

New Degree Awaits Regent's Approval

Night School Gets Under Way

Enrollment Of 150 Shown By 1st Meeting

The first meeting of the night school was held last Tuesday evening. This meeting was attended by both teachers and students, to discuss the program for the coming year.

According to the present indications, about 150 people will enroll in night school. This is very good, considering that people come from a one-hundred mile circle around Stevens Point, from La Crosse in the southwest; Neilsville in the west; Antigo in the north, and Shawano in the east. However, the enrollment is usually larger the first semester, due to better driving conditions than in the second. Enrollment will take place Tuesday evening from five to seven P. M.

Professor Knutzen has been the head of the night-school since its organization in the fall of 1932.

The instructors who are teaching in night-school this year are as follows:

Michelsen Attends Wis. Bandmasters' Meet At Kohler

The Wisconsin Bandmasters' Association held its fall meeting at Kohler, Wisconsin last weekend, September twenty-fifth and twenty-sixth. The Association was organized last summer with Mr. Michelsen as a charter member.

Former Governor Entertains

The meeting began with a business session on Saturday morning. Three honorary members were elected this year: Former Governor

Assembly Features Meneley and Brown

Brown and Meneley, a musical duo who excell on the vibra-harp, will head the assembly program in the college auditorium, Monday morning, October 4. Other features will include vocal solos, vocal duets, saxophone and piano selections, and several numbers on the chimes.

Central State Makes Homecoming Plans

Milwaukee Opponents Of Purple and Gold Gridders

Homecoming has been moved from October 22nd to October 9th it was announced Tuesday by the Athletic Committee. Mr. Schmeckle, Mr. Watson and Mr. Steiner comprise this committee.

The date originally scheduled meant that many Wisconsin fans would have to forfeit viewing that game. In view of this fact the Athletic Committee decided that the date should be changed.

Gala Occasion

Central State Teachers College is a comparatively young institution and as such has not built up as many traditions as her older sisters. However, if there is any day hallowed by the sanctity of old custom at C. S. T. C. it is that of Homecoming.

It is a gala occasion marked by festivities of varied nature. The game, is, of course, the center of interest. This year's opponent is Milwaukee. But, whether we win or lose there is always the parade and dance. The Greeks, too, make the occasion one of banqueting and rejoicing. "The Purple and the Gold" becomes a reality when bright colored chrysanthemums are pinned to the coats of those who in the past and present claim this college as their Alma Mater.

Homecoming plans are now afoot. It means work and fun. For all loyal sons and daughters of the college, October ninth will mean Homecoming, not home-going week-end.

Homecoming Announcements

Mr. Evans, Homecoming Chairman, has the following announcements:

The line of parade will be from Fremont to Clark, from Clark to the Public Square, down Main street, back to College.

Printing should be on both sides of placards; with letters big enough to be easily read.

Make your stunts self-explanatory.

It has been suggested that the March of Time be the general parade theme. However, if floats have already been planned, it is not necessary to change to conform to this theme.

President Hyer Proposes Art And Music Degrees

Bachelor of Science Degrees will be conferred on some members of the 1938 graduating class instead of the usual Bachelor of Education Degrees if the board of regents accept the proposition as drawn up by presidents of the state teachers colleges at a meeting conducted during the past summer according to President F. S. Hyer.

The tentative Science Degree Requirements are that the new degree will be conferred upon students who have completed two academic minors and the core-curriculum requirements which include natural science and a reading knowledge of a modern foreign language based on the equivalent of two years' work in college, or the passing of a proficiency test equivalent to that amount of work. If the student desires, the modern foreign language may be omitted from his program and an equivalent amount of required college work in either mathematics, philosophy or science may be substituted.

The Bachelor of Education Degree may be conferred at graduation upon students who have completed the core-curriculum requirements and a major in education, and one of the following: (a) two academic minors, (b) a major in art, (c) a major in music.

Incomplete at Present

"This is incomplete as it stands", said President Hyer, "because no provision has been made to make graduates of the art and music divisions eligible for a Bachelor of Science Degree. I believe, however, that a major in either art or music may be substituted for two academic minors and the foreign language requirement."

In time, President Hyer believes Central State Teachers College will also confer the Bachelor of Arts Degree. Edgar C. Doudna, secretary to the board of regents, also agrees that the conferring of such a degree would be advisable.

WHERE'S OUR PEP?

If last Saturday night was any indication of the pep which will be shown by the school at future football games, we surely can't expect a winning team. There was our squad, its back to the goal line, trying desperately to "hold that line", and what happened? Nothing, is the answer. There was no cheering, no enthusiasm, no backing. Oh, perhaps one, or two, or even three, started to cheer and croaked to a miserable finish, abashed by the dead silence surrounding them. Is this any way to support our team?

Whether they win or lose, it is up to the student body to show its loyalty. Just cheering isn't enough either, show the men we really are right in back of them. Let them know that whether they come out on top or on the bottom, we are their supporters. So, at the next game, let's see what the C. S. T. C. student body can do.

COURTESY

The last assembly which we had in this school was truly an exceptional opportunity for hearing one of the best men in his field in the United States. But what a discourteous attitude the students displayed toward him. It was so bad, in fact, that the speaker himself had to pause and remark about the "exodus". To be sure, it was necessary for some to leave, but not half of the audience! It was an impolite "exodus" too. No-one took any particular care to walk quietly or make his or her exist less noticeable. This is no attitude for a college group of supposedly well-mannered men and women to take. So, please, let's have the next assembly politely, as well as enthusiastically, attended.

Stamp Collectors Organize Club

Stamp collectors of the college have decided to organize in the interests of philately.

All collectors are invited to join. An unique feature of the organization is that no dues or assessments are to be levied. Persons desiring information about the society are invited to consult Samuel Cress, secretary. Following is the roster of the organization.

Training School Will Use WLBL

Modern practices in present day teaching will be the theme of fifteen weekly broadcasts, starting in October and continuing throughout the semester. With the backing and co-operation of Mr. Herrick, director, and the faculty of the Training School, Miss Gertie Hanson has arranged a series of radio broadcasts which will look toward bringing the teachers in the field in contact with the work done in a modern Teachers Training institution.

The initial broadcast, the second week in October, will feature Mr. Herrick who will introduce the series. Other faculty members who have been engaged for these broadcasts are as follows: Miss Diehl, Miss Tobias, Miss Van Arsdale, Miss Pfeiffer, Miss Bauer, Miss Hanson, Mr. Pierce, Mr. Jayne, Mr. Matravers, Dr. Lyness.

Bloc Club Honorary Society Reorganized For Coming Year

The Bloc Club is reorganizing for the coming year. It is an honorary men's society organized for the purpose of discussing current events. They held their first meeting of the year Tuesday evening at Mr. Knutzen's home in an effort to reorganize the club.

Student Opinion

Dear Editor:

For several years the idea of a primary election of class officers has been broached, but without success to the proposers. This being a more or less democratic institution, it would not be a bad idea to give it a try. We are sure that the administration and the faculty would not object. So with some co-operation on the part of the student body, we ought to progress as the world around us progresses with once in a while digressing from the conventional to try something new and worthwhile.

In all probability it would eliminate the factional control of class officers, and somewhat neutralize the local factions by giving a chance to outsiders and others more fit for these offices.

Signed—A Progressive Junior

Dear Editor,

In as much as C. S. T. C. is widely known as a democratic institution I think democracy should be practiced in the selecting of class officers and in the conducting of class business.

Instead of running class officers in an oligarchical form (as it has been done in the past) I suggest a Primary Election System to be used in all class elections.

Signed,
 A Sophomore.

Annual Receives 1st Class Rating

The Iris, yearbook of C. S. T. C., has again received a rating of first, given by the National Scholastic Press Association and University of Minnesota. The only rating better than first is an All-American rating. To get this All-American honor rating, a yearbook has to be a more elaborate book throughout. The rating of first was given because of excellence in each of the Iris's departments. Below first is second, third and fourth, which are interpreted as good, fair and below average.

Yearbooks of colleges have now advanced to a point where color photography and more modern layouts will be used. The trend is definitely toward better illustrated annuals.

The editor of the 1938 Iris, Laverne Schwingel, says that this year there will be an attempt to have more pictures and less writing. He believes that the pictures will be of more general interest to the school public than pages of writing would be. The book will be an attempt to show college life pictorially, as it is on this campus.

Dear Editor:

The initiation of a new system for the election of class officers has been much discussed in the past. So far nothing has come of it, therefore, I submit a plan as follows:

First, a board of election commissioners consisting of three members for each class appointed by the respective class advisors.

Second, each candidate for a class office must have circulated in his behalf a petition nominating him to the primary. This petition must be signed by twenty-five percent of the students enrolled in their respective class. This petition is certified by the election commission.

Third, All those qualifying as candidates shall have their name on the primary ballot.

Fourth, the two candidates for each office who receive the highest number of votes shall qualify for the general election.

Yours for school democracy,
 A Junior

Nelson Hall Notes

Among the visitors at Nelson Hall were Mrs. Clarence Schulte, formerly June Erdman, of Marshfield; Estelle Gruenke of Lodi; and Marguerite Cook of Waupaca.

One of Nelson Hall's permanent living-room fixtures of last year frequented his old haunts this week end... "Billie" Weed, now teaching at Sheboygan, visited her old crowd on third floor.

A stir of excitement ran through the corridors last Thursday, Sept. 21st, when telegrams were sent by "the old gang" to "Pussy" Quast, former counselor here at the Hall. Miss Quast was married to John Eastling of Manawa. The wedding took place at 2:00 in the Sun room of the bride's home at Saukville. The bride was given away in marriage by her father. Miss Esther Mae Bruyette, cousin of the groom, was attendant of the bride. The Eastlings will be at home in Manawa after Oct. 1st. Miss Margaret Kratz was a guest at the wedding.

We are glad to hear that Ruth Behnke is recovering from an appendectomy and is able to receive visitors at St. Michael's Hospital. Mrs. Behnke of Belleville was a guest at Nelson Hall this past week.

At a House Meeting held Monday, Sept. 20th, in the Parlors, kitchen regulations were discussed and two new councilors were elected to fill vacancies left by Eva Rae Guerin and Florence Quast. Eleanor Ruchti and Margaret Torkelson are now serving with the group elected last Semester.

Blindfolded chain gangs, split-peas, and stunts were features of the Freshman initiation held at Nelson Hall Wednesday night, September 22nd. All new girls participated.

Rita Murphey led the girls up back stairs, through the dark corridors, into rooms of mystery, and finally to the door of the Recreation room. The new-comers then entertained old members with initiation stunts. (We hear that Edna Earl, was mistaken for a Freshman... ask her for particulars).

The evening ended with lunch in the Dining Room and group singing. Weary Freshmen returned to their rooms to find beds disarranged and alarms set for very early hours. However, it was "all in fun" and our new members proved to be good sports throughout.

It is said that memories linger on but we didn't think the Sims Cottage girls would expect these memories to become visible and enact a play for their benefit this fall, which was produced in Summer School. Maybe it was the notice on Mr. Smith's room left on since this summer which caused them to come to the auditorium last Wednesday night to see "The Easiest Way".

Central Staters Lose Season's Opener

Finke Scores Lone Marker

McGuire, Olsen, Bohan and Otto Play Outstanding Game for Pointers

Central State's Purple and Gold gridders went down to defeat before St. Norberts' Green Knights last Saturday night at Goerke Park by the score of 7 to 0 in the season's opener for the Pointers. The Kotalmen played a surprisingly good game and actually outgained the De Pere boys in yards from scrimmage and on their passes.

Fred Nimz

McNulty, St. Norbert halfback, set the stage for the Green Knight touchdown in the third quarter by returning Nimz's punt 32 yards to the 22 yard line from which point the ball was advanced in successive line plunges to the one yard line where Finke went over for the only score of the game. Bellile held the ball while Trepanier placekicked the extra point.

McGuire Plays Fine Game

The Central Staters' play was spotty but at times showed prospects of developing into a strong unit if the rough spots could be ironed out. A big weakness was the lack of coverage for the passer and frequently McGuire was forced to run with the ball. Don Bremmer, Point's ace passer, was unable to show his wares because of that fault, being dropped for big losses twice.

Jim McGuire among the backs and Fe Bohan, Ed Olsen and Ray Otto in the line were outstanding for the Pointers while Finke, Ellis and Kant were the main cogs in the St. Norbert team.

Three Teams Upset Dopesters

Here are our predictions on next week's games. Although a couple of our set-ups turned out wrong, we aren't disappointed and will try again. We batted only .917 last week but we hope to raise that percentage as the season progresses if only our Pointers come through.

SHORTS -IN- SPORTS

Roy Otto looks like a promising prospect to carry on in the footsteps of Central State's great tackles of former years.... He played an outstanding game against St. Norberts and acted like a veteran.... Kennelly, St. Norberts' left tackle, is the college's heavyweight champion and fought for the Chicago C. Y. O. against the South American boxers in August.... He has beaten Max Marek, who was runner-up to Joe Louis in the Chicago Golden Gloves, three times.... The two Kafka boys on the Green Knight team are from Antigo and have brothers on both the Minnesota and Platteville Teachers College squads.... Don Johnston hurt his foot last Thursday and was unable to play Saturday.... If he had been in the game the result might have been different.... Ellis, St. Norberts' halfback, returned a punt 65 yards against St. Marys of Winona, Minnesota, in the opening game of the season.... He was a constant threat to the Pointers although his mates were unable to shake him loose.... Jim McGuire looks like a cinch to retain his all-conference post again this year.... He was the best man on the field Saturday night and when he was taken out of the game in the fourth quarter, the Point attack immediately bogged down.... The Point passers were given little or no protection and were forced to get rid of the ball in a hurry.

Navy over Citadel.

Penn over Maryland.

Purdue over Ohio State.

Princeton over Virginia.

Washington over Southern California.

Pointers Meet Stout Saturday

Stout Institute faces one of its toughest schedules in years this fall but to offset this, it has a fine bunch of lettermen and reserves returning to school. The Stout-onians lost the opening game of the season to the powerful St. Olaf eleven of Northfield, Minnesota, 27-0. The game was not a good test of Stout's strength because they had only been practicing for a week previous to the game.

Weingartner

The Blue Devil squad will be captained this year by William O'Dell, a veteran of two seasons play and the bulwark of the Stout line. In the backfield will be Joe Dolyes, Ray Hanke, Gordon Van Gonten, Claude Howard and Jack Bailey, all veterans of last year's team.

High School Wins Conference Opener

Stevens Point High School football team defeated Marshfield High last Friday night by a score of 7-0. Stevens Point scored their lone touchdown in the third period after Ted Shulfer had made some long gains through the line. Olingy carried the ball over from the 2 yard stripe. "Diz" Moss place kicked for the extra point.

The game was not so closely contested as the score shows however. Stevens Point was very much better both defensively and offensively. For Stevens Point, Cashin, Schulfer, Moss, Kubisiak excelled. For Marshfield, Carnahan, Bauer, Reese, Fink, Helixian were outstanding. Next week Stevens Point plays Wausau at Wausau.

IS IT YOU?

She's a high ranker in class work, sorority, school in general. Almost straight A student. Good dancer... popular. Interested in dramatics. Has been seen on the debate stage.... does right well. Did some one say she also plays the fiddle? That's right.

He's small and peppy.... Kotal swears by him. Known as an excellent student and active social man. Plays a wicked sax and clarinet. Comes from "up Nawth" where he claims men are men. A high ranking Pointer and B. M. O. C.

Distinguishing characteristic—a small black cookie duster. Short... dark.... Has official Iris connections.... Hails from out west. Has made a record as being quite a leather pusher. Not seen much at dances.

She's red haired—has returned to school. Old students here think she should know something of the plumbing business. Spent time in study at what hospital? Yes she belongs to a sorority.

Tips On Tomes

Hitler by Konrad Heiden, is the first complete and documented biography of Germany's leader. There is much that will startle and shock the reader and much that will put an end to scandalous rumors and naive estimates of the man.

What is culture? John Cowper Powys has put much thought and philosophy in The Meaning of Culture. He covers the vast field of human experiences and offers a guide to happiness in cultured living.

Emil Ludwig, biographer of Bismarck and Napoleon, has created another great masterpiece, The Nile, which is the life-story of a river from the Pyramid Age to the present. Read how the life of the Nile holds life that is almost human in its well-defined periods.

Are you worried? Do you ever get despondent? Is insomnia one of your troubles? Perhaps. Outwitting Our Nerves can solve your problem. Josephine A. Jackson M. D. and Helen Salisbury try to show the real reason for "nerves, worry, the blues, and how to outwit them."

Makeup as an art has always been of some interest to man, especially to actors. The book Makeup is the result of John F. Baird's observations and experiments and was expressly created to be of value to small theatre groups in educational institutions.

Denmark is the challenge of Fascism, of Hitlerism. It is the reply of democracy to dictatorship. It is the answer of all the people to a few people. Denmark, the Cooperative Way by Frederix C. Howe points a definite way to the farmers of this country and shows Denmark the example of agricultural recovery.

W. A. A. Notes

A W. A. A. meeting was held last Wednesday evening, September 22, at which plans for a W. A. A. Annual picnic were discussed.

The picnic was held at Iverson Park, Wednesday, September 29. After a period of games and stunts a picnic lunch was served. During the lunch the girls enjoyed songs. A large majority of college women attended. Let's hope they turn out equally as well for the various sports which shall begin next week.

Because of the picnic this week sports were postponed. The major sports to be offered are hockey, tennis, archery, volleyball, and esthetic dancing; the minor sports, ping-pong, shuffle-board, and deck tennis. Get interested in some sport and follow it up to qualify you for membership in W. A. A., and if not come out anyway. It is to aid your physical and mental health that you should be active a portion of each day. If you are interested in W. A. A. credits, be sure to sign your name on the paper on the bulletin board in the Game Room before going out for your particular sport.

Better brush up on the game, you tennis enthusiasts, for in the near future we'll try to have a tournament if enough interest is shown. This is not only for professionals. Beginners in tennis should also come out and learn the game.

The W. A. A. sold hot dogs last Saturday night and will sell them at the Milwaukee and Whitewater games at 5c a "pup". Don't forget to buy your "Mums" (crysanthemums) from W. A. A. for the homecoming game.
