

College Debaters To Hold First Tourney Point Hard-courtters Meet Alums Meet Eau Claire

Former Cagers Lose Thriller

Central State's 1933 championship team was pitted against Coach Kotal's 1937 edition last Saturday night with the college cagers nosing out a 36-35 victory in a thrilling, hard-fought game where the outcome was in doubt until the final whistle had blown.

Krumm and Warner Star

The alumni starting line-up was made up exclusively of members of the 1933 team which carried away top honors in the Teacher's Conference and finished off the season with a win over Wisconsin's Badgers. The only regular missing from the team was Art Thompson, the center, who was unable to play, due to a recent operation.

Rinka Returns

The Point total might have been larger if Kotal had not substituted as freely as he did, giving every man on the squad a chance to show his stuff under fire. Hank Warner again led the Central

"S" Club Meeting Called For Today

There will be a meeting of the "S" club at 11 o'clock today, Thursday, January 7, in Mr. Watson's room for the purpose of electing officers and other important business. Al "6 pt." Bucholz will preside at the meeting and urges all the members to attend.

Handicraft Project Now On Display In Art Room

The W. P. A. craft project which is traveling through the state reached C. S. T. C. yesterday morning. It is now on display in the art rooms, where it will remain for two weeks.

All of the work which is exhibited has been done entirely by hand by a group of unskilled women working at the main shop of the Milwaukee W. P. A. Among the articles on display are large dolls, brightly painted educational toys, portfolios, curtains, wall-hangings, hooked rugs, quilted spreads and many other things.

This exhibit is open to students and townspeople. Miss Carlsen urges everyone who can to take advantage of this opportunity of seeing some beautiful handicraft work.

Band Tour Set For Feb. 8-12

The college band is hard at practice on the concert program for the tour in February.

The tour, which begins on Monday, February 8, includes the following concerts: Monday afternoon, a matinee concert at Adams, and Monday night, a concert at the Wisconsin Dells; Tuesday afternoon, a matinee concert at Tomah, and at Sparta that night. Wednesday afternoon at Reedsburg, and Baraboo in the evening. Thursday afternoon the band plays at Portage and at Beaver Dam in the evening. The last concerts will be given at Waupun Friday afternoon and at Berlin in the evening.

Mr. Michelsen will make the trip more as a chaperon than as a director. Members of his director's class will direct many of the concerts.

College Catalog Being Printed

The final changes have been made in the catalog for 1937-38 and it has been sent to the printer. Courses in this catalog have been revised to fit Ph. B. requirement at the University of Wisconsin.

All Departments Enlarged

The history department has been revised under the direction and advice of the head of the history department at the University. The changes have been made to accommodate students preparing for graduate work. Majors can now be obtained in three fields of history — American, ancient, and cultural.

A year course has been added in geology in the science department, and the administration is considering a year course in geography as a laboratory science.

The English department has also been expanded to include more numerous fields of concentration.

It should be emphasized that the changes which have been made will not affect students already in school, as those who have completed majors or minors in the English and history fields very nearly comply with the new requirements.

Berard Takes Over Position At Ashland

Wilbur Berard, popular senior at Central State, began teaching this week in the Junior High School in Ashland, Wisconsin. He obtained this position just at the close of school before the Christmas vacation.

Led Senior Ball

Web was a very prominent man in school, taking part in many extra-curricular activities. Most important among these was athletics. Web was an outstanding participant in football, track, basketball, and boxing. He climaxed his brilliant career at Central State by being selected as all-conference end on the Teacher's Honor eleven. He was president of the "S" Club, which is composed of all athletes who have earned their letters.

The recent highly successful Senior Ball was led by Web also. He was president of the senior class. Web is a member of Chi Delta Rho fraternity.

At present, Berard is teaching several classes in physiology in the 7th and 8 grades. He is also handling the physical education in all the grades.

Phi Sigma Epsilon Formal Approaching

Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity will hold its annual formal on January 16th at the Hotel Whitling. This is one of the outstanding social events of the school year. Music will be furnished by Harold Menning and his Orchestra. A tariff of $1.50 will be charged. Before the dance a banquet will be given for members and returning alumni.

Simonson, Former Pointer Editor, Visits Staff Monday

George Simonson, editor of the Pointer in '35-'36, who is now at the University in Madison working for his master's degree in history, paid the Pointer staff a visit Monday evening and watched the crew at work. He was in town for a few days before returning to Madison for the opening of classes.

In Debate Saturday

The Eau Claire debate squad comes here this Saturday for the first intercollegiate debates to be participated in this year by the C. S. T. C. debaters. Seven teams from Eau Claire will meet seven local teams, each team debating both sides of this year's debate question. Resolved: that Congress be empowered to fix minimum wages and maximum hours for industry.

The debating will begin at 2:00 P. M. and is expected to be completed by about 7:30. The debates will be of regulation length with constructive speeches lasting ten minutes and rebuttles of five minutes.

On Wednesday afternoon Professor Steiner led a round table discussion on the question. This was the last discussion planned before the initial debates.

Chorus Plans Trips For Coming Month

The Mens Chorus will sing at Adams on Monday, January 18. This concert which will be given at the Congregational church is a request concert. The Club sang at Adams on the tour taken last spring. On Wednesday, January 20, a concert will be given at the Spencer High School.

Nine Concerts Anticipated

On Tuesday, March 2, the Club will sing at the Antigo High School in the afternoon and evening, Wednesday morning at the Tomahawk High School, and at Crandon in the afternoon. An evening concert will be presented at the Methodist church in Rhinelander. Thursday morning the Club will probably sing at Phelps and at the Swedish Lutheran Church in Iron River. Friday morning the men sing in the Eagle River High School and at Minocqua in the evening.

VERSATILITY AIDS PLACEMENT

The beginning of the placement campaign at the training school brings to mind some of the things that it is well for a prospective teacher to be keeping in mind. Chief among these is the necessity for diversified preparation while at college.

The training school authorities are urging that students take only one major and as many minors as possible. The chances for placement are greatly increased when the student is prepared in a variety of subjects. The first minor, of course, should consist of the number of hours which is required at the institution. However, as has been emphasized before, for the second and third minors it is only necessary to fulfill the state requirements. In history and English, the requirement is 15 hours.

Thus far, no mention has been made of extra curricular activities. These, also, are important, not only for the invaluable social experience which they provide but also for the help they give in placement. Very frequently, coaching ability in athletics or forensics, or directing ability in music is the factor which gets the person the job. For any position, there are always any number of applicants who present about the same scholastic qualifications. The person who gets the job, however, is the one who can handle the particular extra-curricular activities which the school desires. To use that frequently quoted adage, "A word to the wise is sufficient."

LATIN TEACHERS NEEDED

Prof. A. J. Herrick, principal of the Training School, recently stated that he could have placed at least six more graduates last year if they had been able to teach Latin. This situation can be remedied. There are several competent Latin teachers among the faculty here, and they are willing to offer courses if students desire them. There were several Latin classes last year. It seems that there is a need for some interested person to conduct an inquiry among the student body to find out how many people would be willing to take Latin.

Speech Classes See Novel Exam Period

The two speech classes under Professor Leland M. Burroughs are conducting a novel type of final examination this year. The two sections are having a breakfast and luncheon with Ben Laschkewitsch and Bill Koehl, respectively, in charge. The two affairs are being held at the Gingham Tea Room during exam week. A master of ceremonies will call on members of the class for short "after breakfast and luncheon speeches" which will constitute their final exam. (Note—May we suggest utilizing this suggestion for other departments?)

Personalities

Christmas vacation this year appeared to be more of a reunion than a parting. The basketball game upon the night which vacation began saw many of the students who have transferred to other schools back cheering for C. S. T. C. Dorothy Weber was home for the vacation from Downer College in Milwaukee. Ruth Rice came from Madison to spend the holidays at home. Barbara Joy and Florence Knope returned from Elmhurst, Illinois, where they are teaching. Gladys Boursier from Florence, Wisconsin; Velma Scribner from Ashland, Eleanor Cummey from Chilton, Virginia Watson from Chicago, Mary Elizabeth Crosby from Milwaukee, and June Emery from Chicago, all spent some time in Stevens Point.

Former C. S. T. C. students now attending the University of Wisconsin who spent the holidays here were: Donald Bryan, Robert McDonald, Carl Swazee, William Nason, George Simonson, Willard Hanson, Robert Babbitch, Henry Lampman, Jack Maxfield, Joseph Pfiffner, and James Pfiffner. Joseph Hannon, attending Marquette, was home for the vacation. Wm. Fisher and William Ringness came from their eastern schools, Cornell and the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis respectively. Other alumni who were home for Christmas were Dick and Wilson Schwahn, Donald Unferth, Bob Steiner, Guy Krumm, Nolan Gregory, Asher and Arba Shorey, and Ed Jarvis.

College News Briefs

Mrs. Josephine Finch, Women's Counselor for the College, returned to her duties at Nelson Hall during the Christmas vacation after spending two weeks in the hospital. She was forced to leave her work a week before school closed when she came down with laryngitis.

Professor Gilbert W. Faust was injured in an automobile accident December 18 when a car driven by Bob Saechtjen, in which Mr. Faust, Gib Miller, and Roger Bernstein were riding, was struck by another car north of Portage. Mr. Faust and the college students who were occupants of the car were headed for Madison. No serious injuries resulted from the collision.

Mrs. Charles Evans, wife of Professor Evans, was taken to the hospital last Thursday when it was realized that she was suffering from pneumonia. Her condition has been reported as favorable. She had been ill with flu for some time previous to her being taken to the hospital.

Mrs. T. A. Rogers, wife of Professor Rogers, is recuperating from a serious attack of the flu. She was ill during most of the Christmas holidays.

Trouble Shooters

With "Brownie" Berard at work in Ashland the path to the "College Widow's" door is becoming well beaten. ... now that the dorm is filled once more there are more grins to be seen than during vacation. ... it is at times like the present that we appreciate the Dorm... words like "beaner" and "scoopy" have been forthcoming from a professor.... Dan Cupid scored another hit here when Dorothy Christenson was married last Saturday.... this fact leaves a vacancy at the apartment—Bunny Krembs need not apply....

We hope there'll be as large a following at the basketball game in Milwaukee, Sorority and Fraternity jewelry seem to have been the ideal Christmas gift; Don to Lolita, Jerry to Zip, Harry to Lorraine, Bill to Cassie, and Berard to the "College Widow".

New Year's hit a new high this year with a few who modestly said, "and hang it all anyway." They did. Along with that is a poem we found in our fan mail which is a propos. 'Twas the night before the New Year When all thru the joint Not a creature was stirring In the faire town of Point!

Radio Equipment Rejected; Replaced

All of the high fidelity radio equipment which was received before the holidays was returned following a test held here. According to the opinions of several of the men on the radio staff, the material did not nearly measure up to what was expected.

New equipment will be sent for very shortly and will be put into use as soon as it arrives.

During last Tuesday's broadcast the roving reporter interviewed students in the halls, and this afternoon at 4:00 a broadcast will be made from the physics laboratory.

Nelson Hall Notes

By EVANGELINE JOHNSON

Mabel McLain has been recuperating at home during the vacation and appears to be much recovered.

Note the new assortment of photographs recently acquired by our dormites.

Also, a diamond is being worn by one of our girls—another teacher will be lost into that mad circle of happy couples.

Mrs. Finch is back with us again. We all hope she will be able to remain.

Why must girls always wear new clothes when they return from Christmas vacation? Old ones wear out or is it our womanly instinct? Note the yellow hand knit sweater and blue skirt. Also observed a cute pair of brown corduroy pajamas.

All the new coiffures that are walking around. Can you take it, fellows?

Virginia Gajewski has had an operation on her eye during the Christmas vacation. We hope for a speedy recovery.

Omega Mu Chi sorority announces that its annual formal dinner and dancing party will be held at Hotel Whiting on Saturday, January twenty-third. Get busy, gals, and ask your dates—

Rural Life Meets

The Rural Life Club began its first meeting of the year with lively company singing led by Kirkwood Likes.

Eileen Maguire presented the sweet Irish song, "Mother Machree", which was followed by a piano solo, "Country Garden", played by Ruth Knutzen.

Mrs. C. F. Watson delighted the club with her reading, "Selina Joe". The young people were impressed with the speaker's dramatic poise and her completely natural and enthusiastic interpretations of the simple mountaineer people.

The meeting was conducted by President William Knox.

Progressives Meet

The Young Progressive Club held its regular meeting shortly before vacation. This meeting was held at the City Hall and was presided over by Edward Lightbody. The members discussed several topics of interest which led to an appointment by the president of a committee to draw up a constitution.

The next meeting of the Club will be held on Thursday, January fourteenth.

Pointers To Open Conference At Milwaukee

Concordia Foe Following Night

Practice Held During Vacation In Preparation For Coming Contests

Central State invades foreign fields Friday, January 8, for its conference opener with the Green Gulls of Milwaukee State Teachers College. The Green Gulls have been rather unsuccessful so far this season but will be dangerous foes if the Pointers get big ideas. Outstanding for the Milwaukee cagers are Bob Jossi, Bob Seeger, and John Masgowitz. These boys be gunning for an upset victory over the favored Pointers.

The following night the Central Staters will engage the Falcon five from Concordia who have been previously defeated by the college basketballers but will be a hard team to beat on their own floor.

The college boys have been reporting for practice during the last week of vacation in preparation for a strenuous week-end. The squad, as yet, has not been cut, but will be in the near future.

Alumni Game . . .

Stater's in scoring with nine points and Guy Krumm paced the alumni with fifteen points, six of which came in the last minute and a half when the score was 36-29 against his team.

The entire first string showed up well in this game and, with the return of Chet Rinka, the attack was bolstered considerably. Among the reserves who played well were Dave Parish, George Schneider, and Bohan.

Concordia Falls Before Pointers

Central State's second victim in their victory string was the strong Concordia five from Milwaukee who succumbed to Coach Kotal's cagers Saturday, January 2, by the score of 36 to 28. Concordia piled up an early lead but after Nimz and Lindow started to click the Pointers wiped out the Falcon margin and went ahead to set the pace at 26 to 17 at the half.
