Allez Presides At Wisconsin Library Association Meet

Three Outstanding Speakers Lecture

The annual meeting of Wisconsin Library Association was held at Madison the 13, 14, 15 of October. Mr. Allez, who has been president for the 1936-37 term was able to secure three very outstanding speakers: Miss Isadore Meralge, reference librarian at Columbia University; New York City, spoke Wednesday evening; Miss Elizbeth Drew, lecturer, authors, and literary critic from London, spoke after the banquet Thursday evening; Miss Drew also holds a professorship in the Oxford University; and President Dykstra of the University of Wisconsin spoke Friday evening.

Ends Successful Presidency

Two very important accomplishments of the association during Mr. Allez's presidency have been the passing of the association's legislative program making an enabling act permitting municipalities to contribute to the American Library Association for the retirement plan and the establishment and awarding of library scholarships for librarians who need training for certification.

Miss Eileen McGeorge of the Stevens Point Public Library also attended the meeting.

Speech Class Holds Tryouts For Cast Of "Hoosier Schoolmaster"

Professor Burroughs To Assign Parts Next Week

The speech class is planning to present a play entitled "The Hoosier Schoolmaster," by Edward Eggleston, just before the Thanksgiving recesses. Tryouts for the cast will begin next Monday under the supervision of Professor Burroughs and parts will be assigned sometime next week.

The "Hoosier Schoolmaster" gained its first prominence in the form of a novel. The acting version was prepared by Dr. Lee Norville, head of the division of speech and director of the University of Indiana theatre. His main purpose was not to commercialize his efforts but to furnish the library of the university with an authoritative work that would add something to the glory which belongs to Mr. Eggleston.

Dr. Norville confines his efforts to one single chain of events in the play. He enlarges on the chapter in the schoolmaster's life which pictures the young man's first school, his meeting with the unruly young backwoodsmen, and the love affair with Hannah Thompson, a lively "bound girl." Later he unwittingly innocently incriminated the supply of the community, became the victim of an unscrupulous plot and finally was exonerated.

Speaking of the original story by Eggleston, William Lowe Bryan, president of the University of Indiana, writes, "The Hoosier Schoolmaster," like "Uncle Tom's Cabin," has indestructible life in spite of shortcomings and crudities. A thousand books and plays which have every merit, except just that care of indescribable life, go down every year into quick oblivion. Meanwhile, "Uncle Tom's Cabin" and "The Hoosier Schoolmaster" keep on selling (as Mark Twain says) "just like the Bible."
Band Broadcasts

Well Received

Professor P. J. Michelsen has received many letters in response to the Wednesday afternoon broadcasts of the concert band. Most of them have come from alumni of C. S. T. C. and are very much appreciated.

Yesterday's numbers were dedicated to Mr. Oscar Christiansen and his band at Bloomer, Wisconsin; to Mr. Francis White, band director at Dixon, Wisconsin; and to Cliff Talbot of Merrill, and all former members of the C. S. T. C. concert band.

Next “week” several request numbers will be played and more will also be dedicated.

Students To Be Given Tuberculin Tests

Dr. Mars announces that the Health Service of the college is ready to administer to all students who so desire the tuberculin test.

The test is given by injecting a small amount of tuberculin between the layers of skin. The work will be done as regular health work and without charge to the student. Each student who wants to take the test should sign up at the main office or see Nurse Neuberger at the Health Service, in order that the supply of tuberculin be adequate. Students are requested to attend to this matter before Friday, Oct. 29th.

Everyone should be willing to participate satisfactorily proof that he or she is free from tuberculosis. This proof may be obtained by the tuberculin test, and a thorough physical examination. Students include an X-Ray picture of the lungs. Will you do your part?

Whitewater Defeats Central Staters, 7-6

Farina Stars For Quakers

Central State’s Purple and Gold gridders lost their second conference tilt last Saturday to Whitewater’s Quakers in a closely contested game, 7 to 6. Again the Pointers outgained their opponents in total yards and in first downs, 10 to 5, but when the chips were down, the Whitewater line held firm, the proverbial stone wall. The Point attack was much improved over the performance in the Milwaukee game but still lacked the spark that makes a winning team.

Buchholz Scores Touchdown

The Whitewater touchdown was made in the first quarter after Frank Morani, Quaker end, had blocked Don Brenner’s punt. Brenner recovered on the sixteen yard line from where Farina made a first down on the fifty. After trying three line plays, Farina passed to Andrews for a touchdown. Farina place kicked the extra point.

Farina Outstanding

In the third quarter, the Central Staters made a sustained drive from their own twenty-two yard line for a touchdown. Jim McGuiere made forty yards around end, Mickey passed to Olingy for 13 yards, Rupert made 5 to the fifty. McGuiere picked up 2 yards and then passed to Buchholz for a touchdown. Bill Loewecke’s try for the extra point was wide of the mark.

The Whitewater line was the deciding factor of the game and was a bulwark on defense. Caesar Morani in the line and Pop Farina in the backfield were outstanding for the Quakers, while Jim McGuiere, P. Bohan and Harry Olingy showed up well for the Pointers.

SHORTS IN SPORTS

The Whitewater game was certainly a bruiser for our boys. Approximately every man who played came out of the fray with a mark on him for a reminder. Al Soll another of those Merlins, shows more promise of developing into a great back with every game that he plays in.

... He is a shifty ball-carrier, good blocker, fair passer and a good punter when he clicks.

“Pop” Farina, the brains of the Whitewater outfit, has been a thorn in the side of the Pointers for three years. Besides starring in football, he is a flash on the basketball team. When Al Buchholz picked up that fumble and ran for a touchdown, only to be called back, Farina almost got him even though there were three Point blockers there to take him out. The defense for the Point passers was better this game but on the touchdown pass, McGuiere had to dodge three blockers before he could get the ball off. A bare six inches separated the Central Staters from victory when Red Chartist took the ball to the six inch line on fourth down. Harry Olingy played the best game of his college career last Saturday. He was continually breaking up plays and catching the man from behind.

Pointers Next

Platteville Foe

The Pioneers of Platteville State Teachers College are scheduled to meet the Central Staters Oct. 23, in Platteville’s homecoming game. The Pioneers have pointed for this game and are in top condition. Although they lost their conference opener to White-water, they have a strong team composed of veterans and good freshmen prospects.

Joe Kafka made the all conference team last year while Ted Euer, Earl Sofield and Donald Perkins received honorable mention this year. This year’s team has a powerful line and the Pointers have been notably weak for their line play.

Gulls, Quakers Lead Ped Loop

Milwaukee and Whitewater still share the lead in the Southern Division by wins over the weekend. In the Northern Division Superior moved up to share the lead with Eau Claire.

Milwaukee defeated Oshkosh 19 to 14 in the last half spurtage. They were behind 14-6 at the end of the half, but at the start of the final period the Pointers went on the attack and won by a point. The Eau Claire attack was ineffective in the North- ern Division as River Falls and La-Crosse played to a scoreless tie and Superior defeated Stout 29-0. Eau Claire was idle over the weekend.

Nelson Hall Notes
Believe it or not: Dorothy Cook celebrated her birthday on Monday, October 18, yet Dorothy Cook had a birthday on Wednesday, October 20th. The mystery can be solved by looking on page 13 of the new Student Directory.

Mrs. Haring of Green Bay, George Adams of Manawa, and LaVerne Beer of Waupaca visited Margarete Adams Saturday, October 16th.

Rita Murphy who is doing substitute teaching in the High School at Owen returned here for several days. A Teachers' Convention gave her "time off".

"Do your Christmas shopping early" is the slogan of the Dormites. Many of the girls are making trips to the photographers now so that "he" may receive a picture via Santa Claus this year.
