MR. HANSON AND MISS TILLES ON; NEW TEACHERS

To Assist Mr. Smith And Miss Jones In The History And Biology Departments

Two new faculty members have been engaged by this college to assist in History and Biology, according to word received from President Frank S. Hyer. Due to increased demand for these courses than was anticipated, it became necessary to make these additions. The new assistants are Mr. Henry P. Hanson, B.S., M.S., who will instruct in Biology and Science, and Miss Ruby D. Tilleson, B.E., M.A., who is to instruct in History and Social Science.

Wisconsin Graduate

Mr. Hanson, a resident of Madison, comes to this school with an excellent record from the University of Wisconsin, where he received both of his degrees. His first two years of college work were taken at the La Crosse teachers college. Mr. Hanson held teaching positions in both the Richland Center and the Cambridge, Wisconsin, high schools for a two and one-half year period. Last year he was engaged temporarily by the State Teachers College at La Grand, Oregon. He has, up to the present, been taking further graduate work at the University of Wisconsin.

Southern California M. A.

Miss Tilleson, a resident of Philadelphia, Wisconsin, and a former student at this college, comes equally well recommended. After graduation from this college, she taught in the Wrightstown high school for a considerable period. Miss Tilleson attended the University of Southern California shortly thereafter, obtaining from that institution her Masters degree in History in 1931.

Valuable Addition

Both teachers are particularly well qualified in their lines and will be of great assistance to Mr. Smith and Miss Jones in their respective departments. The addition of these two instructors will also mean an increase in the enrollment figures, since they are being contemplated. There will probably be more than 40 night students from Wausau alone and as many from the surrounding district.

It has been impossible to provide these night classes for local teachers because of the burden of work already imposed upon the faculty of this College.

Neuse, Leuthold Attend National Press Convention

When the Associated Collegiate Press Convention convened in conjunction with the National School Press at the La Salle Hotel in Chicago last Friday, October 13, and Saturday, October 14, Celentane Neuse, editor of the 1934 Iris, and Ed. Leuthold, business manager of the same publication, were present.

The meetings consisted of round table discussions and lectures by prominent educators and advertising men.

In the Collegiate Press division there were about two hundred men sent from most of the larger schools of the country.

Many of the colleges and universities reported they had adopted the same plan in acquiring subscriptions to the annual that we are trying this year. Every student enrolling is assessed a fee which automatically gives him a paid subscription. Notable in the list are Michigan State, Arkansas Tech., Georgia Tech., and La Crosse Teachers’ College.

Fraternity Dance

In Hotel Whiting Tomorrow Eve.

Homecoming celebrations will get underway Friday night with a pre-homecoming dance in Hotel Whiting. Phi Sigma Epsilon national fraternity is sponsoring the dancing party and invitations have been sent to college alumni.

College and high school students as well as townpeople are invited. The dance is not formal and admission price is $1 per couple. College alumni who will be in Stevens Point for the homecoming celebrations are certain to add spice to the party. This is the only form of entertainment scheduled for Friday night which intimates that it will be a gala event.

LIGHT OPERA TO BE GIVEN FOR STUDENTS

The Davies Light Opera singers consisting of a group of artists who not only are excellent soloists but also very fine ensemble singers will appear in the college auditorium next Saturday October 28. This program will be presented in the evening due to the fact that peculiar lighting effects are necessary for its successful staging.

Present Popular Numbers

The repertoire comprises music ranging from the grave to the gay – solos, duets, quartets, operatic excerpts given with costume, action and in the English language, also a sacred program of unusual worth. Students may expect to hear such numbers as: "The Ranger's Song", "The Kinkajou", "Falling in the Sun Around", "Rio Rita", "Of Thee I Sing, Baby", "The Heart Bow'd Down", "No, No, Nanette", and many other popular products of light opera.

Of the five artists who will entertain, Carroll Van Buskirk will be of especial interest to the students, Mr. Van Buskirk, who sings bass, is the husband of Kathleen Powell Van Buskirk, who attended Central State Teachers College last year. She is also a vocalist of considerable note. The Harlequin club play of last year was under her direction. In addition to this she appeared on one of the evening programs presented for the benefit of the Red Cross.

Other members of the company are: William Davies, tenor-director, Winifred Goodman, soprano, Virginia Auyer, contralto, and Marie Aドル, pianist.

Clubs, churches, lodges and other organizations before whom they have appeared have commented upon the unusual merit of the program and many return engagements have been called for.

Lights Operas

According to advance information received by the Pointer, this National Broadcasting Company radio network is offering many students with an evening of light, humorous entertainment.

MORE PROTESTS

Milwaukee seemed rather surprised when our athletic committee called them recently inquiring as to their protest if we played Grane

Apparentlv, they had a man falling under similar rules, which most likely caused them to protest before the game was played, in hopes we wouldn't discover their man; and not as Whitewater and Rau Claire did last year — protest after the game had been played.

In regard to Whitewater we can do nothing but hope that if Graney is ruled ineligible, something can be done about Munndt of

It's too late to "crow" about what happened last year, but nevertheless we are hoping the manner in which these decisions are made will be changed in some way so as to avoid the possibility of any so-called "hard feelings" which might enter into and effect the final outcome.

Carroll and Ripon are having similar annual controversies. Last year Carroll protested the Carroll-Ripon tie, Carroll's man last year being ruled ineligible. This year Ripon has two men who would be ineligible under this old law. At a recent meeting of the chairman of the conference committees, an amendment was drawn up which would make the amendment be presented to each college faculty committee.

Tough if it goes through, Carroll.

DR. JOSEPH VICTOR COLLINS

Jos. V. Collins was born on a farm 3 miles north east of Wooster, Ohio. This farm has been in the possession of his family for 144 years and he now owns 25 acres of it. He went to the country school till he was 14 years of age, after which he attended the University of Wooster for 5 years, one in the Preparatory Department, 1 in the Freshman Department, and 3 in the Sophomore Department. Following this he became a post-graduate student in Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore spending a year and a half in topology and knot theory and a year and a half in private study of advanced English mathematics books recommended for his reading by a member of the Johns Hopkins faculty. Leaving Baltimore without taking a degree he taught five years in Hastings College, Nebraska, and five years in Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, head of Mathematics department in each case. Returning to Wooster, Ohio, he has been teaching there ever since.

In 1886 he received the degree of Doctor of Philosophy from the University of Wooster, then offering post-graduate courses in letters and science and mathematics. This degree was based largely on work done in connection with Johns Hopkins. His thesis was on the Teaching of Algebra. In it he advanced the idea that the algebraic equations that fully belong to the subject of algebra should have the same notation as the other features of the subject. He was therefore anxious; that is introducing the subject, the laws for signs he taught while still in high school, the other notations to be used, and his train of thought was so logical that he was able to prove the method for justifying; and other possibilities. These features were later made a part of the presentation of algebra in the texts he wrote, and it is believed they exercised some influence on the teaching of algebra in the country.
Bill's Bull

The "S" Club asked me to give you fellows who are wearing high school letterman jackets, and are on the football team, a warning to take them off before they are taken.

Neither Graney nor Van Roo was in football suits Saturday and our pal Bud didn't take the mettle with good grace. The boys made Graney not only for his gain in the midfield but his presence keeps them cool and confident.

The Milwaukee boy didn't seem to like the Stevens Point water which incidentally is as good as any in the U. S. Probably the lack of water caused the ill-manner of Pape, the center, whose frequent ouches is now a newpremium on profanity.

Chuck Sparhawk suffered a pulled cartilage in his leg which took him out of the game but he'll probably be O.K. by next game.

The good crowds at the games help perceptibly since there are more at the home games. If the boys keep on playing games like the one last week, the fans won't be disappointed.

One of our alumni, Ollie Neuberger, who played football and basketball here, has been signed to play with the Wisconsin Dell Rapids professional football team. He played end for them last week when they defeated the Racine squad by 34 to 0.

Saturday Upsets In Conference Games

The conference upset this week came when Stotn beat Superior for the first time in six years by a 2 to 0 score. Stotn did its scoring in the first quarter on two errors by the Superior punter. He was nailed behind the goal once and missed a bad pass from center on the five yard line. Superior made their touchdowns in the fourth quarter with Ave carrying the ball.

White Water Gets Platteville

Whitewater defeated Platteville, 7 to 0, in a poor game for their homecoming. The touchdown came on a pass from Chovan to Lambie after which Chovan place-kicked the extra point.

In the second game between Oshkosh and Norbert's, the Teachers won 6 to 0. Barlow scored in the second quarter from the eight yard line. St. Norbert's threatened twice in the fourth quarter but failed by a fumble and an intercepted pass.

Whitewater Versus Point In Grudge Game

The big homecoming game next Saturday features our "pals", Whitewater, in the second last home game of the Pointers schedule. Do we want to beat Whitewater? Nothing could be sweeter. They beat us on paper last year by protesting our use of Bennie Darby. We beat them 3 to 0 on Becker's place kick after playing the strongest game a Point team had shown in years. Again this year, our friends from Whitewater collaborated with Milwaukee in protesting Graney's eligibility.

They're Tough

Whitewater was co-champion with La Crosse last year and Coach Chiek Agnew has 14 of his 18 letterman back for a third year. In 1932 the Quakers kept all conference opponents from crossing their goal line.

Last week they defeated Platteville, 7 to 0, in their homecoming. Whitewater was penalized 165 yards and played rugged ball at times. However, to combine with Milwaukee two weeks ago was tough. Coach Kluge from the Beer City says that Whitewater has a real ball club with a strong line and veteran backs.

Protest Mundt

Mundt of the Quakers' 1932 squad played ball under the same conditions that Graney has been protesting for. He had three years of ball including freshman ball before last year. Veterans who will probably start against the Point are Philips, Everhard, Chovan, and Doyle.

College Directory

Now On Sale At School Counter

The faculty and student directory was placed on sale at the college counter last Monday. This handy little bulletin, edited by Cecie Virg, contains the names, city addresses, home addresses, year in college, and the telephone number of each student enrolled at this school. In addition to this, the names and addresses of the faculty members, as well as their telephone numbers can be found there.

It is largely to the credit of Mr. Vig that he has been able to put out such a neat appearing directory this year in spite of the fact that the charge for advertising had been drastically cut. At the low cost of ten cents per page no student can afford to be without the information contained in this book.

The proceeds from the sale go to the athletic committee, all expenses of publication having been paid by the advertisers;—patronize them.

er of their drives and this one couldn't be stopped. Schmidt carried the ball around right end from the ten yard line to score. A pass, Larson to Hochschwill was good for the extra point. Score 9 to 7.

Milwaukee seemed to have shot itself in the foot because, for the remainder of the game, the Kotalmen gained consistently with Anderson hitting the line hard.

Although the Pointers were out-gained, 167 to 82 yards from scrimmage, they played heads up football and showed power when it was needed to score and a defense when it was needed to prevent Milwaukee's scoring. Don Abel stopped one drive when he came through to nail Schmidt for an eight yard loss on fourth down and one yard to go.

THE INQUIRING REPORTER

Question: Where ought the Wisconsin-Steves Point game to be played, at Madison or Wisconsin Rapids?

Mr. Heister: The logical place is Wisconsin Rapids. Very little financial advantage to either team could be derived from a Madison game. A 40-40-20 gate split would be fair.

Kenneth Olson: The game should be played at Madison. The crowd there would be as large as at Wisconsin Rapids and it would certainly help to make us known around the country.

Leonard Schell: I think that Wisconsin Rapids was in a large measure responsible for our game last year. They (the Rapids) surely ought to be allowed to get some benefit from a return engagement.

Sue Odland: I'd like to storm around Madison, and see the University defeated on their home floor. For the benefit of our large body the game should be played at Wisconsin Rapids.

Sam Kingdon: For personal reasons I'd like to see the game played at Madison. But it ought to be held at the Rapids.

Jug Marsh: If we could get enough dough out of it, Madison is OK. Nice trip.

Bob Steiner: Nothing for publication.

Spin's advice — Girls, when you get married don't let your husbands kiss you anytime they want to. If you do, they'll look up some new stuff.

Heard a good definition for a politician. It goes something like this: a politician is a man who remembers when a woman is born and forgets her age.

A seventh grade answer — singular person (in grammar) is one who isn't married.

How does the whistle work, girls? 8 out of 10 reports were quite favorable.

Next week will appear qualifications for prospective "queens" — and you know what I mean.

Have any of you peopleotten in on the ice cream eating contest at Taylor's? Sure a swell prize for the winner — and a long contest.

THESE COLLEGE WOMEN

Freshman

College at last — and all unpacked.

I'll pledge a sorority; watch me use tart.

A freshman can't date me — he rates about zero.

Give me an upper classman or a football hero.

With my lovely clothes, freckled cheeks, and all.

I'll be the belle of every ball.

They'll rush me don't worry — watch 'em fall!

Sophomore

Back again, with my hair all newly bleached.

Not very long now till my goal shall be reached.

I'll not date a freshman, but they'll rush me at dances.

I'll pick my own men — not taking any chances.

I'll smoke cigarettes with exceeding dash.

And what matter if my talk is a bit rash?

It's part of the game, it's all in the dash!

Junior

All sophistication and knowledge in my third year.

For the Junior Promenade will soon be here.

I'll flaunt arched eyebrows and cynical airs.

I'll not date a freshman — I'll take no dares!

But with talk of Passion, religion and love

I'll win that Junior president — the dove,

And look down on all others — from above.

Senior

I'm teaching classes daily, with glasses on my nose,

And wearing low heeled shoes with dull sports clothes.

I'll talk with freshmen on the campus with grace.

My vanity is gone; I'm seen carrying a brief case.

I'm a serious thinker, eagerly looking for fame.

Some professors I know and call by first name.

So a degree I'll get — but it's all rather tame.
