Vacation April 3-13

Vacation is near at hand. It will be hailed with relief by C. S. T. C. students who are fatigued with their efforts to acquire satisfactory grades under the new code. By the way, this might account for the length of the vacation from April 3 to April 13. And, when classes begin at 8:15 on Monday morning, April 13, how many will recollect that thirteen is an unlucky number?

Beekler Memorial
Bouquet Displayed

"On some shell—scarred battle slope
I have a Rendezvous with Death"—
Allan Seegar.

The memory of Rex C. Beekler, a former student of Stevens Point Normal School, killed in action a few days before the signing of the Armistice, has again been perpetuated by a beautiful gift of flowers from relatives of the deceased. Each year these flowers make their regular appearance, adding a gay touch to the second floor corridor as they cluster just below the college World War memorial tablet—and yet they bring home again the horrible tragedy and futility of war. Soldier Beekler was just twenty-three years of age.

Forensic Meet
Held Saturday

Lester Steinloff of Platteville State Teachers College, winner of first place in a state oratorical contest held at Central State Teachers' College last Saturday night, will represent Wisconsin in an interstate oratorical contest at Northwestern University in April.

Stevens Point won one first place, three seconds, and three thirds in six contests that made up the forensic meet. Michael Zylka, Stevens Point, won first place in extemporaneous speaking. Other local winners were Karl Braeker, second in oratory; Lucille Hickock, second in serious declamation; Robert Vennie, second in oratorical declamation; Helen Keel, third in humorous declamation; Virginia Watson, third in extemporaneous speaking, and Jack Burroughs, third in extemporaneous reading.

Schools competing were Stevens Point, Eau Claire, La Crosse, Platteville, and White Water Teachers colleges, and Marquette University. Professor L. M. Burroughs was chairman of the faculty committee in charge of the arrangements.

KOTAL MENTIONED
AS PROSPECT FOR
WISCONSIN COACH

In his column, "Between You and Me", Ronald McIntyre of the Milwaukee Sentinel, states what may happen if Guy Sundt is named director of athletics at Wisconsin. According to McIntyre, "Pat Holmes, coach at Oak Park High School is said to be Sundt's No. 1 choice for Wisconsin's new football coach with Eddie Kotal, Bernie Heselton, Lisle, Blackburn, John Hancock, and Percy Clapp getting consideration in the order named.

Picture Contest

The Photo Club of this college, together with Sigma Zeta, is holding a school-wide contest for amateur photographers. This is in preparation for the Science Exhibit, which will be held May 8. The pictures which are entered will be displayed at that time.

Four types of pictures will be eligible for entrance in the contest. These groups are pictures of nature, pictures telling a story, action pictures, and still pictures. In the first group may be included pictures of wild life. The story-telling pictures should have some significant story or meaning, and they may be either indoor or outdoor snaps. The action pictures should show action. The still pictures include shots of buildings and other inanimate objects.

Prizes will be given for the best pictures in each section. Two dollars will be given for first prize and one dollar for the second prize in each section, making a total of twelve dollars given away in prizes for the entire contest.

The contest opens April 20 and closes May 6. The pictures will be judged then, and the results will be announced.

College Men's Chorus
Annual "Sing" Directed
By Norman E. Knutzen

CHORISTERS PREPARE
EXCELLENT PROGRAM
FOR HOME LISTENERS

By Ralph Anderson

The men's Glee Club returned to Stevens Point on March 23 after a successful tour on which they sang to approximately six thousand people. The men left on March 17th and returned the following Saturday. During that time they presented concerts at Oxford, Adams, Westfield, Mauston, and Baraboo. They left again Sunday to sing at Shawano and Green Bay. Monday they sang at Manitowoc and then returned to Stevens Point.

Faculty Helps Out

Solos, both vocal and instrumental, and numbers by the Male quartet and Saxophone quartet were presented in addition to the program followed by the chorus.

Miss Colman, Mr. Steiner, Mr. Rogers, and Bill Fisher provided transportation for students who were required to be in Stevens Point part of the time.

Assembly Program
To Be Presented —
Choruses and Orchestra

The Women's and Men's Choruses, in combination with the College Symphony Orchestra, will present an Assembly program on Friday morning, April 3. Professor Peter J. Michelsen is director of the first and last, while Professor N. E. Knutzen is leader of the Men's Chorus.

The Orchestra has appeared only infrequently this year thus far, and it has prepared a very entertaining and interesting program for this assembly. The Women's Chorus likewise has been working on some difficult numbers among them being Schubert's "Serenade" and the "Largo" from the opera "Xerxes" by Handel.

The Men's Chorus, which has its home concert on March 31, will undoubtedly present a majority of new numbers for its part of the program.

Published Weekly, except holidays and examination periods, at Stevens Point by the students of the Central Wisconsin State Teachers College. Subscription Price $2.00 per year.

Entered as second-class matter May 26, 1927, at the post office at Stevens Point, Wisconsin, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

IT'S A FACT! . . .

ARE YOU ONE OF THEM?

There were only 27 millionaires in the United States before the Civil war, 2,348 before the World war, 5,526 in 1919 after the World war, 14,816 in 1929 at the peak of the Coolidge-Hoover boom, and 50 in 1933, while the latest tax returns show that only 32 persons in this country had incomes of more than $1,000,000 in 1934.

ALABAMA VS. MISSISSIPPI. . .

A football score can't convince me that Mississippi is better than Florida.
—Pres. John T. Tigert, Univ. of Fla.

HAVE YOU A "BIG HEAD"?

A big head does indicate a large brain, says Dr. Ales Hrdlicka, of the Smithsonian Institution, but thinking is necessary to develop it.

SUCCESS!

In an eastern city is a university professor who will undertake to make a success of every man who will agree to do exactly what the professor, who is a psychologist, tells him. The fee is a percentage of the increased income during the first five years of instruction. In one case it amounted to $25,000.

Yet the teacher tells his pupils at the outset that there is nothing mysterious about his teaching, but that it simply is the application of the laws of common sense.

The fault does not lie, he says, in not knowing what to do. The fault lies in not doing what we know we should do—and the moment we do the thing we know we should do success arrives on express-time schedule.

NOSE HISTORY? . . .

Ernest Pascal, the famous philosopher said, "If the nose of Cleopatra had been shorter, the whole face of the earth would have been different."

MOTHER EARTH. . .

The weight of the earth is forty-six hundred and forty-three trillions of tons. Yet it moves at the rate of eleven hundred miles per minute, at a distance of ninety-five million miles from the sun, in an orbit of six hundred million miles, without effort or support, without the ruffling of a feather or the disturbance of a grain of dust, however minute or delicate.

—Curious Questions.

THE SEVEN WISE MEN. . .

The so-called seven wise men of Greece were Pittacus of Mithalen, Bias of Prienne, Solon of Athens, Chiton of Lacedaemon, Cleobolus of Lyndus, Periander of Corinth, and Thales of Miletus.

These seven men met together but twice; once at Delphi, once at Corinth. The chief maxim of each was as follows:

"Know thy opportunity"—Pittacus.
"Most men are bad"—Bias.
"Know thyself"—Solon.
"Consider the End"—Chilon.
"Avoid excess"—Cleobolus.
"Nothing is impossible to industry"—Periander.
"Suretyship is the Precursor to Ruin"—Thales.

YOU'RE THE ONLY, THE ONLY ONE

In these days of unfortunate unemployment we hear so much about the number of persons out of jobs, the population of the nation, old age pensions, child labor, etc., that it is interesting to know just how many persons in this country really work. If you are willing to accept the astonishing statistical statement published in the Bangor (Me.) Daily News you're IT. And here are the statistics:

Population of the United States reported at	124,000,000
Those eligible for Townsend old age pension	50,000,000
Leaving	74,000,000
Number of those prohibited from working under the Child Labor laws	60,000,000
Leaving just	14,000,000
Number of persons claimed on unemployed lists	13,999,998
Leaving number working to produce nations' goods	2

These unfortunate two are just you and I, and you're lazy and I'm all worn out.

MENTION

"The Pointer"

"Normal Pointer" of 1894 Different From Modern Pointer; Now Famous Poetess A Former Editor

RUTH NASON PORES OVER DUSTY FILES OF POINTERS OF LONG AGO IN PRE-SPANISH-AMERICAN WAR ISSUES

Volume No. 1 of the Normal Pointer was published way back in December, 1895. The paper consisted of eight pages and was very different from the eight-page edition which we read this year. It was constructed in the form of a magazine with a title page and a table of contents for each issue.

The only illustration in these first copies was a cut of the school building, without the two wings and the training school which have since been added. The picture is on a full page advertising the institution and signed by the president, Theron B. Pray.

When we attend a modern college of today, the caption—"New, Well Equipped, Apparatus, Library, Gymnasium, All Modern Aids" seems very humorous.

Below the business-like "Terms of Subscription—50 cents per person IN ADVANCE", is printed the staff. Jay S. Hamilton was the first Editor-in-chief with the following assistants: Margaret Ashmun . . . . . Literary Editor
Elizabeth Jones . . . . . Exchange Editor
John T. Clements . . . . . Local Editor
Leslie S. Everts . . . . . Athletic Editor
H. L. Gardner . . . . . Business Manager
Florence A. Pray . . . . .
E. F. Priest . . . . .

(the saintly aspect of the paper as a whole no doubt came from the good influence of these two assistants)
LITERARY CONTRIBUTIONS ENCOURAGED

The Normal Pointer was divided into five sections. Only one, the Literary Page, has been abandoned. The Literary editor published student contributions and also poems and writings of men of renown. There is little of this type of writing in school papers today, however. Then came the Editorials and the Local News. These haven't changed much. The Athletic section is strange to us. With no pictures of the heroes, no familiar box scores, no regular columns, by sports writers—what could possibly constitute an athletic page? However, the write ups were cleverly written and interesting to read. There was even an occasional poem.

The fifth section was the Exchange. The Exchange Editor was in contact with schools all over the state and this department was one of the most interesting. It was always fun to exchange ideas and news with other schools. The active Exchange section improved the school paper much.

"LET THERE BE LIGHT"

One of the most humorous items which caught my eye in the first Pointer was the following story:

"The city of Oshkosh provided the Oshkosh Normal with three electric lights to illuminate the grounds and still the students are not satisfied, but are still calling for electric lights for the interior. May they be as successful in their calling as we were."

For the next edition, Andrew Larkin assumed the duties of Editor-in-chief. While he was editor, a new feature, Model School, was added containing news from the training school and contributions from the small students.

Familiar names among the articles are: George Atwell, Lawrence Park, Gladys Park, (now Mrs. Ross Joy), and Reginald Weller.

The Advertisements are all set in bold, black type and although there are no pictures, they are impressive. Many familiar advertisers are found in this section, such as H. D. McCulloch, J. Iverson, Taylor Bros., French, Campbell & Co., and the Stevens Point Daily Journal.

NO "FREE WHEELING"

The ads which we no longer enjoy in our Pointer are those of the good old livery stables. The two below are typical of the old-fashioned advertising.

Tel. 58
R. B. Finch
Proprietor
City Livery Stable
& hack & baggage line
First class rigs & careful drivers
Corner Brown & North Third Streets.

J. P. Dorsey
Boarding Livery Stable
211 Strongs Ave.
Best stock of carriages & horses in the city. First Class Hearse. Hacks furnished for weddings & driving parties. St. Pt. Wis.

I remember hearing about the escapades of students at C. S. T. C. not many years after this. It seems that one night after a school party two couples, hating to walk, borrowed President Pray's brown horse and his buggy without bothering to tell him. They enjoyed the ride but I'm told that the trip to the office the next day wasn't as much fun. I wonder how far we'd get with President Hyer's Dodge!

NEW ERA POINTERS

When the June issue of 1896 came out, it was heralded as a new era in the history of the Pointer.

The first surprise was a large advertisement for the Marr & Richards engraving Company. This firm had certainly transformed the Pointer, as nearly four pages were devoted to pictures. Before this the only illustration had been the cut of the school building. The sixteen faculty members were pictured. One face is familiar to all students—Joseph V. Collins. Choral work was very prominent in the school's curriculum and pictures of the Columbia Octet, the Ladies' Quartet, and the Male Quartet were featured in this issue.

A picture, very comical to us, is found in the athletic section, showing the Track stars in their modest costumes.

In September, 1896, Margaret Ashmun rose to the position of Editor-in-chief. Indeed the Pointer can be proud to have had this now famous woman as its head.

VIENNA CHOIR PLEASURES...

The Vienna Boys' Choir entertained a "standing-room only" house last Tuesday evening with an extensive repertoire which might well have tested the versatility of an adult group. Numbers particularly enjoyed were "Tales From the Vienna Woods," By Strauss, "Blue Danube Waltz." Although some Tuetonic inflection was noticeable on the "Star Spangled Banner," which was sung as the opening selection, and on "Dixie," which was sung as an encore, this added, rather than detracted from the numbers.

Back stage the boys behaved just like any American group of boys enjoying themselves to the utmost. Before the audience however the boys were regular troopers.

The group have been on tour for six months. By the time of their return to Vienna they will have been away eight months. On their return two months of school will follow, after which the youngsters will have a vacation in the Tyrollean Alps.

Vienna, heretofore associated in the collegiate mind with waltzes and Psycho-Analysis, has added one more thing to be remembered by.

Kotal Officiates In World Title Cage Game

Coach Eddie Kotal acted as one of the officials in the first of a five game series being played between the Oshkosh All-Stars and the New York Renaissance club to settle the world's professional basketball championship. The game was played at Oshkosh and was won by the home team. Art Thompson, former cage star at Stevens Point, saw action for a short time but failed to score.

Rinka And Johnston Also Pile Up Over 100 Points In Well Distributed Scoring Attack

The final and official statistics show that big Freddie Nimz headed the Pointers in scoring for the entire basketball season with 147 points in 15 games. However, Chet Rinka, co-captain elect for next season, led the Pointers in scoring during the eight conference games with 76 points, and finished close behind Nimz in total scoring with 132 points. The other three Stevens Point regulars also amassed plenty of points, Johnston having 112, Unferth 90, and Lindow 76.

The St. Norbert Times has just published the Knights' all-opponent team, picked by the players. Four of the players chosen hail from the Southern Division of the teachers conference. The selection:

Forward	Sprangers, Milwaukee
Forward	Himes, Oshkosh
Center	Nimz, Stevens Point
Guard	Johnston, Stevens Point
Guard	Koepke, Concordia

WATCH STOUT NEXT YEAR

Incidentally we might mention that Stout failed to win a conference football or basketball game during the past school year. Therefore they probably would have only added to the Pointers' long list of victories. However, Stout may regain its long-lost winning complex again next year. Everyone on the cage team will be back except Braaten. Joe Doljes, who acted captain this season, Worman, who scored 112 points for the season, and Ruud will form the nucleus for an experienced quintet.

RECORD TO BE PROUD OF

During the last four conference basketball campaigns the Pointers have won 29 games and have lost only 5. Four of the defeats came in one season, Stevens Point winning the title the other three years. The Pointers have won their last 16 conference games played at Stevens Point, and have only lost one home game in four years. That was back in 1934 when Milwaukee defeated the Kotalmen here, 37-36, to win the championship.

COLLEGE STUDENTS COACH IN GRADE SCHOOL TOURNEY

Several Stevens Point Teachers College students had an exciting time during the annual grade school tournament, held at the High School last week-end. "Webb" Berard coached the Training school eighth grade team. Webb's quintet, although defeated twice, played fine ball in each game against much larger opponents. "Bud" McGillivray's Training School seventh graders also lost two close ball games to finish fourth in that class.

NIMZ'S TEAM WINS

Fred Nimz, all-state center, fared much better in the sixth grade class. His Training School youngsters won the championship by virtue of a thrilling overtime victory over the highly touted St. Peters sixth grade team in Saturday night's finals. The victory scored by Nimz's team was of the Ripley "believe it or not" type. Nimz only had seven men on his squad, and three of them were lost on fouls late in the final quarter. St. Peters tied the score and the game went into overtime with the Training School team playing with only four men. However the four youngsters more than held their own, and a successful free throw by one of them (a fourth grader by the way) gave the Training School a sensational triumph in the overtime.

URBANS A COACH TOO

Ray Urbans coached the St. Peters sixth, seventh, and eighth grade teams. Although Urban's teams failed to win first place, two of them finished second, and the other team placed third. Dick Tathill, former student at C. S. T. C., coached the Lincoln School team, winners of the 8th grade championship. Don Unferth performed as one of the officials in the tournament.

Just think, while I was out at the cafe the other night a burglar entered my house."

"Did he get anything?"

"I'll say he did! My wife thought it was me coming home."

Wife — How dare you deny that you had been drinking last night? Here you are in bed with your shoes and pants on.

Hubby — But you see, my dear, lately I have become addicted to walking in my sleep and I thought it best to go to bed prepared.
