FORENSIC CONTEST SLATED FOR SATURDAY AROUSES STUDENT AND FACULTY INTEREST

Jack Burroughs, Dick Tuthill, Arba Shorey, Ventura Baird, And Virginia Watson Will Represent Central State On Rostrum

Students and townspeople will have an unusual opportunity to hear fine speaking this week-end when the State Forensic contest is held here, Saturday, March 16. Five schools, including Eau Claire, La Crosse, River Falls, Carroll, and Stevens Point, will participate in the six events which will be held with at least one entrant from each school competing. The judging will be done by the coaches, with each ranking all contestants except his own.

Contest Begins At 1:15

The contest will be opened by a business meeting at 10 a. m. The drawing of topics for the women's extempore speaking contest will take place at 11 a. m., and the contest will begin at 1:15. The general topic is "The American Home of the 20th-Century".

The men's extempore speaking will begin at 2:15, with the drawing at 1:15. The topic is "Youth and the Changing Social Order." At 3:30 the oratorical declamation contest will take place. These selections are from standard authors, and are 12 minutes in length. A special dinner for coaches.

Men's Chorus Concert Scheduled March 21

Just one week from today the Men's Chorus will again appear for its Annual Spring Concert. Next Thursday evening, March 21, at 8:00, Mr. Knutzen and his band of "canaries" will again fill the air with their lilting arias and beautiful harmonies.

Considering the work which they are doing this week in the northern part of the state and Michigan, they should certainly have an interesting and well-worked-out program for us when they return. As has often been repeated concerning the programs, they will not consist of straight chorus numbers. They will include also such things as vocal and piano solos, saxophone quartets, readings, etc.

Those of you who heard the group last year will recall the excellence with which their work was carried out. Advance sale of tickets will begin next Monday. The 'popular prices' used for the band concert will be adhered to.

IRIS NOTICE

Those wishing to have snapshots appear in this year's Iris are herewith warned that none will be acceptable that are not in the Iris office before March 22.

Davis Light Opera Company Presents Program; Large Student Turn-Out Expected To-Night

Davis Troupe Composed Of Accomplished Artists Who Have Pleas'd Point Audiences In Past Years And Who Offer Unusual Program

The Davies Light Opera Company will present a program here tonight at 8 p. m. This company should be of special interest to Stevens Pointers because it includes as one of its members Mr. Carroll Van Buskirk of Stevens Point, a graduate of Central State Teachers College.

This company has appeared here several times before, each time meeting with great success. Included on the program will be selections from the classics; selections from such as "Of Thee I Sing", Rio Deta, and "No, No, Nannette"; and selections from the operetta, "Bohemian Girl".

The Davies Light Opera Singers consist of a group of artists who not only are excellent ensemble singers but every one is an accomplished soloist.

Judging from the success of this group at their previous appearances it will be well to come early to obtain a seat.

Margaret Ashmun Club Sponsors Story Contest

Plans for the annual Margaret Ashmun Club short story contest, which is open to all regularly enrolled students, have been announced. The contest is held each year to encourage and stimulate interest in literary endeavor among the students. George Simonson is chairman of the contest committee, and judges will be announced later.

The stories will be judged on originality, plot and local color, and are limited to 2500 words. Entries should be given to Mr. Burroughs, Thyrsa Iverson or George Simonson. The first prize winner will receive a membership in the Margaret Ashmun Club, and there will also be awards for second and

Neusse-Coached Team Enters State Finals

The Antigo High School debate team, winner of the debate tournament held here recently, and coached by Celestine J. Neusse, an alumnus of C. S. T. C. is entered in the Wisconsin State High School debate finals. It is a credit to this school that in his first year of teaching, Neusse has been so successful in leading his team to the state finals.

WELCOME BACK, JOHN

John Urbanowski (the janitor) has again returned from a short stay at the Madison General Hospital, and taken up his janitorial duties here. We hope you are here for keeps John, and that your ailment has been successfully overcome.

SINGING ALONG THE WAY!

Grrr — ind! went the gears, and Connie (our bus driver) released the clutch. No! "Lizzie" wouldn't move. But Connie was equal to the situation! He knew his load, so all he did was to ask it to sing "ah" at a medium forte toward the rear of the bus. And it (the bus) began to move, due to the wonderful principle of rocket propulsion. And so the "singing club" was off along the dusty concrete, hoping to reach food and shelter before nightfall. Let's hope that it did, and that bouquets of flowers and not vegetables were its reward in those burly lumbering towns of northern "Badgerland."

This morning, they are probably sleeping yet while you are in school or assembly. Getting their needed "ten-hours", no doubt.

O yes, I haven't told you who it is I am talking about. Pardon the omission. It is the Men's Chorus, on their annual long trip.

Michelsen Returns

From Convention

Last Monday, Professor P. J. Michelsen returned from Cincinnati, where he attended the annual convention of the American Bandmaster's Association. The convention had a good attendance, 65 of the 72 members being present.

Concerning the aims of the organization for the coming year, Mr. Michelsen said that they "are trying to get the city bands in action", also, he said that "it is for the betterment of the school that we go to the conventions — to broaden our cultural backgrounds and profit from the educational value of music."

Senior Announcements Have Been Ordered

Members of the Senior Class will be interested in knowing that graduation announcements have been ordered from the L. G. Balfour Co. of Massachusetts, and will be delivered soon. All Seniors who want announcements (at a cost of about 5c apiece) should leave their order for any number at the Counter, and pay for them when they are ordered. Distribution of announcements that have been ordered will be made at a later date. That's all: Line form to the right.

EDITORIAL COLUMN

Central State pays dividends in the form of additional positions for its graduates when alumni like Neusse at Antigo, Gordon at Wittenburg, McDonald at Abbotsford, Stauffer at Mosinee, and others too numerous to mention, earn enviable names for themselves as teachers.

Central State's most efficient salesmen are its alumni. If the graduates who secured positions in past years are termed "successful teachers" by the schoolboards who employ them, every student who is now attending this college will profit thereby. When schoolboard members say, "We want more teachers from Central State Teachers College", some one, apparently without realizing it, has played the role of a salesman.

Hats off to those whose work has made our row an easier one to hoe!

Our school is growing because it has something worthwhile to offer prospective students. College isn't a game of "take"; each institution must have something to give as well. Students are lured by a multiple of things. . . . the unusual our school offers is a tempting bait. We sponsor an athletic program that repeatedly brings honors in the form of championships; we partake in music activities that include in their repertoire band and glee club tours; the forensics field includes participation in a dozen tournaments throughout the northwest. . . . Why shouldn't high school seniors interested in debate or music or athletic choose our college when their interests parallel our varied activities?

A good product is never short of buyers.

The theoretical college radio studio has become a reality. Generous alumni are contributing (thanks to the efforts of Prof. F. N. Spindler, Chairman of Committee on Alumni Relations) to the project fathered by our college president and partially sponsored by the senior class. Soon we hope to have good news for you.

Had we been prophets capable of foreseeing another championship. . . this time one on the hardcourt. . . we would have budgeted and planned another championship souvenir edition. As it is we're in the dark. . . and it isn't night, neither.

If education consists of a variety of experiences, we find ourselves richer, yet poorer.

SHOTS AT RANDOM

GLEANINGS:—

SUNDRY and DEVIOUS

After the La Crosse game the team changed its plans and decided to stay there for the night. Coach Kotal, telephoning the game results to his wife, gave each boy, who so desired, the opportunity to have their folks notified of the delay. Asher Shorey declined the invitation, as far as his folks were concerned, but suggested that Mrs. Kotal notify Nelson Hall.

Each succeeding generation is called anew to decide between what they should do and what they would like to do. How many times has the reprover, "that isn't right", brought the rejoinder, "I know—but it's lots of fun!"

The question in the eligible girls mind no longer is: how much does he yearn for me? the y has become silent.

The Newfoundland Banks are the only known ones which pay regular dividends on watered stock.

Commander Byrd should feel at home in Stevens Point — it isn't far from Pole to Pole.

The turbulent reign of George III which washed away the English Colonies in America was nothing compared to the Johnstown flood.

In Mr. Glover's History Class we learn that the Sultan's Harem was a hot-bed of intrigue — and from what I've read elsewhere that ain't all.

Roosevelts "Back to Normalcy" platform and his action upon assuming office of sponsoring the repeal of the 18th amendment seems to infer that sobriety is not normally American — if that be true, the great increase in the number of accidents indicates we are well on the road to the Pres. goal.

Jack Ogg was bemoaning the difficulties confronting a Senior taking a Sophomore Course. He objected chiefly to the fact that the Professor in charge knowing the grasp he had of the subject refused to let him recite for fear he'd monopolize the time. With so many perplexing problems still unsolved it seems poor policy to stifle the fruits a fertile mind might bear.

When people talk about how good they are — they're thinking about how good they would like to be.

Purgold Invade Northern Section To Topple Co-title Holders

History does repeat itself, as Don Unferth, Micky Anderson and Oscar Copes can testify. The last time these fellows visited La Crosse (last fall) as members of Eddie Kotal's football squad the team defeated La Crosse and departed with what later turned out to be a state teachers championship. On last Friday this same trio and their teammates, Captain

The first half started out with both teams feeling their way cautiously and it was ten minutes before a field goal was registered. In the meantime Butterwick (forward) had scored two free throws and Watts (forward) and Carsten (center) one apiece to one free

THE PORT OF MISSING MEN

Lost, Strayed or Stolen

According to our good friend and confrere, Mr. Harry Gorwitz (sports editor of the student Oshkosh Advance), who edits an excellent sports column entitled "Personals and Technicals", and whose content last week was mostly "Personal", concerning recent arrivals at the Point and the U. of Wisconsin and lachrymal troubles, a Mr. Van Ryzin, late of the U. Wis. freshman cage squad and earlier of Appleton, has enrolled at this college.

We Were Surprised

As Mrs. Ace would remark, "You could have knocked me down with a fender." When we read this in the aforementioned column, on a particularly troublesome Monday morning, last, our first impression was one of consternation, that we had not been apprised of this notable addition to Central State.

It has always been a time honored custom here to go down to the railroad station in a body, led by the college band, and the faculty in cars, to fittingly welcome gentlemen of the sporting fraternity in proper style.

How Would You Feel?

Well, you can imagine how we felt, and we could imagine how Mr. Ryzin felt, as the second flitted by into minutes, with still no one to welcome him, as he sat in his lonely suite of twenty-one rooms at the Hotel Whiting and soliloquized on the injustices of mankind, and the lowliness of his present estate, which was not at all suited to this Ryzin young man.

While wondering who was responsible for this social slight, we vowed to remedy things, with the result that, though our mammoth presses were hungering for their weekly fare, we clapt a hat and coat on our staff photographer, and sent him forth into the night with instructions never to darken our bath-tub again until he had obtained a picture of Mr. Van Ryzin, our unexpected guest. The result was that our photographer returned with the cut inclosed. (To The Left.)

Come Home — All is Forgiven....

Among the various mysteries which have confronted the American newspaper guild, none was more intriguing than the circumstances attending the disappearance of Charlie Ross many years ago. This age-old problem was never solved.

Where, Oh Where, Has He Gone?

The problem of what has become of a well-known athlete yeleft Van Ryzin, somewhere in transport, bids fair to take its place among the unsolved mysteries of all time, second only to the strange case of Charlie Ross. As our own dean jocosely requested, "Will all those who are absent please hold up their hands?"

throw by Rinka, and one by Unferth. Krumm then pushed in a rebound to tie the score at 4 all. Horvath (guard) dribbled in to lay-in a basket for La Crosse. Eckerson tipped in a rebound and the score was again tied. Watts laid in a soft one and Unferth tallied a free throw. Eckerson made it nine points. Don Johnston dribbled in for the next two counters and Watts caged a rebound as the half closed, with the Pointers leading 11-10. Marsh added two field goals and Unferth one before Watts tallied on a free throw to open the half. Johnston dribbled in again for a sucker shot and La Crosse finally tallied two points on Horvath's rebound. Eckerson and Marsh added free throws and Johnston another bucket and Point led 23-13, for their widest margin of the game. Butterwick and Carsten scored free throws and Butterwick a field goal to set the score at 23-17. Don Unferth caged another and two free throws, while Carsten added two free throws and Horvath a field goal. Marsh added two free throws and Collins turned in a field goal, winding up Point's scoring. La Crosse tallied on a mixture of free throws and baskets to make the final count 31-25.

Pointer Stars

Johnston's fine ball-handling and defensive play intrigued the fancy of the La Crosse fans; Don also accounted for six points via field goals. Point's other Don (Unferth) tallied eight points, evenly divided in free throws and field goals. The old jugger Marsh was right in there again with seven points. Earl Eckerson, the versatile southpaw, accounted for five markers. While the squad was kept pretty busy keeping track of Watts, Horvath, et. al. other members of the squad (Krumm, Collins, Rinka) contributed to the evenings proceedings in a scoring way also.

EXTRA!

STEVENS POINT SUPERIOR GAME

(BY SPECIAL WIRE TO THE POINTER)

Point 31; Superior 38

The Stevens Point Teachers dropped their final game of the season to Superior by a 38-31 score last night. The game was close all the way and the score was tied frequently. Haugen, gigantic Superior center, featured for Superior, scoring eight field goals and two free throws for a total of eighteen points. Unferth and Marsh scored eight points apiece to lead the Pointer attack. The score at half time favored Superior 18-14.

That the game was closely contested was borne out by the fact that Avis (guard) and Matthews (forward) were retired on fouls, while Schultz (forward) and Haugen (center) had three fouls each. Marsh, Eckerson and Krumm were charged with three fouls each.

The Point missed sixteen free throws out of twenty-five chances. Superior missed nine out of thirteen.

With only a few minutes to play Point pulled up to within three points of a tie, but Superior pulled away on field goals by Haugen and Schultz. Haugen tipped in many rebounds and push shots.

The officials were Connell and Padden, both of Superior. The Superior team leaves this week for Denver, Colorado to enter the national A. A. U. tournament.

Question: When is a pledge not a pledge?
 Answer: When it's disrespectful!

Write that on your heart in words of fire, o, ye aspirants to Greekhood, and remember you cannot stay a pledge forever. Either you graduate to sisterhood or brotherhood, or you are dropped, firmly and unkindly. And that this last may not happen, take for your commandment: Honor the actives. Say "Mr. Blank" and "Miss So and So" with a smile. Run errands as though you loved it. Complain not at a daily schedule that includes 5 trips to town and 3 suits (or dresses) to be pressed for the brethern and sistern. Neither scrubbing floors nor washing dishes is too lowly a task for you. And for your reward expect nothing except comments like: "What a lousy job!" or "couldn't you get up a little speed?"

Never complain..... never try to get out of a job..... never get tired..... never rebel, and if you do all this..... you're a better pledge than the actives ever were!

Have we no chivalry in these here parts? Our beloved teacher and inmate, Miss Tilleson, was out shoveling the walks Monday in order to better our walking conditions. Paging Sonny Boy!

Margaret Mollen went to Appleton with her mother.

It's surprising what the depression can bring about! Several of the dorm Home Ec's are eating their own baking. One became so ravenous that she didn't even save the required center slice of her bread for examination of the texture. That's hunger for you!

By the looks of things around the dorm all of the girls don't expect to be old maid school-teachers. A large percentage of them have started their hope-chests by embroidering table scarfs etc. That's the ole spirit girls!

Jane Livingston has the measles.

It was rumored around the dorm that Louise Kissinger liked mice. She was presented with one Sunday wrapped neatly in a box. Louise didn't realize it was her favorite pet and placed it in water thinking it might be a bomb. O, Louise!

PEARL BECK '34 PASSES AWAY

The school has been saddened by the news of the death of Miss Pearl Beck which took place early this month. Miss Beck was graduated from Racine High School in 1919, and from the two year Home Economic Course at C. S. T. C. in 1921. She then taught Home Economics at Shiogton, Casseville,

Pearl Beck

Patch Grove, and Plymouth. After this teaching experience, Miss Beck returned to Central State where she received her B. E. degree, in February, 1934. She was doing substitute teaching at the Racine Junior High School when she became ill with flu which later developed into pneumonia. She was taken to Rochester, Minnesota, where death occurred. All who knew Miss Beck will join us in our expressions of sorrow and sympathy.

Debaters Won Thirty During Past Season

A resumé of the 1934-1935 debate season brings forth the fact that the four teams made a collective record of 30 victories and 23 losses in inter-scholastic debates in the four tournaments entered.

In the contest at Luther College, Decorah, Iowa, the teams won four and lost four. Jack Ogg and Charles Cather tied for first by winning three of their four debates. In the tournament at Moorhead, Minnesota, Arba Shorey and Don Hickok won five of six decisions to tie for first place.

The teams won seven and lost six at Eau Claire. The decisions were so spread over the entrants that no school was declared winner of the tournament. The climax to the tournament season came at St. Paul when Virginia Watson and Helene Waterman won third place in the women's midwest contest at St. Catherine's college. The four teams won 14 and lost 12 debates in the contest.

Besides the decision debates, the squad was also active in non-decision contests at these various tournaments, and met Wheaton College and St. Thomas here, while Arba Shorey and Charles Cather travelled to Chicago to meet Loyola University.

Forensic Meet Saturday

es and judges will be given at 6 p. m. The evening program will begin at 8 o'clock. At that time the contests win humorous declamation, original oratory, and serious declamation will be held.

Five Pointers Compete

Local speakers will include Jack Burroughs in original oratory, Richard Tuthill in oratorical declamation, Ventura Baird in serious declamation, Virginia Watson in extempore speaking and humorous declamation, and Arba Shorey in extempore speaking.

The winner of the original oratory contest will represent the state of Wisconsin in the interstate contests at Northwestern University April 25 and 26.

Prospective teachers should be greatly interested in this contest, since nearly all the high schools of Wisconsin are active in forensic work of this type. Everyone will be admitted free of charge.

Senior Play Cast Practicing Diligently

Rehearsals for the Senior Class Play to be presented April 10 and 11 have been held every evening this week. If hard work and co-operation are any indication, this will be one of the big successes of a successful year. Miss Florence Glennon, director, leaves for Chicago this week end to look for special costumes and music — just another indication that the play will be worth waiting for. The people who make up the cast are as follows:

Jack Ogg, Edna Crocker, Leo Flatley, Eugene Taage, Art Laabs, Otis Michelsen, Yvonne Dallich, Thyrsa Iverson, Velma Scribner, Nolan Gregory, Art Nygard, Richard Gunderson, Bob McMillan, John Bombera, Bob McDonald, Viola Hotvedt, Bonita Newby, Jane Anderson and Marion Murgatroyd.
