

20 DEBATE CANDIDATES REPORT

CADMAN, NOTED COMPOSER, TO APPEAR HERE

Author Of 'At Dawning' Will Give
Two Programs Tomorrow
In Auditorium

Charles Wakefield Cadman, internationally known composer, with his company of singers, will appear at the 10 o'clock assembly in the main auditorium tomorrow. Due to the fact that many students drive home over the week end and are not able to attend a Friday evening program, President Hyer has arranged to have Mr. Cadman make two appearances.

The evening program, which is open to about two hundred towns people, will consist of a one act opera, "The Willow Tree", and an operatic quartet cycle, "White Enchantment".

Mr. Cadman Is Versatile

Among the many songs composed by Mr. Cadman are: "From the Land of the Sky-blue Water", "At Dawning", and "I Hear a Thrush at Eve".

Cadman's work along more serious lines "has been received by the music loving public with the same enthusiasm that marked the reception of his lighter productions. Of his four grand operas, three have been produced. He has composed cycles, cantatas, piano suites and school operettas".

Civic Opera Singers Assist

In addition to Mr. Cadman, the company consists of the Misses Helen Freund, and Constance Eberhardt, of the Chicago Civic Opera, and Messrs. Arthur Kraft, and Eric Russell Coke.

The famous composer will have an opportunity to hear the college band in their first concert appearance of the year. Tomorrow is the day scheduled for the band to present their program. Due to the fact that such a well known man as Mr.

AN ANNOUNCEMENT

Due to authentic information received from Mr. Schmeeckle, we are publishing this suggestion. Single admissions should be charged at all dances, whether couple affairs or otherwise. A government tax must be paid on all tickets exceeding 40 cents. If the entertainment be strictly a couple affair, it may be advertised as such. However admission prices for both ladies and gents should be advertised, and tickets should be issued to each person who attends the entertainment.

WE ARE THANKFUL

The trials and troubles of the Pilgrims have been ours, under different names, in modern garb. However, a stronger feeling of national unity has been born of the struggle which, coupled with the NRA, gives us cause for "Thanksgiving".

We of Central State Teachers' College should be particularly thankful for the scholastic and athletic achievements our school has attained during the past year.

In observance with the Thanksgiving holiday college will close Wednesday noon and classes will be resumed the following Monday morning, December 4.

STATE CHAMPS NEUSSE-MILLS ONLY VETERANS

Practice Tilts Arranged With Lawrence. Question Is Difficult One

Twenty prospective debaters, including the state champions, Rev. Donald Mills and Celestine Neusse, met with Mr. Burroughs, college forensic coach, Wednesday afternoon. Only the two mentioned above are back from last year's squad. Such men as Burton Hotvedt, Tom Smith and Clarence Styza will be hard to replace.

Smith Expounds

In an effort to expose the group to several angles of the subject to be discussed; (Resolved: "That the power of the president should be substantially increased as a settled policy") as a preliminary measure, Mr. E. T. Smith lectured on the subject from a historical angle yesterday. Next week Wednesday, they will hear Dean Steiner present his version.

Three Conference Debates

Debating relations have been established with La Crosse, Oshkosh, and Eau Claire state teachers' colleges. In addition to these several practice debates have been scheduled with Lawrence college which will prepare the men for two interstate tournaments they will enter. One is to be held at St. Thomas college at St. Paul, Minn., and the other at Normal University, Normal, Ill.

Work Goes Ahead On Annual Senior Semi Formal Ball

The evening of Friday, Dec. 15th, ushers in the second annual Senior Ball. This great annual event will be the first big semi-formal dance of the year in the form of a gallant Christmas Party.

Students, who in the past often wanted a party of its kind before the Holidays, will have the opportunity to celebrate the upper classman's farewell to the social life of the college.

No Contracts Let

Much discussion has been centered around the music factor of the Ball. Cletus Collins and his committee on music assures you of having the best obtainable with the consideration that there will be a reasonable entrance fee.

"S" Club Sponsors Federal Relief Act Dance In New Gym Enables College To Saturday Evening Repair Buildings

Students are getting dates for the "S" club football Championship dance; the second of the year to fall under the title of "couple affair", to be held in the new gym Saturday night. Bennie Graham and his orchestra will furnish the syncopation for the event. Dancing will start at 8:30 and continue until midnight.

All college and high school students and townspeople are invited.

Radio Hour For College Secured

Mr. Leland M. Burroughs, faculty head in charge of the college radio hour, has informed the Pointer that following the Thanksgiving recess, Central State Teachers College will again present the college radio hour, over the local station WLBL. The time now arranged calls for the program to come on the air every Wednesday afternoon from 3 to 3:30 o'clock.

Musical Features

Tentative plans call for about fifteen minutes of music to be presented each time. Mr. Michelsen has appointed Ward Fonstad chairman of this part of the program to work with him in the arranging of musical selections. Members of Mr. Burroughs's speech classes will sponsor the other quarter hour.

Speech Project

In view of the fact that this is the fortieth year of our life as a school, it is expected that much of the time will be devoted to the history of the college, and to the personnel that have helped to make the institution what it is today. Some time will of course be given to current activities.

As a result of the Federal Government's unemployment relief act, nine local men have been hired to repair portions of the building. At present, work is going forward on three major projects. According to a statement received from president Hyer, the measure can not last beyond February 15th, but it is hoped that the men may be kept until Christmas in order to finish the repairs.

Pictures have been removed from the hallways and the walls are being repaired preparatory to painting. Men are also at work repairing and reducing the chimney from the old heating plant. The bricks will be saved for some future use. Two plumbers have been engaged to repair the steam fittings in Nelson Hall.

All labor is being furnished by the government, but materials must be provided by the college.

Students Help With Junior High Play

Next Wednesday morning, when students of the college are anxiously looking forward for their vacation to begin at noon, the Junior High School Pupils of the Training School will be having their Annual Thanksgiving Party in the new gym.

Charles Ross, with the help of Ralph Hubbard, Elinor Eubanks, and Milicent Wilson, is taking charge of the program. Definite plans in regard to the entertainment have not as yet been made. Evidently the major part of the program will be composed of a playlet, readings, songs, and games.

TO THE MEN

After being padlocked for the past week because of misuse by "a certain few individuals," the door of the Men's Room has been swung open once more.

President Hyer has threatened to permanently close the recreation room should any more furniture be broken as the result of "kid tricks". He is justified in his threat. Our prexy has spent a considerable amount of his own money to afford a little diversion and recreation for the men. Most of us appreciate it; however, there are some who do not. We are inclined to believe there are a number of freshmen who do not appreciate the privileges allotted them in the use of this room. Perhaps it would interest these few to know that similar undertakings in other schools do not allow the students nearly as many rights. A Men's Room has recently been opened at the Whitewater institution, the purpose of their room being only for study and discussions. Lounging is not permitted.

The men missed the use of the entertainment room during the past week. Students were running around the halls like lost sheep—some were even sitting on the window sills in the locker room—others parked themselves on the stairways—while the padlock was swinging on the door of the Men's Room.

From now on let's keep an eye on these "opponents of appreciation" and weed them out.

STUDENT

BROADCAST

Dear Editor:

Last year we had a republican Senior Ball. By that I mean that the tariff was high and prohibitory. Well, we democrats got together, and we elected Roosevelt and Busch, and we fully expected to have those tariffs lowered or at least reciprocal agreements made. Imagine my trusting dismay the other day when I heard that the admission charge for the Senior Ball was going to be one dollar and fifty cents per couple again this year. Now, I ask you, is that fair? Especially when patronage is so slow in coming from the big boys?

Against our wishes (Roosevelt) the government took all our gold away from us. Just because this is a state institution certainly doesn't give the Senior class the privilege of taking our green backs and silver coins.

The only thing for us farmers to do is to swing back to the La Follette boys. They'll protect our interests against the powerful, predatory greed of the well-to-do. I once heard Phil say that he would.

Rural Life Meets

The Rural Life Club held their meeting in the Rural Assembly, Monday evening, November 20th.

The program was opened by club singing led by Kirkwood Likes. Dorothy Pidde and Inez Trader gave a piano duet and responded to the applause with an encore. Carolyn Arps gave a reading which pleased her audience.

The address of the evening was given by President Hyer who spoke on the life and writings of Eugene Field. He showed the characteristics of Eugene Field as a writer, and illustrated by reading from his prose and poetry.

Ogg Gives Reading

Taking the part of twelve distinct characters may not be very easy, but Jack Ogg does it in the interpretive reading "Journey's End", by R. C. Sherriff.

Within the past week he has been called upon twice to present this number. The first time at a Buena Vista community club program last Friday night, November 17th, and at the Kiwanis club meeting at Hotel Whiting, Tuesday, November 21st.

Margaret Ashmun Chooses Pledges

Margaret Ashmun, a local literary society, is pledging the following students: Charles Ross, Mae Kalisky, Jack Ogg, Alice Paulson, Marjorie Pearson, Reinetta Reisinger, Marion Murgatroyd, Margaret Turrish, Ethel Florence, Lois Richards, George Maurer, and Katherine Krembs.

Bloc Tonight

Bloc is to meet tonight at Tom Smith's home. Paul Parkinson, advertising manager of the Hardware Mutual Insurance Company will be guest of honor and will discuss commercial advertising.

Football Banquet

Wednesday night the State Champion football team enjoyed a banquet in the Home Economics parlors at the expense of the athletic board. Regent Atwell and President Hyer were there as guests. A total of 36 were present. The Junior Home Economics girls acted as hostesses. After the banquet, a private dancing party was held in the old gym.

56 CAGERS SEEKING POSITIONS

SCHEDULE TO BE TOUGH WITH 14 CONTESTS

University Of Wisconsin And Carroll To Oppose The Purple And Gold

Regular basketball practice began Monday under Coach Eddie Kotal with 56 men answering the call. Many positions are open since five of the first string men are lost, namely: Captain Art Thompson, Larry Bishop, Earl Eckerson, Ralph Bader, Les Omholt, and Pete Peterson.

Five Veterans

Co-captains Guy Krumm and Nolan Gregory, Jug Marsh, Frank Klement, Bob Tardiff, and Harry Hansen are the veterans returning. Don Unferth, Milton Anderson, Asher Shorey, Melvin Andrae, Don Abel, and John Collins look good. The rest of the material may be good, it may be fine; we don't know. Every one has to get out there and earn his position, and even if a fellow doesn't make the first ten, he can't lose anything by playing on the "B" squad under Art Thompson.

Conference Teams Tough

The boys will have to work hard and fast since that long, tough schedule will soon begin. This year the conference teams are as evenly matched as possible. The Pointers play 14 games against the strongest teams in Wisconsin. The game with the University will be a tough one as Doc Meanwell will have the same team he used last year.

Lousy Schedule

Carroll, who will also oppose the Purple and Gold on the hardwood court, has gained distinction for putting out fine basketball teams. One of the hard spots on the calendar is the week beginning February 9, when the locals play four games within 8 days, and those games against, Oshkosh, Milwaukee, Carroll and Milwaukee.

Lots of luck, coach!

BILL'S BULL

Milwaukee ought to have a good squad of cagers. They're the only school in the conference with a coach for football and another one for basketball. Guy Penwell has been drilling the squad for weeks with a good number of veterans to build around.

Manager Ray Urbans has a patriotic record since he attended every game this fall, except one where he was handicapped by a sprained ankle. He didn't go with the team every time since Al Dumphy, the other manager, and he trade off. However, by hook or crook, Ray got there.

The price of seventy-five cents that the "S" club is asking for its dance has caused a lot of comments. However, when you consider that this organization finances a banquet for all football, basketball, and track men, and also helps pay for the sweaters, that price to have a swell dance is cheap enough. You pay twenty-five single admission without a squawk. What's wrong with seventy-five cents per couple to dance with the best crowd in school to the same band you paid sixty-five cents to hear at the sorority dance. This hop is a victory dance for the football championship and is the first in a long time.

The choice of Milwaukee for an all-conference team gave six Milwaukee men berths on his mythical eleven and only three Pointers. According to that, the Klugemen should have won the conference championship. Becker, Schwahn, and Ted Menzel were the selections from here.

We've just gotten some new dope which seems to turn the trend of basketball towards Oshkosh. The sawdusters will have a squad and we mean a squad. Thirteen lettermen are returning and five of these have been all-conference. Nel, Montague, Wittig, Stogebauer, and Mike Wandrey are the all-conference men. The others are Blake, Tadych, Hintz, Pullett, Barlow, Bowman, Rugotski, and Tommy Lindow.

Experienced Hockey Coach Takes Charge

With the beginning of winter almost upon us, Don Blood has gotten the hockey fever as usual. This year most positions are open and Don urges all men who want to try out to report in Coach's office as soon as possible.

Mr. Hansen, new addition to the college faculty, has agreed to coach the hockey squad this year and the boys feel fortunate in getting so experienced a mentor. He has played and coached hockey with great success.

Practices will begin immediately after Thanksgiving recess at the rink at the old fairgrounds. If enough men make the team into a strong organization, games can be scheduled with Marshfield, Wisconsin Rapids, and Stevens Point city teams.

Veterans returning from last year's squad are Blood, Wied Schulte, Becker, Holm, Anderson, and MacDonald.

Fight Card To Come Off As Soon
As The Boys Get In Shape.
Daily Work-Outs

Workouts have been going on for a few days as the pugilistic aspirants get directions from Russ Bepler who has been selected by Coach Kotal to fill in the shoes of Windy Thomas. Russ is a junior here and has had lots of experience in the ring especially as a trainer of Strangler Lewis, ex-champion of the world wrestling title.

He wants to put up a ring card in about two or three weeks before the basketball season gets far under way. Russ says he needs more men. Any one even without experience is urged to come out. There is no better exercise than boxing and the scraps are arranged with regard to weight and experience so there will be no setups, and to give the crowd some real excitement.

LIBRARY ADDS OXFORD BOOKS TO COLLECTION

"Most Thorough And Complete Dictionary Extant,"
Says Allez

One of the recent and most valuable acquisitions of the library has been the addition of a set of the Oxford English Dictionary. This dictionary is, without a doubt, the great dictionary of the language. It is compiled on a different plan from any of the other Standard Dictionaries and serves a different purpose.

Word History Shown

It is based upon the application of the historical method of the library and use of words. Its purpose is to show the history of every word included from the date of its introduction into the language, showing the differences in meaning, spelling, pronunciation, usage, etc. throughout the different periods of the last eight hundred years. The authentic source of this material traces back to the writers of the sixteenth century and as many as possible of the important writers since then.

Valuable Books,

Mr. Allez has been attempting to locate a set of this dictionary, that the library could afford to buy, for some years. A recent reprint at a much reduced price has made possible the purchase and made this set available for our students and faculty.
