooting, however, and Guy and Bob Tardiff led the Pointer scoring with three baskets apiece. All this in the face of terrific odds. Kotal was held to one basket and four free throws.

Oh! That Referee!

If the Pointers had lost — it might have been a good thing. At least, this was one time that Kotal didn’t stand up and moan about the officiating.

Sam’s Point Horts

S

And a rising young man at La Crosse accuses us of writing a combination of “pig-latin and baby-talk”. He takes exception to what we say and how we say it. He hints darkly at a family scandal.

Suh, there is only one answer. Our honor is at stake. I challenge you to a spelling bee, with no adjectives barred. And may the best man win!!

That ought to hold him for a spell. (Paint essence of limburger)

At a recent assembly Bec Pfeiffner was telling the student body about his experiences in Washington. He told about the old gavel that was used to call the Continental Congress to order and which is still being used, and mentioned that the handle was stolen. Whereupon some wise soul inquired when the basketball team went to Washington.

Your scribble called Kotal’s Monday night only to be told that Coach had left town for the weekend. (Read it again, buddy, you missed it the first time)

Cinder Path Promised For Track Practise

A complete cinder track around the gridiron of the football field will be ready for the track men when they begin work, Mr. Schmer, Chairman of the Athletic Committee of the college, announced.

“Sing, You Cinder”!

The recent snowfall postponed the leveling activities, which were to have started early this week. The cinders were purchased, but the black cinder top dressing, which makes the track especially smooth, is taken from our own college furnaces.

When the program is completed the local institution will have the facilities for a complete track and field carnival. At the north end of the field the jumping pits and weight throwing space will be located, and the pole vaulters will parade on the southern side of the gridiron.

A little matter which has no business here, but probably won’t be mentioned elsewhere is this: What is the attitude of the college going to be about beer? Although it is going to be legal, will drinking be allowed by the faculty?

Will an athlete be considered to have broken training if he drinks beer? Will a student be prejudiced in the eyes of the school authorities if he imbines?

Five Returning Veterans To Strengthen Team; New Material Promising

Prospects for a successful track season appear to be the brightest in years for Coach Eddie Kotal’s thinly clad, with five lettermen returning around whom to build a well balanced squad.

Champion Miller

Outstanding among the returning tracksters are three state champions. Lynn Scribner, who won the mile run and finished second in the two mile in the state meet, was an outstanding performer on the team. “Scribb” picked up points in every meet, and was never beaten in his specialty, the mile.

W. O. Watson had annexed the high jump crown with a jump of six foot two, will be back to score points in his specialty. “Tommy” in addition to his high jump prowess, can place in most meets in the pole vault.

Free Advertising

The third of the state champs, Russ Atwood, broke the tape first in the low hurdlers in the state meet at Madison. Russ is an expert timer-topper, skimming the hurdles, too. In addition he jumps for orders for Norsingtons. (Oh, that’s perfectly all right, Russel).

Harold Reichert and Myron Fritsch are the outstanding “440” men. Reichert specializes in the 220 and 440 yard dashes, and Fritsch heaves the weights. Around this nucleus Coach Kotal ought to be able to develop a meet-winning team.

New Material Promising

Among the new material which Kotal will have at his disposal are Bob Tardiff and Earl Eckerson, who set prep records in the high jump and the pole vault. Ed “Moon” Baker, star dashman of two years back, who has kept out of competition last year by a poor ankle, is trying to get back into shape, and will be a real star in the 100 yard dash if and when.

Track workouts will be started as soon as the weather permits. A cinder track completely around the football field will be ready for use in the near future. No one will be allowed to compete wearing winter underwear.

This is a coming, and a vital, question. We hope that the faculty will define both their situation and our own. It would make things much clearer for the men of the school.
Rural Club Gives Special Program; Graduate Speaks

Third and fourth year students of the Rural department were in charge of a special meeting held in the college auditorium last Monday evening. The program consisted of a short talk by Miss Ethel Peterson, a graduate of this school who is now doing research work for the department of Rural Education of the University of Wisconsin, and a play, "Pride Goeth Before A Fall," presented by several students of the department.

Members Of Cast

The cast included Clara Peterson, Myron Fritsch, Linda Schi- melfenig, Doris Jones, Lillian Dunn- ning, Francis Roman, and Everett Milb. The program was opened by Roland Koyen with community singing and a vocal selection. A saxophone duet by Arthur Kussmann and Ward Fon- sters was followed by a reading of original poetic selections by Flo- rence Beaudin Cartmill.

Male Singers

Gerald Olson, Bert Vogel, Mel- vin Andre, Irl Thurber, Gilbert Husch, Roy Olson, LeRoy Hartz, and Roland Koyen sang a group of songs. They were accompanied by Miss Muriel Wald.

No Beer But Food Galore For Cage And Debate Champions

It seems that when it comes to eating, our basketball champs have nothing on our debaters. The faculty and the business men have been right generous in handing out feasts to the boys.

Hyer Gives Feed

A week ago Tuesday, President Hyer "set up" a chicken dinner as a gag to the fluney of those whom Mr. Spindler aptly calls the "champion liars". Then this Tuesday Mr. and Mrs. Burroughs declared open "house- pitality," and the boys just "et and et".

Wednesday evening Mr. Knut- zen, who so manfully "outed" the teams about the country on their appearances at various high schools, entertained on condition that no one would burst out in eloquent furor over the seriousness of the situation.

Smith Throws Spread

Now rumor has it that Mr. Smith, the chief economic adviser to the group, will entertain Sun- day night. The habit seems con- tagious.

The Rotary Club also crashed through, the boys enjoying a din- ner there a week ago Monday.

Mrs. Carroll Van Buskirk left Saturday night for Chicago after spending the past year with her parents-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Van Buskirk at 210 South George street. As Kathleen Powell Van Buskirk, she gave a successful concert recently as a farewell appearance in Chicago. In Chicago she will continue her musical training with Isaac Van Grove, director of the Chicago Civic Opera company. She will join her husband who is engaged in musical work in that city.

Entertain Debaters
The championship debate team of the normal school was entertained by President and Mrs. Frank S. Hyer at their home, 626 Clark Street last week. The table centerpieces were a bouquet of yellow flowers, a tablecloth flanked by purple candles, carrying out the college colors of purple and gold, and the place cards were suggestive of St. Patrick's Day. The speakers present were Celestine Nuese, Donald Mills, Tom Smith, Burton Hotvedt, Clarence Styza and Jack Burroughs. The debate was extemporaneous speaking and oratory team; Coach Leland M. Burroughs and Mrs. Burroughs.

Konclave Delegates
Edward Leuthold, Harry Hansen, and Evelyn Wimme were elected delegates from Sigma Zeta society to represent that society at the National Konclave at a meeting held last Wednesday evening. Katherine Clegins and Stanley Niemeyer were chosen alternates. The Konclave will be held in Alton, Illinois, April 14 and 15.

St. Patrick's Day
The annual party sponsored by the Real Life Club was held Saturday evening in the old gymnasium. Ben Mannis and his colleagues played for the dancing. The chaperons were members of the rural department faculty, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar W. Neale, Miss Mary E. Hanna, Miss May Roach, and Miss Besse LaVigne.

At the W. A. A. meeting held March 22 in the Women's Lounge a new set of song books was presented to the club. Tentative plans for the annual girls' "Play Day" were presented, and the committee was appointed. The meeting closed with a special volley-ball program presented by Velma Scribner.

Snow Engulfs Dorm
The week-end was prolonged for a number of us by the wintry little snowflakes (much to our sorrow). The weatherman planted a huge drift right in front of the entrance to the dorm. It's the biggest in the whole city, we think. We use a tunnel now.

At the W. A. A. meeting held March 22 in the Women's Lounge a new set of song books was presented to the club. Tentative plans for the annual girls' "Play Day" were presented, and the committee was appointed. The meeting closed with a special volley-ball program presented by Velma Scribner.

The district basketball tournament brought a number of visitors to the dormitory. The Misses Bernahl Belot, Jane Lindsay, and Phyllis Lindow of Manawa visited with Roberta Lindow. The Misses Evelyn Slowey, Carol Conant, and Elaine Miller of Westfield were dinner guests of Kathryn Slowey, Margaret Morganson, and Elda Miller Friday evening.

WATSON RECALLS FOOTBALL AS IT ONCE WAS PLAYED

When asked about the game as it was played in 1905, Mr. Watson said: "I began to play when the forward pass was just coming into use. The game was not as spectacular as it is today, but no modern team could gain through the line we used to have. The ball-carriers could be assisted under the old rules, and were pulled and pulled along."

"Jackass" Club

Asked about Stagg's coaching methods, Mr. Watson said: "Mr. Stagg had the most sarcastic tongue in the history of gridiron, but he made a man feel smaller than anyone ever could. He never used profanity, though. His strongest word was 'jackass' and he only used that when some one blundered in a game. The fellows formed a 'jackass club', and only those who had been called that by Mr. Stagg could belong."

Mr. Watson played in the first game played in Camp Randall at the University of Wisconsin. Chicago won that game, 4 to 0, on a muddy field. Neither team could gain through the line, but Eckersall, wiping off the ball and his shoes, kicked a field goal to win. At that time a field goal scored four points.

Michigan vs. Chicago

Reminiscing further, Mr. Watson described another game in which Eckersall's deadly toe provided the margin of victory. Chicago won 63 to 0, and "Eckie" kicked five field goals for 20 points. The outstanding football game ever played, according to Mr. Watson, was the Michigan-Chicago game of 1905, won by Chicago 10 to 0.

Michigan, coached by Fielding Yost, had been undefeated for two years. Led by Willie Heston, whom Mr. Watson rates as the greatest player he has ever seen, the Wolverines were supposed to be unbeatable. Their defeat by Chicago was one of the big upsets in gridiron history.

Who Said "Rough"?

In speaking about roughness of play Mr. Watson smiled. "The game really wasn't rough", he said. "I played for three years and only had a few collar bone broken and ribs cracked. It wasn't till I tried to coach a green team that I really hurt."

Spindler Completes A College "Who's Who"

An interesting "Who's Who" of local college graduates who are now engaged in commercial and educational fields in various parts of the country has been compiled by Mr. Frank N. Spindler.

Today's issue of the Pointer contains another of a series of "old time" grads who have distinguished themselves since graduation. Other outstanding graduates will appear in following issues of the Pointer.

College Alumni Active In Teaching Positions

The initiative and versatility of Stevens Point graduates are attested to by evidence of the activities in the teaching field. Many of the alumni are in charge of excellent school newspapers which are sent to their former critic teachers of the Training School.

All Point Grads

Elton R. Davis, Katherine Turish, Hazel Schroeder and William S. Richardson, all Stevens Point graduates now teaching at Mattoon, Wis., contribute to a 14 page mimeographed newspaper called the "Mattoonian". Miss Turish, head of a Junior High school in Stevens Point publishes "The Lincoln Breeze", while Miss Gertrude Jensen, teaching at the local Garfield school, is responsible for a school paper called "Our Reflectors". Ray Clausen, now teaching at Ogensburg has developed "The Broadcast" and Helen Verhulet, of the Adams, Wis., school, is in charge of "The Voice".

Indians Print News

"The Indian Youth", issued from an Indian school at Fort Totten, N. D., is an interesting paper produced under the direction of Christian Beitzel, a Point graduate. Eldore Bergbaken, teaching his first year at Sandina, Wis., has developed "The Echo". Another city school newspaper, "The Monthly Chat", is the work of Miss Katherine Grimm, of the McKinley school. Those school newspapers are exchanged with the "Junior Pointer" of the Training School and are exhibited in the Junior High assembly.

It is not very often that students are given the opportunity to see a nine-reel moving picture for nothing, but that is exactly what they have in store for them Monday evening, April 13, in the college auditorium.

The Rural department is bringing S. J. Ristesund here on that evening. Mr. Ristesund will deliver a lecture on the scenic attractions of Norway, illustrating his talk with nine reels of moving pictures. There is to be no charge. Students will be admitted on presentation of their student activity cards.

"TED" IS A DADDY

A son was born March 9, to Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Rozelle at Milwaukee. His name is Ted, and he is a 1931 graduate and was editor of the Pointer his senior year.

THE POINTER

Edna And Lydia In Jaws Of Snow Storm

"Snowbound" by the Misses Edna Carlsten and Lydia Pfeiffer is the latest novel. "Ask them about it. The two faculty members attended the "Home Show" in Milwaukee last week-end. Miss Carlsten said they encountered drifts miles high on their return trip so were forced to spend Sunday and Monday at Plymouth, Wis. The "babies of the storm" were rescued by Dr. Walter Pfeiffer of Plymouth, brother of Lydia, who gave them free lodging and food at his Plymouth home while the storm and winds raved on.
