EVENING PROGRAM WEDNESDAY

PHILHARMONICA ORCHESTRA HERE UNDER FAMED CONDUCTOR

Unusual Opportunity To Hear The Best That Can Be Offered In Music

The second evening entertainment of the 1934 Student Entertainment Course will feature the Little Philharmonica Orchestra, Wednesday evening, October 24.

Meet Shapiro

Mr. Shapiro is a conductor of unusual merit and magnetic personality. He has for the past twenty years enjoyed the success as Conductor of the foremost Symphony Orchestras in Europe. The audiences of The Little Philharmonic Orchestra may look forward to the unusual and delightful experience of hearing the great Symphonic works, inspiredly performed by this unique combination.

As many townspeople have purchased reserved seats a section will be set aside for their convenience. Admission to students will be by ticket. These tickets are:

Free Fox Passes
Given This Week

In accordance with the policy outlined last week, three Fox Theatre tickets are to be given to students each week — absolutely free. Various and devious schemes in awarding the pastebounds will be used. This week three lucky students — selected at random in the student directory — that will receive tickets are: the 20th name in the B-section; the 21st name in the S-section; and the 6th name in the L-section of the student directory. If you are one of the winners see Howard Kujath, Pointer business manager, and enjoy a good movie.

Debate Plans Are Being Set

The current debate season will get under way when Professor L. M. Burroughs meets his prospective debaters this afternoon at 4 p.m. in Room 221. Prospects for a championship squad are dubious as the entire championship team graduated last spring. This will leave vacancies to be filled by newcomers. Mr. Burroughs requests that anyone interested in debate whether or not they have previously had experience on the rostrum, be present this afternoon.

December 8, will see the initial effort of the C. S. T. C. debaters take form at La Crosse in a Teachers College Debate Tournament. A squad of eight will be carried on the trip to represent C. S. T. C.

Some of you former high school debaters are welcome to try out. No doubt the team will be picked from new material. Whether or not you have had experience — give it a try.

Teacher's Convention Creates Vacation

Two weeks from the day you read this everybody will be reveling in four days of vacation. Our faculty will go to Milwaukee Teachers' Convention for recreation and inspiration; our students will go home for food and clean clothes. In everybody happy!

LITERARY EDITION PLANS SET;
MR. BURROUGHS BACKS PROJECT

English Department To Sponsor Literary Issue; Entire Special Staff To Be Selected Soon

The issue of the Pointer for the second week after Christmas will be devoted entirely to the publication of the literary efforts of the student body. The English department under the supervision of Leland M. Burroughs and a staff chosen by him will be in charge of the publication. All students with a literary bent are to be given a chance to emulate their glorified predecessors in the hope that some writer of ability hitherto unknown might be brought to light. All manuscripts published will appear under the names of the authors. A variety of types of prose and poetry including essays, short stories, book reviews, lyrics and sonnets is anticipated.

The value of the opportunity is best summed up in Mr. Burroughs statement, "The student who would succeed today must be able to use his native tongue. If he can

Margaret Ashmun Club Sponsors Project

Margaret Ashman club is attempting to help all the school organizations by offering to their officers a short course in parliamentary procedure, the backbone of all meetings. Thirty minutes at the beginning of all meetings will be devoted to practice sessions and discussion of questions which arise in club meetings. President Hyer and Mr. Rogers, head of the social committee, have given their approval of the move. Miss Allen, active in club work for many years, has accepted the position as leader of the discussions. This should be of value to all groups, and it is expected that representatives be sent to the next meeting, to be announced by the Pointer.

Iris Heads At Chicago

Central State Teachers College was represented last week at the Chicago Convention of the National College Press Association and College Annuals Association by Professor T. A. Rogers of the faculty, Robert Emery, Editor of the Iris, and Wilson Shander, Bus. Mgr. of the same publication. Sessions continued from Thursday through Saturday. All of the speakers on the program were men of the highest standing in the field of college annual building, printers, engravers, binders, cover-builders, editors, business managers, and heads of publications boards of the largest universities addressed the group. As a result, the three who attended say that this year's Iris should be as good a book as can be put out at this school. We have every reason to expect that they will carry out their word.

The trip was not entirely confined to business, either. The boys had lunch with Emery's old friend, Miss Chicago of 1934. The boys also enjoyed a trip through the Chicago Tribune Plant and editorial offices.

Departmental Meetings After Assembly

There will be division meetings Thursday after Assembly. The High School department will meet in the auditorium, the Grammar and Intermediate departments in Mr. Watson's room, the Primaries in Mr. Steiner's recreation room, the 'Rurals in the Rural Assembly, and the members of the Home Economics department in Mr. Smith's room. If you want a hand in what your department does, be there.
Nelson Hall

The girls who are doing light house-keeping downstairs must be an extraordinary good cook, for they have mice for star boarders!

June Hochstail and Fern Van Yuren spent the weekend in Chicago.

Alice Martin and Dorothy Brey went on a weiner roast Sunday into the jungles with their Tarsins.

Ruth Mary Bowers of Wausau visited the Blake sisters over the week-end.

Ignatius Mish spends his spare moments trying to sell the new dorm girls insurance.

Roberta McWilliams and Louise Kissinger went on a picnic Sunday with friends from Westfield.

Sally Harsh is one of the girls who has vim, vigor and vitality. When the car broke down in which she was riding, she grabbed her suitcase and promptly hitch-hiked home.

Philharmonic Orchestra Here

Sam can procure upon the presentation of your student activity ticket at the office. Only four hundred tickets have been set aside for students — first come — first served.

Famed Orchestra

This orchestra has delighted many audiences throughout the United States and Europe. The personnel of the group includes many notable figures of the musical world. Mr. Hyer is to be congratulated on being able to secure the services of this well known organization for the pleasure and entertainment of the students at C. S. T. C. as this group is ranked as being top-notch among the musical organizations of the world.

Grammar Round Table Keeps Won Prize

Did you know that a week from last Monday, Mr. Watson's house was lawfully entered, and that the unlawful "enterers" took away more dollars than they brought in? And did you know that the coeds have taken to buying three flights of stairs to hand in their order, their lyrics, and their ballots.

We feel that three rousing choirs are in order, for if anybody should appreciate step savers it's the Dormites. We observed Saturday that preparing a meal in the cozy kitchen of theirs is as good as a Walkathon.

Students

Di Crosta-Ferrari Presentation Pleading

Di Crosta-Ferrari in presenting their Musical Moments proved vastly entertaining. The Assembly was amazed at the talent and agility displayed by Andrew Di Crosta. He was not content with playing separately several difficult passages, for he could only play them all together throwing into the discard the belief that "only one thing can be done at a time." His partner, Lenora Ferrari, exhibited a charming personality, a remarkable voice, and skill as a piano accompanist.

Passes Are Prize For Subscriptions

Any student wishing to earn a Fox Theater ticket may do so by selling a year's subscription for the Pointer. The price is $1.25 cash for the remainder of the year. Those of you financially embarrassed who have been unable to take that "dream girl" or "dream boy" courting are being given the opportunity to dissipate this difficulty; avail yourself of it.

Literary Edition

Nelson Hall Gets New News Box

The Pointer is about to play Indian Giver to the gals of Nelson Hall and put a news box in the office of that building. The idea behind it all is that more contributions may be forthcoming, if the coeds don't have to trip up three flights of stairs to hand in their order, their lyrics, and their ballots. We feel that three rousing choirs are in order, for if anybody should appreciate step savers it's the Dormites. We observed Saturday that preparing a meal in the cozy kitchen of theirs is as good as a Walkathon.
Phi Sigs Give Rushing Party

The evening was spent playing all the usual card games including a new one originated by the Phi Sigs, called "sawt hearts!"

Burton Hotvedt reviewed the history of all fraternity organizations in school, particularly the history and growth of the Phi Sigs.

Other guests present were Professor Schmecke, faculty advisor, Coach Kotal and Mr. Charles Na-

Omega Breakfast at Hotel

A rushing breakfast was given by the Omega Mu Chi sorority at the Hotel Whiting, Sunday morning, October 14 at 9:00 o'clock.

Little lavender sachet bags were given each guest as a favor.

A bowl filled with colorful assorted fruit made a particularly colorful and striking centerpiece.

Progressive Dinner

The Tau Gamma Beta sorority hosted a delightful progressive dinner last Saturday evening, October 13, for their rushers. The formal attire of the young ladies lent an air of sophistication to the affair.

The cocktails were served at the home of Miss Florence Knope, and the main course at Miss Barbara Jour's. Miss Virginia Scribner served the salad course and Miss Magdalene Wolf, the dessert.

The evening was spent at bridge at the home of the latter. Prizes were awarded the holders of high and low score among the rushers.

Outdoor Rushing Party

The Phi Deltas featured a novel rushing party last Sunday night. Twas in the form of a weiner roast with a huge fire built on a rocky point on the Wisconsin River about which the men sang and told stories. Before the evening had ended all the fellows had been initiated into the "one-foot-wet" club — the charter members getting both feet wet. Weldon Leary spoke on behalf of the charter members.

Lutheran Students Meet

The First English Lutheran students met last Wednesday night and elected the following officers: Hertha Totzke, president; Doris Johnson, vice-president, Emma Roethal, secretary-treasurer, and John Brooks, publicity manager. Dr. Repper, Mr. Knuzen, and Miss Carlson were appointed advisors.

Second Conference Grid Tilt Brings Stern Competition For Locals

Kotalmen Ready

With a record of four straight wins (only one of these conferences) to top off the first half of the current season, the Stevens Point Teachers will turn to foreign fields in hopes of furthering their string of conquests. The woundedness at hand has to do with disposing of Milwaukee, who last defeated the Kotal men in 1932, after which the present conference winning streak started — a run of twelve wins and one tie, conference and non-conference games included (figures from Iris '33, '34).

Lampe Lost To Squad

Some observers aver that the local crew have been mightily lucky in winning, pointing to the small scores; others hold that Coach "Eddie" has been content to win, and is holding something in reserve for the downstaters. Everyone will admit that in the matter of major injuries the squad can be congratulated; only one disability of great proportions has occurred, and that resulted from the ineptitude of Clark Lampe, a fine back field prospect. It would be wrong to state that no injuries hamper. Frank Menzel's wrist and shoulder ligaments are still bothersome and brother Ted's ankle has been a source of some anxiety.

The usually durable Becker was not gently handled in the Oshkosh game, and reminders of this same game linger on in a visible shape with other members of the squad.

Milwaukee Next

Optimism has risen to such heights in the land of the old Wisconsin concerning past records and future hopes that many are inclined to view with concern the effect of this mental influence on members of the squad, most of whom hardly need to be reminded that the conference season is only one fourth completed, and that Milwaukee, Whitewater and Platteville await us just around that proverbial corner and they carry "staffed" clubs for Kotal and Company.

Milwaukee All Set To Spoil Two Year Record Set By Purple and Gold

Milwaukee Proves Worth

Now to turn to Milwaukee: Pleasing memories arise among our athletes when one recalls the name of one Wilbert Pape, last year's Milwaukee center, and skilled linguist of parts and not all of them the best parts, as Bob Murphy will testify. Mr. Pape is now a tenth part of the coaching staff, for there are nine other coaches and Milwaukee products assisting head coach from left to right: Manske (not "eggs"), Thiele, Czech, Miller, Max, Boll, Irish, Santo Curro (who once punted 100 yards for Lincoln High-Milwaukee) in 1928; all these in addition to Mr. Herman Kluge, head football coach, and co-work er with Mr. Penfield, who coaches basketball, being represented by two coaches in their major sports.

Kluge Sings Blues

Mr. Kluge was generous enough to concede the championship to Mr. Kotal and cohorts in the newspaper papers before the season opened, but nevertheless he will not waive the formality of playing off the coming contest, all of which leads to make one think of this game with the fingers crossed — Milwaukee has not lost a homecoming game in ten years.

About the make-up of the Green outfit this year: seven letter men from last year, Flaherty and Chesner (tackles) are the only line hold-over from last year. Tony Karpowitz, whom the Milwaukee Echo dubs all-conference full back last year, is again in the harness. Joe Javoluce, Ray Schmidt, and Marty Larson are co-partners in the backfield. The most promising "Freshmen in the history of the school have supplemented these men.

Four Games Remain

The balance of the conference season in brief — on Oct. 29th at Milwaukee; on Oct. 27 Point plays Illinois Wesleyan at Bloomington, Ill.; on November 3rd our team journeys to Whitewater; the season closes with Platteville here on Nov. 19th.

Northland Defeated In Second Half Touchdown Spurges

Music! Lights! Curtain! Amid a glamorous setting of some 1700 fans, musical, plenty of thrills, and batteries of lights which turned the night into day, Stevens Point rose up to topple a plucky Northland outfit by a 19-0 score on last Friday evening at Goerke Field. It will still belista to take the triumph in thirteen starts for Kotal's boys as recorded against in previous seasons have worked toward demonstration that Central State has many reserves who can keep faith with the regulars. The victors rolled up their first downs to two for Northland. Home touchdowns were negotiated by Murray (21) and Becker. The grase was wet giving the game a somewhat ragged appearance at times, due to fumbles. Tom Benson, who has risen to such heights, was not "eggs". The fumbles volunteered whenever Point threatened in the first half, throughout the opening period the fight was all in Northland territory.

Point strategy in the second half consisted of kicking the kicks on which they gained much ground.

Milwaukee Lost Opener

Carroll defeated Milwaukee 6-0 in the season's opener. The Green Gulls gained fifty yards on three passes, but six were intercepted. Four times Milwaukee held within their own five yard line. Wheaton College (Ill.) won the next one 13-12; Kluge used many new men.

In their first conference game on Oct. 5 Platteville succumbed by a 18-3 score. Platteville lead 15-12 with five minutes to play, when Milwaukee drove sixty-five yards for a touchdown. Karpowitz (full back) and Schmidt (half back) led the drive. In the White water-Milwaukee game last Saturday.

HERE and THERE

a columnist's column

By word of mouth, over the radio, and through the press, praise of Central States’ band and its director is sung. With the exception of the University of Wisconsin, no institution in this state possesses such a well known musical unit.

It may be local pride, and we don’t claim to be an authority, but we believe that Peter Michelsen is one of the outstanding band men in Wisconsin.

Witness his work at Richland Center High School where one year he placed fifth in a national meet, and capped the state contest ten times. His first season here he directed 30 students, his second 50, his third 64, and now 72 in band alone. Remember the well organized festival of last spring, which nearly 1,100 young musicians participated in.

Include symphony orchestra, girls’ chorus, and light opera and you better appreciate the scope of his activities.

His success lies in quality as well as quantity. The product of each of those organizations is a tribute to the members and the director.

Mr. Michelsen’s success here lies in his musical ability. It lies in his practical organizing ability. It is due in no small part to the cooperation of the administration. It is due to support given freely by the townspeople. It is due to the high caliber musicians he has among his players.

It is logical to assume that even Sousa couldn’t get music out of a bunch of empty seats. Sousa couldn’t make a lot of chairs march. Sousa couldn’t whip a band into shape unless his charges practiced regularly. Sousa couldn’t make a Victor Herbert out of Stranglers Lewis. Michelsen can’t either. The individual players deserve a great deal more credit than they ordinarily get.

Arlie Mack believes that band music made him a world’s champion shot putter. While competing in the Olympic games in Los Angeles, Arlis stepped into the ring for his third and final try, a beaten man, and he knew it. Just as he settled into position from far across that vast stadium floated the last, stirring strains of that beautiful, martial march — “On Wisconsin.” It thrilled that huge mass of muscle and brain to the core, and he left the chalk marked circle a winner.

Our own band looks pretty well on parade, except for the fact that those twelve who march without uniforms spoil the whole picture.

ECHO COMMENTS

Hockey

After two weeks of consistent practice on passing and driving tactics, the hockey women began their first scrimmage this week on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday nights. Roberta Williams, our hockey sport head, wants the thirty women who have reported to be out for practices this coming week so that plans for regular games and a fall tournament may be begun.

Archery

There have been on the average of fifteen women sending those arrows winging down to the target each Monday afternoon at the Schmeeckle field. The plans are being arranged for the fair archers to shoot a Columbia round this fall that they may get an inking as to their own prowess. A Columbia round consists of shooting twenty arrows at distances of thirty, forty, and fifty yards with the scores for each six arrows recorded. Girls’ Scouts are required of each bull’s eye. We hope we can keep up with the Girl Scouts. Figure this one out, yourself.

Hiking or Muscling

To Freshman women who wish to become acquainted with central Wisconsin country and to other college women we say “Meet your pals on the dorm steps this Saturday afternoon at 2 P. M. in low heeled shoes, and clothes warm enough for comfort”. We’re off for a hike, after races, and where — Points toward a letter are given for this. Sign on the WAA bulletin board if you’ll be there.

Pointers Play At Milwaukee

day the Green Gulls were victorious by a 50-score. In the Pointer of last year we find this comment following the 9-7 C. S. T. C. victories: “Ray Schmidt, substitute halfback of Milwaukee, scored their touchdown after hitting the line and going around the end for long gains. He is heavy and fast, proving hard to knock off his feet.”

Echo Comments

From the Milwaukee State Teacher’s College “Echo”, concerning their 60-victory over Whitewater last week: “The lone touchdown was scored in the first quarter by Ray Schmidt, substitute halfback, on a sweeping right run from Whitewater’s four-yard line. Karpowitz slashed off left guard on the next play for a first down and then alternated with Schmidt in carrying the ball to the four-yard stripe. Karpowitz’s place kick was wide.”

This man required to make a well known musical rating, which every person in attendance could hear. This man required evidently never gets a chance as a regular, except when a touchdown is in sight. Now it couldn’t be possible that they’re saving him for the Point!

A large crowd of Pointer fans will journey to Milwaukee for the game.

De Wolf Hopper, actor and opera star for many years, has been chosen as the narrator for a new type of symphonic program to be broadcast over the NBC-WAG network beginning Sunday, October 14, at 4 P. M.

Symphonic compositions of high quality but light in character, a type of music heard frequently in Europe but seldom offered by American symphony orchestras, will feature these half-hour concerts by the Kansas City Philharmonic Orchestra.

De Wolf Hopper will return to radio to discuss the selections to be played.

As soon as a week ago Dr. John Stevens, chief of the council, issued the first call to the Greek group to prepare for a pledge period that will occupy the last 15 days of October and the first two weeks of November.

The last week of pledging is "Hell Week", and the pledges will no doubt need all of Thanksgiving vacation, which begins the 28th, to recuperate. The Council also decided to continue the rules of no pledging activities in school or on the campus, or downtown where they interfere with business.

The Council is made up of the President and one representative from each social organization. The members are:

Phi Sigma Epsilon
Asher Shorey, President
Arba Shorey
Tar Gamma Beta
Margaret Turrisi, President
Florence Knopf
Chi Delta Phi
Richard Schwahn, President
Nolen Gregory
Omega Mu Chi
Jane Anderson, President
