TAXI DOES FROM ALL OVER STATE TO CONVENE HERE

College Y.W.C.A. To Be Host To Teachers Colleges This Week End.

Tomorrow, Saturday and Sunday, Central State will be the scene of the annual convention of the Young Women's Christian Association of the six teachers districts. About 50 delegates from the various teachers colleges of Wisconsin are expected to register on Friday.

A varied program of conferences and entertainments has been arranged by the local chapter for the entertainment of the guests during their stay in Stevens Point. Delegates will be lodged at Nelson Hall until Sunday, at which time the conventions close.

Dr. Peabody To Speak

Two excellent speakers have been engaged for the conference. Dr. Peabody, a professor at Ripon College, who is a related missionary from China, will relate some of his experiences in the Orient and will present a brief outline of the existing conditions in that country. Dr. Peabody has an excellent store of information and is reputed to be an excellent speaker.

Miss Susan Chang, a foreign student from one of our American universities, will be the speaker at a banquet at Nelson Hall Saturday evening. It should prove interesting to obtain a view of America from the standpoint of an Oriental.

Varied Programs

The program for Friday includes registration from 1 to 3 o'clock; informal hour in the recreation room of Nelson Hall, 4 to 6, Afternoon tea in the Home Economics rooms to which the women of the school are invited, 4:30; dinner, 6; Dancing at Nelson Hall, 6:30-7:30; Opening meeting in the college auditorium, 7:45; Corridor spreads and party, 9:30; and So to bed, at 10:30.

Saturday morning will be free until 9:00 o'clock at which time a cab ride to Madison will be held in the rooms of the college. Afternoon features will include a sightseeing tour of the paper mills from 4 to 5, Appreciation hour at Nelson Hall, 4:30-5:30; and Banquet at 6:30.

Sunday's program will include a course in counsel training and closing worship from 8:30 until 10.

Excellent Program

Band At Plainfield

Tonight the college band will travel to Plainfield where it will render a concert in the high school auditorium.

SPRING FORMAL FRIDAY NIGHT, HOTEL WHITING

Magdalene Goggins Of New London Chosen Queen Of College Junior Prom

Taxis and evening gowns will be pulled out of moth balls again tomorrow night when Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity will hold its annual spring party at Hotel Whiting. A Popular Orchestra

Because of popular demand the frat boys again will have "The Knights of the Night" orchestra of Fond du Lac to entertain for the third successive year.

A banquet for active and alumnus members and their ladies friends will be served at 7 o'clock. Dancing will start at 9 o'clock and continue until 1 o'clock. College and high school students as well as townspeople are invited. The dance is semi-formal.

Junior Prom, May 19

President Celestine Nuesse of the Junior class plans for the Junior Prom are practically complete. The Prom will be held in the new gym Friday, May 19.

Joe Gumin Coming

Joe Gumin and his orchestra will return from Toy's Restaurant in Milwaukee will play for the "gala event of the year". President Nuesse has chosen Magdalene Goggins as his Queen. Miss Goggins is a Junior in the Home Economics department. Last year she attended Milwaukee Teachers College and was a member of Phi Delta Alpha sorority.

Tate Gamma Beta sorority will hold its spring formal in Hotel Whiting on Friday, May 26. George Benson and his collegiate orchestra from Beloit will play.

SUBMIT IT TO A STUDENT VOTE

An article worthy of careful consideration by every college student in the Student Broadcast column today. The article advocates the new "Iris" plan of purchasing the yearbook.

Responses secured from various students by the Pointer Inquiring Reporter several months ago favored the tuition plan unanimously. The new plan would enable the Iris staff to sell the books to the students instead of $5. More than this, it would give the staff a guaranteed subscription sale each year. The staff would know, almost to the penny, in advance just what budget it would have to work with. It would abolish those difficult and laborious subscription drives. It would enable a bigger and better annual at a smaller price.

Naturaly the only objection to the plan is the $1 increase per semester in tuition. But if there is any truth in what Guy Krumm says, "if you don't spend it one way it goes in another" the students who would invest their $1 toward an annual would find more entertainment in paging through that investment in years to come than any dance at the Capital or 20 glasses of Hamm's special could possibly afford.

Disregarding the pro and con opinions on the matter the logical action would be to submit the new plan to the student body for a popular vote. Student balloting would soon determine whether the plan is worthy of further consideration.

THE INQUIRING REPORTER

The Question: Do you think that regular year senior students should be admitted to the Junior Prom free?

Fritz Cochrane: Sure they should. They should be the guests of the Junior class. That's what Proms are for.

Marlowe Boyle: I don't know, I don't think it's a good year for an experiment. It might work well in view of the purpose of the Ju­nior Prom.

Art Thompson: It is tradition that the Juniors give a farewell party for the Seniors. This is usually called the Junior Prom. A special idea, because if one, you don't usually charge the person in whose honor the party is given. Therefore we spell it "grat­i­fyingly.

Eddie Leuthold: No. The financial condition of the Junior class does not warrant this.

Celestine Nussle: No, I just don't think they should. We're paying a good deal for the orches­tra and the financial condition of the class does not give much opportunity for experiments such as this.

Cletus Collins: I think it's a good idea, but not in these times of depression.

Bill Herrick: No, I don't think they should be admitted free. Because of the depression I don't think we'd clear anything on the Prom.

Viola Hotvedt: No, they should not get in free any more than the rest of them.

Jim Turkwall: I'm a Junior. I think they ought to pay.

Vera Kramer: Sure. Give them a treat.

Mary Louise Bowers: The Ju­nior Prom is for the Seniors, isn't it? Then they ought to get in free.

Alta Stauffer: I think the Ju­nior Prom should make a decision. Free admission for Seniors had been the precedent until last year when a change was made because of the financial situation. There are arguments pro and con. The Juniors are responsible and they have to do the work. Let them do as they think best.

Chicago "Loop" Not a New Ride Or Circular So They Say, Fair Buildings The Nets

Reports drifting back from Chicago intimate that the college excursionists had an auspicious and happy time last weekend. Over 101 students and their friends were aboard the "special" when it pulled out of the Sool Station just one hour past midnight last Friday.

"Loop" Not a Ride

As you walk anyone into the college hang-outs the odds are you'll find one of these "Discouragists" parked on a table and telling his listeners just how big a bargain he got for his $6.55 excursion ticket — maybe he'll be telling ya' how he had to go to pay an Illinois tax on a nickel "hot dog" — perhaps he'll be chalk talking to his home-town fans and proving that the "Chi­cago Loop", after all, isn't a thrilling ride or circular in design.

Jolly Train Ride

A long train ride filled with fun and action, and lack of sleep didn't retard the enthusiasm of the "top-eyed" frolic seekers in the least. One glance at that dizzy-kicky-ride, the replica of Fur­ dassom, or the hall of science, and pep, eagerness and interest again had the excursionists on their toes.

Taverns There Too

The travel and transportation buildings, the "various Japanese, Chinese, Italian, German, French and what have you concessions and buildings are only part of the millions of dollars of investment that are sprawled along three and one-half miles of Lake Michigan's shore line — not to mention the taverns.

Spice To Tour

A special tour around the "high spots" of Chicago in chartered busses and visits to the Shedd Aquarium and Field Mu­seum added spice to the venture.

Mr. Raymond M. Rightsell was in charge of the college excursion.

CLASS TRACK MEET SATURDAY

KOTAL VIEWS

FRESHMEN AND SOPHOMORES CHIEF CONTESTERS FOR INTER-CLASS CROWN WILL BE FEATURED

The annual inter-class track and field meet, sponsored by Coach Kotal, will be held on the new Schmeeckle Field track this Saturday afternoon.

Class Rivalry

Ancient rivalries will be revived on the cinder path when representatives of the Freshmen and Sophomore class clash. These two classes are expected to fight it out for victory, with the Juniors and Seniors far behind.

The meet will give Coach Kotal an opportunity to see just what track talent he has in school. Quite a bit of new material is expected to be uncovered in these inter-class events.

"Frosh" Threaten

Last year the Freshmen (now the Sophomores) won the event, and are determined to repeat again this year. The Seniors, though out of the running, have three possible first place men in Atwood, Baker, and Thompson, while the Juniors have Peterson, Frey, and Fritsch for point winners.

The Sophomore squad is paced by Lyman Scribner and Reichert, varsity men of last year. The Frosh aggregation is more of an unknown quantity, but looks to be the strongest all-around point-getting ability.

Official Meet

The meet will be run off in official style, with timers and starters and judges, and all that. All the regular events of a track and field meet will be held. The public is invited.

The entrants so far are: Freshmen—Don Abel, Carl Blum, "Doug" Strope, Felix Forrest, Gene Fetche, Bill Berard, Ronald Murray, Bob Tardiff, Charles Scribner, R. Beck, and Bremmer.

Sophomores

Juniors—Myles Granev, Myron Fritsch, and Peter Peterson.

Seniors—Art Thompson, Ed Baker, and Russ Atwood.

Fishing is the order of the sports day, but where are the fish?

Dean Herbert Steiner went out last Monday and caught one. And he said he wouldn’t want to be photographed with that.

The bullheads in Plainfield are on a strike. They claim that some of the fishermen aren’t baiting their hooks anymore.

Which is a seedy trick.

They say they’ll put up with bent pins, but they insist on some worms.

All of these fishermen can cast their ballots.

PHI SIGS DOWN

CHI DELTS, 5-4, IN INDOOR GAME

Fraternity Rival Battle For Possession of "Little Brown Jug" in Five Game Series

Resuming their yearly battle for the "Little Brown Jug," Phi Sigma Epsilon's indoor team took the first game of the series from their Chi Delta rivals, 5 to 4, on the Garfield diamond last Friday afternoon.

Close Game

It was a fast and well-played game, with the lead shifting back and forth between the two teams, until the Delts might have been up one run when the Phi Sigma scored two runs in the ninth. They crept again, and went ahead in the seventh, but two runs for the winners put the game on ice.

George Maurer's south-paw slammers were effective for the Phi Sig's and John Murray and Frank Klement twirled for the Chi Delts. Close fielding and solid hitting featured the game.

Real Battles

These games have more real rivalry in them than anything seen on the local diamond in a long time. The boys are playing a three-out-of-five series, and predictions are that it will go the limit. Revisions are expected in both line-ups for the second game.

This Friday afternoon at 3 o’clock the teams will meet again on the Garfield School diamond. George Maurer is slated to work on the mound for the Phi Sig's, and Frankie Klement for the Chi Delts.

Last week's line-up:

Score by innings:

Chi Delts..........101 2-4
Phi Sig's......000 5-5

Officials: Francis Roman, umpire; Ray Urbanowski, base umpire.

DOUDNA TALKS TO RURALS ON SOUL OF POET

Lecture 'A Poet Passed This Way' Well Received By Large Audience

At a meeting of the Rural Life Club held in the Rural assembly Monday evening, May 1, Edgar C. Doudna, Secretary of the Board of Normal Regents, delivered his much-discussed lecture, 'A Poet Passed this Way'.

Mr. Doudna said that the popular conception of a poet is far from what a poet is actually; that instead of being a non-productive and quite useless part of our society, he contributes far more than the average person gives him credit for. "A poet reflects", says Mr. Doudna, "giving us certain insights and understandings that we would otherwise miss." He is our eyes and ears to beauty, trying to make us see the beautiful things that our constant friction with the harsh realities of life hides from us, — he said.

Has Universal Appeal

"Poetry", Mr. Doudna believed, "is literature in its highest form. It reaches through the mind to the heart. It makes us dream, weep, laugh, sigh and thrill. It awakens the imagination and, for a few minutes, it makes us live greatly. Poetry must be prepared for. Teachers must know backgrounds, origins, and unusual uses of words. Reading poetry is a fine art. Teaching it, as well, is a fine art. Teachers of poetry rank with great artists."

"A poet gets at the heart of things and makes us understand as no one else can. He moves the world with his songs. But he has to have an audience who recognize in his language their own dimly realized thoughts and feelings. The poet says for them what they have wished to express but for which they have found words inadequate."

Date Of Rural Play
