ANNUAL MARDI GRAS AGAIN A HUGE SUCCESS

The annual Mardi Gras, Iris benefit party, staged Tuesday evening, February 13, in the new gymnasium, again proved itself to be a financial and social success.

Both Juniors

The honor of leading the costumed grand march as king and queen of the ball fell to Nolan Gregory, Stevens Point; and to Thyra Iverson, Cape May, N. J., who were chosen from a field of four candidates for each honor representing the various classes of the colleges. Both are members of the Junior class.

Three Prizes

The prizes given to the best costumed couple went to Jean Lynn and Irene Miller, whose costumes were decked with advertisements. The most appropriately disguised individual at the dance was Fern Van Vuren dressed in spanish apparel. The third prize went to Charles Scribner as the most comical masked person. He was a "two-faced" character with clothes turned back to front.

Dancing, to the music of "The Castillians" was enjoyed from 9:15 until 12:00 o'clock.

Supplementing the dance was the show given in the main auditorium which featured George Maurer and "his gang". An added feature to the regular collegiate performance was the best of the local Mickey Mouse program which broadcasts every Saturday afternoon over the local radio station, WLBL, in conjunction with the Fox Theatre.

Radio Performers

The guest performers were: six year old Virginia Oldenburg who sang and danced; Jack and Carl

Ashmun Club Dance After Game Saturday

Margaret Ashmun will sponsor a dance in the new gymnasium Saturday evening, February 17, following the Milwaukee game.

Aaron Mannis and the collegians will furnish the music for the event. Dancing will start immediately after the game and continue until eleven-thirty.

Admission will be twenty-five cents to all. College, Prep students and Townspeople are invited.

Feb. 12

Feb. 22

February brings to us the recollection of two outstanding personalities; that of Abraham Lincoln and George Washington. We therefore dedicate this space as a reminder of those men who unceasingly live in the hearts of every true American.

Local Head Attends Dist. Band Clinic

Peter J. Michelson attended the Central State Band Clinic at Plainfield, Wisconsin last night. Mr. Michelson with band directors of approximately thirty other schools of this district was invited by the Plainfield Music Department to attend the Clinic's Monthly concert.

The Central State Clinic, affiliated with the State Teachers Association, has a concert once a month during the school term given by respective schools of the district. At these concerts the representatives, after listening to the program discuss the defects, possible improvements as well as the good features of the rehearsal.

40 Schools Included

Those schools that are included in this district are: Medford, Moline, Withee, Colby, Marshfield, Wisconsin Rapids, Port Edwards, Nekoosa, New Lisbon, Adams-Friendship, Mauston, Clintonville, New London, Berlin, Antigo, Neilsville, Unity, Owen, Abbotsford, Endeavor, Oxford, Westfield, Colona, Hancock, Plainfield, Almond, Wautoma, Wild Rose, Princeton, Green Lake, Redgranite, Weyauwega, Waupaca, Amherst, Stevens Point, Iola, Wittenberg, Merrill, Wausau, and Shawano. Since there are only about eight or nine "bull sessions" of the organization a year, it is evident that each school becomes the host of the representatives once in every four or five years.

Enrollment Lags Slightly Behind Last Semester

Figures released from the main office Monday afternoon indicate that the enrollment for the second semester will approach that of the first half of the year. Up to that time there were 798 enrolled in comparison with a total of 818 for the first semester.

An analysis shows that of the 745, 74 are night school students, and 53 are regular full time newcomers.

The manner in which the records are kept makes it possible to know at anytime exactly how many students have registered during the entire year.

Harlequin Adds 5 Members To Rolls

Harlequin, local dramatic club, held its meeting in Mr. Burrough's room Monday evening; at which time a discussion was held concerning prospective members. New active members taken into the organization were: William Therssen, Bonita Newby, William Ringness, Gideon Carswell, Ellen Thorpe. These people are qualified through having taken one major part or a minor part in two of the Harlequin plays.

The following persons were elected associate members: Leonard Scheel, Winifred Marx, Florence Knope, Viola Hotvedt, William Trindal, June Hochstaf, and Velma Scribner. The above named have taken some active part in Harlequin work.

ROBERTSON TO APPEAR HERE NEXT TUESDAY

Next Tuesday evening, February 20, Duncan Robertson, baritone, will present for the approval of college students and townspeople "his recitals of Salon Music". Mr. Robertson is not a stranger to Stevens Point audiences. His appearance here last year received the acclaim of all music lovers who were fortunate enough to be in attendance.

Unconventional Concert

From the advance advertising in the hands of The Pointer we quote the following: "It is quite evident that audiences of today are searching for music presented in a less conventional way than the regulation concert. Most of our beautiful music was composed for, and first heard in the charming informality of salons. There was an intimacy about it which time and change has almost eradicated.

Tickets in Office

This atmosphere is what Duncan Robertson is so delightfully bringing back in his Recitals of Salon Music. Sitting at the piano, chatting about the songs he sings, he is able to create a bond of intimacy between himself and his audience that makes his singing most appealing to the listener."

College students will find it necessary to secure their tickets for admission to this performance from the main office.

'Fletcher And Son' Well Received By Capacity Audience

Last Monday evening, February 12, The Interstate Players of Chicago presented a very amusing four-act comedy, "Fletcher and Son", based on the eternal struggle between youth and age. Most Senior members of the college will remember "Grumpy" in a play characteristic of the name. Bearing this play in mind we can get a very good conception of "Fletcher and Son" in which Youth thinks it can manage the world better than age.

The auditorium was crowded to its capacity, and the program was so well liked that Mr. Hyer has tried to make arrangements to have this group present the play "Grumpy" at some convenient date in the future.

ERRONEOUS IMPRESSIONS

There seems to be some misunderstanding regarding the article appearing in last week's issue concerning enrollment. Since there was nothing said about the number of students enrolled on that day, the point of controversy lies in that. We certainly appreciate the fact that an exceptionally large number were enrolled and the people working in the office are to be complimented on their efficient and speedy work.

We also agree that a more efficient system of registering the students would be virtually impossible. The secretary is constantly being called on to make various reports, plus the fact that the entire enrollment is audited each semester, and absolute accuracy as to the numbers of enrollment, etc. is essential.

However, our suggestion of dividing the numbers into their respective departments or classes had no intentional bearing on the manner in which the students enrolled or registered within the office. Our suggestion merely concerned those who were lined up outside the office door, in the hallway. The students upon entering the office door, would be enrolled in exactly the same manner in which they were enrolled this semester.

$500,000,000. WORTH OF FUEL WASTED ANNUALLY

Where does it go, or where is it wasted? It is wasted in the inefficient operation of power and heating plants in poorly constructed buildings, in obsolete equipment and many other causes too numerous to mention here.

That there is a necessity for uniform and proper temperature, humidity and ventilation in any building is undisputable; also over-heating beyond a certain determined degree is a direct loss, but no heating system or appliances will ever be constructed which will fill the requirements satisfactorily, of every occupant all the time or under any and all conditions.

In regards to humidification, this building is not properly constructed to meet the requirements of artificial humidification satisfactorily, due to the absence of double or air spaced windows or inside wall insulation. The reason being that if there were a higher percentage of moisture in the indoor air during cold weather, there would be considerable precipitation of moisture on the windows and outside walls.

As far as our heating plant is concerned I know we are operating more efficiently than a great many plants are operated — as I have the full cooperation of the fireman to this end. Students and Faculty are welcome to visit our heating plant anytime and we will attempt to answer any questions you may want to ask concerning the plant or equipment.

Yours For Efficiency

MILWAUKEE RETURN GAME HERE

POINTERS DROP ROUGH BATTLE TO SAWDUSTERS

Oshkosh Fails To Score Any Field Goals First Half Final Score 32-23

After keeping Oshkosh from making a field goal the first half, the Pointers fell before a strong rally in the final period, losing to the Sawdusters 32 and 23 in the first game on the road. The Koltmen garnered only six free throws in the entire first half, while the Centralites were making nine points.

Many Fouls

Officials called 35 fouls in what was one of the roughest games played by either team this season. Five players went out of the game via the foul route. Tardiff and Marsh each drew four personals for the Pointers while Nell, Poullette, and Wandrey offended likewise for Oshkosh. However, the Sawdusters failed on only six free throws while Kotal's boys missed thirteen times from the foul line. In an effort to save his first string lineup Coach Kotal played ten men, seven of whom contributed to the scoring. Marsh dropped in two baskets and three free tosses to lead the Pointers. Tony Hintz annexed a total of 13 points for Oshkosh on his three buckets and seven charity points. Lindow also scored heavily for the Sawdusters with a total of eight points.

Hasty Shots

Both teams shot often taking little time to aim, the Central States making 62 tries against 46 for Oshkosh. The entire game was marked by poor ball-handling and hasty shots.

BILL'S BULL

After Maurer and Mish told us that the boys had defeated Carroll we confirmed the report by calling 137. 37 and 26 seems to have been the final score which leads us to believe that either the Point cagers played especially well or else Teachers College basketball rates on at least a par with big time athletics. Future games with Carroll, U. of W., and other proposed games, increase the prestige of the school and add an incentive to state athletes to come to C. S. T. C.

When Carl Eggebrecht came onto the floor to officiate at the All-Star game Sunday he received a splendid ovation from his many friends among the fans. It's good to see some fans who aren't afraid to express their feelings.

The title-bound High School cagers advanced another peg on their journey by defeating Marshfield High 29 to 13 for their seventh straight win. Rink a, Point forward, added seven points to maintain the conference scoring lead. With but three games remaining in the schedule they only need one more to cinch the title since they are undefeated while the second place team has two losses.

Two more games are left in the Teachers schedule, one with Milwaukee Saturday and Oshkosh the following Friday. It is only fitting that we should get a chance at each of these teams who tripped us in the games last week-end.

In the Carroll game the Pointers played better ball than they have shown so far this season. Pitted against a tall bunch of experienced men the Kotalmen took an early lead and held it with an airtight defense, although both centers Tardiff and Anderson left the game on personal fouls. Marsh scored 13 points and Unferth 12, both small men against lankier opponents. The victory was costly however, in that Nolan Gregory was pushed into the bleachers and received a badly wrenched back which may keep him from the remaining two games unless it res-

Wisconsin All-Stars Rib Locals To Tune Of 43-33

The famous short-passing game of Wisconsin's Doc Meanwell, was very aptly demonstrated when six of his best men under the appellation of the Wisconsin All Stars defeated the Central State 1933 Champs Sunday 43 and 33. Mathusen, Steen, and Paul were especially proficient in the art of slipping the ball through the hoop while Guy Krumm dropped in seven buckets and a charity toss to annex the evening's scoring honors.

Rivalry between Art Thompson and Bud Foster the two centers was intense, but sportsmanly, and seemed about even. The Wisconsin stars played a fast breaking game which included all five men as scoring threats. Mathusen, diminutive forward, was not only the offensive threat but his defensive play was outstanding.

points well to treatment. If Greg is out of the Milwaukee and Oshkosh tilts, the squad will be without either of its co-captains since Krumm has been out all season. It's Greg's last year of competition and we want to see him finish his last games on this floor.

Although the Pointers started out fast they succumbed to the strong Green Gulls of Milwaukee in the second game of the road trip. The first half ended with

LOCALS HAVE TOUGH BILL TO FILL SATURDAY

Milwaukee Out To 'Get' Point On Home Floor. Kotalmen Want Revenge

Fans will see the best team in the Southern Conference when the Milwaukee peds arrive here for a return game with the Pointers Saturday. They gave the Central State cagers a 37 to 28 shellacking at Milwaukee just last Saturday and the Kotalmen will be out to avenge the defeat. Heretofore undefeated on their own floor, the Pointers will put up a real scrap.

Game With Large 'G'

A slight point of vantage seems to lie with the locals since Milwaukee will be in the same position they found us in last week-end. The Penwellmen face Oshkosh Friday which should slow them up in their game here, just as Oshkosh slowed the Pointers up the night before the last Milwaukee tilt.

Milwaukee is the only Teachers College in the conference which hires separate football and basketball coaches. Herman Kluge handles the gridders and Guy Penwell the cagers. This advantage is always keenly felt in both sports.

Would Trim Us Again

Undefeated and at the head of the Southern section of the conference, the Milwaukee peds aim to beat the Pointers. If they do they will be the first team to defeat the locals twice this season. Whitewater and Platteville couldn't do it.

CONFERENCE STANDINGS Southern Division

Milwaukee enjoying a one point lead, 15 to 14. At one time the Kotalmen led by 9 points.

Paul Humke, veteran forward, was high scorer with 15 points for Milwaukee. Tardiff and Unferth made the most points for the Centralites. Jug Marsh and Nolan Gregory played fine floor games until Marsh was forced out of the game because of personal fouls.

Library Adds New Books In Varied Fields

By HUMPHREY A. OLSEN

The College Library placed 1106 new books on its shelves during 1933. During the present year as many more will be added, new ones being received and put in circulation each week. The library staff suggests the following books so that you may start the second semester right:

Haggard, Howard W. The lame, the halt and the blind

As fascinating as "Devils, drugs, and doctors" and containing many curious illustrations. A resume of modern medicine from the Middle Ages to our time.

Hoover, Calvin B. Germany enters the third reich

A thoughtful analysis of Hitlerism today by the economist whose "Economic life of Soviet Russia" is preeminent in its field.

Blackett, Sir Basil P.
Planned money

Sir Basil reexamines our monetary system and attitude towards the international gold standard in the light of changed conditions.

Roosevelt, Mrs. Franklin D.
It's up to the women

A vigorous plea for women to make the best use of their influence in both public and private life.

Stewart, George. The white armies of Russia

"The first book to give a complete picture of all the attempts that were made to overthrow the Bolsheviks."

Sullivan, Mark. Over here, 1914-1918

(v. 5, Our times series)

Cartoons and contemporary photographs illustrate this most recent volume by the well-known newspaper writer.

Skinner, Constance L. Beaver, kings and cabins

These adventures in the rise and fall of the American fur trade read like a novel, and are written by a native of British Columbia.

Thwaites, Reuben G., ed. Early western travels, v. 21

Accounts of two western journeys in the 1830's which helped focus attention on the Oregon country. Edited by Wisconsin's great historian.

Aldrich, Bess Streeter.
Miss Bishop

A novelized picture of the strong influence a teacher wielded in the early days of a middle-western college by the author of "A lantern in her hand."

As we left Dr. Collin's room I thought it was about time that we got out into the open air, for my mind was completely upset. Peg suggested that we go over to the College Eat Shop and have some sort of mild refreshment. We hurried down the main stairway and out the center door.

Out where the campus used to be was Mr. Stein with a hoe in his hand. He was working to beat fury under the electric lights. He had a fine crop of potatoes.

When we got to the place where the Norwegians hang out we noticed that it was padlocked and that a big logging chain hung across the door. In huge bold faced type were these words: "No Norwegians allowed. In case of emergency they may be found at the academy, north of the city, where they now reside. Nygard, Swenson, Johnson, Gunderson, Toberson, Anderson. They have all gone".

By this time we were used to finding things upset, so we went over to the Kampus Kitchen. We enjoyed our little stop there, for the proprietor was Donald Mills. Peg and I danced a few times to the music of Wayne King Mannis and his Texas Cowboys.

Thinking that it would be a good idea to report these strange findings to the administration we stopped into see Dean Steiner. Peg was supposed to have a class under him at that hour. I figured that if he knew she was with me that he would not be angry. In we walked, and there he was. His long yellow hair hung down to his shoulders. His bright checkered suit was sadly out of press. The entire class was either sleeping or visiting. As we entered he raised his violin to his shoulder and played charmingly, Mozart's "Rhapsody in Blue". When he had finished that number he said to Peg: "Well I'm glad you got here sometime. I just told the class that if they didn't get their term papers in this week to see if they could make it by the end of next".

ANNUAL MARDI GRAS AGAIN A HUGE SUCCESS

Walczak, age 5 and 8 respectively, who entertained with the ukulele and popular songs; a quartette of flaming youths who call themselves "The Old Timers", consisted of Edmund Bartkowiak, Robert Borchart, Joe Alfuth and Johnny Phiffner; and a troupe known as the "singing trio", juvenile songsters, including Grace and Alice Borchardt, and Helen Walchak.

In addition to the regular stage lighting effects a spotlight was employed to add color to the presentations.

COMMENT ON MARDI GRAS

Dear Editor:

I wonder why the students hang on to an institution that is dead. Hereafter, have your last fling before Lent, but frankly give notice that it is not a costume ball. The students are either too young to play or too egotistical to imagine themselves in any roles but those they are living every day. People who Masquerade do not wish to be apart from the scheme of the evening. The preponderance of opinion from those who have come to the dance in the customary dresses and suits make those in costume feel estranged and uncomfortable. Either taboo costuming at the next Mardi Gras or start an advertising campaign two weeks ahead of time that will be so irresistible in its appeal that no one will come to the dance without being dressed appropriately for such a gala event. ## Van Hecke-Hotvedt

Students, faculty members, and alumni of Central State Teachers College will be pleased to learn of the recent marriage of Miss Frances Van Hecke, and Mr. Burton Hotvedt, both of whom were former students of this institution.

The nuptial knot was tied by the Rev. Father Casey, last Saturday morning at 9 o'clock, at the St. Stephens parsonage in this city. Miss Margaret Levi was maid of honor, and George Maurer was the best man. Both of the attendants are regular students here now.

While in attendance at this school the bride was a member of Tau Gamma Beta sorority. Mrs. Hotvedt was also active in college music circles.

The groom, a '33 graduate, is a former editor of The Pointer. During his career here he was exceedingly active in extra-curricular work. Among his many affiliations were memberships in the following organizations: Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity, Bloc, "S" club, Margaret Ashmun, and Sigma Tau Delta. To him goes the distinction of being one of the founders of Bloc honorary, and of being its first president.

Last spring he was awarded the Phi Sigma Epsilon plaque as the result of having been judged, by a faculty committee of five, to be the most outstanding man in school. At the present time, "Burt", as he is familiarly called, is employed in the advertising department of Worzalla Publishing Company of this city.

The marriage is the culmination of a romance which started while both were students at Central State.

The Pointer wishes to extend to you, Mr. and Mrs. Hotvedt, its sincere congratulations, and to wish you a long and happy married life.

NELSON HALL

We are glad to report that the lost article advertised last week has been returned in good shape.

Miss Dorothy Nelson, who is ill with scarlet fever, has been sent home for six weeks. Her roommate, Lillian Holt, will also remain at home for ten days.

Several new girls have taken up residence in the dorm for the second semester.

What has happened to the familiar whistled strains of "Sweet Adeline" which sounded so cheerily in the halls?

A Valentine Tea was given by the Y. W. C. A. in the reception room of the dormitory last Saturday afternoon, at which the ladies of the faculty and college were guests. Next Thursday evening, February 15, a particularly interesting program will be given at which Mr. Spindler is scheduled to speak. Everyone is welcome to attend.

Greek Council Elects Geo. Maurer Chairman

The Greek Council, representatives of all Greek letter social organizations on the campus, met last Tuesday afternoon.

George Maurer, of Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity, was chosen president of the order for the ensuing semester.

One of the most important actions taken at that time, and one that will be of special interest to prospective pledges, was the lengthening of the pledge period from four to five weeks.

Rushing of pledges formally begins next Tuesday, February 20, and ends Thursday of the following week, March 1. Pledging begins Tuesday, March 6.

Plans for a Greek dance in the near future were discussed.

an expressive reading; Bob Broome will croon several numbers; and the Menzel twins are scheduled to render several piano selections. The Rev. Joseph Schaefer of Custer has been secured to give an interesting talk on an appropriate subject.

The group picture for the Iris is to be taken before the program opens. All members are requested to be on time.

Elect New Members

Sigma Zeta will meet Wednesday evening, February 21, at which time they will elect new members for the coming semester. Following this short business meeting, Mr. Clifford Drake, who is affiliated with the Consolidated Paper Company, will be featured on the educational program. The lecture will concern the subject of "Science and the Paper Industry". A trip through the mill under the supervision of a mill guide has been arranged, which will immediately follow the discussion.

The Beauty School
by Helena Rubinstein
Noted Beauty Authority

"Chapped Skin Arrested!"... "Girl Condemned to Loneliness Because of Imperfect Complexion"..."Wrong Makeup Ruins Evening". If I had a beauty newspaper, as you have your own college newspapers, these are the headlines I would carry. But this is more than news! It may also be the beginning of a new interest and a new method of acquiring beauty for those who think their problem is entirely strange.

Truly, Beauty problems are ever old — yet always new. There is always a solution for your particular problem, therefore. But the problem itself is peculiarly your own.

For example, in the case of chapped skin — which many of us take as a matter of course at this time of the year — the solution is very simple. Just use a youthifying foundation cream before you go out and face the wintry breezes. Use a rich pasteurized cleansing cream after exposure, followed by a skin toning lotion. Then your face will remain soft and clear, and these months will help you on the road to new beauty instead of holding you back.

As for a poor complexion — many girls are so self-conscious about it that they try to ignore it! Naturally when the skin is left to its own devices it becomes worse and worse. There are scientific reasons why you should get rid of imperfections just as soon as they appear — and the most insistent reason is this: they will keep appearing in the same place unless you get rid of them thoroughly.

In general a poor complexion needs thorough cleansing with a gentle, efficient wash or pore paste. This should be supplemented by using a good acne cream every night, and a flattering snow lotion during the day to soothe and conceal blemishes. More advanced conditions require special treatment, which I'll be glad to tell you about, if you write describing your skin problem. But no matter how bad it is, remember that others have attained a beautiful skin in spite of the same handicap — and you can, too!

My last headline — about wrong makeup — should never need to be printed. But unfortunately, many girls lack the necessary finesse in using cosmetics that marks the sophisticated woman. And often too, cheap cosmetics which look all right when they are first applied, become more obvious as time goes on. Let me help you on makeup so that you can exercise your own good judgment in choosing the right shades and applying them correctly.

SIXTEEN ARE GRADUATED; SOME PLACED

June Graduates Already Securing Positions Have Contracts

The college careers of sixteen in our midst have culminated with the completion of last semester's work. The following have completed their respective courses: Helen Switzer, 4 yr. Home Ec. — Ruth S. Leiser, One yr. Rural — Winifred Koske, 4 yr. Primary — Herbert H. Hadow, 4 yr. High School — Henry G. Klimowitz, 4 yr. High School — William D. Stout, 4 yr. High School — Ottilia A. Vogel, 2 yr. Rural Supervisor's — Grace L. Blackford, 4 yr. Rural Supervisor's, — E. Blanche Dunning, 4 yr. Rural Supervisor's — Charles D. Aldrich, 2 yr. State Graded — Alice G. Curtis, 2 yr. Primary — LaZett Schmidt, 2 yr. Primary — Pearl O. Beck, 4 yr. Home Ec. — Alice Mae Dorsha, 4 yr. Home Ec. — Augusta E. Miller, 4 yr. Home Ec. — and Malcom Anderson, 3 yr. State Graded Principal's Course.

None of the above named people have been given a definite teaching position as yet, however, Mr. Herrick informs us that there are several bright prospects.

People who are to graduate in June and have already secured positions are: Ruth Whipple, Stevens Point, Intermediate; and Evelyn Becker, of Pardeeville, Primary.

Other graduates who have recently secured jobs are Gerald Olson '33, 4 yr. State Graded. Principalship, in that field; near Crandon, Wis., Frances Anderson '31, Grammar Course, will teach at Friendship, Wis. Miss Helen Lansbach '33, Primary, is now teaching at Galloway, Wis. Miss Mabel Williams '22, Primary, is teaching the third grade at Almond. Miss Helen Tisserand '30, Primary, also teaching a third grade at Baraboo, Wis.

EXCHANGES

You's and Me's—
from Gustavian Weekly
You play football, I sing in the choir; you're in the all college play, I'm on the swimming team; you study French, I speak Spanish; you write poetry, and I edit the sport page. In other words, what makes our college if it isn't just "you and me"?

It takes all sorts of personalities, interests, and purposes to make a real school. Here we are — all different, yet all perfectly human collegians. How trite — impossible for all of us to believe and do exactly the same things! No, you do this and I do that — just to balance things up a bit. Only preserve the beauty of what you ARE.

Let's "you and me" be mutually sympathetic — good sports in appreciating each other's interests.

From the Lincoln Log

The student gets the paper,
The school gets the fame,
The printer gets the money,
The staff gets the blame.

From the Fordham Journal

At Fordham university, it appears that the faculty are appointed by name. Father Deane is dean, Father Whalen acts as dean of discipline, Mr. Shouten is in charge of debating, and Mr. Voekl (pronounce vocal) is in charge of the glee club.

From the Eau Claire Spectator

Richard E. Hibbard, 1932 graduate of Eau Claire Teachers College, has been awarded a graduate fellowship by the newly established Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy.

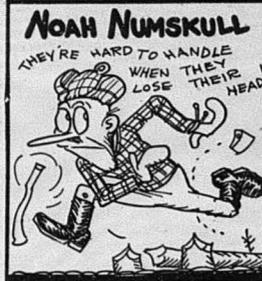

Hibbard received the appointment as a result of his thesis on "Conditions in Greece Following the World War Period". He has much first hand information on the subject, having lived in Athens for five years.

The Fletcher School, administered by Tufts College and Harvard University, is a highly specialized graduate school, the primary purpose of which is to prepare for the professions of international law, the diplomatic and consular services.
