College Debaters To Hold First Tourney

Point Hard-courters Meet Alums

Former Cagers Lose Thriller

Central State's 1933 championship team was pitted against Coach Kotal's 1937 edition last Saturday night with the college eagles nosing out a 36-33 victory in a thrilling, hard-fought game which the main shop won.

Krumm and Warner Star

The alumni starting line-up was much of a hit in the Bldg. of the Point which carried away top honors in the Teacher's Conference and finished off the match with a win over Wisconsin's Badgers. The only regular missing
from the team was Art Thompson,
the center who was unable to
play, due to a recent operation.

Rinck Returns

The Point total might have been larger if Kotal had not substituted a game in the tour throughout the season with his side. At any rate, every man on the squad a chance to time under fire. Hank Warner again led the Central

"S" Club Meeting

Called For Today

There will be a meeting of the
"S" club at 11 o'clock today, Wednesday, January 7, in Mr. Watson's room for the purpose of of members of the 1933 team which carried away top honors in the Teacher's Conference and finished off the match with a win over Wisconsin's Badgers. The only regular missing
from the team was Art Thompson,
the center who was unable to
play, due to a recent operation.

Handicraft Project Now

On Display In Art Room

The W. P. A. craft project which the college was working on before the state reached C. S. T. C. yesterday morning.
It is now on display in the art rooms, where it will remain.

All of the work which is exhibted has been done entirely by hand by a group of unskilled women working on the art project of the Milwaukee W. P. A. Among the articles on display are large dolls, bright colored education-as toys, portfolios, curtains, wallhangings, hooked rugs, quilted spreads and many other things.

This exhibit is open to students and others. Miss Carlsen urges everyone who can to take advantage of this opportunity of seeing some beautiful handicraft work.
PERSONALITIES

Christmas vacation this year appeared to be more of a reunion than a partition. The basketball game upon the night of New Year's celebration brought together some of the students who have transferred to other schools but are now back together for the holidays. Ruth Nason had been able to come home for the holidays and Barbara Joyce and Florence Knepe returned from Evanston, Illinois, where they are teaching. Gloucey Boulenger from Florence, Wisconsin, was Celina Schriver from Ashland, and Eleanor Crumsey from Chilton, Virginia, Washington from Chicago, Mary Elizabeth Crosby from Milwauk ee, and Jane Emery from Chicago, all spent some time in Stevens Point.

Former C. S. T. C. students now attending the University of Wisconsin were the students who had sworn they would never return to Stevens Point.

The famous magazine which figured so prominently in the last presidential campaign is contemplating an article on undergraduate drinking. The date is being compiled from colleges throughout the nation, and letters have been written to all schools asking definite information about such things as college regulations for drinking, liquor consumption, effect on student body, and the contemplated article should interest, to say the least.

NELSON HALL NOTIES

By EVANGELINE JOHNSON

Mabel McLean has been recuperating at home during the vacation and appears to be much recovered.

The new assortment of photographs recently acquired by our department are:

Also, a diamond is being worn by one of our girls—another teacher will be lost into that mad circle of happy couples.

Mrs. Fach is back with us again. We hope she will be able to remain.

The tea is served at 5 o'clock, and all girls are invited to attend.

All the new coiffures that are walking around. Can you take it, fellows?

Virginia Gajewski has had an opera performance on her eye during the Christmas vacation. We hope for a speedy recovery.

TRouble Shooters

With "Brownie" Berard at work in the "College Wi-Jow's" door is becoming well broken. Now that the dorm is filled one more there are more grins to be seen than during the term. It is at times like the present that we appreciate the dorm—words like "beaner" and "scouty" have been forthcoming from the professors. Dan Cupped another hit when Dorothy Christensen was married last Saturday. This fact leaves a vacancy at the apartment—Bonny convinced of this fact. We hope there'll be as large a following at the basketball game in Milwaukee. Sorority and Fraternity jewelery seems to have been the ideal Christ mas gift; Dan to Lolita, Jerry to Zip, Harry to Lorraine, Bill to Cassie, and Berard to the "College Widow."

New Year's hit a new high this year with a few who modestly said, "hang it all anyway." They did. Along with that is a poem we found in our fan mail which is a propo.

"Twas the night before the New Year When all thru the joint Not a creature was stirring In the fair town of Point!

Radio Equipment

All of the high fidelity radio equipment which was received before the holidays was returned following a test held here. According to the opinions of the men on the radio staff, the material did not nearly measure up to what was expected.

The equipment will be kept in storage for very shortly and will be put into use as soon as it arrives.

During last Tuesday's broadcast, the members of the football team interviewed students in the halls, and this afternoon at 4:00 a broadcast will be made from the physics laboratory.

Rural Life Meets
The Rural Life Club—happiness as a result of the meeting of the year with lively company singing led by Kirkwood Lukes.

Eileen Maguire presented the sweet Irish song, "Mother Machree", which was followed by a piano solo, "Country Garden", played by Ruth Kruzeln.

Mrs. C. P. Watson delighted the club with her reading, "Selena Joe". The young people were impressed with the speaker's dramatic poise and her completely natural and enthusiastic interpretations of the simple mountaineer people.

The meeting was conducted by President William Knox.

Practice Held During Vacation In Preparation For Coming Contests

Central State invades foreign fields Friday, January 8, for its conference opener with the Green Gulls of Milwaukee State Teachers College. The Green Gulls have been rather unsuccessful so far this season but will be dangerous foes if the Pacers get big ideas. Outstanding for the Milwaukee cagers are Bob Jimm, Bob Seger, and John Maszowitz. These boys will be gunning for an upset victory over the favored Pacers.

The following night the Central Staters will engage the Falcon five from Concordia who have been previously defeated by the college basketeers but will be a hard team to beat on their own floor. The college boys have been reporting for practice during the last week of vacation in preparation for a strenuous week-end.

The squad, as yet, has not been cut, but will be in the near future.

Alumni Game...

Stater's in scoring with nine points and Guy Krumm paced the alumni with fifteen points, six of which came in the last minute and a half when the score was 36-29 against his team.

The entire first string showed up well in this game and, with the return of Chet Rinka, the attack was bolstered considerably. Among the reserves who played well were Dave Parish, George Schneider, and Bohan.
