Fall Tour Begins Tomorrow

Knutzen Schedules Six Concerts For First Chorus Trip

Following a successful concert at Montello, Mr. Knutzen and his popular Glee Club leave today at noon for several more engagements.

The Club will sing at 2 P. M. today at the Abbottsford High School. Wilson Schwahn, an alumnus of this college, is a teacher there.

Immediately following this program the men will go to Colby for a concert at 3:30 P. M. This will be given at the high school. The fellows will give another program at 8 in the evening and remain at Colby for the night.

Students To Direct

Friday morning the club will sing at Granton at 11 o'clock. They will lunch there and then go to Greenwood for a 3 o'clock engagement. Richard Schwahn, a former member of this club, is now at Greenwood. The last concert will be given at Loyal at 8 o'clock. The men will remain in Loyal overnight and return to Stevens Point Saturday morning.

On this trip, Director Knutzen will give the student directors an opportunity to demonstrate their skill. In this group are Kirkwood Likes, William Theisen, George Cartmill, and Bill Larson.

On the tour the Club will feature Tom Faucett, Delos Kobs, William Theisen, Kirkwood Likes, and Jerry Doherty as vocal soloists. Fred Parfrey will solo on the piccolo and flute. The quartet, composed of Likes, Peterson, Cowles, and Clements, will sing at several of the concerts.

Miller Is Accompanist

At each town on the tour there is an alumnus of C. S. T. C. who in some way was influential in sponsoring the Glee Club. S. J. Paynter, principal at Abbottsford, is a night school student here. Principal Harry Bender at Colby is president of the alumni association of this college. Frank Gordon teaches at Granton, and Herbert Hadow and Jean Lynn are at Loyal.

Margaret Miller, active in band and orchestra at Central State, and well-known piano player, is accompanist for the Club.

Speech Class Presents Play This Evening

"The Adding Machine", a play in seven scenes, will be presented tonight at 8:00 in the college auditorium by the members of Prof. L. M. Burrough's speech class.

Student director for the play is Shirley Webster. Phil Runkel, art director, has designed scenery which will express the impressionistic feeling of the play. Lighting effects will also help to create a dramatic mood.

Radio Equipment Installed, Tested

The new radio equipment, including high fidelity microphones and amplifiers, arrived during the holidays and was installed on Monday. Testing of this equipment took place last Monday afternoon and according to the technicians, the tests were very satisfactory.

A test program was held last Tuesday afternoon when the Mens Glee Club put on a program. This was very satisfactory also.

Professor Collins will be interviewed today at 4:00 on the weekly spot broadcast. He will talk on the school and the faculty.

White, Famous Lecturer, Here This Morning

Mr. Harry C. White, philosopher and scientist-lecturer, will deliver a lecture on "Man Power of America" and "The Wonder of Science" this morning at ten. The lecture, illustrated with valuable paraphernalia, pertains to the accomplishments of the men of the scientific world and their lives. Mr. White dwells on the lives of these men to awaken in every man his duty to his fellowmen to make use of the privileges and opportunities which are his.

Associated With Gen. Electric

Demonstrations which are his will show light turning a corner, invisible rays that will turn cold stone into red hot masses cold enough to hold in bare hands, radium treated flowers, and additional light phenomena. The material will serve to illustrate some of the various steps forward in the progress of civilization since the day when man first developed a medium by which he used artificial light until the present day when mankind has light at the touch of a finger.

Mr. White has had years of experience as a lecturer, appearing in the United States and in the principal countries of Europe.

Seniors Sign Tom Temple

Tom Temple and his fourteen piece orchestra have been engaged to play for the Senior Ball by the music committee. A talented group of feminine entertainers will appear with the band.

Advance Ticket Sale

Web Berard, chairman of committees for the dance, announced recently that an oriental theme has been decided on for the dance. Decoration committees are working hard to transform the gym into a scene of oriental splendor for the occasion.

An advance ticket sale will be held beginning today, and those who wish tickets can buy them from Web Berard or at the college supply counter.

The big event is not far off, so hurry and get your dates, fellows.

Standards Raised In All Departments

"All four academic divisions, the high school department, intermediate department, primary department, and rural department, are moving toward the standards demanded at the state university for the Ph.B. and B. S. degrees," declared Professor E. T. Smith in a recent interview. "We want to be ready," he said, "to grant this degree in case the state legislature should ever make it possible for teachers colleges to do so."

Three Major Changes

These statements were made in view of the changes which are being made in the curriculum for the new catalog which will be issued soon.

There are three major changes in the courses of study which will affect every student, no matter which department he is in. These have been made, as has been indicated, to bring the requirements more nearly to those which are required at the university.

The first change is in the science requirement. Beginning

BITS

The staff of this paper is always interested in receiving comments on how to make its sheet more interesting and valuable for the students or the faculty. It would welcome any suggestions which may be presented.

It has been mentioned before in these columns that material which is to appear in the Pointer should be in on the preceding Monday evening.

The Pointer maintains a rather extensive exchange system with all the other teachers colleges in the state and with several private colleges and high schools. This may be of interest to students who desire to find out what other schools are doing. The Pointer staff is more than willing to accommodate anyone who may wish to make use of these exchanges.

Each year, there are a limited number of bound copies of the Pointer made up. Some of these will be on sale for the student body. It would perhaps be advisable to get your order in early if you wish to obtain one.

Conference On Educational Broadcasting Dec. 10-12

The announcement was recently made that the First National Conference on Educational Broadcasting will be held in Washington, D. C. on December 10, 11, and 12 in 1936. This is especially interesting to this school because of our connection with the local radio station and our radio hours of the past several years. The local college radio staff will be watching with interest the ideas which grow out of this conference.

An Annual Plea—

"It is the little things that count."

Christmas seals are tiny things but they count greatly in the fight against tuberculosis. Tuberculosis kills more people between the ages of fifteen and forty-five than other diseases and yet it can be prevented.

This is our chance to help prevent these unnecessary deaths. We all know the many uses this money serves. Sanatoria, nurses, school checkups, summer camps, are but a few of the projects. Remember that every Christmas Seal is a vote against T. B.

An unpurchased Christmas Seal cannot fight for your health.

Curriculum Changes . . .

with next year, every student will be required to complete 20 hours of science, or 20 hours of science and mathematics combined, instead of the 10 hours which is demanded now.

The second is to offer a new science course for freshmen and sophomores which may be taken instead of any of the three sciences which are offered now. This will be a survey study of geology. The main aim of this step is to relieve the existing congestion in the biology department.

The third change is that four extra hours of English composition, beyond freshman composition, will be required of all students who do not take any foreign language. A similar course at the university is known as "Intermediate Composition".

New Courses Out Soon

Changes in academic majors and minors are also being affected, but these will affect only those who are studying in those fields. In English one contemporary course will be dropped and replaced by a period course. The changes in the history department are discussed in another article.

Mimeographed sheets listing all the new courses which are to be offered will be given out soon so that they may be available to the students in building their programs for the second semester.

History Fields To Be Changed

The changes in the curriculum which are being effected at present are perhaps most evident in the history department. Formerly, students who took major or minors in history were not required to specialize. They were allowed to make up their requirements with a scattered array of courses.

Under the projected change, there will be three major fields of the study, American History, European History, and Cultural History. Students who enter any of these fields will be required, as they are at present, to take the same basic survey courses in their freshman and sophomore years. In the junior and senior years, however, specialization in one or more of these fields will be required (this, of course, applies to those who are taking history majors.)

An attempt is also being made to avoid overlapping in the fields which the various history instructors cover. As the plan is now, Mr. Smith will handle the ancient and cultural history courses, Mr. Jenkins the medieval history, Mr. Tolo the English and modern European history and Mr. Steiner the American history. The complete segregation of each of these fields is, of course, impossible, but an attempt is being made to allow each man to handle the field with which he is best acquainted.

Assembly This A. M. . .

His philosophy is backed by experiences in the World War, where he received recognition for service from France and his own country. Since the close of the war he has been associated with the General Electric Company as Supervisor of Industrial Relations. In this position he has been in close touch with many of our greatest scientists with whose work and experiments he is thoroughly conversant.

According to those who have heard Mr. White's lecture, the program to be presented this morning should be very much worth while. He not only dwells upon the scientific nature of man's progress but presents a philosophy of life that is of interest and value to everyone.

"Three Taps At Twelve" Nears Production Date

On Thursday, December 18, the College Theater, an organization formed for and by the students of C. S. T. C., will present their first play of the season, "Three Taps at Twelve." This play, a mystery thriller, is to be presented in the college auditorium with clever and weird lighting and scenic effects furnished by the scenic technician, Robert Bretzke, and the lighting technician, Don Colby.

Tickets On Sale

The cast, directed by Phil Runkel, is Jamieson Edwards, Harold Reichart, a cunning old gentleman with a fiendish sense of humor; Mrs. Gage, Joan Schell, the shrewish wife of Mr. Gage, henpecked inventor, played by Keith Aulik; Dick, John Yurkovich, a resourceful nephew of Mr. Edwards; Cassie, Janette Van Natta, sweetheart of Dick; Mrs. Baker, Kathryn Duskey, a fluttering widow; Dr. Hull, Ward Whitaker, a fluttering politician; Dahlbeck, Fred Parfrey, a nervous druggist; Catfish, Joe Bloom, dullwitted college student.

Tickets may be purchased from Ben Laschkewitsch, who is business manager of the organization.

Junior Pointer Has Anniversary Issue

The Junior Pointer, student publication of the training school, celebrated its tenth anniversary by the publication of an anniversary issue of the paper last month.

Letters were sent to many graduates of the training school who responded with letters telling of their work and what they have been doing since they left the training school.

The first issue of the Junior Pointer is included in the paper, showing what remarkable developments have been made in publication of the organ since its beginning ten years ago.

Editor-in-Chief of the paper this year is Ruth Michelsen and the business manager is June Halverson.

Alumni Meeting Held

The Alumni get-together luncheon of the Central State Teachers College which was held in the Club Room of the Schroeder Hotel in Milwaukee on Thursday noon, November 5th, was a very decided success. About sixty-five alumni and faculty members were present. Old acquaintances were renewed and new acquaintances made.

A short program was held. Mr. Harry Bender of Colby, President of the association, presented Mrs. Mary D. Bradford, founder of our C. S. T. C. Junior High School, and President Hyer. Both briefly greeted the guests.

This luncheon has become an annual affair and is looked forward to and largely attended by our alumni.

Large Turnout For Basketball Practice

Initial Cut Made, Twenty Two Left

Rinka Not Available For The First Few Hardcourt Contests

With the first basketball game only a few days away the cagers have been going through their paces in earnest under the watchful eye of Coach Kotal. Central State will open its season on the hardcourt Monday, December 7, with St. Norberts as its first opponent.

Rinka Injured

The first cut was made the beginning of the week which reduced the squad to the following men: Anderson, Rinka, Bishop, Bohan, Brunner, Duecker, Jaaska, McAllen, McGuire, Metcalfe, Polebitski, Rusch, Sprede, Warner, Johnston, Nimz, Lindow, Schneider, Parish, Miller, Christenson, E. Belongia, and R. Belongia.

The team, in its first few games, will be without the services of Chet Rinka, star forward and co-captain of this year's team, who is out with a broken bone in his foot, but he should be able to report for practice soon if the injury responds to treatment. Chet was one of the leading scorers in the conference last year and he will be greatly missed in the early contests.

Last year the Pointers were undefeated in fifteen contests and of that championship five only one man was lost—Captain Unferth, who is coaching at Mauston, Wisconsin. Coach Kotal's problem is to find someone who can take Unferth's place and who is capable of playing the brand of ball, which Rinka, Lindow, Nimz, and Johnston so consistently showed last year. Good reserves are also in demand since the one weakness last year was a lack of reserve strength.

Schedule Temporary

The men who have shown up rather well in practice so far are Brunner, Warner, Bohan, Rusch and Polebitski, all freshmen, and Parish, Schneider, and Miller besides the regulars who are gradually acquiring their mid-season form.

The complete schedule is not as

Coaches Choose Honor Members

Athletic directors of the Wisconsin State Teachers College Conference met in Milwaukee November 19 to choose the all-star teams for the northern and southern divisions; adopt the 1937 football schedule; and decide to abide by the National inter-collegiate basketball rule retaining the center jump.

Boxers Practice For School Bout

The date for the all-school boxing bout has been tentatively set for Wednesday, December 16. Coach Berard hopes to have his squad whipped into shape by that time and expects to present a well-coached group of fighters in their first public appearance.

Turnout Fair

There are openings in all of the weights with a decided shortage in the lighter classes. Anyone who can fight in the 115 lb. group is urged to report for as yet no one has signed up although there are many in school eligible for this division.

The following men have been reporting for practice daily: Hutsell, Grandkowski, Hubbard, Peterson, Baker, Drobnick, B. Slotwinski, Torbenson, Stanelle, Whittaker, Whipple, Hoffman, Hodell, Judd, Laschkewitsch, Young, Cook, Brill, Lawrence, Halla, Groves, Miller, Yurkovich, Brady, Kendall, Michaels, Felix, Cady, Skinner, Casky, Sharkey, Henninger, Brunner, and Pashisny.

Of this group Young, Laschkewitsch, Judd, Whipple, Hubbard, B. Slotwinski, Torbenson, Stanelle, and Hutsell have shown the best form. However, nothing definite at the present time has been done regarding the final selection of the boxing squad.

Prospects For B. B. In Other Schools

The conference basketball race should prove to be quite a tight affair this season if reports from the other Teachers Colleges are to be taken at their face value. Almost all of the schools are looking forward to successful seasons with the Whitewater team being considered as the team to watch this year. A brief account of each team's prospects is given below.

Stevens Point

With four of the first five of last year's championship team returning Coach Kotal should present quite a formidable outfit. Other returning lettermen are Hitzke, Parish, and Schneider, and also Miller and Christenson who were on the squad throughout the season but failed to win their letters.

Oshkosh

Prospects at Oshkosh are looking bright this year with Lautenschlager, Derr, and Daniels returning as the main cogs in Coach Kolf's machine. Lautenschlager and Daniels are especially good players and with some support would put Oshkosh in a contending position for the leadership.

Platteville

Possessing practically the same team which finished with a strong spurt at the end of the season last year, Coach Leil is hopefully looking forward to a continuation of the type of play shown in the waning stages of the '35-'36 conference season.

Milwaukee

Basketball practice is in full swing for the Green Gulls with the addition of the football men. Coach Penwell has seven returning lettermen about whom he will build his team with Nasgovitz, Rudiger and Kleinmann expected to be the backbone. Promising reserves are Gunville, Kamens, Kitchen, Peterson, and Tews.

Whitewater

Coach Agnew has a squad of sixty men reporting to him every night but expects to cut this number to twenty before long. Austin, Farina, Andrews, Koepin, and Goers are the nucleus around which Agnew expects to build his championship-aspiring team. Prominent newcomers are Solmaons, Schuch, Yunkow, Seeker, and Strawhaacker.

Rules Committee Meet At Point

Three rules interpretation meetings are to be held soon under supervision of C. M. Ewers and H. R. Steiner. These meetings are arranged by the W. I. A. A. and are placed in the hands of men on the rules interpretation committee of the W. I. A. A.

Rules Explained

The first meeting has been scheduled for December 7 at Wausau, the second is to be held the following day, December 8, at Stevens Point, while the third and final meeting of this season shall be held at Rhinelander on December 10. In order to be classed as an approved or certified official, attendance at one of these meetings, which are held throughout the State, must be recorded and the required examination grade attained. Since only approved officials are eligible to officiate in basketball tournaments, anyone wishing to handle such a tournament must receive the approval at the rules interpretation meeting.

All high school coaches and all officials in this district attend these meetings and have any questions on rules explained as well as obtaining the explanations of changes in rules this year. In order to clarify interpretations, often demonstrations are given and after all questions have been answered, the examination is given for the officials. This year, as in the past, more than a hundred men are expected to attend the various meetings.

Sports Gossip

Amen!

We are calling our predictions "quits." (In fact we have been politely and sometimes not so politely asked to refrain from deciding the games before they were actually played—they claim interest wanes when the outcome is known). Our season average is .850 or, stating it more clearly, correct guessing on seventeen out of every twenty. Success, at least we call it so, has not gone to our heads for we firmly believe in the old proverb "Success has turned more heads than halitosis!"

Top Hat And All

Who is the magician in the Navy backfield? In the Army and Navy game, Saturday, a rabbit made its appearance on the football field and for a while appeared to intend to join the Navy ball carriers.

All Puffed Up

Fritz Nimz, basketball and football player, seems to have acquired popularity in places other than the football field and basketball court. Fritz won the popularity contest sponsored by Point Merchants and was awarded a Waltham watch as first prize. Instead of his success swelling his head, his tonsils swelled and Fritz has taken a temporary rest.

W. A. A. invites all women in college to its "White Elephant Party" to be held on Wednesday, December 9th, at 7:30. In order to be admitted to this party, you must bring one "White Elephant" and also fifteen cents. A "White Elephant" is some object which you have in your room or in your home which no longer appeals to you. Come for an evening of fun and—a new "White Elephant"!

W. A. A. Squads

This is the last week in which girls may join squads for competitive sports. The squad paper is on Miss Richardson's bulletin board. Remember to sign up this week if you wish to play ping pong, deck tennis, volleyball, or basketball. The squads will soon be called together to choose a name and a leader. Squads will receive more credit for a large enrollment than for victories won by the squads. Get your squad organized now!

Ping-Pong

The ping pong tournament will begin December 7th and will run for two weeks. Forty-three girls have already signed up, so if you are interested in playing, sign up this week. Squad two has only six members while squad one has eleven people. Let's make them equal before Monday.

Deck Tennis

Have you ever played deck tennis? Come out and join the thirty-six other girls who are enjoying it. Squad two is looking for more members.

Volleyball

Volleyball squads will start their matches on Tuesday, December 8th. There is a total of twenty-six participants already signed up to play. One squad has only four players. Sign up this week if you are interested in taking part in the tournament. Get your squads together and practice!

Basketball

Forty-three girls have registered for basketball. However, there are still some squads which haven't a sufficient number of players. Squad three is made up of only five men. The basketball squad teams may arrange for special practices with Miss Richardson. Why not begin to practice now?

Stenographer: "Your little girl wants to kiss you over the phone."
Busy Manager: "Take the message. I'll get it from you later."

Debate Meeting Led By Reppen

Professor N. O. Reppen led a discussion on the question of enacting minimum wages and maximum hours for industry at a debate meeting last Monday night held in Mr. Burrough's room. After he presented both sides of the question from his view point he invited the debaters to ask questions and an informal round table discussion was held.

Mr. Burroughs has definitely received information that the St. Thomas debate tournament, which usually is the climax of the season for the local debate squad, will be held on March 1, 2, and 3.

The debate meeting next week will be held on Wednesday at 4 o'clock. No speaker has as yet been invited to lead the discussion but it is expected that a faculty member will be present to discuss the question.
