College Band Plans Annual Music Festival

The college band will hold its 4th annual music festival on Friday, April 23rd. Letters have been sent out to a large number of high schools in the surrounding part of the state, and a large number of participants are expected. More than 30 orchestras and bands have taken part yearly in the previous festivals.

Each band participating will play three numbers of its own choice. Their rendition of the selections will be criticized by a competent judge, and the sealed criticisms will be handed to the director. There will be no division or placement of the bands.

George Cartmill, who so successfully managed the recent band clinic, is also in charge of this affair.

Mens Chorus Still On Concert Tour

This morning the Mens chorus of this college will sing at Eagle River. An evening concert will be given at Iron River, Michigan. The men left on the tour last Tuesday noon and will return tomorrow evening. Since the first of the week five concerts have been presented in four northern cities.

Director N. E. Knutzen has announced that after the tour full practice time will be given to develop the program for the home concert on April 1st. An evening concert has been arranged at White Lake on Friday, April 16. About forty men will represent the chorus at the Wisconsin Association of Glee Clubs Concert to be held at Oshkosh on Monday, May 3. All the choruses participating present individual numbers as well as the combined concert.

The movie benefit sponsored last week by this organization was fairly successful.

Attention Sophomores!

We again would like to call your attention to a notice that appeared in the February 18th issue of the Pointer requesting all those who are interested in the editor's or business manager's position for the '38 Iris to file application with Mr. Rogers, faculty advisor of the year book. March 12th has been set as the deadline for which applications will be accepted. All those interested are requested to apply.—Clifford Malchow, Editor '37 Iris.

Johnston Plays Outstanding Game Of College Career

Central State's basketball five, under the leadership of Don Johnston and Chet Rinka, captured their third successive championship by decisively beating Milwaukee Saturday night to the tune of 49 to 35. As a result of the victory it is impossible for any of the other teams to overtake the Pointers for first place in the conference race.

Band Clinic Has Large Turnout

George A. Cartmill, student chairman, has reported the 3rd annual band clinic a very satisfactory success. It is estimated that about 140 ate at the fellowship banquet held at Nelson Hall. About 500 bandmasters and townspeople were present at the concert that lasted from 7:15 to 10:15 o'clock.

Among the bandmasters present were:

F. Rogers Constance	Westboro
S. J. Paynter	Abbotsford
E. C. Alexander	Colby
M. A. Patchett	Adams
Norman B. Elliott	Westfield
A. E. Ritzenthaler	Reedsburg
John W. Best	Medford
Gerald Olsen	Rib Lake
K. Rawson	Port Edwards
Theocus Rozelle	Wausau
Agnes Snell	Wausau

Pointers Play Stoutonians Saturday In Last Tilt Of Season; Booster Game

Funds To Go Towards Purchase Of Honor Awards

Coach Kotal's cagers encounter the Stout five Saturday, March 6, at 8 P. M. in a Booster basketball game. This game, the final on the Pointer schedule, is being played for the purpose of raising funds for the purchase of basketball awards.

Prelim. At Seven

Since the contest is not a regular scheduled game there will be a general admission charge of twenty-five cents for all students, faculty, and outsiders. The reserved seats, which will be the same seats as reserved in all of the other games played on the home floor this season, are on sale for thirty five cents. The student activity ticket does not admit the bearer to this tilt.

Although Stevens Point plays at Oshkosh on Friday evening, the night before the Stout game, the Pointer squad will be giving their best in the Booster tilt to top off another championship and successful season. Saturday night is the time to show Coach Kotal and his men, who worked hard all season, that they are appreciated and that we are proud to call them champions.

In Derision

Twelve champions walked off the floor last Saturday evening cinching the top place in this year's championship race. If there had been any seats to slam in the gymnasium, they would have been slammed. But not in the exaltation of winning a championship. It would have been merely a nonchalant bustle about getting out of the place.

Not a cheer. No enthusiasm. It is certainly a compliment to Coach Kotal that the students have come to expect championships with such absolute trust. But it is certainly no compliment to the student body that it has allowed itself to become so bored that it cannot even lift its voice to praise or cheer a championship team.

This is as biting as I can make it. Perhaps nothing less than a series of losses as consistent as the series of wins will serve to awaken some school spirit in our students.

Schmeeckle Tabulates Conservation Returns

Prof. Fred J. Schmeeckle, instructor of chemistry and agriculture at this college, has just finished tabulating the results of a detailed questionnaire that he sent out recently. The questionnaire dealt with the teaching of conservation in Wisconsin schools and was sent to county and city superintendents, principals, supervising teachers, and a few other people directly interested in conservation, such as state officials connected with the conservation department and game wardens.

College Preparation Urged

"The answers received on these questionnaires indicate the intensity of interest in conservation which exists at present," said Mr. Schmeeckle in an interview. "More and more people have come to realize the value of conservation and are coming to appreciate the necessity for it. The state legislature followed the will of their constituents when it enforced the teaching of conservation in all the schools of Wisconsin. This questionnaire shows how the men in the teaching field are handling the recent appearance of this subject on school curricula."

"Another point that this questionnaire brought out is the value of college preparation in conservation," he added. "As a study of the last part shows, the field is not crowded with persons who can teach it. Those graduates who have conservation will have an additional selling point in their search for a position."

College Theater Schedules Play

The college theatre will present its second major performance of the year on Mar. 17 and 18 with the presentation of "The Importance of Being Earnest," by Oscar Wilde. This play is directed by Phil Runkel. The play itself is a highlight of the humor and gaiety of the times.

In the first weeks of April the theatre will sponsor the first student-talent assembly of the year by presenting two workshop plays. One is "Simtram of Skaggerak," by Sada Cowan, directed by Don Colby. The other is "Submerged," directed by Keith Aulik.

Tryouts will be held Friday, March 5, in Mr. Jenkin's room for the cast of "Submerged." This is an all male cast. Any man in school is invited to try out for this play.

Published Weekly except holidays and examination periods, at Stevens Point by the students of the Central Wisconsin State Teachers College. Subscription Price $2.00 per year.

Entered as second-class matter May 26, 1927, at the post office at Stevens Point, Wisconsin, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

Hats off to the girls who organized the Pep Club. Such an organization is what this school seems to have needed. It is too bad that it could not have been organized sooner. Let's hope that it will live on until the next season.

Saturday is a booster game. There is a chance to show the team some appreciation. They are playing an extra game in order to pay for their awards. Instead of complaining because you cannot see another free game on your activity ticket, let's see you all at the game.

Collins Writes Note On Famous Fromms

Dr. Joseph V. Collins, a member of the Teachers College faculty, was inspired by a feature story appearing in the Saturday Evening Post of February 13 under the title "Ten Million Dollar Fox Tale" to write for the Stevens Point Journal of Feb. 22 an article giving many interesting personal facts concerning the Fromm Brothers of silver fox fame.

Both members of the Fromm firm attended Central State Teachers college, and Edward, the leading spirit of the pair, graduated in 1909. Mr. Collins recalls that Edward Fromm was an excellent student, particularly interested in geometry.

The article also tells of Mr. Fromms travels in Europe and the Orient in connection with his work and the work of both brothers in carrying on research in breeding foxes.

The Fromm farm is located some 20 miles northwest of Wausau, not far from the village of Hamburg.

Student Opinion

Dear Editor:

The article of last week, signed by the gentlemen "of honor" amused us very much. It strikes us as very humorous because the whole thing is a flock of nonsense and hot air.

First, gentlemen, we doubt the story of the "proper authorities" upon which you base the right of utilizing the glass-enclosed bulletin board.

As far as your statement, "...then we have grounds for proceeding with legal action to punish those who have removed our posters...", is concerned it is very foolish and the hot air hits a new high. You have no grounds for legal action because you have posted it on state property and the material was posted by a private individual.

The Young Progressive Club was brought into this mess very involuntarily. Did the membership of this club ever authorize the posting of material on the bulletin board? Were they ever asked to voice their opinion on this type of action? We have been led to believe that they did not. This matter appears to be a personal matter. Kindly keep it as such.

As far as we are concerned this will "not happen again"—if immediate action is taken. By that we mean if a lock is put on that case and the said case is used for school purposes only. We advocate such an act and by so doing, our little "men of honor", you will not have to bother about being "forced to take proper steps to see that it does not happen again".

As far as the counter organization is concerned, you can rest in peace because it appears as though some have taken it upon themselves to be guardians of this institution and intend to

Nelson Hall Notes

By NELLIE of NELSON HALL

Many week-enders found themselves with a real vacation when snow prevented their return to the Hall in time for Tuesday classes. Adela Theilig had not missed a class for three semesters. However, Tuesday's "Snowbound" in Stratford broke the record.

The Bremmer brothers are frequent callers at the Hall of late.

Miss Phyllis Davidson and Miss Marie Odegard, students who attended C. S. T. C. last year, visited the Hall this week.

Topics for bedtime stories at the dorm include:

Where did Miss Richardson get the hatchet, Monday?

Why were Cliff and Alice the last to arrive at that band concert? They left here early.

What prominent faculty member is an expert hitchhiker?

Who installed the radio in Miss Murphy's room? How about it Carroll?

Nelson Hall will soon celebrate its coming of age. The catalog for 1917 makes interesting reading.

The Roving Reporter Talks

Elsewhere in this paper appears a story concerning the reorganization of the radio department. New technical equipment has been obtained which will make it possible to broadcast programs directly from the state of our auditorium. This equipment is of the high fidelity type enabling music to be transmitted without serious distortion. Thus we have the facilities for which many colleges pay thousands of dollars every year. We can boost and advertise our school throughout the entire state without moving from our building. WLBL is at the present time installing new transmitter equipment at Aburndale, Wisconsin, which will make it the most powerful station in the state of Wisconsin. The station will produce a signal which will be heard over the entire state.

It is up to us to make the most of the opportunity offered. Up to now there have been several programs released weekly, which have proved popular with the radio audience. Several students have taken it upon themselves to put these programs on the air. Many of the faculty members have cooperated splendidly, but the general student support and interest has been lacking. It has been almost impossible to secure students for interviews on the Tuesday 4:00 o'clock programs which are going on in the auditorium. (Incidentally, this program is proving of considerable interest to listeners as evidenced by letters and cards).

The History department has been producing a series of talks entitled "History and You." Members of the history faculty alternate in giving 15 minute speeches of general interest. These programs are aired every Monday at 3:45. Faculty interviews take place every Thursday at 4:00 from various locations in and about the campus. "Poems and Music" has been suspended temporarily.

Now that new equipment has been secured, there is no reason why some of the musical organizations should not be featured. Additional time can be secured.

All this, however, does take a great deal of time and effort on the part of the people who plan the programs. This job of putting on programs is much too large for the few students who have kept the radio plan from dying out. Announcers, technicians, continuity writers, production men and others are needed. The meeting on Friday is for the purpose of reorganizing the entire radio set-up. If you have any interest (you need not be experienced) in radio work and wish (to secure some practical experience, you should attend.

Sigma Zeta Notice

Sigma Zeta Open House committee will meet this afternoon, March 4, at 4:00 P. M. in Mr. Steiner's lecture room.

Rural Life Meets

Reverend W. R. Peterson, of the local Methodist Church addressed the Rural Life Club on "Abraham Lincoln" at its regular meeting last Monday evening.

A reading, "Peasant's Wit", presented by Grace McHugh, was enjoyed immensely. A clarinet solo was played by John Dzikoski and the Rural Life Club Quartette, composed of Kirkwood Likes, Gordon Cowles, William Clements, and Paul Hein, sang several numbers.

Girls Make Visit

Miss Kathryn Duskey and Miss Dorothy Mullarkey spent last week-end in Milwaukee. The girls drove down with Kathryn's mother and younger sister on Saturday. They stayed at the Schroeder Hotel.

They reported a lovely time, having seen Katharine Hepburn in "Jane Eyre."

Radio Meeting Tomorrow At 4

There will be a meeting in Mr. Watson's room on Friday, March 5, for all those interested in the radio staff. The meeting is open to everyone who is interested in radio work and anyone who has suggestions concerning the radio programs.

New Equipment Here

After this meeting tryouts will be held for numerous additions to the staff. Several announcers, continuity writers, and technicians are needed when new programs begin. This work will give valuable experience to any student participating.

President Hyer has ordered the latest in technical pick-up equipment which will make it possible to broadcast musical programs directly from the stage in the auditorium. The equipment arrived this week, and programs will begin as soon as the department has been reorganized and re-enforced.

In the near future a fifteen minute period will be available for some campus organization each week. These programs will give an opportunity to students for experience in preparing and appearing on programs. The short programs will be a valuable addition to C. S. T. C.'s "time on the air" if sufficient student interest is shown in them. In all, there is available for C. S. T. C. one hour per week more time than is now used.

The time on the air now consists of three 15-minute periods a week. On Monday at 3:45 the members of the history department are presenting a series of lectures entitled "History and You." On Tuesday at 3:45 student interviews are held, and on Thursday faculty interviews are carried on.

Gary Willecke has asked that students submit questions for the "Roving Reporter" broadcast held on Tuesday afternoons. They may be placed in the Pointer mailbox in that publication's office.

Omega Dance

After the victory over Milwaukee on Saturday evening, the crowd which remained enjoyed a dancing party sponsored by Omega Mu Chi Sorority.

The members of both basketball teams were guests at the dance. Special guests were Coach and Mrs. Kotal and daughter, Nancy, and Coach and Mrs. Penwell of Milwaukee.

Loyola Sleigh Ride

Two sleigh loads of Loyola members and their invited guests had a grand time at a sleighing party held last Thursday evening, February twenty-fifth.

After the sleigh ride, the party rode to the Demonstration School where the Misses Bessie LaVigne, Mary Hanna, and May Roach had prepared sandwiches, cookies, and coffee for their famished appetites.

Greek Activities

Rushing On

Rushing is at its height with the first parties given and the second entertainment anxiously anticipated by the rushees and actives.

As larger groups are usually taken in the second semester, rushing functions are planned extensively by the Greek societies.

Formal rushing will end Tuesday, March ninth, when pledging will begin, without the Week of Silence which was held in former years.

Omega Mu Chi

In search of pirate loot, the Omegas and their rushees started out on Tuesday evening, March second. They met at Maxine Miner's home and were instructed in the ways of pirate bands by Eileen Hanson, who was chairman of the party. After an extensive hunt, which led them through houses of many of the actives, the treasure was found at Ruth Nason's home. There, under dim candle light and decorations carrying out the theme of mutineer life, the girls enjoyed a pirate lunch. Tiny menus with appropriate names for the dishes were on the napkins.

A treasure chest of candy was found by the group which had first reached the "swag". Each rushee was presented with a "gum-drop" pirate, very realistic with its cellophane outfit.

Tau Gamma Beta

Tau Gamma Beta Sorority entertained at a novel children's party at Nan Turrish's home, Wednesday evening, March third.

The "kiddie" theme was carried out in detail with popcorn balls, ice cream cones, and suckers eaten in true youngster fashion.

Bunco and other games for tots were played, with prizes awarded to the winners.

At ten a lunch was served around tables with surprising centerpieces. Shaped as large ice cream cones, they proved to be grab-bags filled with children's toys, which were presented as favors.

Phi Sigma Epsilon

Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity entertained a group of college men at a rushing party, Monday evening, March first, at the Hotel Whiting.

Cards were played during the evening. Short talks were given by President Ben Laschkewitsch, Captain Ferdinand Hirzy, and Advisor Fred J. Schmeekle. Refreshments consisted of cake, ice cream, and hot chocolate.

Chi Delta Rho

A rushing party was enjoyed by the invited guests of Chi Delta Rho fraternity at Hotel Whiting, Friday evening, February twenty-sixth.

Various card games were played, after which a ten o'clock lunch was served.

Later the members and guests adjourned to the fraternity house at 912 Clark Street to initiate the fraternity's fine new pool table.

Formal Dates

Dates for the spring formal season have definitely been reserved on the social calendar. The pan-Hellenic formal which always follows the pledging season will be the first post-lenten formal on Saturday, April 10. The Junior Prom, an important affair, will follow on Saturday, April 24. The final sorority dance of the season will be the Tau Gamma Beta formal which is scheduled for Saturday, May 15. The Chi Deltas will wind up the series with their formal on Saturday, May 22.

Roach Injures Hand While Driving Car

Miss May Roach, popular instructor of the Rural Department, fractured two bones in her left hand while driving to Stevens Point on Tuesday, Feb. 23.

She was following a snow plow over the icy roads and didn't see the snow filled hole until she hit it. Her car was damaged but she managed to drive it fifty miles with her uninjured hand.

The hand is now held in a sling and the car is in the garage. Miss Roach says she's just happy that it wasn't any worse.

Boxing Tournament To Be Held Soon

Whipple Head Of Committee

Coach Kotal and Mr. Schmeecle have decided to inaugurate a tournament of champions to choose the contenders for the boxing titles in each of the eight classes, from featherweight to heavyweight.

Awards To Be Given

At present, there are five title holders, with the 115 pound, 155 pound, and 165 pound classes open for all comers. It is planned to hold an elimination tournament to pick the men who will take on the champions, with the winners ruling their respective divisions. In case of the open classes, the men who meet in the finals will automatically decide the championship.

Mr. Schmeecle and Coach Kotal have assured the men that suitable awards will be made to the winners and also to runners-up.

Whipple In Charge

The elimination bouts will start in the third week of March, with Coach Kotal, a registered A. A. U. official, expected to referee the fights. If present plans mature, the new gym will be available to the boxers.

Inman Whipple, 145 pound champion and finalist in the Green Bay Golden gloves tournament, is chairman of the Tournament Committee while Charles Torbenson, '34 and '35, 135 pound champion and well known A. A. U. fighter, will assist in coaching the new men for the bouts.

Hubbard Undefeated

One of the most promising freshman is John Felix Edgar, well known A. A. U. contender in the 125 pound class, who has fought a number of bouts at Wisconsin Rapids and Green Bay. John is the brother of Forrest Felix, former student at Central State and also a fighter of note.

Another man who is expected to put up a stiff fight for his respective title is George Hubbard, undefeated champion of the 135 pound division last year at Stevens Point High School. The 135 pound class will be the most hotly contested one, due to the presence of three expert boxers, Lloyd Hayes, Charles Torbenson and George Hubbard.

Anyone in school is eligible for the tournament and everyone interested is asked to sign with either Paul Ash or Inman Whipple. There is a shortage of competitors in the 115 pound class and the heavyweight divisions.

The champions and their respective divisions follows.

Class	Champion
115 pound	open
125 pound	Ben Lasehkewitsch
135 pound	Lloyd Hayes
145 pound	Inman Whipple
155 pound	open

Chi Delts Defeat Phi Sigs Easily

The Chi Delts and Phi Sigs met Saturday afternoon in the new gym for the first game of a three game interfraternity series with the Chi Delts completely outclassing the Phi Sigs by the score of 65 to 19. For the first few minutes the game was close, but then Ted Menzel staged a scoring rally which left the Phi Sigs far behind and the outcome of the game entirely up to their opponents. The second game of the series will be played Saturday afternoon, March 6, at three o'clock in the Training school gymnasium.

Johnston Second High In Scoring

Don Johnston, Point's classy guard, went on a one-man scoring spree last Saturday against Milwaukee to close the gap between him and Fred Nimz, who was held to five points. Johnston has averaged sixteen points in the last three games and has two games left to overtake the leader.

The individual scoring follows:

Dance After Game

A preliminary game will be played at 7 o'clock for the championship of the intra-mural league. At the present time four teams are fighting for the top position, but by Saturday two of these teams will have been eliminated.

After the game a dance, sponsored by the Athletic Association will be held. The receipts of the dance will be added to that of the game for the purpose of purchasing awards mentioned at the beginning of this article.

St. Norbert Tilt Easy Victory

Central State's eagers, led by Chet Rinka, Fred Nimz easily defeated St. Norbert's in a non-conference tilt Monday, March 1. The game resembled a professional contest with both teams depending on long shots rather than attempting to work the ball in. The high scoring honors of the evening went to Chet Rinka and to Fred Nimz who had fifteen and thirteen points respectively. The entire squad of twelve men made the St. Norbert trip. The men left early Monday afternoon and returned immediately after the game.

Kellogg Seeds Play All Stars

The All Stars of Stevens Point will play the Kellogg Rainbo Seeds of Milwaukee, March 6, in St. Peter's Gymnasium at 7:30 P. M. The all star line-ups will include Fred Nimz, Don Johnston, Chet Rinka, Ray Urbans, Chet Polebitski, Nick Morski, "Soo Line" Polebitski, Ray Wnuk, "Smoky" Orlikowski, and "Pepper" Wnuk.

The Milwaukee roster consists of Adolph "Big Mitts" Gorychka, Cy Rubado, Jimmy Kellner, Roman Kleinman, Paul Humke, and Jimmy Dencher. Gorychka and Rubado formerly were regulars on the Marquette five while Humke and Kleinman are well known to the Central State basketball fans as former members of the Milwaukee team.

A preliminary game will be played between the Lullabys and the Plainfield city team. Admission for adults is twenty five cents while children are being charged ten and fifteen.

Sports Gossip

Urbans Officiates At Antigo
Ray Urbans, athletic manager at Central State, has been assigned to the Class C basketball tournament at Antigo. The tournament starts today and continues through Saturday, March 6. Games will be played in the afternoons and evenings with the championship and consolation games falling on Saturday night as a climax to the meet.

Be Careful, Jim
Jimmy Duecker, reserve guard, almost broke into the scoring column last Saturday in the Point-Milwaukee game. Duecker was awarded a gift shot, but "lady luck" was elsewhere and Jim's perfect scoreless record remains unmarred.

Kotal To Officiate
Coach Kotal has also been assigned to a basketball tournament. He will handle the Class A elimination games at Antigo, the same city where Urbans will referee the Class C tournament.

Milwaukee Loses . . .

managed to keep ahead of the out-classed Penwell five and hold the comfortable lead of 23 to 17 at the half. Johnston scored eleven points during the first period while Rinka dropped in four field goals for a total of eight points. High point man for Milwaukee during the same period of time was Rudiger, forward, with seven markers.

At the start of the second half the Pointers stepped away to a large lead of 42 to 25 due mainly to the continued scoring spree by Johnston. Don scored twelve more points the second period and this, plus his first half total, gave him high scoring for the evening with the amazing total of twenty three points. The game ended with Stevens Point on the long end of a 49 to 35 score and the control of the game entirely in the hands of the Pointers.

Rudiger, regular forward, was high point man for Milwaukee with six field goals and three free throws for a total of fifteen points. Johnston, with twenty three as already mentioned, and Rinka with eleven led the Point attack. Boutelle, Milwaukee guard and one of the high scorers on the Penwell squad, was held to one gift shot by the close guarding of the Point forward wall.

The box score of the game is as follows:

Schmeecke Tabulates Conservation Returns

Good Percentage Answers

The study was made "to determine the attitude and general opinions concerning the teaching of Conservation in Wisconsin... to get the reactions and view points from teachers who are called upon to administer this course in their respective school systems".

300 questionnaires were sent out, and 201 of them were returned. Some of those were returned were not entirely filled out, as some of the questions were of a type that could not be answered without considerable time being spent in a study of the matter.

50% Of Teachers Prepared

The answers which are perhaps most interesting to students of Central State are found near the end of the study, but because of their importance, they will be treated first.

Question number 16 was, "Are your teachers adequately prepared to teach conservation?" and "Have you teachers that are especially prepared for the teaching of this subject by virtue of their training and experience?" Surprisingly enough, 46%, or almost one half of the schools, have teachers prepared to teach conservation. Exactly 50% have teachers without college preparation but with a certain amount of training and interest. From these returns it is apparent that about half of the schools in the state do not have teachers with college preparation in conservation.

Nearly All Favor Conservation

The 1st question dealt with Mr. Schmeecke's own definition for conservation, "The study and practice of saving and renewing our natural resources whenever and where ever possible, and their distribution, economic use and services in regional, state, and national development". This was accepted by 91% of those who replied.

From question two it was found that 98% of the people answering favored the teaching of conservation in their schools. 77% of them wanted it taught in correlation with already existing courses, as opposed to teaching it as a separate course.

The people were then asked whether they would teach conservation as a separate subject in either the grades or the high school. Only 16% wanted it taught as a separate course in the grades, and only 39% as a separate course in the high school. 93% favored, for grades one to six, teaching nature study with emphasis on conservation. 98% of the answers were in favor of teaching conservation in the city schools.

The persons written to were asked to indicate whether they would favor only the development of a proper attitude or philosophy toward conservation, or the teaching of only the practical side, or a combination of these two. 90% of the total replies favored the combination of the two.

Emphasis Differs With Grade

Several questions were then devoted to finding out what things are generally being emphasized in existing conservation courses. Ranging from first to last, this is the order of preference of subjects to be emphasized; forest, wild life, human life, soil conservation, recreational resources, public property, and minerals.

For the grades, the order was different, being wild life, human life, forests, public property, soil conservation, water and water power, and minerals (the last two had the same number of votes). The order for the high schools was indicated as soil conservation, forests, human life, recreational resources, wild life, water and water power, public property, and minerals.

Over 90% of the people favored working out practical conservation projects in their schools. The projects which were mentioned oftentimes, were in their proper order ranging downward, tree planting, bird feeding, health, public property, and reforestation. The same 90% indicated that they could expect help from their respective communities in their projects.

Schmeecke Preparing Book

The people were also asked whether they would emphasize conservation in Wisconsin or in the whole of the United States. 38% favored Wisconsin, 38% the United States, and the remaining favored emphasis of both.

Mr. Schmeecke plans to include the report of this study in a conservation work book which he is drawing up. It is practically complete and will be ready for publication soon.

Prominent Official Comments

As was mentioned before, some of the questionnaires were sent to Wisconsin Conservation officials. Mr. H. W. MacKenzie, Conservation Director, comments and tells of what the state is doing to organize this new course. Part of his letter is here quoted:

"It is obvious that to prepare a well-planned professional course for teaching conservation, the scope of the field to be covered must first be determined. There is likely to be a great diversification of views as to what should be included in such a course, but for best results some limitations will undoubtedly be necessary.

"A committee on conservation education has been recently created consisting of members of the department of public instruction the university and our department. The purpose of the committee is to prepare a syllabus for schools. This group has met several times, and the first task completed was the determination of what should be included in a course of conservation.

"Major divisions of the field have been set up, and they are now preparing reports as to what should be included in each field. Considerable work remains to be done, and even though this committee appears to mean business, it will be several months before their work has been completed.

"Your findings should be of special interest to these men. I feel certain that some splendid suggestions will be found in the replies to your questionnaire.

"As you undoubtedly know, the conservation commission and department are keenly interested in the successful teaching of conservation in our schools, and we deeply appreciate the initiative and resourcefulness displayed by many teachers who are seriously and earnestly trying to do a good job in teaching this important subject. Personally, I wish to thank you for your efforts to further the cause of conservation education and hope you will continue the good work."

Very truly yours,

H. W. MacKENZIE,
Conservation Director
